26 For these foure chief porters were in perpetuall office, and were of the Leuites, and had charge of the chambers, and of the treasures in the house of God.

27 And they lay round about the house of God, because the charge was theirs, and they caused it to be opened euery morning.

28 And certaine of them had the rule of the ministring vessels: for they brought them in by tale, and brought them out by tale.

29 Some of them also were appointed ouer the instruments, and ouer all the vessels of the Sanctuary, and of the flour, and the wine, and the oile, and the incense, and the sweet odours.

30 And certaine of the sonnes of the Priests made ornymets of sweet odours.

31 And Mattithiah one of the Leuites which was the eldest sonne of Shallum the Korhite, had the charge of the things that were made in the frying panne.

32 And other of their brethren the sonnes of Kohath had the ouersight of the Shewbread to prepare it euery Sabbath.

33 And these are the fingers, the chief fathers of the Leuites, which dwell in the chambers, and had none other charge: for they had to doe in that businesse day and night.

34 These were the chief fathers of the Leuites according to their generations, and the principal which dwelt at Jerusalem.

35 ¶ And in Gibeon dwelt the father of Gibeon, Ieiel, and the name of his wife was Maachah.

36 And his eldest sonne was Abdon, then Zur, and Kish, and Baal, and Ner, and Nadab, 37 And Gedor, and Ahio, and Zechariah, and Mikloth.

38 And Mikloth begate Shimeam: they also dwelt with their brethren at Jerusalem, euen by their brethren.

39 And Ner begate Kish, and Kish begate Saul, and Saul begate Jonathan and Malchishua, and Abinadab and Eshbaal.

40 And the sonne of Jonathan was Meribbaal: and Meribbaal begate Micah.

41 And the sonnes of Micah were Pithon, and Melech, and Tahrea.

42 And Ahaz begate Iarah, and Iarah begate Alameh, and Azmaueh, and Zimri, and Zimri begate Moza.

43 And Moza begate Binea, whose name was Rephaiah, and his sonne was Eleasah, and his son Azel.

44 And Azel had sixe sonnes, whose names are these, Azrikam, Bocheru, and Iimacl, and Sheariah, and Obadiah, and Hanan: these are the sonnes of Azel.

and Abinadab, and Malchishua the sonnes of Saul.

3 And the battell was fore against Saul, and the archers [†] hit him, and he was wounded of the archers.

4 Then said Saul to his armour-bearer, Draw out thy sword, and thrust me throw therewith, lest they vncircumcised come and mocke at mee: but his armour-bearer would not, for he was fore afraid: therefore Saul tooke the sword, and fell vpon it.

5 And when his armour-bearer saw that Saul was dead, hee fell likewise vpon the sword, and died.

6 So Saul died, and his three sonnes, and all his house, they died together.

7 And when all the men of Israel that were in the valley, saw how they fled, and that Saul and his sonnes were dead, they forsooke their cities and fled away, and the Philistims came and dwelt in them.

8 And on the morrow when the Philistims came to spoyle them that were slaine, they found Saul and his sonnes [†] lying in mount Gilboa.

9 And when they had stript him, they tooke his head and his armour, and sent them into the land of the Philistims round about, to publish it vnto their idols, and to the people.

10 And they layed vp his armour in the house of their god, and set vp his head in the house of [†] Dagon.

11 ¶ When all they of Iabesh Gilead heard all that the Philistims had done to Saul.

12 Then they arose (all the valiant men) and tooke the body of Saul, and the bodies of his sonnes, and brought them to Iabesh, and buried the bones of them vnder an oke in Iabesh, and fasted seven dayes.

13 So Saul died for his transgression that hee committed against the Lord, [†] euen against the word of the Lord which hee kept not, and in that he sought and asked counsell of a [†] familiar spirit;

14 And asked not of the Lord: therefore hee slew him, and turned the kingdome vnto Dauid the sonne of Ithai.

CHAP. XI.

3 After the death of Saul in Dauid ascended in Hebron. 5 The Iebusites rebeld against Dauid, from whom hee tooketh the tower of Zion. 6 Ioa was dauides captaine. 10 Hu valiant men.

Then [†] all Israel gathered themselves to Dauid vnto Hebron, saying, Behold, we are thy bones and thy flesh.

2 And in time past, euen when Saul was king, thou leddest Israel out and in: and the Lord thy God sayd vnto thee, Thou shalt feede my people Israel, and thou shalt be captaine ouer my people Israel.

3 So came all the Elders of Israel to the king to Hebron, and Dauid made a couenant with them in Hebron before the Lord. And they anoynted Dauid king ouer Israel, [†] according to the word of the Lord, by the hand of Samuel.

4 ¶ And Dauid and all Israel went to Ierusalem, which is Iebus, where were the Iebusites, the inhabitants of the land.

5 And the inhabitants of Iebus saide to Dauid, Thou shalt not come in heicher. Neuertheless Dauid tooke the tower of Zion, which is the city of Dauid.

6 And Dauid sayd, [†] Whosoener smiteth the Iebusites first, shall be the chiefe and captaine. So Ioa the sonne of Zeruiah went first vp, and was captaine.

7 And Dauid dwelt in the tower: therefore they called it the citie of Dauid.

8 [†] And he built the citie on euery side, from Millo euen round about: and Ioa repaired the rest of the citie.

9 And Dauid prospered, and grew: for the Lord of hostes was with him.

10 ¶ These also are the chiefe of the valiant men that were with Dauid, and ioyned their force with him in his kingdome with all Israel, to make him King ouer Israel, according to the word of the Lord.

11 And this is the number of the valiant men whom Dauid had, Iashobeam the sonne of Hachmoni, the [†] chiefe among thirtie: hee lift vp his speare against three hundred, whom hee slewe at one time.

12 And after him was Eleazar the sonne of Dodo the Ahohite, which was one of the three valiant men.

13 Hee was with Dauid at Pas-dammim, and there the Philistims were gathered together to battell: and there was a parcell of ground full of barley, and the people sied before the Philistims.

14 And they stood in the middes of the field, and fawed it, and slewe the Philistims: so the Lord gaue a great victory.

15 ¶ And three of the thirty captaines went to a rocke to Dauid, into the cave of Adullam. And the army of the Philistims camped in the valley of Rephaim.

16 And when Dauid was in the hold, the Philistims garrison was at Beth-lehem.

17 And Dauid longed, and said, Oh, that one would giue me to drinke of the water of the well of Beth-lehem that is at the gate.

18 Then these three brake thorow the host of the Philistims, and drew water out of the well of Beth-lehem that was by the gate, and tooke it, and brought it to Dauid: but Dauid would not drinke of it, but powred it for an oblation to the Lord.

19 And sayd, Let not my God suffer me to doe this: should I drinke the blood of these mens liues? for they haue brought it with the ieorpation of their liues: therefore hee would not drinke it: thefe things did these three mighty men.

20 ¶ And Abishai the brother of Ioa, hee was chiefe of the three, & hee lift vp his speare against three hundred, and slew them, and had the name among the three.

21 Among the three hee was more honourable then the two, and he was their captaine. [†] But he attained not vnto the first three.

22 Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiada (the sonne of a valiant man) which had done many acts, and was of Kabzeel, he slew two strong men of Moab, hee went downe aloft and slew a lion in the mids of a pie in the time of snow.

23 And he slew an Egyptian, a man of great stature, euen fiew cub ts long, and in the Egyptians hand was a speare like a weauers beame: and he went downe to him with a staffe, and plucked the speare out of the Egyptians hand, and slewe him with his owne speare.

CHAP. XII.

¶ Who they were that went with Dauid when he fled from Saul.
1. Their valiantneffe. 2. They that came vnto him vnto Hebron out of every tribe to make him king.

These alfo are they that came to Dauid to Ziklag, while he was yet kept clofe, becaufe of Saul the fonne of Kifh: and they were among the valiant and helpers of the battell.

2 They were weaponed with bowes, and could vse theright and the left hand with ftones and with arrowes and with bowes, and were of Sauls brethren, men of Benjamin.

3 The chiefe were Ahiezer, and Ioath the fonnes of Shemaah a Gibeathite, and Ieziel, and Pelet the fonnes of Afmaueh, Berachah and Iehu the Antothite,

4 And Ifhmaah the Gibeonite, a valiant man among thirtie, and aboute the thirtie, and Teremiah, and Iehaziel, and Iohanan, and Iofhabad the Gederathite,

5 Eluzai, and Terimoth, and Bealiah, & She- mariah, and Shephatiah the Haruphite,

6 Elkanah, and Ifthiah, and Azariel, and Ioezer, Iafthobeam of Hakorehim,

7 And Ioelah and Zebadiah the fonnes of Iero- ham of Gedor.

8 And of the Gadites there separated them- felues, fome vnto Dauid into the hold of the wilde- nesse, valiant men of warre, and men of armes, and apt for battell, which could handle || fpeare and shield, and their faces were like the faces of Lyons, and were like the roes in the mountaines in fwitneffe,

9 Ezer the chiefe, Obadiah the fecond, Eliab the third,

10 || Mifhmanah the fourth, Ieremiah the fifth,

11 Attai the fixt, Eliel the feuenth,

12 Iohanan the eight, Elzabad the ninth,

13 Ieremiah the tenth, Macbannai the ele- uenth.

14 Theſe were the fonnes of Gad, captaines of the hoſte: one of the leaſt could reſiſt an hundred, and the greateſt a thouſand.

15 Theſe are they that went ouer Iorden in the first month, when he had filled ouer all his bankes, and put to flight all them of the valley, toward the Eaſt and the Weſt.

16 And there came of the children of Benia- min and Iudah to the hold vnto Dauid, 17 And Dauid went out to meete them, and answered and ſayde vnto them, If yee bee come peaceably vnto mee to helpe me, mine heart ſhall bee knit vnto you: but if you come to betray mee to mine aduerſaries, ſeeing there is no wickedneſſe in mine hand, the God of our fathers beholde it, and rebuke it.

18 And the ſpirit came vpon Amaſai, which was the chiefe of thirty, and he ſayde, Thine are wee, Dauid, and with thee, O ſonne of Iſhai. Peace, peace bee vnto thee, and peace bee vnto thine helpers: for thy God helpeth thee. Then Dauid receiued them, and made them captaines of the garrifon.

19 ¶ And of Manaſſeh, ſome fell to Dauid, when he came with the Philiftims againſt Saul to battell, but they helped them not: for the Princes of the Philiftims by aduifement ſent him away, ſaying, He will fall to his maſter Saul || for our heads.

20 As hee went to Ziklag, there fell to him of Manaſſeh, Adnah, and Tozabab, and Iediel, and Michael, and Iozabab, and Elihu, and Ziklai, heades of the thouſands that were of Manaſſeh.

21 And they helped Dauid againſt theſe band: for they were all valiant men, and were captaines in the hoſte.

22 For at that time day by day, there came to Dauid to helpe him, vntill it was a great hoſt, like the hoſt of God.

23 And theſe are the numbers of the captaines that were armed to battell, and came to Dauid to Hebron to turne the kingdom of Saul to him, according to the word of the Lord.

24 The children of Iudah that bare ſhield and || ſpeare, were fixe thouſand and eight hundred armed to the warre.

37 And of the other side of Iorden of the Reubenites, and of the Gadites, and of the halfe tribe of Manasse with all instruments of war to fight with, an hundred and twenty thousand.

38 m All these men of warre || that could lead an armie, came with || vpright heart to Hebron to make Dauid King ouer all Israel: and all the rest of Israel was of one accord to make Dauid King:

39 And there they were with Dauid three dayes, eating and drinking: for their n brethren had prepared for them.

40 Moreouer, they that were neere them vntill Issachar, and Zebulun, and Naphtali brought bread vpon asses, and on camels, and on mules and on oxen, euen meat floure, figges, and rafins, and wine and oyle, and beebes and sheepe abundantly: for there was ioy in Israel.

7 The Arke is brought againe from Kirith Iearim to Ierusalem.
9 Vzra dieb because he touched it.

And Dauid counſelled with the captaines of thousands and of hundredes, and with all the gouernours.

2 And Dauid ſayd to all the Congregation of Israel, If it ſeeme good to you, and that it proceedeth of the Lord our God, wee will ſend to and fro vnto our brethren, that are left in all the land of Israel (for with them are the Priests and the Levites in the cities and their ſuburbes) (that they may aſſemble themſelues vnto vs.

3 And we will bring againe the Arke of our God to vs: for we fought not vnto it in the dayes of Saul.

4 And all the Congregation answered, Let vs doe so: for the thing ſeemed good in the eyes of all the people.

5 ¶ So Dauid gathered all Israel together from || Shihor in Egypt, euen vnto the entering of Hamath, to bring the arke of God from b Kirith-Iearim.

6 And Dauid went vp and all Israel to || Baalath in Kirith-Iearim, that was in Iudah, to bring vp from thence the Arke of God the Lord that dwelleth betweene the Cherubims, where his name is called on.

7 And they caried the Arke of God in a new cart out of the house of Abinadab: and Vzra and Ahio c guided the cart.

8 And Dauid and all Israel plaid before God with all their might, both with longes and with harps, and with viols, and with timbrels, and with cymbales, and with trumpets.

9 ¶ And when they came vnto the threshing floore of e Chidon, Vzra put forth his hand to hold the Arke, for the oxen did shake it.

10 But the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Vzra, and he ſmote him, because hee layed his hand vpon the Arke: ſo he died there before God.

11 And Dauid was angry, because the Lord had made a breach in Vzra, and hee called the name of that place Perez-vzra vnto this day.

12 And Dauid feared God that day, ſaying, How ſhall I bring in to me the Arke of God?

13 Therefore Dauid brought not the Arke to him into the cite of Dauid, but cauſed it to turne into the house of e Obad Edom the Gittite.

14 So the Arke of God remained in the house of Obad Edom, euen in his house three moneths: and the Lord bleſſed the house of Obad Edom, and all that he had.

14 So the Priests and the Leuites sanctified themselves to bring vp the Arke of the Lord God of Israel.

15 ¶ And the sonnes of the Leuites bare the Arke of God vpon their shoulders, with the bars as Moses had commanded, g according to the word of the Lord.

16 And Dauid spake to the chiefe of the Leuites, that they should appoint certaine of their brethren to sing with g instruments of musick, with viols and harpes, and cymbals, that they might make a sound, and lift vp their voice with ioj.

17 So the Leuites appointed Heman the sonne of Ioel, and of his brethren Aalph the sonne of Berechiah, and o the sonnes of Merari their brethren, Ethan the sonne of Kufaiiah, 18 And with them their brethren in the b *se*cond degree, Zechariah, Ben, and Iazziel, and Shemiramoth, and Iehiel, and Vnni, Eliab, and Maafeiah, and Mattheiah, and Elipheleh, and Mikenah, and Obed Edom, and Ieiel the porters.

19 So Heman, Aalph, and Ethan were fingers to make a sound with cymbals of brass,

20 And Zechariah, and Azziel, and Shemiramoth, and Iehiel, and Vnni, and Eliab, and Maafeiah, and Benaiah with viols on i Alamoth, 21 And Mattheiah, and Elipheleh, and Mikenah, and Obed Edom, and Ieiel, and Azariah, with harpes vpon k Sheminith Ienazzeah.

22 But Chenaniah the chiefe of the Leuites had the charge, bearing the burden in the charge, for he was able to instruct.

23 And Berechiah and Elkanah were porters for the Arke.

24 And Shecaniah, and Iehoshaphat, and Nathaneel, and Amasai, and Zechariah, and Benaiah, and Eliezer the Priests did blow with trumpets before the Arke of God, and Obed Edom, and Ieiah were porters m for the Arke.

25 n So Dauid and the Elders of Israel and the captains of thousands went to bring vp the Arke of the couenant of the Lord from the house of Obed Edom with ioj.

26 And because that God n helped the Leuites that bare the Arke of the Couenant of the Lord, they offered e seven bullockes and seven rammes.

27 And Dauid had on him a linnen garment, as all the Leuites that bare the Arke, and the fingers, and Chenaniah that had the chiefe charge of the fingers: and vpon Dauid was a linnen p Ephod.

28 Thus all Israel brought vp the Arke of the Lords Couenant with shouting, and sound of corner, and with trumpets, and with cymbals, making a sound with viols and with harpes, 29 And when the Arke of the q Couenant of the Lord came into the cite of Dauid, Michal the daughter of Saul looked out at a window, and saw king Dauid dancing and playing, and r she despised him in her heart.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The Arke being placed, they offer sacrifices. 4 Dauid ordereth Asaph and his brethren to minister before the Lord. 8 Hee appointeth a notable Psalm to bee sung in praise of the Lord.

So s they brought in the Arke of God, and set it in the midst of the Tabernacle that Dauid had pitched for it, and they offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before God.

2 And when Dauid had made an end of offering the burnt offering and the peace offerings, he a blessed the people in the Name of the Lord.

These instruments and other ceremonies, which they obserued, were instructions in their infancie, which continued to the coming of Christ.

s He called upon the name of God, desiring him to prosper the people, and give good success to their beginnings.

3 And hee dealt to euery one of Israel both man and woman, to euery one a cake of bread, and a peece of flesh, and a bottell of wine.

4 And hee appointed certaine of the Levites to minister before the Arke of the Lord, and to rehearse and to thanke and praise the Lord God of Israel:

5 A^daph the chiefe, and next to him Zechariah, Ieiel, and Shemiramoth, and Iehiel, and Mattathiah, and Eliab, and Benaiah, and Obed-Edom, euen Ieiel with instruments, viols and harpes, and A^daph to make a sound with cymbales,

6 And Benaiah and Iahaziel Priestes, with Trumpets continually before the Arke of the Couenant of God.

7 Then at that time Dauid did appoint at the beginning to giue thanks to the Lord by the hand of A^daph and his brethren.

8 * Praise the Lord, and call vpon his Name: declare his ^dworkes among the people.

9 Sing vnto him, sing praise vnto him, and talke of all his ^ewonderfull workes.

10 Reioyce in his holy Name: let the hearts of them that seeke the Lord, reioyce.

14 Hee is the Lord our God: his iudgements are throughout all the earth.

15 Remember his Couenant for euer, and the word, which he commanded to a thousand generations,

16 * Which hee made with Abraham, and his oath to Izhak:

17 And hath confirmed it to Iaaokob for a Law, and to Israel for an euermlasting Couenant,

19 When ye were ⁱfew in number, yea, a very few, and strangers therein,

20 And walked about from nation to nation, and from ^kone kingdome to another people,

21 Hee susterd no man to doe them wrong, but rebuked: Kings for their fakes, saying,

22 Touch not mine ^lanoynted, and doe my ^mProphets no harme.

23 * Sing vnto the Lord all the earth: declare his saluation from day to day.

24 Declare his glory among the nations, and his wonderfull workes among all people.

25 For the Lord ⁿis great and much to be praised, and he is to be feared aboue all gods.

26 For all the gods of the people are ^oidoles, but the Lord made the heauens.

27 Praise and glory are before him: power and beauty are in his place.

28 Giue vnto the Lord, yee families of the people: giue vnto the Lord glory and power.

29 Giue vnto the Lord the glory of his Name: bring an offering, and come before him, and worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuary.

30 * Tremble yee before him all the earth, surely the world shall be stable and not moue.

31 Let the ^pheauens reioyce, and let the earth be glad, and let them say among the nations, The Lord reigneth.

32 Let the sea roare, and all that therein is: let the field be ioyfull and all that is in it.

33 Let the trees of the wood then reioyce at the presence of the Lord: for hee commeth to iudge the earth.

34 Praise the Lord for he is good, for his mercie ^{endureth} for euer.

35 And ay ye, Saue vs, O God, our saluation, and gather vs, and deliuer vs from the heathen, that we may praise thine holy Name, and ^q glory in thy praise.

36 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel for euer and euer: and let all people say, ^rTo be it, and praise the Lord.

37 ¶ Then he left there before the Arke of the Lords Couenant A^daph and his brethren to minister continually before the Arke, that which was to be done euery day:

38 And Obed Edom and his brethren, three-score and eight: and Obed Edom the sonne of Ieduthun, and Hofah were porters.

39 And Zadok the Priest and his brethren the Priestes were before the Tabernacle of the Lord, in the high place that was at Gibeon, 40 To offer burnt offerings vnto the Lord vpon the burnt offering Altar continually in the morning and in the euening, euen according vnto all that is written in the Law of the Lord, which he commanded Israel.

41 And with them ^swere Heman, and Ieduthun, and theret that were chosen (which were appointed by names) to praise the Lord, because his mercie ^{endureth} for euer.

42 Euen with them were Heman & Ieduthun, to make a sound with the cornets and with the cymbals, with excellent instruments of musick: and the sonnes of Ieduthun were at the gate.

43 And all the people departed, euery man to his house: and Dauid returned to ^tbleiss his house.

Now * afterward when Dauid dwelt in his house, hee said to Nathan the Prophet, Behold, I dwell in an house of ^acedar trees, but the Arke of the Lords Couenant remaineth vnder ^bcurtaines.

2 Then Nathan said to Dauid, Doe ^call that is in thine heart: for God is with thee.

3 And the same ^dnight euen the word of God came to Nathan, saying,

4 Goe, and tell Dauid my seruant, Thus saith the Lord, Thou shalt not build mee an house to dwell in:

5 For I haue dwelt in no house since the day that I brought out the children of Israel vnto this day, but I haue bene from tent to tent, and from habitation to habitation.

6 Wherefoer I haue walked with all Israel, spake I one word to any of the Iudges of Israel (whom I commaunded to feede my people) saying, Why haue ye not built mee an house of cedar trees?

7 Now therefore thus shalt thou say vnto my seruant Dauid, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I tooke thee from the sheepecote, and from following the sheepe, that thou shouldst be prince ouer my people Israel.

13 I will bee his father, and hee shall be my soune, and I will not take my mercie away from him, as I tooke it from him that was before him.

14 But I will establish him in mine house, and in my Kingdome for euer, and his Throne shall be established for euer.

15 According to all these words, and according to all this vision. So Nathan spake to David.

16 ¶ And Dauid the king went in and sate before the Lord and said, Who am I, O Lord God, and what is mine house, that thou hast brought me hitherto?

17 Yet thou esteeming this a small thing, O God, hast also spoken concerning the house of thy seruant for a great while, and hast required me according to the estate of a man of his degree, O Lord God.

18 What can Dauid desire more of thee for the honour of thy seruant? for thou knowest thy seruant.

19 O Lord, for thy seruants sake, euen according to thine p heart hast thou done all this great thing to declare all magnificence.

20 Lord, there is none like thee, neither is there any God besides thee, according to all that wee haue heard with our eares.

21 Moreover what one nation in the earth is like thy people Israel, whose God went to redeeme them to bee his people, and to make thy selfe a Name, and to doe great and terrible things by casting out nations from before thy people, whom thou hast delivered out of Egypt?

22 For thou hast ordeined thy people Israel to be thine owne people for euer, and thou Lord art become their God.

23 Therefore now Lord, let the thing that thou hast spoken concerning thy seruant, and concerning his house, be confirmed for euer, and doe as thou hast said.

24 And let thy Name be stable and magnified for euer, that it may be said, The Lord of hostes, God of Israel, is the God of Israel, and let the house of Dauid thy seruant be established before thee.

25 For thou, O my God, hast reucaled vnto the eare of thy seruant, that thou wilt build him an house: therefore thy seruant hath bene bold to pray before thee.

26 Therefore now Lord (for thou art God, and hast spoken this goodnesse vnto thy seruant)

27 Now therefore it hath pleased thee to blesse the house of thy seruant, that it may bee before thee for euer: for thou, O Lord, hast blessed it, and it shall be blessed for euer.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The battell of Dauid against the Philistims 2 And against Moab, 3 Zolab, 5 - rams, 12 And Edom.

¶ Na after this, Dauid smote the Philistims, and subdued them, and tooke Gath, and the villages thereof out of the hand of the Philistims.

2 And he smote Moab, and the Moabites became Dauids seruants, and brought gifts.

3 ¶ And Dauid smote Hadarezer king of Zobah vnto Hamath, as hee went to stablish his border by the river ¶ Perath.

4 And Dauid took from him a thousand charrets, and seuen thousand horsemen, and twentie thousand footmen, and destroyed all the charrets, but hee reserved of them an hundred charrets.

5 ¶ Then came the Aramites of Damascus to succour Hadarezer king of Zobah, but Dauid slew of the Aramites two and twenty thousand.

6 And Dauid put a garison in Aram of Damascus, and the Aramites became Dauids seruants, and brought gifts: and the Lord preferred Dauid where soeuer he went.

7 And Dauid tooke the shields of golde that were of the seruants of Hadarezer, and brought them to Ierusalem.

8 And from Tibhath, and from Chun (cities of Hadarezer) brought Dauid exceeding much brasie, wherewith Salomon made the brazen Sea, and the pillars and the vessels of brasie.

9 ¶ Then Thou King of Hamah heard how Dauid had smitten all the host of Hadarezer king of Zolab:

10 Therefore he sent Hadoram his sonneto King Dauid to salute him, and to reioyce with him, becau e hee had fought against Hadarezer, and beaten him (for Thou wardest with Hadarezer) who brought all vessels of gold and siluer and brasie.

11 And King Dauid did dedicate them vnto the Lord, with the siluer and golde that hee brought from all the nations, from Edom and from Moab, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistims, and from Amalek.

12 ¶ And Abihai the sonne of Zeruiah smote of Edom in the salt valley eighteen thousand.

13 And he put a garison in Edom, and all the Edomites became Dauids seruants: and the Lord preferred Dauid where soeuer he went.

14 So Dauid reigned ouer all Israel, and executed iudgement and iustice to all his people.

15 And Ioab the sonne of Zeruiah was ouer the hoste, and Iehoshaphat the sonne of Ahilud Recorder.

16 And Zadok the sonne of Ahieub, and Abimelech the sonne of Abiathar were the Priestes, and Shaulha the Scribe, 17 ¶ And Beniahah the sonne of Iehoiada was ouer the Cherethites and the Pelethites: and the sonnes of Dauid were chiefe about the King.

2 And David said, I will shew kindnesse vnto Hanun the sonne of Nabab, because his father shewed kindnesse vnto me. And David sent messengers to comfort him for his father. So the seruants of David came into the land of the children of Ammon to Hanun to comfort him.

3 And the princes of the children of Ammon sayd to Hanun, Thinkst thou that David doeth honour thy father, that he hath sent comforters vnto thee? Are not his seruants come to thee to search, to seeke, and to spie out the land?

4 Wherefore Hanun tooke Davids seruants, and shaued them, and cutt off their garments by the halfe vnto the buttocks, and sent them away.

5 And there went certaine and told David concerning the men: and hee sent to meete them (for the men were exceedingly affamed) and the King said, Tary at Jericho, vntill your beards be grown: then returne.

6 ¶ When the children of Ammon saw that they ¶ shauke in the sight of David, then sent Hanun and the children of Ammon a thousand talents of silver, to hire them charres and horsemen out of Aram Naharaim, and out of Aram Maachab, and out of Zobah.

7 And they hired them two and thirty thousand charres, and the King of Maachab and his people, which came and pitched before Medeba: and the children of Ammon gathered themselves together from their cities, and came to the battell.

8 ¶ And when David heard, he sent Ioab and all the hoste of the valiant men.

9 And the children of Ammon came out, and set their battell in aray at the gate of the citie. And the kings that were come, were by themselves in the field.

10 When Ioab saw that the front of the battell was against him before and behinde, then he chose out of all the choice of Israel, and set himselfe in aray to meete the Aramites,

11 And the rest of the people hee deliuered vnto the hand of Abisath his brother, and they put themselves in aray against the children of Ammon.

12 And he said, If Aram be too strong for me, then thou shalt succour me: and if the children of Ammon preuaile against thee, then I will succour thee.

13 Be strong, and let vs shew our selues valiant for our people, and for the cities of our God, and let the Lord doe that which is good in his owne sight.

14 So Ioab and the people that was with him, came neere before the Aramites vnto the battell, and they fled before him.

15 And when the children of Ammon sawed that the Aramites fled, they fled also before Abisath his brother, and entred into the citie: so Ioab came to Ierusalem.

16 ¶ And when the Aramites sawed that they were discomfited before Israel, they sent messengers, and caused the Aramites to come forth that were beyond the riuer; and Shophach the captaine of the host of Hadarezer went before them.

17 And when it was shewed David, hee gathered all Israel and went over Iordan, and came vnto them, and put himselfe in aray against them. And when David had put himselfe in battell aray to meete the Aramites, they fought with him:

18 But the Aramites fled before Israel, and Da-uid destroyed the Aramites: seuenthou thousand charres and forty thousand footmen, and killed Shophach the captaine of the hoste.

19 And when the seruants of Hadarezer saw that they fell before Israel, they made peace with David, and serued him. And the Aramites would no more succour the children of Ammon.

CHAP. XX.

1 Rabbah destroyed. 3 The Ammonites harmed. 5 The Philistines are overcome with their giants.

And * when the yeere was expired, in the time that kings goe out a warre, Ioab carried out the strength of the armie, and destroyed the cuntry of the children of Ammon, and came and beseged * Rabbah (but David taried at Ierusalem) and Ioab smote Rabbah, and destroyed it.

2 * Then David tooke the crowne of their king from off his head, and found it the weight of a talent of golde, with precious stones in it: and it was set on Davids head, and he brought away the spoile of the city exceeding much.

3 And hee carried away the people that were in it, and cut them with sawes, and with harrowes of yron, and with axes: euen thus did David with all the cities of the children of Ammon. Then David and all the people came againe to Ierusalem.

4 ¶ * And after this also there arose warre at Gazer with the Philistins: then Sibbechai the Hushathite slew ¶ Sippa of the children of ¶ Haraphah, and they were subdued.

5 And there was yet another battell with the Philistins: and Elhanan the sonne of Iair slew Elishai the brother of Goliath the Gittite, whose speare was like a weavers beame.

6 And yet againe there was a battell at Gath, where was a man of a great stature, and his fingers were by sixes, euen foure and twentie, and was also the donne of Haraphah.

7 And when hee reuiled Israel, Iehonathan the sonne of Shimea Davids brother did slay him.

8 These were borne vnto Haraphah at Gath, and fell by the hand of David, and by the hands of his seruants.

CHAP. XXI.

1 David: useth the people to be numbered. 14 And there is founde the sinne of the peesence.

And * Satan stood vp against Israel, and provoked David to number Israel.

2 Therefore David said to Ioab, and to the rulers of the people, Goe, and number Israel from Beer-sheba euen to Dan, and bring it to me, that I may know the number of them.

3 And Ioab answered, The Lord increaseth his people an hundred times so many as they be. O my lord the King: are they not all my lords seruants? wherefore doeth my lord require this thing? why should he be a cause of trespass to Israel?

4 Neuertheless, the kings word preuailed against Ioab. And Ioab departed and went thorough all Israel, and returned to Ierusalem.

5 And Ioab gaue the number and summe of the people vnto David: and all Israel were eleven hundred thousand men that drew sword: and Iudah was foure hundred and seentie not the whole summe, as it is here declared. e In Samuel is mentioned thirtie thousand more: which was either by joyning to them some of the Beniamites, which were mixed with Iudah, or as the Hebrewes write here, the chiefe and princes are left out.

Or, mine thee.

12 Either three yeeres amine, or three moneths to be destroyed before thine adversaries, and the sword of thine enemies to take thee, or else the sword of the Lord and pestilence in the land three dayes, that the Angel of the Lord may destroy throughout all the coasts of Israel: now therefore aduise thee, what word I shall bring againe to him that sent me.

13 And David said vnto Gad, I am in a wonderful strait, let me now fall into the hand of the Lord: for his mercies are exceeding great, and let me not fall into the hand of man.

14 So the Lord sent a pestilence in Israel, and there fell of Israel seventy thousand men.

15 ¶ And God sent the Angel into Ierusalem to destroy it. And as he was destroying, the Lord beheld, and repented of the euill, and said to the Angel that destroyed, It is now enough, Let this hand cease. Then the Angel of the Lord stood by the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite.

f. Reade 2. Sam.

g. When God draweth backe his plagues, hee seemeth to repent, Reade Gen 6. 6. 109. A. r. a. u. a. b. u. b.

16 And David lift vp his eyes, and sawe the Angel of the Lord stand betwene the earth and the heauen, with the sword drawn in his hand and stretched out toward Ierusalem. Then David and the Elders of Israel which were clothed in sacke, fell vpon their faces.

17 And David said vnto God, Is it not I that commanded to number the people? It is euen I that haue sinned and haue committed euill, but these sheepe what haue they done? O Lord my God, I beseech thee, let thine hand be on me and on my fathers house, and not on thy people for their destruction.

h. Thus hee both sheweth a repentance and a withdrawing away from his people, which desireth God to spare them, and to punish him and his.

i. If man hide himselfe at the sight of an Angel which is a creature, how much more is it a creature able to appeare before the face of God?

18 ¶ Then the Angel of the Lord commanded Gad to say to David, that David should goe vp, and set vp an altar vnto the Lord in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite.

19 So David went vp according to the saying of Gad, which he had spoken in the name of the Lord.

20 And Ornan turned about, and saw the Angel, and his four sonnes that were with him hid themselves, and Ornan threshed wheate.

21 And as David came to Ornan, Ornan looked and saw David, and went out of the threshing floore, and bowed himselfe to David with his face to the ground.

k. Thus hee did by the commandement of God, as verse 18. for else it had been abominable, except he had either Gods word or revelation.

22 And David said to Ornan, Give mee the place of thy threshing floore, that I may build an altar therein vnto the Lord: give it me for sufficient money, that the plague may be stayed from the people.

23 Then Ornan said vnto David, Take it to thee, and let my lord the King doe that which seemeth him good: loe, I giue thee bullocks for burnt offerings, and threshing instruments for wood, and wheate for meate offering, I giue it all.

24 And King David sayd to Ornan, Not so: but I will buy it, or sufficient money: for I will not take that which is thine for the Lord, nor offer burnt offerings without cost.

25 So David gaue to Ornan for that place sixe hundred shekels of gold by weight.

26 And David built there an altar vnto the Lord, and offered burnt offerings, and peace offerings, and called vpon the Lord, and he answered him by fire from heauen vpon the altar of burnt offering.

27 And when the Lord had spoken to the Angel, hee put vp his sword againe into his sheath.

28 At that time when David saw that the Lord had heard him in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite then he sacrificed there.

29 (But the Tabernacle of the Lord which Moyses had made in the wilderness, and the altar of burnt offering were at that season in the high place at Gibeon.)

30 And David could not goe before it to aske counsell at God: for hee was afraid of the sword of the Angel of the Lord.)

AND David said, This is the house of the Lord God, and this is the altar for the burnt offering of Israel.

2 And David commanded to gather together the strangers that were in the land of Israel, and he set masons to hew and polish stones to build the house of God.

3 David also prepared much yron for the nailes of the doores and of the gates, and for the ioyning, and abundance of brasse passing weight.

4 And cedar trees without number: for the Zidonians, and they of Tyrus brought much cedar wood to David.

5 And David said, Salomon my sonne is yong and tender, and wee must build an house for the Lord, magnificall, excellent, and of great fame and dignity throughout all countreies. I will therefore now prepare for him. So David prepared very much before his death.

6 Then hee called Salomon his sonne, and charged him to build an house for the Lord God of Israel.

7 And David said to Salomon, My sonne, I purposed with my selfe to build an house to the Name of the Lord my God.

8 But the word of the Lord came to me, saying, *d Thou hast shed much blood, & hast made great battels: thou shalt not build an house vnto my Name: for thou hast shed much blood vpon the earth in my sight.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Dauid being old, ordaineth Salomon King. 3 Hee causeth the Leuites to be numbered. 4 And assigneth them to their offices. 13 Aaron and his sonnes are for the hie Priest. 14 The sonnes of Moyses.

SO when Dauid was old and full of dayes, * he smade Salomon his sonne king ouer Israel.

2 And he gathered together all the princes of Israel with the Priests and the Leuites.

3 And the Leuites were numbered from the age of thirtie yeere and aboue, and their number according to their summe was eight and thirtie thousand men.

4 Of these foure and twentie thou and were set to || aduance the worke of the house of the Lord, and fixe thousand were ouer-seers and Iudges.

5 And foure thousand were porters, and foure thousand praised the Lord with instruments which † he made to praise the Lord.

6 * So Dauid diuided offices vnto them, to wit, to the sonnes of Leui, to * Gershom, Kohath, and Merari.

7 Of the Gershomites were || Laadan and Shimei. 8 The sonnes of Laadan, the chiefe was Ichiel, and Ierham, and Ioel, three.

9 The sonnes of Shimei, Shelomith, and Haziel, and Haram, three: These were the chiefe fathers of Laadan, 10 Also the sonnes of Shimei were Iahath, Zin, Ieuth, and Beriah: these foure were the sonnes of Shimei.

11 And Iahath was the chiefe, and || Zin the second, but Ieuth & Beriah had not many sonnes: therefore they were in the families of their father, counted but as one.

12 ¶ The sonnes of Kohath were Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Vzziel, foure.

13 * The sonnes of Amram, Aaron and Moyses: and Aaron was separated to sanctifie the most holy place, and his sonnes for euer to burne incense before the Lord, to minister to him, and to blesse in his Name for euer.

14 ¶ Moyses also the man of God and his children were named with the tribe of Leui.

15 The sonnes of Moyses were Gershom, and Eliezer.

16 Of the sonnes of * Gershom was Shebuel the chiefe.

17 And the sonnes of Eliezer was Rehabiah the chiefe: for Eliezer had none other sonnes: but the sonnes of Rehabiah were very many.

18 The sonne of Izhar was Shelomith the chiefe.

19 The sonnes of Hebron were Ieriah the first, Amariah the second, Iahaziel the third, and Iskamiah the fourth.

20 The sonnes of Vzziel were Michah the first, and Ishiah the second.

21 ¶ The sonnes of Merari were Mahli, and Mushi. The sonnes of Mahli, Eleazar, and Kith.

22 And Eleazar died and had no sonnes, but daughters, and their brethren the sonnes of Kith tooke them.

23 The sonnes of Mushi were Mahli, and Eder, and Jerimoth, three.

24 The e were the sonnes of Leui according to the house of their fathers, euen the chiefe fathers according to their offices, according to the number of names, and their summe that did the worke for the seruice of the house of the Lord from the age of * twentie yeeres and aboue.

25 For Dauid said, The Lord God of Israel hath giuen rest vnto his people, that they may dwell in Ierusalem for euer.

26 And also the Leuites shall no more beare the Tabernacle and all the vessels for the seruice thereof.

27 Therefore according to the last wordes of Dauid, the Leuites were numbered from twentie yeere and aboue,

28 And their office was vnder the hand of the sonnes of Aaron, for the seruice of the house of the Lord in the courts, and chambers, and in the purifying of all holy things, and in the worke of the seruice of the house of God.

29 Both for the shewbread, and for the fine flour, for the meat offering, and for the vneleuened cakes, and for the fryed things, and for that which was roasted, and for all mea wres and cise,

30 And for to stand euery morning, to giue thanks & to praise the Lord, and likewise at euen, 31 And to offer all burnt offerings vnto the Lord in the Sabbaths, in the moneths, and at the appointed times, according to the number, and according to their custome, continually before the Lord.

of Aaron their brethren in the service of the house of the Lord.

C H A P. XXIII.

David assigneth offices to the sons of Aaron.

These are also the divisions of the sons of Aaron: The sons of Aaron were Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

But Nadab and Abihu died before their father, and had no children: therefore Eleazar and Ithamar executed the Priests office.

And David distributed them, even Zadok, of the sons of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the sons of Ithamar, according to their offices in their ministrations.

And they were found more of the sons of Eleazar by the number of men, then of the sons of Ithamar, and they divided them, to wit, among the sons of Eleazar, sixteen heads, according to the household of their fathers, and among the sons of Ithamar, according to the household of their fathers, eight.

Thus they distributed them by lot one from the other, and to the rulers of the Sanctuary, and the rulers of the house of God were of the sons of Eleazar, and of the sons of Ithamar.

And Shemaiah the son of Nathan the Scribe of the Levites, wrote them before the king and the princes, & Zadok the Priest, and Ahimelech the son of Abiathar, and before the chief fathers of the Priests and of the Levites, one family being referred for Eleazar, and another referred for Ithamar.

And the first lot fell to Ichoriab, and the second to Jedaiab,

The third to Harim, the fourth to Seorim,

The fifth to Malchiah, the sixth to Miamin,

The seventh to Hakkoz, the eighth to Abiath,

The ninth to Ieshua, the tenth to Shecaniah,

The eleventh to Eliahish, the twelfth to Takim,

The thirteenth to Huppa, the fourteenth to Ieshebeab,

The fifteenth to Bilgah, the sixteenth to Tramer,

The seventeenth to Hezir, the eighteenth to Happizzer,

The nineteenth to Pethahiah, the twentieth to Iehzekel,

The one and twentieth to Iachin, the two and twentieth to Gamul,

The three and twentieth to Deliah, the four and twentieth to Maaziah.

These were the orders according to their offices, when they entered into the house of the Lord according to their custom: and the hand of Aaron their father, as the Lord God of Israel had commanded him.

And of the sons of Levi that remained of the sons of Amram, was Shubael: of the sons of Shubael, Jedaiab,

Of Rehabiah, even of the sons of Rehabiah, the first Ishiah,

Of Izhari, Shelomoth, of the sons of Shelomoth, Iahath,

And his sonnes, Ieriah the first, Amariah the second, Tahaziel the third, and Iekameam the fourth,

The sonne of Vzziel was Michah, the sonne of Michah was Shamir.

The brother of Michah was Ishiah, the sonne of Ishiah, Zachariah.

The sonnes of Merari were Mahli and Mushi, the sonne of Maathiah, was Beno,

The sonnes of Merari, of Iahaziah were Bano, and Shoham, and Zaccur, and Ithri.

Of Mahli came Eleazar, which had no sonnes.

Of Kish, the sonne of Kish was Ierahmeel,

And the sonnes of Mushi, were Mahli, and Eder, and Ierimoth: these were sonnes of the Levites after the household of their fathers.

And these also cast lots with their brethren the sonnes of Aaron before King David, and Zadok and Ahimelech and the chief fathers of the Priests, and of the Levites, even the chief of the families against their younger brethren.

C H A P. XXV.

The fingers are appointed, with their places and lots.

So David and the captains of the army separated for the ministry the sonnes of Alaph, and Heman, and Jeduthun, who should sing prophecies with harpes, with viols, and with cymbales, and their number was even of the men for the office of their ministry, to wit,

Of the sonnes of Alaph, Zaccur, and Ioseph, and Nethaniah, and Asharel the sonnes of Alaph were vnder the hand of Alaph, which sang prophecies by the commission of the king.

Of Jeduthun, the sonnes of Jeduthun, Gedaliah, and Zer, and Iethaiiah, Ashabiah, and Matithiah, fixe, vnder the hands of their father: Jeduthun sang prophecies with an harpe, for to give thanks, and to praise the Lord.

Of Heman, the sonnes of Heman, Bukkiah, Mataniah, Vzziel, Shebuel, and Ierimoth, Hananiah, Hanani, Eleathath, Giddalti, and Romamti-ezer, Ioshbekamah, Mallothi, Hothir, and Mahazioth.

All these were the sonnes of Heman, the Kings || Seer, in the words of God to lift up the || horse: and God gave to Heman fourteene sons and three daughters.

All these were vnder the hand of their father, singing in the house of the Lord with cymbals, viols and harps, for the service of the house of God, and Alaph, and Jeduthun, and Heman were at the kings commandement.

So was their number with their brethren, that were instructed in the songs of the Lord, even of all that were cunning, two hundred fourscore and eight.

And they cast lots, to charge against charge, as well small as great, the cunning man as the scholler.

And the first lot fell to Ioseph, which was of Alaph, the second to Gedaliah, who with his brethren and his sonnes were twelve.

The third, to Zaccur, he, his sonnes and his brethren were twelve.

The fourth, to Izri, he, his sonnes and his brethren were twelve.

The fifth, to Nethaniah, he, his sonnes and his brethren were twelve.

The sixth, to Bukkiah, he, his sonnes and his brethren were twelve.

The seventh, to Iesharelah, he, his sonnes and his brethren were twelve.

5 The captaine of the third host for the third moneth was Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiada the chiefe Priest: and in his course were foure and twentie thousand.

6 This Benaiah was mighty among ^{*} thirtie and aboute the thirtie, and in his course was Amizabad his sonne.

7 The fourth for the fourth moneth was Afahel the brother of Ioab, and Zebadiab his sonne after him: and in his course were foure and twentie thousand.

8 The fift for the fift moneth was prince Shammuth the Izrahite: and in his course foure and twentie thousand.

9 The sixt for the sixt moneth was Ira the sonne of Ikkeiah the Tekoite: and in his course foure and twentie thousand.

10 The seventh for the seventh moneth was Helez the Pelonite, of the sonnes of Ephraim: and in his course foure and twentie thousand.

11 The eight for the eight moneth was Sibbecai the Hushathite of the Zarhites: and in his course foure and twentie thousand.

12 The ninth for the ninth moneth was Abiezer the Anethothite of the sonnes of Iemini: and in his course foure and twentie thousand.

13 The tenth for the tenth moneth was Maharai, the Netophathite of the Zarhites: and in his course foure and twentie thousand.

14 The eleuenth for the eleuenth moneth was Benaiah the Pirathonite of the sonnes of Ephraim: and in his course foure and twentie thousand.

15 The twelfth for the twelfth moneth was Heldai the Netophathite, of Othniel: & in his course foure and twentie thousand.

16 ^{Moreouer} the rulers ouer the tribes of Israel were these: ouer the Reubenites was ruler, Eliezer the sonne of Zichri: ouer the Shimeonites, Shephatiah the sonne of Maachab:

17 Ouer the Leuites, Hushabiah the sonne of Remuel: ouer them of Aaron, and Zadok:

18 Ouer Iudah, Elihu of the brethren of Dauid: ouer Issachar, Omri the sonne of Michael:

19 Ouer Zebulun, Ishmaiah the sonne of Obadiah: ouer Naphtali, Jerimoth the sonne of Azriel:

20 Ouer the sonnes of Ephraim, Hoshea the sonne of Azaziah: ouer the halfe tribe of Manasseh, Joel the sonne of Pedaiab:

21 Ouer the other halfe of Manasseh in Gilead, Iddo the sonne of Zechariah: ouer Benjamin, Iasiel the sonne of Abner:

22 Ouer Dan, Azariel the sonne of Ieroham: These are the princes of the tribes of Israel.

23 But Dauid tooke not the number of them from twentie yeere olde and vnder, because the Lord had said that hee would increase Israel like vnto the starres of the heauens.

24 And Ioab the sonne of Zeruiah began to number: but he finished it not, ^{*} because there came wrath for it against Israel, neither was the number put into the Chronicles of king Dauid.

25 And ouer the Kings treasures was Azmaueh the sonne of Adiel: and ouer the treasures in the fields, in the cities and in the villages and in the towres was Iehonathan the sonne of Vzziah:

26 And ouer the workemen in the field that tilled the ground, was Ezri the sonne of Chelub:

27 And ouer them that dressed the vines, was Shimei the Ramathite: and ouer that which appertained to the vines, and ouer the store of the wine was Sabdi the Shiphmitite:

28 And ouer the olue trees and mulberietrees that were in the valleys, was Baal Hanan the Gederite: and ouer the store of the oyle was Ioath:

29 And ouer the oxen that fed in Sharon, was Shetrai the Sharonite: and ouer the oxen in the valleys was Shaphat the sonne of Adai:

30 And ouer the camels was Obil the Ishmaelite: and ouer the asses was Iehdeiah the Meronothite:

31 And ouer the sheepe was Iaziz the Haglerite: all the e were the rulers of the substance that was king Dauids.

32 And Iehonathan Dauids vncle a man of counsell & of vnderstanding (for he was a scribe) and Iehiel the sonne of Hachmoni were with the Kings sonnes.

33 And Ahitophel was the Kings counsellor, and Hushai the Archite the Kings friend.

34 And after Ahitophel was Iehoiada the sonne of Benaiah and Abiathar: and captaine of the Kings armie was Ioab.

CHAP. XXVIII.

³ Be cause Dauid was forbidden to build the Temple, hee witheth Solomon and the people to performe it, ⁹ Exhorting him to feare the Lord.

Now Dauid assembled all the princes of Israel: the princes of the tribes, and the captaines of the bands that serued the King, and the captaines of thousand, & the captains of hundred, and the rulers of all the substance and possession of the king, and of his sonnes, with the eunuches, and the mightie, and all the men of power, vnto Ierusalem.

2 And King Dauid stood vp vpon his feete, and said, Heare yee me, my brethren and my people: I purposed to haue built an house of rest for the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, and for a footstool of our God, and haue made ready for the building,

3 But God said vnto me, ^{*} Thou shalt not build an house for my Name, because thou hast bene a man of warre, and hast shed blood.

4 Yet the Lord God of Israel chose me before all the house of my father, to be king ouer Israel for euer (for in Iudah would hee chuse a prince, and of the house of Iudah is the house of my father, and among the sonnes of my father hee delighted in me to make me King ouer all Israel.)

5 So of all my sonnes (for the Lord hath giuen me many sonnes) he hath euen chosen Solomon my sonne to sit vpon the throne of the kingdom of the Lord ouer Israel.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 The offering of Dauid and of the princes for the building of the Temple. 10 Dauid giueth thanks to the Lord. 20 He exhorteth the people to doe the same. 23 Salomon created King. 28 Dauid dieth, and Salomon his sonne reigned to his death.

Moreouer, Dauid the King said vnto all the Congregation, God hath chosen Salomon mine onely son, yong and tender, and the worke is great: for this house is not for man, but for the Lord God.

2 Now I haue prepared with all my power for the house of my God, gold for vessels of golde, and siluer for them of siluer, and brasle for things of brasle, yron for things of yron, and wood for things of wood, and onyx stones, and stones to be set, and carbuncle stones, and of diuers colours, and all precious stones, and marble stones in abundance.

3 Moreouer, because I haue delight in the house of my God, I haue of mine owne gold and siluer, which I haue giuen to the house of my God, beside all that I haue prepared for the house of the Sanctuary,

4 Euen three thousand talents of gold of the gold of Ophir, and seuen thousand talents of refined filver to overlay the walles of the houses,

5 The gold for the things of golde, and the siluer for things of siluer, and for all the worke by the hands of artificers: and who is willing to fill his hand to day vnto the Lord?

6 So the princes of the families, and the princes of the tribes of Israel, and the captains of thousands and of hundreds, with the rulers of the kings worke, offered willingly,

7 And they gaue for the seruice of the house of God, five thousand talents of gold, and tenne thousand pieces, and ten thousand talents of siluer, and eightene thousand talents of brasle, and one hundred thousand talents of yron.

8 And they with whom precious stones were found, gaue them to the treasure of the house of the Lord, by the hand of Iehiel the Gerssunite,

9 And the people reioiced when they offered willingly: for they offered willingly vnto the Lord, with a perfect heart. And Dauid the king also reioiced with great ioy.

10 Therefore Dauid blessed the Lord before all the congregation, and Dauid said, Blessed be thou, O Lord God of Israel our father, for euer and euer.

11 Thine, O Lord, is greatnesse and power, and glory and victory, and praise: for all that is in heauen & in earth is thine: thine is the kingdome, O Lord, and thou excellest as head over all.

12 Both riches and honour come of thee, and thou reignest ouer all, and in thine hand is power and strength, and in thine hand it is to make great, and to giue strength vnto all.

13 Now therefore, our God, we thanke thee, and praise thy glorious Name.

14 But who am I, and what is my people, that wee should be able to offer willingly, after this sort? for all things come of thee: and of thine owne hand we haue giuen thee.

15 For wee are strangers before thee, and sojourners like all our fathers: our dayes are like the shadow vpon the earth, and there is none abiding.

16 O Lord our God, all this abundance that is brought to thee at thy commandment.

And therefore thought to bee excellent in all points.

His great zeale toward the temple, the excellence of the Temple made him to spare no expences, but to bestow his owne peculiar treasure. He sheweth what he had of his owne store for the Lords house. He was not onely liberall himselfe, but procured others to let forth the worke for his offer.

THE SECOND BOOKE OF the Chronicles.

THE ARGVMENT.

THIS second booke containeth briefly in effect that, which is comprehended in the two bookes of the Kings: that is, from the reigne of Salomon to the destruction of Ierusalem, and the carrying away of the people captiue into Babylon. In this story are certaine things declared and set forth more copiously then in the bookes of the Kings, and therefore serue greatly to the vnderstanding of the Prophets. But three things are here chiefly to be considered: First, that the godly kings, when they sawe the plagues of God prepared against their country for sinne, had recourse to the Lord, and by earnest prayer were heard, and the plagues remooued. The second, how it is a thing that greatly offendeth God, that such as feare him, and professe his religion, should bee in amitie with the wicked. And thirdly, how the good rulers early learned the Prophets of God, and were very zealous to set forth his religion thorowout all their dominions, and contrariwise, the wicked hate his ministers, deposed them, and for the true religion and word of God, set vp idolatry, and serued God according to the fantasie of men. Thus haue wee hitherto the chieftest from the beginning of the world to the building againe of Ierusalem, which was the two and thirtieth yeere of Dauid, and contene in the whole, three thousand fins hundred threescore and eightene yeeres and sixe moneths.

CHAP. I.

6 The offering of Salomon at Gibeon. 8 He prayeth vnto God to giue him wisdom: 11 Which hee giueth him, and more. 13

Hen Salomon the sonne of Dauid was † confirmed in his kingdome: and the Lord his God was with him, and magnified him highly.

2 And Salomon a spake vnto all Israel, to the captaines of thousands, and of hundreds, and to the iudges, and to all the gouernors in all Israel, even the chiefe fathers.

3 So Salomon, and all the Congregation with him went to the high place that was at b Gibeon:

for there was the Tabernacle c of the Congregation of God, which Moses the seruant of the Lord had made in the wilderness.

4 But the Arke of God had Dauid brought vp from Kiriath-icarim, when Dauid had made preparation for it: for he had pitched a tent for it in Ierusalem.

5 Moreover, the d brazen altar * that Bezaleel the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur had made, did he set before the Tabernacle of the Lord: and Salomon and the Congregation sought it.

6 And Salomon offered there before the Lord vpon the brazen altar that was in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, even a thousand burnt offerings offered he vpon it.

shall giue thee

8 And Salomon said vnto God; Thou hast shewed great mercy vnto Dauid my father, and hast made mere giue in his stead.

9 Now therefore, O Lord God, let thy promise vnto Dauid my father be true for thou hast made mee King ouer a great people, like to the dust of the earth.

10 Giue mee now wisdom and knowledge, that I may goe out and go in before this people: for who can iudge this thy great people?

11 And God said to Salomon, Becau' this was in thine heart, and thou hast not asked riches, treasures nor honour, nor the liues of thine enemies, neither yet hast asked long life, but hast asked for thee wisdom and knowledge that thou mightest iudge my people, ouer whom I have made thee king,

12 Wisdom and knowledge is granted vnto thee, and I wil giue thee riches, and treasures, and honour, so that thee hath not bene the like among the Kings which were before thee, neither after thee shalt there be the like.

13 Then Salomon came from the high place, that was at Gibeon, to Ierusalem from before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and reigned ouer Israel.

14 * And Salomon gathered the chariots and horsemen: and hee had a thousand and foure hundred chariots, and twelue thousand horsemen, whom he placed in the chariot cities, and with the king at Ierusalem.

15 And the king gaue siluer and gold at Ierusalem as stones, and gaue cedar trees as the wild fig trees, that are abundantly in the plains.

16 Also Salomon had horses brought out of Egypt, and fine linnen: the kings merchants renewed the fine linnen at a price.

17 They came vp also and brought out of Egypt some chariots, worth sixe hundred shekels of siluer, that is, an horse for an hundred and fiftie: and thus they brought horses to all the kings of the Hittites, and to the kings of Aram by their means.

CHAP. II.

3 The number of Salomons workmen to build the Temple. 3 Salomon sendeth to Ithraam the king of Tyre for wood and workmen.

Then Salomon determined to build an house for the Name of the Lord, and an house for his kingdom.

2 And Salomon tolde out seuentie thousand that bare burdens, and fourescore thousand men to hewe stones in the mountaine, and three thousand and sixe hundred to ouer see them.

3 And Salomon sent to Hiram the king of Tyrus, saying, As thou hast done to Dauid my father, and didst send him cedar trees to build him an house to dwell in, so doe to me.

4 Behold, I build an house vnto the Name of the Lord my God, to sanctifie it vnto him, and to burne sweete incense before him, and for the continuall shewbread, and for the burnt offerings of the morning and evening, on the Sabbath dayes, and in the new moones, and in the solemne feasts of the Lord our God: this is a perpetuall thing for Israel.

5 And the house which I build, shall be great: for great is our God above all gods.

6 Who is he then that can be able to build him an house, when the heaven and the heaven of heavens can not containe him? who am I then that I should build him an house? but I doe it to burne incense before him.

7 Send me now therefore a cunning man that can worke in gold, in siluer, and in brasse, and in yron, and in puple, and in crimosin, and in blue filke, and that can graue in grauen worke with the cunning men that are with me in Iudah, and in Ierusalem, whom Dauid my father hath prepared.

8 Send mee also cedar trees, firre trees, and algum trees from Lebanon: for I know that thy seruants can skill to hewe timber in Lebanon: and behold, my seruants shall bee with thine,

9 That they may prepare me timber in abundance: for the house which I doe build, is great and wonderful.

10 And behold, I will giue to thy seruants the cutters and the hewers of timber twentie thousand measures of beaten wheate, and twentie thousand measures of barley, and twentie thousand baths of wine, and twenty thousand baths of oyle.

11 Then Hiram King of Tyrus answered in writing which hee sent to Salomon, Becau' the Lord hath loosed his people, hee hath made thee king ouer them.

12 Hiram, and moreover, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, which made the heauen and the earth, and that hath giuen vnto Dauid the King a wise sonne, that hath discretion, prudence, and vnderstanding to build an house for the Lord, and a palace for his kingdom.

13 Now therefore I haue sent a wife man, and of vnderstanding of my father Hurams,

14 The sonne of a woman of the daughters of Dan: and his father was a man of Tyrus, and he can skill to worke in golde, in siluer, in brasse, in yron, in stone, and in timber, in puple, in blue filke, and in fine linnen, and in crimosin, and can graue in all grauen workes, and broyder in all broyered worke that shalte giue him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my lord Dauid thy father.

15 Now therefore the wheate and the barley, the oyle and the wine, which my lord hath spoken of, let him send vnto his seruants.

16 And we wil cut wood in Lebanon as much as thou shalt neede, and will bring it to thee in Iaffes by the sea to Iapho, so thou mayst cary them to Ierusalem.

17 And Salomon numbred all the strangers that were in the land of Israel, after the numbering that his father Dauid had numbred them: and they were found an hundred and three and fiftie thousand and sixe hundred.

18 And he set twenty thousand of them to the burden, and fourescore thousand to hew stones in the mountaine, and three thousand and sixe hundred ouerscers to cause the people to worke.

CHAP. III.

1 The Temple of the Lord and the porch are builded, with other things thereto belonging.

5 And the greater house hee filled with firre tree, which he overlaid with good gold, and grained thereon palm trees and chaines.

6 And hee overlaid the house with precious stone for beautie: and the gold was gold of Parauan.

7 The house, I say, the beames, postes, and walles thereof, and the doores thereof overlaid hee with golde, and grained Cherubims vpon the walles.

8 He made also the house of the most holy place: the length thereof was in the front of the breadth of the house twenty cubites, and the breadth thereof twenty cubites: and hee overlaid it with the best gold, of six hundred talents.

9 And the weight of the nailes was as fiftie shekels of gold, and hee overlaid the chambers with gold.

10 And in the house of the most holy place hee made two Cherubims wrought like children, and overlaid them with gold.

11 And the wings of the Cherubims were twenty cubits long: the one wing was five cubits, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing five cubites, reaching to the wing of the other Cherub.

12 Likewise the wing of the other Cherub was five cubits, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing five cubites, joyning to the wing of the other Cherub.

13 The wings of these Cherubims were spread abroad twentie cubites, they stood on their feete, and their faces were toward the house.

14 He made also the vail of blue silke and purple, and crimson, and fine linen, and wrought Cherubims thereon.

15 And hee made before the house two pillars of fine and thirte cubits high: and the chapter that was vpon the top of each of them was five cubites.

16 Hee made also chaines for the oracle, and put them on the heads of the pillars, and made an hundred pomegranates, and put them among the chaines.

17 And he set vp the pillars before the Temple, one on the right hand, and the other on the left, and called that on the right hand Iachin, and that on the left Boaz.

CHAP. III.

1 The altar of bras. 2 The measures. 3 The caldrons. 4 The censers.

And hee made an Altar of brasie twentie cubites long, and twentie cubites broad, and ten cubites high.

2 And he made a molten Sea of ten cubites from brim to brim, round in compass, and five cubites high: and a line of thirty cubits did compass it about.

3 And vnder it was the fashion of oxen, which did compass it round about, tenne in a cubite, compassing the Sea about: two rowes of oxen were cast when it was molten.

4 It stood vpon twelue oxen: three looked toward the North, and three looked toward the West, and three looked toward the South, and three looked toward the East, and the Sea stood aboue vpon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

5 And the thicknesse thereof was an hand breadth, and the brim thereof was like the work of the brim of a cup, with floures of lilies: it contained three thousand baths.

6 Hee made also ten caldrons, and put five on the right hand, and five on the left, to wash in them, and to cleane in them that appertained to the burnt offerings, but the Sea was for the Priests to wash in.

7 And hee made ten Candlestickes of golde (according to their forme) and put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left.

8 And hee made ten tables, and put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left: and he made an hundred basins of gold.

9 And hee made the court of the Priestes, and the great court and doores for the court, and overlaid the doores thereof with brasie.

10 And hee set the sea on the right side Eastward toward the South.

11 And Huram made pots, and besoms, and basens, and Huram finished the worke that hee should make for king Salomon, for the house of God.

12 Two, two pillars, and the bowles, and the chapters on the toppe of the two pillars, and two grates to couer the two bowles of the chapters, which were vpon the top of the pillars:

13 And four hundred pomegranates for the two grates, two rowes of pomegranates for every grate, to couer the two bowles of the chapters that were vpon the pillars.

14 He made also bases, and made caldrons vpon the bases:

15 And a Sea, and twelue bulles vnder it:

16 Pots also, and besoms, and fleshhookes, and all these vessels made Huram his father to king Salomon for the house of the Lord, of shining brasie.

17 In the plaine of Iorden did the King cast them in clay betwene Succoth and Zeredathah.

18 And Salomon made all these vessels in great abundance: for the weight of brasie could not be reckoned.

19 And Salomon made all the vessels that were for the house of God: the golden Altar also, and the tables whereon the shewbread stood.

20 Moreover, the Candlestickes, with their lampes to burne them after the maner, before the oracle, of pure gold,

21 And the flowers, and the Lampes, and the snuffers of gold, which was fine gold.

22 And the fleshhookes, and the basens, and the spoones, and the althans of pure golde: the entry also of the house and doores thereof within, even of the most holy place: and the doores of the house, to wit, of the Temple, were of gold.

1 The things dedicated by David are put in the Temple. 2 The Ark is brought into the Temple. 3 What was within it. 4 They sing praise to the Lord.

So was all the worke finished that Salomon made for the house of the Lord, and Salomon brought 10, floures of lilies. d In the first booke of Kings, Chap. 7, is mention only made of two thousand, but the lesse number was taken there, and here according as the measures proceeded afterward, is declared. e Euen as they should be made.

f Called also the porch of Salomon, 1 Kin. 7, 12. It is whith taken for the Temple where Christ preached, Matt. 23, 23. 10, caldrons.

brought in the things that David his father had dedicated, with the filuer and the gold, and all the vessels, and put them among the treasures of the house of God.

2 Then Salomon assembled the Elders of Israel, and all the heads of the Tribes, the chiefe fathers of the children of Israel vnto Ierusalem, to bring vp the Arke of the couenant of the Lord from the citie of David, which is Zion.

3 And all the men of Israel assemled vnto the king at the ⁸ fast: it was in the seuenth^e moneth.

4 And all the Elders of Israel came, and the Leuites tooke vp the Arke.

5 And they caried vp the Arke and the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle, those did the Priests and Leuites bring vp.

6 And king Salomon and all the Congregation of Israel that were assemled vnto him, were before the Arke, offering sheepe and bullocks, which could not be told nor numbered for multitude.

7 So the Priests brought the Arke of the couenant of the Lord vnto his place, into the Oracle of the house, into the most holy place, ^{even} vnder the wings of the Cherubims.

8 For the Cherubims stretched out their wings ouer the place of the Arke, and the Cherubims couered the Arke and the barres thereof aboue.

9 And they drew out the barres, that the ends of the barres might be seene out of the Arke before the Oracle, but they were not seene // without: and there they are vnto this day.

10 Nothing was in the Arke, save ^{the} two Tables, which Moses gaue at Horeb, where the Lord made a couenant with the children of Israel when they came out of Egypt.

11 And when the Priests were come out of the Sanctuary (for all the Priests that were present, were sanctified, and did not wait by course.

12 And the Leuites the fingers of all sortes, of Asaph, of Heman, of Jeduthun, and of their sonnes and of their brethren being clad in fine linnen, stood with cymbals, and with viols, and harps at the East end of the altar, and with them an hundred and twenty Priests blowing with trumpets

13 And they were ^f as one, blowing trumpets, and singing, and made one found to be heard in praising and thanking the Lord, and when they lift vp ^{their} voyce with trumpets, and with cymbals, and with instruments of musike, and when they praised the Lord, ^{singing}, For he is good, because his mercie lasteth for ever) then the house, ^{even} the house of the Lord was filled with a cloud.

14 So that the Priests could not stand to minister, because of the cloud: for the glory of the Lord had filled the house of God.

CHAP. VI.

3 Salomon blesteth the people. 4 He prayeth for the people. 5 He prayeth vnto God for those that shall pray in the Temple.

Then^a Salomon^a said, The Lord hath said that he would dwell in the darke cloud.

2 And I have built thee an house to dwell in, an habitation for thee to dwell in for ever.

3 And the king turned his face, and blessed all the Congregation of Israel (for all the Congregation of Israel stood there)

4 And he said, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, who spake with his mouth vnto David my father, & hath with his hand fulfilled it, saying,

5 Since the day that I brought my people out of the land of Egypt, I chose no cite of all the tribes of Israel to build an house, that my Name might be there, neither chose I any man to be a ruler ouer my people Israel:

6 But I haue chosen Ierusalem, that my Name might be there, and haue chosen David to be ouer my people Israel.

7 And it was in the heart of David my father to build an house vnto the Name of the Lord God of Israel,

8 But the Lord sayd to David my father, Whereas it was in thine heart to build an house vnto my Name, thou diddest well that thou wast so minded,

9 Notwithstanding, thou shalt not build the house, but thy onne, which shall conecut thy loynes, he shall build an house vnto my Name.

10 And the Lord hath performed his word that he spake: and I am risen vp in the roume of David my father, and am set on the throne of Israel as the Lord promised, and haue built an house to the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

11 And I haue set the Arke there, wherein is the couenant of the Lord, that he made with the children of Israel.

12 And the king stood before the altar of the Lord, in the presence of all the Congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands,

13 (For Salomon had made a brazen scaffold, and set it in the mids of the court, of five cubites long, and five cubites broad, and three cubites of height, and vpon it he stood, and kneeled downe vpon his knees before all the Congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands toward heauen)

14 And said, O Lord God of Israel, there is no God like thee in heauen nor in earth, which keepeth couenant and mercie vnto thy seruants, that walke before thee with all their heart.

15 Thou that hast kept with thy seruant David my father, that thou hast promised him, for thou spakest with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thine hand, as appeareth this day.

16 Therefore now, Lord God of Israel, keepe with thy seruant David my father, that thou hast promised him, saying, Thou shalt not want a man in my fight, that shall sit vpon the throne of Israel, so that thy sonnes take heed to their waies, to walke in my Law, as thou hast walked before mee.

17 And now, O Lord God of Israel, let thy word be verified, which thou spakest vnto thy seruant David.

18 (Is it true in deede, that God will dwell with man on earth? behold, the heauens, and the heauens of heauens are not able to containe thee: how much more unable is this house which I haue built?)

19 But haue thou respect to the prayer of thy seruant, and to his supplication, O Lord my God, to heare the cry and prayer which thy seruant prayeth before thee,

20 That thine eyes may be open toward this house day and night, ^{even} towards the place, wherof thou hast said, that thou wouldest put thy Name there, that thou mayest hearken vnto the prayer, which thy seruant prayeth in this place.

CHAP. VII.

1 The first conference the ierusalem. 2 The glory of the Lord filled the temple. 3 The priests on prayer, 4 and proclamation to all men and to the throne.

And when Salomon had made an end of praying, a fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the burnt offering and the sacrifices: and the glory of the Lord filled the house,

2. So that the Priests could not enter into the house of the Lord, because the glory of the Lord had filled the Lords house.

3. And when all the children of Israel saw the fire, and the glory of the Lord come downe vpon the house, they bowed themselves with their faces to the earth vpon the pavement, and worshipped and praised the Lord, saying, For he is good, because his mercie lasteth for euer.

4. ¶ Then the king and all the people offered sacrifices before the Lord.

5. And king Solomon offered a sacrifice of two and twentie thousand bullocks, and an hundred and twentie thousand sheepe. So the king and all the people dedicated the house of God.

6. And the Priests waited on their offices, and the Leuites with the instruments of musick of the Lord, which king Dauid had made to praise the Lord, because his mercie lasteth for euer: when Dauid praised God by them, the Priests also blew trumpets ouer against them: and all they of Israel stood by.

7. Moreover, Salomon hallowed the middle of the court that was before the house of the Lord: for there he had prepared burnt offerings, and the farte of the peace offerings, because the brasen altar which Salomon had made, was not able to receiue the burnt offering, and the

8 And Salomon made a feast at that time of seuen dayes, and all Israel with him, a very great Congregation, from the entring in of Hamath, vnto the ruer of Egypt.

9 And in the eight day they c made a solemne assembly: for they had made the dedication of the altar seuen dayes, and the feast seuen dayes.

10 And the three and twentieth day of the seuenth month, he sent the people away into their tentes, ioyous and with glad heart, because of the goodnes that the Lord had done for Dauid and for Salomon, and for Israel his people.

11 So Salomon finished the house of the Lord, and the kings house, and all that came into Salo-mons heart to make in the house of the Lord: and he prospered in his house.

12 ¶ And the Lord a appeared to Salomon by night, and said to him, I haue heard thy prayer, and haue choien this place for my selfe to be an house of sacrifice.

13 If I shut the heauen that there be no raine, or if I commaund the grahopper to deuoure the land, or if I send pestilence among my people,

14 If my people, among whom my Name is called vpon, doe humble themselves, and pray and seeke my preface, and turne from their wicked wayes, then will I heare in heauen, and be mercifull to their sinne, and will e heale their land.

15 Then mine eyes shalbe open, and mine eares attent vnto the prayer made in this place.

16 For I haue now choien and sanctified this house, that my Name may be there for euer: and mine eyes and mine heart shall be there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before me, as Dauid thy father walked, to doe according vnto all that I haue commanded thee, and shalt obserue my statutes and my iudgements,

18 Then will I stablish the throne of thy kingdome, according as I made the couenant with Dauid thy father, saying, * Thou shalt not want a man to be ruler in Israel.

19 But if yee turne away, and for akemy statures and my commandments which I haue set before you, and shal go and serue other gods, and worship them,

20 Then will I plucke them vp out of my land, which I haue giuen them, and this house which I haue b sanctified for my Name, will I cast out of my sight, and will make it to be a prouerbe and a common talke among all people.

21 And this house which is most hie, shall be an astonishment to euery one that passeth by it, so that he shall say, Why hath the Lord done thus to this land and to this house?

22 And they shall answere, Because they forsooke the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, and haue taken holde on other gods, and haue worshipped them, and serued them, therefore hath he brought all this euill vpon them.

CHAP. VIII.

a The cities that Salomon built. b People that were made tributary vnto him. c His sacrifices. d He sendeth to O. ber.

AND a after twentie yeeres when Salomon had built the house of the Lord, and his owne house,

2 Then Salomon built the cities that Huram b gaue to Salomon, and caused the children of Israel to dwell there.

3 And Salomon went to Hamath Zobah, and ouercame it.

4 And he built Tadmor in the wildernes, and repaired all c the cities of store which he built in Hamath,

5 And he built d Beth-heron the vpper, and Beth-heron the nether, cities denienced with walles, gates and barres:

6 Also Baalath, and all the cities of store that Salomon had, and all the charret cities, and the cities of the horsemen, and euery pleasant place that Salomon had a minde to build in Ierusalem, and in e Lebanon, and throughout all the land of his dominion.

7 And all the people that were left of the Hittites, and the Amorites, and Perizzites, and the Hittites, and the Jebusites, which were not of Israel,

8 But of their children which were left after them in the Land, whom the children of Israel had not consumed, euen then did Salomon make tributaries vntill this day,

9 But of the children of Israel did Salomon make no seruants for his worke: for they were men of warre, and his chiefe princes and the captaines of his charrets and of his horsemen.

10 So these were the chiefe of the officers which Salomon had, euen two hundred and fiftie that bare rule ouer the people.

11 ¶ Then Salomon brought vp the daughter of Pharaoh out of the cite of Dauid, into the house that he had built for her: or he layd, my wife shall not dwell in the house of Dauid king of Israel: for it is holy, because that the Arke of the Lord came vnto it.

12 ¶ Then Salomon offered burnt offerings vnto the Lord, on the altar of the Lord, which he had built before the porch,

13 To keepe according to the commandment of Moises || euery day, in the Sabbaths, and in the new moones, and in the solemne reastes, three times in the yeere, that is, in the feast of the unleavened bread, and in the feast of the weekes, and in the feast of the Tabernacles.

14 And he set the courses of the Priests to their offices, according to the order of Dauid his father, and the Leuites in their watches, for to praise and minister before the Priests euery day, and the porters by their * courses, at euery gate:
for so was the commandment of Dauid the man of God.

15 And they declined not from the commandment of the king, concerning the Priests and the Leuites, touching all things, and touching the treasures.

16 ¶ Now Salomon had made prouision for all the b worke, from the day of the foundation of the house of the Lord, vntill it was finished: so the house of the Lord was perite.

17 Then went Salomon to Ezion-geber, and to Elath by the i Sea side in the land of Edom.

18 And Huram sent him by the hands of his seruants, ships and seruants that had knowledge of the sea: and they went with the seruants of Salomon to Ophir, and brought thence c foure hundredth and fiftie talents of gold, and brought them to king Salomon.

And * when the Queene of Sheba heard of the fame of Salomon, she came to a proue Salomon with hard questions at Ierusalem, with a very great traine. and came that bare sweet odours, and much gold, and precious stones: and when she came to Salomon, she communed with him of all that was in her heart.

2 And Salomon declared her all her questions, and there was nothing hid from Salomon, which he declared not vnto her.

3 Then the Queene of Sheba sawe the wisdom of Salomon, and the house that hee had built,

4 And the meate of his table, and the sitting of his seruants, and the order of his waiters, and their apparell, and his butlers, and their apparell, and his burnt offerings which hee offered in the house of the Lord, and she was greatly astonished.

5 And she said to the king, It was a true word which I heard in mine owne land of thy sayings, and of thy wisdom:

6 Howbeit I beleued not their report, vntill I came, and mine eyes had seene it: and behold, the one halfe of thy great wisdom was not told me: for thou exceedest the fame that I heard.

7 Happy are thy men, and happy are these thy seruants, which stand before thee alway, and heare thy wisdom.

8 Blessed be the Lord thy God, which loued thee, to set thee on his throne as King, in the stead of the Lord thy God: because thy God loueth Israel, to establish it for euer, therefore hath he made thee king ouer them, to execute iudgement and iustice.

9 Then she gaue the king sixe score talents of gold, and of sweet odours exceeding much, and precious stones: neither was there such sweet odours since, as the Queene of Sheba gaue vnto king Salomon.

10 And the seruants also of Huram, and the seruants of Salomon which brought golde from Ophir, brought Algummim wood and precious stones.

11 And the king made of the Algummim wood stayres in the house of the Lord, and in the Kings house, and harpes and viols for singers: and there was no such scene before in the land of Iudah.

12 And king Salomon gaue to the Queene of Sheba euery pleasant thing that she asked, besides for that which shee had brought vnto the king: so she returned and went to her own country, both she and her seruants.

13 ¶ Also the weight of gold that came to Salomon in one yeere, was sixe hundred threecore and sixe talents of golde, 14 Besides that which chapmen and merchants brought: and all the kings of Arabia, and the princes of the country brought gold and siluer to Salomon.

15 And king Salomon made two hundred targets of beaten gold, and sixe hundred shekels of beaten golde went to one target.

16 And three hundred shields of beaten gold: three hundred shekels of golde went to one shield, and the king put them in the house of the wood of Lebanon.

17 And the king made a great throne of yorie, and overlaid it with pure golde.

18 And the throne had sixe steps, with a footstool of gold: fastened to the throne, and stayes on either side on the place of the seate, and two lyons standing by the stayes.

19 And twelue lyons stood there on the sixe steps on either side: there was not the like made in any kingdom.

20 And all king Salomons drinking vessels were of golde, and all the vessels of the house of the wood of Lebanon were of pure golde: for siluer was nothing esteemed in the dayes of Salomon.

21 For the kings ships went to Tarshish with the seruants of Huram, euery three yeere once came the ships of Tarshish, and brought golde, and siluer, yorie, and apes, and peacocks.

22 So king Salomon excelled all the kings of the earth in riches and wisdom:

23 And all the Kings of the earth sought the preience of Salomon, to heare his wisdom that God had put in his heart.

24 And they brought euery man his present, vessels of siluer, and vessels of gold, and rament, armour, and sweet odours, horses and mules, from yeere to yeere.

25 And Salomon had foure thousand stables of horses, and charrets, and twelue thousand horsemen, whom he bestowed in the charret cities, and with the king at Ierusalem.

26 And he reigned ouer all the kings from the River euen vnto the land of the Philistims, and to the border of Egypt.

27 And the king gaue siluer in Ierusalem, as stones, and gaue cedar trees as the wilde figgers, that are abundant in the plaine.

28 And they brought vnto Salomon horses out of Egypt, and out of all lands.

29 Concerning the rest of the actes of Salomon first and last, are they not written in the booke of Nathan the Prophet, and in the prophesie of Ahiah the Shilonite, and in the visions of Iseido the Seer against Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat?

30 And Salomon reigned in Ierusalem ouer all Israel fourtie yeeres.

31 And Salomon slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the cite of Dauid his father: and Rehoboam his sonne reigned in his stead.

Then * Rehoboam went to Shechem: for so Shechem came all Israel to make him king.

2 And when Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat heard it (which was in Egypt, whither he had fled from the preience of Salomon the king) he returned out of Egypt.

3 And they sent and called him: so came Ieroboam and all Israel, and communed with Rehoboam, saying,

4 Thy father made our yoke grievous: now therefore make thou the grievous seruitude of thy father, and his sore yoke that he put vpon vs, lighter, and we will serue thee.

5 And he said to them, Depart yet three daies, then come againe vnto mee. And the people departed.

the olde man that had stood before Salomon his father, while hee yet liued, saying, What counsell giue ye, that I may answer to this people?

7 And they spake vnto him, saying, If thou be kinde to this people, and please them, and please louing wordes to them, they will be thy seruants for euer.

8 But he left the counsell of the ancient men that they had giuen him, and tooke counsell of the young men that were brought vp with him, and waited on him.

9 And he said vnto them, What counsell giue ye, that we may answer to this people which haue spoken to mee, saying, Make the yoke which thy father did put vpon vs, lighter?

10 And the young men that were brought vp with him, spake vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answer the people that spake to thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heauy, but make thou it lighter for vs: thus shalt thou say vnto them, My least part shall be bigger then my fathers loynes.

11 Now whereas my father did burden you with a grievous yoke, I will yet increase your yoke: my father hath chastised you with rods, but I will correct you with scourges.

12 ¶ Then Ieroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam the third day, as the king had appointed, saying, Come againe to me the third day.

13 And the king answered them sharply: and king Rehoboam left the counsell of the ancient men,

14 And spake to them after the counsell of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke grievous, but I will increase it: my father chastised you with rodde, but I will correct you with scourges.

15 So the king hearkened not vnto the people: for it was the ordinance of God, that the Lord might performe his saying, which he had spoken by Abijah the Shilonite to Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat.

16 So when all Israel saw that the king would not heare them, the people answered the king, saying, What portion haue we in Dauid? for we haue none inheritance in the sonne of Ithai. O Israel, euery man to your tents: now see to thine owne house, Dauid. So all Israel departed to their tents.

17 Howbeit Rehoboam reigned ouer the children of Israel that dwelt in the cities of Iudah.

18 Then King Rehoboam sent Hadoraim that was ouer the tribute, and the children of Israel stoned him with stones that hee died: then king Rehoboam made speed to get him vp to his chariot, to flee to Ierusalem.

19 And Israel rebelled against the house of Dauid vnto this day.

CHAP. XI.

¶ Rehoboam is forbidden to fight against Ieroboam. 5 Cities which hee built. 12 Hee hath eigheteen wiues, and therefore conuincit, and by them eight and twenty sonnes, and therefore daughter.

¶ And when Rehoboam was come to Ierusalem, hee gathered of the house of Iudah and Benjamin nine core thousand chosen men of war to fight against Israel, and to bring the kingdom againe to Rehoboam.

2 But the word of the Lord came to Shemaiah the man of God, saying,

3 Speake vnto Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon king of Iudah, and to all Israel that are in

Iudah, and Benjamin, saying,

4 Thus saith the Lord, Ye shall not go vp nor fight against your bretheren: returne euery man to his house: for this thing is done of mee. They obeyed therefore the word of the Lord, and returned from going against Ieroboam.

5 And Rehoboam dwelt in Ierusalem, and built strong cities in Iudah.

6 Hee built also Beth-lehem, and Etam, and Tekoa,

7 And Beth-zur, and Shoco, and Adullam,

8 And Gath, and Marehah, and Ziph,

9 And Adoraim, and Iachish, and Azekah,

10 And Zorah, and Aialon, & Hebron, which were in Iudah and Benjamin, strong cities.

11 And he repaired the strong holds, and put captaines in them, and store of vitaille, and oyle, and wine.

12 And in all cities he put shields and speares, and made them exceeding strong: so Iudah and Benjamin were his.

13 ¶ And the Priests and the Leuites that were in all Israel, returned vnto him out of all their coasts.

14 For the Leuites left their suburbs and their possession, and came to Iudah and to Ierusalem: for Ieroboam and his sonnes had cast them out from ministring in the Priests office vnto the Lord.

15 ¶ And he ordained him Priests for the high places, and for the deuils & for the calves which he had made.

16 And after the Leuites there came to Ierusalem of all the tribes of Israel, such as sct their hearts to seeke the Lord God of Israel, to offer vnto the Lord God of their fathers.

17 So they strengthened the kingdome of Iudah, and made Rehoboam the sonne of Solomon mighty, three yeere long: for three yeere they walked in the way of Dauid and Salomon.

18 ¶ And Rehoboam tooke him Malahath the daughter of Terimoth the sonne of Dauid to wite, and Abihail the daughter of Eliab the sonne of Ithai, 19 Which bare him sonnes, Ieush, and Shemaiah, and Zahan.

20 And after her he tooke Maakah the daughter of Abisalom, which bare him Abijah, and Athai, and Ziza, and Shelomith.

21 And Rehoboam loued Maakah the daughter of Abisalom above all his wiues and his concubines: for hee took eigheteen wiues and threefore concubines, and begate eight and twentie sonnes, and threefore daughters.

22 And Rehoboam made Abijah the sonne of Maakah the chiefe ruler among his bretheren: for hee thought to make him king.

23 And hee taught him: and dispersed all his sonnes thorowout all the countries of Iudah and Benjamin vnto euery strong citie: and hee gaue them abundance of vitaille, and desired many wiues.

* 1 King. 15. 8.

So * Abiah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the cite of Dauid, and Afa his son reigned in his stead: in whose dayes the land was quiet ten yeeres.

2 And Afa did that was good and right in the eyes of the Lord his God.

3 For he tooke away the altars of the strange gods, and the hie places, and brake downe the images, and cut downe the † groves,

4 And commanded Iudah to seeke the Lord God of their fathers, and to doe according to the Law and the commandement.

5 And hee tooke away out of all the cities of Iudah the hie places, and the images: therefore the kingdome was † quiet before him.

6 He built also strong cities in Iudah, because the land was in rest, and he had no warre in those yeeres: for the Lord had giuen him rest.

7 Therefore hee said to Iudah, Let vs build these cities, and make walles about, and towers, gates, and barres, while the land is † before vs: because wee haue fought the Lord our God, wee haue fought him, and he hath giuen vs rest on euerie side: so they built and prospered.

8 And Afa had an armie of Iudah that bare shields and speares, three hundred thousand, and of Benjamin that bare shields and drew bowes, two hundred and fourescore thousand: all these were valiant men.

9 ¶ And there came out against them Zerah of Ethiopia, with an host of ten hundred thousand, and three hundred chariots, and came vnto Marehah.

10 Then Afa went out before him, and they set the battell in array in the valley of Zephathah, beside Marehah.

11 And Afa cried vnto the Lord his God, and said, Lord, * it is nothing with thee to helpe † with many, or with no power: helpe vs, O Lord our God: for wee rest on thee, and in thy Name are wee come against this multitude: O Lord, thou art our God, † let not man preuaile against thee.

12 ¶ So the Lord smote the Ethiopians before Afa and before Iudah, and the Ethiopians fled.

13 And Afa and the people that was with him, pursued them vnto Gerar. And the Ethiopians host was ouerthrowen, so that there was no life in them: for they were destroyed before the Lord and before his host: and they caried away a mightie great spoile.

14 And they smote all the cities round about Gerar: for the † feare of the Lord came vpon them, and they spoiled all the cities, for there was exceeding much spoile in them.

15 Yea, and they smote the tents of cattell, and caried away plentie of sheepe and camels, and returned to Ierusalem.

CHAP. XV.

1 The exhortation of Aazarah. 8 Afa purgeth his country of idolatry. 11 He sacrificeth with the people. 14 They sweare together to serue the Lord. 16 He disposeth his mother for her idolatry.

Then the Spirit of God came vpon * Aazarah the sonne of Obed;

2 And he went out to meet Afa, and said vnto him, O Afa, and all Iudah, and Benjamin, heare ye me. The Lord † with you, while ye be with him: and if ye seeke him, he will be found of you, but if ye forsake him, he will forsake you.

3 Nowe for a long season Israel hath bene without the true God, and without Priest to teach, and without law.

4 But † whosoever returned in his affliction to the Lord God of Israel, and fought him, he † was found of them.

5 And in that time there was no peace to him, that did goe out and goe in: but great troubles were to all the inhabitants of the earth.

6 For nation was destroyed of nation, and cite of cite: for God troubled them with all aduersitie.

7 Bee yee strong therefore, and let not your hands bee weake: for your † worke shall haue a reward.

8 ¶ And when Afa heard these words, and the prophetic of Obed the Prophet, he was encouraged, and tooke away the abominations out of all the land of Iudah, and Benjamin, and out of the cities which he had taken of mount Ephraim, and he renewed the altar of the Lord, that was before the porch of the Lord.

9 And hee gathered all Iudah and Benjamin, and the strangers with them out of Ephraim, and Manasseh, and out of Simcon: for there fell many to him out of Israel, when they saw that the Lord his God was with him.

10 So they assembled to Ierusalem in the third month, in the fifteenth yeere of the reigne of Afa.

11 And they offered vnto the Lord the same time of the † spoile, which they had brought, even seven hundred bullockes, and seven thou and sheepe.

12 And they made a covenant to seeke the Lord God of their fathers, with all their heart, and with all their soule.

13 And † whosoever will not seeke the Lord God of Israel, shall be slaine, whether he were small or great, man or woman.

14 And they sware vnto the Lord with a loud voyce, and with shouting, and with trumpets, and with cornets.

15 And all Iudah reioyced at the oath: for they had sworne vnto the Lord with all their heart, and fought him with a weole desire, and he was found of them. And the Lord gaue them rest round about.

16 ¶ And King Afa disposed * Maachah his mother from her regencie, because she had made an idole in a groue: and Afa brake downe her idole and stamped it, and burnt it at the brooke Kidron.

a Aſa for feare of Baſha king of Iſrael, maketh a covenant with Ben hadad king of Aram. 7 Hee is reprooched by the Prophet, to Whom he putteth his prayer. 12 He putteth his trust in the Phyſicians. 13 Hee dieth.

IN the fixe and thirtieth yeere of the reigne of Aſa, came a * Baſha king of Iſrael vp againſt Iudah, and built ^b Ramah, to let none paſſe out or goe in to Aſa King of Iudah.

2 Then Aſa brought out ſilver and gold out of the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord, and of the Kings houſe, and ſent to Ben-hadad king of Aram that dwelt at ^c Damafcus, ſaying,

3 There is a covenant betweene me and thee, and betweene my father and thy father: behold, I have ſent thee ſilver and gold: come, & breake thy league with Baſha king of Iſrael, that he may depart from mee.

4 And Ben-hadad hearkened vnto King Aſa, and ſent the captains of the armies which he had, againſt the cities of Iſrael. And they ſmote Iion, and Dan, and Abel-maim, and all the ſtore-cities of Naphtali.

5 And when Baſha heard it, he left building of Ramah, and let his worke ceaſe.

6 Then Aſa the king tooke all Iudah, and carried away the ſtones of Ramah, and the timber thereof, wherewith Baſha did build, and he built therewith Geba and Mirzaph.

7 ¶ And at that time came Hanani the ſeer came to Aſa King of Iudah, and ſaid vnto him, Becauſe thou haſt reſted vpon the king of Aram, and not reſted in the Lord thy God, therefore is the hoſt of the king of Aram eſcaped out of thine hand.

8 ¶ The Ethiopians and the Lubims, were they not a great hoſte with charrets and horſemen, exceeding many? yet becauſe thou diſdeſt reſt vpon the Lord, he deliuered them into thine hand.

9 ¶ For the eyes of the Lord behold all the earth to ſhew himſelfe ſtrong with them that are of perſe heart toward him: thou haſt then done fooliſhly in this, therefore from henceforth thou ſhalt haue warres.

10 Then Aſa was wroth with the ſeer, and put him into a ^d priſon: for he was ^d diſpleaſed with him, becauſe of this thing. And Aſa oppreſſed cer- taine of the people at the ſame time.

11 And behold, the actes of Aſa firſt and laſt, loe, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah and Iſrael.

12 ¶ And Aſa in the nine and thirtieth yeere of his reigne was ^e diſeaſed in his feet, and his diſeaſe was ^e extreme: yet he ſought not the Lord in his diſeaſe, but to the phyſicians.

13 So Aſa ſlept with his fathers, and died in the one and fortieth yeere of his reigne.

14 And they buried him in one of his epulchres, which he had made for himſelfe in the cite of David, and layed him in the bed, which they had filled with ſweete odours and diuers kindes of ſpices made by the art of the Apothecary: and they burnt odours for him with an exceeding great fire.

CHAP. XVII.

5 Iehoshaphat truſting in the Lord, proſpereth in riches and honour. 6 He abolith idolatry. 7 And conſeſt the people to be taught. 11 Hee receiueſt tributes of ſtrangers. 13 His monuments, and men of warre.

2 And he put garſons in all the ſtrong cities of Iudah, and ſet bands in the land of Iudah and in the cities of Ephraim, which Aſa his father had taken.

3 And the Lord was with Iehoshaphat, becauſe he walked in the ſt wayes of his father David, and fought not ^b Baalim,

4 But fought the Lord God of his father, and walked in his commandements, and not after the ^c trade of Iſrael.

5 Therefore the Lord ſtabliſhed the kingdome in his hand, and all Iudah brought preſents to Iehoshaphat, ſo that hee had of riches and honour in abundance.

6 And hee liſt vp his heart vnto the wayes of the Lord, and he tooke away moreouer the high places and the grooues out of Iudah.

7 ¶ And in the third yeere of his reigne hee ſent his princes, Ben-hail, and Obadiah, and Zechariah, and Nethanel, and Michaiah, that they ſhould ^d teach in the cities of Iudah,

8 And with them Leuites, Shemaiah, and Nethaniah, and Zebediah, and Aſabel, and Shemiramoth, and Iehonathan, and Adoniah, and Tobiah, and Tob-adoniah, Leuites, and with them Eliſhama and Iehoram Priests.

9 And they taught in Iudah, and had the booke of the Law of the Lord with them, and went about thorowout all the cities of Iudah, and taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Lord fell vpon all the kingdome of the lands that were round about Iudah, and they ^e fought not againſt Iehoshaphat.

11 And ſome of the Philiftines brought Iehoshaphat gifts and tribute ſilver, and the Arabians brought him ſlocks, ſeuē thouſand and ſeuē hundred rammes, and ſeuē thouſand and ſeuē hundred hee goats.

12 So Iehoshaphat proſpered and grewe vp on high: and he built in Iudah palaces and cities of ſtore.

13 And hee had great workes in the cities of Iudah, and men of warre, and valiant men in Ieruſalem.

14 And theſe are the numbers of them after the houſe of their fathers. In Iudah were captaines of thouſands, Adnah the captaine, and ^f with him of valiant men three hundred thouſand.

15 And ^g at his hand Iehohanan a captaine, and with him two hundred and foureſcore thouſand.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Iehophaphat maketh affinitie with Ahab. 10 Four hundred ſixty Prophets comfelle Ahab to goe to Ramoth. 16 Michahab is gauged him. 21 Zadok ſmelleth him. 25 The king ſetteth him in priſon. 30 The ſpirit of his prophetic.

And * Iehophaphat had riches and honour in abundance, but he was ioynd in ^a affinitie with Ahab.

2 And after certaine ^b yeeres he went downe to Ahab to Samaria: and Ahab ſlew ſheepe and oxen for him in great number, and for the people that he had with him, and enticed him to goe vp vnto Ramoth Gilead.

3 And Ahab king of Iſrael ſayd vnto Iehophaphat king of Iudah, wilt thou goe with me to Ramoth Gilead? And he answered him, I am as thou art, and my people as thy people, and we will ioyne with thee in the warre.

4 And Iehophaphat ſayd vnto the king of Iſrael, Aſke counſell, I pray thee, at the ^d word of the Lord this day.

5 Therefore the king of Iſrael gathered of ^e Prophets foure hundred men, and ſayde vnto them, Shall we goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell or ſhall I ceaſe? And they ſayd, Goe vp: for God ſhall deliuer it into the kings hand.

6 But Iehophaphat ſaid, Is there here neuer a Prophet more of the Lord that we might inquire of him?

7 And the king of Iſrael ſayd vnto Iehophaphat, There is yete one man, by whom we may aſke counſell of the Lord, but I ^f hate him: for he doth not prophetic good vnto me, but alway euill: it is Michaijah the ſonne of Imla. Then Iehophaphat ſaid, Let not the king ſay ſo.

8 And the king of Iſrael called an eunuch, & ſaid, Call quickly Michaijah the ſonne of Imla.

9 ¶ And the king of Iſrael and Iehophaphat King of Iudah ſate either of them on his throne clothed in ^g their apparell: they fate euen in the ſhreffing floore at the entering in of the gate of Samaria: and all the Prophets prophetic before them.

10 And Zidkiah the ſon of Chenaanah made him ^h hornes of yron, and ſaide, Thus ſaith the Lord, With theſe ſhalt thou puſh the Aramites vntill thou haſt conſumed them.

11 And all the Prophets prophetic ſo ſaying, Goe vp to Ramoth Gilead, and proſper: for the Lord ſhall deliuer it into the hand of the king.

12 ¶ And the Meſſenger that went to call Michaijah, ſpake to him, ſaying, Behold, the words of the Prophets declare good to the king with one ⁱ accord: let thy word therefore, I pray thee, bee like one of theirs, and ſpeake thou good.

13 And Michaijah ſaide, as the Lord liueth, whatſoeuer my God ſaith, that will I ſpeake.

14 ¶ So he came to the King, and the King ſayd vnto him, Michaijah, ſhall we goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or ſhall I leaue off? And he ſaid, I Goe ye vp, and proſper, and they ſhall be deliue-red into your hand.

15 And the King ſaid vnto him, How oft ſhall I charge thee, that thou tell mee nothing but the truth in the Name of the Lord?

16 Then he ſaid, I ſaw all Iſrael ſcattered in the mountaines, as ſheepe that haue no ſhepherd: and the Lord ſaid, ^m In theſe haue no matter: let them returne euery man to his houſe in peace.

17 And the king of Iſrael ſaid to Iehophaphat, Did I not tell thee, that he would not prophetic good vnto me, but euill?

18 Again he ſaid, Therefore heare ye the word of the Lord: I ſawe the Lord ſit vpon his throne, and all the ⁿ hoſte of heauen ſtanding at his right hand, and at his left.

19 And the Lord ſaide, Who ſhall ^o perſwade Ahab king of Iſrael, that he may goe vp, and fall at Ramoth Gilead? and one ſpake and ſaid thus, and another ſaid that.

20 Then there came forth a ſpirit and ſtood before the Lord, and ſaide, I will perſwade him. And the Lord ſaid vnto him, Wherein?

21 And he ſaide, I will goe out and be a falſe ſpirit in the mouth of all his Prophets. And ^p hee ſaid, Thou ſhalt perſwade, and ſhalt alſo preuaile: goe forth, and doe ſo.

22 Now therefore behold, the Lord hath put ^q a falſe ſpirit in the mouth of theſe thy Prophets, and the Lord hath determind euill againſt thee.

23 Then Zidkiah the ſonne of Chenaanah came neere and ſmote Michaijah vpon the ^r cheekes, and ſaid, By what way went the Spirit of the Lord from me, to ſpeake with thee?

24 And Michaijah ſaid, Behold, thou ſhalt ſee that day when thou ſhalt goe from chamber to chamber to hide thee.

25 And the king of Iſrael ſaid, Take yee Michaijah, and carie him to Amon the gouernour of the cite, and to Ioſh the kings ſonne.

26 And ſaye, Thus ſaith the king, Put this man in the priſon houſe, and feede him with bread of ^s affliction, and with water of affliction vntill I returne in peace.

27 And Michaijah ſaid, If thou returne in peace, the Lord hath not ſpoken by mee. And ^t he ſaid, Heare all ye people.

28 So the king of Iſrael, and Iehophaphat the king of Iudah went to Ramoth Gilead.

29 And the king of Iſrael ſayd vnto Iehophaphat, I will ^u change my ſelfe, and enter into the battell: but put thou on thine apparell. So the king of Iſrael changed himſelfe, and they went into the battell.

30 And the king of Aram had commanded the captaines of the charrets that were with him, ſaying, Fight you not with ſmall nor great, but againſt the king of Iſrael onely.

31 And when the captaines of the charrets ſaw Iehophaphat, they ſaid, It is the king of Iſrael, and they compaſſed about him to fight. But Iehophaphat cried, and the Lord helped him, and mooued them ^v to depart from him.

32 For when the captaines of the charrets ſaw that hee was not the king of Iſrael, they turned backe from him.

33 Then a certaine man drew a bowe mightily, and ſmote the king of Iſrael betweene the ioynts ^w of his brigandine: Therefore hee ſaid to his charretman, Turne thine hand, and cary me out of the hoſte: for I am hurt.

CHAP. XIX.

4 After Iehoshaphat was returned by the Prophet, he called againe the people to the burning of the Lord, & the apostates judges and ministers, & exhorted them to feare God.

And Iehoshaphat the King of Iudah returned safe to his house in Ierusalem.

2 And Iehu the sonne of Hanani the Seer went out to meete him, and said to king Iehoshaphat, a Wouldst thou helpe the wicked, and loue them that hate the Lord? therefore for this thing the wrath of the Lord is vpon thee.

3 Neuertheless good things are found in thee, because thou hast taken away ^a groves out of the land, and hast prepared thine heart to seeke God.

4 ¶ So Iehoshaphat dwelt at Ierusalem, and returned and went ^b through the people from Beer-sheba to mount Ephraim, and brought them againe vnto the Lord God of their fathers.

5 And kee set iudges in the land throughout all the strong cities of Iudah, citie by citie.

6 And said to the iudges, Take heede what yee doe: for yee execute not the iudgements of man, but of the Lord, and he will be ^c with you in the cause and iudgement.

7 Wherefore now let the feare of the Lord be vpon you: take heede and doe it: for there is no ^d iniquity with the Lord our God, neither ^e respect of persons, nor receiving of reward.

8 Moreover in Ierusalem did Iehoshaphat set of the Leuites, and of the Priests and of the chiefe of the families of Israel, for the iudgment & cause of the Lord, and they returned to Ierusalem.

9 And he charged them, saying, Thus shall yee doe in the feare of the Lord faithfully and with a perfect heart.

10 And in euery cause that shall come to you of your brethren that dwell in their cities, betwene ^f blood and blood betwene law and precept, statutes and iudgements, ^g ye shall iudge them and admonish them that they trespass not against the Lord, that ^h wrath come not vpon you and vpon your brethren. Thus shall yee do and trespasse not.

11 And behold, ⁱ Amariah the Priest shall bee the chiefe ouer you in all matters of the Lord, and Zebadiah the sonne of Ishmael, a ruler of the house of Iudah, shall be for all the ^k Kings affaires, and the Leuites shall be officers ^l before you. Be of courage, and doe it, and the Lord shall bee with the ^m good.

12 ⁿ Shall be chiefe ouerser of the publick affaires of the Realme. 1 They shall haue the handling of inferior causes. 2 God will assist them that doe iustice.

CHAP. XX.

3 Iehoshaphat and the people pray vnto the Lord. 22 The maruillous victory that the Lord gaue him against his enemies. 30 His reigne and ailes.

After this also came the children of Moab & the children of Ammon, & with them of the Ammonites against Iehoshaphat to battell.

2 Then there came that tolde Iehoshaphat, saying, There cometh a great multitude against thee from beyond the Sea, out of Aram: and behold, they be in Hazzon Tamar, which is Engedi.

3 And Iehoshaphat feared, and set himselfe to seeke the Lord, & proclaimed a fast throughout all Iudah.

4 And Iudah gathered themselues together to aske counsell of the Lord: they came euen out of all the cities of Iudah to inquire of the Lord.

5 And Iehoshaphat stood in the Congregation of Iudah and Ierusalem in the house of the Lord before the new court.

6 And sayd, O Lord God of our fathers, art not thou God in heauen? and reigne not thou on all the kingdomes of the heathen? and in thine hand is power and might, and none is able to withstand thee.

7 Diddest not thou our God cast out the inhabitants of this land before thy people Israel, and ^a gauest it to the seed of Abraham thy friend for euer?

8 And they dwelt therein, and haue built thee a Sanctuary therein for thy Name, saying,

9 ^b If euill come vpon vs, as the sword of iudgement, or pestilence, or famine: we will stand before this house & in thy preface (for thy name is in this house) and will cry vnto thee in our tribulation, and thou wilt heare and helpe.

10 And now, behold, the children of ^c Ammon and Moab, and Monst Seir, by whom thou wouldest not let Israel goe, when they came out of the land of Egypt: but they turned aside from them, and destroyed them not:

11 Behold, I say, they reward vs, in coming to cast vs out of thine inheritance, which thou hast caused vs to inherit.

12 O our God, wilt thou not iudge them? for there is no strength in vs to stand before this great multitude that cometh against vs, neither doe we know what to doe: but our eyes are toward thee.

13 And all Iudah stood ^d before the Lord with their yong ones, their wiues, and their children.

14 And Iahaziel the sonne of Zechariah, the sonne of Benaiah, the sonne of Icziel, the sonne of Mattaniah, a Leuite of the sonnes of Asaph, was there, vpon whom came the Spirit of the Lord, in the middes of the Congregation.

15 And he said, Hearken ye all Iudah, and yee inhabitants of Ierusalem, and thou, King Iehoshaphat: thus saith the Lord vnto you, Feare you not, neither be afraid for this great multitude: for the ^e battell is not yours, but Gods.

16 To morrow goe yee downe against them: behold, they come vp by the clift of Ziz, and yee shall find them at the end of the brooke before the wildernesse of Ieruel.

17 Yee shall not neede to fight in this battell: ^f stand still, mooue not, and behold the ^g saluation of the Lord towards you: O Iudah, and Ierusalem, feare yee not, neither be afraid: to morrow goe out against them, and the Lord will bee with you.

18 ¶ Then Iehoshaphat bowed downe with his face to the earth, and all Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem fell downe before the Lord, worshipping the Lord.

19 And the Leuites of the children of the Korahites, & of the children of the Corbites stood vp to praise the Lord God of Israel with a lowd voyce on high.

20 And when they arose early in the morning, they went forth to the wildernesse of Tekoa: and as they departed, Iehoshaphat stood and said,

This declareth what the feare of the godly is, which is as a prick to stirre them to prayer, and to depend on the Lord whereas it mooueth the wicked either to wickedness or to policy means and policies, or els to fall into dispute.

d Hee groundeth his prayer vpon Gods power, whereby he is able to helpe, and also in his mercy, which he will continue toward his, forasmuch as hee hath once chosen them and begun to shew his graces toward them.

Heare ye mee, O Iudah, and ye inhabitants of Ierusalem: put your trust in the Lord your God, and ye shall be assured: beleue his Prophets, and ye shall prosper.

21 And when hee had consulted with the people, and appointed fingers vnto the Lord, and them that should praise him that is in the beautiful Sanctuary, in going forth before the men of armes, and saying, ²² Praise ye the Lord, for his mercie lasteth for euer, 22 And when they began to shoute, and to praise, the Lord layd ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab, and mount Seir, which were come against Iudah, and they slew one another.

23 For the children of Ammon and Moab rose against the inhabitants of mount Seir, to slay and to destroy them; and when they had made an end of the inhabitants of Seir, every one helped to destroy another.

24 And when Iudah came toward Mizpah in the wilderness, they looked vnto the multitude: and behold, the carkeles were fallen to the earth, and none escaped.

25 And when Iehoshaphat and his people came to take away the spoile of them, they found among them in abundance both of substance and also of bodies laden with precious iewels, which they tooke for themselves, till they could carry no more: they were three dayes in gathering of the spoile: for it was much.

26 And in the fourth day they assembled themselves in the valley of Berachah: for there they blessed the Lord: therefore they called the name of that place, The valley of Berachah vnto this day.

27 Then every man of Iudah and Ierusalem, returned with Iehoshaphat their head to goe againe to Ierusalem with ioy: for the Lord had made them to reioyce over their enemies.

28 And they came to Ierusalem with viols and with harpes, and with Trumpets, ²⁹ then vnto the house of the Lord.

29 And the feare of God was vpon all the kingdomes of the earth, when they had heard that the Lord had fought against the enemies of Irael.

30 So the kingdom of Iehoshaphat was quiet, and his God gaue him rest on euery side.

31 ¶ And Iehoshaphat reigned ouer Iudah, and was five and thirtie yeeres old, when he began to reigne: and reigned five and twenty yeres in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Azubah the daughter of Shilhi.

32 And hee walked in the way of Asa his father, and departed not therefrom, doing that which was right in the sight of the Lord.

33 Howbeit the his places were not taken away: for the people had not yet prepared their hearts vnto the God of their fathers.

34 Concerning the rest of the acts of Iehoshaphat first and last, behold, they are written in the booke of Iehu the sonne of Hanani, which is mentioned in the booke of the Kings of Irael.

35 ¶ Yet after this did Iehoshaphat King of Iudah ioyne himselfe with Ahaziah King of Irael, who was giuen to doe euil.

36 And he ioynd with him, to make ships to goe to Tarshish: and they made the ships in Ezion Gaber.

37 Then Eliezer the sonne of Doduah of Ma-reshah prophesied against Iehoshaphat, saying, Because thou hast ioynd thy selfe with Ahaziah, the Lord hath broken thy workes: and the ships were broken, that they were not able to goe to Tarshish.

C H A P. XXI.

1 Iehoshaphat died. 3 Iehoram succceeded him, 4 which killed his brethren. 6 He was brought to idolatrie, 11 and seduced the people. 16 He is opposed of the Philistines. 18 His craftie end.

Iehoshaphat then slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the cite of Dauid: and Iehoram his sonne reigned in his stead.

2 And he had brethren the sonnes of Iehoshaphat, Azariah, and Iehiel, and Zechariah, and Azariah, and Michael, and Shephatiah. All these were the sonnes of Iehoshaphat King of Irael.

3 And their fathers gaue them great gifts of siluer and of gold, and of precious stones, with strong cities in Iudah, but the kingdom gaue he to Iehoram: for he was the eldest.

4 ¶ And Iehoram rose vp vpon the kingdom of his father, and made himselfe strong, and slew all his brethren with the sword, and also of the Princes of Irael.

5 Iehoram was two and thirtie yeere olde, when hee began to reigne, and hee reigned eight yeeres in Ierualem.

6 And hee walked in the way of the Kings of Irael, as the house of Ahab had done: for he had the daughter of Ahab to wife, and hee wrought euill in the eyes of the Lord.

7 Howbeit the Lord would not destroy the house of Dauid, because of the covenant that hee had made with Dauid, and because hee had promised to giue a light to him, and to his sonnes for euer.

8 ¶ In his dayes Edom rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah, and made a King ouer them.

9 And Iehoram went forth with his princes, and all his charers with him: and hee rose vp by night, and smote Edom, which had compassed him in, and the captaynes of the charers.

10 But Edom rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah vnto this day. Then did Libnah rebell at the same time from vnder his hand, because hee had forsaken the Lord God of his fathers.

11 ¶ Moreover hee made high places in the mountaynes of Iudah, and caused the inhabitants of Ierusalem to commit fornication, and compelled Iudah thereto.

12 And there came a writing to him from God Elijah the Prophet, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, Because thou hast not walked in the wayes of Iehoshaphat thy father, nor in the wayes of Asa King of Iudah, 13 But hast walked in the way of the Kings of Irael, and hast made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to goe a whoring, as the house of Ahab went a whoring, and hast also slaine thy brethren of thy fathers house, which were better then thou.

14 Behold, with a great plague will the Lord smite thy people, and thy children, and thy wiues and all thy substance.

15 And thou shalt bee in great diseases in the disease of thy bowels, vntill thy bowels fall out for the disease, day by day.

16 ¶ So the Lord stuned vp against Iehoram the spirit of the Philistines, and the Arabians that were beside the Ethiopians.

u Thus God would not haue his ioyne in fornicitie with idolaters and wicked men.

k Called also Ahaziah as Chap. 21. or Azariah, verſe following.
l That is, as ſome write, he was not regarded but deſpoted by his wickednes and idolatrie: ſo that his ſonne reigned 22 yeeres (his father yet liuing) without honour, and after his fathers death, he was confined to reigne ſtill, as Chap. 21. v.

17 And they came vp into Iudah, and brake into it, and caried away all the ſubſtance that was found in the kings houſe, and his ſonnes alſo, and his wiues, ſo that there was not a ſonne left him, ſaue Iehoaſhaz the yongſt of his ſonnes.

18 And after all this, the Lord ſmote him in his bowels with an incurable diſeaſe.

19 And in proceſſe of time, euen after the end of two yeeres, his guttes fell out with his diſeaſe: ſo he died of ſore diſeaſes: and his people made no burning for him like the burning of his fathers.

20 When he began to reigne, hee was two and thirtie yeere old, and reigned in Ieruſalem eight yeere, and liued without being deſired: yet they buried him in the citie of Dauid, but not among the ſepulchres of the Kings.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Ahaziah reigneth after Iehoram. 9 Iehou king of Iſrael kil. Iſh Ahaziah. 10 Athaliah putteth to death all the kings liage. 11 Ioſh ſpeaketh.

And the inhabitants of Ieruſalem made Ahaziah his yongſt ſonne King in his ſtead: for the armie that came with the Arabians to the campe, had ſlaue all the eldeſt: therefore Ahaziah the ſonne of Iehoram King of Iudah reigned.

2 Two and fourtie yeere old was Ahaziah when hee began to reigne, and hee reigned c one yeere in Ieruſalem. And his mothers name was Athaliah the daughter of d Omri.

3 Hee walked alſo in the wayes of the houſe of Ahab: for his mother counſelled him to doe wickedly.

4 Wherefore hee did euill in the fight of the Lord, like the houſe of Ahab: for they were his counſellers after the death of his father, to his deſtruction.

5 And hee walked after their counſell, and went with Iehoram the ſonne of Ahab king of Iſrael to fight againſt Hazael King of Aram at Ramoth Gilead: and the Aramites ſmote Ioram.

6 ¶ And hee returned to be healed in Izreel, becauſe of the woundes wherewith they had wounded him at Ramah, when hee fought with Hazael King of Aram. Now Azariah the ſonne of Iehoram king of Iudah went downe to ſee Iehoram the ſonne of Ahab at Izreel, becauſe hee was diſeaſed.

7 And the deſtruction of Ahaziah f came of God, in that he went to Ioram: for when hee was come, hee went forth with Iehoram againſt Iehu the ſonne of Nimſhi, * whom the Lord had anoynted to deſtroy the houſe of Ahab.

8 Therefore when Iehu executed iudgement vpon the houſe of Ahab, and found the princes of Iudah, and the ſonnes of the bretheren of Ahaziah that waited on Ahaziah, hee ſlew them alſo.

9 And hee fought Ahaziah, and they caught him where hee was hid in Samaria, and brought him to Iehu, and ſlew him and buried him, becauſe, ſaid they, he is the ſonne of g Iehoſaphat, which fought the Lord with all his heart. So the houſe of Ahab was not able to reſtore the kingdom.

10 ¶ Therefore when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah ſaw that her ſonne was dead, ſhe aroſe and deſtroyed all the Kings ſeed of the houſe of Iudah.

11 But Iehoſhabeah the daughter of the king, tooke Ioſh the ſonne of Ahaziah, and ſtaie him from among the Kings ſonnes, that ſhould bee ſlaue, and put him and his nource in the bedde chamber: ſo Iehoſhabeah the daughter of king Iehoram the wife of Iehoiaha the Prieſt (for hee was the ſiſter of Ahaziah) hid him from Athaliah: ſo hee ſlew him not.

12 And hee was with them hid in the houſe of God ſix yeeres, whiles Athaliah reigned ouer the land.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Ioſh the ſonne of Ahaziah is made king. 15 Athaliah is put to death. 17 The Temple of Baal is deſtroyed. 19 Iehoiaha appointeth miniſters in the Temple.

And ^a in the ſeuenth yeere Iehoiaha waxed bold, and tooke the captaines of hundreds to wit, Azariah the ſonne of Iehoram, and Iſhmael the ſonne of Iehohanan, and Azariah the ſonne of Obed, and Maſiah the ſonne of Adaiab, and Eliſhaphat the ſonne of Zichri in covenant with him.

2 And they went about in Iudah, and gathered the Leuites out of all the citie of Iudah, and the chiefe fathers b of Iſrael: and they came to Ieruſalem.

3 And all the congregation made a covenant with the King in the houſe of God: and hee ſayd vnto them, Behold, the kings ſonne muſt reigne, as the Lord hath ſayd of the ſonnes of Dauid.

4 This is it that ye ſhall do, The third part of you that come on the Sabbath of the Prieſts, and the Leuites ſhall be porters of the doores.

5 And another third part towards the kings houſe, and another third part at the c gate of the c foundation, and all the people ſhall be in the courts of the houſe of the Lord.

6 But let none come into the houſe of the Lord, ſaue the Prieſtes, and the Leuites that miniſter, they ſhall goe in, for they are holy: but all the people ſhall keepe the watch of the Lord.

7 And the Leuites ſhall compaſſe the King round about, and euery man with his weapon in his hand, and hee that entrencheth into the houſe ſhall be ſlaue, and be you with the king when he cometh in and when hee goeth out.

8 ¶ So the Leuites and all Iudah did according to all things that Iehoiaha the Prieſt had commanded, and tooke euery man his men that came on the Sabbath, with them that e went out on the Sabbath: for Iehoiaha the Prieſt did not diſcharge the courſes.

9 And Iehoiaha the Prieſt deliuered to the captaines of hundreds ſpeares, and ſhieldes, and bucklers which had bene king Dauids, and were in the houſe of God.

10 And hee cauſed al the people to ſtand (euery man with his weapon in his hand) from the right ſide of the houſe, to the left ſide of the houſe by the altar, & by the f houſe round about the King.

11 Then they brought out the Kings ſonne, and put vpon him the crowne and gane him the g Testimonie, and made him King. And Iehoiaha and his ſonnes anoynted him, and ſaid, God ſaue King.

12 ¶ But when Athaliah heard the noiſe of the people running and prauiſing the King, ſhee came to the people into the houſe of the Lord.

13 And when ſhee h looked, behold, the King ſtood by his pillar at the entering in, and the princes and the trumpets by the king, and all the people of the land reioyced, and blew the Trumpets, and the ſingers were with inſtruments of muſicke, and and they that could sing praise: then Athaliah rent her clothes, and said, Treason, treason.

14 Then Iehoiada the Priest brought out the captaines of hundreds that were gouernours of the host, and said vnto them, Haue her forth of the ranges, and let her follow her, let him die by the sword: for the Priest had said, Slay her not in the house of the Lord.

15 So they layed hands on her: and when shee was come to the entering of the horiegate by the kings house, they slew her there.

16 ¶ And Iehoiada made a ^k couenant betweene him, and all the people, and the king, that they would be the Lords people.

17 And all the people went to the house of Baal, and destroyed it, and brake his altars, and his images, and slew ^m Mattan the Priest of Baal before the altars.

18 And Iehoiada appointed officers for the house of the Lord, vnder the hands of the Priests and Leuites, whom Dauid had distributed for the house of the Lord, to offer burnt offerings vnto the Lord, * as it is written in the Lawe of Moyses, with reioycing and singing by the appointment of Dauid.

19 And he set porters by the gates of the house of the Lord, that none that was vnclene in any thing, should enter in.

20 And hee tooke the captaines of hundreds, and the noble men, and the gouernours of the people, and all the people of the Land, and he caused the king to come downe out of the house of the Lord, and they went thorow ⁿ the hie gate of the kings house, and set the king vpon the throne of the kingdome.

21 Then all the people of the land reioyced, and the cite was quiet ^o after that they had slaine Athaliah with the sword.

CHAP. XXIII.

q Iosh repaired the house of the Lord. 17 After the death of Iehoiada he settled his idolatry. 21 He stoned to death Zachariah the Prophet. 22 Iosh a kind of his own servants. 27 After his death Amaziah.

I Osh ^q was seven yeere olde when hee beganne to reigne, and hee reigned fortie yeere in Ierusalem: and his mothers name was Zibiah of Beersheba.

2 And Iosh did vprightly in the sight of the Lord all the dayes of Iehoiada the Priest.

3 And Iehoiada ^u tooke him two wives, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

4 ¶ And afterward it came into Iosh minde to renew the house of the Lord.

5 And he assembled the Priests and the Leuites, and said to them, Goe out vnto the cities of Iudah, and gather of all ^b Israel money to repaire the house of your God, from yeere to yeere, and haste the thing: but the Leuites hastened not.

6 Therefore the king called Iehoiada the ^c chiefe, and said vnto him, Why hast thou not required of the Leuites to bring in out of Iudah and Ierusalem ^c the taxe of Moyses the seruant of the Lord, and of the Congregation of Israel, for the Tabernacle of the Testimonie?

7 For ^d wicked Athaliah, and her children, brake vp the house of God and all the things that were dedicated: for the house of the Lord, did they bestow vpon Baalim.

8 Therefore the king commanded, * and they made a chest, and set it at the gate of the house of the Lord without,

9 And they made proclamation thorow Iudah and Ierusalem, to bring vnto the Lord * the taxe of Moyses the seruant of God, layd vpon Israel in the wilderness.

10 And all the princes and all the people reioyced, and brought in, and cast into the chest, vntill they had finished.

11 And when it was time, ^e they brought the chest vnto the kings officer by the hand of the Leuites: and when they saw that there was much siluer, then the Kings Scribe (and one appointed by the high Priest) came and emptied the chest, and tooke it, and caried it to his place againe: thus they did day by day, and gathered siluer in abundance.

12 And the king and ^f Iehoiada gaue it to such as did the labour and worke in the house of the Lord, and hired masons and carpenters to repaire the house of the Lord: ^g they gaue it also to workmen of yron and brasie, to repaire the house of the Lord.

13 So the workmen wrought, and the worke ^h amended through their hands and they restored the house of God to his state, and strengthened it.

14 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the siluer before the king and Iehoiada, and hee made thereof ⁱ vessels for the house of the Lord ⁱ men vessels to minister, both morters and ⁱ incense cups, and vessels of golde and of siluer: and they offered burnt offerings in the house of the Lord continually all the dayes of Iehoiada.

15 ¶ But Iehoiada waxed olde and was full of dayes, and died. An hundred and thirtie yeere olde ^j was he when he died.

16 And they buried him in the cite of Dauid with the ^k kings, because he had done good in Israel, and toward God and his house.

17 ¶ And after the death of Iehoiada, came the ^l princes of Iudah, and did reuerence to the king, and the king hearkened vnto them.

18 And they left the house of the Lord God of their fathers, and serued groues and idols: and wrath came vpon Iudah and Ierusalem, because of this their treaspasse.

19 And God ^m sent Prophets among them, to bring them againe vnto the Lord: and they ^m made protestation among them, but they would not heare.

20 And the Spirit of God came vpon Zachariah the sonne of Iehoiada the Priest, which stood ⁿ about the people, and said vnto them, Thus saith God, Why transgresse yee the commandments of the Lord? surely yee shall not prosper: because yee haue forsaken the Lord, hee also hath forsaken you.

21 Then they conspired against him, and stoned him with stones at the ^o commandment of the king, in the court of the house of the Lord.

22 Thus Iosh the king remembered not the kindnesse which Iehoiada his father had done to him, but slew his sonne. And when hee died, hee said, The Lord ^p looke vpon it and require it.

23 ¶ And when the yere was out, the host of Aram came vp against him, & they came against Iudah and Ierusalem, and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoyle of them vnto the king of Damascus.

24 Though the armie of Aram came with a small companie of men, yet the Lord deliuered

CHAP. XXV.

3 Amaziah purseth them to death which slew his father to Hee Ierusalem backe them of Israel, 11 Hee ouercometh the Edomites. 14 Hee felleth to idoltie, 17 And Ioash king of Israel ouercometh Amaziah. 27 He is slaine by a conspiracie.

A Maziah was fife and twentie yeere old when he began to reigne, and hee reigned nine and twentie yere in Ierusalem : and his mothers name was Iehoadan of Ierusalem.

2 And hee did a vprightly in the eyes of the Lord, but not with a perfect heart.

3 And when the kingdome was established vnto him, hee slew his seruants, that had slaine the king his father.

4 But he slew not their children, but did as it is written in the Law, and in the booke of Moses, where the Lord commanded, saying q The fathers shall not die for the b children, neither shall the children die for the fathers, but euery man shall die for his owne sinne.

5 ¶ And Amaziah assembled Iudah, & made them captaines ouer thousands, and captaines ouer hundreds, according to the houses of their fathers, thorowout all Iudah and Benjamin : and hee numbred them from c twentie yere olde and aboue, and found among them three hundred thousand chofen men, to goeforth to the warre, and to handle speare and shield.

6 Hee hired also an hundred thousand valiant men d ouer of Israel for an hundred talents of siluer.

7 But a man of God came to him, saying, O king, let not the armie of Israel go with thee : for the Lord is not c with Israel, neither with all the house of Ephraim.

8 If e not, goe thou on, doe it, make thy selfe strong to the battell, but God shall make thee fall before the enimie : for God hath power to helpe and to cast downe.

9 And Amaziah sayd to the man of God, What shall we doe then for the hundred talents, which I haue giuen to the hoste of Israel ? Then the man of God answered, The Lord is able to g giue thee more than this.

10 So Amaziah separated them, to wit, the armie that was come to him out of Ephraim, to returne to their place : wherefore their wrath was kindled greatly against Iudah, and they returned to their places with great anger.

11 Then Amaziah was encouraged, and led forth his people, and went to the salt valley, and smote of the children of h Seir, ten thousand.

12 And other ten thousand did the children of Iudah take alie, and caried them to the top of a i rocke, and cast them downe from the top of the rocke, and they all burst in pieces.

13 But the men of the k army, which Amaziah sent away, that they should not go with his people to battell, fell vpon the cities of Iudah from Samaria vnto Beth-horon, and smote three thousand of them, and tooke much spoyle.

14 Now after that Amaziah was come from the slaughter of the Edomites, hee brought the gods of the children of Seir, and let them vp to be his gods, and d worshipped them, and burned incense vnto them.

15 Wherefore the Lord was wroth with Amaziah, & sent vnto him a Prophet, which said vnto him, Why hast thou sought the gods of the people, which were not able to m deliuer their owne people out of thine hand ?

16 And as hee talked with him, n hee said vnto him, Haue they made thee the kings counsellor ? cease thou : why should they o smite thee ? And the Prophet ceased, but said, I know that God hath determined to destroy thee, because thou hast done this, and hast not obeyed my counsell.

17 ¶ Then Amaziah king of Iudah tooke counsell, and sent to Ioash the sonne of Iehozabab, the sonne of Iehu king of Israel, saying, Come, p let vs see one another in the face.

18 But Ioash king of Israel sent to Amaziah king of Iudah, saying, The thistle that is in Lebanon, sent to the cedar that is in Lebanon, saying, * Giue thy daughter to my sonne to wife : and the wilde beast that was in Lebanon went and trode downe the thistle.

19 Thou thinkest : loe, thou hast smitten Edom, and thine heart lifteth thee vp to bragge : abide now at home : why dost thou prouoke to thine hurt, that thou shouldest fall, and Iudah with thee ?

20 But Amaziah would not heare, for q it was of God that hee might deliuer them into his hand because they had fought the gods of Edom.

21 So Ioash the king of Israel went vp : and he and Amaziah king of Iudah saw one another in the face at Bethhemesh, which is in Iudah.

22 And Iudah was put to the worfe before Israel, and they fled euery man to his tents.

23 But Ioash the king of Israel tooke Amaziah king of Iudah, the sonne of Ioash, the sonne of Iehozabab in Bethhemesh, & brought him to Ierusalem, and brake downe the wall of Ierusalem, from the gate of Ephraim vnto the corner gate, foure hundred cubits.

24 And hee tooke all the golde and the siluer, and all the vessels that were found in the house of God with r Obed Edom, and in the treasures of the kings house, and the children that were in hostage, and returned to Samaria.

25 ¶ And Amaziah the sonne of Ioash king of Iudah liued after the death of Ioash sonne of Iehozabab king of Israel, fiftene yeere.

26 Concerning the rest of the acts of Amaziah first and last, are they not written in the booke of the kings of Iudah and Israel ?

27 Now after the time that Amaziah did turn away from the Lord, s they wrought treason against him in Ierusalem : and when he was fled to Lachish, they sent to Lachish after him, and

1 Vzziah obeying the Lord, prospereth in his enterprises. 18 Hee was euen proued and vsurped the Priests office. 19 The Lord plagued him. 20 The Priests drue him out of the Temple, because hee was out of the Lords house. 23 Hu buried him in Ierusalem.

Then all the people of Iudah tooke Vzziah, which was sixteen yeere olde, and made him king in stead of his father Amaziah.

11 Vzziah had also an host of fighting men that went out to warre by battes, according to the count of their number vnder the hand of Teiel the Scribe, and Maaciah the ruler, and vnder the hand of Hananiah, one of the kings captaynes.

12 The whole number of the chiefe of the families of the valiant men were two thousand and fixe hundred.

13 And vnder their hand was the armie for warre; three hundred and fuen thousand; & fise hundred that fought valiantly to helpe the king against the enemy.

14 And Vzziah prepared them throughout all the hoste, shields, and speares, and helmets, and brigandines, and bowes, and stones to sling.

15 He made also very artificiall engines in Ierusalem, to be vpon the towres and vpon the corners, to shoote arrowes and great stones: and his name preda farre abroad, because God did helpe him maruellously, till he was mightie.

16 But when he was strong, his heart was lift vp to be destruction: for hee transgressed against the Lord his God, and went into the Temple of the Lord to burne incense vpon the altar of incense.

17 And Azariah the Priest went in after him, and with him fourescore Priests of the Lord, valiant men.

18 And they withstood Vzziah the king, and said vnto him, It pertaineth not to thee, Vzziah, to burne incense vnto the Lord, but to the Priests the ionnes of Aaron, that are consecrated for to offer incense: & goe forth out of the Sanctuarie: for thou hast transgressed, and thou shalt haue none honour of the Lord God.

19 Then Vzziah was wroth, and had incense in his hand to burne it: and while he was wroth with the Priests, the leprose rose vp in his forehead before the Priests in the house of the Lord beside the incense altar.

20 And when Azariah the chiefe Priest with all the Priests looked vpon him, behold, hee was leprous in his forehead, and they caught him hastily to depart thence: and he was euen compelled to goe out, because the Lord had smitten him.

21 And Vzziah the king was a leper vnto the day of his death, and dwelt as a leper in an house apart, because he was cut off from the house of the Lord: and Iotham his sonne ruled ouer the kings house, and iudged the people of the land.

22 Concerning the rest of the acts of Vzziah, first and last, did Iahiah the Prophet the sonne of Amoz write.

23 So Vzziah slepe with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the field of the buriall, which pertaineth to the kings: for they said, Hee was a leper. And Iotham his sonne reigned in his stead.

3 Hee built the hie gate of the house of the Lord, and hee built very much on the wall of the citie.

4 Moreover he built cities in the mountains of Iudah, and in the forrests hee built palaces and towres.

5 And hee fought with the king of the children of Ammon, and preuailed against them. And the children of Ammon gaue him the same yeere an hundred talents of silver, and ten thousand measures of wheate, and ten thousand of barley: this did the children of Ammon giue him both in the second yeere and the third.

6 So Iotham became mightie, because hee directed his way before the Lord his God.

7 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iotham and all his warres and his wayes, loe, they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel, and Iudah.

2 Kings, 16, 7.

Ahaz was twenty yeeres old when he began to reigne, and reigned sixteene yeeres in Ierusalem, and did not vprightly in the sight of the Lord, like Dauid his father.

2 But he walked in the waies of the kings of Israel, & made euen molten images for Baalim.

3 Moreover he burnt incense in the valley of Ben-hinnom, and burnt his sonnes with fire, after the abominations of the heathen whome the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

4 Hee sacrificed also and burnt incense in the high places, and on hills, and vnder every greene tree.

5 Wherefore the Lord his God deliuered him into the hand of the King of the Aramites, and they smote him, and tooke of his many prisoners, and brought them to Damascus: and he was also deliuered into the hand of the King of Israel, which smote him with a great slaughter.

6 For Pekah the sonne of Remaliah slew in Iudah sixscore thousand in one day, all valiant men, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers.

7 And Zichri a mighty man of Ephraim slew Maaseiah the Kings sonne, and Azrikam the gouernour of the house, and Elkanah the second after the King.

8 And the children of Israel tooke prisoners of their brethren, & two hundred thousand of women, sonnes & daughters, and caried away much spoile of them, & brought the spoile to Samaria.

9 But there was a Prophet of the Lords, (whose name was Oded) and he went out before the hoste that came to Samaria, and sayd vnto them, Behold, because the Lord God of your fathers is wroth with Iudah, hee hath deliuered them into your hand, and ye haue slaine them in a rage, that reacheth vp to heauen.

10 And now yee purpose to keepe vnder the children of Iudah and Ierusalem, as seruants and handmaides vnto you, but are not you such, that sinnes are with you before the Lord your God?

11 Now therefore heare mee, and deliuer the captiues againe, which yee haue taken prisoners of your brethren: for the fierce wrath of the Lord is toward you.

12 Wherefore certaine of the chiefe of the children of Ephraim, Azariah the sonne of Iehohanan, Berechiah the sonne of Meshillemoth, and Iehizkiah the sonne of Shallum, and Amasa the sonne of Hadlai, stood vp against them that came from the warre, 13 And said vnto them, Bring not in the captiues hither: for this shalbe a sin vpon vs against the Lord: yee intend to add more to our sinnes & to our trespasss, though our trespasss be great, and the fierce wrath of God is against Israel.

14 So the army left the captiues and the spoile before the princes and all the Congregation.

15 And the men that were named by name rose vp and tooke the prisoners, and with the spoile clothed all that were naked among them, and arrayed them, and shod them, and gaue them meate, and gaue them drinke, and anointed them, and caried all that were feeble of them vpon asses, and brought them to Iericho the citie of Palme trees to their brethren: so they returned to Samaria.

16 At that time did king Ahaz send vnto the Kings of Asshur, to helpe him.

17 For the Edomites came moreover, and slew of Iudah, and caried away captiues.

18 The Philistims also invaded the cities in the low country, and toward the South of Iudah, and tooke Beththemesh, and Aialon, and Gederoth and Shochu, with the villages thereof, and Timnah, with her villages, and Gimzo, with her villages, and they dwelt there.

19 For the Lord had humbled Iudah, because of Ahaz King of Israel, for he had brought vengeance vpon Iudah, and had grieuouly transgressed against the Lord.

20 And Tiglath Pileseer king of Asshur came vnto him, who troubled him and did not strengthen him.

21 For Ahaz tooke a portion out of the house of the Lord, and out of the Kings house, and of the princes, and gaue vnto the king of Asshur: yet it helped him not.

22 And in the time of his tribulation did hee yet trespass more against the Lord, (this is King Ahaz).

23 For he sacrificed vnto the gods of Damascus, which plagued him, and he said, Because the gods of the Kings of Aram helped them, I will sacrifice vnto them, and they will help mee: yet they were his ruine, and of all Israel.

24 And Ahaz gathered the vessels of the house of God, and brake the vessels of the house of God, and shut vp the doores of the house of the Lord, and made him altars in euery corner of Ierusalem.

25 And in euery citie of Iudah hee made high places, to burne incense vnto other gods, and provoked to anger the Lord God of his fathers.

26 Concerning the rest of his acts, and all his waies first and last, behold, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah, and Israel.

27 And Ahaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of Ierusalem, but brought him not vnto the sepulchres of the Kings of Israel: and Hezekiah his sonne reigned in his stead.

11 Now my sonnes, bee not deceived: for the Lord hath chosen you to stand before him, to serue him, and to bee his ministers, and to burne incense.

12 ¶ Then the Leuites arose, Mahath the sonne of Amasai, and Ioel the sonne of Azariah of the sonnes of the Kohathites: and of the sonnes of Merari, Kish the sonne of Abdi, and Azariah the sonne of Iehaleel: and of the Gershonites, Ioah the sonne of Zimmah, and Eden the sonne of Loah:

14 And of the sonnes of Heman, Iehiel, and Shimei: and of the sonnes of Ieduthun, Shemaiah and Vzziel.

16 And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified themselves, & came according to the commandement of the King, and by the words of the Lord, for to cleanse the house of the Lord.

16 And the Priests went into the inner partes of the house of the Lord, to cleane it, & brought out all the vncleanness that they founde in the Temple of the Lord, into the court of the house of the Lord: and the Leuites tooke it, to carie it out vnto the brooke Kidron.

17 They began the first day of the first moneth to sanctifie it, and the eighth day of the moneth came they to the porch of the Lord. so they sanctified the house of the Lord in eight dayes, and in the sixteenth day of the first moneth, they made an ende.

18 ¶ Then they wentin to Hezekiah the King, and sayd, Wee haue cleansed all the house of the Lord and the altar of burnt offering, with all the vessels thereof, and the || shewbread table, with all the vessels thereof:

19 And all the vessels which King Ahaz had cast aside when he reigned, and transgressed, haue we prepared and sanctified: and behold, they are before the altar of the lord.

20 ¶ And Hezekiah the King rose early, and gathered the Princes of the city, and went vp to the house of the Lord.

21 And they brought seven bullockes, and seven rammes, and seven lambs, and seven he goats, for a sinne offering for the kingdome, and for the sanctuary, and for Iudah. And hee commanded the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 So they slew the bullockes, and the Priests receiued the blood, and i sprinkled it vpon the altar: they slew also the rammes, and sprinkled the blood vpon the altar, and they slew the lambs, and they sprinkled the blood vpon the altar.

23 Then they brought the hee goates for the sinne offering before the King and the Congregation, and they layd their hands vpon them.

24 And the Priests slew them, and with the blood of them they cleansed the altar to reconcile all Israel: for the King had commanded for all Israel the burnt offering, and the sinne offering.

25 He appointed also the Leuites in the house of the Lord with cymbals, with viols, and with harpes, * according to the commandement of Dauid, and Gad the Kings Seer, and Nathan the Prophet: for the commandement was by the hand of the Lord, and by the hand of his Prophets.

26 And the Leuites stood with the instruments of Dauid, and the Priests with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt offering vpon the altar: and when the burnt offering began, the song of the Lord began with the trumpets, & the instruments of Dauid King of Israel.

28 And all the Congregation worshipped, singing a song, and they blew the trumpets: all this continued vntill the burnt offering was finished.

29 And when they had made an end of offering, the King and all that were present with him, bowed themselves, and worshipped.

30 ¶ Then Hezekiah the King and the princes commaunded the Leuites to praise the Lord with the words of Dauid, and of Afaph the Seer. So they prayed with ioy, & they bowed themselves, and worshipped.

31 And Hezekiah spake, and said, Now yee haue consecrated your selues to the Lord: come neere & bring the sacrifices and offerings of praise into the house of the Lord. And the Congregation brought sacrifices and offerings of prayes, and euery man that was willing in heart, offered burnt offerings.

32 And the number of the burnt offerings, which the Congregation brought, was twenty bullockes, an hundred rammes, and two hundred lambs: all these were for a burnt offering to the Lord:

33 And for p sanctification fixe hundred bullockes, and three thousand sheepe.

34 But the Priests were too few, and were not able to slay all the burnt offerings: therefore their brethren the Leuites did helpe them, till they had ended the worke, and vntill other Priests were sanctified: for the Leuites were 9 more vpright in heart to sanctifie themselves then the Priests.

35 And also the burnt offerings were many, with the fat of the peace offerings and drinke offerings for the burnt offering: so the seruice of the house of the Lord was set in order.

36 Then Hezekiah reioyced and all the people, that God had made the people so ready: for the thing was done suddenly.

4 And the thing pleased the king and all the Congregation.

5 And they decreed to make proclamation throughout all Israel from e Beerseba even to Dan, that they should come to keep the Passover vnto the Lord God of Israel at Ierusalem: for they had not done it of a great time, as it was written.

6 ¶ So the postes went with letters by the commission of the king, and his princes, throw out all Israel and Iudah, and with the commandement of the king, saying, Ye children of Israel, turne againe vnto the Lord God of Abraham Izhak, and Israel, and, he will returne to the remnant that are escaped of you, out of the hands of the kings of Aschur.

7 And be not yee like your fathers, and like your brethren, which trespassed against the Lord God of their fathers: and therefore he made them desolate, as ye see.

8 Be not ye now stiffnecked like your fathers, but giue the hand to the Lorde, and come into his sanctuary, which he hath sanctified for euer, and serue the Lord your God, and the fiercenesse of his wrath shall turne away from you.

9 For if ye returne vnto the Lord, your brethren and your children shall finde mercie before them that led them captiues, and they shall returne vnto this land: for the Lorde your God is gracious and mercifull, and will not turne away his face from you, if ye conuert vnto him.

10 ¶ So the postes went from city to city thorow the land of Ephraim and Manasseh, euen vnto Zebulun: but they laughed them to scorne and mocked them.

11 Neuertheless, diuers of Ascher, and Manasseh, and of Zebulun, submitted themselves, and came to Ierusalem.

12 And the hand of God was in Iudah, so that he gaue them one heart to doe the commandement of the king, and of the rulers, according to the word of the Lord.

13 And there assembled to Ierusalem much people, to keepe the feast of the vntuneated bread in the second moneth, a very great assembly.

14 ¶ And they arose and cooke away the kalars that were in Ierusalem: and all those for incense tooke they away, and cast them into the brooke Kidron.

15 Afterward they slewe the Passouer the fourteenth day of the second moneth: and the Priests and Leuites were ashamed, and sanctified themselves, and brought the burnt offerings into the house of the Lord.

16 And they stood in their place after their maner, according to the Law of Moses the man of God: and the Priests sprinkled the blood reme of the hands of the Leuites.

17 Because there were many in the Congregation that were not sanctified, therefore the Leuites had the charge of the killing of the Passouer for all that were not cleane, to sanctifie it to the Lord.

18 For a multitude of the people, euen a multitude of Ephraim, and Manasseh, Issachar & Zebulun had not cleane themselves, yet did eate the Passouer, but not as it was written, which Hezekiah prayed to them, saying, The good Lorde be mercifull toward us.

19 Then repareth his whole heart to seeke the Lord God, the God of his fathers, though hee be not cleane, according to the purification of the Sanctuary.

20 And the Lord heard Hezekiah, and healed the people.

21 And the children of Israel that were present at Ierusalem, kept the feast of the vntuneated bread seven dayes with great ioy, and the Leuites, and the Priests pray'd the Lord day by day, singing with loud instruments vnto the Lord.

22 And Hezekiah spake comfortably vnto all the Leuites that had good knowledge to sing vnto the Lord: and they did eate in that feast seven dayes and offered peace offerings, and praised the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole assembly tooke counsell to keepe it other seven dayes. So they kept it seven dayes with ioy.

24 For Hezekiah king of Iudah had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullockes, and seven thousand sheepe. And the Priests had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullockes, and ten thousand sheepe: and many Priests were sanctified.

25 And all the Congregation of Iudah reioyced with the Priests and the Leuites, and all the Congregation that came out of Israel, and the strangers that came out of the land of Israel, and that dwelt in Iudah.

26 So there was great ioy in Ierusalem: for since the time of Salomon the sonne of David king of Israel, there was not the like thing in Ierusalem.

27 Then the Priests and the Leuites arose, and blessed the people, and their voyce was heard, and their prayer came vp vnto heauen, to his holy habitation.

And when all these things were finished, all Israel, that were found in the cities of Iudah, went out and brake the images, and cut downe the groves, and brake downe the high places, and the altars throughout all Iudah and Benjamin, in Ephraim also and Manasseh, until they had made an ende: afterward all the children of Israel returned euery man to his possession, into their owne cities.

hony, and of all the increase of the field, and the tithes of all things brought they abundantly.

6 And the children of Israel and Iudah that dwelt in the cities of Iudah, they also brought the tithes of bullockes and sheepe, and the holy tithes [which were consecrate vnto the Lord their God, and layd them on many heapes.

7 In the third moneth they began to lay the foundation of the heapes, and finished them in the fourth moneth.

8 ¶ And when Hezekiah and the princes came, and saw the heapes, they blessed the Lord and his people Israel.

9 And Hezekiah questioned with the Priests and the Leuites concerning the heapes:

10 And Azariah the chiefe Priest of the house of Zadok answered him, and said, Since the people began to bring the offerings into the house of the Lord, we haue eaten, and haue bene satisfied, and there is left in abundance: for the Lord hath blessed his people, and this abundance that is left.

11 ¶ And Hezekiah commanded to prepare chambers in the house of the Lord: and they prepared them, 12 And caried in the first fruits, and the tithes, and the dedicate things faithfully: and ouer them was Conaniah the Leuite the chiefe, and Shimei his brother the second.

13 And Ichiel, and Azariah, and Nahath, and Aghel, and Ierimoth, and Iozabad, and Eliel, and Iliachiah, and Mahath, and Benaiah were ouerscers: by the appointment of Conaniah, and Shimei his brother, and by the commandement of Hezekiah the king, and of Azariah the chiefe of the house of God.

14 And Kore the sonne of Immah the Leuite porter toward the East, was ouer the things that were willingly offered to God, to distribute the oblations of the Lord, and the holy things that were consecrate.

15 And at his hand were Eden, and Miniamin, and Ieshua, and Shemaiah, Amariah, and Shechaniah, in the cities of the Priests, to distribute with fidelitie to their brethren by courses, both to the great and small,

16 Their dayly portion. beside their generation, being males from three yeere old and aboue, vnto all that entered into the house of the Lord to their office in their charge, according to their courses.

17 Both to the generation of the Priests after the house of their fathers, and to the Leuites from twentie yeere old and aboue, according to their charge in their courses:

18 And to the generation of all their children, their wiues, and their sonnes, and their daughters throughout all the Congregation: for by their fidelitie are they partakers of the holy things.

19 Al'o to the sonnes of Aaron, the Priests, which were in the fields, and suburbs of their cities, in every cite the men that were appointed by names, should giue portions to all the males of the Priests, and to all the generation of the Leuites.

20 And thus did Hezekiah throughout all Iudah, and did woll, and vprightly, and truly before the Lord his God.

21 And in all the works that he began for the seruice of the house of God, both in the Law and in the commandements, to seeke his God, hee did it with all his heart, and prospered.

AFTER these things faithfully described, * Sanherib king of Asshur came and entered into Iudah, and besieged the strong cities, and thought to winne them for himselfe.

2 When Hezekiah sawe that Sanherib was come, and that his purpose was to fight against Ierusalem,

3 Then he tooke counsell with his princes and his nobles, to stop the water of the fountaines without the cite: and they did helpe him.

4 So, many of the people assembled themselves, and flopt all the fountaines, and the water that ran through the mids of the countrey, saying, Why should the king of Asshur come, and finde much water?

5 And he tooke courage, and built all the broken wal, and made vp the towres, and another wal without, and repaired * Millo in the b cite of David, and made many darts and shields.

6 And he set captaines of warre ouer the people, and assembled them to him in the broad place of the gate of the cite, and spake comfortably vnto them, saying,

7 Be strong and courageous: feare not, neither be afraid for the king of Asshur, neither for all the multitude that is with him: * for there be more with vs, then a with him.

8 With him is an arme of flesh, but with vs is the Lord our God for to helpe vs, and to fight our battels. Then the people were confirmed by the words of Hezekiah King of Iudah.

9 * After this did Sanherib king of Asshur, send his seruants to Ierusalem, (while he was against Lachish, and all his dominion with him) vnto Hezekiah king of Iudah, and vnto all Iudah that were at Ierusalem, saying,

10 Thus saith Sanherib the king of Asshur, Wherein doe ye trust, that ye will remaine in Ie-rusalem, during the siege?

11 Doth not Hezekiah entise you to giue ouer your felnes vnto death by famine and by thirst, saying, The Lord our God shall deliuer vs out of the hand of the king of Asshur?

12 Hath not the same Hezekiah taken away his high places, and his galls, and commanded Iudah and Ierusalem, saying, Ye shall worship before one altar, and burne incense vpon it?

13 Know ye not what I and my fathers haue done vnto all the people of other countreys? were the gods of the nations of other lands able to de-liuer their land out of mine hand?

14 Who is hee of all the gods of those nations (that my fathers haue destroyed) that could deliuer his people out of mine hand, that your God should be able to deliuer you out of mine hand?

15 Now therefore let not Hezekiah deceiue you, nor seduce you after this sort, neither beleue ye him: for none of all the gods of any nation or kingdome was able to deliuer his people out of mine hand, and out of the hand of my fathers:
how much lesse shall your gods deliuer you out of mine hand?

i Here we see the cause, why the faithfull are tempted, which is to try whether they haue faith or no, and that they may feele the presence of God, who suffereth them not to be overcome by temptations but in their weaknesse multieth strength.

16 And his seruants spake more against the Lord God, and against his seruant Hezekiah. 17 Hee wrote also letters, blaspheming the Lord God of Israel, and speaking against him, saying, As the gods of the nations (of other countries) could not deliuer their people out of mine hand, so shall not the God of Hezekiah deliuer his people out of mine hand.

18 Then they cried with a loud voyce in the Iewes speech vnto the people of Ierusalem that were on the wall, to feare them and to astonish them, that they might take the citie.

19 Thus they spake against the God of Ierusalem, as against the gods of the people of the earth, when the works of mans hands.

20 But Hezekiah the King, and the Prophet Isaiah the sonne of Amoz prayed against this and cried to heauen.

21 And the Lord sent an Angel, which destroyed all the valiant men, and the princes, and captaines of the host of the king of Aschur: so he returned with shame to his owne land. And when he was come into the house of his god, they that came forth of his owne bowels, slew him there with the sword.

22 So the Lord fained Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem from the hand of Saneherib king of Aschur, and from the hand of all other, and maintained them on euery side.

23 And many brought offerings vnto the Lord to Ierusalem, and presents to Hezekiah King of Iudah, so that he was magnified in the sight of all nations from thenceforth.

24 * In those dayes Hezekiah was sicke vnto the death, and prayed vnto the Lord, who spake vnto him, and gaue him a signe.

25 But Hezekiah did not tender according to the reward bestowed vpon him: for his heart was lifted vp, and wrath came vpon him, and vpon Iudah and Ierusalem.

26 Notwithstanding Hezekiah humbled himselfe (after that his heart was lifted vp) he and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and the wrath of the Lord came not vpon them in the dayes of Hezekiah.

27 Hezekiah also had exceeding much riches and honour, and he gate him treasures of filuer and of gold, and of precious stones, and of sweet odours, and of shields, and of all pleasant vessels:

28 And of store-houses for the increase of wheat and wine and oyle, and stalles for all beaſts and for fowes for the stables.

29 And he made him cities, and had possession of sheepe and oxen in abundance: for God had giuen him substance exceeding much.

30 This same Hezekiah also stopped the vpper water springs of Gihon, and led them straight vnderneath toward the city of Dauid Westward: so Hezekiah prospered in all his works.

31 But because of the ambassadors of the princes of Babel, which sent vnto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the land, God left him to trie him, and to know all that was in his heart.

32 Concerning the rest of the actes of Hezekiah, and his goodnesse, behold, they are written in the vision of Isaiah the Prophet, the sonne of Amoz, in the booke of the kings of Iudah and Iſrael.

33 So Hezekiah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the highest sepulchre of the sonnes of Dauid: and all Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem did him honour at his death, and Manaffah his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Manaffah was an idolater. 2 He confessed Iudah to erre. 3 Hee sent away prisoners into Babylon. 4 He prayed to the Lord, and is deliuered. 5 He abolished idolatry. 6 And sought true religion. 7 Hee dreb and Amos his sonne succeeded, 24 Whom his owne seruants slew.

Manaffah was twelve yeere old, * when he began to reigne, and hee reigned fise and fittie yeere in Ierusalem:

2 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, like the abominations of the heathen, * whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he went backe and built the hie places, * which Hezekiah his father had broken downe: * and he set vp altars for Baalim, and made groues and worshipped all the hofte of the heauen, and serued them.

4 Also hee built altars in the house of the Lord, whereof the Lord had said, * In Ierusalem shall my Name be for euer.

5 And hee built altars for all the hofte of the heauen in the two courts of the house of the Lord.

6 * And hee caused his sonnes to passe thorow the fire in the valley of Ben-hinnom: hee gaue himselfe to witchcraft and to charming, and to forcerie, and hee vſed them that had familiar spirits, and soothsayers: hee did very much euill in the sight of the Lord to anger him.

7 Hee put also the carued image, which he had made, in the house of God: whereof God had said to Dauid and to Salomon his sonne, * In this house, and in Ierusalem, which I haue chosen before all the tribes of Israel, will I put my Name for euer.

8 Neither will * I make the foot of Israel to remoue any more out of the land which I haue appointed for your fathers, so that they take heed, and doe all that I haue commanded them, according to the Law and statutes and iudgements by the hand of Moses.

9 So Manaffah made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to erre, and to doe worse then the heathen, whom the Lord had destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 ¶ And the Lord spake to Manaffah and to his people, but they would not regard.

11 Wherefore the Lord brought vpon them the captaines of the hofte of the king of Aschur which tooke Manaffah and put him in fetters, and bound him in chaines and caried him to Babel.

12 And when he was in tribulation, he prayed to the Lord his God, and humbled himselfe greatly before the Lord God of his fathers, 13 And prayed vnto him: and God was den-treated of him, and heard his prayer, and brought him againe to Ierusalem into his kingdom: then Manaffah knew that the Lord was God.

14 Now after this hee built a wall without the citie of Dauid, on the West side of Gihon in the valley, even at the entry of the fifth-gate, and compassed about Ophel, and raised it very high, and put captaines of warre in all the strong cities of Iudah.

15 And hee tooke away the strange gods and 16 Also he prepared the altar of the Lord, and sacrificed thereon peace offerings, & of thanks, and commanded Iudah to serve the Lord God of Iirach.

17 Neuertheless the people did sacrifice still in the hie places, but vnto the Lord their God.

18 ¶ Concerning the rest of the acts of Manasseh, and his prayer vnto his God and the words of the Seers, that spake vnto him in the Name of the Lord God of Iirach, behold, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Iirach.

19 And his prayer and how God was intreated of him, and all his sinne, and his trespasse, and the places wherein he built hie places, and set groues and images (before he was humbled, behold, they are written in the booke of the Seers.

20 So Manasseh slept with his fathers, & they buried him in his owne house: and Amon his sonne reigned in his stead.

21 ¶ Amon was two and twentie yeere olde, when he began to reigne, and reigned two yeere in Ierusalem.

22 But he did euill in the sight of the Lord, as did Manasseh his father: for Amon sacrificed to all the images, which Manasseh his father had made, and serued them.

23 And hee humbled not himselfe before the Lord, as Manasseh his father had humbled himselfe: but this Amon tere passed more and more.

24 And his seruants conspired against him, and slew him in his owne house.

25 But the people of the land slew all them that had conspired against King Amon: and the people of the land made Iosiah his sonne King in his stead.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Iosiah destroyed the stolen, 8 And restored the Temple. 14 The booke of the Law is found. 21 He sent into Iudiah the Prophets for counsell. 27 Golesees is by prayer. 31 Hee made a covenant with God.

Iosiah was eight yeere old when hee began to reigne, and hee reigned in Ierusalem one and thirtie yeere.

2 And hee did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the wayes of Dauid his father, and bowed neither to the right hand nor to the left.

3 And in the eight yeere of his reigne (when hee was yet a childe) hee began to seeke after the God of Dauid his father: and in the twelth yeere hee began to purge Iudah, and Ierusalem from the hie places, and the groues, and the carued images and molten images.

4 And they brake downe in his sight the altars of Baalim, and hee caused to cut downe the images that were on high vpon them: he brake also the groues, and the carued images and the molten images, and stampd them to powder, and strowed it vpon the graues of them that had sacrificed vnto them.

5 Also hee burnt the bones of the Priestes vpon their altars, and purged Iudah and Ierusalem.

6 And in the cities of Manasseh, and Ephraim and Simeon, euen vnto Naphtali, with their maules they brake all round about.

7 And when hee had destroyed the altars and the groues, and had broken and stamped to powder the images, and had cut downe all the idoles throughout all the land of Iirach, hee turned to Ierusalem.

8 ¶ Then in the eighteenth yeere of his reigne, when he had purged the land & the temple, hee sent Shaphan the sonne of Azaliah, and Maasiah the gouernour of the cite, and Iosah the son of Iosahaz the Recorder to reaire the house of the Lord his God.

9 And when they came to Hilkiah the high Priest, they deliuered the mony that was brought into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the doore, had gathered at the hand of Manasseh, and Ephraim, and of all the residue of Iirach, and of all Iudah and Beniamin, and of the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

10 And they put in the hands of them that should do the worke and had the oversight in the house of the Lord: and they gaue it to the workemen that wrought in the house of the Lord to reaire and amend the house.

11 Euen to the workemen and to the builders gaue they it to buy hewed stone and timber for couples, and for beames of the houses, which the Kings of Iudah had destroyed.

12 And themen did the worke faithfully, and the ouersers of them were Iahath and Obadiah the Leuites, of the children of Merari, and Zechariah, and Meshullam, of the children of the Kohathites to set it forward: and of the Leuites all that could skill of instruments of musike.

13 And they were ouer the beares of burdens, and them that set forward all the workemen in eueny worke: and of the Leuites were Scribes, and officers and porters.

14 ¶ And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lord, Hilkiah the Priest found the booke of the Law of the Lord giuen by the hand of Moyses.

15 Therefore Hilkiah answered & said to Shaphan the chancellor, I haue found the booke of the Law in the house of the Lord: and Hilkiah gaue the booke to Shaphan.

16 And Shaphan carried the booke to the King, and brought the King word againe, saying, All that is committed to the hand of thy seruants, that doe they.

17 For they haue gathered the money that was found in the house of the Lord, and haue deliuered it into the hands of the ouersers, and to the hands of the workemen.

18 Also Shaphan the chancellor declared to the King, saying, Hilkiah the Priest hath giuen me a booke, and Shaphan read it before the King.

19 And when the King had heard the words of the Law, hee tare his clothes

20 And the King commanded Hilkiah and Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, and Abdon the son of Micah, and Shaphan the chancellor, and Asaiah the Kings seruant, saying,

21 Goe and enquire of the Lord for mee, and for the rest in Iirach and Iudah, concerning the words of this booke that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is fallen vpon vs, because our fathers haue not kept the word of the Lord, to doe after all that is written in this booke.

22 Then Hilkiah and they that the King had appointed, went to Iudah the Prophetsse the wife of Shallum, the sonne of Tokhaib, the sonne of 24 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will bring euill vpon this place, and vpon the inhabitants thereof, even all the curses that are written in the booke which they haue read before the king of Iudah:

25 Because they haue forsaken mee, and burnt incense vnto other gods to anger me with all the workes of their hands, therefore shall my wrath fall vpon this place, and shall not be quenched.

26 But to the king of Iudah, who sent you to enquire of the Lord, so shall ye say vnto him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, The words which thou hast heard *sh*all come to passe.

27 But because thine heart did not melt, and thou diddest humble thy selfe before God, when thou heardest his words against this place, and against the inhabitants thereof, and humbledst thy selfe before me, and takest thy clothes, and wepest before me, I haue also heard thy faith the Lord.

29 ¶ Then the king sent and gathered all the Elders of Iudah and Ierusalem.

30 And the king went vp into the house of the Lord, and all the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and the Priests and the Leuites, and all the people from the greatest to the smallest, and he read in their eares all the words of the booke of the Couenant, that was found in the house of the Lord.

31 And the king stood by his pillar, & made a Couenant before the Lord, to walke after the Lord, and to keepe his Commandements, and his Testimonies, and his Statutes, with all his heart, and with all his soule, and that he would accomplish the words of the Couenant written in the same booke.

Or Oreouer, * Iosiah kept a Passouer vnto the Lord in Ierusalem, and they slew the Passouer in the fourteenth day of the first month.

2 And he appointed the Priests to their charges, and encouraged them to the seruice of the house of the Lord.

3 And he said vnto the Leuites that taught all Israel, and were sanctified vnto the Lord, Put the holy Arke in the house which Salomon the sonne of Dauid King of Israel did build: it shall be no more a burden vpon your shoulders: serue now the Lord your God, and his people Israel,

6 So kill the Passouer, and sanctifie your selues, and prepare your brethren that they may doe according to the word of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

7 Iosiah also gaue to the people sheep, lambs and kiddes, all for the Passouer, even to all that were present, to the number of thirtie thousand, and three thousand bullockes: these were of the Kings butcher.

8 And his princes offered willingly vnto the people, to the Priests and to the Leuites: Hilkiah, and Zechariah, and Iehiel, rulers of the house of God, gaue vnto the Priests for the Passouer, even two thousand and sixe hundred sheepe, and three hundred bullockes.

9 * Conaniah also and Shemaiah and Nathaneel his brethren, and Hafabiah and Ieiel, and Iozabad, chiefe of the Leuites gaue vnto the Leuites for the Passouer, five thousand sheepe, and five hundred bullockes.

10 Thus the seruice was prepared, and the Priests stood in their places, also the Leuites in their orders, according to the Kings commandement:

11 And they slew the Passouer, and the Priests sprinkled the blood with their hands, and the Leuites flayed them.

12 And they tooke away from the burnt offering, to giue it according to the diuisions of the families of the children of the people, to offer vnto the Lord, as it is written in the booke of Moses, and o of the bullockes.

13 And they roasted the Passouer with fire, according to the custome, but the sanctified things they sod in pots, pannes, and cauldrons, and distributed them quickly to all the people.

14 Afterward also they prepared for themselves and for the Priests: for the Priests the sons of Aaron were occupied in offering of burnt offerings, and the fat vntill night: therefore the Leuites prepared for them selues, and for the Priests the sonnes of Aaron.

15 And the singers the sonnes of Asaph stood in their standing according to the commandement of Dauid, and Asaph, and Heman, and Ieduthun the Kings Ser: and the porters at every gate, who might not depart from their seruice: therefore their brethren the Leuites prepared for them.

16 So all the seruice of the Lord was prepared the same day to keepe the Passouer, and to offer burnt offerings vpon the altar of the Lord according to the commandement of King Iosiah.

17 And the children of Israel that were present, kept the Passouer the same time, and the feast of the vneleuened bread seven dayes.

18 And there was no Passouer kept like that in Israel, from the dayes of Samuel the Prophet: neither

This declareth that is the end of Gods threatening, to call his people to repentance, and to assure the vrepentant of their destruction.
It may appeare that very few were truly repentant, seeing that God spared them for a time only for the Kings sake.

Iosiah as much as he might, was not old, could be exempted from the curses contained therein: if they did not believe, he knew experienced to all men was his due to see it read to all sorts, that every one might learn to knowe those punishments by serving God aright: because he had charge over all, and must answer for every one that perished: he thought it his duty to see that all should make profession to receive the word of God.

Then the people of the land tooke Iehoaahaz the sonne of Iofiah, and made him king in his fathers stead in Ierusalem.

2 Iehoaahaz was three and twenty yeere olde when he began to reigne, and hee reigned three moneths in Ierusalem.

3 And the king of Egypt tooke him away at Ierusalem, and condemned the land in an hundredth talents of filuer, and a talent of gold.

4 ¶ And the king of Egypt made Eliakim his brother king over Iudah and Ierusalem, and turned his name to Iehoiakim: and Necho tooke Iehoaahaz his brother, and carried him to Egypt.

5 Iehoiakim was fixe and twenty yeere olde when he began to reigne, and hee reigned eluen yeeres in Ierusalem, and did euill in the fight of the Lord his God.

6 Against him came vp Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and bound him with chaines to carrie him to Babel.

7 Nebuchad-nezzar also carried of the vessels of the house of the Lord to Babel, and put them in his Temple at Babel.

8 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iehoi-akim, and his abominations which hee did, and that which was found vpon him, behold, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Israel his stead.

9 ¶ Iehoiachin was eight yeere olde when he began to reigne, and hee reigned three moneths fight of the Lord.

10 And when the yeere was out, King Nebuchad-nezzar sent and brought him to Babel, with the precious vessels of the house of the Lord, and he made Zedekiah his brother king over Iudah and Ierusalem.

11 Zedekiah was one and twentie yeere olde

in Ierusalem.

12 ¶ And hee did euill in the fight of the Lord his God, and humbled not himselfe before Iere-

Lord.

13 But he rebelled moreouer againft Nebuchad-nezzar, which had caused him to sweare by God: and hee hardened his necke and made his heart obstinate, that he might not returne to the Lord God of Israel.

14 All the chiefe of the Priests also and of the people trespassed wonderfully, according to all the abominations of the heathen, and polluted the house of the Lord which hee had sanctified in Ierusalem.

15 Therefore the Lord God of their fathers sent to them by his messengers, rising early and fending: for hee had compassion on his people, and on his habitation.

16 But they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his wordes, and misused his Prophets, vntill the wrath of the Lord arose against his people, and till there was no remedie.

17 For he brought vpon them the king of the Caldeans, who slew their young men with the sword in the house of their Sanctuary, and sparred neither yong man nor virgin, ancient, nor aged, God gaue all into his hand,

18 And all the vessels of the house of God great and small, and the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the king, and of his princes: all these carried he to Babel.

19 And they burnt the house of God, and brake downe the wall of Ierusalem, and burnt all the palaces thereof with fire: and all the precious vessels thereof, to destroy all.

20 And they that were left by the sword, carried he away to Babel, and they were seruants to

The prayer of Manasseh King of the Iewes.

This prayer is not in the Hebrew but is translated out of the Greek.

O Lord Almighty, God of our fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob, and of their righteous seedes, which hast made heauen and earth with all their ornament, which hast bound the sea by the word of thy commandement, which hast shut vp the deepe, and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious Name, whom all doe feare, and tremble before thy power: for the Maiestie of thy glory cannot be borne, and thine angry threatening toward sinners is importable, but thy mercifull promise is vnmeasurable and vnsearchable. For thou art the most high Lord, of great compassion, long suffering, and most mercifull, and repentest for mans miseries. Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodnesse hast promised a repentance and forgiveness to them that sin against thee, and for thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance vnto sinners that they may be saued. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the iust, hast not appointed repentance to the iust, as to Abraham, and Isaac, and Iacob, which haue not sinned against thee, but thou hast appointed repentance vnto me that am a sinner: for I haue sinned about the number of the sand of the sea. My transgressions, O Lord, are multiplied, my transgressions are exceeding many: and I am not worthy to behold and see the height of the heauens for the multitude of mine vnrighteousnesse, I am bowed down with many yron bands, that I cannot lift vp mine head, neither haue any release. For I haue prouoked thy wrath, and done euill before thee, I did not thy wil, neither kept I thy commandments. I haue set vp abominations, and haue multiplied offences. Now therefore I bow the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. I haue sinned, O Lord, I haue sinned, and I acknowledge my transgressions: but I humbly beseech thee, forgive me: O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with my transgressions. Be not angry with mee for euer by referring euill for me, neither condemne me into the lower parts of the earth. For thou art the God, euem the God of them that repent: and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodnes: for thou wilt saue mee that am vnworthy, according to thy great mercie: therefore I will praise thee for euer all the dayes of my life: for all the power of the heauens praye thee, and thine is the glory for euer and euer. Amen.

a Thou hast promised that repentance shall be the way for them to returne to thee. b Heere speaketh this in comparison of himselfe, and thoe holy fathers which haue their commendation in the Scriptures, so that in respect of himselfe, he calleth their sinnes nothing, but attributeth vnto them righteousness.

E Z R A.

THE ARGUMENT.

As the Lord is ever mercifull vnto his Church, and doeth not punish them, but to the intent they should see their owne miseries and bee exercised vnder the crosse, that they might contemne the world, and aspire vnto the heauens: so after that hee had visited the Iewes, and kept them now in bondage seuentie yeeres in a strange country among infidels and idolaters, hee remembered his tender mercies and their infirmities, and therefore for his owne sake rayed them vp a deliuerer, and moued both the heart of the chiefe ruler to pitie them, and also by him punished such, which had kept them in seruitude. Notwithstanding, lest they should grow into contempt of Gods great benefite, hee kepteth them still in exercise, and raiseth domesticall enemies, which inuadours as much as they can to hinder their most worthy enterprises: yet by the exhortation of the Prophets they went forward by little and little, till their worke was finished. The Authour of this booke was EZRA, who was Priest and Scribe of the Lawe, as Chap. 7. 6. Hee returned to Ierusalem the sixt yeere of Darius, who succeeded Cyrus, that is, about fiftie yeere after the returne of the first vnder Zerubbabel, when the Temple was built. Hee brought with him a great company and much treasures, with letters to the Kings officers for all such things as should bee necessarie for the Temple: and at his coming hee redressed that which was amisse, and set the things in good order.

12 Be it knowen vnto the king that the Iewes, which came vp from thee to vs, are come vnto Ierusalem (a citie rebellious and wicked) and build, and lay the foundations of the walles, and haue ioyned the foundations.

13 Be it knowen now vnto the king, that if this citie be built, and the foundations of the wals layd, they will not geue tolle, tribute, nor custome: so shalt thou hinder the kings tribute.

14 Now therefore because we haue bene brought vp in the Kings dishonour: for this cause haue we sent and certified the King,

15 That one may search in the booke of the Chronicles of the sachers, and thou shalt finde in the booke of the Chronicles, and perceiue that this citie is rebellious and noysome vnto kings and prouinces, and that they haue moued edition of olde time, for the which cause this citie was destroyed.

16 Wee certifie the king therefore, that if this citie be builded, and the foundation of the walles layd, by this means the portion beyond the Ruer shall not be thine.

17 ¶ The King sent an answer vnto Rehum the chanceller, and Shimshai the scribe, and to the rest of their companions that dwelt in Samaria, and vnto the other beyond the Ruer: Shalam and Cheeth.

18 ¶ The letter which yee sent vnto vs, hath bene openly read before mee,

19 And I haue commanded and they haue searched, and found, that this citie of olde time hath made inurrection against kings, and hath rebelled, and rebellion hath bene committed therein.

20 There haue bene mightie kings also ouer Ierusalem, which haue ruled ouer all beyond the Ruer, and tolle, tribute and custome was giuen vnto them.

21 Make ye now a decree that those men may cease, and that the citie be not built, till I haue giuen another commandement.

22 Take heede now that yee faile not to doe this: why should damage grow to hurt the king?

23 When the copie of king Artahastafte's letter was read before Rehū and Shimshai the scribe, and their companions, they went vp in all the haste to Ierusalem vnto the Iewes, and caused them to cease by force and power.

24 Then ceased the worke of the house of God, which was in Ierusalem, and did stay vnto the second yeere of Darius king of Persia.

CHAP. V.

1 Haggai and Zechariah are prophets. 2 The work of the Temple goes forward contrary to the wille of Darius. 3 His letters to Darius.

Then ¶ Haggai a Prophet, and Zechariah the sonne of Iddo a Prophet prophesied vnto the Iewes that were in Iudah, and Ierusalem, in the name of the God of Israel, euen vnto them.

2 Then Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel and Ieshua the sonne of Iozadak arose, and began to builde the house of God at Ierusalem, and with them were the Prophets of God, which helped them.

3 ¶ At the same time came to them Tatnai, which was captaine beyond the Ruer, and Shether-boznai and their companions, and said thus vnto them, Who hath giuen you commandement to builde this house, and to lay the foundation of the wals?

4 ¶ Then said we vnto them after this manner, What are the names of the men that builde this building?

5 But the eye of their God was vpon the Elders of the Iewes, that they could not cause them to cease, till the matter came to Darius: and then they answered by letters thereunto.

6 The copie of the letter, that Tatnai captaine beyond the Ruer, and Shether-boznai and his companions, Apharsachis, (which were beyond the ruer) sent vnto king Darius.

7 They sent a letter vnto him, wherein it was written thus, VNTO DARIUS the King, all peace.

8 Be it knowen vnto the King, that we went into the prouince of Iudea, to the house of the great God, which is builded with great stones, and beames are laid in the wals, and this worke is wrought speedily, and prospereth in their hands.

9 Then asked we the Elders, and sayd vnto them thus, Who hath giuen you commandement to build this house, and to lay the foundation of the wals?

1 Some reade, for Shalam, salutation or greeting. m Called also Cheeneth as verse 10.

n Not altogether: for the Prophets exhorted them to continue, but they wold lesse diligence because of the troubles.

10r, Haggai. 11r, Haggai. 12r, Haggai.

a Which incouraged them to goe forward, and accused them that they were more careful to builde their own houses, then zealous to builde the Temple of God.

b That is, the enemies as tho't this, as verse 10.

c His favour and the spirit of strength.

10r, marble.

10 We asked their names also that wee might certifie thee, and that we might write the names of the men that were their rulers.

11 But they answered vs thus and said, We are the seruants of the God of heauen and earth, and builde the house that was built of old: and many yeeres agoe, which a great king of Israel builded, and founded it.

12 But after that our fathers had prouoked the God of heauen vnto wrath, hee gaue them ouer into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel the Chaldean, and he destroyed this house, and caried the people away captiue vnto Babel.

13 But in the first yeere of Cyrus king of Babel, King Cyrus made a decree to builde this house of God.

14 And the vessels of golde and siluer of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar tooke out of the Temple that was in Ierusalem, and brought them into the Temple of Babel, those did Cyrus King take out of the Temple of Babel, & they gaue them vnto one Shehbazzar by his name, whom he had made captaine.

15 And he saide vnto him, Take these vessels an lgo thy way, and put them in the Temple that is in Ierusalem, and let the house of God be built in his place.

16 Then came the same Shehbazzar and layde the foundation of the house of God, which is in Ierusalem, and since that time euen vntill now hath it bene in building, yet is it not finished.

17 Now therefore if it please the king, let there bee search made in the house of the kings treasures, which is there in Babel, whether a decree hath bene made by king Cyrus, to builde his house of God in Ierusalem, and let the King send his mind concerning this.

CHAP. VI.

As the commandment of Darius king of Persia, after the Temple was builded and dedicate, the children of Israel keep the feast of the same as we do.

Then King Darius gaue commandment, and they made search in the library of the treasures, which were there layd vp in Babel.

2 And there was found in a coffer (in the palace that was in the prouince of the Medes) a volume, and therein was it thus written, as a memoriall.

3 In the first yeere of King Cyrus, King Cyrus made a decree for the house of God in Ierusalem. Let the house be built, and let the place where they offered sacrifices, and let the walles thereof be ioyned together: let the height thereof be threecore cubites, and the breadth thereof threecore cubites.

4 Three orders of great stones, and one order of timber, and let the expences be giuen of the kings house.

5 And also let them render the vessels of the house of God (of golde and siluer, which Nebuchadnezzar tooke out of the Temple, which was in Ierusalem, and brought vnto Babel) and let him go vnto the Temple that is in Ierusalem to his place, and put them in the house of God.

6 Therefore Tatnai captaine beyond the Riuer, and Shethar Boznai, (and their companions Apharsace, which are beyond the Riuer,) be ye farre from thence.

7 Suffer ye the worke of this house of God, that the captaine of the Iewes and the Elders of the Iewes may builde this house of God in his place.

8 For I haue giuen a commandment what ye shall doe to the Elders of the Iewes, for the building of this house of God, that of the reuenues of the king, which is of the tribute beyond the Riuer, there be incontinently expences giuen vnto these men that they cease not.

9 And that which they shall haue neede of let it be giuen vnto them day by day, whether it be yong bullockes, or rammes, or lambes for the burnt offerings of the God of heauen, wheat, salt, wine and oyle, according to the appointment of the Priests that are in Ierusalem, that there be no fault.

10 That they may haue to offer sweet odours vnto the God of heauen, and pray for the kings life, and for his honours.

11 And I haue made a decree, that who soeuer shall alter this sentence, the wood shall be pulled downe from his house, and shall be set vp, and he shall be hanging thereon, and his house shall be made a dunghill for this.

12 And the God that hath caused his name to dwell there, destroy all kings and people that put to their hand to alter and to destroy this house of God, which is in Ierusalem. I Darius haue made a decree, let it be done with speed.

13 Then Tatnai the Captaine beyond the Riuer, and Shethar Boznai and their companions, according to that which Darius had sent, so they did speedily.

14 So the elders of the Iewes builded, & they prospered by the prophesying of Haggai the Prophet, & Zechariah the sonne of Iddo, & they builded and finished it, by the appointment of the God of Israel, and by the commandment of Cyrus and Darius, and Artahastate king of Persia.

15 And this house was finished the third day of the month of Adar, which was the sixth yeere of the reigne of King Darius.

16 And the children of Israel, the Priests, and the Leuites, and the residue of the children of the captiuitie kept the dedication of this house of God with ioy.

17 And offered at the dedication of this house of God an hundred bullockes, two hundred rammes, foure hundred lambes, and twelue goats for the sinne of all Israel, according to the number of the tribes of Israel.

18 And they set the Priests in their order, and the Leuites in their Courses ouer the seruice of God in Ierusalem, as it is written in the booke of Moses.

19 And the children of the captiuitie kept the Pascheouer on the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

20 (For the Priests and the Leuites were purified altogether) and they killed the Pascheouer for all the children of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the Priests, and for themselves.

21 So the children of Israel which were come againe out of captiuitie, and all such as had separated themselves vnto them, from the filthinesse of the heathen of the land, to seeke the Lord God of Israel, did eat.

22 And they kept the feast of vnleavened bread seuen dayes with ioy for the Lord had made them glad, and turned the heart of the king of Assyria vnto them, to incourage them in the worke of the house of God, and the God of Israel.

C H A P. VII.

1 By the commandments of the King, Ezra and his companions come to Ierusalem. 27 He giveth 16 talers to God.

a The Ebreues write, that diuers of the Kings of Persia were called by this name, as Pharoah was a common name to the kings of Egypt, and Cesar to the Romaine Emperours.

b Ezra dedueth his kindred, till hee cometh to Aaron, to shew that hee came of him. c Hee sheweth here what a Scribe is, who had charge to write the Law and to expound it, whom Marke calleth a Scribe, Mark 23 35 Matthew 23 34 Luke 10 40. d That contained part of Italy, and part of Anglia. e Of King Darius.

NOW after these things, in the reign of ^a Artahastate king of Persia, was Ezra the sonne of Seraiah, the sonne of Azariah, the sonne of Hilkiah,

2 The sonne of Shallum, the sonne of Zadok, the sonne of Ahitub,

3 The sonne of Amariah, the sonne of Azariah, the sonne of Merioth,

4 The sonne of Seraiah, the sonne of Vzzi, the sonne of Bukki,

5 The sonne of Abihua, the sonne of Phinehas, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of ^b Aaron, the chiefe Priest.

6 This Ezra came vp from Babel, and was a scribe, prompt in the Law of Moses, which the Lord God of Israel had giuen, and the king gaue him all his request according to the hand of the Lord his God, which was vpon him.

7 And there went vp certaine of the children of Israel, and of the Priests, and the Leuites, and the singers, and the porters, and the Nehemins vnto Ierusalem, in the seuen yere of king Artahastate.

8 And hee came to Ierusalem in the ^d fifth moneth, which was in the seuen yere ^e of the king.

9 For vpon the first day of the first moneth began hee to goe vp from Babel, and on the first day of the fifth moneth came hee to Ierusalem according to the good hand of his God that was vpon him.

10 For Ezra had prepared his heart to seeke the Law of the Lord, and to doo it, and to teach the precepts and iudgements in Israel.

11 ¶ And this is the copie of the letter that king Artahastate gaue vnto Ezra the Priest and Scribe, when a writer of the wordes of the commandments of the Lord, and of his statutes ouer Israel.

12 ARTAHASHTATE king of kings, to Ezra the Priest and persite Scribe of the Lawe of the God of heauen, and to ^f the Chenech.

13 I haue giuen commandment, that euery one that is willing in my kingdom of the people of Israel, and of the Priests and Leuites, ^g to goe to Ierusalem with thee, shall goe.

14 Therefore art thou sent of the king and his seuen counsellors, to ^h inquire in Iudah and Ierusalem, according to the Law of thy God, which is in thine hand,

15 And to cary the siluer and the gold, which the king and his counsellors willingly offer vnto the God of Israel (whose habitation is in Ierusalem)

16 And all the siluer and gold that thou canst find in all the prouince of Babel, with the free offering of the people, and that which the Priests offer willingly to the house of their God which is in Ierusalem,

17 That thou mayest buy speedily with this siluer, bullockes, rammes, lambs, with their meate offerings and their drinke offerings: and thou shalt offer them vpon the altar of the house of thy God, which is in Ierusalem.

18 And whatsoever it pleaseth thee and thy brethren to doe with the rest of the siluer and golde, doe ye it according to the will of your God.

h As ye knoweth me serueto Gods glory.

19 And the vessels that are giuen thee for the seruice of the house of thy God, whose desire thou before God in Ierusalem.

20 And the siluer that shall be needfull for the house of thy God, which shall I enete for thee to bestow, thou shalt bestow it out of the kings treasure house.

21 And I king Artahastate haue giuen commandment to all the treasures which are beyond the River, that whatsoever Ezra the Priest and Scribe of the Law of the God of heauen shall require of you, that it be done incontinently, 22 Vnto an hundred talents of siluer, vnto an hundred measures of wheat, and vnto an hundred baths of wine, and vnto an hundred baths of oyle, and salt without writing.

23 Whatsoeuer by the commandment of the God of heauen, let it be done speedily for the house of the God of heauen: for why should hee be wroth against the realm of the king and his children?

24 And we certifye you, that vpon any of the Priests, Leuites, singers, porters, Nehemins, or Ministers in the house of God, there shall no gouernour lay vpon them tolles, tribute, nor custome.

25 And thou Ezra (after the wisdom of thy God that is in thine hand) ⁱ let iudges and arbiters, which may iudge all the people that is beyond the River: when all that know the law of thy God, and teach ye them that know it not.

26 And whosoever will not doe the Lawe of thy God, and the kings law, let him haue iudgement without delay, whether it be vnto death, or to banishment, or to confiscation of goods, or to imprisonment.

27 Blessed be the Lord God of our fathers, which so hath put in the kings heart, to beautifie the house of the Lord that is in Ierusalem, 28 And hath inclined mercy toward me, before the king and his counsellors, and before all the kings mightie Princes: and I was comforted by the hand of the Lord my God which was vpon me, and I gathered the chiefe of Israel to goe vp with me.

11 And of the sonnes of Bebai, Zechariah the sonne of Bebai, and with him eight and twentie males.

12 And of the sonnes of Azgad, Iohanan the sonne of Hikkatan, and with him an hundred and ten males.

13 And of the sonnes of Adonikam, that were the last, whose names are these: Eliphelet, Iehiel, and Shemaiah, and with them threecore males.

14 And of the sonnes of Biguai, Vthai, and Zabbud, and with them seuentie males.

15 And I gathered them to the river that goeth toward Ahava, and there abode we three dayes: then I viewed the people, and the Priests, and found there none of the sonnes of Levi.

16 Therefore sent I to Eliezer, to Ariel, to Shemeiah, and to Elnathan, and to Iarib, and to Elnathan, and to Nathan, and to Zechariah, and to Meshullam the chiefe, and to Iochabib, and to Elnathan, men of vnderstanding:

17 And I gaue them commandement, to Iddo the chiefe at the place of Caliphia, and I tolde them the words that they should speake to Iddo, and to his brethren the Nethinims at the place of Caliphia, that they should cause the ministers of the house of our God to come vnto vs.

18 So by the good hand of our God, which was vpon vs, they brought vs a man of vnderstanding of the sonnes of Mahli the sonne of Levi the sonne of Israel, and Sherebiah with his sonnes and his brethren, even eighteen.

19 Also Hashabiah, and with him Ieshaiah of the sonnes of Merari, with his brethren, and their sonnes twentie.

20 And of the Nethinims, whom David had set, and the Princes for the seruice of the Levites, two hundred & twentie of the Nethinims, which all were named by name.

21 And there at the river, by Ahava, I proclaimed a fast, that we might humble ¹ our selues before our God, & seeke of him a right way for vs, and for our children, and for all our substance.

22 For I was ashamed to require of the king an armie and horsemen, to helpe vs against the enemy in the way, because we had spoken to the king, saying, The hand of our God ^u vpon all them that seeke him in goodnesse, but his power and his wrath ^u against all them that forsake him.

23 So we fasted, and besought our God for this: and he was intreated of vs.

24 Then I separated twelue of the chiefe of the Priests, Sherebiah, and Hashabiah, and ten of their brethren with them.

25 And we weighed them the silver and the gold, and the vessels, even the offering of the house of our God, which the king and his counsellors, and his princes, and all Israel that were present had offered.

26 And I weighed vnto their hand fixe hundred and fiftie ^b talents of silver, and in silver vessel, an hundred talents, and in gold, an hundred talents.

27 And twenty basins of gold, of a thousand drammes, and two vessels of shining brasie very good, and precious as golde.

28 ¶ And I said vnto them, Ye are consecrate vnto the Lord, and the vessels are freely offered vnto the Lord God of your fathers, 29 Watch yee, and keepe them vntil ye weigh them before the chiefe Priests and the Levites, and the chiefe fathers of Israel in Ierusalem in the chambers of the house of the Lord.

30 So the Priests and the Levites receiued the weight of the silver, and of the golde, and of the vessels to bring them to Ierusalem, vnto the house of our God.

31 ¶ Then we departed from the river of Ahava on the twelue day of the first month, to go vnto Ierusalem, and the hand of our God was vpon vs, and deliuered vs from the hand of the enemy, and of such as laid ^u wait by the way.

32 And we came to Ierusalem, and abode there three daies.

33 And on the fourth day was the silver weighed, and the gold, and the vessel, in the house of our God, by the hand of Meremoth the sonne of Uriah the Priest, and with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinehas, and with them was Iozabab the sonne of Ioshua, and Noadiah the sonne of Binnui the Levites, 34 By number and by weight of euery one, and all the weight was written at the same time.

35 All the children of the captiuitie, which were come out of captiuitie, offered burnt offerings vnto the God of Israel, twelve bullockes for all Israel, ninetie and sixe rammes, seuentie and euen lambes, and twelue hee goates for sinne: all was a burnt offering of the Lord.

36 And they deliuered the kings commission vnto the kings officers, and to the captaines beyond the river, and they promoted the people, and the house of God.

CHAP. IX.

2 For they haue taken their daughters to themselves, and to their sonnes, and they haue mixed the holy seed with the people of the lands, and the hand of the Princes & rulers hath bene chiefe in this trespass.

3 But when I heard this saying, I rent my clothes and my garment, and plucked off the haire of mine head, and of my beard, and Iate down ^u as a sinned.

4 And there assembled vnto me all that feared the words of the God of Israel, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie. And I sate downe astonished vntil the euening sacrifice.

5 And at the euening sacrifice I rose vp from mine heavinesse, and when I had rent my clothes and my garment, I fell vpon my knees, and pread out mine hands vnto the Lord my God,

6 And said, O my God, I am confounded and ashamed, to lift vp mine eyes vnto thee my God: for 7 From the daies of our fathers haue we bene in a great tre paffe vnto th s day, and for our in-iquities haue wee, our Kings, and our Priests bene deliuered into the hand of the kings of the lands, vnto the word, into captiuitie, into a spoile, and into confusion of face, as appeareth this day.

8 And now for a little space grace hath bene shewed from the Lord our God, in causing a remnan to escape, and in giuing vs a nable in his holy place, that our God may light our eyes, and giue vs a little reuiuing in our seruitude.

9 For though we were bondmen, yet our God hath not forsaken vs in our bondage, but hath inclined mercy vnto vs in the fight of the Kings of Persia, to giue vs life, and to erect the house of our God, and to redresse the desolate places thereof, and to giue vs a wall in Iudah and in Ierusalem.

10 And now, our God, what shall we say after this? for we haue forsaken thy commandements,

11 Which thou hast commanded by thy ser-uants the Prophets, saying, * The land whereunto ye go to possesse it, is an vncleane land, because of the filthinesse of the people of the lands, which by their abominations, and by their vncleannesse haue filled it from corner to corner.

12 Now therefore shal ye not giue your daughters vnto your sonnes, neither shal ye take their daughters vnto your sons, nor seeke their peace nor wealth for euer, that ye may be strong and eate the goodnesse of the land, and leaue it for an inheritance to your sonnes for euer.

13 And after all that is come vpon vs for our euil deeds, and for our great trespasses, (seeing that thou our God hast stayed vs from being beneath for our iniquities, and hast giuen vs such deliuerance)

14 Should we returne to breake thy com-mandements, and ioine in affinitie with the people of such abominations? wouldst not thou be angrie toward vs till thou haddest consumed vs, so that there should be no remnant, nor any escaping?

15 O Lord God of Israel, thou art iust, for we haue bin ^h referred to escape, as appeareth this day:
behold, we are before thee in our tre paffe: therefore we cannot stand before thee, because of it.

C A H P. X.

^a The people repents and turns, and put on a new heart, strange wives.
Whiles Ezra prayed thus, and ^a confessed himself weeping, and falling downe before the house of God, there assembled vnto him of Israel, a very great Congregation of men, and women and children: for the people wept with a great lamentation.

2 Then Shechaniah the sonne of Iehiel one of the sonnes of Elam answered, and said to Ezra, We haue trespassed against our God, and haue taken strange wives of the people of the land, yet now there is hope in Israel concerning this.

3 Now therefore let vs make a couenant with our God, to put away all the wives (and such as are borne of them) according to the counsell of the Lord, and of those that feare the Commandements of our God, and let it be done according to the Law.

4 Arise: for the matter ^d belongeth vnto thee: we also will be with thee: be of comfort and doe it.

5 ¶ Then arose Ezra, and caused the chiefe Priests, the Leuites, and all Israel, to sweare that they would doe according to this word. So they swore.

6 * And Ezra rose vp from before the house of God, and went into the chamber of Iohanan the sonne of Eliashib: hee went euen thither, but he did eat neither bread, nor drinke water: for he mourned, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie.

7 And they caused a proclamation to goe throughout Iudah and Ierusalem, vnto all them of the captiuitie, that they should assemble themselves vnto Ierusalem.

8 And whosoever would not come within three daies, according to the counsell of the Princes and Elders, all his substance should be forfeited, and he should be separate from the Congregation of them of the captiuitie.

9 ¶ Then all the men of Iudah and Benjamin assembled themselves vnto Ierusalem within three daies, which was the twentieth day of the ^e ninth moneth, and all the people sate in the street of the house of God, trembling for this matter, and for the raine.

10 And Ezra the Priest stood vp, and said vnto them, Yee haue transgressed, and haue taken strange wives, to increase the trespasses of Israel.

11 Now therefore ^h giue praise vnto the Lord God of your fathers, and do his will, and separate your selves from the people of the land, and from the strange wives.

12 And all the Congregation answered, and said with a loud voice, So will we doe according to thy words vnto vs.

13 But the people are many, and it is a raine weather, and we are not able to stand without, neither ⁱ is the worke of one day or two: for we are many that haue offended in this thing.

14 Let our rulers stand therefore ⁱ before al the Congregation, and let all them which haue taken strange wives in our cities, come at the time appointed, and with them the Elders of euery citie, and the Iudges thereof, till the fierce wrath of our God for this matter turne away from vs.

15 Then were appointed Ionathan the sonne of Ashael, and Iahaziah the sonne of Tiknah ouer this matter, and Meshullam and Shabbethai the Leuites helped them.

16 And they of the captiuitie did so, and ^k departed, when Ezra the Priest, and the men that were chiefe fathers to the family of their fathers by name, and sate downe in the first day of the tenth moneth to examine the matter.

17 And vntill the first day of the first moneth they were finishing the businesse with all the men that had taken strange wives.

18 And of the sonnes of the Priests there were men found, that had taken strange wives, to wit, of the sonnes of Ieshua, the sonne of Iozadak, and of his brethren, Maaseiah, Aeliezer, and Iarib, and Gedaliah.

19 And they gaue their hands that they would put away their wives, and they that had trespassed, gaue a ranme for their trespass.

NEHEMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

GOd doeth in all ages and at all times, ^a set up worthy persons for the commoditie and profite of his Church, as now within the compass of fiftie yeeres: hee raised up divers excellent men for the preservation of his people, after their returne from Babylon, as Zerubbabel, Ezra and Nehemiah. Whereof the first was their Captain to bring them home, and provided that the Temple was builded: the second reformed their manners, and planted Religion: and the third builded up the walls, delivered the people from oppression, and provided that the Law of God was put in execution among them. He was a godly man, and in great authoritie with the King, so that the King favoured him greatly, and gave him most ample Letters for the accomplishment of all things which hee could desire. This booke is also called of the Latines the second of Ezra, because hee was the writer thereof.

CHAP. I.

^a Nehemiah bewaileth the calamitie of Ierusalem ^b He confesseth the sinnes of the people, and prayeth God for them.

THe words of Nehemiah the sonne of Hachaliah. In the moneth ^a Chilleu, in the twentieth yere as I was in the palace of Shulhan, 2 Came Hanani, one of my brethren, he and the men of Iudah, and I asked them concerning the Iewes that were delivered, which were of the residue of the captiuitie, and concerning Ierusalem.

3 And they said vnto mee, The residue that are left of the captiuitie there in the ^c province, are in great affliction and in reproch, and the wall of Ierusalem is broken downe, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire.

4 And when I heard these words, I fate downe and wept, and mourned certaine daies, and I fasted and prayed before the God of heauen,

5 And said, ^a O Lord God of heauen, the great and terrible God, that keepeth covenant and mercie for them that loue him, and obserue his Commandements,

6 I pray thee let thine eares bee attent, and thine eyes open, to heare the prayer of thy servant, which I pray before thee daily, day and night for the children of Israel thy seruants, and confesse the finnes of the children of Israel, which wee haue sinned against thee, both I and my fathers house haue sinned:

7 Wee haue grievously sinned against thee, and haue not kept the Commandements, nor the Statutes, nor the Iudgements, which thou commandest thy servant Moses.

8 I beseech thee, remember the word that thou commandest thy servant Moses, saying, Yee will transgresse, and ^a I will scatter you abroad among the people.

9 But if yee returne vnto mee, and keepe my Commandements, and doe them, ^a though your scattering were to the vttermost part of the heauen, yet will I gather you from thence, and will bring you vnto the place that I haue chosen to place my Name there.

10 Now the ^a e are thy seruants and thy people whom thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy mighty hand.

11 O Lord, I beseech thee, let thine eare now hearken to the prayer of thy servant, and to the prayer of thy seruants, who desire to ^a feare thy Name, and I pray thee, cause thy servant to prosper this day, and giue him fauour in the presence of this man: for I was the Kings butler.

CHAP. II.

^a After Nehemiah had obtained Letters of Artaxerxes, he came to Ierusalem, and builded the walls.

Now in the moneth ^a Nisim in the twentieth yere of King ^b Artahashadre the Wine stood before him, and Iooke vp the Wine, and gaue it vnto the King. Now I was not beforetime: I ad in his presence:

2 And the King saide vnto mee, Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou art not sicke? this is nothing, but sorrow of heart. Then was I fore afraid,

3 And I saide to the King, God saue the King for ever: why should not my countenance be sad, when the citie and house of the sepulchres of my fathers lieth waste, and the gates thereof are deuoured with fire?

4 And the King said vnto me, For what thing doest thou require? Then I prayed ^a to the God of heauen, ^b Who is also called Darius, read Ezra 7. 1. and was the sonne of Hytaspis.

^a I desired God in mine heart to prosper mine enterprise,

5 And said vnto the king, If it please the king, and if thy seruant haue found fauour in thy sight, I desire that thou wouldest send me to Iudah vnto the city of the sepulchres of my fathers, that I may build it.

6 And the King said vnto mee, (the Queene also sitting by him) How long shall thy journey bee? and when wilt thou come againe? So it pleased the King, and he sent me, and I set him a time.

7 After, I sayd vnto the King, If it please the king, let them giue me letters to the capitaines beyond the || river, that they may conuey me ouer, till I come into Iudah,

8 And letters vnto Alaph the keeper of the Kings || parke, that hee may giue mee timber to build the gates of the palace (which appertained to the house) and for the walles of the citie, and for the house that I shall enter into. And the king gaue mee according to ^d the good hand of my God vpon me.

9 Then came I to the capitaines beyond the River, and gaue them the Kings letters. And the King had lent capitaines of the armie and horsemen with me.

10 But Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah a seruant and Ammonite heard it, and it grieved them fore, that there was come a man which sought the wealth of the children of Israel.

11 So I came to Ierusalem, and was there three dayes.

12 And I rose in the night, I, and a few men with mee: for I told no man, what God had put in mine heart to doe at Ierusalem, and there was not a mine with mee, saue the beast whereon I rode.

13 And I went out by night by the gate of the valley, and came before the dragon well, and to the dung port, and viewed the walles of Ierusalem, how they were broken downe, and the ports thereof deuoted with the fire.

14 Then I went fourth vnto the gate of the || fountaine, and to the kings fishpools, and there was no roume for the beast that was vnder me to passe.

15 Then went I vp in the night by the brooke, and viewed the wall and turned backe, and coming backe, I entered by the gate of the valley, and returned.

16 And the rulers knew not whither I was gone, nor what I did, neither did I as yet tell it vnto the Iewes, nor to the Priests, nor to the noble men, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that laboured in the worke.

17 Afterward I said vnto them, Yee see the misery that wee are in, how Ierusalem lieth waste, and the gates thereof are burned with fire: come, let vs build the wall of Ierusalem, that we be no more a reproch.

18 Then I told them of the hand of my God, (which was good ouer me) and also of the kings words that hee had spoken vnto mee. And they said, Let vs rise, and build. So they strengthened their hand to good.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the seruant and Ammonite, and Geshem the Arabian heard it, they mocked vs, and despised vs, and said, What a thing is this that ye doe? Will ye rebell against the King?

20 Then answered I them, and said to them, The God of heauen, he will prosper vs, and we his seruants will rise vp and build, but as for you, ye haue no portion, nor right, nor memoriall in Ierusalem,

God (to whom he hath appointed this citie onely) neither did hee call us to build God.

Then arose Eliasib the hie Priest with his brethren the Priests: and they built the shep-gate they repaired it, and set vp the doores thereof: euen vnto the tower of Meah repaired they it, and vnto the tower of Hananeel.

2 And next vnto him builded the men of Iericho, and beside him Zaccur the sonne of Imri.

3 But the fifth port did the sonnes of Senaah build, which also layd the beames thereof, and the barres thereof.

4 And next vnto them fortified Merimoth, the sonne of Uriah, the sonne of Hakkoz: and next vnto them fortified Meshullam, the sonne of Berechiah, the sonne of Mehezabel: and next vnto them for the fortified the Zadok, the sonne of Baana:

5 And next vnto them fortified the Tekoites: but the great men of them put not their neckes to the worke of their lords.

6 And the gate of the * old fishpools fortified Iehoiada the sonne of Paiech, and Meshullam the sonne of Besodai: they layd the beames thereof, and set on the doores thereof, and the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

7 Next vnto them also fortified Melatiah the Gibeonite, and Iadon the Meronothite, men of Gibeon, and of Mizpah, vnto the throne of the Duke, which was beyond the river.

8 Next vnto him fortified Vzzai the sonne of Harhobiah || of the goldsmiths: next vnto him also fortified Hananiah the sonne || of Harakkahim, and they repaired Ierusalem vnto the broad wall.

9 Also next vnto them fortified Rephaiah, the sonne of Hur, the ruler of the halfe part of Ierusalem.

10 And next vnto him fortified Iedaiah the sonne of Harumaph, euen ouer against his house: and next vnto him fortified Hatzuth, the sonne of Hashabniah.

11 Malchijah the sonne of Harim, and Hashub the sonne of Pahath Moab fortified the second || portion, and the tower of the furnaces.

12 Next vnto him also fortified Shallum the sonne of Halloth, the ruler of the halfe part of Ierusalem, he and his daughters.

13 The valley gate fortified Hanan, and the inhabitants of Zanaah: they built it and set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof, euen a thousand cubits on the wall vnto the dung port.

14 But the dung port fortified Malchiah the sonne of Rechab, the ruler of the fourth part of Beth-haccarem: hee built it, and set on the doores thereof: the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

15 But the gate of the fountaine fortified Shallum the sonne of Col-hozeh, the ruler of the fourth part of Mizpah: hee builded it and covered it, and set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof, and the wall

CHAP. IIIII.

⁷ The building of Ierusalem is hindered. ¹⁵ But God breaketh her enterprise. ¹⁷ The tower build with one hand, and holdeth their weapons in the other.

BUt when Sanballat heard that wee builded the wall, then was he wroth and fore grieved, and mocked the Iewes,

2 And sayd before his brethren and the armie of Samaria, thus hee sayd, What doe these weake Iewes? will they fortifie themselves? will they sacrifice? will they finish it in a day? will they make the stonnes whole againe out of the heapes of dust, seeing they are burnt?

3 And Tobiah the Ammonite was beside him, and said, Although they build, yet if a foxe goe vp, hee shall euen breake downe their stonie wall.

4 Heare, O our God (for wee are despised) and turne their shame vpon their owne head, and giue them vnto a pray^d in the land of their captiuitie,

5 And couer not their iniquitie, neither let their sinne bee put out in thy presence: for they haue prouoked ^u before the builders.

6 So wee build the wall, and all the wall was ioyned vnto the ^l halfe thereof, and the heart of the people was to worke.

7 But when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Ashdodims heard that the wall of Ierusalem were repaired, (for the breaches began to be stopped) then they were very wroth,

8 And conspired all together to come and to fight against Ierusalem, and to ^h hinder them.

9 Then wee prayed vnto our God, and let watchmen by them, day and night, because of them.

10 And Iudah said, The strength of the bearers is weakened, and there is much earth, so that we are not able to build the wall.

11 Also our aduerariers had said, They shal not know, neither see, till wee come into the mids of them, and slay them, and cause the worke to cease.

12 But when the Iewes (which dwelt beside them) came, they told vs ¹⁰ ten times, ^g From all places, whence yee shall returne, they will bee vpon vs.

13 Therefore set I in the lower places behind the wall vpon the tops of the stones, and placed the people by their families, with their swordes, their speares, and their bowes.

14 Then I beheld, and rose vp, and said vnto the princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people. Bee not afraid of them: ^h remember the great Lord, and fearefull, and fight for your brethren, your sonnes, and your daughters, your wines, and your houses.

15 And when our enemies heard that it was known vnto vs, then God brought their counsell to nought, and we turned all againe to the wall, euery one vnto his worke,

16 And from that day halfe of the yong men did the labour, and the other halfe part of them held the speares, and shields, and bowes, and habergeons: and the rulers stood ⁱ behinde all the house of Iudah.

17 They that builded on the wall, and they that bare burdens, and they that laded, did the worke with one hand, and with the other held the sword.

18 For euery one of the builders had his sword girt on his loines, and so builded: and hee that blew the trumpet, was beside me.

19 Then said I vnto the Princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The worke is great and large, and wee are separated vpon the wall, one farre from another.

Of his companions that dwelt in Samaria.

Thus the wicked that consider that Gods power is in a readinesse for the defence of his, mocke them as though they were weake and feeble.

This is the remedie that the children of God haue against the curse and threatnings of their enemies, to see to God by prayer, let them bee spile dand led away captiue.

Let thy plague declare to ^g world that they let themselves against thee, and against thy Church: thus he prayeth, ouerly

ing respect to Gods glory, & for any priuat affection, or grudge.

For, halfe breath, they make to fly, meaning the people.

That is often times.

They which brought the tidings, said thus.

When you leane your worke, and goe either to cate, to rest, or to recreation, we will assure you.

Who is neuer at hand to deliuer his out of danger: and therefore seeing they should fight for maintenance of Gods glory, and for the preservation of their owne liues, and of theirs, hee encourageth them to play the valiant men.

To oversee them and to encourage them to their worke.

k Meaning, to resist their enemies, if neede required.

l That is, when they were purified themselves, or (as when they washed their clothes.

a Against their which which oppressed them.

b This is the complaint of the people, shewing to what extremity they were brought vnto.

c To pay our tribute to the king of the Persians, which was exacted yearly of vs.

d By nature the rich is no better then the poore.

e We are not able to redeeme them, but for pouerty are constrained to hire them to others.

f You presse them with vinty and seek how to bring all things into your hands.

g Both Because they should be moued with pitié, seeing how many were by them oppressed, & also because the iudgement of others, which should be as it were witnesses of their dealing toward their brethren.

h Seeing God hath once deliuered them from the bondage of the heathen, shall we make them our slaves?

i Meaning, Nehemiah.

k Who by this occasion will blaspheme the Name of God, seeing that our aduersaries are no better then theirs.

l Or, iury. j Which yetake of them for the losse.

20 In what place therefore yee heare the found of the tympanyt, ^k re'ort yee thither vnto vs: our God shall fight for vs.

21 So wee laboured in the worke, and halfe of them held the speares, from the appearing of the morning, till the starres came forth.

22 And at the same time sayd I vnto the people, Let euery one with his seruant lodge within Ierusalem, that they may be a watch for vs in the night, and labour in the day.

23 So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my seruants, nor the men of the ward (which followed me) none of vs did put off our clothes, saue euery one put them off ^l for washing.

CHAP. V.

Now there was a great crie of the people and of their wiues ^a against their brethren the Iewes.

2 For there were that sayd, Wee, our sons and our daughters are many, therefore wee take vp ^b corne, that we may eate and liue.

3 And there were that sayd, We must gage our lands, and our vineyards, and our houses, and take vp corne for the famine.

4 There were also that said, We haue borrowed money for the kings ^c tribute upon our landes and our vineyards.

5 And now our flesh ^d is as the ^d flesh of our brethren, and our sonnes as their sonnes: and loe, wee bring into subiection our sonnes and our daughters, as seruants, and there be of our daughters ^e now in subiection, and there ^e no power ^e in our hands: for other men ^e haue our lands and our vineyards.

6 Then was I very angry when I heard their crie and these words.

7 And I thought in my mind, and I rebuked the princes, and the rulers, and saide vnto them, You lay ^f burdens euery one upon his brethren: and I let a great g assembly against them.

8 And I said vnto them, Wee (according to our abilitie) haue redeemed our brethren the Iewes, which were sold vnto the heathen: and wil you sell your brethren againe, or shall they be ^g sold vnto vs? Then held they their peace, and could not answer.

9 I said also, That which ye do, is not good. Ought ye not to walke in the feare of our God, for the ^h reproch of the heathen our enemies?

10 For euen I, my brethren, and my seruants do lend them money and corne: I pray you let vs leaue off this ⁱ burden.

11 Restore, I pray you, vnto them this day their lands, their vineyards, their oliues, and their houses, and remit the hundredth part of the silver, and of the corne, of the wine, and of the oyle: that ye exact of them.

12 Then said they, We will restore it, and will not require it of them: wee wil doe as thou hast sayd, Then I called the Priests, and caused them to sweare, that they should doe according to this promise.

13 So I shooke my lappe, and sayd, So let God shake out euery man that will not performe this promise, from his house, and from his labour: euen thus let him be shaken out and emptied. And all the Congregation said, Amen, & praised the Lord: and the people did according to this promise.

14 And from the time that the King gaue mee charge to be gouernour in the land of Iudah, from the twentieth yere, euen vnto the two and thirtieth yere of King Artahabastre, that ^a twelve yere, I, & my brethren haue not eaten the ^a bread of the gouernour.

15 For the former gouernours that were before mee, had bene chargeable vnto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, besides forty shekels of siluer: yea, and their seruants bare rule over the people ^a but I did not I, because of the feare of God.

16 But rather I fortified a portion in the worke of this wall, and wee bought no land, and all my seruants came thither together vnto the worke.

17 Moreover there were at my Table an hundredth and fiftie of the Lewes, and rulers, which came vnto vs from among the heathen that are about vs.

18 And there was prepared dayly an ox, and fixe cho'en sheepe, and birds were prepared for me, and ^a within ten dayes wine for all ^a in abundance. Yet for all this I required not the bread of the gouernour: for the bondage was grievous vnto this people.

19 Remember me, O my God, in goodnesse, according to all that I haue done, for this people.

CHAP. VI.

b Nehemiah answereth with great wisdom, and saith to his aduersary, that hee is not discouraged by the false trap.

And when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and Geshem the Arabian, & the rest of our enemies heard that I had built the wall, and that there were no moe ^a breaches therein (though at that time I had not let vp the doores vpon the gates.

2 Then sent Sanballat and Gethem vnto me, saying, Come thou that we may meete together in the villages in the plaine of Ono: and they thought to doe me euill.

3 Therefore I sent messengers vnto them, saying, I haue a great worke to doe, and I cannot come downe: ^b why should the worke cease, whiles I leaue it, and come downe to you?

4 Yet they sent vnto mee foure times after this sort. And I answered them after the same manner.

5 Then sent Sanballat his seruant after this sort vnto mee the fift time, with an open letter in his hand,

6 Wherein was written, It is reported among the heathen, and ^a Gashmu hath said it, that thou and the Iewes thinke to rebel, for the which cause thou buildest the wall, and thou wilt beathir King, according to these ^a words.

7 Thou hast also ordeined ^a the Prophets to preach of thee at Ierusalem, saying, There is a King in Iudah: and now according to these words it shall come to the Kings eares: come now therefore, and let vs take counsell together.

8 Then I sent vnto him, saying, It is not done according to these words that thou sayest: for thou seinest them of thine owne heart.

9 For all they afraid vs, saying, Their hands shall be weakened from the worke, and it shal not be done: now therefore ^a encourage thome.

10 ¶ And I came to the house of Sheaniah the sonne of Delaiah the sonne of Mehetabel, and hee was ^a shut vp, and he sayd, Let vs come together into the house of God in the middes of the Temple, and shut the doores of the Temple: for m I received not that portion and diet, which the gouernours that were before me exacted, wherein he declareth that he rather sought the wealth of the people than his owne commoditie.

73 And the Priests, and Leuites, and the porters and the fingers, and the rest of the people and the Nethinims, and all Israel dwelt in their cities: and when the fiftieth month came, the children of Israel were in their cities.

CHAP. VIII.

¶ Ezra gathereth together the people, and readeth to them the Law. 1. They rejoice in Israel for the knowledge of the word of God. 15. They keep the feast of Tabernacles.

And all the people assembled themselves together, in the fiftie that was before the watergate, & they pake vnto Ezra the Scribe, that he would bring the booke of the Law of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israel.

2 And Ezra the Priest brought the Law before the Congregation both of men and women, and of all that could heare and vnderstand it, in the first day of the seventh month.

3 And he read therein in the streete that was before the watergate (from the morning vntill the midday) before men and women, and them that vnderstood it, and the eares of all the people hearkened vnto the booke of the Law.

4 And Ezra the Scribe stood vpon a pulpit of wood, which he had made for the preaching, and beside him stood Mattithiah, and Shema, and Ananiah, and Vriiah, and Hilkiah, and Maaseiah on his right hand, and on his left hand Pedajah, and Michael, and Malchiiah, and Hashum, and Hashbadana, Zechariah, and Meshullam.

5 And Ezra opened the booke before all the people: for hee was aboute all the people: and when he opened it, all the people stood vp.

6 And Ezra praised the Lord the great God, and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting vp their hands: & they bowed themselves, and worshipped the Lord with their faces toward the ground.

7 Also Ioshua, and Bani, and Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiiah, and the Leuites caused the people to vnderstand the Law, and the people stood in their place.

8 And they read in the booke of the Law of God distinctly, and gaue the sense, & caused them to vnderstand the reading.

9 Then Nehemiah (which is Tirshatha) and Ezra the Priest & Scribe, and the Leuites that instructed the people, aid vnto all the people, This day is holy vnto the Lord your God: mourne not, neither weepe: for all the people wept, when they heard the words of the Law.

10 He said also vnto them, Goe, and eate of the fat, and drink the sweet, and send part vnto them, for whom none is prepared: for this day is holy vnto our Lord: be ye not sorry therefore: for the 11 And the Leuites made ſilence throughout all the people, ſaying, Hold your peace: for the day is holy, be not ſad therefore.

12 Then all the people went to eate and to drinke, and to ſend away part, and to make great ioy, becauſe they had vnderſtood the words that they had taught them.

13 And on the ſecond day the chiefe fathers of all the people, the Priſtes, and the Leuites were gathered vnto Ezra the Scribe, that he alſo might inſtruct them in the words of the Law.

14 And they found written in the Law (that the Lord had commanded by Moſes) that the children of Iſrael ſhould dwell in *boothes in the feaſt of the ſeuenth moneth,

*Leuit. 23. 34.

15 And that they ſhould cauſe it to bee declared and proclaimed in all their cities, and in Ieruſalem, ſaying, Goe forth vnto the mount, and bring olīue branches, and pine branches, and branches of myrtus, and palme branches, and branches of thicke trees, to make booths, as it is written.

h Or, growly branches, as Leuit. 23. 40.

16 So the people went forth and brought them and made them booths, euery one vpon the hooſe of his houſe, and in their courts, and in the courts of the houſe of God, and in the ſtreet by the water gate, and in the ſtreets of the gate of Ephraim.

k For their houſes were made like a boue, ſaith Deut. 22. 8.

17 And all the Congregation of them that were come againe out of the captiuitie made booths, and ſate vnder the booths: for ſince the time of Ieſhua the ſonne of Nun vnto this day, had not the children of Iſrael done ſo, and there was very great ioy.

i Which was almoſt a thouſand yeeres.

18 And hee read in the booke of the Law of God euery day, from the firſt day vnto the laſt day. And they kept the feaſt ſeven dayes, and on the eighth day a ſolemne aſſembly, according vnto the manner.

18 Moreover, when they made them a molten calfe, (and ſaid, This is thy God that brought thee vp out of the land of Egypt) and committed great blaſphemies, 19 Yet thou for thy great mercies forſookeſt them not in the wildeſſe: * the pillar of the cloude departed not from them by day to leade them the way, neither the pillar of fire by night, to ſhew them light, and the way whereby they ſhould goe.

c Though the way was tedious and long.

22 And thou gaueſt them kingdoms & people, and ſcatteredſt them into corners: ſo they poſſeſſed * the land of Sihon, and the land of the king of Heſebon, and the land of Og king of Baſhan.

d Meaning, the heathen whom hee drove out. * Num. 31. 36.

23 And thou diddest multiply their children, like the starres of the heauen, and broughtest them into the land, whereof thou hadst poken vnto their fathers, that they should goe, and possesse it.

24 So the children went in, and possessed the land, and thou subduedst before them the inhabitants of the land, the the Canaanites, and gauest them into their hands, with their kings and the people of the land, that they might do with them what they would.

25 And they tooke their strong cities and the fat land, and possessed houses full of all goods, cisternes digged out, vineyards and olives, and trees for food in abundance, and they did eat, and were filled, and became fat, and liued in pleasure thow thy great goodnesse.

26 Yet they were disobedient, and rebelled against thee, and cast thy Law behind their backs, and slew thy Prophets (which ^e protested among them to turne them vnto thee) and committed great blasphemies.

27 Therefore thou deliuerest them into the hand of their enemies that vexed them: yet in the time of their affliction, when they cryed vnto thee, thou heardest them from the heauen, and through thy great mercies thou gauest them fauours, who saued them out of the hand of their aduersaries.

28 But when they had rest, they returned to doe euill before thee: therefore leftest thou them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion ouer them, yet when they conuerted and cried vnto thee, thou heardest them from heauen, and deliueredst them according to thy great mercies many times.

29 And protestedst among them, that thou mightest bring them againe vnto thy Lawe: but they behaued themselves proudly, and hearkened not vnto thy commandements, but sinned against thy iudgements (*which a man should doe and liue in them) and ^e pulled away the shoulder, and were stiffnecked, and would not ^h heare.

30 Yet thou [†] diddest forbearc them many yeeres, and protestedst among them by thy Spirit, euen: by the hand of thy Prophets, but they would not heare: therefore gauest thou them into the hand of the people of the lands.

31 Yet for thy great mercies thou hast not consumed them, neither forsaken them: for thou art a gracious and mercifull God.

32 Now therefore our God, *thou great God, mightie and terrible, that keepst covenant and *mercy, let not all the affliction that hath come vnto vs, seeme a litle before thee, that u, to our kings, to our princes, and to our priests, and to our prophets, and to our fathers, and to all thy people since the time of the kings of [†] Asshur vnto this day.

33 Surely thou art iust in all that is come vpon vs: for thou [†] hast dealt truly, but wee haue done wickedly.

34 And our kings and our princes, our priests and our fathers haue not done thy Lawe, nor regarded thy commandements, nor thy protestations, wherewith thou hast [†] protested among them.

35 And they haue not serued thee in their kingdome, and in thy great goodnesse that thou shewdest vnto them, and in the large and fat land which thou didst set before them, and haue not conuerted from their euill workes.

36 Behold, we are seruants this day, and the land that thou gauest vnto our fathers, to eat the fruit thereof, and the goodnesse thereof, behold, we are seruants therein.

37 And it yeeldeth much fruit vnto the kings whom thou hast set ouer vs, because of our finnes: and they haue dominion ouer our bodies, and ouer our cattell at their pleasure, and wee are in great affliction.

38 Now because of all this wee make ^a a sure covenant, and write it, and our princes, our Levites, and our Priests seale vnto it.

offerings, to make an atonement for Israel, and for all the worke of the house of our God.

34 Wee cast also lots for the offering of the wood, ^{even} the Priests, the Levites, and the people to bring it into the house of our God, || by the house of our fathers, yeerely at the tmes appointed, to burne it vpon the altar of the Lord our God, as it is written in the Law,

35 And to bring the first fruits of our land, and the first of all the fruits of all trees, yeere by yeere, into the house of the Lord.

36 And the first borne of our sonnes, and of our cattell, as it is ^b written in the Law, and the first borne of our bullockes and of our sheepe, to bring it into the house of our God, vnto the Priests that minister in the house of our God.

37 And that wee should bring the first fruit of our dough, and our offerings, and the fruit of eu-ery tree, of wine and of oyle, vnto the Priests, to the chambers of the house of our God: and the tithes of our land vnto the Levites, that the Le-uitues might haue the tithes in all the cities of our trauell.

38 And the Priest, the sonne of Aaron shall be with the Levites, when the Levites take tithes, and the Levites shall * bring vp the tenth part of the tithes vnto the house of our God, vnto the chambers of the treasure house.

39 For the children of Israel, and the children of Levi shall bring vp the offerings of the corne, of the wine, and of the oyle, vnto the chambers:
and there shall be the vessels of the Sanctuary, and the Priests that minister, and the porters, and the singers, and ^k wee will not forsake the house of our God.

CHAP. XI.

1 Who dwelted in Ierusalem after it was builded, 22 and who in the cities of Iudah.

And the rulers of the people dwelt in Ierusalem: the other people also cast lottes, ^a to bring one out of ten to dwell in Ierusalem the holy city, and nine parts to be in the cities.

2 And the people thanked all the men that were willing to dwell in Ierusalem.

3 These now are the chiefe of the prouince, that dwelt at Ierusalem, but in the cities of Iudah, euery one dwelt in his owne possession in their cities of Israel, the Priests and the Levites, and the Nethinims, and the sonnes of Salomons seruantes.

4 And in Ierusalem dwelt certaine of the children of Iudah, and of the children of Benjamin:
Of the sonnes of Iudah, Athaiah, the sonne of Vz-ziah, the sonne of Zechariah, the sonne of Ama-riah, the sonne of Shephatiah, the sonne of Mahaleel, of the sonnes of Perez,

5 And Maasiah the sonne of Baruch, the sonne of Col-Hozeh, the sonne of Hazaiah, the sonne of Adaiah, the sonne of Ioiarib, the sonne of Zechariah, the sonne || of Shiloni.

6 All the sonnes of Perez that dwelt at Ieru-salem, were foure hundred threescore and eight valiant men.

7 These also are the sonnes of Benjamin, Salu-lu, the sonne of Meshullam, the sonne of Ioed, the sonne of Pedaiiah, the sonne of Kolaiah, the sonne of Maaseiah, the sonne of Ithiel, the sonne of Teshaiiah.

8 And after him Gabai, Sallai, nine hundred and twentie and eight.

9 And Ioel the sonne of Zichri was gouer-nour ouer them: and Iudah the sonne of Senuah was the second ouer the cite:

10 Of the Priests, Iedaiah the sonne of Ioiarib, Tachai.

11 Seraiah the sonne of Hilkiah, the sonne of Meshullam the sonne of Zadok, the sonne of Meraioth, the sonne of Ahitub, ^c was chiefe of the house of God.

12 And their brethren that did the worke in the Temple, were eight hundred twentie and two, and Adaiah, the sonne of Ieroham, the sonne of Pelaliah, the sonne of Amzi, the sonne of Zechariah, the sonne of Pashur, the sonne of Malchiah:

13 And his brethren, chiefe of the fathers, two hundred and two and fourtie: and Amasai the sonne of Azareel, the sonne of Abazai, the sonne of Meshillemoth, the sonne of Immer:

14 And their brethren valiant men, an hundred and eight and twentie, and their ouerfier was Zabdai the sonne || of Hagedolim.

15 And of the Levites, Shemaiah the sonne of Hathub, the sonne of Azrikam, the sonne of Ha-shabiah, the sonne of Bunni.

16 And Shabbethai, and Iozabab of the chiefe of the Levites were ouer the workes of the house of God without.

17 And Mattaniah the sonne of Micha, the sonne of Zabdi, the sonne of Asaph was the chiefe to begin the thanksgiving and prayer, and Bak-bukiah the second of his brethren, and Abda, the sonne of Shammua, the sonne of Galai, the sonne of Ieduthun.

18 All the Levites in the holy city were two hundred fourescore and foure.

19 And the porters, Akkub, Talmon and their brethren that kept the ^d gates, were an hundred twenty and two.

20 And the residue of Israel, of the Priests, and of the Levites dwelt in all the cities of Iudah, euery one in his inheritance.

21 And the Nethinims dwelt in the || fortress, and Ziba, and Gishpa were ouer the Nethinims.

22 And the ouerfier of the Levites in Ieru-salem was Uzzi the sonne of Ban, the sonne of Aha-biah, the sonne of Mattaniah, the sonne of Micha:
of the sons of Asaph singers were ouer the worke of the house of God.

23 For it was the kings commandement concerning them, that faithfull prouision should be for the singers euery day.

24 And Pethahiah the sonne of Meshezabeel, of the sonnes of Zerah, the sonne of Iudah was at the kings hand in all matters concerning the people.

25 And in the villages in their lands, some of the children of Iudah dwelt in Kirath-abab, and in the villages thereof, and in Dibon,
and in the villages thereof, and in Iekabzeel,

CHAP. XII.

1 The Priestess and Levites which came with Zerubbabel unto Jerusalem, are numbered, 27 and the wall is dedicated.

These also are the Priestess and the Levites that went vp with Zerubbabel, the sonne of Shealtiel, and Ieshua: to wit, Seraiah, Jeremiah, Ezra,

2 Amariah, Malluch, Hattuf,

3 Shecaniah, Rehum, Meremoth,

4 Iddo, Ginnetho, Abiah,

5 Miamun, Maadiah, Bilgah,

6 Shemaiah, and Ioiarib, Iedaiah,

7 Sallu, Amok, Hilkiah, Iedaiah: these were the chiefe of the Priestess, and of their brethren in the dayes of Ieshua.

8 And the Levites, Ieshua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Iudah, Mattaniah, were over the thanksgivinges, he, and his brethren.

9 And Bakkukiah, and Vnni, and their brethren were about them in the watches.

10 And Ieshua begate Ioiakim: Ioiakim also begate Eliahib, and Eliahib begate Ioiada, 11 And Ioiada begate Jonathan, and Jonathan begate Iaddua.

12 And in the dayes of Ioiakim were these, the chiefe fathers of the Priestess: vnder e Seraiah was Meraiah, vnder Jeremiah, Hananiah,

13 Vnder Ezra, Meshullam, vnder Amariah, Iehohanan,

14 Vnder Melicu, Jonathan, vnder Shebaniah, Ioseph,

15 Vnder Harim, Adna, vnder Meraioth, Helkai,

16 Vnder Iddo, Zechariah, vnder Ginnethon, Meshullam,

17 Vnder Abiah, Zichri, vnder Miniamin, and vnder Moadah, Piltai, 18 Vnder Bilgah, Shamnuah, vnder Shemaiah, Iehonathan, 19 Vnder Ioiarib, Mattenai, vnder Iedaiah, Vzzi,

20 Vnder Sallai, Kallai, vnder Amok, Eber,

21 Vnder Hilkiah, Hahabiah, vnder Iedaiah, Nethanel.

22 In the dayes of Eliahib, Ioiada, and Iohanan and Iaddua were the chiefe fathers of the Levites written, and the Priestess in the reigne of Darius the Persian.

23 The sonnes of Levi, the chiefe fathers were written in the booke of the Chronicles euen unto the dayes of Iohanan the sonne of Eliahib.

24 And the chiefe of the Levites were Hahabiah, Sherebiah, and Ieshua the sonne of Kadmiel, and their brethren about them to give praise and thanks, according to the ordinance of David the man of God, ward ouer against ward.

25 Mattanuah, and Bakkukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon, and Akkub were porters keeping the ward at the thresholds of the gates.

26 These were in the dayes of Ioiakim the son of Ieshua, the sonne of Iozadak, and in the dayes of Nehemiah the captaine, and of Ezra the Priestess and Scribe.

27 And in the dedication of the wall at Jerusalem they fought the Levites out of all their places to bring them to Jerusalem to keepe the dedication and gladnesse, both with thanksgivings and with songs, cymbals, viols, and with harpes.

28 Then the fingers gathered themselves together, both from the plaine country about Jerusalem, and from the villages of Netophathi, 29 And from the house of Gilead, and out of the countreies of Geba, and Azmuth: for the fingers had built them villages round about Jerusalem.

30 And the Priestess and Levites were purified, and cleansed the people, & the gates, and the wall.

31 And I brought vp the princes of Iudah vpon the wall, and appointed two great companies to give thanks, & the one went on their right hand of the wall toward the dung gate.

32 And after them went Hofnah, and halfe of the princes of Iudah,

33 And Azariah, Ezra, and Meshullam,

34 Iudah, Benjamin, and Shemaiah, and Jeremiah,

35 And of the Priestess sonnes with trumpets, Zechariah the sonne of Ionathan, the sonne of Shemaiah, the sonne of Mattaniah, the sonne of Michaiah, the sonne of Zaccur, the sonne of Asaph.

36 And his brethren, Shemaiah, and Azareel, Malalai, Gileadi, Maai, Nethanel, and Iudah, Hanani, with the musickall instruments of David the man of God: and Ezra the Scribe went before them.

37 And to the gate of the fountaine, euen ouer against them, went they vp by the staires of the citie of David, at the going vp of the wall beyond the house of David, euen vnto the water-gate Eastward.

38 And the second company of them that gaue thanks, went on the other side, and I after them, and the halfe of the people was vpon the wall, and vpon the tower of the furnaces euen vnto the broad wall.

39 And vpon the gate of Ephraim, and vpon the old gate, and vpon the fishgate, and the towre of Hananeel, and the towre of Meah, euen vnto the sheepe gate: and they stood in the gate of the ward.

40 So stood the two companies of them that gaue thanks in the house of God, and I and the halfe of the rulers with me.

41 The Priestess also, Eliakim, Maadiah, Miniamin, Michaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, Hananiah, with trumpets,

1 The Law is read. 3 They separate from them all strangers. 15 Nehemiah reproveth them that breake the Sabbath. 30 An ordinance to keepe God

3 Now when they had heard the law, they sepa- rated from Israel ^a all those that were mixed.

a That is, all such which had ioynd in unlawfull mari- age, and also those with whom God had forbidden them to have societie.

4 ¶ And before ^b this had the Priest Eliahib the ouersight of the chamber of the house of our God, being ^c knieman to Tobiah

b That the sepa- ration was made. c He was ioynd in affinitie with Tobiah the Am- monite and enemy of the Iewes. d Called also Da- nius, Ezra 7. 1. e Or, at the gates end.

5 And he had made him a great chamber, and there had they aforetime laid the offerings, the incense, and the vessels, and the tithes of corne, of wine and of oyle (appointed for the Leuites, and the fingers, and the porters) and the offerings of Priestes.

6 But in all this time was not I in Ieruſalem: for in the two & thirtieth yeere of ^d Artaxhasse king of Babel, came I vnto the king, and ^e after certaine dayes I obtained of the king.

7 And when I was come to Ieruſalem, I vn- derstood ^e the euill that Eliahib had done for Tobiah, in that hee had made him a chamber in the court of the house of God.

8 And it grieved mee fore: therefore I cast forth all the vessels of the house of Tobiah out of the chamber.

9 And I commanded them to cleanse the cham- bers: and thither brought I againe the vessels of the house of God with the meat offering and the incense:

10 And I perceived that the portions of the Leuites had not bene giuen, and that euery one was fled to his land, ^f when the Leuites and fingers that executed the worke, 11 Then reprooued I the rulers, and said, Why is the house of God forsaken? And I assembled them, and set them in their place.

12 Then brought all Iudah the tithes of corne, and of wine, and of oyle vnto the treasures.

13 And I made treasures ouer the treasures, Shelemiah the Priest, and Zadok the Scribe, and of the Leuites, Pedaiah, and vnder their hand Ha- nan the sonne of Zacur the sonne of Mattaniah: for they were counted faithfull, and their office was to distribute vnto their brethren.

14 Remember mee, O my God, herein, and wipe not out my ^g kindness: that I haue shewed on the house of my God, & on the offices thereof.

15 In those dayes, saw I in Iudah them, that trode winepresses on the Sabbath, & that brought in sheaves, and which laded asses also with wine, grapes, and figges, and all burdens, and brought them into Ieruſalem vpon the Sabbath day: and I protested to them in the day that they solde vitales.

16 There dwelt men of Tyrus also therein, which brought fish and all wares, and tolde on the Sabbath vnto the children of Iudah euen in Ieruſalem.

17 Then reprooued I the rulers of Iudah, and said vnto them, What euill thing is this that yee doe, and breake the Sabbath day?

18 Did not your athers ^h thus, and our God brought all this plague vpon vs, and vpon this cite: yet yee increase the wrath vpon Israel, in breaking the Sabbath.

19 And when the gates of Ieruſalem beganne to be darke before the Sabbath, I commanded to shut the gates, & charged, that they should not be opened till after the Sabbath, and ⁱ some of my seruants set at the gates, that there should no burden be brought in on the Sabbath day.

20 So the chappmen and marchants of all mer- chandise remained once or twice all night with- out Ieruſalem.

21 And I protested among them, and said vnto them, Why tary ye all night about the wall? If ye do it once againe, I will lay hands vpon you. From that time came they no more on the Sabbath.

22 ¶ And I layd vnto the Leuites, that they should cleanse themselves, and that they should come and keepe the ^k gates, to sanctifie the Sab- bath day. Remember mee, O my God, concern- ing this, and pardon mee according to thy great merie.

23 In those daies also I saw Iewes that married wiues of ^l Ahfod, of Ammon, and of Moab, 24 And their children spake halfe in the speech of Ahfod, and could not speake in the Iewes lan- guage, and according to the language of the one people, and of the other people.

25 Then I reproued them, and ^m cursed them, and smote certain of them, and pulled off their haire, and tooke an othe of them by God. Ye shall not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, nei- ther shall yee take of their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor for your selues.

26 ¶ Did not Salomon the king of Israel sinne by these things? yet among many nations was there no king like him: for hee was ⁿ beloued of his God, and God had made him King ouer I- rael: yet strange women caused him to sinne.

27 Shall we then obey vnto you, to do all this great euill, and to transgresse against our God, ^o when to marry strange wiues?

g He reproveth that hee did his dutie with a good conscience, yet hee death not iustifie him: hee here, but desireth God to fauour him and to be mercifull vnto him for his owne goodnes sake, as verse 22. and 31. h I declared vnto them that God would not suffer such transgressors of his Law to be punished.

i Was not this a great cause, why God plagued vs in times past? na- ming that if they transgressed now in the same againe, their plague should be greater. j About the time that the Sun went down for the Sab- bath lasted from the Sunne going downe of the one day to the Sun set- ting of the other.

ESTER. THE ARGUMENT.

BEcause of the diuersity of names, whereby they vsed to name their Kings, and the supputation of yeeres where- in the Ebrewes and the Grecians doe vary, diuers Authors write diuersly as touching this Ahasueros, but it seemeth, Daniel 6. 1. and 9. 1. that he was Darius King of the Medes, and some of Ahasges, called also Ahasueros, which was a name of honour, and signified great and chiefe, as chiefe head. Herein is declared the great mercies of God vnto his Church : who neuer faileth them in their greatest dangers, but when all hope of worldly helpe faileth, he ener stirreth up some, by whom hee sendeth comfort and deliuerance. Herein also is described the ambition, pride, and enuie of the wicked when they come to honour, and their sudden fall when they are at height, and how God preferreth and preserue them which are zealous of his glory, and haue a care and tencion toward their brethren.

CHAP. I.

3 King Ahasueros maketh royall feast. 12 Whereunto the Queene Vastis will not come. 19 For which cause she is discomfited. 20 The kings decree touching the preeminence of woman.

IN the dayes of a Ahasueros, (this is Ahasueros that reigned from India euen vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and seuea and twentie prouinces)

2 In the dayes when the king Ahasueros : fate on his throne, which was in the palace of Shushan,

3 In the third yeere of his reigne, he made a feast vnto all his princes and his seruants, euen the power of Persia and Media, and to the capitaines and gouernours of the prouinces which were before him,

4 That hee might shew the riches and glorie of his kingdom, and the honour of his great maiesty many dayes, euen an hundred and fourescore dayes.

5 And when these dayes were expired, the King made a feast to all the people that were found in the palace of Shushan, both vnto great and small, seuen dayes, in the court of the garden of the kings palace,

6 Vnder an hanging of white, Greene, & blue clothes fastened with cords of fine linnen and purple, in silver rings, and pillars of marble : the beddes were of golde and of silver vpon a pavement of porphyre, and marble, and alabaster, and blue colour.

7 And they gaue them drinke in vessels of golde, and changed vessell after vessell, and royall wine in abundance, according to the power of the king.

8 And the drinking was by an order, none might compell : for so the king had appointed vnto all the officers of his house, that they should doe according to euery mans pleasure.

9 The Queene Vasthi made a feast also for the women in the royall house of king Ahasueros.

10 Vpon the seauenth day when the King was merry with wine, he commanded Memuchan, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the seuen eunuches that serued in the presence of king Ahasueros, 11 To bring Queene Vasthi before the King with the crowne royall, that he might shew the people and the princes her beautie : for shee was faire to looke vpon.

12 But the Queene Vasthi refused to come at the Kings word, which he had giuen in charge to the eunuches : therefore the king was very angry, and his wrath kindled in him.

13 Then the king sayd to the wife men, that knew the times (for so was the kings manner towards all that knew the law and the iudgement :

14 And the next vnto him was Casthena, She-tar, Admatha, Tarhish, Meres, Marfena, and Memucan the seuen princes of Persia, and Media, which saw the kings face, and late the first in the kingdom)

15 What shall we doe vnto the Queene Vasthi according to the law, becau^e she did not according to the word of the King Ahasueros by the commission of the eunuches ?

16 Then Memucan answered before the king, and the Princes, the Queene Vasthi hath not only done euill against the King, but against all the princes, and against all the people that are in the prouinces of King Ahasueros :

17 For the laste of the Queene shall come abroad vnto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands in their owne eyes, and shall say, the King Ahasueros hath commaunded Vasthi the Queene to be brought in before him, but shee came not.

18 So shall the princeesses of Persia and Media this day say vnto all the Kings Princes, when they heare of the acte of the Queene : thus shall there be much despightfullnesse and wrath.

19 If it please the king, let a royall decree proceed from him, and let it be written among the statutes of Persia & Media, and let it not be transgressed) that Vasthi come no more before king Ahasueros : and let the king giue her royall estate vnto her companion that is better then shee.

20 And when the decree of the King which shall be made, shall be published throughout all his kingdoms (though it be great) all the women shall giue their husbands honour, both great and small.

21 And this saying pleased the King and the princes, and the King did according to the word of Memucan.

22 For he sent letters into all the prouinces of the King, into euery prouince according to the writing thereof, and to euery people after their language, 12 For which was in the house of the eunuches.

b That had experience of things as they had learned by diligent marking in continuance of time,

After these things, when the wrath of the king Ahahuroth was appealed, he remembered Vahsi, and what he had done, and what was decreed against her.

2 And the kings seruants that ministred vnto him, sayd, Let them seeke for the King beautiful young virgins,

3 And let the king appoint officers through all the prouinces of his kingdom, and let them gather all the beautiful young virgins vnto the palace of Shushan, into the house of the women vnder the hand of Hege the Kings eunuch keeper of the women, to giue them their things for purification.

4 And the maide that shall please the King, let her reigne in the stead of Vahsi. And this pleased the King, and he did so.

5 ¶ In the cite of Shushan, there was a certaine Iew whose name was Mordecai, the sonne of Iath, the sonne of Shimei, the sonne of Kish a man of Temin;

6 Which had bene caried away from Ierusalem with the captiuitie that was caried away with Ieconiah king of Iudah (whom Nebuchadrezzar, King of Babel had caried away)

7 And he nourished Hadassah, that is, Ester, his vnckles daughter: for shee had neither father nor mother, and the maide was faire and beautifull to looke on, and after the death of her father and her mother, Mordecai took her for his own daughter.

8 And when the kings commandement, and his decree was published, and many maides were brought together to the palace of Shushan, vnder the hand of Hege, Ester was brought also vnto the kings house vnder the hand of Hege the keeper of the women.

9 And the maide pleased him, and she found fauour in his sight, therefore he caused her things for purification to be giuen her speedily, and her state, and seven comely maydes to be giuen her out of the kings house, and he gaue charge to her and to her maides of the best in the house of the women.

10 But Ester shewed not her people and her kinned: for Mordecai had charged her that shee should not tell it.

11 And Mordecai walked euery day before the court of the womens house, to know if Ester did well, and what should be done with her.

12 And when the course of euery maide came, to goe in to king Ahahuroth, after that shee had bene twelue monthes according to the manner of the women (for so were the dayes of their purifications accomplished, fixe monthes with oyle of myrrhe, and fixe monthes with sweete odours and in the purifying of the women:

13 And thus went the maides vnto the king) what soeuer shee required, was giuen her to goe with her out of the womens house vnto the kings house.

14 In the evening she went, and on the morrow she returned into the second house of the women vnder the hand of Shasphaz the kings eunuch, which kept the concubines: shee came in to the King no more, except shee pleased the king, and that shee were called by name.

15 Now when the course of Ester the daughter of Abihail the vnckle of Mordecai (which had taken her as his owne daughter) came, that shee should goe in to the king, she desired nothing, but what Hege the kings eunuch the keeper of the women said: and Ester found fauour in the sight of all them that looked vpon her.

16 ¶ So Ester was taken vnto king Ahahuroth into his house royall in the tenth moneth, which is the moneth Tebeth, in the seventh yere of his reigne.

17 And the King loued Ester aboute all the women, and she found grace and fauour in his sight more then all the virgins: so that he set the crowne of the kingdom vpon her head, & made her Queene in stead of Vahsi.

18 Then the king made a great feast vnto all his princes, and his seruants, which was the feast of Ester, and gaue rest vnto the prouinces, and gaue gifts, according to the power of a King.

19 And when the virgins were gathered the second time, then Mordecai sate in the Kings gate.

20 Ester had not yet shewed her kinned nor her people, as Mordecai had charged her: for Ester did after the word of Mordecai, as when she was nourished with him.

21 ¶ In those dayes when Mordecai sate in the Kings gate, two of the kings eunuchs, Bigthan and Teresh, which kept the doore, were wroth, & sought to lay hand on the king Ahahuroth.

22 And the thing was knowne to Mordecai, and he told it vnto Queene Ester, and Ester certified the King thereof in Mordecais name: and when inquisition was made, it was found: therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the booke of the Chronicles before the King.

CHAP. III.

1 Haman, after hee was exalted, obtained of the King that all the Iewes should be put to death, because Mordecai had not done him worship.

After these things did King Ahahuroth promote Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite and exalted him, and set his seate aboute all the princes that were with him.

2 And all the kings seruants that were at the kings gate, bowed their knees, and reuerenced Haman: for the King had so commanded concerning him: but Mordecai bowed not the knee, neither did reuerence.

3 Then the kings seruants which were at the kings gate, said vnto Mordecai, Why transgressst thou the kings commandement?

4 And albeit they spake daily vnto him, yet he would not heare them: therefore they tolde Haman, that they might see how Mordecais matters would stand: for hee had told them, that hee was a Iew.

5 And when Haman saw that Mordecai bowed not the knee vnto him, nor did reuerence vnto him, then Haman was full of wrath.

6 Now that he thought it too little to lay hands only on Mordecai: and because they had shewed him the people of Mordecai, Haman sought to destroy all the Iewes that were throughout the whole kingdom of Ahahuroth, even the people of Mordecai.

8 Then Haman said vnto king Ahahuerosh, There is a people scattered, and disperied among the people in all the prouinces of thy kingdome, and their lawes are diuers from all people, and they doe not obserue the Kings lawes: therefore it is not the kings prout to suffer them.

9 It is please the king, let it bee written that they may be destroyed, and I will pay ten thousand talents of siluer by the handes of them that haue the charge of this businesse to bring it into the kings treasure.

10 Then the king tooke his ring from his hand, and gaue it vnto Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite the Jewes aduersarie.

11 And the king said vnto Haman, Let the siluer be thine, and the people to doe with them as it pleaseth thee.

12 Then were the kings || Scribes called on the thirteenth day of the first moneth, and there was written (according to all that Haman commanded) vnto the kings officers, and to the captaines that were ouer euery prouince, and to the rulers of euery people, and to euery prouince, according to the writing therof, and to euery people according to their language: in the name of king Ahahuerosh was it written, and sealed with the kings ring.

13 And the letters were sent by by postes into all the kings prouinces, to root out, to kil, and to destroy all the Jewes, both young and olde, children and women, in one day vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth (which is the moneth Adar) and to spoile them as a pray.

14 The contents of the writing was, that there should bee given a commandement in all prouinces, and published vnto all people, that they should be ready against the same day.

15 And the postes compelled by the Kings commandement went forth, and the commandement was given in the palace at Shushan: and the king and Haman sat drinking, but the g cite of Shushan was in perplexitie.

CHAP. IIII.

9 Mordecai giveth the Queene knowledge of the cruell decree of the King against the Jewes. 16 Shee willesh that stay pray for her.

Now when Mordecai perceived all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth, and ashes, and went out into the mids of the cite, and cried with a great crie, and a bitter.

2 And he came euen before the kings gate, but he might not enter within the kings gate, being clothed with sackcloth.

3 And in euery prouince and place, whither the kings charge and his commission came, there was great forrow among the Jewes, and fasting, and weeping, and mourning, and many lay in sackcloth and in ashes.

4 ¶ Then Ester maides & her Eunuches came and told it her: therefore the Queene was very heauie, and shee sent riment to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his sackcloth from him, but he receiued it not.

5 Then called Ester Hatach one of the Kings eunuches, whom he had appointed to serue her, & gaue him a commandement vnto Mordecai, to know what it was and why it was.

6 So Hatach went forth to Mordecai, vnto the street of the cite, which was before the kings gate.

7 And Mordecai told him of all that which had come vnto him, and of the summe of the siluer that Haman had promised to pay vnto the Kings treasurers, because of the Jewes, for to destroy them.

8 Also he gaue him the copie of the writing and commission that was given at Shushan, to destroy them, that he might shew it vnto Ester and declare it vnto her, and to charge her that shee should goe in to the king, and make petition and supplication before him for her people.

9 ¶ So when Hatach came, he told Ester the words of Mordecai.

10 Then Ester said vnto Hatach, and commanded him to go vnto Mordecai, 11 All the Kings seruants & the people of the Kings prouinces doe know, that whosoever man or woman that cometh to the king into the inner court, which is not called, there is a law of his, that he shall die, except him to whom the king holdeth out the golden rod, that hee may liue. Now I haue not bene called to come vnto the king these thirtie daies.

12 And they certified Mordecai of Esters wordes.

13 And Mordecai said, that they should answer Ester thus, Thanke not with thy selfe that thou shalt escape in the kings house, more then all the Jewes.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, for comfort and deliuerance shall appeare to the Jewes out of another place, but thou and thy fathers house shall perish: and who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdome for such a time?

15 Then Ester commanded to answer Mordecai,

16 Goe, and assemble all the Jewes that are found in Shushan, and fast ye for me, and eat not, nor drinke in three daies, day nor night. I also & my maids will fast likewise, and so will goe into the King, which is not according to the law: and if I perish, & I perish.

17 So Mordecai went his way, and did according to all that Ester had commanded him.

CHAP. V.

1 Ester entred in to the King, and shewed him and Haman to a feast. 12 Haman prepared a gallows for Mordecai.

And on the third day Ester put on her royall apparell, and flood in the court of the Kings palace within, ouer against the Kings house: and the King late vpon his royall throne in the Kings palace ouer against the gate of the house.

2 And when the King law Ester the Queene standing in the court, shee found amour in his sight, and the king held out the golden scepter that was in his hand: so Ester drew nere, and touched the top of the scepter.

3 Then said the king vnto her, What wilt thou, Queene Ester? and what is thy request? it shall be euen as thou shalt desire to the halle of the kingdome.

5 And the king said, Cause Haman to make haste, that he may doe as Ester hath said. So the king and Haman came to the banquet that Ester had prepared.

6 And the king said vnto Ester at the banquet of wine, what is thy petition, that it may be gi-uen thee? and what is thy request? it shall euen be performed vnto the halfe of the kingdom.

7 Then answered Ester, and said, My petition, and my request,

8 If I haue found fauour in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to giue me my petition, and to performe my request, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I shall prepare for them, and I will doe to morrow according to the kings saying.

9 ¶ Then went Haman forth the same day ioyfull, and with a glad heart. But when Haman saw Mordecai in the kings gate, that he stood not vp, nor moued for him, then was Haman full of indignation at Mordecai.

10 Next the selfe, Haman refrained himselfe:
and when he came home, he sent, and called for his friends, and Zereph his wife.

11 And Haman told them of the glorie of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the king had promoted him, and how that hee had set him aboue the princes and seruants of the king.

12 Haman said moreover, Yea, Ester the Queene did let no man come in with the king to the banquet that shee had prepared, saue me: and to morrow am I bidden vnto her also with the king.

13 But all this dooth nothing answere, as long as I see Mordecai the Iewe sitting at the kings gate.

14 Then said Zereph his wife, and all his friends vnto him, Let the king make a tree of fittie cubites hie, and to morrow speake thou vnto the king, that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then shalt thou goe ioyfully with the king vnto the banquet. And the thing pleased Haman, and he caused to make the tree.

CHAP. VI.

3 The king with out the chronicles, and Judeth the fidelitie of Mordecai, to and commeth in Haman to cause Mordecai to be hanged on the tree.

T He same night the king slept not, and hee commanded to bring the booke of the Records, and the Chronicles: and they were read before the king.

2 Then it was found written that Mordecai had told of Bigtana & Zereph, two of the kings eunuchs keepers of the doore, who sought to lay hands on the king Ahashuerus.

3 Then the king said, What honour and dignities hath bene giuen to Mordecai for this? And the kings seruants that ministered vnto him, said,
There is nothing done for him.

4 And the king said, Who is in the court?
(Now Haman was come into the inner court of the kings house that hee might speake vnto the king to hang Mordecai on the tree that he had prepared for him)

5 And the kings seruants said vnto him, Behold, Haman standeth in the court. And the king said, Let him come in.

6 And when Haman came in, the king said vnto him, What shall bee done vnto the man whome the king will honour? Then Haman thought in his heart, To whom would the king doe honour more then to me?

7 And Haman answered the King, The man whom the king would honour,

8 Let them bring for him royall apparell, which the king vseth to weare, and the horie that the king rideth vpon, and that the crowne royall may be set vpon his head.

9 And let the raiment and the horie be deli-uered by the hand of one of the kings most noble princes, and let them apparell the man (whom the king will honour) and cause him to ride vpon the horie through the streete of the citie, & proclaime before him, Thus shall it be done vnto the man whom the king will honour.

10 Then the king said to Haman, Make haste, take the raiment and the horie, as thou hast said, and doe so vnto Mordecai the Iewe, that sitteth at the kings gate: let nothing faile of all that thou hast spoken.

11 So Haman tooke the raiment and the horie, and arayed Mordecai, and brought him on horsebacke thorow the streete of the citie, and proclaime before him, Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king will honour.

12 And Mordecai came againe to the kings gate, but Haman halted home mourning, and his head couered.

13 And Haman told Zereph his wife, and all his friends, al that had befallen him. Then said his wife men and Zereph his wife, vnto him, If Mordecai be of the seede of the Iewes, before whome thou hast begun to fall, thou shalt surely fall before him.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the kings eunuchs, and hastened to bring Haman vnto the banquet that Ester had prepared.

CHAP. VII.

3 The Queen bidde the king and Haman againe, and prayeth for her selfe and her people. 4 Shee accuseth Haman, and he is hanged on the gallows which he had prepared for Mordecai.

S O the King and Haman came to banquet with the queene Ester.

2 And the king said againe vnto Ester on the second day at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, queene Ester, that it may be giuen thee?
and what is thy request? It shall be euen performed vnto the halfe of the kingdom.

3 And Ester the queene answered, and said, If I haue found fauour in thy sight, O King, and if it please the King, let my life be giuen me at my petition, and my people at my request.

4 For we are Iord, I and my people, to be destroyed, to be slaine, and to perish: but if we were sold for seruants, & for handmaides, I would haue held my tongue, although the aduersary could not recompense the Kings losse.

5 Then king Ahashuerus answered, and said vnto the queene Ester, Who is hee, and where is he that presumeth to doe thus?

6 And Ester said, The aduersarie and enemy is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afraid before the king and the queene.

7 And the king arose from the banquet of wine, in his wrath, and went into the palace garden:
but Haman stood vp, to make request for his life to the queene Ester: for hee saw that there was a mischiefe prepared for him of the king.

8 And when the king came againe out of the palace garden, into the house where they dranke wine, Haman was fallen vpon the bed

10 So they hanged Haman on the tree, that he had prepared for Mordecai: then was the Kings wrath pacified.

CHAP. VIII.

After the death of Haman was Mordecai exalted. 14 Comfortable letters are sent vnto the Tewes.

The same day did King Ahasuerus giue the house of Haman the aduersarie of the Tewes vnto the Queene Ester. And Mordecai came before the King: for Ester tolde what he was vnto her.

2 And the King tooke off his ring, which hee had taken from Haman, and gaue it vnto Mordecai: and Ester set Mordecai ouer the house of Haman.

3 And Ester spake yet more before the King, and fell downe at his feet weeping, and besought him that he would put away the wickednesse of Haman the Agagite, and his deuice that hee had imagined against the Tewes.

4 And the King helde out the golden scepter toward Ester. Then arose Ester and stood before the King,

5 And said, If it please the King, and if I haue found fauour in his sight, and the thing be acceptable before the King, and I please him, let it bee written that the letters of the deuice of Haman the sonne of Ammedatha the Agagite may be called againe, which he wrote to destroy the Tewes, that are in all the Kings prouinces.

6 For how can I suffer and see the euill, that shall come vnto my people? Or how can I suffer and see the destruction of my kined?

7 And the King Ahasuerus saide vnto the Queene Ester, and to Mordecai the Iewe, Behold, I haue giuen Ester the house of Haman, whome they haue hanged vpon the tree, because he laid hand vpon the Tewes.

8 Write ye also for the Tewes, as it liketh you in the Kings name, and seale it with the Kings ring, (for the writings written in the Kings name, and sealed with the Kings riug, may no man reuoke)

9 Then were the Kings Scribes called at the same time, euen in the third moneth, that is the moneth Sivan, on the three and twentieth day thereof: and it was written, according to all as Mordecai commanded vnto the Tewes, and to the princes, and captains and rulers of the prouinces, which were from India euen vnto Ethiopia, an hundredth and seuen and twentie prouinces, vnto euery prouince, according to the writing thereof, and to euery people after their speech, and to the Tewes, according to their writing, and according to their language.

10 And hee wrote in the King Ahasuerus name, and sealed it with the Kings ring: and hee sent letters by postes on horsebacke and that rode on beasts of price, as dromedaries and coltes of mares.

11 Wherein the King granted the Tewes (in what cities soeuer they were) to gather themselves together, and to stand for their life, and to root out, to slay and to destroy all the power of the people and of the prouince that vexed them, both children and women, and to spoyle their goods:

12 Vpon one day in all the prouinces of King Ahasuerus, euen in the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adar.

13 The copie of the writing was, how there should be a commandement giuen in all & euery prouince, published among all the people, and that the Tewes should bee ready against that day to auenge themselves on their enemies.

14 So the postes rode vpon beasts of price and dromedaries, and went forth with speed, to execute the Kings commandement, and the decree was giuen at Shushan the palace.

15 And Mordecai went out from the King in royall apprell of blew, and white, and with a great crowne of gold, and with a garment of fine linnen and purple, and the cite of Shushan reioyced and was glad.

16 And vnto the Tewes was comelight and ioy and gladnes and honour.

17 Allo in all and euery prouince, and in all and euery cite and place, where the kings commandement and his decree came, there was ioy and gladnesse to the Tewes, a feast and good day, and many of the people of the land became Tewes: for the feare of the Tewes fell vpon them.

CHAP. IX.

At the commandement of the King the Tewes put their aduersaries to death. 14 The ten Iowes of Haman are hanged. 17 The Tewes keepe a feast in remembrance of their deliuerance.

So in the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adar, vpon the thirteenth day of the same, when the Kings commandement and his decree drew neere to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Tewes hoped to haue power ouer them (but it turned contrary: for the Tewes had rule ouer them that hated them)

2 The Tewes gathered themselves together into their cities throughout all the prouinces of the King Ahasuerus, to lay hands on such as sought their hurt, and no man could vnderstand them, for the feare of them fell vpon all people.

3 And all the rulers of the prouinces, and the princes and the capitaines, and the officers of the King exalted the Tewes: for the feare of Mordecai fell vpon them.

4 For Mordecai was great in the kings house, and the report of him went through all the prouinces: for this man Mordecai waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Tewes smote all their enemies with strokes of the sword and slaughter, and destruction, and did what they would vnto those that hated them.

6 And at Shushan the palace slew the Tewes and destroyed fine hundredth men,

7 And Parthandatha, and Dalphon, and Aspatha,

8 And Porasatha, and Adalia, and Aridatha, 9 And Parmashta, and Arisai, and Aridai, and Vathezatha, 11 On the same day came the number of those that that were slain, vnto the palace of Shushan before the King.

12 And the king sayd vnto the queene Ester, The Iewes haue slaine in Shushan the palace, and destroyed fise hundred men, and the ten sonnes of Haman: what haue they done in the rest of the Kings prouinces? and what is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? for what is thy request moreover, that it may be performed?

13 Then sayd Ester, If it please the King: let it be granted also to morrow to the Iewes that are in Shushan, to doe according vnto this daies decree, that they may hang vpon the tree Hamans tenne sonnes.

14 And the king charged to doe so, and the decree was giuen at Shushan, and they hanged Hamans ten sonnes.

15 ¶ So the Iewes that were in Shushan, assembled themselves vpon the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, & slew three hundred men in Shushan, but on the spoile they layd not their hand.

16 And the rest of the Iewes that were in the Kings prouinces assembled themselves, and stood for their liues, and had rest from their enemies, and slew of them that hated them, seuentie and fise thousand: but they laidenot their hand on the spoile.

17 Thy they did on the i thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, and rested the fourteenth day thereof and kept it a day of feasting and ioy.

18 But the Iewes that were in Shushan assembled themselves on the thirteenth day, and on the fourteenth thereof, & they rested on the fifteenth of the same, and kept it a day of feasting and ioy.

19 Therefore the Iewes of the villages that dwell in the vnwalld townes, kept the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar with ioy and feasting, even a ioyfull day, and euery one sent presents vnto his neighbour.

20 ¶ And Mordecai wrote these words, and sent letters vnto all the Iewes that were through all the prouinces of the king Ahathuerosh, both neere and farr, 21 Inioyning them that they should keep the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, and the fifteenth day of the same, euery yeere.

22 According to the dayes where in the Iewes rested from their enemies, and the moneth which was turned vnto them from sorrow to ioy, and from mourning into a ioyfull day, to keepe them the dayes of feasting, and ioy, and to send presents euery man to his neighbour, and gifts to the poore.

23 And the Iewes promised to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written vnto them, 24 Because Haman the ionne of Hammedatha the Agagite al the Iewes aduerfary, had imagined against the Iewes to destroy them, and had cast Pur (that is a lot) to consume and destroy them, 25 And when o free came before the king, he commanded by letters, Let his wicked f demse (which he imagined against the Iewes) turne vpon his owne head, and let them hang him and his sonnes on the tree.

26 Therefore they called these dayes Purim, by the name of Pur, and became of all f words of this lett. r, & of that which they had sene besides this, and of that which had come vnto them.

27 The Iewes also ordeined, and promised for them and for their seede, and for all that ioyned vnto them, that they would not ffe to obferue tho e 9 two dayes euery yeere, according to their writing and according to their fealon.

28 And that these dayes should be remembred and kept throughout euery generation and euery family, and euery prouince, and euery city: euen these dayes of Purim should not faile among the Iewes, and the memorial of them should not perish from their seeld.

29 And the queene Ester the daughter of Abihail and Mordecai the Iew wrote with all || authoritie (to confirme this letter of Purim the second time.)

30 And he sent letters vnto al the Iewes to the hundred and seuen and twentie prouinces of the kingdome of Ahathuerosh, with r words of peace and truthe,

31 To confirme these dayes of Purim according to their seasons, as Mordecai the Iew and Ester the queene had appointed them, and as they had promised for them f felues and for their seeld with f fasting and prayer.

32 And the decree of Ester confirmed the e words of Purim, and was written in the booke.

CHAP. X.

The estimation and authoritie of Mordecai.

And the king Ahathuerosh layd a tribute vpon the land, and vpon the yles of the sea.

2 And all the actes of his power, and of his might, & the declaration of the dignitie of Mordecai, wherwith the king magnified him, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Media and Persia?

3 For Mordecai the Iew was the second vnto King Ahathuerosh, & great among the Iewes, and accepted among the multitude of his brethern, who procured the wealth of his people, and spake peaceably to all his seeld.

THE ARGVMENT.

IN this historie is set before our eyes the example of a singular patience. For this holy man Job was not onely vexatiously afflicted in outward things and in his body, but also in his mind and conscience, by the fharpetations of his wife, and chiefe friendes: whereby their vehement wordes, and subtil disputations brought him almost to despair: for they set forth God as a fsiere Iudge, and mortall enemy vnto him, which had cast him off, therefore in vaine hee should secke vnto him for succour. These friendes came vnto him vnder pretence of consolation, and yet they tormented him more then did all his affliction, & notwithstanding hee did constantly resist them, and at length had good successe. In this story we haue to marke that Job maintaineth a good cause, but handleth it euill: againe his aduersaries haue an euill matter, but they defend it craftily. For Job beleeved that God did not alway punish men according to their sinnes, but that hee had secret iudgements, wherof man knew not the cause, and therefore man could not reason against God therein, but he should be conuicted. Moreover, hee was assured that God had not reuelled him, yet through his great torments and affliction hee by assiduous search vnto many inconueniences both of wordes and sentences

f This the requieth, not for desire of vengeance, but with zeale to see God iudgements executed against his enemies.

k As the Iewes doe cuento in this story, calling it in the Persian language Purim, that is, the day of lots. l The Iewes agree hereof that Mordecai wrote this story: but it seemeth that hee wrote but onely these letters, and decrees that follow. m He setteth before our eyes the vse of this feast which was for the remembrance of Gods deliuerance the maintenance of small friendshipp and reliefe of the poore.

and sheweth himselfe as a desperate man in many things, and as one that would resist God: and thus is his good cause which he dooth not handle well. Again, the adversaries maintaine with many goodly arguments, that God punisheth continually according to the trespass, grounding upon Gods providence, his justice, and mans sinnes, yet their intention is euill: for they labour to bring Iob into despair, and so they maintaine an euill cause. Ezekiel commendeth Iob as a iust man, Ezek. 14. 14. and Iames setteth out his patience for an example, Iam. 5. 11.

CHAP. I.

1 The holiness, riches, and care of Iob for his children. 10 Satan hath permission to tempt him. 13 He tempteth him by taking away his substance, and his children. 20 His faith and patience.

Here was a man in the land of a Vz called Iob, and this man
b was an vpright and iust man, c one that feared God, and efchewed euill.
2 And hee had seuen sonnes, and three daughters.

3 His substance also was seven thousand sheepe, and three thousand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred shee asses, and his familie was very great, so that this man was the greatest of all the men of the East.

4 And his sonnes went and banketed in their houfes, euery one his day, and sent, and called their three sisters to eat and drinke with them.

5 And when the dayes of their banqueting were gone about, Iob ſent, and ſanctified them, and roſe vp early in the morning, and offered burnt offerings according to the number of them all. For Iob thought, It may be that my ſonnes have ſinned, and ^h blaſphemed God in their hearts: thus did Iobi euery day.

6 ¶ Now on a day when ^k the children of God came and stood ^l before the Lord, Satan ^m came al^o among them.

7 Then the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Whence commes thou? And Satan answered the Lord, saying, ° From compassing the earth to and fro,
and from walking in it.

8 And the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Haft thou not considered my seruant Iob, how none is like him in the earth? an vpright and iust man, one that feareth God, and escheweth euill?

9 Then Satan answered the Lord, and sayd, Doeth Iob feare God for nought?

10 Hast thou not made an hedge about him, and about his house, and about all that hee hath, on euery side? thou hast blessed the worke of his hands, and his substance is increased in the land.

11 But stretch out now thine hand, and touch all that he hath, to see if he will not blaspheme thee to thy face.

12 Then the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Loe, all tan departed from the ^{the} presence of the Lord.

13 ¶ And on a day, when his sonnes and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

14 There came a messenger vnto Iob and said,
The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding in their places,

15 And the * Shabeans came violently, and tooke them : yea, they haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sword : but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

16 And whiles hee was yet speaking, another came, and said, The y fire of God is fallen from the heauen, and hath burnt vp the sheepe and the seruants, and deuoured them: but I onely am left alone to tell thee.

17 And whiles hee was yet speaking, another came, and said, The Caldeans set out three bands, and fell vpon the camels, and haue taken them, and haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sword: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

18 And whiles he was yet speaking, came another, and said, Thy² sonnes, and thy daughters were eating, and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house.

19 And behold, there came a great wind from beyond the wilderness, and smote the four corners of the house, which fell upon the children, and they are dead, and I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

20 Then Iob arose, and ^arent his garment, and shaued his head, and fell downe vpon the ground, and worshipped.

21 And said, *Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, and naked shall I returne^b thither: the Lord hath giuen, and the Lord hath taken it: ^cblessed be the Name of the Lord.

22 In all this did not Iob sinne, nor charge
God ^d foolishly.

1 Iob complaineth, and curseth the day of his birth, 11 Hee desireth to die, although death were the end of all mans enferie.

Afterward a Iob opened his mouth, and b cursed his day.

2 And Iob cried out, and said,
3 Let the day e perish wherein I was borne, and the night when it was said, There is a man-childe conceived.

4 Let that day bee darkenesse, let not God regard it from aboue, neither let the light shine vpon it.

5 But let darkenesse and the shadow of death staine it: let the cloude remaine vpon it, and let them make it fearful as a bitter day.

6 Let darkenesse possesse that night, let it not be ioyned vnto the dayes of the yeece, nor let it come into the count of the moneth.

7 Why should I be hid vnto, but because they are giuen to sinne and rebellion against God. d Let it be put out of the number of dayes, and let it not haue nesse, which maketh them afraid of death that are in it.

7 Yea, desolate bee that night, and let no ioy be in it.

8 Let them that curse the day, (being ready to renew their mourning) curse it.

9 Let the starres of that twilight bee dimme through darknesse of it: let it looke for light, but haue none: neither let it see the dawning of the day,

10 Because it shut not vp the doores of my mothers wombe, nor hid sorrow from mine eyes.

11 ¶ Why did I not in the birth? or why did
I not when I came out of the wombe?

12 Why did the knees preiuent mee? and why did I sucke the breasts?

13 For should I now haue lien and beene quiet, I should haue slept then, and bene at rest,

14 With the Kings and Counsellors of the earth, which haue builded themselues k desolate places:

15 Or with the princes that had golde, and haue filled the houses with siluer.

16 Or why was I not hid as an vntimely birch, either as infants which haue not seene the light?

17 The wicked haue there ceased from their tyrannie, and there they that laboured valiantly, are at rest.

God.

i In these visions which God sheweth to his creatures, there is euer a certaine feare ioyned, that the authority thereof might be had in greater reuerence. k When all things were quiet, or when the feare was somewhat allayed, as God appeared to Eliah, i. King. 9. 12. I Pro-ueth that if God did punish the innocent, the creature should be more iust than the Creator, which were a blasphemy. m If God finde impietie in his Angels, when they are not maintained by his power, how much more shall hee lay folly to mans charge, when hee would iustifie himselfe against God. n That is, in this mortal body subiect to corruption. Cor. 5. 1. o They fee death continually before their eyes, and daily approaching toward them. p No man for all this doeth consider it.

q That is, before that any of them were so wise as to thinke on death.

a He willett Iob to consider the example of all them that haue liued or doe liue godly,
whether any of them belike vnto him in raging against God as he doeth.

b Murmuring against God in afflictions, increaseth the paine, and vi-tereth mans folly.
c That is, the fin-ner that hath not the feare of God.

d I was not moued with his prosperity, but knew that God had carsed him and his.

e Though God sometime suffer the fathers to pacifie this world, yet his iudgements will light vpon their wicked children. f By publicke iudge-ment they shall be condemned, & none shall pity them. g Though there be but two or three eares left in the hedges, yet these shall be taken from them. h That is, the earth is not the cause of barrennesse & mans misery, but his owne sinne. i Which doeth declare that sinne is euer in our corruption; for before sinne it was not subiect to paine and affliction.

being an innocent? or where were the vpright destroyed?

8 As I haue seene, they that sowe iniquity, and sow wickednesse, reape the same.

9 With the blast of God they perish, and with the breath of his hottels are they consumed.

10 The roaring of the Lion, and the voice of the Lionesse, and the teeth of the Lyons whelpes are broken.

11 The Lyon perisheth for lacke of pray, and the Lions whelpes are scattered abroad.

12 But a thing was brought to mee secretly, and mine eare hath receiued a litle thereof.

13 In the thoughts of the visions of the night, when sleepe falleth on men,

14 Feare came vpon me, & dread which made all my bones tremble.

15 And the winde passed before me, and made the haire of my flesh to stand vp.

16 Then I stood on, and I knew not his face:
an image was before mine eyes, and in silence heard
I a voyce, saying,

17 Shall man be more exalted than God? or shall a man be more pure than his maker?

18 Behold, he found no stedfastnesse in his ser-uants, and laid folly vpon them.

19 How much more in them that dwell in houses of clay, whose foundation is in the dust, which shall be destroyed before the moth?

20 They be destroyed from the morning vnto the evening: they perish for euill, without regard.

21 Doth not their dignity go away with them?
doe they not die, and that without a widome?

There is euer a certaine feare ioyned, that the authority thereof might be had in greater reuerence. k When all things were quiet, or when the feare was somewhat allayed, as God appeared to Eliah, i. King. 9. 12. I Pro-
ueth that if God did punish the innocent, the creature should be more iust than the

before their eyes, and daily approaching toward them. p No man for all this doeth consider it.

CHAP. V.

1 Elihu sheweth the difference betwene the children of God and the wicked. 2 The fall of Iob wicked. 3 Gods power who destroyeth the wicked and deliuereth him.

C All now, if any man a answer thee, and to which of the Saints wilt thou turne?

2 Doubtlesse I anger killeth the foolish, and enuy slayeth the idior.

3 I haue feede the foolish well rooted, and suddenly I haue cursed his habitation, saying,

4 His children shall be farre from saluation, and they shall be destroyed in the f gate, and none shall deliuer them.

5 The hungry shall eat vp his harvest; yea, they shall take it from among the garnets, and the thirstie shall drinke vp their substance.

6 For misery commeth not forth of the dust, neither doeth affliction spring out of the earth.

7 But man is borne vnto trouble, as the sparkes flie vpward.

8 Though God sometime suffer the fathers to pacifie this world, yet his iudgements will light vpon their wicked children. f By publicke iudge-ment they shall be condemned, & none shall pity them. g Though there be but two or three eares left in the hedges, yet these shall be taken from them. h That is, the earth is not the cause of barrennesse & mans misery, but his owne sinne. i Which doeth declare that sinne is euer in our corruption; for before sinne it was not subiect to paine and affliction.

8 But I would enquire at God, and turne my talke vnto God:

9 Which doth great things and vnsearchable, and marueltous things without number.

10 Hengiueth raine vpon the earth, and powereth water vpon the freats,

11 And setteth vp on him them that be low, that the sorrowfull may be exalted to saluation.

12 He scattereth the deuities of the craftie: so that their handes cannot accomplish that which they doe enterprise.

13 He taketh the wife in their craftinesse, and the counsell of the wicked is made foolish.

14 They meet with darknes in the day time, and grope at noone dayes in the night.

15 But he leaueh the poore from the sword, from their mouth, and from the hand of the violent man.

16 So that the poore hath hope, but iniquitie shall stop her mouth.

17 Behold, blessed is the man whom God cor-recteth: therefore refuse not thou the chaulding of the Almighty.

18 For hee maketh the wound, and bindeth it vp: he smiteth, and his hands make whole.

19 He shall deliuer thee in fixe troubles, and in the seventh the euill shall not touch thee.

20 In famine he shall deliuer thee from death:
and in battell from the power of the sword.

21 Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue, and thou shalt not be afraid of destruction when it commeth.

22 But thou shalt laugh at destruction and death, and shalt not be afraid of the beast of the earth.

23 For the stones of the feld shall bee in league with thee, and the beasts of the feld shall be at peace with thee.

24 And thou shalt knowe, that peace shall be in thy tabernacle, and thou shalt visit thine habitation, and shalt not sinne.

25 Thou shalt perceiue also that thy seede shall be great, and thy posteritie as the graffe of the earth.

26 Thou shalt go to thy graue in a full age, as a rick of corne commeth in due season into the barnes.

27 Lo, thus haue we inquired of it, and so it is: heare this and know it for thy selfe.

u When we are in Gods saual all creatures shall serue vs. x God shall be blest that thou shalt haue occasion to reioyce in all things, and not to be offended. y Though the children of God shall not alwaies this promise doeth recompense it otherwise to their advantage. z Wee haue learned thee cannot experience that God punisheth not the innocent, that man cannot compare in iustice with him, that the hypocrites shall not long prosper, and that the affliction which man susteineth, commeth for his owne sinne.

CHAP. VI.

1 Iob answereth, that he paine is more grievous then his fault. 8
He mourneth death. 14 He complaineth of his friends.

P Vnto Iob answered and said,
2 Oh that my griefe were well weighed, and my miseries well layed together in the balance!

3 For it would bee nowe heavier then the sand of the sea: therefore my words are swallowed vp.

4 For the arrowes of the Almighty are in me, the venime whereof doth drinke vp my spirit, and terrors of God fight against me.

wounded in conscience, which is the greatest battell that the flesh can haue.

d Thinke you that I cry without cause, feeling the bruiſes which do not comaine when they haue whet they would e Can a man taste delice in that that hath no ſavour? meaning, that none take pleasure in affliction, feeling they can not away with things that are vnto vs to the mouth.

e Herein he ſaith double, both in willing thow impatience to die, & also in desiring of God a thing which was not agreeable to his will.

f That is, let me die at once, before I come to disſeise in Gods promise through my impatience.

g He saith left he should be brought to inconveniences, if his sorrows should continue.

i Have I not fought to help myselfe as much as was possible? or, weidme, or, weidme.

k He comparith thofe friends which comfort vs not in misery, to a brook, which in summer, when we need waters is dry, in winter is hard frozen, and in the time of thaine when we have no need o verfloweth with water.

l They that passe thereby to go into the hot countries of Arabia, thinke to quench their thirst, but they are deceived.

m That is, like to this brooke, which deceiue them, that thinke to haue water there in their need, as I looked for consolation at your hands.

n He rethoricketh the worldlings, which for no necessity will giue part of their goods, and more of these men, which would not giue him comfortable words.

o Show me wherein I haue erred, and I will confesse my fault.

p Hee that hath good conscience, doth not shrink at the sharpe words or reasonings of others, except they be able to persuade him by reason.

q Doe you currell at my words because I should be thought to speake foolishly, which am now in miserie.

r Consider whether I speake as one that is driven to this impatience through very sorrow, or as an hypocrite, you condemne me.

5 Doth the wilde asse bray when hee hath graſſe? or loweth the oxe when he hath fodder?

6 That which is vnſauory, shall it be eaten without fault? or is there any taste in the white of an egge?

7 Such things as my soule refused to touch, as were sorrows, are my meat.

8 Oh that I might haue my desire, and that God would grant me the thing that I long for!

9 That is, that God would destroy me: that he would let his hand go, and cut me off.

10 Then should I yet haue comfort, (though I burne with sorrow, let him not spare) because I haue not denied the words of the Holy one.

11 What power haue I that I should endure? or what is mine end, if I should prolong my life?

12 Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh of brass?

13 Is it not so, that there is in me no helpe? and that strength is taken from me?

14 He that is in misery ought to be comforted of his neighbor: but men haue forsaken the feare of the Almighty.

15 My brethren haue deceiued me as a brook, and as the rising of the riuers they passe away.

16 Which are blackish with yce, and wherein the snow is hid.

17 But in time they are dried vp with heate, and are consumed: and when it is hot, they faile out of their places.

18 Or they depart from their way and course, yea, they vanish and perih.

19 They that go to Tema, I considered them, and they that goe to Sheba, waited for them.

20 But they were confounded: when they hoped, they came thither, and were ashamed.

21 Surely now are ye like me vnto it: yee haue seene my fearefull plague, and are afraid.

22 Was it because I said, Bring vnto mee? or giue a reward to me of your substance?

23 And deliuer me from the enemies hand, or ransom me out of the hand of tyrants?

24 Teach me, and I will hold my tongue, and cause me to vnderstand wherein I haue erred.

25 How I stand aſt are the words of righteousness? and what can any of you iuſtly reprove?

26 Do ye imagine to reprove a words, that the talke of the afflicted should bea the wind?

27 Yemake your wrath to fil vpon the fatherlesse, and digge a pit for your friend.

28 Now therefore be content to looke vpon me: for I will not lye before your face.

29 Turne, I pray you, let there be none iniquitie: returne, I say, and ye shall see yet my righteousness in that behalfe. Is there iniquity in my tongue? doth not my mouth feele sorrows?

CHAP. VII.

1 Job sheweth the shortuie and wifery of mans life.

I S there not an appointed time to man vpon earth? and are not his daies as the daies of an hireling?

2 As a hireling, so I am worse than an hireling.

2 As a ſeruant longeth for the ſhadow, and as an hireling looketh for the end of his worke,

3 So haue I had as an inheritance the months of vanity, and painefull nightes haue beene appointed vnto me.

4 If I laid mee downe, I ſaid, When ſhall I ariſe? and meaſuring the evening I am euen full with toſſing to and fro vnto the dawning of the day.

5 My fleſh is clothed with wormes and filthineſſe of the duſt: my ſkin is rent and become horrible.

6 My daies are ſwifter then a weaues ſhuttle, and they are ſpent without hope.

7 Remember that my life is but a winde, and that mine eye ſhall not returne to ſee pleaſure.

8 The eye that hath ſeene me, ſhall ſee mee no more: thine eyes are vpon me, and I ſhall bee no longer.

9 As the cloud vaniſheth and goeth away, ſo he that goeth downe to the graue, ſhall come vp no more:

10 He ſhall returne no more to his houſe, neither ſhall his place know him any more.

11 Therefore I will not ſpare my mouth, but will ſpeake in the trouble of my ſpirit, and muſe in the bitterneſſe of my mind.

12 Am I a ſea? or a whale-fiſh, that thou keepeſt me in ward?

13 When I ſay, My couch ſhall releaue me, and my bed ſhall bring comfort in my meditation, 14 Then ſeaſt thou me with dreames, and aſtoniſheſt me with viſions.

15 Therefore my ſoule chuſeth rather to bee ſtrangled and to die, then to be in my bones.

16 I abhorre it, I ſhal not liue alway: I ſpare me then, for my daies are but vanitie.

17 What is man, that thou ſo doeſt magnifie him, and that thou ſetteſt thine heart vpon him?

18 And doeſt viſite him euery morning, and trieſt him euery moment?

19 How long will it bee yet thou depart from me? thou wilt not let me alone whilles I may ſwallo w my ſpettle.

20 I haue ſinned, what ſhall I do vnto thee? O thou preſeruer of men, why haſt thou ſet me as a marke againſt thee, ſo that I am a burden vnto my ſelfe?

21 And why doeſt thou not pardon my trefpaſſe? and take away mine iniquity? for now ſhall I ſleepe in the duſt, and if thou ſeekeſt me in the morning, I ſhall not be found.

he might lay his hand, n After all tentations, faith braſteth Job to repentance: y it was not in ſuch perfection, that he could reſon with God, becauſe that hee ſtill tried his faith be dead.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Bildad ſheweth that Job is a ſinner, becauſe God puniſheth the wicked, and preferueth the good.

T Hen answered Bildad the Shuhite, and ſaid,

2 How long wilt thou talke of theſe things? and how long ſhalt thou ſay the words of thy mouth as a mighty wind?

3 Doth God peruert iudgement? or doth the Almighty ſubvert iuſtice?

4 If thy ſonnes haue ſinned againſt him, and hee hath ſent them into the place of their iniquitie, warded them according to their iniquity: meaning that Job ought to be ſent to the place of his children, that hee ſhould not God.

b My ſorrow hath continued from month to month and I haue looked for hope in vain.

c This ſignifieth that his diſeaſe was rare and moſt horrible.

d Thus he ſpeaketh in reſpect of the breuitie of mans life, which paſſeth without hope of returning in conſideration whereof the deſireth God to haue compaſſion on him.

e If thou beſt hold me in thine anger, I ſhall not be able to ſtand in thy preſence.

f Shall no more endure this mortalitie.

g Seeing I can by none other means comfort my ſelfe, I will declare my griefe by words, and thus he ſpeaketh as one ouercome with griefe of minde.

h Am not I a poore wretch? what needeſt thou then to lay ſo much paine on me?

i So that I can haue no reſt, night nor day.

k He ſpeaketh as one overcome with ſorrow, and not of iudgement, or of the examination of his faith, I ſeeing my terme of life is ſo ſhort, let me haue more reſt and eaſe.

m Seeing that man of himſelfe is ſo vile, why doeſt thou giue him that honour to contend againſt him? Job ſeeth all kinds of perſeuiſion with God, that forth and leadeeth him to ſeeke himſelfe.

n That is, I ſhall lions be not to

 ¶ He compareth
 the cluſt to a tree, which although it
 be removed out of one place vnto another, yet flourisheth: for the afflic-tion of the godly turneth to their

 ¶ That is, for that godly, he will giue thee occasion to reioyce, and shall increase.

5 Yet if thou wilt early seeke vnto God, and pray to the Almighty,
 6 If thou be pure and vpright, then surely he will awake vp vnto thee, and he will make the habitation of thy righteouſnesse prosperous.
 7 And though thy beginning a be small, yet thy latter end shall greatly increase.
 8 Enquire therefore, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thy selfe to search of their fathers.
 9 For we are but of yesterday, and are ignorant: for our dayes vpon earth are but a shadow.
 10 Shall not they teach thee and tell thee, and venter the words of their heart?
 11 Can a grass grow without myre? or can the grass grow out with water?
 12 Though it were in greene and not cut downe, yet shall it wither before any other herbe.
 13 So are the paths of all that forget God, and the hypocrites howe shall perish.
 14 His confidence also shall be cut off, and his trust shall be as the house of a spider.
 15 He shall lean vpon his hope, but it shall not stand: he shall hold him fast by it, yet shall it not endure.
 16 The tree is greene before the Sunne, and the branches spread out the garden thereof.
 17 The rootes thereof are wrapped about the fontaine, and are falden about the house of fountes.
 18 If any plucke it from his place, and it deny, saying, I haue not seene thee, 19 Behold, it will reioyce by this meanes, that it may grow in another molde.
 20 Behold, God will not cast away an vpright man, neither will he take the wicked by the hand, 21 Till he haue filled thy mouth with laughter, and thy lips with ioy.
 22 They that hate thee, shall be clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remaine.
 ¶ There or no. 1 To be planted in another place, where it may flourish. 2 If thou be godly, he will giue thee occasion to reioyce, and shall increase.

CHAP. IX.

¶ Job deſcribeth the mighty power of God, and that mans righteouſneſſe is nothing.
 ¶ Then Job answered, and ſayd,
 2 I know verely that it is so: for how should man compare vnto God be justified?
 3 If he would diſpute with him, he could not anſwere him one thing of a thousand.
 4 He is wiſe in heart, and mighty in ſtrength: who hath bene fierce againſt him, and hath overcome?
 5 He removeth the mountains, and they feele not when he ouerthroweth them in his wrath.
 6 He removeth the earth out of her place, that the pillars thereof doe ſhake.
 7 He commandeth the Sun and it riſeth not: he cloſeth vp the ſtarrs, as vnder a ſignet.
 8 Hee himſelfe alone ſpreadeth out the heavens, and walketh vpon the height of the ſea.
 9 He maketh the Barres of Acturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the climates of the South.
 10 He doeth great things, and vnſearchable: yea, marvellous things without number.
 11 Loe, when he goeth c by me, I fee him not: his power. 4 These are the names of certain ſtarrs, where- by he meaneth that all ſtarrs both known and unknown are at his appointment. 5 I am not able to comprehend his workes, which are common and daily before my eyes: I am not like in thoſe things which are hid and ſecret.

and when he paſſeth by, I perceiue him not.
 12 Behold, when he taketh a pray, who can make him to reſtore it who ſhall ſay vnto him, What doſt thou?
 13 God ſhall not withdraw his anger, and the molt mightie helpeſe doe ſtoute vnder him.
 14 How much leſſe ſhall I anſwere him? or how ſhould I find out my words with him?
 15 For though I were iuſt, yet could I not anſwere, but I would make ſupplication to my Iudge.
 16 If I ſcree, and he anſwere me, yet would I not beleue that he heard my voyce.
 17 For he deſtroyeth mee with a tempeſt, and woundeth me without cauſe.
 18 He will not ſuffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitterneſſe.
 19 If I ſpeak of ſtrength, beholde, he is ſtrong: if I ſpeak of iudgement, who ſhall bring me in to pleade?
 20 If I would iuſtifie my ſelfe, mine owne mouth ſhall condemne me: if I would be perſiſt, he ſhall iudge me wicked.
 21 Though I were perſiſt, yet I knowe not my ſoule: therefore I reſpecte my life.
 22 This is one point: therefore I ſaid, Hee deſtroyeth the perſiſt and the wicked.
 23 If the ſcourge ſhould ſuddenly ſlay, ſhould God laugh at the puniſhment of the innocent?
 24 The earth is giuen into the hand of the wicked: hee couereth the faces of the iudges therof: if not, where is he? or who is he?
 25 My daies haue bene more ſwift than a poſt: they haue fled, and haue ſeene no good thing.
 26 They are paſſed as with the molt ſwift ſhips, and as the eagle that ſieth to the pray.
 27 If I ſay, I will forget my complaint, I will ceaſe from my wrath, and comfort me, 28 Then I am afraid of all my ſorrowes, knowing that thou wilt not iudge me innocent.
 29 If I be wicked, why labour I thus in vaine?
 30 If I waſh my ſelfe with ſnow water, and purge mine hands molt cleane, 31 Yet ſhalt thou plunge mee in the pit, and mine owne words ſhall make me filthy.
 32 For hee is not a man as I am, that I ſhould anſwere him, if we come together to iudgement.
 33 Neither is there any vmpire that might lay his hand vpon vs both.
 34 Let him take his rod away from mee, and let not his feare aſtoniſh me:
 35 Then will I ſpeake and feare him not, but becauſe I am not ſo, I hold me ſtill.
 ¶ That are counted perſiſt as them that are wicked. 9 To witte the wicked. 10 This is ſpoken according to our apprehenſion, as though he would ſay, if God deſtroy the wicked as Chap. 2, why ſhould he iuſtifie the innocents to bee long tormented by them. 11 That they can conſeſſe to do iuſtice. 12 That can ſanctify theſe manifold inſinities, and my conſcience couereth me. 13 Why ſhould I ſay, I am innocent, when I am guilty? 14 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 15 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 16 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 17 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 18 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 19 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 20 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 21 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 22 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 23 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 24 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 25 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 26 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 27 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 28 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 29 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 30 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 31 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 32 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 33 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 34 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 35 I am guilty, as though I were innocent.

CHAP. X.

¶ Job is weary of his life, and ſeeth his frailtie before God.
 2 He deſireth him to ſlay him becauſe of his deſire.
 ¶ My ſoule is cut off, though I live: I will leaue my complaint vpon my ſelfe, and will ſpeak truth.
 ¶ I will make an ample declaration of my torments, accusing my ſelfe and not God.

¶ He ſweth that when God doth create his power, he doth it iuſtly, for as much as none can controll him.
 ¶ God will not be appealed for ought that man can lay for himſelfe for his iuſtification.
 ¶ That is, all the reaſons that men can lay to approve their cauſe.
 ¶ How then I be able to anſwere him by eloquence whereby he ſweth his righteouſneſſe, albeit they were eloquent in talke, yet they leaue in heart, that which they ſpake.
 ¶ Meaning, in his owne opinion, ſignify, ghat man will ſometimes ſeeke himſelfe to be righteous, which before God is abomination.
 ¶ Whiles I am in my pangs, I cannot but braile forth into many inconueniencies, although I know full well that God is iuſt.
 ¶ I am not able to ſeele my finnes to great as I feele the weight of his plagues: and this he ſpeaketh to condemne his conſcience, and to iuſtifie God.
 ¶ After he hath accuſed his owne weakneſſe, he con-tinueth to iuſtifie God and his power.
 ¶ If I would ſland mine owne deſine, yet God hath full cauſe to condemne me: if he examine mine heart & conſcience.
 ¶ If God puniſh according to his ruler, he will deſtroy as well them that are wicked.
 ¶ This is ſpoken according to our apprehenſion, as though he would ſay, if God deſtroy the wicked as Chap. 2, why ſhould he iuſtifie the innocents to bee long tormented by them. 11 That they can conſeſſe to do iuſtice. 12 That can ſanctify theſe manifold inſinities, and my conſcience couereth me. 13 Why ſhould I ſay, I am innocent, when I am guilty? 14 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 15 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 16 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 17 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 18 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 19 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 20 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 21 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 22 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 23 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 24 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 25 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 26 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 27 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 28 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 29 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 30 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 31 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 32 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 33 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 34 I am guilty, as though I were innocent. 35 I am guilty, as though I were innocent.

e He would not that God should proceede against him by his secret iudice, but by the ordinary means that he punisheth others.
 d Is it agreeable to my iudice to do me wrong?
 e Wilt thou be without compassion?
 f Wilt thou gratifie the wicked and commend the wicked man?
 g Doest thou this of ignorance?
 h Are thou inconsistent and changeable as the times, to day a friend, to morrow an enemy?

2 I will say vnto God, c Condemne me not shew mee wherefore thou contendest with me.

3 Thinkest thou it good to oppress me, and to cast off the labor of thine hands, and to fauour the counsel of the wicked?

4 Hast thou carnall eyes? or doest thou see as man flesh?

5 Are thy dayes as mans dayes? or thy yerres as the time of man,

6 That thou inquirest of mine iniquitie, and searchest out my sinne?

7 Thou knowest that I cannot doe wickedly: for none can deliuer me out of thine hand.

8 Thine hands haue made me, and fashioned mee wholly round about, and wilt thou destroy mee?

9 Remember, I pray thee, that thou hast made me as I the clay, and wilt thou bring me into dust againe?

10 Hast thou not powred me out as milk? and turned me to curds like cheefe?

11 Thou hast clothed me with skin and flesh, and joined mee together with bones and sinewes.

12 Thou hast giuen me life, and grace: and thy visitation hath preferred my spirit.

13 Though thou hast had these things in thine heart, yet I know that it is so with thee.

14 If I haue sinned, then thou wilt straightly looke vnto me, and wilt not hold me guiltlesse of mine iniquitie.

15 If I haue done wickedly, woe vnto me: if I haue done righteously, I will not lift vp mine head, being full of confusion, because I see mine affliction.

16 But let it increase: hunt thou me as a lyon: returne and shewe thy selfe a maruelous vpon mee.

17 Thou renewest thy plagues against mee, and thou increasest thy wrath against me: c changes and armies of sorowes are against me.

18 Wherefore then hast thou brought me out of the wombe? Oh that I had perished, and that none eye had seene me!

19 And that I were as I had not bene, but brought from the wombe to the graue!

20 Are not my dayes few? let him cease, and leave off from me, that I may take a litle comfort,

CHAP. XI.

1 Iob is iustly reprehended of Zophar. 7 God is incensed against him. 14 He is mercifull to the penitent. 18 Their assurance is but like a fog.

Then answered Zophar the Naamathite, & said,

2 Should not the multitude of words be answered? or should a great talker be iustificed?

3 Should men hold their peace at thy lies? and when thou mockest others, shall none make thee ashamed?

4 For thou hast said, b My doctrine is pure, and I am cleane in thine eyes.

5 But, oh that God would speake and open his lips against thee!

6 That he might shew thee the secrets of wisdom, how thou hast desired double, according to right: know therefore that God hath forgotten thee for thine iniquitie.

7 Canst thou by searching find out God? canst thou find out the Almighty to his perfection?

8 The heauens are his, what canst thou do? it is deeper then the hell, how canst thou know it?

9 The measure thereof is longer then the earth, and it is broader then the sea.

10 If he cut off and shut vp, or gather together, who can turne him backe?

11 For hee knoweth vaine men, and seeth iniquitie, and him that vnderstandeth nothing.

12 Yet vaine man would be wise, though man new borne is like a wilde asse colt.

13 If thou prepare thine heart, and stretch out thine hand toward him.

14 If iniquitie be in thine hand, put it farre away, and let no wickednesse dwell in thy tabernacle.

15 Then truly shalt thou lift vp thy face without spot, and shalt be stable, and shalt not feare.

16 But thou shalt forget thy misery, and remember it as waters that are past.

17 Thine age also shall appeare more cleare, then the noone day: thou shalt shine as bee as the morning.

18 And thou shalt be bolde, because there is hope: and thou shalt digge pittes, and shalt lie downe safely.

19 * For when thou takest thy rest, none shall make thee afraid: yea, many shall make sute vnto thee.

20 But the eyes of the wicked shall faile, and their refuge shall perish, and their hope shall be sorrow of minde.

owne euill workes, and see that they sell not God, nor whom thou shalt charge.

CHAP. XII.

1 Iob accuseth his friends of ignorance. 7 He declareth the might and power of God. 17 And how hee chaungeth the course of things.

Then Iob answered, and said,

2 In deede because that yee are the people one'y, a wisdom must die with you.

3 But I haue vnderstanding aswell as you, and am not inferior vnto you: yea, who knoweth not such things?

4 * As was as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth vpon God, and hee heareth him: the iust and the vpriight is laughed to scorne.

 1 He exhorteth them to be wile in iudging, and aduise to know the right vie why God hath giuen them eares as he hath done a mouth.
 2 Though men by age and continuance of time attaine to wisdom, yet it is not comparable to Gods wisdom: not able to comprehend his iudgements, wherelike the auertereth to that which was all-aged.
 3 Chap. 8. 8.
 4 He heareth that there is nothing done in this world without Gods will and ordinance, for eue he should not be Almighty.
 5 He taketh wisdom from them.
 6 He abateeth the honour of princes, and bringeth them into the subiection of others.
 7 He cautech that their words haue no cre-ite, which is when he will punish sinne.
 8 In this discourse of Gods wonderfull workes, Iob sheweth that whatsoeuer is done in this world, both in the order and change of things, is by Gods will and appointment: wherein he declareth that he thinketh well of God, & is as able to see forth his power in words as they that reasond against him.

thee, and the foules of the heauen, and they shall tell thee.

8 Or speake to the earth, and it shall shewe thee: or the fishes of the sea, and they shall declare vnto thee.

9 Who is ignorant of all these, but that the hand of the Lord hath made these?

10 In whose hand is the issue of euery liuing thing, and the breath of all mankind.

11 Doeth not the eares discern the wordes, and the mouth take meate for it selfe?

12 Among the 9 ancient wisdom, and in the length of dayes understanding.

13 With him a wisdom and strength: hee hath counsell and strengthening.

14 Behold, hee will breake downe, and it can not be build: he shattereth a man vp, and he cannot be loosed.

15 Behold, hee withholdeth the waters, and they drie vp: but when he fendeth them out, they destroy the earth.

16 With him strength and wisdom: he that is deceived, and that deceiveth, are his.

17 Hee cautech the counsellors to goe as spoiled, and maketh the Iudges fooles.

18 Hee looeth the collar of kings, and girdeth their loines with a girdle.

19 Hee leadech away the princes as a pray, and ouerthroweth the mightie.

20 Hee taketh away the speech from the faithful counsellors, and taketh away the iudgement of the ancient.

21 Hee powreth contempt vpon princes, and maketh the strength of the mightie weak.

22 Hee discouereth the deepe places from their darkenesse, and bringeth forth the shadow of death to light.

23 He increaseth the people, and destroyeth them: hee enlargeth the nations, and bringeth them in againe.

24 Hee taketh away the hearts of them that are the chiefe ouer the people of the earth, and maketh them to wander in the wildernesse out of the way.

25 They grope in the darke without light: and hee maketh them to stagger like a drunken man.

CHAP. XIII.

108. 187.
 1 Iob compareth his knowledge with the experience of his friends.
 2 He penitently sheweth himselfe condemned.
 3 He prayeth: no God that he would not handle him rigorously.

1 Oe mine eye hath seene all this: mine eare hath heard, and vnderstood it.

2 I know also as much as you know: I am not inferior vnto you.

3 But I will speake to the Almighty, and I desire to dispute with God.

4 For indeede yee forge lies, and all you are physicians of no value.

5 Oh, that you would hold your tongue, that it might be imputed to you for wisdom!

6 Now heare my disputation, and giue eare to the arguments of my lips.

7 Will ye speake wickedly for Gods defence, and talke deceitfully for his cause?

8 Will ye accept his person? or will ye contend for God?

9 You doe not well apply your medicine to the disease. e Hee condemneth their zeale, which had no knowledge, neither regarded they to comfort him, but a way grated on Gods iustice, as though it was not evidently seene in Iob, except they had vnderstanden the proportion thereof.

9 Is it well that hee should seeke of you? will you make a lie for him, as one lieth for a man?

10 He will surely reprove you, if yee doe secretly accept any person.

11 Shall not his excellencie make you afraid? and his feare fall vpon you?

12 Your memories may be compared vnto ashes, and your bodies vnto bodie of clay.

13 Holde your tongues in my presence, that I may speake, and let come vpon what will.

14 Wherefore doe I take my flesh in my teeth, and put my soule in my hand?

15 Lo, though hee slay me, yet will I trust in him, and I will reprove my wayes in his sight.

16 He shall be my saluation also: for the hypocrite shall not come before him.

17 Heare diligently my words, and marke my talke.

18 Behold now: if I prepare me to iudgement, I know that I shall be iustified.

19 Who is he that will pleade with me? for if I now holde my tongue, I die.

20 But do not these two things vnto me: then will I not hide my selfe from thee.

21 Withdraw thine hand from mee, and let not thy feare make me afraid.

22 Then callst thou, and I will answer: or let me speake, and answer thou me.

23 How many are mine iniquities & sinnes? shew me my rebellion and my sinne.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and takest me for thine enemy?

25 Wilt thou breake a leafe driuen to and fro? and wilt thou pursue the dust stubble?

26 For thou writest bitter things against me, and makest me to possesse the iniquities of my youth.

27 Thou puttest my feete also in the stocks, and lookest narrowly vnto all my pathes, and makest the print thereof in the heels of my feete.

28 Such one consumeth like a rotten thing, and as a garment that is moth-eaten.

CHAP. XIII.

109. 188.
 1 Iob describeth the brevitye and misery of the life of man.
 2 Hope iustifieth the godly.
 3 The condition of mans life.

1 Man that is borne of woman, is of short continuance, and full of trouble.

2 Hee floateth forth as a floure, and is cut downe: he vanissheth also as a shadow, and continueth not.

3 And yet thou openest thine eyes vpon such one, and cautelest mee to enter into iudgement with thee.

4 Why can he bring a cleane thing out of filthinesse? there is not one.

5 Are not his dayes determined? the number of his monthes are with thee: thou hast appointed his bounds which he cannot passe.

6 Turne from him that hee may cease vntill his desired day, as an hireling.

7 For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut down, that it will yet sprout, and the branches thereof will not cease.

8 Though the roote of it waxe olde in the earth, and the stocke thereof be dead in the ground,

9 Yet by the sent of water it will budde, and bring forth bowes like a plant.

109. 188.
 1 Your same shall come to death: e Is not this a manifest signe of mine affliction, and that I doe not complain without cause, seeing that I am thus tormented as though I should see mine owne flesh, and put my life in danger?
 2 Whereby hee declareth that hee is not without sinne as they charge him with. That is cleared, and not called out for my sinne, as you reason.
 3 Top. 1. 1. God doeth us much more for my sinne, if I denie not my cause, euery man will condemne me.
 4 Hee heareth what these two things are.
 5 His pang thus moueth him to reason with God, not denying but that hee had sinned: but hee desired to vnderstand where ere his great sin, that had deuiued such rigour, wherein hee offended, that he would know a cause of Gods why hee did punish him.
 6 Thus manlike me now for the fault I committed in my youth.
 7 Thou muste mee thy prisoner, and deelt to preesse me that I cannot stirre, hand nor foote, to be free.

looth him for death.

M y breath is corrupt, my dayes are cut off, and 19 Hee shall neither haue sonne nor nephew among his people, nor any posteritie in his dwellings.

20 The posteritie shall be astonied at his day, and feare shall come vpon the ancient.
21 Surely such are the habitations of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

CHAP. XIX.

2 Iob reuereneth his friends, 15 and reuiceth his miseries and grievous paines. 25 He accuseth himselfe of the great rebellion.

B 2 How long will yee vex me my soule, and torment me with words?

3 Ye haue now ten times reproched me, and are not ashamed: ye are impudent toward me.

4 And though I had indeed erred, mine error remaineth with me.

5 But indeed if ye will aduance your selues against me, and rebuke me for my reproch,

6 Know now, that God hath ouerthrowen me, and hath compassed me with his net.

7 Behold, I cry out of violence, but I haue none answer: I cry, but there is no iudgement.

8 Hee hath hedged vp my way that I cannot passe, and he hath let darknesse in my paths.

9 He hath spoiled me of mine honour, and taken the crowne away from mine head.

10 He hath destroyed me on euery side, and I am gone: and he hath remooued mine hope like a tree.

11 And he hath kindled his wrath against me, and counteth me as one of his enemies.

12 His armies came together, and made their way vpon me, and camped about my Tabernacle.

13 He hath remooued my brethren farre from mee, and also mine acquaintance were strangers vnto me.

14 My neighbours haue forsaken mee, and my familiars haue forgotten me.

15 They that dwell in mine house, and my maids tooke me for a stranger: for I was a stranger in their sight.

16 I called my seruant, but hee would not answer, though I prayed him with my mouth.

17 My breath was strange vnto my wife, though I prayed her for the childrens sake of mine owne body.

18 The wicked also despised mee, and when I rose, they spake against me.

19 All my secret friends abhorred me, and they whom I loued are turned against me.

20 My bone cleaueth to my skinned, and to my flesh, and I haue escaped with the skinne of my teeth.

21 Haue pitie vpon me: haue pitie vpon me, (O ye my friends) for the hand of God hath touched me.

22 Why doe ye persecute me as God? and are not satisfied with my flesh?

23 Oh that my wordes were now written! Oh that they were written euen in a booke, 24 And grauen with an yron pen in lead, or in stone for euer!

25 For I am sure that my Redeemer liueth, and he shall stand the last on the earth.

a That is, many times, as Neh. 4. 12

b That is, I my selfe shall be punished for it, or you haue not yet comforted.

c He shall fall out againe into his passions, and declare himselfe vna, his affliction on cometh of God, though he be not able to feel the cause in himselfe.

d Meaning, his children, & whatsoever was deare vnto him in this world.

f Which is luctu, v, hath no more hope to grow.

g His manifold afflictions.

h Mine household seruants: by all these Iob sheweth that touching the flesh he had great occasion to be moued.

i Which were hee and mine.

k Besides the great losses, and most cruel vnkindnesse, he was touched in his owne person, as followeth.

l All my flesh was consumed.

m Seeing I haue these iust causes, condemn me not as an hypocrite, specially yee which should comfort me.

n It is not enough that God doth punish me, except you by reproches increase my sorrow.

o To see my body punished, except yee trouble my minde.

p He protesteth that without standing his face passions, his religion is perished: & that he is not a blasphemer: & that they iudged him.

q I doe not forsake my selfe before the world, but know that I shall come before the great Iudge, who shall be my deliuerer and Sauour.

26 And though after my skin, worms destroy this body, yet shall I see God in my flesh.

27 Whom I my selfe shall see, and mine eyes shall behold, and none other for mee, though my reins are consumed within me.

28 But yee said, Why is he persecuted? And there was a deepe matter in me.

29 Be ye afraid of the sword: for the sword will be augmented of wickednesse, that yee may know that there is a iudgement.

persecuted of God for his sins, yet he declareth that there was time, to wit, the trial of his faith and patience, and so to be an example for others, that God will be reuenged of this haile indgement, whereby you condemn me.

CHAP. XX.

1 Zophar sheweth, that the wicked and the comely shall haue a short end, 22 though for a season they flourish.

T 1 Then answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,

2 Doubtlesse my thoughts cause mee to answer, and therefore I make haste.

3 I haue heard the correction of my reproch: therefore the spirit of mine vnderstanding causeth me to answer.

4 Knowest thou not this of olde? and since God placed man vpon the earth,

5 That the reioycing of the wicked is short, and that the ioy of hypocrites is but a moment?

6 Though his excellencie mount vp to the heauen, and his head reach vnto the clouds,

7 Yet shall he perish for euer like his dung, and they which haue fenced him, shall say, Where is hee?

8 He shall flee away as a dreame, and they shall not find him, and shall passe away as a vision of the night.

9 So that the eye which had seene him, shall do so no more, and his place shall see him no more.

10 His children shall flatter the poore, and his hands shall restore his substance.

11 His bones are full of the summe of his youth, and it shall lie downe with him in the dust.

12 When wickednes was sweet in his mouth, and he hid it vnder his tongue,

13 And fauoured it, and would not forsake it, but kept it clo'e in his mouth, 14 Then his meate in his bowels was turned: the gall of aspes was in the mids of him.

15 Hee hath deuoured substance, and hee shall vomit it: for God shall draw it out of his belly.

16 He shall sucke the gall of aspes, and the viper tongue shall flay him.

17 Hee shall not see the riuers, nor the floods, and streames of hony and butter.

18 Hee shall restore the labour, and shall deuoure no more: euen according to the substance, shall he his exchange, and hee shall enioy it no more.

19 For hee hath vndone many: he hath forsaken the poore, and hath spoiled houses which hee builded not.

20 Surely hee shall seele no quietnes in his body, neither shall hee reuerse of that which he desired.

21 There shall none of his meate bee left: therefore none shall hope for his goods.

22 When hee shall be filled with his abundance, hee shall be in paine, and the hand of all the wicked shall assaile him.

did plague him in this life for these. h Though God giue to all other abundance of his blessings, yet he that is not part thereof. i That is, these reuenges and spouers of the poore shall enioy their thefts but for a time: for after, God will make it from them, and asenethem to make restitution, so that it is but an exchange.

k He shall haue nothing to his posteritie. l The wicked shall neuer bee in rell: for one wicked man shall seek to destroy another.

r Herein Iob declareth plainly that he had a full hope, that both the soule and body should enioy the presence of God in the last resurrection. f Though his friends thought that he was but a deeper consideration example for others, yet you condemn me.

a He declareth that two things moue him to speake: to wit, because he is forced to touch him, and because he thought he had beene a sufficient example to others.

b His purpose is to proue Iob to be a wicked man, and an hypocrite, because God punished him, & changed his prosperitie into aduersitie.

c Whereas the fathers and tyrants oppressed the poore, the children through power and misery, shall seeke fauour at the poore.

d So that the thing which hee hath taken away by violence, shall be restored againe by force.

e Meaning, that he shall crye nothing away with him but his sinne, f As payson that is sweet in the mouth, bringeth destruction when it cometh into the body: so all vice at the first is pleasant, but afterward God turneth it to destruction.

g He compareth euill gotten goods to the venom of aspes, which serpent is most dangerous: noting that Iobs great riches were not euilly come by, and therefore God will take away all other abundance of his blessings, yet he that is not part thereof. i That is, these reuenges and spouers of the poore shall enioy their thefts but for a time: for after, God will make it from them, and asenethem to make restitution, so that it is but an exchange.

k He shall haue nothing to his posteritie. l The wicked shall neuer bee in rell: for one wicked man shall seek to destroy another.

24 Hee ſhall flee from the wron weapons, and the bow of ſteele ſhall ſtrike him through.
25 The arrow is drawne out, and commeth forth of the body, and ſhineh of his gall, ſo feare cometh vpon him.
26 o All darknes ſhall be hid in his ſecret places: the fire that is not blowne ſhall deuoure him, and that which remaineth in his tabernacle, ſhall be deſtroyed.
27 The heauen ſhall declare his wickednes, and the earth ſhall riſe vp againſt him.
28 The increase of his houſe ſhall go away:
it ſhall flow away in the day of his wrath.
29 This is the portion of the wicked man from God, and the heritage that he ſhall haue of God, for his words.

C A H P. XXI.

7 Iob declares how the proſperitie of the wicked maketh them proud, 15 in ſomuch that they blaſpheme God. 16 Their deſtruction is at hand. 23 None ought to be iudged wicked for a ſmall on, weiser good for proſperitie.

B Vt Iob answered, and ſaid,
2 Hearce diligently my wordes, and this ſhall be in ſtead of your conſolations.

3 Suffer mee that I may ſpeake, and when I haue ſpoken, mocke on.

4 Doe I dreſt my talke to man? If it be were ſo, how ſhould not my ſpirit be troubled?

5 Marke me, and bee aſhamed, and lay your hand vpon your mouth.

6 Euen when I remember, I am afraid, and feare taketh hold on my fleſh.

7 Wherefore doe the wicked liue, and waxe old, and grow in wealth?

8 Their feed is eſta bliſhed in their ſight with them, and their generation before their eyes.

9 Their houſes are peaceable without feare, and the rod of God is not vpon them.

10 Their bullocke gendeth, and ſaleth not:
their cow calueth, and caſteth not her calfe.

11 They ſend forth their children e like ſheepe, and their ſonnes daunce.

12 They take the tabret and harpe, and reioyce in the ſound of the organs.

13 They ſpend their dayes in wealth, and ſuddenly they goe downe to the graue.

14 They lay alſo vnto God, Depart from vs:
for we deſire not the knowledge of thy wayes.

15 Who is the Almighty, that we ſhould ſerue him? and what profit ſhould wee haue, if wee ſhould pray vnto him?

16 Loe, their wealth is not in their hand:
therefore let the counſell of the wicked be farre from me.

17 How oft ſhall the candle of the wicked be put out? and their deſtruction come vpon them?
he will diuide their liues in his wrath.

18 They ſhall bee as ſtubble before the winde, and as chaffe that the ſtorme carrieth away.

19 God will lay vpon the ſorrow of the father for his children: when he rewardeh him, hee ſhall know it.

20 His eyes ſhall ſee his deſtruction, and hee to God: this Iob ſweth his aduerſaries, that if they reaſon onely by that which iſerue by common experience, the wicked that hate God, are better deſt withall then they that loue him. h It is not their owne, but God onely lendeth it vnto them. i God keepe me from their proſperitie. k When God recompeneh his wickednes, he ſhall know that his proſperitie was but vaine.

ſhall drinke of the wrath of the Almighty.

21 For what pleaſure hath he in his houſe after him, when the number of his moneths is cut off?

22 Shall any tell God knowledge, who iudgeth the higheth things?

23 One dieth in his full ſtrength, being in all eaſe and proſperitie.

24 His breſts are full of milke, and his bones runne full of marrow.

25 And another dieth in the bitternes of his ſoule, and neuer eateth with pleaſure.

26 They ſhall ſleepe both in the duſt, and the wormes ſhall couer them.

27 Behold, I know your thoughts, and the enterpriſes wherewith ye doe me wrong.

28 For ye ſay, Where is the princes houſe? and where is the tabernacle of the wicked dwelling?

29 May ye not aſke them that goe by the way? and ye cannot deny their figures.

30 But the wicked is kept vnto the day of de-ſtruction, and they ſhall be brought forth to the day of wrath.

31 Who ſhall declare his way to his face? and who ſhall reward him for that he hath done?

32 Yet ſhall hee be brought to the graue, and remaine in the heape.

33 The ſlimie valley ſhall be ſweet vnto him, and euery man ſhall draw after him, as before him there were innumerable.

34 How then comfort ye me in vaine, ſeeing in your anſweres there remaine but lies?

none dare reprove him in this world, yet death is a token, that to an exempt. 2 Hee ſhall be glad to lie in a ſlimie pit, which before could not be content with a royall palace. 3 Saying, that the juſt in this world haue pro-ſperitie, and the wicked aduerſitie.

C H A P. XXII.

1 Eliphaz eſtimateh that Iob is puniſhed for his ſinnes. 8 He accuſeth him of vnmmercifulnes. 13 And that he deſired Gods providence. 21 Hee exhorteh him to repentance.

Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and ſaid,

2 May a man be profitable vnto God, as he that is wiſe may be profitable to himſelfe?

3 * Is it any thing vnto the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or is it profitable to him, that thou makeſt thy wayes vpright?

4 Is it for feare of thee that hee will accuſe thee? or goe with thee into iudgement?

k Now God hath punished them from the beginning.
l Hee prooueth Gods providence by the punishment of the wicked, whom he taketh away before they can bring their wicked purposes to passe.
m He answereth to that which Job had said, Chap. 3. 7. that the wicked haue prosperitie in this world, defying that he might not be partaker of the like.
n In the iust reioyce at the destruction of the wicked, for two causes: first, because God sheweth himselfe iudge of the world, and by this means continueth his honour and glory.
o Secondly, because God sheweth that he hath care ouer his, in that he punissheth their enemies.
p That is, the state and preferation of the godly is hid vnder Goddings.
q Meaning of the wicked.
r He exhortheth Job to repentance, and to returne to God.
s God will reuenge vnto thee all thy substance. t Which shalbe in abundance like dail. u That is, the fauour of God, a God will deliuer his when the wicked are destroyed round about them, as in the Flood, and in Sodom. x God will deliuer a whole country from perill, even for the iust mans sake.

14 The cloudes hide him that hee cannot see, and he walketh in the circle of heauen.
 15 Hast thou marked the way of the world, wherein wicked men haue walked?
 16 Which were cut downe before the time, whose foundation was as a ruier that overflowed.
 17 Which said vnto God, Depart from vs, and asked what the Almighy could doe for them.
 18 Yet hee filled their houses with good things: but let the counsell of the wicked be farre from me.
 19 The righteous shall see them and shall reioyce, and the innocent shall laugh them to scorne.
 20 Surely, our substance is hid: but the fire hath deuoured the remnant of it them.
 21 Therefore acquaint thy selfe, I pray thee, with him, and make peace: thereby thou shalt haue prosperitie.
 22 Receiue I pray thee, the law of his mouth, and lay vp his words in thine heart.
 23 If thou returne to the Almighty, thou shalt bee built vp, and thou shalt put iniquitie farre from thy tabernacle.
 24 Thou shalt lay vp gold for thy dust, and the gold of Ophir, as the flints of the riuers.
 25 Yea, the Almighty shalbe thy defence, and thou shalt haue plente of siluer.
 26 And thou shalt then delight in the Almighty, and lift vp thy face vnto God.
 27 Thou shalt make thy prayer vnto him, & he shall heare thee, and thou shalt render thy vowes.
 28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and he shall establish it vnto thee, and the light shall shine vpon thy wayes.
 29 When others are cast downe, then shalt thou say, I am lifted vp: and God shall saue the humble person.
 30 The innocent shal deliuer the vniuersall, and it shalbe preferred by the pureness of thine hands.

CHAP. XXIII.

a Job affirmeth that hee hath knowen and feared the power and presence of his God, b and that he was punished only for his sinnes.

B Ut Job answered, and said,
 2 Though my talke be this day in a bitterness, and my plague greater then my groining,
 3 Would God yet I knew how to finde him, I would enter vnto his place.
 4 I would pleade the cause before him, and fill my mouth with arguments.
 5 I would know the words, that hee would answer me, and would vnderstand what he would say vnto me.
 6 Would hee plead against me with his great power? No, but he would set strength in me.
 7 There the righteous might reason with him, so I should be deliuered for euil from my Iudge.
 8 Behold, if I go to the East, he is not there: if to the West, yet I cannot perceiue him:
 9 If to the North where hee worketh, yet I cannot see him: he will hide himselfe in the South, and I cannot behold him.

g I am strengthened to maintaine their cause. e Meaning, that if he consider Gods iudgements, he is notable to comprehend his iudgements on what side or part to euil he can hurt himselfe.

10 But hee knoweth my way, and tryeth me, and I shall come forth like the gold.
 11 My foote hath followed his steps: his way haue I kept, and haue not declined.
 12 Neither haue I departed from the commandement of his lippes, and I haue gotten the wordes of his mouth more then mine appointed foode.
 13 Yet he is in one minde, and who can turne him? yea, he doeth what his minde desireth.
 14 For he will performe that which is decreed of me, and many such things are with him.
 15 Therefore I am troubled at his presence, and in considering it, I am afraid of him.
 16 For God hath loosened mine heart, and the Almighty hath troubled me.
 17 For I am not cut off in darkness, but hee hath hid the darkness from my face.

a Job describeth the weakness of man, and sheweth what curse belongeth to the wicked. b How all things are gouerned by Gods providence. c And the destruction of the wicked.

How should not the times bee hid from him, hee not see his dayes?
 2 Some remove the land markes, that rob the flockes, and feed thereof.
 3 They leade away the asse of the fatherlesse, and take the widowes ox to pledge.
 4 They make the poore to turne out of the way, so that the poore of the earth hide themselves together.
 5 Behold, others as wilde asses in the wilderness goe forth to their businesse, and rise early for a prey: the wilderness eateueth him and his children food.
 6 They reape his prouision in the field, but they gather the late vintage of the wicked.
 7 They cause the naked to lodge without garment, and without couering in the cold.
 8 They are wet with the showres of the mountaines, and they embrace the rocke for want of a couering.
 9 They plucke the fatherlesse from the breast, and take the pledge of the poore.
 10 They cause him to goe naked without clothing, and take the gleaning from the hungry.
 11 They that make oyle betweene their walls, and tread their winepresses, suffer thirst.
 12 Men cry out of the city, and the soules of the flaine cry out: yet God doeth not charge them with folly.
 13 These are they, that abhorre the light: they know not the wayes thereof, nor continue in the pathes thereof.
 14 The murderer riseth early, and killeth the poore and the needy: and in the night hee is as a thief.

15 The eye also of the adulterer waiteth for the twilight, and faith, None eye shall see me, and disguiseth his face.
 16 They digge through houses in the darke, which they marked for themselves in the day.

g His word is more precious vnto me, then the meat wherewith the body is sustained.
h Job comforteth himselfe at this present, that he is not forsaken of God.
i He was assured that he had appointed him to Gods iudgements, the cause of his feare, and the cause.

a Thus Job speaketh in his passions, and alter the iudgement of the flesh: that is, that hee seeth not the things that are done at times, neither yet hath a peculiar care ouer all, because hee punisheth not the wicked, nor reuengeth the godly.

24 They are exalted for a little, but they are gone, and are brought low as all others: they are destroyed, and cut off as the toppe of an care of corne.

25 But if it be not so, where is he? or who will proue me a liar, and make my words of no value?

after that the wicked haue destroyed the weak, they will do like to the strong, and there ore are iustly prevented by Gods iudgements. x That is, that contrary to your reasoning no man can giue a perfect reason of Gods iudgements, let me be reproofed.

CHAP. XXV.

Bildad saith that no man is cleane, nor without sinne before God.

Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said, 2 Power and feare ^{is} with him, that maketh peace in his high places.

3 Is there any number in his armies? and vpon whom ^{shall} not his light arise?

4 And how may a man be iustified with God? or how can he be cleane that is borne of woman?

CHAP. XXVI.

Job sheweth that man cannot helpe God, and proueth it by his miracles.

But Job answered, and sayd,

2 Whom helpest thou? him that hath no power? (quest thou) ^{is} arise that hath no strength?

3 Whome counellest thou? him that hath no wisdom? thou ^{shewest} right well as the thing is.

1 Which is a figure of farras fashioned like a serpent, because of the crookednes of the crookednes. m Itteth these things, which we see daily with our eyes, declare his great power and providence, how much more would they appeare, if we were able to comprehend all his workes?

CHAP. XXVII.

The conscience and selfe blame of Job. 13 The reward of the wicked and of the tyrants.

Moreouer Job proceeded and continued his parable, saying,

2 The liuing God hath taken away my iudgment: for the Almighty hath put my soule in bitterness.

3 Yet so long as my breath is in mee, and the Spirit of God in my nostrils,

4 My lips surely shall speake no wickednesse, and my tongue shall vtter no deceit.

5 God forbid, that I should iustifie you: vntill I die, I will neuer take away mine ^{innocent} innocentie from my selfe.

6 I will keepe my righteoussnesse, and will not forsake it: mine heart shall not reprove mee of my ^{deeds} dayes.

7 Mine enimie shall be as the wicked, and hee shall fight against me, as the vnrightheous.

8 For what ^{hope} hope hath the hypocrite when hee hath heaped vp riches, if God take away his ioule?

9 Will God heare his cry, when trouble cometh vpon him?

10 Will he set his delight on the Almighty? will he call vpon God at all times?

11 I will teach you what ^{is} in the hand of God, and I will not conceale that which is with the Almighty.

12 Behold, all yee your felices ^{haue} haue seene it: why then doe you thus vanish in vanitie?

13 This is the ^{portion} portion of a wicked man with God, and the heritage of tyrants, ^{which} they shall receiue of the Almighty.

14 If his children bee in great number, the sword shall destr^{oy} yem, and his posteritie shall not be satisfied with bread.

15 His remnant shall be buried in death, and his windowes ^{shall} shall not weepe.

16 Though hee should heape vp siluer as the dust, and prepare rayment as the clay, 17 He may prepare it, but the iust shall put it on, and the innocent shall diuide the siluer.

18 Hee buildeth his house as the moth, and as a lodge that the watchman maketh.

19 When the rich man sleepeth, he shall not be gathered to his fishers: they opened their eyes, and he was gone.

20 Terrors shall take him as waters, and a tempest shall carry him away by night.

21 The East wind shall take him away, and he shall depart: and it shall hurle him out of his place.

22 And God shall cast vpon him and not spare, though he would faine flee out of his hand.

h That is, he hideth the heauens which are called his throne.

i So long as this world endureth.

k Not that heauen hath pillars, to vphold it, but he speaketh by a similitude, as though he would say, The heauen it selfe is not able to abide his reproch.

l Of the crookednes of the crookednes.

m Itteth these things, which we see daily with our eyes, declare his great power and providence, how much more would they appeare, if we were able to comprehend all his workes?

n The liuing God hath taken away my iudgment: for the Almighty hath put my soule in bitterness.

a The hath so fire afflicted me that men cannot iudge of mine vprightnesse: for they iudge onely by outward signes.

b How neuer men iudge of me, yet will I not praise contrary to that which I haue sayd, and to do wickedly in betraying their trust.

c Which condemnes me as a wicked man because the hand of God is vpon me, I will not confesse that God doth thus punish me for my finnes.

d Of my life past.

e What advantage hath the dilempler to gaine neuer to much feeling he shall loose his owne soule?

n He meaneth that the wicked tyrants shall not haue quiet death, nor be buried honourably.

23 Every man shall clap their hands at him, and hiss at him out of their place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Iob sheweth that the wisdom of God is vnsearchable.

a His purpose is to declare that man may attain in this world to diuers secrets of nature, but man is neuer able to comprehend the wisdom of God.

b There is nothing buet is compassed within certain limits, and hath an end, but Gods wisdom e Meaning, him that dwelleth thereby. d Which man cannot wade thorow.

e That is, come, and vnderneath it brinleth ore cole, which is easily consumed fire. f Hee alladeth to the mines and secrets of nature, which are vnder the earth, whereinto neither foules nor beasts can conceer.

g After that he hath declared the wisdom of God in the secrets of nature, he describeth his power. h Though Gods power and wisdom may be vnderstood in earthly things, yet his heavenly wisdom cannot be attained vnto.

i It is too high a thing for man to attaine vnto in this world. k It can neither bee bought for gold nor precious stones, but is onely the gift of God.

l Which is thought to be a kind of precious stone.

m Meaning, that there is no natural means, whereby man might attaine to the heavenly wisdom, which he meaneth by the fowles that fly he n He meeth God onely the author of this wisdom and the giuer thereof.

* Pro. 17.

o He declareth that man hath so much of this heavenly wisdom as hee is wroth by fearing God, and departing from euill.

1 He siluer surely hath his veine,^a and the gold his place,^b where they take it.

2 Yron is taken out of the dust, and brasie is molten out of the stone.

3 God putteth an ende to darkenesse,^b and hee trieth the perfection of all things: hee tetheth a bond of darkenesse, and of the shadow of death.

4 The flood breaketh out against the inhabitant, and the waters^d forgotten of the foote, being higher then men, are gone away.

5 Out of the same earth commeth^e bread, and vnder it, as it were fire is turned vp.

6 The stones thereof^f are a place^g of Saphirs, and the dust oit^h is gold.

7 There is a path which no fowle hath knowne, neither hath the kites eye seene it.

8 The Lyons whelps haue not walked it, nor the Lyon passed thereby.

9 He putteth his hand vpon the rocks, and overthroweth the mountaines by the rootes.

10 Hee breaketh riuers in the rockes, and his eye seeth euery precious thing.

11 Hee bindeeth the floods, that they doe not overflow, and the thing that is hid, bringeth hee to light.

12 But where is wisdom found? h & where is the place of vnderstanding?

13 Man knoweth notⁱ the price thereof: for it is not found in the land of the liuing.

14 The depth saith, It is not in me: the sea also saith, It is not with me.

15 Gold shall not be giuen for it neither shall siluer be weighed for the price thereof.

16 It shall not bee valued with the wedge of gold of Ophir, nor with the precious onix, nor the laphir.

17 The gold nor the chrysell shall bee equall vnto it, nor the exchange shall be for plate of fine golde.

18 No mention shall be made of corall, nor of the gabath: for wisdom is more precious then pearls.

19 The Topaz of Ethiopia shall not be equall vnto it, neither shall it be valued with the wedge of pure gold.

20 Whence then commeth wisdom? and where is the place of vnderstanding.

21 Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all the liuing, and is hid from the fowles of the heauen?

22 Destruction and death say, We haue heard the fame thereof with our eares.

23 But God vnderstandeth the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.

24 For hee beholdeth the ends of the world, and seeth all that is vnder heauen,

25 To make the weight of the windes, and to weigh the waters by measure.

26 When he made a decree for the raine, and a way for the lightning of the thunders, 27 Then did he see it, and counted it: he prepared it, and also considered it.

28 And vnto man he said, Behold, * the feare of the Lord is wisdom, and to depart from euill is vnderstanding.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Iob complaineth of the prosperitie of the same. 23 He is a hypocrite, 12 Justice and equitie.

S O Iob proceeded, and continued his prayer, saying, 2 Oh that I were as [†] in times past, when God preferred me!

3 When his light shined vpon mine head: and when by his light I walked thorow the darkness,

4 As I was in the dayes of my youth: when Gods prouidence was vpon my tabernacle:

5 When the Almighty was yet with me, and my children round about me:

6 When I washed my paths with butter, and when the rockes powered mee out riuers of oyle:

7 When I went out to the gate, when to the iudgement seate, and when I caused them to prepare my seat in the streete.

8 The young men law mee, and hid themselves: and the aged as oyle, and stood vp.

9 The princes said talke, and layed their hand on their mouth.

10 The voyce of Pines was hid, and their tongue cleaued to the roofof their mouth.

11 And when the eare heard mee, it blessed me: and when the eye saw me it gaue witness to me.

12 For I deliuered the poore that cried, and the fatherlesse, and him that had none to helpe him.

13 The blessing of him that was ready to perish, came vpon mee, and I caused the widowes heart to reioyce.

14 I put on iustice, and it couered me: my iudgement was as a robe, and a crowne:

15 I was the eyes to the blinde, and I was the feete to the lame.

16 I was a father vnto the poore, and when I knew not the cause, I sought it out diligently.

17 I brake also the iawes of the vniuerse, and plucked the pray out of his teeth.

18 Then I said, I shall die in my nest, and I shall multiplie my dayes as the fane.

19 For my roote is spread out by the water, and the deaw shall lie vpon my branch.

20 My glory shall renew toward me, and my bowe shall be restored in mine hand.

21 Vnto mee men gaue eare, and waited, and held their tongue at my counsell.

22 After my words they replied not, and my talke dropped vpon them.

23 And they waited for mee, as for the raine, an they opened their mouth for as for the latter raine.

24 If I laughed on them, they beleied it: not: neither did they cause the light of my countenance^a to fall.

25 I appointed out^b their way, and did sit as chiefe, and dwelt as a King in the aerie, and like him that comforteth the mourners.

x With the heat of affliction,

2 For whereto should the strength of their hand haue serued mee, seeing age & perished in them?

3 For pouerty and famine they were solitarie, fleeing into the wilderness, which is darke, desolate and waste.

4 They cut vp // nettles by the bushes, and the iun per rootes was their meate.

5 They were also chafed forth from among men: they shooed at them, as at a thiefe.

6 Therefore they dwelt in the clefts of riuers, in the holes of the earth and rocks.

7 They roared among the bushes, and vnder the thistles they gathered themselves.

8 They were the children of fooles and the children of villaines, which were more vile then the earth.

9 And now I am their c song, and I am their talke.

10 They abhorre me, and flee farre from mee, and spare not to spit in my face.

11 Because that God hath loosed my f corde and humbled mee, g they haue loosed the bridle before me.

12 The youth rise vp at my right hand: they haue pushed my feete, and haue trode on mee as on the b paths of their destruction.

13 They haue destroyed my paths: they tooke pleasure at my calamity, they had none i helpe.

14 They came as a great breach of water, and k vnder this calamitie they come on heapes.

15 Feare is turned vpon me: and they pursue my soule as the winde, and mine health passeth away as a cloud.

16 Therefore my soule is now l powdered out vpon me, and the daies of affliction haue taken hold on me.

17 m It pearceh my bones in the night, and my sinewes take no rest.

18 For the great vehemency is my garment changed, which compasseth me about as the collar of my coate.

19 n He hath cast me into the mire, and I am become like ashes and dust.

20 When I cry vnto thee, thou dost not heare me, neither regardst me, when I stand vp.

21 Thou turnest thy selfe o cruelly against me, and art enemy vnto mee with the strength of thine hand.

22 Thou takest mee vp and caufest me to ride vpon the p winde, and makest my // strength to faile.

23 Surely I know that thou wilt bring mee to death, and to the house appointed for all the liuing.

24 Doubtlesse none can stretch his hand vnto the graue, though they cry in his destruction.

25 Did not I weepe with him that was in trouble? Was not my soule in heavinesse for the poore?

26 Yet when I looked for good, & euill came vnto me: and when I waited for light, there came darknesse.

27 My bowels did boile without rest: for the dayes of affliction are come vpon me.

28 I went mourning without funne: I stood vp in the congregation t and cried.

29 I am a brother to the Dragons, and a companion to the Ostriches.

30 My skinne is blacke vpon mee, and my bones are burnt with s heate.

31 Therefore mine harpe is turned to mourning, and mine organs into the voyce of them that weepe.

C H A P. XXXI.

x Iob reciteth the innocency of his liuing, and number of his vertues, which declareth what ought to be the life of the iust.

I Made a couenant with mine eyes: why then should I thinke on a maide?

2 For what portion should I haue of God from aboute? and what inheritance of the Almighty from on high?

3 Is not destruction to the wicked, & strange punishment to the workers of iniquitie?

4 Doeth not he behold my waies and tell all my steps?

5 If I haue walked in vanitie, or if my foot hath made haft to decie,

6 Let God weigh me in the iust balance, and he shall know mine d vprightnesse.

7 If my fteppe hath turned out of the way, or mine heart hath walked after mine eye, or if any blot hath cleaued to mine hands,

8 Let me ow, and let another e eate: yea, let my plants be rooted out.

9 If mine heart hath bene deceived by a woman, or if I haue laid waite at the doore of my neighbour,

10 Let my wife g grinde, vnto another man, and let other men bow downe vpon her.

11 For this is a wickednesse, and iniquitie to be condemned.

12 Yea, this is a fire that shall deuoure h to destruction, & which shall root out all my increase.

13 If I did contemne the iudgement of my servant, and of my maide, when they i did contend with me, 14 What then shal I do when k God standeth vp? & when he shall visit me, what shall I answer?

15 He that hath made me in the wombe, hath he not made l him? hath not he alone fashioned vs in the wombe?

16 If I restrained the poore of their desire, or haue caused the eyes of the widow m to faile,

17 Or haue eaten my morsels alone, and the fatherlesse hath not eaten thereof,

18 (For from my youth hee hath growne vp with me n as with a father, and from my mothers wombe I haue bene a guide vnto her.)

19 If I haue seene any perish for want of clothing, or any poore without couering,

20 If his loynes haue not blessed me, because he was warmed with the fleece of my sheepe,

21 If I haue lift o vp mine hand against the fatherlesse, when I saw that I might helpe him in the gate, 22 Let mine p arme fall from my shoulder, and mine arme be broken from the bone.

23 For Gods punishment was q fearefull vnto mee, and I could not be deliuered from his highnesse.

24 If I made gold mine hope, or haue said to the wedge of gold, Trust at my confidence,

25 If I reioycd because my substance was great, or because mine hand had gotten much,

26 If I did behold the sunne, when it shined, or the moone walking in her brightnesse,

27 If mine heart did flatter me in secret, or if my mouth did kisse mine f hand,

28 (This also had bene an iniquitie to be condemned: for I had denied the God aboute)

29 If I reioycd at his destruction that hated a I kept mine eyes from all wanton looks.

b Would not God then haue punished me?

c Iob declareth that the feare of God was a bridle to stay him from all wickednesse.

d He leueth where in his vprightnesse standeth, that is, in as much as he was blamelesse before men, & sinned not against the second table.

e That is, hath accomplished the lust of mine eye.

CHAP. XXXII.

2 Elihu reuerenteth Iob of folly. 8 Age maketh not a man wise, but the spirit of God.

S O these three men ceased to answer Iob, because he f esteemed himselfe iust.

2 Then the wrath of Elihu the sonne of Barachel the b Buzite, of the familie of b Ram, was kindled: his wrath, i say, was kindled against Iob, because he iustified himselfe e more then God.

3 Also his anger was kindled against his three friends, because they could not finde an answer, and yet condemned Iob.

4 (Now Elihu had waited till Iob had spoken: for d they were more ancient in yeeres then hee)

5 So when Elihu sawe, that there was none answer in the mouth of the three men, his wrath was kindled.

6 Therefore Elihu the sonne of Barachel the Buzite, answered and said, I am young in yeeres, and ye are ancient: therefore I doubted, and was afraid to shew you mine opinion.

7 For I saw, That dayes shall speake, and the multitude of yeeres shall teach wisdom.

8 Surely there is a spirit in man, f but the inspiration of the Almighty giueth vnderstanding.

9 Great men are not alway wise, neither doe the aged alway vnderstand iudgement.

10 Therefore I say, Heare mee, and I will shew al o mine opinion.

11 Behold, I did waite vpon your words, and hearkened vnto your knowledge, whyles you sought out g reasons.

12 Yea, when I had considered you, loe, there was none of you that reproued Iob, nor answered his words.

13 Left ye should say, We haue h found wisdom: for God hath cast him downe, and no man.

14 Yet hath i he not directed his words to mee, neither will I answer k him by your words.

15 Then they fearing answered no more, but left off their talke.

16 When I had waited (for they spake not, but stood still and answered no more)

17 Then answered I in my turne, and I shewed mine opinion.

18 For I am ful of l matter, and the spirit with- in me compelleth me.

19 Behold, my belly is as the wine, which hath no vent, and like the new bottels that brast.

20 Therefore will I speake, that I may take breath: I will open my lips and will answer.

21 I will not now accept the perion of man, m neither will I giue titles to man.

22 For I may not giue n titles, lest my Maker should take me away suddenly.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Elihu accuseth Iob of ignorance. 14 Hee sheweth that God hath diuers meenes to retriuef man, and to draw him y o sinne. 19. 23 Hee afflictef man and suddenly deliuereth him. 26 Man being deliuered giueth thanks to God.

W Herefore Iob, I pray thee, heare my talke, and hearken vnto my words.

2 Behold now, I haue opened my mouth: my tongue hath spoken in my mouth.

3 My words are in the vprightnesse of mine heart, and my lips shall speake pure knowledge.

4 The s Spirit of God hath made me, and the breath of the Almighty hath giuen me life.

5 If thou canst giue me answere, prepare thy selfe and stand before me.

6 Behold, I am according to thy wish in b Gods stead: I am also formed of the clay.

7 Behold, my terror shall not feare thee, neither shall mine hand e be heauie vpon thee.

8 Doubtlesse thou hast spoken in mine eares, and I haue heard the voice of my words.

9 I am d cleane, without sinne: I am innocent, and there is none iniquitie in me.

10 Loe, he hath found occasions against mee, and counte d me for his enemie.

11 Hee hath put my feete in the flockes, and looketh narrowly vnto all my paths.

12 Behold, in this hast thou not done right: I will answer thee that God is greater then man.

13 Why dost thou strue against him? for he doeth not e giue account of all his matters.

o He sheweth that it is a sure token of Gods mercy toward sinners when hee causeth his word to be preached vnto them.
p That is, the minister shall by the preaching of the word pronounce vnto him the forgiveness of his sinnes.

 21 His flesh faileth that it cannot be seene, and his bones which were for cene, clatter.
 22 So his soule draweth to the graue, and his life to the buriers.
 23 If there be a messenger with him, or an interpreter, one of a thousand, to declare vnto man his righteouines.
 24 Then will hee haue a mercy vpon him, and will say, Deliuor him, that he go not downe into the pit: for I haue receiued a reconciliation.
 25 Then shall his flesh be as fresh as a childs, and shall returne as in the dayes of his youth.
 26 He shall pray vnto God, & he will be fauourable vnto him, and he shall see his face with ioy: for he will render vnto man his righteouines.
 27 Hee looketh vpon men, and if one lay, I haue sinned, and I peruerterighteouines, and it did not profit me.
 28 He will deliuer his soule from going into the pit, and his life shall see the light.
 29 Lo, all these things will God worke twice or thrise with a man.
 30 That hee may turne backe his soule from the pit, to be illumined in the light of the liuing.
 31 Marke well, O Iob, and heare me: keepe silence, and I will speake.
 32 If there be any matter, answer me, and speake: for I desire to iustifie thee.
 33 If thou hast not heard me, hold thy tongue and I will teach thee wisely.

CHAP. XXXIII.

5 Elihu charges Iob that hee called himselfe righteous. 2 Hee sheweth that God is iust in his iudgements. 24 God destroyeth the mighty. 30 By him the hypocrite reigneth.

Moreouer Elihu answered, and sayd,
 2 Heare my wordes, yee wise men, and hearken vnto me, ye that haue knowledge.
 3 For the care tryeth the words, as the mouth tasteth meate.
 4 Let vs seeke b iudgement among vs, and let vs know among our selues what is good.
 5 For Iob hath said, I am righteous, and God hath taken away my iudgement.
 6 Should I lie in my right? my wound of the arrow is grievous without any sinne.
 7 What man is like Iob, that drinketh scornfullnesse like water?
 8 Which goeth in the company of them that worke iniquitie, and walketh with wicked men?
 9 For he hath said, I will proficite a man nothing that he should walke with God.
 10 Therefore hearken vnto me, ye men of wisdom, God forbid that wickednesse should bee in God, and iniquitie in the Almighty.
 11 For hee will render vnto man according to his worke, and cause euery one to find according to his way.
 12 And certainly God will not do wickedly, neither will the Almighty peruert iudgement.
 13 Whom hath he appointed ouer the earth beside him selfe? or who hath placed the whole world?

14 If hee set his heart vpon man, and gather vnto him selfe his spirit, I and his breach,
 15 All flesh shall perish together, and man shall returne vnto dust.
 16 And if thou hast vnderstanding, heare this, and hearken to the voyce of my wordes.
 17 Shall he that hateth iudgement, gouerne? & wilt thou iudge him wicked that is most iust?
 18 Wilt thou lay vnto a king, Thou art wicked? or to princes, Take away godly.
 19 How much lesse to him that accepteth not the persons of princes, and regardeth not the rich more then the poore? for they bee all the worke of his hands.
 20 They shall die suddenly, and the people shall be troubled at midnight, and they shall passe forth and take away the mighty without hand.
 21 For his eyes are vpon the wayes of man, and hee seeth all his goings.
 22 There is no darkenesse nor shadowe of death, that the workers of iniquitie might be hid therein.
 23 For hee will not lay on man so much, that he should enter into iudgement with God.
 24 Hee shall breake the mighty without seeking, and shall set vp other in their stead.
 25 Therefore shall he declare their works: hee shall turne the night, and they shall be destroyed.
 26 Hee striketh them as wicked men in the places of the fiers.
 27 Because they haue turned backe from him, and would not consider all his wayes.
 28 So that they haue caused the voyce of the poore to come vnto him, and he hath heard the cry of the afflicted.
 29 And when hee giueth quietnesse, who can make trouble? and when hee hideth his face, who can behold him, whether it bee vpon nations, or vpon a man only?
 30 Because the hypocrite doeth reign, and because the people are inured.
 31 Surely it apperaineth vnto God to say, I haue pardoned, I will not destroy.
 32 But if I see not, teach thou me: if I haue done wickedly, I will do no more.
 33 Will hee perorme the thing through blishe? for thou hast reprobud it, because that thou hast chosen, & not I: now speake what thou knowest.
 34 Let men of vnderstanding tell me, and let a wise man hearken vnto me.
 35 Iob hath not spoken of knowledge, neither were his words according to wisdom.
 36 I desire that Iob may bee tried vnto the end touching the answers for wicked men.
 37 For hee addeth rebellion vnto his sinne, he clappeth his hands among vs, and multiplieth his words against God.

c Thus hee speaketh in the person of God as though Iob should haue pleased him. d That is, may speake as much as he can, that hee may auerue him and all the wicked that shall use such arguments. e Hee is andeth stubbornly in the maintenance of his cause.

 13 The wicked cry vnto God and are not heard.
Elihu spake moreouer, and said,
 2 Thinkest thou this right, that thou hast sayd, I am more righteous then God?

though he would say, that God tormented him without iust cause.

k To destroy him.
l The breath of life which he gave man.
m If God were not sufficient could he gouerne the world?
n If man of nature care to speake euill, of such as haue power, when much more ought they to be afraid to speake euill of God.
o When they looke not for it.
p The offenders on vocation that God shall kill.
q God doth not afflict man without measure, for that he should haue occasion to contend with him.
r For all his creatures are at hand to seene him, so that he needeth not to seke for any other arm.
s Make them miserable that are wicked.
t Declare the things that were hid.

x By their cruelty and extortion.
y Whenthyants fight the throne of justice which vnder pretence of accusing iust men, but hypocrites and oppress the people, it is a signe that God hath diuened back his countenance and fauour from that place.
z Early it belongeth to God to moderate his corrections, and not vnto man.
a Thus Elihu speaketh in the person of God as if it were mocking Iob because he would be the wisest then God.
b Will God esteeme the counsel in doing his workes?
c Hee is andeth stubbornly in the maintenance of his cause. d Iob neuer spake these words: but because he maintained his innocencie, it seemed as

Why God punisheth.

b Such as are in the like error.

c If thou canst not controule the clouds wilt thou presume to instruct God?
d Neither doeth thy fume hurt God, nor thy iustice profit him: for he will be glorified without thee.

e The wicked may hurt a man, and cause him to cry, who if hee fought to God, which fendeth comfort, should be deliuered.

f Because they pray not in laish, as feeling Gods mercies.

g Gods iust, howeuer thou iudget of him. h For if hee did punish thee as thou deseruest, thou shouldst not be able to open thy mouth.

4 Therefore will I answer thee, & thy companions vnto thee,
5 Looke vnto the heauen, and see and behold, the cioudes wherby are hier then thou.
6 Yea, thou fianeest, what doest thou against him, if when thy finnes be many, what doest thou vnto him?
7 If thou be righteous, what giuest thou vnto him? or what receiuest he at thine hand?
8 Thy wickednes may hurt a man as thou art & thy righteousness may profite the sonne of man.
9 They came many that are oppressed, to cry, which cry out for the violence of the mighty.
10 But none saith, Where is God that made me, which giuest songs in the night?
11 Which teacheth vs more then the beastes of the earth, and giueth vs more wisdom then the foules of the heauen.
12 Then they cry because o' the violence of the wicked, but hee answereth not.
13 Surely God will not heare vanitie, neither will the Almighty regard it.
14 Although thou sayest to God, Thou wilt not regard it, yet iudgment is before him: trueth thou in him.
15 But now because his anger hath not visited, nor called to count the euill with great extremity, 16 Therefore Iob^b openeth his mouth in vaine, and multiplieth words without knowledge.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Elihu sheweth the power of God & Anshu iustice. 9 And therefore hee punieth Iob. 13 The prosperitie of the wicked.

E Lihu also proceeded and sayd,
2 Suffer me a litle and I will instruct thee: for I haue vnto to speake on Gods behaile.

3 I will fetch a my knowledge as farre off, and will attribute righteousnes vnto my maker.

4 For truly my words shall not be false, and hee that is s^b perfect in knowledge, speakech w^b thee.

5 Behold, the mighty God casteth away none that is mightie, and valiant of courage.

6 He maintaineth not the wicked, but hee giuech iudgement to the afflicted.

7 He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous, but they are with e kings in s throne, where he placeth them for euer: thus they are exalted.

8 And if they bee bound in fetters and tyed with the cords of affliction,

9 Then will he shew them their f^b worke and their finnes, because they haue bene proud.

10 He openeth also their eare to discipline, and commandeth them that they returne from iniquity.

11 * If they obey and serue him, they shall end their dayes in prosperitie, & their yerres in pleasures.

12 But if they will not obey, they shall passe by the sword, and perish without knowledge.

13 But the hypocrites h^b of heart increate the wrath: for they call not when he bindeth them.

14 Their foule dieth in k youth, and their life among the where mongers.

15 He deliuereth the poore in his affliction, and openeth their eare in trouble.

16 Euen so would he haue taken thee out of the strait place into a broad place, and not shut vp beneath: and that which relecth vpon thy table, had bene full of far.

17 But thou art full of the iudgement of the wicked, though iudgement and equitie maintaine all things.

18 ^a For Gods wrath is; left hee should take thee away in thine abundance: for no multitude of gifts can deliuer thee.

19 Will he regard thy riches? he regardeth not gold, nor all them that excell in strength.

20 Be not careless in the night, how he destroyeth the people out of their place.

21 Take thou heede: looke not to piniquity: for thou hast cholen it rather then affliction.

22 Behold, God exalteth by his power: what teacher is like him?

23 Who hath appointed to him his way? or who can say, Thou hast done wickedly?

24 Remember that thou magnifie his worke, which men behold.

25 All men see it, and men behold it q a farre off.

26 Beholde, God is excellent, and wee know him not, neither can the number of his yerres be searched out.

27 When he restraineth the drops of water, the raine f^b powreth downe by the vapour thereof, 28 Which raine the clouds doe droppe and let fall abundantly vpon man.

29 Who can know the deuotions of the clouds, and the thunders of his Tabernacle?

30 Behold, hee preadeth his light vpon it, and couereth the bottome of the sea.

31 For thereby hee iudgeth y the people, and giuech meat abundantly.

32 Hee conereth the light with the clouds, and commandeth them to goe against it.

33 His companion sheweth him thereof, and there is anger in rising vp.

hath double life: the one that it declareth Gods iudgements, when it doeth once flow againe, and the other that it maketh the land fruitful.

CHAP. XXXVII.

2 Elihu prometh that the vnsearchable wisdom of God is manifested by his worke, 4 At the thunders, 6 The snow, 9 The whirlwinde, 11 And the raine.

A T this also mine heart is a^b stonied, and is amoued out of his place.

2 Heare the found of his voyce, and the noise that goeth out of his mouth.

3 He directeth it vnder the whole heauen, and his light vnto the ends of the world.

4 After it a noyse foundeth: hee thundereth with the voyce of his maiestie, and hee will not stay e them when his voyce is heard.

5 God thundereth maruelously with his voyce: hee worketh great things which we know not.

6 For hee saith to the snow, Be thou vpon the earth: likewise to the smale raine & to the great raine of his power.

7 With the force thereof hee shutteth vp euerie man, that all men may know his worke.

8 Then the beasts goe into the denne, and remaine in their places.

9 The whirlwinde commeth out of the South, the cold from the Northwinde.

ment. e By raine and thunders God causeth men to keepe their houses. f In Ebrewe it is called the scattering winde, way the cloudes and purgeth the earth,

m Thou art altogether after the manner of the wicked: for thou dost murmur against the iudgement of God. n God doth punish thee, left thou shouldst forget God in thy wealth and lopech. o Be not thou curious in seeking the cause of Gods iudgements, when he destroyeth any. p And to murmur against God through impatience.

q The workes of God are so manifest, that a man may see them a farre off, and know God by the same.

r One admitteth to hinder thy way, that we cannot attaine to the perfect knowledge of God.

10 At the breath of God the frost is giuen, and the breadth of the waters ^g made narrow.

11 He maketh al^o the cloudes to ^h labour, to water the earth, and scattereth the cloudes of his light.

12 And it is turned about by his gouernment, that they may doe whatsoeuer hee commaundeth them vpon the whole world:

13 Whether it bee for ^k punishment, or for his land, or of mercy, he causeth it to come.

14 Hearken vnto this, O Iob: stand and consider the wonderous workes of God.

15 Diddest thou know when God disposed thereof, and cauled the ^l light of his cloud to shine?

16 Haft thou known the ^m variety of the cloud, ⁿ the wonderous workes of him, that is perfitt in knowledge?

17 Or howe thy clothes are ^o warme, when hee maketh the earth quiet through the Southwinde?

18 Haft thou stretched out the heauens, which are strong, ^p and as a molten ^q glasse?

19 Tell vs what we shall lay vnto him: for we cannot dispo^{se} ^r our matter because of ^s darknes.

20 Shall it be ^t tolde him when I speake? or shall man peake when hee shall be destroyed?

21 And now men see not the light, ^u which shineth in the cloudes, but the winde passeeth and cleareth them.

22 The brightnes commeth out of the North: ^v
 the praise thereof ^w to God, which is terrible.

23 It is the Almighty: wee cannot finde him out: he is excellent in power and iudgement, and abundant in iustice: he ^x afflieth not.

24 Let men therefore feare him: for hee will not regard any that are wise in their owne conceit.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

v God speaketh to Iob, and declareth the weaknesse of man in the consideration of his creatures, by whose excellencie the power infinite, and providence of the Creator is knowne.

Then answered the Lord vnto Iob out of the a whirlwind, and said,

2 Who is this that ^b darkeneth the counsel by words without knowledge?

3 Gird vp now thy loynes like a man: I will demaund of thee, and declare thou vnto me.

4 Where wast thou when I layed the foundations of the earth? declare, if thou hast vnder-standing.

5 Who hath layed the measures thereof, if thou knowest, or who hath stretched the line out it?

6 Whereupon are the foundations thereof set:
 or who laid the corner stone thereof?

7 When the starres of the morning ^c prayed ^d together, and all the ^e children of God reioiced:

8 Or who hath shut vp the sea with doores, when it issued and came forth ^f as out of the wombe.

9 Or who hath bound the ^g waves with a chain, when hee brake forth, as when hee breaketh out of the wombe?

10 Or who hath kept the ^h gates of the sea, when hee brake forth, as when hee
 breaketh out of the wombe?

11 Or who hath kept the ⁱ gates of the sea,
 when hee brake forth, as when hee
 breaketh out of the wombe?

9 When I made the cloudes ^a as a couering thereof, and darkened ^a the ^b shining bands thereof:

10 When I established my commandement vp-on it, and set barres and doores,

11 And layde, Hitherto shall thou come, but no further, and heere shall it ^c stay thy proude wates.

12 Haft thou commanded the ^d morning since thy daies? hast thou caused the morning to know his place?

13 That it might take hold of the corners of the earth, and that the wicked might be ^e shaken out of it?

14 It is turned as clay to fashion, ^f and all stand vp as ^g argument.

15 And from the wicked their light shall be taken away, and the high arme shall be broken.

16 Haft thou entered into the bottomes of the sea? or hast thou walked to seeke out their depth?

17 Hast the gates of death bene opened vnto thee? or hast thou scene the gates of the shadow of death?

18 Haft thou perceived the breadth of the earth? tell if thou knowest all this.

19 Where is the way where light dwelleth? and where is the place of darknesse?

20 That thou ^h shouldst receive it in the bounes thereof, and that thou shouldst know the paths to the house thereof?

21 Knewst thou it, because thou wast then borne, and ⁱ because the number of thy dayes ^j is great?

22 Haft thou entered into the treasures of the snow? or hast thou scene the treasures of the haile,

23 Which I haue ^k hid against the time of trouble, against the day of warre and battell?

24 By what way is the light parted, which ^l scat-tereth the East wind vpon the earth?

25 Who hath diuided the spouts for the raine?
 or the way for the lightning of the thunders,

26 To cause it to raine on the earth where no man is, and in the wilderness where there is no man?

27 To fulfill the wilde and waste place, and to cause the bud of the herbe to spring forth?

28 Who is the father of the raine? or who hath begotten the drops of the dew?

29 Out of whose wombe came the yce? who hath ingendered the frost of the heauen?

30 The waters are hid ^a as with a stone: and the face of the depth is frozen.

31 Canst thou restrain the sweete ^b influence of the Pleiades? or loose the bands of ^c Orion?

32 Canst thou bring forth ^d Mazzaroth in their time? canst thou al^o guide ^e Afturus with his sonnes?

33 Knowest thou the course of heauen, or canst thou let the ^f rule thereof in the earth?

34 Canst thou lift vp thy voyce to the cloudes, that the abundance of water may couer thee?

35 Canst thou send the lightnings that they may walke, and say vnto thee, Loe, here wee are?

36 Who hath put wisdom in the ^g scines?
 or who hath giuen the heart vnderstanding?

37 Who can number clouds by wisdom? or who can cause the ^h bowells of heauen,

38 When the earth groweth into hardnesse, and the clots are fast together?

g As though that great sea were but as a little babe in

C H A P. XXXIX.

The louitie and prouidence of God, which extendeth euen to the young rauen, giueth man full confidence in part to his confidence in God.
37 Iob confesseth and wondereth himselfe.

VWilt thou hunt the pray for the lion? or fill the appetite of the lions whelpes,

2 When they couch in their places, and remaine in the covert to lie in wait?

3 Who prepareth for the rauen his meate, when his birdes^b crie vnto God, wandering for lacke of meate?

4 Knowest thou the time when the wilde goats bring forth yong? or doest thou marke when the hindes do calue?

5 Canst thou number the monethes that they fulfill? or knowest thou the time when they bring forth?

6 They bowe themselues: they c^bruise their yong, and cast out their forrowes.

7 Yet the young waxe fatte, and grow vp with corne: they goe forth and returne not vnto them.

8 Who hath set the wilde asse at libertie? or who hath loosed the bonds of the wilde asse?

9 I^b which haue made the wilde nesse his house, and the salt places his dwellings.

10 He derideth the multitude of the city: hee heareth not the crie of the driuer.

11 Hee seeketh out the mountaine for his pasture, and earceth after euery greening.

12 Will the vnicorne ferue thee? or will hee tary by thy crib?

13 Canst thou binde the vnicorne with his band to labour in the furrow? or will he plow the valleys after thee?

14 Wilt thou trust in him, because his strength is great, and cast off thy labour vnto him?

15 Wilt thou beleue him, that hee will bring home thy feed, and gather it vnto thy barne?

16 Hast thou giuen the pleasant wings vnto the peacocks? or wings and feathers vnto the ostrich?

17 Which leaueth his egges in the earth, and maketh them^b hot in the dust.

18 And forgetteth that the foot might scatter them, or that the wild beast might breake them.

19 He sheweth himselfe cruell vnto his young ones, as they were not his, and is without feare, as if he travelled in vane.

20 For God hath deprived him of^b wisdom, and hath giuen him no part of vnderstanding.

21 When^b time^b hee mounteth on high: hee mocketh the horse and his rider.

22 Hast thou giuen the horse strength, or couered his necke with^b neyng?

23 Hast thou made him afraid as the grasshopper? his strong neyng is fairewill.

24 Hee diggeth in the valley, and reioyceth in his strength: hee goeth forth to meet the harnefed man.

25 He mocketh at feare, and is not afraid, and turneth not backe from the sword, 26 Toometh the quier rattel against him, the glittering speare and the shield.

27 He swalloweth the ground for fierconesse and rage, and he beleueth not that it is the noise of the trumpet.

28 He faith among the trumpet, Ha, ha: hee smelleth the battell farre off, and the noise of the captaines, and the shouting,

29 Shall the hauke flie by thy wisdom, stretching out his wings toward the South?

30 Doeth the eagle mount vp at thy commandement, or make his nest on high?

31 She abideth and remaineth in the rocke, euen vpon the top of the specke, and the tower.

32 From thence she spieth for meate, and her eyes behold as farre off.

33 His young ones also sucke vp blood: and where the flaine are, there is she.

34 Moreover the Lord spake vnto Iob, and sayd,

35 Is this to learne, to struie with the Almighty? he that reproceth God, let him answer to it.

36 ¶ Then Iob answered the Lord, saying, Behold, I am vile: what shall I answer thee? I will lay mine hand vpon my mouth.

38 Once haue I spoken, but I will answer no more, yea, twife, but I will proceed no further.

C H A P. XL.

How weak man's power is being compared to the works of God.
10 Iob's power appeareth in the creation, and gouerning of the great beasts.

A Gaine the Lord answered Iob out of^{*} the whirlwind, and sayd,

2 Gird vp now thy loynes like a man: I will demand of thee, and declare thou vnto me.

3 Wilt thou disanull^a my iudgement? or wilt thou condemne me, that thou mayest be iustified?

4 Or hast thou an arme like God? or doest thou thunder with a voyce like him?

5 Decke thy selfe now with^b maiestie and excellencie, and aray thy selfe with beautie and glory.

6 Cast abroad the indignation of thy wrath, and behold euery one that is proud & abase him.

7 Look on euery one that is arrogant, and bring him lowe: and destroy the wicked in their place.

8 Hide them in the dust together, and binde their faces in a secret place.

9 Then will I confide vnto thee also, that thy right hand can^d saue thee.

10 ¶ Behold now^e Behemoth (whom I made with thee) which eateth^e grass like an ox.

11 Behold now, his strength^e is in his loynes, and his force^e is in the nauell of his belly.

12 When^e hee taketh pleasure, his taile is like a cedar: the finewes of his bones are wrapt together.

13 His bones are like stauas of braffe, and his small bones like stauas of yron.

14 He is the chiefe of the wayes of God: i^e he that made him, will make his sword to approach vnto him.

15 Surely the mountaines bring him forth graffe, where all the beasts of the field play.

16 Lieth he vnder the trees in the covert of the reede and fennes?

17 Can the trees couer him with their shadow? or can the willowes of the riuer compasse him about?

18 Behold, he spoileth the riuer, and hasterh not: he trusteth that he can draw vp Iorden into his mouth.

19 Hee taketh it with his eyes, and thrusteth his nose through whatsoeuer meeteth him.

20 ¶ Canst thou draw out I Leuiathan with an hooke, and with a line which thou shalt cast downe vnto his tongue?

21 Canst thou cast an hooke into his nose? canst

CHAP. XLII.

1 By the creaturiss of Iohn the son of Leuiathan, God sheweth his greatnesse and his power, which nothing can resist.

4 Who can discouer the face ^d of his garment?
or who shall come to him with a double ^e bridle?

5 Who shall open the doores of his face?
his teeth are fearfull round about.

6 The maiesty of his scales is like strong shields, and are sure sealed.

7 One is let to another, that no winde can come betweene them.

8 One is ioyned to another: they stick together, that they cannot be sundred.

9 His neckings make the light to shine, and his eyes are like the eye lids of the morning.

10 Out of his mouth goe lamps, and sparks of fire leape out.

11 Out of his nostrils commeth out smoke, as out of a boyling pot or caldron.

12 His breath maketh the coales burne: for a flame goeth out of his mouth.

13 In his necke remaineth strength, and his labour is reiected before his face.

14 The members of his body are ioyned: they are strong in themselves, and cannot be moued.

15 His heart is as strong as a stone, & as hard as the nether millstone.

16 The mighty are afraid of his maiestie, and forseake they faint in themselves.

17 When the sword doeth touch him, he will not rise vp, nor for the speare, dart nor habergeon.

18 Hee esteemeth yron as straw, and brasse as rotten wood.

19 The archer cannot make him flee: the stones of the sling are turned into stubble vnto him.

20 The darts are counted as straw: and hee laugheth at the shaking of the speare.

21 Sharpe stones are vnder him, and he spreadeth sharpe thistles vpon the myre.

22 He maketh the depth to boile like a pot, and maketh the sea like a pot of ointment.

23 He maketh a path to shine after him, one would thinke the depth as an hoare head.

24 In the earth there is none like him: he is made without feare.

25 He beholdeth all hie things: he is a king ouer all the children of pride.

CHAP. XLII.

6 The repentance of Iob. 5 Hee prayeth for his friends. 12 His goods are restored newe to vnto him. 13 His children, age and death.

Then Iob answered the Lord, and sayd,
2 I know that thou canst doe all things and that there is no ^a thought hid from thee.

3 Who is hee that hideth counsell without bknowledge? therefore haue I spoken that I vinderstood not, ^c seen things too wonderful for me, and which I knew not.

4 Heare, I beseech thee, and I will speake: I will demand of thee, and declare thou vnto me.

5 I haue heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but now mine eye seeth thee.

6 Therefore I abhorre ^d my selfe, and repent in dust and ashes.

7 ¶ Now after that the Lord had spoken these words vnto Iob, the Lord also sayd vnto Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends: for ye haue not i-spoken of mee the thing that is right, like my seruant Iob.

8 Therefore take vnto you now seven bul-locks, and seven rammes, and goe to my seruant Iob, and offer vp for your selues a burnt offering, and my seru-ant Iob shall pray for you: for I will accept him, lest I should put you to shame, because ye haue not spoken of mee the thing which is right, like my seru-ant Iob.

9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite, went, and did according as the Lord had saide vnto them, and the Lord accepted Iob.

10 ¶ Then the Lord turned the captiuitie of Iob, when he prayed for his friends: also the Lord gaue Iob twise as much as he had before.

11 Then came vnto him all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had bene of his acquaintance before, and did eate bread with him in his house, & had commiseration on him, and comforted him for all the euill that the Lord had brought vpon him, and every man gaue him a piece of money, and every one an earring of gold.

12 So the Lord blessed the last dayes of Iob, more then the first: for he had fourteen thousand sheepe, and sixe thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand shee asses.

13 He had also seven sonnes, and three daughters.

14 And he called the name of one Temimah, and the name of the second Keziah, & the name of the third Keren-happuch.

15 In all the land were no women found so faire as the daughters of Iob, & their father gaue them inheritance among their brethren.

16 And after this Iob liued Iob an hundredth and fourtie yeeres, and saw his sonnes, and his sonnes sonnes, ^e seen four generations.

17 So Iob died, being old, and full of dayes.

g A Psalm of David, when he fled from his sonne Absalom.

Lord, how are mine adversaries ^a increased? How many rise against me?

2 Many say to my soule, There is no helpe for him in God, b Selah.

3 But thou Lord art a buckler for me, my glory, and the lifter vp of mine head.

4 I did call vnto the Lord with my voice, and he heard me out of his holy mountaine. Selah.

5 I laid me downe and slept, and rose vp againe: for the Lord sustained me:

6 I will not be afraid for ^ctenne thousand of the people that would be seter me round about.

7 O Lord arise: helpe me, my God: for thou hast smitten all mine enemies vpon the cheeke bone: thou hast broken the teeth of the wicked.

8 ^dSaluation belongeth vnto the Lord, and thy blessing ^evpon thy people. Selah.

PSAL. IIIII.

When Saul persecuted him he called vpon God, trusting most assuredly in his promise, and therefore boldly reproveh his enemies who wilfully resisted his dominion, and finally preferreth the fauour of God before all worldly treasures.

g A To him that excelleth on Negiath.

A Psalm of David.

Hear me when I call, b O God of my righteousness: thou hast let me at libertie, when I was ^a in diffire: haue mercie vpon me, and hearken vnto my prayer.

2 O yee ^clonnes of men, how long will yee burne my glorie into shame, ^elouing vanitie, and seeking lies? Selah.

3 For be ye sure that the Lord hath chosen to himselfe f a godly man: the Lord wil heare when I call vnto him.

4 Tremble, and sinne not: examine your own heart vpon your bed, and be ^hfill. Selah.

5 Offer the sacrifices of righteousness, and trust in the Lord.

6 Many say, Who will shew vs any ^k good? but Lord, lift vp the light of thy countenance vpon vs.

7 Thou hast giuen me more ioy of heart, then they haue had, when their wheate and their wine did abound.

8 I will lay me downe, & also sleepe in peace: for thou, Lord, ^lonely makest me dwell in safetie.

PSAL. V.

David oppressed with the cruelty of his enemies, and fearing great danger, calleth vnto God for succour, shewing how requies he that God should punish the malice of his adversaries. After, bringeth offes of prosperous success, he conuenieth comfort, concluding, that when God shall deliver him, others also shall be partakers of the same mercies.

g To him that excelleth vpon Negiath.

A Psalm of David.

Hear me words, O Lord: vnderstand my meditation.

2 Hearken vnto the voice of my crye, my king and my God: for vnto thee doe I pray.

3 Heare my voice in the morning, O Lord: for in the morning will I direct me vnto thee, and I will b wait.

4 For thou art not a God that loueth wickednesse, neither shall oult dwell with thee.

5 The foolish shall not stand in thy sight: because thou hatest wickednesse.

6 The fool shall not stand in thy sight: because thou hatest wickednesse.

7 The fool shall not stand in thy sight: because thou hatest wickednesse.

8 The fool shall not stand in thy sight: because thou hatest wickednesse.

for thou hatest all them that worke iniquity.

6 Thou shalt destroy them that speake lies: the Lord will abhorre the bloodie man and deceitfull.

7 But ^cI will come into thine house in the multitude of thy mercie: and in thy feare will I worship toward thine holy Temple.

8 Leade me, O Lord, in thy righteousness, because of mine enemies: make thy way plaine before my face.

9 For no constancie is in their mouth: within they are very corruption: their throat is an open sepulchre, and they flatter with their tongue.

10 Destroy them, O God, || let them ^efall from their counsels: cast them out for the multitude of their iniquities, because they haue rebelled against thee.

11 And b let all them that trust in thee, reioyce and triumph for euer, and couer thou them: and let them that loue thy Name, reioyce in thee.

12 For thou Lord wilt || blesse the righteous, and with fauour i wilt compass him, as with a shield.

PSAL. VI.

When David by his sinnes had provoked Gods wrath, and now felt not only his hand against him, but also concerned the horrors of death enuassing, he desireth forgiveness. Bewailing that if God took him away in his indignation, he should lacke occasion to praise him, he was wont to doe whilst he was among men. Then suddenly feeling Gods mercie, he sharply rebuketh his enemies which reioiced in his affliction.

g To him that excelleth on Negiath vpon the eight tune. A Psalm of David.

O Lord, ^a rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.

2 Haue mercie vpon mee, O Lord, for I am weak: O Lord heale me, for my ^b bones are vexed.

3 My soule is also sore troubled: but Lord how long wilt thou delay?

4 Returne, O Lord: deliuer my soule: saue me for thy mercies sake.

5 For in ^d death there is no remembrance of thee: in the graue who shall praise thee?

6 I fainted in my mourning: I cause my bed every night to swimme, and water my couch with my teares.

7 Mine eye is dimmed for despising, and sunken because of all mine enemies.

8 Away from me all ye workers of iniquity: for the Lord hath heard ^f voice of my weeping.

9 The Lord hath heard my petition: the Lord will receive my prayer.

10 All mine enemies shall be confounded and fore vexed: they shall be turned backe, and put to shame ^h suddenly.

11 Bringeth that the godly shall perish, God deliuereth them suddenly, and destroyeth their enemies.

PSAL. VII.

Bringeth that the godly shall perish, God deliuereth them suddenly, and destroyeth their enemies.

g Shigaion of David, which hee sang vnto the Lord, concerning the || words of ^c Chush the sonie of Iermi.

O Lord my God, in thee I put my trust: saue me from all that persecute me, and deliuer me.

hast appointed.

7 So shall the Congregation of the people compass thee about: for their sakes therefore I returne on high.

8 The Lord shall iudge the people: iudge thou mee, O Lord, according to my righteousnesse, and accord wth mine innocencie that is in mee.

9 Oh let the malice of the wicked come to an end: but guide thou the iust: for the righteous God trieth the hearts and reins.

10 My defence is in God, who preferreth the vpright in heart.

11 God iudgeth the righteous, and him that contemneth God, i every day.

12 Except k he turne, he hath whet his sword:
he hath bent his bow, and made it readie.

13 He hath also prepared him deadly weapons:
he will ordaine his arrowes for them that persecute mee.

14 Behold, he shall trauell with wickednesse:
for hee hath conceived mischief, but hee shall bring forth a lie.

15 Hee hath made a pit and digged it, and is fallen into the pit that he made.

16 His mischief shall returne vpon his owne head, and his crueltie shall fall vpon his owne pate.

17 I will praise the Lorde according to his righteousnesse, and will sing praise to the Name of the Lorde most high.

PSAL. VIII.

1 The Prophet considering the excellencie of his life and earthly promission of God towards him, whom he made as if he were god our wth his works, doth not only give great thanks, but also magnifieth with a admiration of the same, as one nothing able to comprehend his great mercies.

g To him that excelleth on g Gittib,
A Psalm of Dauid.

O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy Name in all the world: which hast set thy glory about the heauens.

2 Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou ordained strength, because of thine enemies, that thou mightest fill the enemy, and the auenger.

3 When I beholde thine heauens, even the workes of thy fingers, the moone and the starres which thou hast ordained.

4 What is man, say I, that thou art mindefull of him? and the sonne of man that thou vi-sitest him?

5 For thou hast made him a little lower then God, and crowned him with glory and worship.

6 Thou hast made him to haue dominion in the works of thine hands: thou hast put all things vnder his feet:

7 All d sheepe and oxen: yea, and the beasts of the field:

8 The fowles of the ayre, and the fish of the sea, and that which passeth thorow the paths of the seas.

9 O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy Name in all the world!

PSAL. IX.

1 After he had given thanks to God for the many victories that he had wonne against his enemies, and also trooued by manifest experience, how ready God was to be his aid, his troubles
14. Hee being now likewise in danger of new enemies, desired God to helpe him according to his word, 17. and to destroy the mischiefous arrogancie of his adversaries.

g To him that excelleth vpon g Muth Labben,
A Psalm of Dauid.

I will praise the Lord with my whole heart: I will speake of all thy marvellous workes.

2 I will be glad, and reioice in thee: I will sing praise to thy Name, O most high.

3 For that mine enemies are turned backe:
they shall fall and perish at thy presence.

4 For b thou hast maintained my right and my cause: thou art set in the throne, and iudgeth right.

5 Thou hast rebuked the heathen: thou hast destroyed the wicked: thou hast put out their name for euer and euer.

6 O enemy, destructions are come to a perpetuall end, and thou hast destroyed the cities:
their memoriall is perished with them.

7 But the Lord shall sit for euer: hee hath prepared his throne for iudgement.

8 For hee shall iudge the world in righteoufnesse, and shall iudge the people with equite.

9 The Lorde also will be a refuge for the poore, a refuge in due time even in affliction.

10 And they that know thy Name, will trust in thee: for thou, Lord, hast not failed them that seeke thee.

11 Sing praises to the Lord, which dwelleth in Zion: shew the people his workes.

12 For e when he maketh inquisition for blood, he remembreth it, and forgetteth not the complaint of the poore.

13 Haue mercie vpon mee, O Lord: consider my trouble which I suffer of them that hate mee, thou that liftest me vp from the gates of death.

14 That I may shew all thy praises within the gates of the daughter of Zion, and reioyce in thy saluation.

15 The heathen are g suncken downe in the pit that they made: in the net that they hid, is their foot taken.

16 The Lord is known by executing iudge-ment: the wicked is snared in the worke of his owne hands. h Higgaion. Selah.

17 The wicked shall turne into hell, and all nations that forget God.

18 For the poore shall not be alway forgotten: the hope of the afflicted shall not perish for euer.

19 Vp Lord: let not man preuaile: let the heathen be iudged in thy fight.

20 Put them in feare, O Lord, that the heathen may know that they are but k men. Selah.

P S A L. XI.

a This Psalm consisteth two parts. In the first David sheweth how he had against his expectation, hee sustained, and in how great a manner of mind he was, when he saw and perspicie him. A true word being that God first him succour in his necessity, declareth his iustice of iudgement concerning the good, and the wicked men, as the whole world.

Go to him that excelleth, A Psalm of David.
In the Lord put I my trust: how say ye then to my soule, a Flee to thy mountaine as a bird?
For loe, the wicked bend their bow, and make ready their arrowes vpon the string, that they may secretly shoot at them which are vp-right in heart.
For the foundations are cast downe: what hath the righteous done?
The Lord is in his holy palace: the Lords throne is in the heauen: his eyes will consider: his eye lids will trie the children of men.

a This is the wicked counsell of his enemies to him and his companions, to driue him from the hope of Gods promise.
b All hope of offence is taken away.
c Yet am I innocent and my cause good.
d Though all things in earth be out of order, yet God will execute iudgement from heauen.

5 The Lord will try the righteous: but the wicked, and him that loueth iniquitie, doth his soule hate.
Vpon the wicked he shall raine snares, & fire, and brimstone, and stormie tempest: this is the portion of their cup.
For the righteous Lord loueth righteoutnes: his countenance doth behold the iust.

P S A L. XII.

1 The Prophet lamenting the miserable state of the people, and the decay of all good order, desireth God speedily to send succour to his children. 2 Then comforting himselfe and others with the assurance of Gods promise, hee commeth to the constant certainty, that Gods Law shall keep his promise.
Go to him that excelleth vpon the right tunc.

A Psalm of David.

Helpo Lord, for there is not a godly man left: for the faithfull are failed from among the children of men.
They speake deceitfully euery one with his neighbour, flattering with their lips, and speake with a double heart.
The Lord cut off all flattering lip, and the tongue that speaketh proud things:
Which haue said, With our tongue will we preuaile: our lips are our owne: who is Lord ouer vs?
Now for the oppression of the needy, and for the sighs of the poore, I will vp, faith the Lord, and will be set at libertie him, whom the wicked hath snared.
The words of the Lord are pure wordes, as the siluer, tryed in a fornace of earth, fined seuen fold.
Thou wilt keepe them, O Lord: thou wilt preferre him from this generation for euer.
The wicked walke on euery side, when they are exalted, it is a shame for the sonnes of men.

a As in the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah.
f Which they shall drinke euen to the dregges.
Backe 23.39

a Which dare defend the truth, & shew mercie to the oppressed.
b Hee meaneth the flatterers of the court, which hurt him more with their tongue then with their weapons.
c They thinke themselves able, to preuaile whatsoeuer they take in hand.
d The Lord is moued with the complaints of his, and deliuereth in the end from all dangers.
e Because the Lords word and promise is true & vniuersally true, & vniuersally true, hee will preferre and preferre the poore from this wicked generation, & that is, thinge though he were but one man.
g For they will suppress the goodly, and maintain the wicked.

P S A L. XIII.

1 David as it were ouercome with sorrow and sorrow of affliction, fleeth to God as his only refuge, 2 and so in the length of his mourning, hee reacheth Gods promise, hee conceiveth himselfe some confidence against the extreme horrors of death.

Go to him that excelleth, A Psalm of David.

How long wilt thou forget me, O Lord, for how long wilt thou hide thy face from me?
How long shall I take b counsell within my selfe, hauing wearinesse daily in mine heart? how long shall mine enemy be exalted aboue me?
Beholde, and heare mee, O Lord my God: lighten mine eyes, that I sleepe not in death:
Left mine enemy say, I haue preuailed against him: and they that afflict me reioyce when I slide.
But I trust in thy mercy: mine heart shall reioyce in thy saluation: I will sing to the Lord, because he hath dealt louingly with me.

a Hee denieth that his afflictions lasted a long time, and that his faith fainted not.
b Changing my purpose as the sicke man doeth his place.
c Which might cause to Gods dishonour, hee did not defend his.
d The mercy of God is the cause of our saluation.

P S A L. XIV.

1 He describeth the peruerseness of a world, which were so prone to licentiousness, that God was brought to utter contempt. 2 For the which thing, although he was greatly grieved, yet being perswaded that God would send some prent rescuee, hee comforteth himselfe and others.
Go to him that excelleth, A Psalm of David.

The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God: they haue corrupted, & done an abominable worke: there is none that doeth good.

c David here make a comparison between the faithful and the reprobate, but S. Paul speaketh the same of all men naturally, Rom. 1. 2. d Where they think themselves innocent, e You mock them that perish their guilt in God. f He prayeth for the whole Church whom hee is assured God will deliver: for none but hee only can doe it.

2 The Lord looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men, to see if there were any that would vnderstand and seeke God.
3 All are gone out of the way: they are all corrupt: there is none that doeth good, no not one.
4 Doe not all the workers of iniquity know, that they eate vpon my people, as they eate bread? they call not vpon the Lord.
5 There they shall be taken with feare, because God is in the generation of the iust.
6 You haue made a mocke at the counsell of the poore, because the Lord is his trust.
7 Oh giue saluation vnto Israel out of Zion: when the Lord turneth the captiuitie of his people, then Iakob shall reioyce, and Israel shall bee glad.

8 I haue set the Lord alwayes before mee: for hee is at my right hand: therefore I shall not slide.
9 Wherefore my heart is glad, and my tongue reioyceth: my flesh also doth rest in hope.
10 For thou wilt not leaue my soule in the graue: neither wilt thou suffer thine holy One to see corruption.
11 Thou wilt shewe me the path of life: in thy presence I will see the face of ioy: and at thy right hand there are pleasures for euermore.

g The faithful and iust to prefigure to the end. h That is, I reioice both in body and soule. i This is chiefly meant of Christ, by whose resurrection all his members haue immortality. k Where God fauoureth there is perfect felicitie.

PSAL. XVII.

x Heere hee complaineth to God of the cruell pride and arrogancie of Saul, and the rest of his enemies, who thus ragged without any cause giuen on his part. y Therefore let God reuenge his innocencie and deliuer him.

The prayer of David.

Hear me the right, O Lord, consider my cry: hearken vnto my prayer of lips vnbound.
2 Let my sentence come forth from thy presence, and let thine eyes behold equity.
3 Thou hast proued and visited mine heart in the night: thou hast tried me, and foundest nothing: for I was purposed that my mouth should not offend.
4 Concerning the workes of men, by the words of thy lips I kept mee from the pathies of the cruell man.
5 Stay my steps in thy paths, that my feet doe not slide.
6 I haue called vpon thee: surely thou wilt heare me, O God: incline thine eare to mee, and hearken vnto my words.
7 Shew thy marueilous mercies, thou that art the Sauour of them that trust in thee, from such as resist thy right hand.
8 Keepe mee as the apple of the eye: hide me vnder the shadow of thy wings.
9 From the wicked that oppresse mee, from mine enemies, which compass me round about for my soule.
10 They are inclosed in their owne fat, and they haue spoken proudly with their mouth.
11 They haue compassed vs now in our steps: they haue set their eyes to bring downe to the ground:
12 Like as a lion that is greedy of pray, and as it were a Lyons whelpes lurking in secret places.
13 Vp Lord, disappoint him: cast him downe: deliuer my soule from the wicked // with thy sword.

a My righteous cause. b The vengeance that thou wilt shew against mine enemies. c Whensy Spirit examined my conscience. d I was innocent toward mine enemy both in deed and thought. e Though the wicked provoked me to doe euill for euill, yet thy word kept me backe. f He was assured that God would not refuse his request. g For all rebell against thee, which trouble thy Church.

h For their cruelty cannot be satisfied but with my death. i They are puffed vp with pride, as the flomacke that is choked with fat. k Stop his rage.

l Or, which is thy sword. m By thine heavenly power. n Or, whose tyrannous rule no long endureth. o And deale not the smart of these Gods children oft times due. p This is the full felicitie, comforting against all assaults, to haue the face of God and fauourable countenance opened vnto vs. o And am deliuered out of my great troubles.

PSAL. XVIII.

x This Psalm is the first beginning of his translation and thanksgiving in entering into his kingdom, wherein hee receiuethe and prayeth most highly the marueilous mercies and grace of God, who hath thus preferred and defended him. y As hee saith (after his being image of Christes kingdom). z As he saith may be assured that Christ shall alwayes conquer and overcome by the unspeakable power of this Father, though all the whole world should strive there against.

a God first requieth rightnesse of life, next doing well to others, and thirdly, truth and simplicity in our words. b He that flattereth not the vngodly in their wickednesse. c To be hindered in his neighbour. d That is, shall not be cast forth of the Church, as hypocrites.

q Note that of this 14. Psalm, the 5. 6. and 7. verses which are put into the common translation, and may seeme vnto some to belets out in this, are not in the same Psalm in the Hebrew text, but are rather put in more fully to expresse the manner of the wicked, and are gathered out of the 5. 14. and 10. Psalms, the 59. of the Prophet Iesaiab, and the 56. Psalm, and are allagued by S. Paul, and placed together in the 2. to the Romanes.

PSAL. XV.

x This Psalm teacheth vs what condition God did chuse the Jews for his peculiar people, and wherefore hee placed his Temple among them, which was to the intent that they by living vprightly and godly, might witness that they were his special and holy people.

Of Psalms of David.

Lord, who shalt dwell in thy Tabernacle? who shalt rest in thine holy Mountaine?
2 He that a walketh vprightly and worketh righteounesse, and speaketh the truth in his heart.
3 He that slandereth not with his tongue, nor doeth euill to his neighbour, nor receiueh a fallie report against his neighbour.
4 In whose eyes a vile person is contemned, but hee banisheth them that feare the Lord: hee that sweareth to his owne hinderance and chageth not.
5 He that giueth not his money vnto vsury, nor taketh reward against the innocent: hee that doeth these things, shall neuer be moued.

PSAL. XVI.

x David prayeth to God for succour, not for his works, but for his faiths sake. y A Priesting thus hee hateth all idolatry, taking Godouly for his comfort and felicitie. z Who iustifieth him to lacke nothing.

Of Michtam of David.

Preſerue mee, O God: for in thee doe I trust.
2 O my soule, thou hast aide vnto the Lord, Thou art my Lord: my well doing extendeth not to thee,
3 But to the Saints that are in the earth, and to the excellent: all my delight is in them.
4 The sorrowes of death, that offer to an other god, shall be multiplied: their offerings of blood will I not offer, neither make mention of their names with my lips.
5 The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup: thou shalt maintain my lot.
6 The lines are fallen vnto mee in pleasant places: yea, I haue a faire heritage.
7 I will praise the Lord, who hath giuen me counsell: my reins also teach me in the nights,
8 God teacheth mee continually by secret inspiration,

l Or, a certaine case. a He sheweth that we cannot call vpon God, except we trust in him. b Though we can not enrich God, yet we must beſeeke Gods gifts to the use of his children. c As grieſe of conscience and miserable deſtination. d He would neither by outward profession nor in hart, nor in mouth consent to their idolatries. e Exod. 23. 13. f Where with my pardon is measured.

To him that exalteth. A Psalm of Dauid the servant of the Lord, which spake vnto the Lord the words of this song (in the day that the Lord deliuered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul) and sayd,

I Will loue thee dearly, O Lord my strength.

1 The Lord ^a my rocke, and my fortress, and he that deliuereth me, my God and my strength: in him will I trust, my shield, the horn also of my saluation, and my refuge.

2 I will call vpon the Lord, which is worthy to be prayd. so shall I bee free from mine enemies.

3 The sorrowes of death compassed me, and the floods of wickednesse made me afraid.

4 The sorrowes of the graue haue compassed me about: the snares of death ouertooke me.

5 But in my trouble did I call vpon the Lord, and cried vnto my God: he heard my voyce out of his Temple, and my cry did come before him, ^{and} he came into my eares.

6 Then the earth trembled, and quaked: the foundations also of the mountaines moued and shooke, because he was angry.

7 Smoke went out of his nostrils, and a consuming fire out of his mouth, coales were kindled thereat.

8 He bowed the heauens also & came downe, and darkness was vnder his feet.

9 And hee rode vpon Cherub, and did fly, and hee came flying vpon the wings of the winde.

10 He made darkness his secret place, and his pavilion round about him, ^{when} darkness of waters, and clouds of the aire.

11 At the brightness of his presence his clouds passed, hailstones and coales of fire.

12 The Lord also thundred in the heauen and the Highest gaue his voyce, hailstones and coales of fire.

13 Then he sent out his arrowes and scattered them, and he increased lightnings and destroyed them.

14 And the chanel of waters were scene, and the foundations of the world were discouered at thy rebuking, O Lord, at the blasting of the breath of thy nostrils.

15 Hee hath sent downe from aboue and taken mee: hee hath drawn mee out of many waters.

16 Hee hath deliuered me from my strong enemy, and from them which hate mee: they were to strong for me.

17 They persecuted mee in the day of my calamity: but the Lord was my stay.

18 He brought me forth also into a large place: he deliuered me because he favoured me.

19 The Lord rewarded mee according to my righteousness: according to the purenesse of mine hands he recompensed me:

20 Because I kept the wayes of the Lord, and did not wickedly against my God.

21 For all his lawes were before mee, and I did not cast away his commandements from me.

22 I was vpright also with him, and haue kept me from my wickednesse.

23 Therefore the Lord rewarded mee according to my righteousness, and according to the purenesse of mine hands in his sight.

24 With the godly thou wilt shew thy selfe godly: with the vpright man thou wilt shew thy selfe vpright.

25 With the pure thou wilt shew thy selfe pure, and with the froward thou wilt shewe thy selfe froward.

26 Thus thou wilt saue the poore people, and wilt cast downe the proud lookers.

27 Surely thou wilt light my candle: the Lord my God will lighten my darkenesse.

28 For by thee I haue broken through an hoste, and by my God I haue leaped ouer a wall.

29 The way of God is vncorrupt: they word of the Lord is tried in the fire: hee is a shield to all that trust in him.

30 For who is God besides the Lord? and who is mighty faue our God?

31 God girdeth me with strength, and maketh my way vpright.

32 He maketh my feete like hinds feete, and setteth me vpon mine high places.

33 Hee catcheth mine hands to fight: so that a bowe of offence is broken with mine armes.

34 Thou hast also giuen me the shield of thy saluation, and thy right hande hath stayed mee, and thy louing kindnesse hath caused mee to increase.

35 Thou hast enlarged my steps vnder me, and my heeles haue not slid.

36 I haue pursued mine enemies, and taken them, and haue not turned againe till I haue consumed them.

37 I haue wounded them, that they were not able to rise, they are fallen vnder my feet.

38 For thou hast girded mee with strength to battell: them that rose against mee, thou hast subdued vnder me.

39 And thou hast giuen mee the neckes of mine enemies, that I might destroy them that hate me.

40 They cried, but there was none to saue them, ^{when} vnto the Lord, but hee answered them not.

41 Then I did beate them small as the dust before the wind: I did tread them flat as the clay in the streetes.

42 Thou hast deliuered mee from the contentions of the people: thou hast made mee the head of the heathen, a people, whom I haue not known, shall serue me.

43 As soone as they heare, they shall obey me: the stranger shall be in subiection to me.

44 Strangers shall shrink away, and feare in their priue chambers.

45 Let the Lord liue, and blessed bee my strength, and the God of my saluation be exalted.

46 It is God that giueth mee power to aunge me, and subdueth the people vnder me.

47 O my deliuerer from mine enemies, euen thou hast set mee vp from them that rose against mee: thou hast deliuered mee from the cruell man.

48 Therefore I will praise thee, O Lord, among the nations, and will sing vnto thy Name.

49 Great deliuerances giueth he vnto his king, and sheweth mercy to his anointed, ^{when} to Dauid, and to his seed for euer.

Dauid in the person of the people prayeth God for the victory, attributing it to God, and not to the strength of man. When hee saith the Lord shall dwell with the faithful to Christ, who is the perfection of the kingdom.

To him that excelleth, A Psalm of Dauid.

The King shall reioyce in thy strength, O Lord: yea, how greatly shall he reioyce in thy saluation!

Thou hast giuen him his hearts desire, and hast not denied him the request of his lips. Selah

For thou diddest preuent him with liberall blessings, and diddest set a crowne of pure golde vpon his head.

He asked life of thee, and thou gavest him a long life for euer and euer.

His glory is great in thy saluation: dignity and honour hast thou laid vpon him.

For thou hast fer him as blessings for euer: thou hast made him glad with the ioy of thy countenance.

Because the king trusteth in the Lord, and in the mercy of the most High, he shall not slide.

Thine hand shall find out all thine enemies, and thy right hand shall find out them that hate thee.

Thou shalt make them like a fiery oven in time of thine anger: the Lord shall destroy them in his wrath, and the fire shall deuoure them.

Their fruite shalt thou destroy from the earth, and their seed from the children of men.

For they intended euill against thee, and imagined mischief, but they shall not preuaile.

Therefore shalt thou put them apart, and the strings of thy bow shalt thou make readie against their faces.

Be thou exalted, O Lord, in thy strength: so will we sing and praise thy power.

PSAL. XXII.

Dauid complained because he was brought into such extremities that he was past all hope, but after he had reborn in the iowanes and griefs, whereunto he was vexed, he recovered himself from theboiles of paine, and grew to hope, and hereunder hee importunely beseecheth the Father of Christ, who he said receiveth the spirit of prophecy, that he should not forsake him, and prayeth hee desired, and desired, before his Easter should saye vnto all his enemies.

To him that excelleth vpon, Aijeteht Hafsahar.

A Psalm of Dauid.

My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me, and art so farre from mine health, and from the words of my roaring?

O my God, I cry by day, but thou hearest not: and by night, but I haue no audience.

But thou art holy, and dost inhabit the praises of Israel.

Our fathers trusted in thee: they trusted, and thou diddest deliuer them.

They called vpon thee, and were deliuered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded.

But I am a worme, & not a man: a shame of men, and the contempt of the people.

All they that see mee, haue mee in derision: they make a mow and nod the head, saying, all creatures, which was meant of Christ. And herein appeareth howe of God toward man, that he would thus abasche himselfe for our sakes.

P S A L. XXVII.

a David maketh this Psalm being deliuered from great perils, as appeareth by the prayer and thankſgiving annexed: b Wherein we may ſee the conſtant faith of David againſt the aſſaults of all his enemies. c And alſo the ends wherfore hee deſireth to liue and to bee deliuered, ouly to worſhip God in his Congregation.

¶ A Psalm of David.

1 The Lord is my light and my ſaluation, whom ſhall I feare? the Lord is the ſtrength of my liſe, of whom ſhall I be afraid?

2 When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes came vpon mee to eat vp my fleſh, they ſtumbled and fell.

3 Though an hoſte pitched againſt mee, mine heart ſhould not be afraid: though warre be raiſed againſt me, I will truſt in b this.

4 One thing haue I deſired of the Lord, that I will require, even that I may dwell in the houſe of the Lord all the dayes of my liſe; to behold the beautie of the Lord, and to viſite his Temple.

5 For in the time of trouble hee ſhall hide mee in his Tabernacle: in the ſecret place of his paullion ſhall hee hide mee, and ſet mee vp vpon a rocke.

6 And now ſhall he liſt vp mine head aboue mine enemies round about me: therefore will I offer in his Tabernacle ſacrifices of ioy: I will ſing and praife the Lord.

7 Hearken vnto my voyce, O Lord, when I crie: haue mercie alſo vpon mee, and heare mee.

8 When thou ſayeſt, c Seeke ye my face, mine heart answered vnto thee, O Lord, I will ſeeke thy face.

9 Hide not therefore thy face from me, nor caſt thy ſeruant away in diſpleaſure: thou haſt bene my ſuccour: leaue me not, neither forſake mee, O God of my ſaluation.

10 Though my father and my mother ſhould forſake mee, yet the Lord will gather mee vp.

11 Teach me thy way, O Lord, and lead me in a right path, becauſe of mine enemies.

12 Giue me not vnto the luſt of mine aduerſaries: for there are falſe witneſſes riſen vp againſt me, and ſuch as ſpeake cruelly.

13 I ſhould haue ſainted, except I had beleueed to ſee the goodneſſe of the Lord in the land of the liuing.

14 Hope in the Lord: bee ſtrong, and he ſhall comfort thine heart, and truſt in the Lord.

P S A L. XXVIII.

Being in great feare and heaviness of heart to see God distressed by the wicked, hee aspires to be a part of them. 4 And cries for vengeance against them: and at length assures himselfe, that God hath heard his prayer. 5 Vnto whose petition he commends all the faithfull.

A Psalm of David.

VNto thee, O Lord, doe I cry: O my strength, be not deaf toward me, lest if thou anwer mee not, I bee ^alike them that goe downe into the pit.

2 Heare the voyce of my petitions, when I cry vnto thee, when I hold vp my hands toward thee ^bholy Oracle.

3 Draw me not away with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquity: which speak friendly to their neighbours, when malice ^cis in their hearts.

4 Reward them according to their deedes, and according to the wickednesse of their inventions: recompense them after the worke of their hands: render them their reward.

5 For they regard not the works of the Lord, nor the operation of his hands: ^dtherefore breake them downe, and build them not vp.

6 Praised be the Lord, for he hath heard the voice of my petitions.

7 The Lord ^eis my strength and my shield: mine heart trusted in him, & I was helped: therefore mine heart shall reioyce, and with my song will I praise him.

8 The Lord ^fis their strength, and hee is the strength of the deliuerances of his anointed.

9 Save thy people, and blesse thine inheritance: feed them also, and exalt them for euer.

g Meaning, his souldiers, who were as meane by whom God declared his power.

P S A L. XXXIX.

The Prophet exhorteth the princes and rulers of the world (which for the most part thinke there is no God). 3 As the least to seueren for the sinners, and tempers, for where all creatures tremble. 11 And though thereby God threateth with sinners, yet hee alwayes mercifull to him, and voucheth them thereby to praise his Name.

A Psalm of David.

2 Gieue vnto the Lord glory ^bdue vnto his Name: worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuary.

3 The voice of the Lord ^cis vpon the waters: the God of glory maketh it to thunder: the Lord ^dis vpon the great waters.

4 The voice of the Lord ^eis mighty: the voice of the Lord ^fis glorious.

5 The voice of the Lord breaketh the cedars: yea, the Lord breaketh the cedars of Lebanon.

6 He maketh them also to leape like a calf: Lebanon ^galso, and Shirion like a yong vnicorne.

7 The voice of the Lord diueth the flames of fire.

8 The voice of the Lord maketh the wilderness to tremble: the Lord maketh the wilderness of Kadesh to tremble.

9 The voice of the Lord maketh the hinds to ^hcalue, and ⁱdiueth the forrests: ^jerefore in his Temple doeth euery man ^kspeak of his glory.

g For feare maketh them to calue their calues. h Maketh the trees bare, or pierceth the most secret places. i Though the wicked are nothing moued with the sight, yet the faithfull praise God.

P S A L. XXX.

When David was deliuered from great danger, hee rendered thanks to God, who exhorting others to do the like, and to learne by example, that God is rather mercifull then severe, and rigorous towards sinners. 7 As also that the las from prosperitie to aduersitie is sudden. 8 Thus done, hee returned to prayer, promising to praise God for euer.

A Psalm of Song of the dedication of the house of David.

I Will magnifie thee, O Lord: ^bfor thou hast exalted mee, and hast not made my ioyes to reioyce ouer me.

2 O Lord my God, I cried vnto thee, and thou hast ^crestored me.

3 O Lord, thou hast brought vp my ^dsoule out of the graue: thou hast reuued me from them that goe downe into the pit.

4 Sing praises vnto the Lord, ye ^ehis Saints, and giue thanks ^fbefore the remembrance of his Holinesse.

5 For hee endureth but a while in his anger: but in his fauour ^gis life: weeping may abide at evening, but ioy cometh in the morning.

6 And in my ^hprosperitie I said, I shall neuer be moued.

7 For thou Lorde of thy goodnesse haddest made my ⁱmountaine to stand strong: but thou diddest hide thy face, and I was troubled.

8 Then cried I vnto thee, O Lord, and prayed to my Lord,

9 What profite ^jis there in my blood, when I goe downe to the pit? shall the ^kdust gieue thanks vnto thee? or shall it declare thy truth?

10 Heare, O Lord, and haue mercy vpon me: Lord, be thou mine helper.

11 Thou hast turned my mourning into ioy: thou hast loosed my sacke, and girded mee with gladnesse.

12 Therefore shall my tongue praise thee and not cease: O Lord my God, I will gieue thanks vnto thee for euer.

3 Bring out also the speare, and stop the way against them that persecute mee, say vnto my soule, I am thy saluation.

4 Let them be confounded and put to shame, that seeke after my soule: let them bee turned

P S A L. XXXVI.

1 The Prophet grievously vexed by the wicked, doeth complaine of their malicious wickedness. 2 Then hee is iustified to consider the unspeakable goodness of God toward all creatures: 3 But specially toward his children, that by the faith thereof they may be comforted and assured of his deliuerance by the ordinance of Gods word. 13 Who in the end destroyeth the wicked and smeth the iust.

¶ To him that excelleth A Psalm of David
the seruant of the Lord.

Wickednesse faith to the wicked man, 2 euen in mine heart, that there is no feare of God before his eyes.

3 For he flattereth himselfe in his own eyes, while his iniquitie is found worthy to be hated.

4 The wordes of his mouth are iniquitie and deceit: he hath left off to vnderstand and to doe good.

5 He imagineth mischief vpon his bed: he setteth himselfe vpon a way, that is not good, and doeth not abhorre euill.

6 He imagineth mischief vpon his bed: he setteth himselfe vpon a way, that is not good, and doeth not abhorre euill.

7 By describing at large the nature of the reprobate, he admonisheth the godly to beware of the wicked.

5 Thy mercy, O Lord, reacheth vnto the hea-uens, and thy faithfulness vnto the cloudes.

6 Thy righteousness is like the 7 mighty mountaines: thy iudgements are like a great f deepe: thou, Lord, doest fauour man and beast.

7 How excellent is thy mercy, O God: therefore the children of men trust vnder the shadowe of thy wings.

8 They shall be satisfied with the fatnesse of thine house, and thou shalt giue them drinke out of the riuer of thy pleasures.

9 For with thee is the well of life, and in thy light shall we see light.

10 Extend thy louing kindenesse vnto them that know thee, and thy righteousness vnto them that are vpright in heart.

11 Let not the foot of pride come against me, and let not the hand of the wicked man moue me.

12 Where they are fallen that worke in iniquitie:
they are cast downe, and shall not be able to rise.

neither the power of the wicked drie me away, k That is, in their pride whereas they flatter themselves.

P S A L. XXXVII.

1 This Psalm containeth exhortation & consolation for the weak, that are grieved at the prosperitie of the wicked, and the affliction of the godly. 7 For how prosperously sauer the miserable do live for the time, he doth assure their felicitie because and transitorie, because they are not in the favour of God, but in the end they are destroyed as his enemies. 11 And how miserable that the righteous remaineth so in the world, yet his ende is peace, and he is in the favour of God, he is delivered from the wicked and preferred.

¶ A Psalm of David.

1 Let not a thyselfe because of the wicked men, neither be enuious for the euill doers.

2 For they shall soone bee cut downe like grasse, and shall wither as the Greene herbe.

3 Trust thou in the Lord and do good: dwell in the land, and thou shalt be fed assuredly.

4 And delate thy selfe in the Lord, and he shall giue thee thine hearts desire.

5 Commit thy way vnto the Lord, and trust in him, and he shall bring it to passe.

6 And he shall bring forth thy righteousness as the light, & thy iudgement as the noone day.

7 Waite patiently vpon the Lord, and hope in him: fret not thy selfe for him which prosper-eth in his way: nor for the man that bringeth his enterprises to passe.

8 Cease from anger, and leaue off wrath: fret not thy selfe also to doe euill.

9 For euill doers shall be cut off, and they that waite vpon the Lord, they shall inherit the land.

10 Therefore yet a little while and the wicked shall not appeare, and thou shalt looke after his place, and he shall not be found.

11 But meeke men shall possesse the earth, and shall haue their delite in the multitude of peace.

12 The wicked practiseth against the iust, mind wonderfull, troubled, that it may plainly appeare how he did strive mightily against death and aspiration

To the excellent musician ⁊ Iudith,

A Psalm of David.

I thought, ^b I will take heed to my waies, that I sinne not with my tongue: I will keepe my mouth bridled, while the wicked is in my fight.

^c I was dumb & spake nothing: I kept silence euen from god, ^e & my sorrow was more stirred.

^f Mine heart was hot within me, and while I was musing, the fire kindled, ^g and I spake with my tongue, saying,

^h Lord, let me know mine end, and the measure of my dayes, what it is: let me know how long I haue to liue.

ⁱ Beholde, thou hast made my dayes as an hand breath, and mine age as nothing in respect of thee: surely every man in his best state is altogether ^k vanitie. Selah.

^l Doubtlesse man walketh in a shadow, and disquieteth himselfe in vaine he heapeth vp riches, and cannot tell who shall gather them.

^m And now Lord, what waite I for? mine hope is euen in thee.

ⁿ Deliuier mee from all my transgressions, and make me not a rebuke vnto the foolish.

^o I should haue bene dumbe, and not haue opened my mouth, because of thou didst it.

^p Take thy plague away from me: for I am consumed by the stroke of thine hand.

^q When thou with rebukes dost chastise man for iniquity, thou as a moth ^r makest his beautie to consume: surely every man is vanitie. Selah.

^s Heare my prayer, O Lord, and hearken vnto my cry: keep not silence at my teares, for I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner as all my fathers.

^t Stay thine anger from me, that I may recover my strength, ^u before I go hence and be not.

^v The word signifieth all that the deficieth, as helth, force, strength, beauty, and in whatsoeuer he hath desired, for the rod of God taketh away all that is desired in this world. ^w For his sorrow caused him to thinke that God would deliuer him vnto: whereby we see how hard it is for the very Saints to keepe a measure in their words, when death and despite affaile them.

P S A L. XL.

^x David deliuered from great danger, doth magnifie & praise the grace of God for his deliuerance, and commends his prouidence to man that man should. ⁊ Then desire he promise to give himselfe wholly to Gods seruice, and to declare his how God is truly worshipped. ⁊ Afterwards he giueth thanks & prayeth God, and hauing complained of his enemies with good courage he calleth for ayde and succour.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

I waited ^a patiently for the Lord, and he inclined vnto me and heard my cry.

^b He brought me also out of the horrible pit, out of the mire clay, and let my feete vpon the rocke, and ordered my goings.

^c And he hath put in my mouth a new song of praise vnto our God: in my shall see it and feare and shall trust in the Lord.

^d Blessed is the man that maketh the Lord his trust, and regardeth ^e not the proude, nor such as turne aside to lies.

^f O Lord my God, thou hast made thy wonderfull workes, so many, that none can count in order to thee thy thoughts towards vs: I would declare and speake of them, but they are more then I am able to expresse.

^g Sacrifice and offering thou didst not desire:

(for mine eares hast thou prepared) burnt offering and thine offering hast thou not required.

^h Then said I, Lo, I come: for in the rolle of the booke it is written of me, ⁱ I desired to doethy good will, O my God: yea, thy Law is within mine heart.

^j I haue declared thy righteousness in the great Congregation: loe, I will not refrain my lips, O Lord, thou knowest.

^k I haue not hid thy righteousness within mine heart, but I haue declared thy truth and thy saluation: I haue not concealed thy mercy & thy truth from the great Congregation.

^l Withdraw not thou thy tender mercy from me, O Lord, let thy mercy and thy truth alway prelerue me.

^m For innumerable troubles haue compassed me: my finnes haue taken such hold vpon mee, that I am not able to looke vp: yea, they are more in number then the haire of mine head: therefore mine heart hath ⁿ failed me.

^o Let it please thee, O Lord, to deliuer mee: make halte, O Lord, to help me.

^p Let them be confounded and put to shame together, that seeke my soule to destroy it: let them be driuen backward and put to rebuke, that desire mine hurt.

^q Let them bee destroyed for a reward of their shame, which say vnto me, Aha, Aha.

^r Let all them that seeke thee, reioyce and be glad in thee, and let them that loue thy saluation, say alway, The Lord be praised.

^s Though I be poore and needy, the Lord thinketh on me: thou art mine helper and my deliuerer: my God, make no taryng.

^t Hee desireth that Gods mercy may content for him against the rage of his enemies. In Let the same thank and confusion light vpon them, which they intended to haue brought vpon me. ^u As the faithfull alway praise God for his benedictions: so the wicked mocke Gods children in their afflictions.

P S A L. XLI.

^x David being grievously afflicted, blesteth them that proue his case. And complaineth of the treason of his own friends & familiars, as came to passe in Iudas John 13. 18. After he feelinge the great merite of Gods mercy chastising him, & not suffering his enemies to triuie he against him. ⁊ Guesse how he hearth thanks vnto God.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

Blessed is he that is iudgeth wisely of the poore: the Lord shall deliuer him in the time of trouble.

^a The Lord will keepe him, and prelerue him aluie, he shall be blessed vpon the earth: and thou wilt not deliuer him vnto the will of his enemies.

^b The Lord will strengthen him vpon the bed of sorrow: thou hast turned all his c bed in his sicknesse.

^c Therefore I said, Lord haue mercy vpon me: heale my soule, for I haue sinned against thee.

^d Mine enemies ^e spake enill of mee, saying, When shall he dye, and his name perish?

^f And if he come to see me, he speakeeth ^g lies: but his heart heareth iniquitie within him, and when he cometh forth, he telleth it.

^h All they ⁱ hate me, whither together against me: euen against me do they imagine mine hurt.

^j A mischief is light vpon him, and he that lyeth shall no more liue.

^k Yea, my familiar friend, whom I trusted, which did eate of my bread, ^l hath lifted vp the heele against me.

^m Therefore, The enemies thought by his sharpe punishments that God was become his mortal enemy: ⁿ Shr. it is mans of iustice. ^o As David felt this lacke of, and was chiefly accomplished in Christ John 13. 18. So shall his enemies continually proue the same.

^a This was one of the chiefe fingers, ^b Chron. 16. 4. 1.

^c Albeie he had appointed with himselfe patiently to haue taried Gods lesure, yet the vehemencie of his paine caused him to breake his purpose.

^d Though when the wicked ruled, he thought to haue kept silence, yet his zeale caused him to change his minde.

i The Prophet generally complaineth, that long tressed by his persecution, he could not be present in the Congregation of Gods people, protesting that although he was separate from body & friends, yet his heart was as their heart. 2 And last of all he sheweth, that he was not so far overcome with these sorrows and thoughts. 3 But that he continually put his confidence in the Lord.

4 I do in that excelleth. A Psalm to give instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah.

As the Hart brayeth for the riuers of water, so panteth my soule after thee, O God.

2 My soule thirsteth for God, euen for the liuing God: when shall I come and appeare before the presence of God?

3 My teares haue bene my meate day and night, while they daily lay vnto me, where is thy God?

4 When I remembered these things, I powred out my very heart, because I had gone with the multitude, and led them into the House of God with the voyce of singing, and praise, as a multitude that keepeth a feast.

5 Why art thou cast downe, my soule, and vnquiet within mee? wait on God: for I will yet giue him thanks for the help of his presence.

6 My God, my soule is cast downe within me, because I remember thee, from the land of Iordan, and Hermonim, and from the mount Mizar.

7 One deepe calleth another deep by the noise of thy water spouts: all thy waues and thy floods are gone ouer me.

8 The Lord will grant his louing kindeesse in the day, & in the night shall I sing of him, euen a prayer vnto the God of my life.

9 I will lay vnto God, which is my rocke, Why hast thou forgotten mee? why goe I mourning, when the enemy oppresth me?

10 My bones are cut a funder, while mine enemies reproch me, saying daily vnto me, where is thy God?

11 Why art thou cast downe, my soule? and why art thou disquieted within me? wait on God: for I will yet giue him thanks: he is my present help, and my God.

h He comforted himselfe of Gods help in time to come. i That is, I am most grievously tormented. k This repetition doth declare that Dauid did not overcome at once, to reach vs to be constant, for as much as God will certainly deliuer his.

P S A L. XLIII.

i He prayed to be deliuered from them that conspire against him, that he might sing vnto praise God in his holy Congregation.

Vidg me O God, and defend my cause against the vnmmercifull people: deliuer me from the deceitfull and wicked man.

2 For thou art the God of my strength: why hast thou put me away? why goe I mourning, when the enemy oppresth me?

3 Send thy light and thy truth: let them lead me: let them bring mee vnto thine holy Mountaine, and to thy tabernacles.

4 Then will I goe vnto the Altar of God, euen vnto the God of my ioy and gladnesse: and vpon the harpe will I giue thanks vnto thee, O God my God.

h Because of thanksgiving in token of his great deliuerance,

5 Why art thou cast downe, my soule? and why art thou disquieted within me? waite on God: for I will giue him thanks, he is my present help and my God.

i The faithfull remember the great mercie of God toward his people. 2 After they complain, because they receiue many afflictions. 3 They also allege the constant name with Abraham, for the keeping mercie: they shew that great troubles they suffered. 4 Finally, they say vnto God not to consume their afflictions, seeing the same remembrance to the contempte of his honour.

5 To him that excelleth. A Psalm to give instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah.

WE haue heard with our eares, O God: our fathers haue told vs the workes that thou hast done in thy daies, in the old time:

2 How thou hast driuen out the heathen with thine hand, and planted them: how thou hast destroyed the people, and cauled them to grow.

3 For they inherited not the land by their owne sword, neither did their owne arme saue them: but thy right hand, and thine arme, and the light of thy countenance, because thou didst fauour them.

4 Thou art my King, O God: send help vnto me, O God.

5 Through thee haue we thrust backe our aduersaries: by thy Name haue we troden downe them that rose vp against vs.

6 For I doe not trust in my bow, neither can my sword saue me.

7 But thou hast saued vs from our aduersaries, and halt put them to confusion that hate vs.

8 Therefore will we praise God continually, and will confesse thy Name for euer, Selah.

9 But now thou art farre off, and putteth vs to confusion, and goest not forth with our armies.

10 Thou makest vs to turn backe fro the aduersary, & they, which hate vs, spoile for them elues.

11 Thou giueth vs as sheep to be eaten, and doest scatter vs among the nations.

12 Thou sellest thy people without gaine, and doest not increase their price.

13 Thou makest vs a reproch to our neighbours, a iest and a laughing stocke to them that are round about vs.

14 Thou makest vs a prouerbe among the nation, and a nodding of the head among the people.

15 My confusion is daily before me, and the shame of my face hath couered me.

16 For the voice of the slanderer and rebuker, for the enemy and auenger.

17 All this is come vpon vs, yet doe we not forget thee, neither deale we falsely concerning thy covenant.

18 Our heart is not turned backe: neither our steps gone out of thy paths,

My heart will vtter forth a good matter: I will intreate in my workes of the King: my tongue is as the pen of a swift writer.

2 Thou art fairer then the children of men: grace is powred in thy lips, because God hath blessed thee for euer.

3 Gird thy sword vpon thy thigh, O most mighty, to wit, thy worship and thy glory.

4 And prosper with thy glory: ride vpon the word of truth and of meeknesse and of righteousness: so thy right hand shall teach thee terrible things.

5 Thine arrowes are sharpe to pearce the heart of the Kings enemies: therefore the people shall fall vnder thee.

6 Thy throne, O God, is for euer, and euer: the scepter of thy kingdom, is a scepter of righteousness.

7 Thou louest righteousness, and hatest wickednesse: because God, euen thy God, hath fanyoynted thee with the oyle of gladnesse about thy fellows.

ation: it is the ioy of the whole earth, and the Citie of the great King.

3 In the palaces thereof God is known for a refuge,

4 For loe, the kings were gathered, and went together.

5 When they saw it, they marueiled: they were altonied, and suddenly driuen backe.

6 Feare came there vpon them, and sorrow, as vpon a woman in a quale.

7 As with an East wind thou breakest the ships of Tarshish, so were they destroyed.

8 As we haue heard, so haue we seene in the Citie of the Lord of hostes, in the Citie of our God: God will establish it for euer. Selah.

Heare this, all ye people: giue eare, all ye that dwell in the world,

2 As welllow as high, both rich and poore, 3 My mouth shall speake of wisdom, and the meditation of mine heart is of knowledge.

4 I will incline mine eare to a parable, and utter my graue matter vpon the harpe.

5 Wherefore should I beare in the euil daies, when iniquitie shall compass me about, as at mine heelles?

6 They trust in their goods, and boast themselues in the multitude of their riches.

7 Yet a man can by no meanes redeem his brother: he cannot giue his ransom to God, (So precious is the redemption of their soules, and the continuance for euer.)

9 That he may liue still for euer, and not see the graue.

10 For hee seeth that wise men die, and also that the ignorant and foolish perish, and leaue their riches for good men.

11 Yet they thinke their houses and their habitations shall continue for euer, even from generation to generation, and call their lands by their names.

12 But man shall not continue in honour: he is like the beasts that die.

13 This their way ovieth their foolishnesse:

uoureth them, and the righteous shall haue dominion ouer them in the morning: for their beauitie shall consume, when they shall goe from their houes to graue.

15 But God shall deliuer my soule from the power of the graue: for he will reeuiue me. Selah.

16 Be not thou afraid when one is made rich, and when the glory of his house is increased.

17 For he shall take nothing away, when he dieth, neither shall his pompe descend after him.

18 For while he liued, he reioyced himselfe:
and men will praise thee, when thou makest much of thy selfe.

of David to giue instruction.

HEARE my prayer, O God, and hide not thy selfe from my supplication.

2 Hearken vnto me, & answer me: I mourne in my prayer, and make a noyse.

3 For the voice of the enemy, and for the vation of the wicked, because they haue brought iniquity vpon me, & furiously hate me.

4 Mine heart trembleth within me, and the terrors of death are fallen vpon me.

5 Feare and trembling are come vpon me, and an horrible feare hath covered me.

6 And I said, Oh that I had wings like a dove:
then would I flye away and rest.

7 Behold I would take my flight farre off, and lodge in the wilderness, Selah.

8 Hee would make haft for my deliuerance

9 Destroy, O Lord, and diuide their tongues:
for I haue seene cruelty and strife in the citie.

10 Day and night they goe about it vpon the walles thereof: both in iniquitie & mischief are in the middes of it.

11 Wickednesse is in the middes thereof: deceit and guile depart not from her streets.

12 Surely mine enemy did not defame mee:
for I could haue borne it: neither did mine aduersary exalt him selfe against me: for I could haue hid me from him.

13 But thou, O man, euen my companion, p In most extreme dangers God hath infinite wayes to deliver his.

q As he delivred his Church once fro Og of Bashan, and other tyrants, and from the dangers of the red Sea, so will he still doe as oft as necessity requires.

r That is, in the blood of that great slaughter, where dogs will lyege blood. f That is, how thou, which art chiefe King goest out with thy people to warre, and victory them the victory.

t He describeth the order of the people, when they went to the Temple to give thanks for the victory.

u Which come of the Patriarke Iakob.

z Benjamin is called little, because he was thy youngest sonne of Iakob.

y Who was some chiefe ruler of the tribe.

z Declare out of thine holy palace thy power for the delance of thy Church Ierusalem.

a He describeth that the pride of the mighty may be destroyed, which accustomed to garnish their shoes with silver, and therefore for their glittering pompe thought themselves above all men.

b He propheseth that the Gentiles shall come to the true knowledge and worship of God. c By his terrible thunders he will make himself to be knowne the God of all the world. d In fleeing careful iudgements against thine enemies for the saluation of thy people. e He callodeth to the Tabernacle which was diuided into three parts.

20 This is our God, even the God that saith us: and to the Lord God belong the praises of death.

21 Surely God will wound the head of his enemies, and the hairy pate of him that walketh in his sinnes.

22 The Lord hath said, I will bring my people againe from ² Bashan: I will bring them againe from the depths of the Sea:

23 That thy foote may be dipped in blood, and the tongue of thy dogges in the blood of the enemies, ² even in it.

24 They haue feene, O God, thy goings, the goings of my God, and my King, which art in the Sanctuary.

25 The fingers went before, the players of instruments after: in the mids were the maides playing with timbrels.

26 Praise yee God in the assemblies, and the Lord, ² ye that are of the fountaine of Irael.

27 There was ² little Benjamin with their ruler, and the princes of Iudah with their assembly, the princes of Zebulun, and the princes of Naphtali.

28 Thy God hath appointed thy strength: stablish, O God, that which thou hast wrought in vs.

29 Out of thy Temple vpon Ierusalem, and Kings shall bring presents vnto thee.

30 Destroy the company of the Ipearemen, and multitude of the mighty bulles with the calves of the people: that tread vnder feete pieces of siluer: scatter the people that delite in warre.

31 Then shall the princes come out of Egypt: Ethiopia shall halste to stretch her hands vnto God.

32 Sing vnto God, O yee kingdoms of the earth: sing praise vnto the Lord, (Selah)

33 To him that rideth vpon the most hie heavens, which were from the beginning: behold, he will send out by his voyce a mightie sound.

34 Ascribe the power to God: for his maiestie is vpon Iakob, and his strength in the clouds.

35 O God, thou art terrible out of thine holy places: the God of Irael is hee that giueth strength and power vnto the people: praiued bee God.

PSALM. LXIX.

a The complaints, prayer, seruice scale and great anguish of David is set forth as a figure of Christ and all his miseries. 21 The malicious cruelty of the enemies. 22 And their punishments. 23 Where Iudas and such traitours are accused. 24 He galleth courage in his affliction, and offereth praises vnto God. 25 Which are more acceptable then all sacrifices: whereof all the afflicted may take comfort. 26 Finally, he doeth promise all creatures to prayse, praising the kingdom of Christ, and the preservation of the Church, where all the faithful. 37 And their seed shall dwell for ever.

g To him that excelleth vpon ² Siohamin.

A Psalm of David.

S Aueme, O God: for the ² waters are entred euery to my foule.

2 I sticke fast in deepe myre, Where no stay is: I am come into deepe waters, and the streames runne ouer me.

3 No mercie for I haue called to thee my feere,

3 I am weary of crying: my throat is dry: mine eyes faile while I wait for my God.

4 They that hate me without a cause, are more then the haire of mine head: they that would destroy mee, and are mine enemies: falsely, are mightie, so that I reposed that which I tooke not.

5 O God, thou knowest my foolishnes, and my faults are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that trust in thee, O Lord God of holtes, be ashamed for mee: let not those that seeke thee, be confounded through me, O God of Irael.

7 For thy sake haue I suffred reproofe: shame hath couered my face.

8 I am become a stranger vnto my brethren, even an aliant vnto my mothers ionnes.

9 For the zeale of thine house hath eaten me, and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, are fallen vpon me.

10 I wept and my soule fasted, but that was to my reproofe.

11 I put on a sacke also: and I became a proberbe vnto them.

12 They that sate in the gate, spake of me, and the drunkards sang of me.

13 But Lord, I make my prayer vnto thee in an acceptable time, ² even in the multitude of thy merce: O God, heare mee in the truth of thy saluation.

14 Deliuer mee out of the myre, that I sinke not: let me be deliuered from them that hate me, and out of the deepe waters.

15 Let not the water flood drowne me, neither let the deepe swallow mee vp: and let not the pit shut her mouth vpon me.

16 Heare me, O Lord, for thy louing kindeesse: let good turne vnto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

17 And hide not thy face from thy seruant, for I am in trouble: make haste and heare mee.

18 Draw neere vnto my soule and redeeme it: deliuer me because of mine enemies.

19 Thou hast known my reproofe and my shame, and my dishonour: all mine adulteries are before thee.

20 Rebuke hath broken mine heart, and I am full of heauinesse, and I looked for some to haue pity on me, but there was none: and for comforters but I found none.

21 For they gaue me gall in my meate, and in my thirst they gaue me vinegar to drinke.

22 Let their table be a snare before them, and their prosperity their ruine.

23 Let their eyes be blinded that they see not, and make their ² fownes alway to tumble.

24 Powre out thine anger vpon them, and let thy wrath fill displeasure take them.

25 Let their habitation be void, and let none dwell in their tents.

26 For they persecute him whome thou hast smitten: and they adde vnto the sorrow of them, whom thou hast wounded.

27 Lay ² iniquitie vpon their iniquitie, and that our comfort only dependeth of God: for man rather rovers, then diminisheth them. Iohn 19. 28. He describeth God to execute his iudgements against the reprobate, which cannot by any means be turned, Romans 1. 9. f Take both indgement and power from them. g Afflict them. h Punish not only them, but their posteritie, which shall bee like vnto them. i By their continuance and increasing in their sinnes let it bee known that they be of the reprobate.

d Though his senses fauled him, yet his heart was constant and encouraged him till to pray.

e Condemning me guiltlesse.

f They iudged me poore innocent as a thiefe, and gaue my goods to others.

g Though I had stollen them.

h He was guiltie to be rewarded, yet am innocent toward them.

PSAL. LXX.

1 He prayeth to be righteously deliuered. 2 He desireth the shame of his enemies. 3 And hee in full comfort of all those that seke the Lord.
4 To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David, to put in remembrance.

O God, haue thee and deliuer me: make haste to helpe me, O Lord.
2 Let them be confounded & put to shame, that seeke my soule: let them be turned backward and put to rebuke that desire mine hurt.
3 Let them be turned backe for a reward of their shame, which sayd, Ah, aha.
4 But let all those that seeke thee, bee ioyfull and glad in thee, and let all that loue thy saluation, lye alwayes, God be prayd.
5 Now I am poore and needy: O God, make haste to me: thou art my helper, and my deliuerer: O Lord, make no taryng.

d Herby we are taught not to mocke at others in their misery, lest the same fall on our owne neckes.
e Because he had felt Gods helpe before, he groundeth on experience, and boldly seeketh vnto him for succour.

PSAL. LXXI.

1 Hee prayeth in faith, & is established by the word of promise. 2 And confirmed by the worke of God from boyhood. 3 Hee complayneth of the cruelty of his enemies. 17 And desireth God to continue his grace toward him. 22 Promising so bee mindfull and shamefull for the same.

In the name of the Lord, O Lord, I trust, let mee neuer be ashamed.
2 Rescue mee and deliuer me in thy righteousness: incline thine eare vnto me & helpe me.
3 Bee thou my strong rocke, whereunto I may alway resort: thou hast giuen commandement to saue me: for thou art my rocke, and my fortresse.
4 Deliuer me, O my God, out of the hand of the wicked: our of the hand of the euil and cruell man.
5 For thou art mine hope, O Lord God, & my trust from my youth.
6 Vpon thee haue I bene stayed from the wombe: thou art he that tooke me out of my mothers bowels: my praise shall be alwayes of thee.

8 Let my mouth be filled with thy praise, and with thy glory euery day.
9 Calt me not off in the time of age: forsake me not when my strength faileth.
10 For mine enemies speake of me, & they that lay wait for my soule, take their counsel together.
11 Saying, ^a God hath forsaken him: pursue and take him, for there is none to deliuer him.
12 Goe not farre from mee, O God: my God hath thee to helpe me.
13 Let them be confounded and confumed that are against my soule: let them bee couered with reproofe and confusion, that seeke mine hurt.
14 But I will wait continually, and will praise thee more and more.
15 My mouth shall daily rehearse thy righteousness, and thy saluation: ^k for I know not the number.
16 I will goe forward in the strength of the Lord God, and will make mention of thy righteousness, & of thine only.

17 O God, thou hast taught mee from my youth euen vntill now: therefore will I tell of thy wonderous workes.
18 Yea euen vnto mine olde age and gray head, O God: forsake me not, vntill I haue declared thine arme vnto this generation, and thy power to all them that shall come.

19 And thy righteousnesses, O God, I will extoll on high: for thou hast done great things: O God, who is like vnto thee!
20 Which hath shewed me great troubles and p aduerities, but thou wilt returne and reuiue me, and wilt come againe, and take mee vp from the depth of the earth.

21 Thou wilt increase mine honour, and returne and comfort me.
22 Therefore will I praise thee for thy faithfulness, O God, vpon instrument and viole: vnto thee will I sing vpon the harpe, O Holy one of Israel.
23 My lips will reioyce when I sing vnto thee, and my soule which thou hast deliuered.
24 My tongue also shall talke of thy righteousness daily: for they are confounded and brought vnto shame, that seeke mine hurt.

that his longtriance was well recompensed, when God performed his promise.
r For there is no true praising of God, except it come from the heart: and therefore hee promitteth to delight in nothing but wherein God may be glorified.

PSAL. LXXII.

1 Hee prayeth for the prosperitie of the Kingdome of Salomon, who was the figure of Christ. 4 Vnder whom shall bee righteous iudice, peace, and felicitie. 10 Vnto whom all Kings and nations shall doe homage. 17 Whole name and power shall endure for euer, and in whom all nations shall be blessed.

A Psalm of Salomon.

Give thy iudgements to the King, O God, and thy righteousness to the Kings sonne.
2 Then shall hee iudge thy people in righteousness, and thy poore with equity.
3 The mountains, and the hills shall bring peace to the people by iustice.
4 He shall iudge the poore of the people: he shall saue the children of the needy, and shall subdue the oppressour.
5 They shall feare thee as long as the sunne shall be enriched with thy blessings. 6 Hee sheweth wherefore the sword is committed to Kings: to wit, to defend the innocent, and suppress the wicked.

1 The people shall embrace thy true religion, when thou giust a King that ruleth according to thy word.

In the Psalm the holy Ghost hath comprehended, as it were the summe of all Gods benefits, to the intent the good and godly people might see how few words the effect of the whole histories of the Bible.

2 A Psalm to giue ^ainstruction, committed to Asaph.

Hear my doctrine, O my people: incline your eares vnto the words of my mouth.

3 I will open my mouth in a parable: I will declare high sentences of old.

4 Which we haue heard and known, and our fathers haue told vs.

5 We will not hide them from their children, nor to the generation to come we will shew the prayes of the Lord, his power also, and his wonderfull workes that he hath done:

6 How he established a testimony in Iakob, and ordeined a law in Israel which hee com mande our fathers, that they should teach their children:

6 That the posterity might know it, and the children which should be borne, should stand vp, and declare it to their children:

7 That they might let their hope on God, and not forget the workes of God, but keepe his commandments:

8 And not to be as their fathers, a disobedient and rebellious generation: a generation that set not their heart agh, and whole spirit was not faithfull vnto God.

9 The children of Ephraim being armed and shooting with the bowe, turned backe in the day of battell.

10 They kept not the covenant of God, but refused to walke in his Law,

11 And forgate his ayes, and his wonderfull workes that he had shewed them,

12 Hee did manie things in the fighte of their fathers in the lande of Egypt: such in the field of Zoan.

13 He diuided the sea, and led them thitherow: he made also the waters to stand as an heape.

14 In the day time also heeled them with a cloude, and all the night with a light fire.

15 He claued their rocks in the wilderness, and gaue them drinke as of the great depths.

16 Hee brought floods also out of the stony rocke, so that he made the waters to descend like the riuers.

17 Yet they ^ksinned still against him, and provoked the Higheit in the wilderness, 18 And tempted God in their hearts in ^lrequiring meat for their lust.

19 They spake against God also, saying, Can God ^mprepare a table in the wilderness?

20 Behold, hee smote the rocke, that the water gushed out, and the streames ouerflowed: can hee giue bread also? or prepare flesh for his people?

21 Therefore the Lord heard and was angry, and the ⁿfire was kindled in Iakob, and also wrath came vpon Israel, 22 Because they beleued not in God, and trusted not in his helpe.

23 Yet he had commanded the ^oclouds about, and had opened the doores of heauen, 24 And had rained downe M A N vpon them for to eate, and had giuen them of the wheate of heauen.

25 Man did eate the bread of Angels: he sent them meat enough.

26 Hee caused the ^pEast winde to passe in the heauen: and through his power hee brought in the South wind.

27 He rained flesh also vpon them as dust, and feathered fowle as the fall of the fea.

28 And hee made it fall in the middes of their campe, round about their habitations.

29 So they did eat, and were well filled: for he gaue them their desire.

¶ To him that excelleth on Sheshannim Eduth.

A Psalm committed to Asaph.

Heare O thou shepheard of Israel, thou that leadest Ioseph like sheepe: shew thy brightnesse, thou that sittest betwene the Cherubims.

2 Before Ephraim and Benjamin and Manasse stirre vp thy strength, and come to helpe vs.

3 Turne vs againe, O God, and cause thy face to shine that we may be saued.

4 O Lord God of hostes, how long wilt thou be angry againt the prayer of thy people?

5 Thou hast fedde them with the bread of teares, and giuen them teares to drinke with great measure.

6 Thou hast made vs a strife vnto our neighbours, and our enemies laugh at vs among themselves.

7 Turne vs againe, O God of hostes: cause thy face to shine, and we shalbe saued.

8 Thou hast brought a vine out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it.

9 Thou madest rouse for it, & diddest cause it to take roote, and it filled the land.

10 The mountains were covered with the shadow of it, and the boughs thereof were like the goodly cedars.

11 Shee stretched out her branches vnto the Sea, and her boughes vnto the Riuier.

12 Why hast thou then broken downe her hedges, so that all they, which passe by the way, haue plucked her?

13 The wilde bore out of the wood hath destroyed it, and the wilde beasts of the field haue eaten it vp.

14 Returne we beseech thee, O God of hostes: looke downe from heauen and behold, and visite this vine.

15 And the vineyard, that thy right hand hath planted, and the young vine, which thou madest strong for thy selfe.

16 It is burnt with fire, and cut downe: and they perish at the rebuke of thy countenance.

17 Let thine hand bee vpon the man of thy right hand, and vpon the sonne of man, whom thou madest strong for thine owne selfe.

1 An exhortation to praise God, both in heart and voyce for his benefits, 8 And to worship him onely. 11 God commendeth their ingratitude, 12 And sheweth what great benefites they haue lost through their ingratitude.

¶ To him that excelleth vpon a Gittith, A Psalm committed to Asaph.

Sing joyfully vnto God our strength: sing sloude vnto the God of Iakob.

2 Take the song and bring forth the timbrell, the pleasant harpe with the viole.

3 Blowe the trumpet in the newe moone, euen in the time appointed at our feast day.

4 For this is a statute for Israel, and a Law of the God of Iakob.

5 Hee let this in Ioseph for a testimonie, when hee came out of the land of Egypt, where I heard a language, that I vnderstood not.

6 I haue withdrawn him from the burden, and his hands haue left the pots.

7 Thou calledst in affliction, and I deliuered thee, and answered thee in the secret of the thunder: I proued thee at the waters of Meribah. Selah.

8 Heare, O my people, and I will protest vnto thee: O Israel, if thou wilt hearken vnto mee,

9 And wilt haue no strange God in thee, neither worship any strange god,

10 For I am the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt: open thy mouth wide, and I will fill it.

11 But my people would not heare my voyce, and Israel would none of me.

12 So I gaue them vp vnto the hardnesse of their heart, and they haue walked in their owne counsels.

13 Oh that my people had hearkened vnto me, and Israel had walked in my wayes!

14 I would soone haue humbled their enemies, and turned mine hand againt their aduersaries.

15 The haters of the Lord should haue bene subdued vnto him, and their time should haue endured for euer.

16 And God would haue fedde them with the ear of wheate, and with hony out of the rocke would I haue sufficed thee.

1 The Prophet declaring God to be present among the Iudges and Magistrates, 2 Reuoceth their partialitie, 3 And exhorteth them to doe iustice, 5 But seeme none answerer, 8 He desireth Gods vnderstanding to be manner and true iustitie himselfe.

A Psalm committed to Asaph.

God standeth in the assembly of gods: hee iudgeth among gods.

2 How long wilt ye iudge vniuially, and accept the persons of the wicked? Selah.

3 Doe right to the poore and fatherlesse: do iustice to the poore and needy.

1 The people of Israel pray vnto the Lord to deliuer them from their enemies both at home and abroad, which imagined nothing in their destruction. 2 And they desire that all such wicked people may according as God has accustomed, be stricken with the storme & tempest of Gods wrath. 3 That they may know that the Lord is most high vpon the earth.

¶ A Song or Psalm committed to Asaph.

Kepe a northern silence, O God: bee not still and cease not, O God.

2 For lo, thine enemies make a tumult, and they that hate thee, haue lifted vp the head.

3 They haue taken craftie counsell against thy people, and haue consulted against thy secret ones.

4 They haue said, Come and let vs cut them off from being a nation: and let the name of Israel be no more in remembrance.

5 For they haue consulted together in a heart, and haue made a league against thee:

6 The tabernacles of Edom, and the Ishmaelites, Moab and the Agarims:

7 Gebal and Ammon, and Amalek, the Philistines with the inhabitants of Tyre:

8 As hur also is ioyned with them: they haue bene an armie to the children of Lot, Selah.

9 Doe thou to them as vnto thee Midianites: as to Siser and as to Tabin at the riuer of Kishon.

8 O Lord God of hostes, heare my prayer, hearken, O God of Iaakob, Selah.

9 Behold, O God, our shield, and looke vpon the face of thine Anointed.

10 For a day in thy courts is better than a thousand there where I had rather be a doore keeper in the house of my God, then to dwell in the Tabernacles of wickednesse.

1 With many words hath the Prophet praised the goodnesse of Gods. 2 For in Testament and comments: that hee had made betwixt him, and his elect by Iesus Christ the son of David. 38 Then doth hee complaine of the great ruine and desolation of the Kingdome of David, so that to the outward appearance the promise was broken. 46 Finally, he prayeth to be deliuered from his afflictions, with remembrance of the goodnesse of mans life, and confirming himselfe by Gods promises.

¶ A Psalm to give instruction, of Ethan the Ezrahite.

I Will a sing the mercies of the Lorde for euer: with my mouth will I declare thy truth from generation to generation.

2 For t b said, Mercie shall be set vp for euer: thy truth shall thou c stablish in the very heauens.

3 d I have made a couenant with my chosen: I haue sworne to Dauid my seruant.

4 Thy seede will I stablish for euer, and set vp thy throne from generation to generation. Selah.

5 O Lord euen the e heauen shall praise thy wonderous worke: yea, thy truth in the e Congregation of the Saints.

6 For who is equal to the Lord in the heauen? and who is like the Lord among the e ionnes of the gods?

7 God is very terrible in the assemble of the b Saints, and to be reuerenced about all that are about him.

8 O Lord God of hostes, who is like vnto thee, which art a mightie Lord, and thy truth is about thee!

9 i Thou reulest the raging of the Sea: when the waues thereof arise, thou stillest them.

10 Thou hast beaten downe Rahab as a man slaine: thou hast scattered thine enemies with thy mightie arme.

11 The heauen is thine, the earth also is thine: thou hast laid the foundation of the world, and all that therein is.

12 Thou hast created the North and the South: k Tabor and Hermon shall reioyce in thy Name.

13 Thou hast a mightie arme: strong is thine hand, and high is thy right hand.

14 l Righteousnesse and equite are the stablishment of thy throne: mercie and truth goe before thy face.

15 Blessed is the people that can m reioyce in thee: they shall walke in the light of thy n countenance O Lord.

16 They shall reioyce continually in thy Name, and in thy righteousness shall they exalt themselves.

2 Before the ^c mountains were made, and before thou hast formed the earth, and the world, euen from euermore to euermore thou art our God.

3 Thou ^d turnest man to destruction: againe thou sayest, Returne ye sonnes of Adam.

4 ^e For a thousand yeres in thy sight are as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night.

5 Thou hast ^f ouerflowed them, they are as a sleep, in the morning he groweth like the grasse:

6 In the morning it flourisheth and groweth, but in the euening it is cut downe and withereth.

7 For we are ^g consumed by thine anger, and by thy wrath are we troubled.

8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, and our secret finnes in the light of thy countenance.

9 For all our dayes are past in thine anger: we haue ^h spent our yeres as a thought.

10 The time of our life ⁱ is threecore yeres and ten, and if they be of strength, ^j fourescore yeres: yet their strength ^k is but labour and sorrow: for it is cut off quickly, and we flee away.

11 ^l Who knoweth the power of thy wrath? for according to thy feare ^m is thine anger.

12 Teach vs ⁿ io to number our dayes, that we may apply ^o our hearts vnto ^p wisdom.

13 Returne (O Lord, ^q how long?) and be pacified toward thy seruants.

14 Fill vs with thy mercy in the morning: so shall we reioyce and be glad all our daies.

15 Comfort vs according to the daies that thou hast afflicted vs, and according to the yeres that we haue scene euill.

16 ^r Let thy worke bee scene toward thy seruants, and thy glory vpon their ^s children.

17 And let the ^t beauty of the Lord our God bee vpon vs, and direct thou the worke of our hands vpon vs, eue direct the work of our hands.

This Psalm is composed of two other Psalms before, the seven and thirtieth and thirtieth. The matter here contained is, That David giueth himselfe with heart and voice to praise the Lord, 7 and affirmeth his iustesse of the promise of God concerning his kingdome vpon Israel, and in power against other nations: 11 Who thought hee faine to forsake vs for a while yet hee alone will in the end cast downe our enemies.

A Song or Psalm of David.

O God, mine heart is a prepared, so i|| my tongue: I will sing and giue praise.

For that I suggest hee stayeth him not. For, my glory, because it chiefly stretcheth forth the glory of God.

2 Awake violle and harpe, I will awake early. 3 I will praise thee, O Lord, among the b people, and I will sing vnto thee among the nations.

4 For thy mercy is great aboue the heauens, and thy truth vnto the cloudes.

5 Exalt thy selfe, O God, aboue the heauens, and let thy glory be vpon all the earth,

6 That thy beloued may be deliuered: helpe with thy right hand and heare me.

7 God hath spoken in his holinesse: therefore I will reioyce, I shall diuide Shechem and measure the valley o Succoth.

8 Gilead shall be mine, and Manassih shall be mine: Ephraim also shall be the strength of mine head: Iudah is my lawgiuer.

9 Moab shall be my washpott: ouer Edom will I cast out my shoe: vpon Palestina will I triumph.

10 Who will leade mee into the strong citie? who will bring me vnto Edom?

11 Wilt not thou, O God, which haddest forsaken vs, and diddest not goe forth, O God, with our armies?

12 Giue vs helpe against trouble for vaine is the helpe of man.

13 Through God wee shall doe valiantly: for he shall tread downe our enemies.

d That is, the examples, whereby thou declarest thy selfe to be Iudge of the world.

d That is, a vehement zeale to thy this life and forworld.

a I am persuaded that to keepe thy Law is an heritage and great gaue for me.

b He sheweth that none can imbrace the word of God, except he confesse his owne imperfections & wayes.
c They haue gone about to draw me into their company.
d Not only in mutual consent, but also with ayde and succour.

e For the knowledge of Gods word is a singular token of his fauor.

a Having proued by experience that God was true in his promise, he desireth that hee would increase in him knowledge and iudgement.
b So Ieremie saith that before the Lord touched him, he was like a calfe vntamed, so that the vice of Gods rods is to call vs hometo God.

c Their hearts are hardened, puffed with pride, with prosperitie.

a Because God leaueh not his worke that hee hath begun, he desireth a new grace: that is, that he would continue his mercies.
b When God sheweth his grace toward any, he respecteth to others, that he faileth not them that trust in him.

e Let me not fall to thy dishonour, but let mine heart be true in thy word.

d That is, be comforted by mine example.
e Heihereth that there can be no true feare of God without the knowledge of his word.

a Though my strength faile me, yett my soule groweth and fighteth, seeking light in thy word.

b Like a skinned bottle, or bladder that is parched in the smoke.

c How long wilt thou afflict thy seruants?

d They haue not onely opprest me violently, but also craftily conspired against me.
e He assured himselfe that God will deliuer him, and destroy such unrighteously persecuters.

a Because none should esteeme Gods word according to the changes of things in this world, hee sheweth that it abideth in heauen, and therefore is inuisible.

b Seeing the earth and all creatures remaine in that estate whereto thou hast created them, much more thy truth remaineth constant and vchangeable.

2 Who sware vnto the Lord, and vowed vnto the mighty ^aGod of Iakob, saying,

3 I will not enter into the Tabernacle of mine house, nor come vpon my pallet or bed,

4 Nor suffer mine eyes to sleepe, nor mine eyelids to slumber:

5 Vntill I find out a place for the ^cLord, an habitation for the mightie ^aGod of Iakob.

6 Lo, we heard of it in Ephrathah, and found it in the fields of the forrest.

7 Wee will enter into thy Tabernacles, and worship before his footstool.

8 Arise, O Lord, ^ccome into thy rest, thou, and the Arke of thy strength.

9 Let thy Priests be clothed with ^arighteousnesse, and let thy Saints reioyce.

13 For thy ^aferuent Dauids sake, refuse not the face of thine Anointed.

11 The Lord hath sworne in truth vnto Dauid, and he will not shrinke from it, saying, Of the fruit of thy body will I set vpon thy throne.

12 If thy sonnes keepe my Couenant, and my testimonies, that I shall teach them, their sonnes also shall sit vpon thy throne for euer.

13 For the Lord hath chosen Zion, and loued to dwell in it, saying,

14 This is my rest for euer: here will I dwell, for I haue a delight therein:

15 I will surely bleste her vitales, and will satisfie her poore with bread.

16 And wil clothe her Priests with ^asaluation, and her Saints shall shout for ioy.

17 There will I make the ^ahorne of Dauid to bud: for I haue ordained a light for mine Anointed.

18 His enemies will I clothe with shame, but on him his crowne shall flourish.

g As thou first madest promise to Dauid, so continue it to his posteritie, that what hee shall ask for their people, it may be granted.

b Because this meaning is accomplished but in Christ, it followeth that the promise was spiritual. I Meaning for his owne sake, and not for the penitencie of the place: for he promitteth to bleste it, declaring before that it was barren. c That is, with my protection, whereby they shall be safe. I Though his force for a time seemed to be broken, yet he promitteth to restore it.

PSAL. CXXXIII.

1 This Psalm containeth the commendation of brotherly amitie among the Ierusalemite God.

2 A Song of degrees or Psalm of Dauid.

Behold, how good and how comely a thing it is, brethren to dwell euery together.

against Dauid, though some fauoured him, yet when he was length they ioyned together like brethren, and therefore he sheweth by these similitudes the comradship of brotherly loue.

a He setteth forth his great humilitie, as an example to all rulers and gouernours.

b Which passe the measure and limits of his vocation.

c Hee was voyde of ambition and wicked desires.

a That is, with how great difficulty he came to the kingdom, and with how great paine and care he went about to build thy Temple.

b Because the chiefe charge of the king was to set forth Gods glory, he sheweth that he could take no rest, neither would goe about any worldly thing, were it neuer so necessary, before he had executed his office.

c That is, the Arke, which was a signe of Gods presence.

d The common bruit was that the Arke should remaine in Ephrathah: that is, in Beth lehem a plentiful place: but after we see that that thou wouldst place it in Ierusalem, which was barren as a forrest, and compassed about onely with hills.

e That is, Ierusalem, because that a reward thy Arke should remoue to none other place.

f Let the effect of thy grace both appeare in the Priests and in the people.

g Because this meaning is accomplished but in Christ, it followeth that the promise was spiritual. I Meaning for his owne sake, and not for the penitencie of the place: for he promitteth to bleste it, declaring before that it was barren. c That is, with my protection, whereby they shall be safe. I Though his force for a time seemed to be broken, yet he promitteth to restore it.

a Because the greatest part were established King as length they ioyned together like brethren, and therefore he sheweth by these similitudes the comradship of brotherly loue.

b The ointment was a figure of the graces which come from Christ the head vnto his Church.
c By Hermon and Zion he meaneth the plentiful country about Ierusalem.
d Where there is such concord.

2 It is like to the precious b ointment vpon the head, that runneth downe vpon the beard, men vnto Aarons beard, which went downe on the border of his garments.

3 And as the dew of c Hermon which falleth vpo the mountaines of Zion: for d there the Lord appointed the blessing and life for euer.

P S A L. CXXXIII.

1 He exhorted the Leuites watching in the Temple, to praise the Lord.

A song of degrees.

Behold, praise ye the Lord, all yee ^a seruants of the Lord, ye that by night stand in the house of the Lord.

2 Lift vp your b hands to the Sanctuary, and praise the Lord.

3 The Lord that c hath made heauen & earth, blesse thee out of Zion.

a Ye charge Leuites are chiefly appointed to this office.
b For their charge was specially to keepe the Temple, but to pray there, and to give God thanks, & And therefore hath power, & blesse thee with his Fatherly love declared in Zion. Thus the Leuites vnto praise the Lord, and blesse the people.

P S A L. CXXXV.

1 He exhorted all the faithful, of what estate, where they be, to praise God for his many good works, 12 And specially for his graces toward his people, where he hath declared his might, 15 To the confounding of all idolaters and their idoles.

Of praise to the Lord.

Praise the Name of the Lord: ye seruants of the Lord, praise ^a him.

2 Yee that ^a stand in the house of the Lord, and in the b courts of the Houe of our God.

3 Praise yee the Lord: for the Lord is good: sing praises vnto his Name: for it is a comely thing.

4 For the Lord hath c chosen Iakob to himselfe, and Israel for his chiefe treasure.

5 For I know that the Lord ^a is great, and that our: Lord ^a is aboue all gods.

6 Whatsoeuer pleased the Lord, that d did he in heauen & in earth, in the sea, & in all the depths.

7 Hee bringeth vp the cloudes from the ends of the earth, and maketh the * lightnings with the raine: he draweth forth the winde out of his treasures.

8 * He smote the first borne of Egypt both of man and beast.

9 He hath sent tokens and wonders into the mids of thee, O Egypt, vpon Pharaoh, and vpon all his seruants.

10 * He smote many nations, and slew mightie Kings:

11 Asihon King of the Amorites, and Og king of Bashan, and all the kingdomes of Canaan:

12 And e gaue their land for an inheritance, men an inheritance vnto Israel his people.

13 Thy Name, O Lord, endureth for euer: O Lord, thy remembrance ^a from generation to generation.

14 For the Lord will f iudge his people, and be pacified toward his seruants.

15 The idoles of the heathen are silver and golde, men the worke of mens hands.

16 They haue a mouth, and speake not: they haue eyes and see not.

17 They haue eares and heare not, neither is there any breath in their mouth.

18 They that make them, are like vnto them: so are all that trust in them.

19 Praise the Lord, yee house of Israel: praise the Lord, yee house of Aaron.

20 Praise the Lord, yee house of Leui: yee that a Ye Leuites that are in his Sanctuary b Meaning the people for people & Leuites had their courts, which were places of the Temple separate.

c That is, hath freely lousd the possession of Abraham.
d Heiroyed Gods power with his will, to the intent that he would not separate them and keepe he willen Gods people to depend on his power which he confirms by examples.
* Iere. 17. 12.

* Num. 31. 24. 34.
a He smeth what fruit the godly conceive of Gods power, where by they see how he destroyeth his enemies, and destroyeth his people.
b That is, gouerne and defend his people.
c By shewing what punishment God appointeth for the heathen idolaters, howe warreth his people to beware the like offences, seeing that idoles haue neither power nor life, and that their deliuerance came not by idoles, but by the mighty power of God.

P S A L. CXXXVII.

1 The people of God in their banishment seeing Gods true Religion decayed, and great anguish and sorrow, where they were, to be aware the which griefe the Caldeans daily felt in prison, 2 That they prayd for mercie to the same deity most famous, reported as a Babylonian spirit of God, 3 Wherein the Babylonians as a God, first to punish the Edomites, who grewed the The slauing of Edom, 4 And moved by the spirit of God, prophecie the destruction of Babylon, where they were banished, to be graciously.

Y the rivers of Babel we c ate, and there we swept, when we remembered Zion,

2 We hangd our harpes vpon the willowes where we were, yet could it not stay our teares, nor turne vs from the true fruit of our God.

a By this repetition, onely, it is shewed that the heale of Gods benefits binde vs to thanksgiving, but chiefly his mercie, which is principally declared towards his Church.

b This was a common kinde of thanksgiving, which the whole people vsed, when they haue receiued any benefit of God as 2 Chron. 6. and 20. 21. meaning, that God was not onely mercifull to their fathers, but also continued the fauour, hee present.

c So is mercifull proud in e owne man, careth in all his creatures, but chiefly in that that hee deliuered his Church from the thraldome of their enemies.

d In doing such a worke as was neuer done before, nor that any other could doe.

e Where for the space of fouretye yeres he allowed infinite and most strange wonders, f Declaring thereof that a power not authoritie was to deare vnto him, as the loue of his Church.

g In our greatest affliction & slavery, when we looked for nothing lesse then to haue had any incurrer.

h Seeing that God prouideth rescue for the death, and ch more than he can order his.

i Seeing that all ages haue had most plaine testimony of Gods benefits.

e He calleth to God with timely faith, being assured of his mercies, because he had beforetime proude, that God helped him euer in his dangers.

f For it is in Gods hand to ouerthrow the counsels and enterprises of the wicked.

g It seemeth that hee alledit to Saul.

h To wit, God for David saweth that they were reprobate, and that there was no hope of repentance in them.

i Gods plague hath light vpon him in such sort, that he shall not escape. k That Saul shall be defended and preferred by thy fatherly providence and care.

P S A L. CXLI.

David being cruelly persecuted under Saul, once fleeth vnto God to haue succour. 2 Desiring hima to triuie his afflictions, that hee may patiently abide till God take vengeance of his enemies.

A Psalm of David.

O Lord, I call vpon thee: hast thee vnto me: heare my voice, when I cry vnto thee.

2 Let my prayer be directed in thy sight as incense, and the lifting vp of mine handes as an evening sacrifice.

3 Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth, and keepe the dore of my lips.

4 Incline not mine heart to euill, that I should commit wicked workes with men that worke iniquitie: and let me not care of their delicacies.

5 Let the righteous min me: for that is a benediction: and let him reprove me, and it shall be a precious oyle that shall not breake mine head: for with n a while I shall euen pray in their miseries.

6 When their iudges shall be cast downe in stonie places, they shall heare my wordes, for they are sweet.

7 Our bones lie scattered at the graues mouth, as he that heweth wood or diggeth in the earth.

8 But mine eyes looke vnto thee, O Lord God: in thee is my trust: leave not my soule destitute.

9 Keepe mee from the snare, which they haue layd for me, and from the gennes of the workers of iniquitie.

10 Let The wicked fall into his nees together whiles I escape.

P S A L. CXLI.

The Prophet misera afflicted with seuer, nor caried away with anger, nor forced by desperation, would kill Saul: but with a quiet minde directed his earnest prayer to God, who did preserve him.

A Psalm of David, to giue instruction, and a prayer when he was in the case.

I Cryed vnto the Lord with my voyce: with my voyce I prayed vnto the Lord,

2 I powred vnto my meditation before him, and declared mine affliction in his presence.

3 I powred vnto my meditation before him, and declared mine affliction in his presence.

3 Though my spirit was in perplexitie in me, yet thou knewest my path: in the way wherein I walked, haue they priuily laid a snare for me.

4 I looked vpon my right hand, and beheld, but there was none that would know mee: all refuge failed me, and none cared for my soule.

5 Then cried I vnto thee, O Lord, and sayd, Thou art mine hope, and my portion in the land of the liuing.

6 Hearken vnto my cry, for I am brought vnto thee: deliuer me from my persecuters, for they are too strong for me.

7 Bring my soule out of prison, that I may praise thy Name: in thee shall the righteous come about me, when thou art beneficiall vnto me.

8 Either to reioyce at my wonderfull deliuerance, or to mine head.

P S A L. CXLI.

An earnest prayer for remission of sinnes, acknowledging that the enemies did thus cruelly persecute him by Gods iudgements. 8 He desireth to be restored to grace, 10 To be governed by his holy Spirit, that he may perseuer the remnant of his life in the true faith and seruice of God.

A Psalm of David.

Hear me prayer, O Lord, and hearken vnto my supplication: answer mee in thy truth, and in thy righteousness.

2 (And enter not into iudgement with thy seruant: for in thy sight shall none that liueth, be iustified.)

3 For the enemy hath persecuted my soule: he hath smitten my life downe to the earth: hee hath laid mee in the darknesse as they that haue bene dead long agoe.

4 And my spirit was in perplexitie in me, and mine heart within me was amazed.

5 Yet doe I remember the time I past: I meditate in all thy workes, yea, I doe meditate in the workes of thine hands.

6 I stretch forth mine handes vnto thee: my soule desireth after thee, as the churche land. Selah.

7 Heare mee speedily, O Lord, for my spirit faileth: hide not thy face from mee, else I shall be like vnto them that goe downe into the pit.

8 Let mee heare thy louing kindeesse in the morning, for in thee is my trust: shew mee the way, that I should walke in, for I lift vp my soule vnto thee.

9 Deliuer mee, O Lord, from mine enemies: for I hid me with thee.

10 Teach mee to doe thy will, for thou art my God: let thy good spirit leade mee vnto the land of righteousness.

11 Quicken mee, O Lord, for thy Names sake, and for thy righteousness bring my soule out of trouble.

12 And for thy mercie slay mine enemies, and destroy all them that oppress my soule: for I am thy seruant.

13 Let thine holy Spirit counsel mee how to come forth of thine great cares and troubles. I hid my selfe vnder the shadow of thy wings, that I might be defended by thy power. k He concludeth that both the knowledge and obedience of Gods will cometh by the Spirit of God, who teacheth vs by his word, giueth understanding by his Spirit, and frameth our hearts by his grace to obey him. l That is, iustly and aright: for so loose as we decline from Gods will, we fall into error, m Which shall be a signe of thy fatherly kindeesse toward mee. n Rejoicing my selfe wholly vnto thee, and trusting in thy protection.

P S A L. CXLI.

Hee praies the Lord with great affliction and humility for his kindeesse shewed and for his vnto him obtained, 5 Demanding help and the destruction of the wicked, 9 Promising to acknowledge the same with songs of praise, 15 And declaring wherein the felicity of a people consisteth.

A Psalm of David.

Blessed be the Lord my strength, which teacheth mine hands to fight, and my fingers to battell.

2 Hee is my goodnesse and my fortresse, my towre and my deliuerer, my shield, and in him I trust, which shal Iustly my people vnder me.

3 Lord, what is man that thou regardest him, or the sonne of man that thou thinkest vpon him?

4 Man is like to vanitie: his dayes are like a shadow, that vanisheth.

5 Bowe thine heauens, O Lord, and come downe touch the mountaines, and they shal smoke.

6 Cast forth the lightning and scatter them: shoote out thine arrowes, and consume them.

7 Send thine hand from aboue: deliuer me, and take me out of the great waters, and from the hand of strangers.

8 Who e mouth talketh vanitie, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

9 I will sing a new song vnto thee, O God, and sing vnto thee vpon a viole, and an instrument of ten strings.

10 It is he that giueth deliuerance vnto Kings, and rescueth David his seruant from the hurtfull sword.

11 Rescue me, and deliuer me from the hand of strangers, whose mouth talketh vanitie, and their right hand, is a right hand of falsehood:

12 That our sons may be as the plants growing vpon their youth, & our daughters as the corner stones, grauen after the similitude of a palace:

13 That our corners may be full & abounding with diuers sorts, and that our sheepe may bring forth thoulunds and ten thoulunds in our streets.

14 That our oxen may be strong to labour: that there be no inuasion, nor going out, nor no crying in our streets.

15 Blessed are the people, that be so, for ye blessed are the people whose God is the Lord.

16 Blessed are they that keepe his commandments, for they shall be rewarded: 17 There is a rare and excellent song, as thy great benediction decreed.

18 Whom wicked King, be called Gods seruants, as Cyrus, Isa 45.1. forasmuch as hee hath them to execute his iudgements: yet David because of Gods promise, and they that rule godly, are properly so called, because they serue not their own affections but let forth Gods glory.

19 Hee delieth God to continue his benediction vnto his people, counting the procreation of children and great education among the chiefest of Gods benedictions. 20 That the very corners of our houses may be full of fruit in the great abundance of his blessings.

21 Hee ascribeth not only the great commodities, but even the least also to Gods honour. 22 And if God giue more to all his children all these blessings, yet hee recompenseth them with better things.

P S A L CXLV.

This Psalm is ascribed vnto the King of David flourished. 1 Wherein hee describeth the wonderfull prouidence of God, as well in governing man as in preserving all the rest of his creatures. 2 Hee praileth God for his iustice and mercie. 3 Thus specially, for his loving kindness to the meane things that caly on him, that craue him, and susteine him. 4 For the which hee proposes to praile God for euer.

A Psalm of David of praise.

O My God and King, I will extoll thee, and will blesse thy Name for euer and euer.

2 I will blesse thee daily, and praile thy Name for euer and euer.

3 Great is the Lord, and most worthy to be praised, and his greatnesse is incomprehensible.

4 Generation shall praile thy works vnto generation, and shall shew forth thy power to the people.

5 Hee sheweth how sacrifices are pleasing and acceptable vnto God: euen praile and thanksgiving, and seeing that God will continue his benedictions towards vs, wee ought neuer to be weary in praising him for the same.

6 Hee sheweth how sacrifices are pleasing and acceptable vnto God: euen praile and thanksgiving, and seeing that God will continue his benedictions towards vs, wee ought neuer to be weary in praising him for the same.

neration, and declare thy power.

5 I will meditate of the beauty of thy glorious maiestie and thy wonderfull workes,

6 And they shall speake of the power of thy fearful acts, and I will declare thy greatness.

7 They shall breake out into the mention of thy great goodnesse, and shall sing aloud of thy righteousness.

8 The Lord is gracious, and merciful, slow to anger, and of great mercie.

9 The Lord is good to all, and his mercies are ouer all his workes.

10 All thy workes praile thee, O Lord, and thy Saints blesse thee.

11 They shew the glory of thy kingdom, and speake of thy power,

12 To cause his power to be knowne to the sonnes of men, and the glorious renowne of his kingdom.

13 Thy kingdom is an euerlasting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all ages.

14 The Lord vpholdeth all that fall, and lifteeth vp all that are ready to fall.

15 The eyes of all waite vpon thee, and thou givest them their meate in due season.

16 Thou openest thine hand, and fillest all things liuing of thy good pleasure.

17 The Lord is righteous in all his wayes, and holy in all his workes.

18 The Lord is neere vnto all that call vpon him: yea, to all that call vpon him in truth.

19 He will fulfil the desire of them that feare him: he also will heare their cry, and will saue them.

20 The Lord preserveth all them that loue him: but he will destroy all the wicked.

21 My mouth shall speake the praise of the Lord, and all flesh shall blesse his holy Name for euer and euer.

21 Hee sheweth how sacrifices are pleasing and acceptable vnto God: euen praile and thanksgiving, and seeing that God will continue his benedictions towards vs, wee ought neuer to be weary in praising him for the same.

22 Hee sheweth how sacrifices are pleasing and acceptable vnto God: euen praile and thanksgiving, and seeing that God will continue his benedictions towards vs, wee ought neuer to be weary in praising him for the same.

23 Hee sheweth how sacrifices are pleasing and acceptable vnto God: euen praile and thanksgiving, and seeing that God will continue his benedictions towards vs, wee ought neuer to be weary in praising him for the same.

24 Hee sheweth how sacrifices are pleasing and acceptable vnto God: euen praile and thanksgiving, and seeing that God will continue his benedictions towards vs, wee ought neuer to be weary in praising him for the same.

Though he visiteth them by affliction, hunger, imprisonment, and such like, yet his fatherly love and pity never faileth them, yea rather to his tries are signes of his love

g Meaning that they are a definite of worldly means & succour

h He assureth the Church that God reigneth for ever for the preservation of the same.

Lord raise up the crooked: the Lord sheweth the righteous.

9 The Lord keepeth the strangers: he releiveth the fatherlesse and widowe: but hee overthroweth the way of the wicked.

10 The Lord shall b reigne for ever: O Zion, thy God endureth from generation to generation. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXLVII.

The Prophet praiseth the b. unity, wisdom, power, justice, and providence of God upon all his creatures. 2 But specially upon his Church, which he gathereth together: after their dispersion, 19 Declaring his word and judgement to run on them, as he hath done to most other people.

Praise ye the Lord, for it is good to sing unto our God: for he is a pleasant thing and a praise is comely.

2 The Lord doth build up b Ierusalem, and gather together the dispersed of Israel.

3 He healeth those that are broken in heart, and bindeth up their fores.

4 He counteth the number of the starres, and calleth them all by their names.

5 Great m our Lord, and great is his power, his wisdom is infinite.

6 The Lord releiveth the meeke, and abasheth the wicked to the ground.

7 Sing unto the Lord with praise: sing upon the harpe unto our God.

8 Which couereth the heauen with clouds, and prepareth raine for the earth, and maketh the graile to grow upon the mountaines:

9 Which giueth to beasts their food, and to the yong rauens that cry.

10 He hath not pleasure in the strength of an horie, neither delighteth he in the legs of man.

11 But the Lord delighteth in them that feare him, and attend upon his mercy.

12 Praise the Lord, O Ierusalem: praise thy God, O Zion.

13 For hee hath made the barres of thy gates strong, and hath blessed thy children within thee.

14 He setteth peace in thy borders, and satisfieth thee with the flour of wheat.

15 He sendeth forth his commandement upon earth, and his word runneth very swiftly.

16 Hee giueth snow like woooll, and scattereth the hoare frost like ashes.

17 He casteth forth his yce like morfels: who can abide the colde thereof?

18 He sendeth his word and melteth them: hee causeth his wind to blow, and the waters flow.

19 Hee sheweth his word unto Iakob, his statutes and his iudgements vnto Israel.

20 He hath not dealt so with euery nation, neither haue they known his iudgements. Praise ye the Lord.

a He sheweth wherein we ought to exercise our selues continually, and to take our partime: to wit, in praising God.
b Because the Lord is the founder of the Church, it cannot be destroyed, though the members thereof be dispersed, and seeme a while to be cut off.
c With affliction, or sorrow for sinne.
d Though it seeme to man incredible, that God should assemble his Church, being so dispersed, yet nothing can be too hard to him that can number and name all the starres.
e For the more highgate the wicked climb the greater is their fall in the end.
f He sheweth by the examples of Gods mightie power, goodnesse and wisdom, that we must want most iust occasion to praise God.
g For their crying is as it were a confession of their need, which cannot be relieved, but by Gods onely, then if God show himselfe mercifull of the most contemptible wretches, can hee suffer them to die with famine, whom hee hath allowed of life everlasting? h Though to vse lawfull means is both profitable and pleasant God, yett to put our trust in them, is to defraud God of his honour. i He doeth not onely furnish his Church with all things necessary, but preferreth also the same, and maketh it strong against all outward force. k His secret working in all creatures is as a commandment to keepe them in order, and to giue them mowing and fence. l For immediately and without resisting all things obey him. m As before hee called Gods secret working in all his creatures his word: so hee hath left to his Church as most precious the doctrine of life everlasting, which hee hath left to his Church as most precious treasure. n The cause of this difference is Gods free mercy, which hath elected his in his Sonne Christ Iesus to salvation, and his iust iudgement, whereby he hath appointed the reprobate to eternal damnation.

PSAL. CXLVIII.

1 Hee praiseth all creatures to praise the Lord in beauty and earth and all places. 14 Specially his Church for the power that hee hath giuen to the iames, after that hee hath chosen them, and ioyned them vnto him.

¶ Praise ye the Lord.

Praise ye the Lord from the heauen: praise ye him in the high places.

2 Praise ye him, all ye his Angels: praise him, all his army.

3 Praise ye him, sunne and moone: praise ye him all bright starres.

4 Praise ye him, c heauens of heauens, and d waters that be aboue the heauens.

5 Let them praise the Name of the Lord: for hee commanded, and they were created.

6 And he hath established them for euer and euer: hee hath made an ordinance which shall not passe.

7 Praise ye the Lord from the earth, ye dragons and all depths.

8 Fire and haile, snow and vapours, stormy wind, which execute his word.

9 Mountaines and all hills, fruitfull trees, and all cedars.

10 Beasts and all cattell, creeping things and feathered fowles:

11 Kings of the earth, and all people, princes and all iudges of the world:

12 Yong men and maidens, also olde men and children:

13 Let them praise the Name of the Lord: for his Name onely is to bee exalted, and his praise aboue the earth and the heauens.

14 For hee hath exalted the borne of his people, which is a praise for all his Saints, euen for the children of Israel, a people that is neere vnto him. Praise ye the Lord.

not by chance or fortune, but by Gods appointed ordinance. g For the greater glory to any hath received, and the more he that one is preferred the more bound is to praise God for the time: but neither his low condition or degree can be exempted from this dutie. h That is, the dignitie, power and glory of his Church. i By reason of his covenant made with Abraham.

PSAL. CXLIX.

1 An exhortation to the Church to praise the Lord for his glory and conquest, that hee giueth his Saints against all manner of power.

¶ Praise ye the Lord.

Sing ye vnto the Lord a newe song: let his praise be heard in the Congregation of Saints.

2 Let Israel reioyce in him that b made him, and let the children of Zion reioyce in their King.

3 Let them praise his Name with the flute: let them sing playes vnto him with the timbrel and harpe.

4 For the Lord hath pleasure in his people: he will make the meeke glorious by deliuerance.

5 Let the Saints bee ioyfull with glory: let them sing loud upon their beds.

6 Let the hie acts of God be in their mouth, and a two edged sword in their hands,

7 To execute vengeance upon the heathen, and corrections among the people.

8 To binde their kings in chaines, and their nobles with fetters of yron,

9 That they may execute vpon them the that continual rest and quietnes which they should haue, if they would suffer God to rule them. c This is chiefly accomplished in the kingdom of Christ, wherein Gods people for iust causes execute Gods iudgements against his enemies: which giueth no libertie to any to reuenge their private iniuries. d Not onely the people, but the kings that were their enemies, should be destroyed. iudgements

a Because they are members of the same body, hee keth them before our eyes, which are made willing hereto, and by their prompt obedience teach vs to do our dutie. b In that Gods glory shineth in their inferiour creatures, this their beauty is as a continual praying of God. c Not that there are diuers heauens, but because of the spheres, and of the situation of the fixed starres and planets, he comprehendeth by this word the whole heauen. d That is, the raine which is in the middle region of the ayre, which hee here comprehendeth vnder the name of the heauen. e Meaning, the great & manifold filkes, as waters and such like. f Which come out by chance or fortune, but by Gods appointed ordinance. g For the greater glory to any hath received, and the more he that one is preferred the more bound is to praise God for the time: but neither his low condition or degree can be exempted from this dutie. h That is, the dignitie, power and glory of his Church. i By reason of his covenant made with Abraham. a For his rare and manifold benefits bestowed on his Church. b In that that they were preferred before a luther nations, it was as a newe creation, and therefore Psal. 95. 7. they were called the heards of Gods sheepe. c For God is hee the Creator of the soule & body, so will hee that both two ierue him, and that his people be continually subiect vnto him, as their most Iust full king. d He sheweth that they would suffer God to rule them. e This is chiefly accomplished in the kingdom of Christ, wherein Gods people for iust causes execute Gods iudgements against his enemies: which giueth no libertie to any to reuenge their private iniuries. f Not onely the people, but the kings that were their enemies, should be destroyed. iudgements

OF S A L O M O N.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe wondersfull love of God toward his Church is declared in this booke: forasmuch as the summe and effect of the whole Scriptures is here set forth in these brife sentences, which partly containe doctrine, and partly maners, and also exhortations to both: whereof the nine first chapters are as a Preface full of grave sentences and deepe mysteries to allure the hearts of men to the diligent reading of the parables that follow: which are left as a most precious siewel to the Church of those three thousand parables mentioned, 1 Kings 4. 32. and were gathered and committed to writing by Salomons servants, and visited by him.

CH A P. I.

1 The power and use of the word of God. 7 Of the feare of God and knowledge of his word. 10 Wayes and seasons to the attainings of wisdom. 20 Wisdome commendeth that it is contemned. 24 The punishment of them that contemne her.

Proverbs of Salomon the sonne of David king of Israel, 2 To know wisdom, a and instruction, to understand the words b of knowledge, 3 To receive instruction to doe wisely, c by justice and judgement and equitie, 4 To give unto the simple sharpeners of wit,
and to the child knowledge and discretion.
5 A wife man shall hearde and increaseth in learning, and a man of d understanding shall attaine unto wise counsels.

6 To understand a parable, & the interpretation of the words of the wife, and their darke sayings.
7 * The feare of the Lord a is the beginning of knowledge: but fooles despise wisdom and instruction.
8 My sonne, heare thy b fathers instruction, and forsake not thy c mothers teaching, 9 For they shall be d a comely ornament vnto thine head, and as chaires for thy necke.
10 * My sonne, if sinners doe entice thee, consent thou not.
11 If they say, Come with vs, we will lay way for e blood, and lie prively for the innocent with out a cause:
12 We will swallow them vp alive like a graue,
even whole, as those that goe downe into the pit.
13 We shall finde all precious riches, and fill our houses with spoile:
14 Cast in thy lot among vs: we will all haue one purpose.
15 My sonne, walke not thou in the way with them: refraineth thy foot from their f path.

tains vnto him.

concerning maners

doth he declare that the same is

* Psal. cxi. to each. x. to g He speaketh
elise in the Name of God, which is the winner all thee of all creatures, or in the name of the pallour of the Church, who is as a father. h That is, of the Church, wherein the faithfull are begotten by the incorruptible seede of Gods word. i For, increase of grace. j To wit, the wicked which haue not the feare of God. k He speaketh not onely of the shedding of blood with hand, but of all exasie practices which tend to the detriment of one neighbour. l As the graue is neuer satiate, so the avarice of the wicked and their crueltie haue no end. m He sheweth whereby the wicked are allured to ioyne together, because they haue every one part of the poyle of the innocent, in that they haue nothing at all to doe with them.

16 For their feet run to euil, and make haste to shed blood.
17 Certainly as without cause the net is spread before the eyes of all that hath wing:
18 So they lay waite for blood, and lie prively for n their liues.
19 Such are the waies of euery one that is greedy of gaine: he would take away the life of the owners thereof.
20 * Wisdome cryeth without: the vttereth her voyce in the streets.
21 Shee calleth in the high streete, among the prease in the entrings of the gates, and vttereth her words in the city, saying, 22 O ye foolish, how long will ye loue foolishnesse? and the scornfull take their pleasure in scorning? and the fooles hate knowledge?
23 (Turne you at my correction: loe, I will pouere out my minde vnto you, and make you vn-derstand many words)
24 Because I haue called, and ye refused: I haue stretched out mine hand, and none would regard.
25 But ye haue despised all my counsell, and would none of my correction, 26 I will also laugh at your destruction, and mocke when your feare cometh.
27 When a your feare cometh like sudden deſolation, and your destruction shall come like a whirlewind when affliction and anguish shall come vpon you.
28 Then shall they call vpon me, but I will not answer: they shall seeke me earley, but they shall not b finde me.
29 Because they hated knowledge, and did not chuse the feare of the Lord.
30 They would none of my counsell, but y despised all my correction.
31 Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their owne way, and be filled with their owne deuises.
32 For c afe slayeth the foolish, and the pro-peritie of fooles destroyeth them.
33 But he that obeyeth mee, shall dwell safely, and be quiet from feare of euill.

o He sheweth that there is no cause to moue these wicked to spoyle the innocent, but the avarice & crueltie p Whereby he concludeth that the covetous man is a murderer.
q This wisdom is the eternal word of God.
r So that none can pretend ignorance.
s Wisdom repro-meth three kinds of men: the foolish or simple which erre of ignorance, and the mockers
that cannot suffer the laugh, & the fooles which are drowned in worldly lust, and hate the knowledge of godliness.
t This is spoken
according to our capacitie, signifying that the wicked which mocke and iest at Gods word, shall haue
the full reward of their mocking.
u That is, vnderstanding, which thing you feare,
v Because they sought not without affection to God,
but for ease of their owne grieue, y Shewing without faith & obedience, we cannot call vpon God bright.
z They shall seeke
what commoditie their wicked life shall giue them.
a That is, the pro-peritie and sensa-tiality wherein they delight.

CH A P. II.

1 Wisdome exhorteth to obey her. 5 She teacheth the feare of God
6 Shee giueth of God, 10 Shee preſeruet from wickednes.

b In Ebreweit is Onlye: for though he had three others, as a. Ghor: 5 yet for tenderly the loued Salomon, that he was vnder her as her onely sonne, c Meaning, Dauid his father, d Heiuehwerth we will beitt begin at Gods word it fo be we will that oter things prosper with vs contrary to the iudgement of the world which make it their last flude, or else care not for it: 2 all, e Salomon dealeth with care his father had to bring him vp in the true feare of God: for this was Dauid's proclatation, f k Thou shalt walke at libertie without offence.

g Meaning, that to doe euill is more proper & naturall to the wicked thē to sleepe, eat or drinke, h Gotten by wicked meanes and euell oppression i Signifiyng, that the godly increate daily in knowledge and perfection on till they come to full perfection, which is, when they shall be vnder the yoke of their head in the heauens, k That is they shall haue health of body: vnder the which all other blessings promised in the law are contained, l For as the heart is either pure or corrupt, so is the whole course of mans life, m Keepe a measure in al thy doings.

n For, vnderstanding, a That is, an harlot which giueth her selfe to another when to her hulk band, b By oyle and honie, hee meaneth flattering and crafty enticements, c All her doings shall be dedicated to destruction.

2 For I doe giue you a good doctrine: there fore forsake ye not my Law.

3 For I was my fathers sonne, tender and deare in the sight of my mother.

4 When hee taught me, and sayd vnto mee, Let thine heart holde fast my words: keep my commandments, and thou shalt liue.

5 Get wisdom: get vnderstanding: for get not, neither decline from the words of my mouth.

6 Forkeather not, and thee shall keepe thee: loue her and she shall preserve thee.

7 Wisedome is the beginning: get wisdom therefore: and aboute all thy possession get vnderstanding.

8 Exalt her, and she shall exalt thee: she shall bring thee to honour, if thou embrace her.

9 Shee shall giue a comely ornament vnto thine head, yea, thee shall giue thee a crowne of glory.

10 Hearre, my sonne and receiue my words, and the yeeres of thy life shalt be many.

11 I haue taught thee in the way of wisdom, and led thee in the paths of righteousness.

12 When thou goest, thy gate shall not bee f strait, and when thou runnest, thou shalt not fal.

13 Take hold of instruction, and leaue not: keepe her, for shee is thy life.

14 Enter not into the way of the wicked and walke not in the way of euill men.

15 Auoyde it, and goe not by it: turne from it, and passe by.

16 For they cannot sleepe, except they haue done euill, and their sleepe departeth except they cause some to fall.

17 For they eate the bread of wickednesse, and drinke the wine of violence.

18 But the way of the righteous shineth as the light, that it shineth more and more vnto the perfit day.

19 The way of the wicked is as the darkenesse: they know not wherein they shall fall.

20 My sonne, hearken vnto my words, incline thine eare vnto my sayings.

21 Let them not depart from thine eyes, but keepe them in the mids of thine heart.

22 For they are liue vnto thole that find them, and health vnto all their flesh.

23 Keepe thine heart with all diligence: for thereout cometh life.

24 Put away from thee a froward mouth, and put wicked lips farre from thee.

25 Let thine eyes behold the right, and let thine eye lids direct thy way before thee.

26 Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy wayes be ordered aright.

27 Turne not to the right hand, nor to the left, but remouee thy foot from euill.

CHAP. V.

3 Whoredome forbidden. 9 And prudality. 15 He willeth a man to liue on his labours: vnto his wife. 18 To loue his wife. 22 The wicked taken in their owne wickednesse.

My sonne, hearken vnto my wisdom, and incline thine eare vnto my knowledge.

2 That thou mayest regard counsell, and thy lips obserue knowledge.

3 For the lips of a strange woman drop as an honny combe, and her mouth is more soft then a boyle.

4 But the end of her is bitter as wormewood, and sharpe as a two edged word.

5 Her feet goe downe to death, and her steps take hold on hell.

6 Shee we geth not the way of life: her paths are moueable: thou canst not know them.

7 Heare yee mee now therefore, O children, and depart not from the words of my mouth.

8 Keepe thy way farre from her, and come not neere the doore of her house,

9 Left thou giue thine honour vnto others, and thy yeeres to the cruell:

10 Left the stranger should be filled with thy strength, and thy labours bee in the house of a stranger,

11 And thou mourne at thine end, (when thou hast consumed thy flesh and thy body)

12 And say, How haue I hated instruction, and mine heart despised correction!

13 And haue not obeyed the voyce of them that taught mee, nor inclined mine eare to them that instructed me!

14 I was almost brought into all euill in the mids of the Congregation and assembly.

15 Drink the water of thy cistern, and of the riuers out of the mids of thine owne well.

16 Let thy fountaines flow forth, and the riuers of waters in the streets.

17 But let them bee thine, euen thine onely, and not the strangers with thee.

18 Let thy fountain be blessed, and reioyce with the wife of thy youth.

19 Let her be at the louing hinde and pleasant roe: let her breasts satisfie thee at all times, and delight in her loue continually.

20 For why shouldst thou delite, my sonne, in a strange woman, or embrace the bosome of a stranger?

21 For the wayes of man are before the meyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his paths.

22 His owne iniquities shall take the wicked him selfe, and he shall be holden with the cordes of his owne sinne.

23 He shall die for fault of instruction, and shall goe astray through his great folly.

decioyne to his wife both in heart and in outward conuersation, a Because hee will not not cleare the iudgements of God. b Because hee will not word and be admonished.

CHAP. VI.

1 Instruction or iudicium. 6 The stout fall and flugge is stirred to worke. 12 He despiseth the nature of the wicked. 16 The things that God hateth. 20 Toobserue the word of God. 24 To seeke aduice.

My sonne, if thou be suretie for thy neighbor, and hast stricken hands with the stranger,

2 Thou art snared with the wordes of thy mouth: thou art taken with the wordes of thine owne mouth.

3 Doe this now my Sonne, and deliuer thy selfe: seeing thou art come into the hand of thy neighbour, goe, and humble thy selfe, and sollicit thy friends.

4 Giue no sleepe to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eye lids,

5 Deliuer thy selfe as a Doe from the hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.

6 Goe to the pismire, O sluggard: behold her wayes, and be wise.

7 For the hauing no guide, gouernour, nor ruler,

8 Prepareth her meate in the summer, and gathereth her fooode in harvest.

9 How long wilt thou sleepe, O sluggard? when

d She hath neuer new meanes to allure to wickednes, c That is, thy strength & goods to bet that will haue no pitey upon thee: as is read of Salomon and the prodigall sonne, f The goods gotten by thy traue, g Although I was formerly instructed in the trueth, yet had I almost fallen to vicer shame and destruction, notwithstanding my good thinking up in the almighty of the godly, h Hezekiah's vicer, exhorting vs to be of our owne labours and to be beneficial to the godly that want, i Distribute them not to the wicked and infidels, but reserve them for thyselfe, thy family, and them that are of the house hold of faith, k Thy children which shall come of thee in great abundance, (heuing that God blest marriage, and curset whoredome, l Which thou diddest marry in thy youth, m For goe away with a stranger, n He dealeth that except man deuoynce to his wife both in heart and in outward conuersation, a Because hee will not cleare the iudgements of God. b Because hee will not word and be admonished.

a He forbiddeth vs not to become suretie one for another, according to the use of chancie, but that we consider for whom and what that sort, so that the creditous may not be defrauded.

b If the word of God cannot instruct thee, yet learne at the little pismire to labour for thy selfe and not to burden others.

10 ¶ Yet a little sleepe, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleepe.
11 Therefore thy poverty commeth as one that trauaileth by the way, and thy needefulle like an armed man.
12 The vnchurche man and the wicked man walke with a roward mouth.
13 He maketh a signe with his eyes: he signifieth with his feet: he is instructed with his fingers.
14 Lewd thins are in his heart: he imagineth euill at all times, and raileth vp contentions.
15 Therefore shall his destruction come speedily: he shall be destroyed suddenly without recovery.
16 ¶ The sixe things doeth the Lord hate: yea his soule abhorreth them:
17 The haughty eyes, a lying tongue, and the hands that shed innocent blood.
18 An heart that imagineth wicked enterprises, feet that be swift in running to mischief.
19 A false witness that speaketh lies, and him that raileth vp contention among brethren.
20 ¶ My sonne keepe thy fathers commandment, and forsake not thy mothers instruction.
21 Bindethem alway vpon thine heart, and tie them about thy necke.
22 It shall leade thee when thou walkest: it shall watch for thee when thou sleepest, and when thou wakest, it shall talke with thee.
23 For the commandment is a lanterne, and instruction a light: and correctiōs for instruction are the way of life, 24 ¶ To keepe thee from the wicked woman, and from the flattery of the tongue of a strange woman.
25 Desire not her beautie in thine heart, neither let her take thee with her eyes.
26 For because of the whorish woman, a man is brought to a morsell of bread, and a woman will hunt for the precious life of a man.
27 ¶ Can a man take fire in his bosome, and his clothes not be burnt?
28 Or can a man goe vpon coales, and his feet not be burnt?
29 So he that goeth in to his neighbours wife shall not be innocent, whosoener toucheth her.
30 Men do not despise a thiefe, when he stealeth to satisfie his yfoule, because he is hungry.
31 But if hee be found, hee shall restore fouen fold, or hee shall giue all the substance of his house.
32 But hee that committeth adultery with a woman, he is defuile of vnderstanding: he that doeth it, destroyeth his owne soule.
33 He shall finde a wound and dishonour, and his reproch shall neuer bee put away.

a Salomon declareth that man is cause of his owne perdition, and that he can pretend no ignorance. For as-much as God calleth to all men by his word and by his workes to follow him most reſort; and 5 O ye foolish men, vnderftand wifedome, and ye O foolcs, be wife in heart.

6 Giue eare, for I will fpeake of excellent things, and the opening of my lippes fhall teach things that be right.

7 For my mouth fhall fpeake the truth, and my lips abhorre wickedneffe.

8 All the wordes of my mouth are righteous: there is no lewdneffe, nor frowardneffe in them.

9 They are all e plainc to him that will vnderftand, and aftraight to them that would finde knowledge.

10 Receiue mine inftitution, and not filuer, and knowledge rather then fine gold.

11 For wifedome is better then precious ftones: and all pleasures are not to bee compared vnto her.

12 I wifdome dwell with prudence, and I finde forth knowledge and counfels.

13 The feare of the Lord u to hate e euill, as pride, and arrogancy, and the euill way: and a mouth that fpeaketh lewd things I doe hate.

14 I haue counfell and wifdome: I am vnderftanding and I haue ftrengh.

15 By mee kings reigne, and princes decree iuftice.

16 By mee princes rule, and the nobles, and all the iudges of the earth.

17 I loue them that loue mee: and they that fecke me early, fhall finde mee.

18 Riches and honour are with me: h euen durable riches and righteoufnes.

19 My fruit is better then gold, euen then fine gold, and my reuenues better then fine filuer.

20 I caule to walke in the way of righteoufnes, and in the mids of the paths of iudgement.

21 That I may caule them that loue me, to inherite fubftance, and I will fill their treafures.

22 The Lord hath poffeffed mee in the beginning of his way: I was k before his workes of old.

23 I was let vp from euerlafting, from the beginning, and before the earth.

24 When there were no depths, was I begotten: when there were no fountaines abounding with water.

25 Before the mountaines were fetled: and before the hills was I begotten.

26 Hee had not yet made the earth, nor the open places, nor the height of the duft in the world.

27 When he prepared the heavens, I was there, when he fet the compaffe vpon the deepe:

28 When hee eftablifhed the cloudes aboue: when he confirmed the fountaines of the deepe:

29 When he gave his decree to the fea, that the waters fhould not paffe his commandement, when he appointed the foundations of the earth.

30 Then was I with him: as a noui her, and I was dayly his delight, reioycing alway before him, 31 And tooke my ffolace in the compaffe of his earth: and my delight as with the children of men.

32 Therefore now hearken, O children, vnto me: for bleffed are they that keepe my wayes.

33 Heare inftitution, and be ye wife, and refufe it: not bleffed is the man that heareth me, watching dayly at my gates, and giuing attendance at the poftes of my doores.

34 For he that findeth me, findeth life, & fhall obtene fauour of the Lord.

35 But he that finneth againft mee hurteth his owne foule: and all that hate me, loue death.

CHAP. IX.

2 Wifdome calleth al to her feft. 3 The forerunner will not be corrupted. 4 The feare of God. 5 The conditions of the harlot.

Wifdome hath built her a houfe, and hewen out her b fuen pillars.

2 Shee hath killed her viuals, drawen her wine, and e prepared her table.

3 She hath fet forth her maidens and crieth vpon the higheft places of the citie, faying,

4 Who fo is e fimple, let him come hither, and to him that is deftitute of wifdome, the fayth,

5 Come, and eate of my f meate, and drinke of the wine that I haue drawen.

6 Forfakc your way, ye foolifh, and ye fhall liue: and walke in the way of vnderftanding.

7 He that reproveth a fcornor, purchafeth to himfelfe hate: and he that rebuketh the wicked getteth himfelfe a blot.

8 Rebuke not a fcornor, left he hate thee: but rebuke a wife man, and he will loue thee.

9 Giue admonition to the wife, and he will be the wifer: teach a righteous man, and he will increafe in learing.

10 The Beginning of wifdome is the feare of the Lord, and the knowledge of holy things, is vnderftanding.

11 For thy daies fhall be multiplied by me, and the yeeres of thy life fhall be augmented.

12 If thou be wife, thou fhalt be wife for k thy felfe, and if thou be a fcornor, thou alone fhalt fuffer.

13 A foolifh woman is troublefome: fhe is ignorant and knoweth nothing.

14 But fhe ftretch at the doore of her houfe on a feat, in the high places of the city,

15 To call them that paffe by the way, that go right on their way, faying,

16 Who fo is fimple let him come hither, and to him that is deftitute of wifdome, the faith alfo, 17 Spollen waters are fweete, and hid bread is pleafant.

18 But he knoweth not, that the dead are there: and that her ghefts, are in the depth of hell.

19 Hee fheweth what true vnderftanding is, to know the will of God in his word, which is meant by holy things. k Thou fhalt haue the chiefe profic and commodity thereof.

20 For the foolifh woman, vnderftand the wicked preachers, who countefeit the word of God: as appeareth verfe. 6 which were the wordes of the true preachers. as verfe 4, but their doctrine is but as follen waters: meaning that they are but men traditions, which are more pleafant to the flefh then the word of God, and therefore they themfelues boalt thereof.

CHAP. X.

In this Chapter, and all that follow, vnto the thirtieth the wife man exhorteth by diuers fentences, which hee calleth Parables, to follow vertue, and flee vice: and alfo fheweth what profic cometh of wifdome, and what hinderance proceedeth of foolifhneffe.

THE PARABLES OF SALOMON.

A Wife fonne maketh a glad father: but a foolifh fonne is an heauineffe to his mother.

2 The treafures of a wickedneffe profite nothing: but righteoufnes deliuereth from death.

3 The

c Meaning, that the word of God is eafie vnto all: and which are not blinded by the price of this world.

d That is, except a man haue wifdom, which is the true knowledge of God, he can neither be prudent, nor good counfeller.

e So that he that doeth not thus, e. will feareth not God.

f Whereby he declareth, that honours, dignitie, or riches come not of mans wifdome, or indolty, but by the prouidence of God.

g That is, I study the word of God diffently, and with a difcreete profic.

h Signifying, that he chiefly meaneth the fpiritual treafures, and heautail riches.

i Forthere can be no true iuftice, or iudgement, which is not directed by this wifdome.

k He declareth hereby the diuinitie and eternitie of this wifdome, which be magnifich and praifeth thorow this book: meaning thereby the eternal Son of God Iefus Chrift our Satiour, whom Saint Iohn calleth the word that was in the beginning, Iohn 1. 1.

l He declareth the eternitie of the Sonne of God, which is meant by this word, Wifdome, who was before all time, and ouer preat with the Father.

m Some reade a chiefe worker: fignifying, that this Wifdome, euen Chrift Iefus, was equall with Gods his Father, & created prefewerh, & fill worketh with him, as Iohn 1. 7. n Whereby is declared, that the weakneffe of the creation was no paine, but a folace vnto the wifdome of God. o By which he meaneth man, which is the worke of God, in whom wifdome tooke place: in as much as for mans fike the diuine wifdome tooke mans nature and dwelt among vs, as filled vs with vnfpakeable treafures: and this is that folace and paffime whereof is here fpeoken.

a Chrift hath prepared him a Church, b That is, many chiefe cities, and principall parts of his Church, were the Patriarkes, Prophets, Apoftles, Paffors and Doctores.

c He compareth wifdome with great princes that keepe open houfe for all that come d Meaning, true preachers, which are the intended with mans wifdome.

e He that knoweth his owne ignorance, and is voyde of malice.

f By the meat and drinke is meant the word of God, and the miniftration of the Sacraments, whereby God nourifheth his feruants in his houfe which is the Church.

g For the wicked will contemne him and labour to defame him.

h Meaning, them that are incorrigible, which Chrift calleth dogs and fwine: he fpeaketh this in comparison, not that the wicked fhould not be rebuked, but he fheweth the malice and the fmall hope of profite.

i Hee fheweth what true vnderftanding is, to know the will of God in his word, which is meant by holy things. k Thou fhalt haue the chiefe profic and commodity thereof.

l For the foolifh woman, vnderftand the wicked preachers, who countefeit the word of God: as appeareth verfe. 6 which were the wordes of the true preachers. as verfe 4, but their doctrine is but as follen waters: meaning that they are but men traditions, which are more pleafant to the flefh then the word of God, and therefore they themfelues boalt thereof.

m That is, wickedly gotten.

e Though he suffer the iust to want for a time, yet he will find him comfort in due season. for decessfull.

3 The Lord will not famish the soule of the righteous: but hee casteth away the substance of the wicked.

4 A // slouthfull hand maketh poore: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich.

5 He that gathereth in summer, is the sonne of wisdom: but he that sleepeth in harvest, is the sonne of confusion.

6 Blessings are vpon the head of the righteous: but iniquitie shall couer the mouth of the wicked.

7 The memoriall of the iust shall bee blessed: but the name of the wicked shall rot.

8 The wife in heart will receive commandements: but the foolish in // talke shall beateen.

9 He that walketh vprightly, walketh // boldly: but hee that peruerteth his wayes, shall bee knowne.

10 Hee that winketh with the eye, worketh sorrow, and he that is // foolish in talke, shall beateen.

11 The mouth of a righteous man is a wellspring of life: but iniquitie couereth the mouth of the wicked.

12 Hatred stirreth vp contentions: * but lone couereth all trespasses.

13 In the lippes of him that hath vnderstanding, wisdom is found, and a rod shall bee for the backe of him that is deliuite of wisdom.

14 Wise men lay vp knowledge: but the mouth of the fooles is a present destruction.

15 The rich mans goods are his // strong city: but the feare of the meede is the // r poverty.

16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life: but the reuenues of the wicked to sinne.

17 He that regardeth instruction, is in the way of life: but he that resisteth correction goeth out of the way.

18 He that dissembleth hatred with lying lips, and he that inuenteth slander, is a foole.

19 In many words there cannot want iniquitie: but he that refraineth his lips, is wise.

20 The tongue of the iust man is as a fined siluer: but the heart of the wicked is little worth.

21 The lips of the righteous doe // feede many: but fooles shall die for want of wisdom.

22 The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich, and he doeth adde // no sorrowes with it.

23 It is as a pastime to a fool to doe wickedly: but wisdom is vnderstanding to a man.

24 That which the wicked feareth, shall come vpon him: but God will graunt the desire of the righteous.

25 As the whirlwind passeth, so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is as an euerslating foundation.

26 As vinegar is to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so is the slothful to them that // send him.

27 The feare of the Lord increaseth the dayes: but the yeeres of the wicked // shalbe diminished.

28 The patient abiding of the righteous shalbe gladnes: but the hope of the wicked shal perish.

29 The way of the Lord is strength to the vpright man: but feare shall be for the workers of iniquitie.

30 The righteous shall // neuer be remooued: but the wicked shall not dwell in the land.

31 The mouth of the iust shall be fruitful in wisdom: but the tongue of the froward shall be cut out.

32 The lips of the righteous knowe what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked speaketh froward things.

C H A P. XI.

False // balances are an abomination vnto the Lord: but a perfect weight pleateth him.

2 When pride cometh, then cometh // shame: but with the lowly is wisdom.

3 The vprightnesse of the iust shall guide them: but the towardnesse of the transgressors shall destroy them.

4 Riches auail not in the day of wrath: but righteoussesse deliuereth from death.

5 The righteoussesse of the vpright shal direct his way: but the wicked shal fall in his owne wickednesse.

6 The righteoussesse of the iust shal deliuer them: but the transgressors shall be taken in their owne wickednesse.

7 When a wicked man dieth, he hope perisheth, and the hope of the vnjust shal perish.

8 The righteous escapeth out of trouble, and the wicked shal come in his // stead.

9 An hypocrite with his mouth hurtech his neighbour: but the righteous shalbe deliuered by knowledge.

10 In the prosperitie of the righteous the citie is reioyceth: and when the wicked perish, there is // ioy.

11 By the // blessing of the righteous the citie is exalted: but it is subuerted by the mouth of the wicked.

12 He that despiseth his neighbour, is desitute of wisdom: but a man of vnderstanding will // keepe silence.

13 Hee that goeth about as a slanderer, discovereth a secret: but he that is of a faithfull heart, concealeth a matter.

14 Where no counsell is, the people fall: but where many counsellers are, there is // health.

15 He shall bee fore vexed, that is surety for a stranger, and he that hateth furethship, is sure.

16 A // gracious woman attaineth honour, and the strong men attain riches.

17 He that is mercifull, rewardeth his owne soule: but hee that troubleth his owne // self, is cruell.

18 The wicked worketh a deceitfull worke: but he that soweth righteoussesse, shall receive a sure reward.

19 As righteoussesse leadeth to life: so he that followeth euill, seeketh his owne death.

20 They that are of a froward heart, are abomination to the Lord: but they that are vpright in their way, are his delight.

21 Though hand // ioyne in hand, the wicked shall not be vnpunished: but the seed of the righteous shall escape.

22 As a iewel of gold in a swines snout: so is a fauour woman which // lacketh discretion.

23 The desire of the righteous is only good: but the hope of the wicked is indignation.

24 There is that scattereth // seed, and is more increased: but hee that gathereth more, then is right, surely cometh to poverty.

25 The // liberal person shal haue plenty: and he that watereth, shall also haue raine.

26 He that withdraweth the corne, the people will curse him: but blessing shalbe vpon the head of him that // selleth corne.

27 He that seeketh good things, getteth // aour: but he that seeketh euill, it shall come to him.

a Vnder this word hee codemeth all false weights, measures and deceit. for false.

CHAP. XIII.

A wise woman buildeth her house: but the foolish destroyeth it with her owne hands.

2 He that walketh in his righteousnesse, feareth the Lord: but he that is lewd in his wies, despiseth him.

3 In the mouth of the foolish is the rodde of pride: but the lips of the wise preferre them.

4 Where none oxe are, there the cribe is empty: but much increase cometh by the strength of the oxe.

5 A faithfull witness will not lie: but a false record will speake lies.

6 A corner seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not: but knowledge is easie to him that will vnderstand.

7 Depart from the foolish man, when thou perceiuest not in him the lips of knowledge.

8 The wisdom of the prudent, is to vnderstand his way: but the foolishnes of the fool is deceit.

9 The foole maketh a mocke of sinne: but among the righteous there is fauour.

10 The heart knoweth the bitterness of his soyle, and the stranger shall not meddle with his ioy.

11 The house of the wicked shall be destroyed: but the tabernacle of the righteous shall flourish.

12 There is a way that seemeth right to a man: but the issues thereof are the wayes of death.

13 Euen in laughing the heart is sorrowfull, and the end of that mirth is heauinesse.

14 The heart that declineth, shall bee satiate with his owne wayes: but a good man shall depart from him.

15 The foolish shall beleue every thing: but the prudent will consider his steps.

16 A wise man feareth, and departeth from euill: but a foole rageth, and is carelessse.

17 He that is hasty to anger, committeth folly, and a fustie bodie is hated.

18 The foolish do inherit folly: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.

19 The euill shall bow before the good, and the wicked at the gates of the righteous.

20 The poore is hated euen of his owne neighbour: but the friends of the rich are many.

21 The finner despiseth his neighbour: but he that hath mercie on the poore, is blessed.

22 Do not they erre that imagine euil? but to them that thinke on good things, shall be mercie and truth.

23 In all labour their is abundance: but the talke of the lips bringeth only want.

24 The crowne of the wise is their riches, and the follie of the fool is foolishnesse.

25 A faithfull witness delinereeth soules: but a deceiver speaketh lies.

26 In the feare of Lord is an assured strength, and his children shall haue hope.

27 The feare of the Lord is as a wellspring of life to auoide the snares of death.

28 In the multitude of the people is the honour of a king, and for the want of people cometh the destruction of the prince.

29 He that is slow to wrath, is of great wisdom: but he that is of a hasty minde, exalteth folly.

30 A found heart is the life of the flesh: but enuie is the rotting of the bones.

31 He that oppresseth the poore, reprooeth him that made him: but he honoureth him, that hath mercie on the poore.

32 The wicked shall be cast away for his malices: but the righteous hath hope in his death.

33 Wisdometh retheth in the heart of him that hath vnderstanding, and is knowen in the midst of fooles.

34 Iustice exalteth a nation, but sinne is a shame to the people.

35 The pleasure of a king is in a wise seruant: but his wrath shall be toward him that is lewd.

CHAP. XV.

A soft answer putteth away wrath: but grievous words stirre vp anger.

2 The tongue of the wise vseth knowledge aright: but the mouth of fooler babbleth out foolishnesse.

3 The eyes of the Lord in euery place behold the euill and the good.

4 A wholesome tongue is as a tree of life: but the frowardnesse thereof is the breaking of the mind.

5 A foole despiseth his fathers instruction: but he that regardeth correction, is prudent.

6 The house of the righteous hath much treasure: but in the reuenues of the wicked is trouble.

7 The lips of the wife do spread abroad knowledge: but the heart of the foolish doeth not so.

8 The sacrifice of the wicked is abomination to the Lord: but the prayer of the righteous is acceptable vnto him.

9 The way of the wicked is an abomination vnto the Lord: but he loueth him that followeth righteousness.

10 Instruction is euill to him that forsaketh the way, and he that hateth correction, shall die.

11 Hell and destruction are before the Lord: how much more the hearts of the sonnes of men?

12 A scorner loueth not him that rebuketh him, neither will he goe vnto the wise.

13 A ioyful hart maketh a cheerefull countenance: but by the sorrow of the heart the minde is heauie.

14 The heart of him that hath vnderstanding, seeketh knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is fed with foolishnesse.

15 All the dayes of the afflicted are euill: but a good conscience is a continual feast.

16 Better is a little with the feare of the Lord, then great treasure, and trouble therewith.

17 Better is a dinner of greene herbes where loue is, then a stalled oxe and hated therewith.

18 An angry man stirreth vp strife: but he that is slow to wrath, appealeth strife.

19 The way of a slothfull man is as a hedge of thornes: but the way of righteous is plaine.

20 A wise sonnerioyeth the father: but a foolish man despiseth his mother.

21 Foolishnesse is ioy to him that is destitute of vnderstanding: but a man of vnderstanding walketh vprightly.

22 Without counsell, thoughts come to nought: but in the multitude of counsellers there is steadfastnesse.

23 A ioy cometh to a man by the answer of his mouth: so how good is a word in due season?

24 The way of life is on high to the prudent, to auoide from hell beneath.

25 The Lord will destroy the house of the proude men: but he will stablish the borders of the widow.

26 The thoughts of the wicked are abomination to the Lord: but the pure becom pleasant words.

27 He that is greedy of gaine, troubleth his owne house: but he that hateth gifts, shall live.
28 The heart of the righteous studieth to answer: but the wicked mans mouth babbeth euill things.
29 The Lord is farre off from the wicked: but he heareth the prayer of the righteous.
30 The light of the eyes reioyceth the heart, and a good name maketh the bones fat.
31 The eare that hearkeneth to the correction of life, shall lodge among the wise.
32 He that refuseth instruction, despiseth his owne soule: but he that obeyeth correction, getteth vnderstanding.
33 The feare of the Lord is the instruction of wisdom: and before honour goeth humility.

CHAP. XVI.

THe preparations of the hart are in man: but the answer of the tongue is of the Lord.
2 All the waies of a man are cleane in his owne eyes: but the Lord pondereth the spirits.
3 Commit thy works vnto the Lord, and thy thoughts shall be directed.
4 The Lord hath made all things for his owne sake: yea, euen the wicked for the day of euill.
5 All that are proud in heart, are an abomination to the Lord: though a hand ioyne in hand, he shall not be vnpunished.
6 By d^e mercy and truth iniquitie shall be forgiven, and by the feare of the Lord they depart from euill.
7 When the wayes of a man please the Lorde, he will make all his enemies at peace with him.
8 Better is a little with righteoufnesse, then great reuenues without equity.
9 The heart of a man purporeth his way: but the Lord doth direct his steps.
10 A diuineentence shall be in the lips of the king: his mouth shall not transgresse in iudgment.
11 A true waighe and ballance are of the Lord: all the waights of the bag are his worke.
12 It is an abomination to kings to commit righteoufnesse: for the throne is stablished by iustice.
13 Righteous lips are the desire of kings, and the king loueth him that speaketh right things.
14 The wrath of a king is as his messengers of death: but a wise man will pacifie it.
15 In the light of the kings countenance is life: and his fauour is as a cloud of the latter raine.
16 How much better is it to get wisdom then gold: and to get vnderstanding, is more to be desired then siluer.
17 The path of the righteous is to decline from euill, & he keepeth his soule that keepeth his way.
18 Pride goeth before destruction, and an high minde before the fall.
19 Better it is to be of humble minde with the lowly, then to diuide the spoiles with the proude.
20 He that is wise in his busines, shall find good: and he that trusteth in the Lord he is blessed.
21 The wife in heart shall be called prudent: and the sweetnesse of the lips shall increasē doctrine.
22 Vnderstanding is a well-spring of life vnto the that haue it, and the instruction of foolcs is folly.

23 The heart of the wise guideth his mouth, and addeth doctrine to his lips.
24 The sweet words of consolation, which come forth of the mouth of the wise, are as a balm of life to the weary.

24 Faire words are as an hony combe, sweetnesse to the soule, and health to the bones.
25 There is a way that seemeth right vnto man, but the issue thereof are the wayes of death.
26 The person that traualleth, traualleth for himselfe: for his mouth craueth of him.
27 A wicked man diggeth vp euill, and in his lips is like a burning fire.
28 A froward person soweth strife: and a tale-teller maketh diuision among princes.
29 A wicked man deceiueth his neighbour, and leadeth him into the way that is not good.
30 He fluteth his eyes to deuile wickednes: he moueth his lips, and bringeth euill to passe.
31 Age is a crowne of glory, when it is found in the way of righteoufnesse.
32 Hee that is slow vnto anger, is better then the mighty man: and hee that ruleth his owne minde, is better then he that winneth a citie.
33 The lot is cast into the lap: but the whole disposition thereof is of the Lord.

CHAP. XVII.

Better is a dry moule, if peace be with it, then an house full of sacrifices with strife.
2 A discreet seruant shall haue rule ouer a lewd sonne, and hee shall diuide the heritage among the brethren.
3 As is the fining pot for siluer, and the furnace for gold, so the Lord tryeth the hearts.
4 The wicked giueth heed to false lips, and a liar hearkeneth to the naughty tongue.
5 Hee that mocketh the poore, reproacheth him that made him: and he that reioyceth at destruction, shall not be vnpunished.
6 Childrens children are the crowne of the elders: and the glory of the children are their fathers.
7 High talke becommeth not a foole, much lesse a lying talke a prince.
8 A reward is as a stone pleasant in the eyes of them that haue it: it prospereth, whither he ouer it cometh.
9 Hee that couereth a transgression, seeketh loue: but he that repeateth a matter, separateth the prince.
10 A reproofe entrench more into him that hath vnderstanding, then an hundred stripes into a foole.
11 A feditious person seeketh onely euill, and a cruell messenger shall be sent against him.
12 It is better for a man to meet a beare robbed of her whelpes, then a foole in his folly.
13 Hee that rewardeth euill for good, euill shall not depart from his house.
14 The beginning of strife is as one that openeth the waters: therefore or the contention be medled with, leaue off.
15 He that iustifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the iust, euen they both are abomination to the Lord.
16 Wherefore is there a price in the hand of the foole to get wisdom, and he hath none heart?
17 A friend loueth at all times: and a brother is borne for aduersitie.
18 A man destitute of vnderstanding, toucheth the hand, and becommeth suretie for his neighbour.
19 He loueth transgression that loueth strife, and he that exalteth his gate, seeketh destruction.
20 The froward heart findeth no good: and hee

23 A wicked man taketh a gift out of the ^l bo-some to wrest the wayes of iudgement.

24 * Wiselome is in the face of him that hath vnderstanding: but the eyes of a foole are in the corners of the world.

25 A foolish sonne is a griefe vnto his father, and a ^h heauinesse to her that bare him.

26 Surely it is not good to condemne the iust, nor that the princes should smite such ⁿ for equitie.

27 He that hath knowledge, spareth his words, and a man of vnderstanding ^{is} of an excellent spirit.

28 Euen a foole, (when he holdeth his peace) is counted wise, and hee that stoppeth his lips, prudent.

FOR the desire thereof hee will ^a separate himselfe to seeke it, and occupie himselfe in all wiselome.

2 A foole hath no delight in vnderstanding: but that his heart may be ^b discovered.

3 When the wicked commeth, then commeth contempt, and with the vile man reproch.

4 The words of a mans mouth are like deepe d waters, and the wellspring of wiselome is like a flowing riuier.

5 It is not good to ^c accept the person of the wicked, to cause the righteous to fall in iudgment.

6 A fooles lips come with strife, & his mouth calleth for stripes.

7 A fooles mouth is his owne destruction, and his lips are a snare for his soule.

CHAP. XIX.

BETTER ^r is the poore that walketh in his vprightness, then hee that abuteth his lips, and is a foole.

2 For without knowledge the minde is not good, and he that hath with his feet, sinneth.

3 The foolishnesse of a man peruerteth his way, and his heart fretteth against the Lord.

4 Riches gather many friends: but the poore is separated from his neighbour.

5 * A false witness shall not be unpunished: and he that speaketh lies, shall not escape.

6 Many reuerence the face of the Prince, and euery man is friend to him that giueth gifts.

7 All the brethren of the poore doe hate him: how much more will his friends depart farre from him? though he be instant ^s with words, yet they will not.

8 He that possesseth vnderstanding, ^t loueth his owne soule, and giueth wisdom to find goodnesse.

9 A false witness shall not be unpunished: and he that speaketh lies, shall perish.

10 Pleasure is not comely for a foole, much lesse for a seruant to haue rule ouer princes.

11 The discretion of a man desireth his anger: and his glory ^u is to passe by an offence.

12 * The Kings wrath is like the roaring of a lion: but his fauour ^v is like the dew vpon the grasfe.

13 A foolish sonne is the calamitie of his father, * and the contentions of a wife are like a continuall ^w dropping.

14 House and riches are the inheritance of the fathers: but ^x a prudent wife cometh of the Lord.

15 Slothfulness causeth to fall asleepe, and a deceitfull person shall be ashamed.

6 Many men will boast euery one of his owne goodnesse: but who can find a faithfull man?

7 He that walketh in his iniquitie, is iust, and blessed shall his children be after him.

8 A king that sitteth in the throne of iudgement, discharge away all euill with his eyes.

9 * Who can say, I haue made mine heart cleane, I am cleane from my sinne?

10 Diuers weights, and diuers measures, both these are euen abomination vnto the Lord.

9 * He that hath a good ^c eye, he shall be blessed: for he giueth of his bread to the poore.

10 Cast out the scorner, and strife shall goe out: so contention and reproch shall cease.

11 Hee that loveth purcheth of heart ^c the grace of his lips, the ^c King ^h is his friend.

12 The eyes of the Lord preserve his knowledge: but he overthroweth the words of the transgressor.

13 * The slothfull man saith, I am a Lyon is with-out, I shall be slaine in the street.

14 The mouth of strange women is as a deepe pithe with whom the Lord is angry, ^h shall fall therein.

15 Foolishnesse is bound ^h in the heart of a child: but the rod of correction shall driue it away from him.

16 Hee that oppresseth the poore to increase himselfe, and giueth vnto the rich, ^h shall surely come to pouertie.

17 * Encline thine eare, and heare the words of the wise, and apply thine heart vnto my knowledge.

18 For it ^h shall be pleasant, if thou keepe them in thy belly, and if they bee directed together in thy lips.

19 That thy confidence may be in ^h the Lord, I haue shewed thee this day: thou therefore take heed.

20 Haue not I written vnto thee ^h three times in counsels and knowledge, 21 That I might shewe thee the assurance of the words of truth, to auersee the words of truth to them that send to thee?

22 Robbe not the poore because hee is poore, neither oppresse the afflicted ^h in iudgement.

23 For the Lord ^h will defend their cause, and spoile the soule of those that spoile them.

24 Make ^h no friendship with an angry man, neither goe with the furious man, 25 Left thou learne his wayes, and receiue destruction to thy soule.

26 Be not thou of them that ^h touch the hand, nor among them that are suretie for debts.

27 If thou hast nothing to pay, why ^h consetst thou that hee should take thy bedde from vnder thee?

28 Thou shalt not ^h remouee the ancient bounds which thy fathers haue made.

29 Thou seest that a diligent man in his businesse standeth before kings, and standeth not before the base foer.

CHAP. XXIII.

When thou sittest to eate with a ruler, ^h consider diligently what is before thee,

2 And put the knife to thy throat, if thou be a man giuen to the appetite.

3 Be not desirous of his daintie meates: ^c for it is a deceuable meate.

4 Trauaile not too much to be rich: but cease from thy ^c wisdom.

5 Wilt thou cast thine eyes vpon it, which is nothing? for riches taketh her to her wings, as an Eagle, and flieth into the heauen.

6 Eate thou not the bread of him that hath an euill eye, neither desire his daintie meates.

7 For as though he thought it in his heart: so will he say vnto thee, Eate and drinke: but his heart is not with thee.

8 Thou shalt vomit thy ^c morsels that thou hast eaten, and thou shalt loose thy sweete words.

9 Speake not in the eares of a foolke: for hee will despise the wisdom of thy words.

10 Remoue not the ancient bounds, and enter not into the fields of the fatherlesse.

11 For hee that redeemeth them, is mightie: he will ^h defend their cause against thee.

12 Apply thine heart to instruction, and thine eares to the words of knowledge.

13 * Withhold not correction from the child: if thou smite him with the rod, he shall not die.

14 Thou shalt smite him with the rodde, and shalt deliuer his soule from hell.

15 My sonne, if thine heart be wise, mine heart shall reioyce, and I also.

16 And my reines shall reioyce, when thy lips speake righteous things.

17 * Let not thine heart be enuious against sinners: but let it be in the feare of the Lord continually.

18 For surely there is an end, ^h and thy hope shall not be cut off.

19 O thou my sonne, heare, and bee wise, and guide thine heart in the way.

20 Keepe not company with ^h drunkards, nor with ^h gluttons.

21 For the drunkard and the glutton shall bee poore, and the sleeper shall bee clothed with ragg.

22 Obey thy father that hath begotten thee, and despise not thy mother when she is old.

23 Buy ^h the truth, but sell it not: likewise wisdom, and instruction, and vnderstanding.

24 The father of the righteous shall greatly reioyce, and he that begetteth a wife child, shall haue ioy of him.

25 Thy father and thy mother shall bee glad, and he that bare thee shall reioyce.

CHAP. XXXIII.

Ene not thou enuious aginst euill men, neither desire to be with them.

2 For their heart imagineth destruction, and their lips speake mischief.

3 Through wisdom is an house builded, and with vnderstanding it is established.

4 And by knowledge shall the chambers bee filled with all precious and pleasant riches.

5 A wise man is strong: for a man of vnderstanding increaseth his strength.

6 * For with counsell thou shalt enterprise thy warre, and in the multitude of them that can giue counsell, he shall.

7 Wisdom is high to a foole: therefore hee cannot open his mouth in the gate.

8 Hee that imagineth to doe euill, men shall call him an author of wickednesse.

9 The wicked thought of a foole is funne, and the corner is an abomination vnto men.

10 ^{It} thou bee faint in the day of aduersitie, thy strength is small.

11 Deliber thou that are drawn to death, and wilt thou not preserue them that are led to be slaine?

12 If thou say, Behold, we knew not of it: he that pondereth the hearts, doeth not see vnderstand it: and he that keepeth thy soule, knoweth he it not? will not he also recompense euery man according to his works?

13 My sonne, eate ^d hony, for it is good, and the hony combe, ^{or} is sweet vnto thy mouth.

14 So shall the knowledge of wisdom bee vnto thy soule if thou lovest it, and there shall be an ^{end}, and thine hope shall not be cut off.

15 Lay no waite, O wicked man, against the house of the righteous, and spoile not his resting place.

16 For a iust man is fallen seven times, and riseth againe: but the wicked fall into mischief.

17 Bee thou not glad when thine enemy falleth, and let not thine heart reioyce when hee stumbleth.

18 Lest the Lord see it, and it displeas him, and he turne his wrath ^f from him.

19 * Pret not thy selfe because of the malicious, neither be enuious at the wicked.

20 For there shall be none ende of ^{plagues} to the euill man: * the light of the wicked shall be put out.

21 My sonne, feare the Lord, and the King, and meddle not with them that are seditious.

22 For their destruction shall rise suddenly, and who knoweth the ruine of them? beedi?

23 ALSO THESE THINGS PERTAIN TO THE WISE. It is not good ^{to} haue respect of any person in iudgement.

24 Hee that faith to the wicked, * Thou art righteous, him shall the people curse, and the multitude shall abhorre him.

25 But to them that rebuke him shall be pleasure, and vpon them shall come the blessing of goodwil.

26 They shall kisse the lips of him that answereth upright words.

27 Prepare thy worke without, and make ready thy things in the field, ^h and after, build thine house.

28 Bee not a witnesse aginst thy neighbour without cause: for wilt thou deceiue with thy lips?

29 * Say not, I will doe to him as he hath doe to mee, ⁱ I will recompense euery man according to his worke.

30 I passed by the field of the slothfull, and by the vineyard of the man destitute of vnderstanding.

31 And lo, it was all growen ouer with thorns, and nettles had couered the face thereof, and the stone wall thereof was broken downe.

32 Then I beheld, and considered it well: I looked vpon it, and receiued instruction.

33 Yet a little sleepe, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleepe.

34 So thy pouertie cometh as one that traueleth by the way, and thy necessitie like an armed man.

CHAP. XXV.

I THESE ARE ALSO PARABLES OF SALOMON, which the men of Hezekiah king of Iudah copied out.

The glory of God is to conceale a thing secret: but the kings honour is to search out a thing.

3 The heauens in height, & the earth in deepnesse: & the kings heart can no man search out.

4 Take the droisse from the siluer, and there shall proceed a vessel for the finer.

5 Take away the wicked from the king, and his throne shall be established in righteousness.

6 Boast not thy selfe before the king, & stand not in the place of great men.

7 * For it is better that it bee said vnto thee, Come up hither, then thou be to be put lower in the presence of the prince who thine eyes haue seene.

8 Goe not forth hastily to strife, lest thou know not what to doe in the end thereof, when thy neighbour hath put thee to shame.

9 Debate thy matter with thy neighbour, and discouer not the secret to another.

10 Lest hee that heareth it, put thee to shame, and thine infamy doe not cease.

11 A word spoken in his place, is like apples of gold with pictures of siluer.

12 He that reproacheth the wife, and the obedient eare, is as a golden earring, and an ornament of fine gold.

13 He that becometh corrupted, is like a golden earring, and an ornament of fine gold.

14 He that becometh corrupted, is like a golden earring, and an ornament of fine gold.

14 A man that boasteth of false liberalitie, is like clouds and wind without raine.

15 A Prince is pacified by staying of anger, and a soft tongue breaketh the bones.

16 Thou have found honey, eat that is sufficient for thee, lest thou be overfull, and vomite it.

17 Withdrow thy foot from thy neighbors house, lest he be weary of thee, and hate thee.

18 A man that beareth false witness against his neighbors, is like a hammer and a sword, and a sharpe arrow.

19 Confidence in an vnfaithfull man in time of trouble, is like a broken tooth & a sliding foot.

20 Hee that taketh away the garment in the cold season, shaketh vinger powder vpon his nitre, or like him that singeth songs to an heauie heart.

21 If he that hateth thee, bee hungry, giue him bread to eat, and if he be thirsty, giue him water to drinke.

22 For thou shalt lay thy coales vpon his head, and the Lord shall recompense thee.

23 As the North wind drieth away the raine, so doeth an angry countenance the flandering tongue.

24 It is better to dwell in a corner of the house top, then with a contentious woman in a wide house.

25 As are the cold waters to a weary soule, so is good newes from a farre country.

26 A righteous man falling downe before the wicked, is like a troubled well, & a corrupt spring.

27 It is not good to eat much hony: so to search their owne glory, is not glory.

28 A man that refusaeth not his appetite, is like a cite which is broken downe and without walles.

C H A P. XXVI.

As the snow in the Summer, and as the raine in the Haruest are not meet, so is honour vnseemely for a foole.

2 As the parrow by flying, and the swallow by flying escape, so the curle that is causelesse, shall not come.

3 Vnto the horse belongeth a whip, to the asse a bridle, and a rod to the fooles backe.

4 An were not a foole according to his foolishnesse, left he should be like him.

5 Answer a foole according to his foolishnesse, lest he be wile in his owne conceit.

6 He that sendeth a message by the hand of a foole, is as hee that cutteth off the feet, and drinketh iniquitie.

7 As they that lift vp the legs of the lame, so is a parable in a fooles mouth.

8 As the closing vp of a precious stone in an heape of stones, so is hee that giueth glory to a foole.

9 As a thorne standing vpon the hand of a drunkard, so is a parable in the mouth of fool.

10 The Excellent that formed all things, both rewardeth the foole, and rewardeth the transgressors.

11 As a dog turneth againe to his owne vomeite, so a foole turneth to his foolishnesse.

12 Seest thou a man wile in his owne conceit?
more hony is a foole then him.

13 The stoutest man saith, As a lyon in the way, a lyon in the streets.

14 As the doore turneth vpon his hinges, so doeth the slothfull man vpon his bed.

15 The slothfull hideth his hand in his bo-some, and it griueth him to put it againe to his mouth.

16 The sluggard is wiser in his owne conceit, then seven men that can render a reason.

17 Hee that passeth by and meddeth with the stiffe that belongeth not vnto him, is as one that taketh a dog by the eares.

18 As hee that smiteth himselfe mad, casteth firebrands, arrows, and mortall things.

19 So doeth the deceitfull man with his friend, and saith, Am not I in sport?

20 Without wood the fire is quenched, and without a tale-bearer strife ceaseth.

21 As the coale maketh burning coales, and wood a fire, so the contentious man is apt to kindle strife.

22 The words of a tale-bearer are as flatter-ings, and they goe downe into the bowels of the billy.

23 As silver drosse overlaid vpon a potsherd, so are burning lips, and an euill heart.

24 Hee that hateth, will counterfeite with his lips, but in his heart he layeth vp deceit.

25 Though hee speake fauourably, beleue him not: for there are many abominations in his heart.

26 Hatred may be couered by deceit: but the malice thereof shall bee discovered in the congregation.

27 He that diggeth a pit shall fall therein, and he that collecteth a stone, it shall retorne vnto him.

28 A false tongue hatcheth the afflicted, and a flattering mouth catcheth raine.

C H A P. XXVII.

Boast not thy selfe of tomorrow, for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.

2 Let another man praise thee, and not thine owne mouth, a stranger, and not thine owne lips.

3 A stone is heauie, and the sand weightie:
but a fooles wrath is heavier then both.

4 Anger is cruell, and wrath is raging: but who can stand before anie?

5 Open rebuke is better then secret loue.

6 The wounds of a louer are faithfull, and the kisses of an enemy are pleasant.

7 The person that is full, despiseth an hony comber: but vnto the hungry soule, euery bitter thing is sweet.

8 As a bird that wandreth from her nest, so is a man that wandreth from his owne place.

9 As oymment and perfume reioyce the heart, so doeth the sweetness of a mans friend by heartie commell.

10 Thine owne friend and thy fathers friend

27 And let the milke of the goats be sufficient for thy food, for the food of thy familie, and for the sustenance of thy maids.

CHAP. XXVIII.

The wicked flee, when none pursueth: but the righteous are bold as a lyon.

2 For the transgression of the land ^b there are many princes thereof: but by a man of vnderstanding and knowledge, a realme likewise endureth long.

3 A poore man, if he oppress the poore, is like a raging raine that leaueth no food.

4 They that forsake the Law, praise the wicked: but they that keepe the Law, let themselves against them.

5 Wicked men vnderstand not iudgment: but they that seeke the Lord, vnderstand all things.

6 Better is the poore that walketh in his vp-rightnesse, then hee that peruerteth his wayes, though he be rich.

7 He that keepeth the Law, is a childe of vnderstanding: but hee that feedeth the gluttons, shameth his father.

8 He that increaseth his riches by vsurie and interest, gathereth c them for him that will be mercifull vnto the poore.

9 He that turneth away his eare from hearing the Law, euen his prayer shalbe d abominable.

10 He that causeth the righteous to go astray by an euil way, shall fall into his own pit, and the vpright, shall inherit good things.

11 The rich man is wise in his own conceit: but the poore that hath vnderstanding, can trie e him.

12 When righteous men reioyce, there is great glory: but when the wicked come vp, the man is t tried.

13 Hee that hideth his finnes, shall not prosper: but hee that confesseth, and forsaketh them, shall haue mercy.

14 Blessed is the man that feareth alway: but he that hardeneth his heart, shall fall into euill.

15 As a roaring lyon, and an hungry beare, so is a wicked ruler ouer the poore people.

16 A Prince destitute of vnderstanding, is also a great oppressour: but hee that hateth couetousnesse, shall prolong his dayes.

17 A man that doeth violence against the blood of a perion, shall flee vnto the graue, and they shall not stay him.

18 He that walketh vprightly shall bee suied: but hee that is froward in his wayes, shall once fall.

19 He that tilleth his land, shall be satisfied with bread, but he that followeth the idle, shall be filled with pouertie.

20 A faithfull man shall abound in blessings, and hee that maketh haste to bee rich, shall not be innocent.

21 To haue respect of perions is not good: for that man will transgresse for a piece of bread.

22 A man with a wicked eye hasteth to riches, and knoweth not that pouertie shall come vpon him.

23 He that rebuketh a man, shall finde more fauour at the length, then he that flattereth with his tongue.

24 He that robbeth his father and mother, and faith, It is no transgression, is the companion of a man that destroyeth.

25 Hee that is of a proud heart, stirreth vp strife: but he that trusteth in the Lord, shall bee safe.

26 Hee that trusteth in his owne heart, is a foole: but he that walketh in wisdom, shall bee deliuered.

27 Hee that giueth vnto the poore, shall not lacke: but he that hideth his eyes, shall haue many curies.

28 When the wicked rise vp, men hide themselves: but when they perish, the righteous increase.

CHAP. XXIX.

A Man that hardeneth his necke when hee is rebuked, shall suddenly bee destroyed, and cannot be cured.

2 When the righteous are in authority, the people reioyce: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people sigh.

3 A man that loueth wisdom, reioyceth his father: but hee that feedeth harlots, wasteth his substance.

4 A king by iudgement maintaineth the country: but a man receiuing gifts destroyeth it.

5 A man that flattereth his neighbour, spreadeth a net for his steps.

6 In the transgression of an euill man is his snare: but the righteous doth sing and reioyce.

7 The righteous knoweth the cause of the poore: but the wicked regardeth not knowledge.

8 Scornefull men bring a citie into a snare: but wise men turne away wrath.

9 If a wife man contend with a foolish man, whether he be angry or laugh, there is no rest.

10 Bloody men hate him that is vpright: but the iust haue care of his soule.

11 A foole pouerth out all his minde: but a wise man keepeth it in till afterward.

12 Of a Prince that hearkeneth to lies, all his seruants are wicked.

13 The poore and the vsurer meete together, and the Lord higheneth both their eyes.

14 A King that iudgeth the poore in truth, his throne shall be established for euer.

15 The rod and correction giue wisdom: but

16 When the wicked are increased, transgression increaseth: but the righteous shall see their fall.

17 Correct thy sonne, and hee will giue thee rest, and wil giue pleasures to thy soule.

18 Where there is no vision, the people decay: but he that keepeth the law is blessed.

19 A seruant wil not be chastised w words: though he vnderstand, yet he will not answere.

20 Seest thou a man hastie in his matters there is more hope of a foole, then of him.

21 Hee that delicately bringeth vp his seruant from youth, at length he will be euen as his sonne.

22 An angry man stirreth vp strife, and a furious man aboundeth in transgression.

23 The pride of a man shall bring him lowe: but the humble in spirit shall enioy glory.

24 He that is partner with a chiefe, hateth his own soule: he heareth cursing and declareth it not.

25 The feare of man bringeth a snare: but he that trusteth in the Lord shall be exalted.

26 Many doe seeke the face of the ruler: but euery mans iudgement cometh from the Lord.

27 A wicked man is abomination to the iust, and he that is vpriight in his way, is abomination to the wicked.

CHAP. XXX.

To humble our selues in consideration of Gods workes. 1 The word of God is perfect. 11 Of the wicked and hypocrites. 13 Of things that are neuer faile. 18 Of others that are wonderfull.

THE WORDES OF A AGUR THE SONNE OF IAKEN.

The prophesies which the man spake vnto Ithiel, and vnto Ucal.

2 Surely I am more foolish then any man, and haue not the vnderstanding of a man in mee.

3 For I haue not learned wisdom, nor attained to the knowledge of holy things.

4 Who hath ascended vp to heauen, and descended? Who hath gathered the wind in his fist? Who hath bound the waters in a garment? Who hath established all the ends of the world? What is his name, and what is his sonnes name, if thou canst tell?

5 Euery word of God is pure: he is a shield to those that trust in him.

6 Put nothing vnto his wordes, lest hee reprove thee, and thou be found a liar.

7 Two things haue I required of thee: denie me them not before I die.

8 Remove farre from mee vanitie and lyes: giue me not poetrie, nor riches: feede mee with food conuenient for me,

9 Left I be full and denie thee, and say, Who is the Lord? or left I be poore and steale, and take the name of God in vaine.

10 Accuse not a seruant vnto his master, lest he curse thee: when thou hast offended.

11 There is a generation that curieth their father, and doth not blesse their mother.

12 There is a generation that are pure in their owne conceit, and yet are not washed from their filthinesse.

13 There is a generation whose eyes are hauey, and their eye lids are lifted vp.

14 There is a generation, whose teeth are as swordes, and their chawes as kniues to eate vp the afflicted out of the earth, and the poore from among men.

15 The horseleech hath two daughters which are, Giue, giue. There be three things that will not be satisfied: yea, foure that say not, It is enough.

16 The graue, & the barren wombe, the earth, that cannot be satisfied with water, and the fire, that saith not, It is enough.

17 The eye that mocketh his father, & despiseth the destination of his mother, let the rauen of the valley picket it out, and the yong eagles eate it.

18 There bee three things hid from mee: yea, foure that I know not.

19 The way of an eagle in the ayre, the way of a serpent vpon a stone, the way of a shippe in the mids of the sea, & the way of a man with a maid.

20 Such is the way also of an adulterous woman: shee eateth and wipeth her mouth, and saith, I haue not committed iniquitie.

21 For three things the earth is moued: yea, for foure it cannot sustaine it selfe.

22 For a seruant when hee reigneth, and a foole when he is filled with meate, 23 For a hatefull woman, when she is married, & for a handmaid that is heiress to her mistress.

24 These be foure small things in the earth, yet they are wife, and full of wisdom:

25 The pismires a people not strong, yet prepare they their meate in summer.

26 The conies a people not mighty, yet make they their houses in the rocke:

27 The grasshopper hath no king, yet goe they forth alby bands:

28 The spider taketh hold with her hands, and is in kings places.

29 There be three things that order well their going: yea, foure are comely in going.

30 A lion which is strong among beasts, and turneth not at the sight of any:

31 A lusty grayhound, and a goat, and a king against whom there is no rising vp.

32 If thou hast bene foolish in lifting thy selfe vp, and if thou hast thought wickedly, lay thine hand vpon thy mouth.

33 When one churneth milke, hee bringeth forth butter, and he that wringeth his nose, causeth blood to come out, so he that foreteth wrath, bringeth forth strife.

CHAP. XXXI.

Hee rebudgeth to chastitie and justice, so and forsweth the conditions of a wise and worthy woman.

THE WORDES OF KING ALEMUEL:

The prophesie which his mother taught him

What my sonne! & what the sonne of my wombe! & what, O sonne of my desires!

3 Giue not thy strength vnto women, & nor thy wayes, which lead to destroy kings.

4 It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drinke wine, nor for princes strong drinke.

5 Left hee drinke and forget the decree, and change the iudgement of all the children of affliction.

6 Giue yee strong drinke vnto him that is ready to perish, and wine vnto them that haue griefe of heart.

7 Let him drinke, that hee may forget his poudry, and remember his misery no more.

8 Open thy mouth for the dumbe in the wantonnesse, and sequest his office, which hee executeth iudgement.

9 Defend their cause, that are not able to helpe themselves.

The leech hath two lores in her tongue, which hee calleth her two daughters, whereby shee sucketh the blood, and is neuer satiate: euen so are the covetous extortioners insatiable.

1 Which woman, i Which woman in the valley for carions,

2 Shee hath her desire, and after counterfeiter as though she were an honest woman.

3 Abuse the state whereunto they are called.

4 In Which is married to her master after the death of her mistress.

5 They containe great doctrine and wisdom.

6 If man be not able to compass the common thing by his wisdom, we cannot attribute wisdom to man, but folly.

7 Make a stay, and continue not in doing euill.

8 That is, of Solomon whowas called i. mel, that is, of God, because God had ordeined him to be king ouer Israel.

9 The doctrine which his mother Bath sheba taught him.

10 By this often repetition of one thing, hee declarer her motherly affection.

11 Meaning, that women are the destruction of kings if they haunt them.

12 That is, the king must not giue himselfe to forswine.

13 For wine dom cometh the heart, as Psal. 104. 15. g Defend their cause that are not able to helpe themselves.

with much griefe, and in his sorrow and anger.

17 Behold then, what I haue seene good, that it is comely to eate, and to drinke, and to take pleasure in all his labour, wherein hee travaileth vnder the Sunne, the whole number of the dayes of his life, which God giueth him for this is his portion.

18 Also to every man to whom God hath giuen riches and treasures, and giueth him power to eate thereof, and to take his part, and to ioy in his labour : this is the gift of God.

19 Surely he wil not much remember the daies of his y^eth, because God answereth to the ioy of his heart.

CHAP. VI.

The miserable estate of him to whom God hath giuen riches, and not the grace to use them.

THere is an euill which I saw vnder the sunne, and it is much among men :

2 A man to whom God hath giuen riches and treasures and honour, and he wanteth nothing for his soule of all that he desireth : but God giueth him not power to eate thereof, but a strange man shall eate it vp : this is vanitie, and this is an euill sicknesse.

3 If a man beget an hundred children and liue many yeres, and the daies of his yeres be multiplied & his soule be not satisfied with good things, and he be not buried, I say that an vntimely fruit is better then he.

4 For he commeth into vanitie, and goeth into darkenes, and his name shall be couered with darkenesse.

5 Also he hath not seene the sun, nor known it : therefore this hath more rest then the other.

6 And if he had liued a thousand yeres twise told, and had seene no good, shall not al go to one place ?

7 All the labour of man is for his mouth : yet the soule is not filled.

8 For what hath the wise man more then the fool ? what hath the poore that knoweth how to walke before the liuing ?

9 The sight of the eye is better then to walke in the lustes : this also is vanitie, and vexation of spirit.

10 What is he that hath bene ? the name thereof is now named : and it is known that it is man : and he cannot strue with him that is stronger then he.

CHAP. VII.

Diuers precepts to follow that which is good, and to avoid that which is contrary.

Surely there be many things that increase vanitie : and what auaileth it a man ?

2 For who knoweth what is good for a man in the life, and in the number of the dayes of the life of his vanitie, seeing he maketh them as a shadow ? For who can hee shew into man what shall be after him vnder the sunne ?

3 A good name is better then a good oymment, and the day of death, then the day that one is borne.

4 It is better to go to the house of mourning, then to go to the house of feasting, because this is the ende of all men : and the liuing shall lay it to his heart.

5 Anger is better then laughter : for by a sad looke the heart is made better.

6 The heart of the wife is in the house of mourning : but the heart of foolles is in the house of mirth.

7 Better it is to heare the rebuke of a wife man then that a man should heare the ioy of foolles.

8 For like the noise of the thornes vnder the pot, so is the laughter of the foole : this also is vanitie.

9 Surely oppression maketh a wife man mad : and the reward destroyeth the heart.

10 The ende of a thing is better then the beginning thereof, and the patient in spirit is better then the proud in spirit.

11 Bee not thou of an hasty spirit to be angry : for anger refteth in the bosome of foolles.

12 Say not thou, Why is it that the former dayes were better then these ? for thou doest not enquire wisely of this thing.

13 Wisdome is good with an inheritance, and excellent to them that see the sunne.

14 For man shall rest in the shadow of wisdome, and in the shadow of flouer : but the excellency of the knowledge of wisdome giueth life to the possessours thereof.

15 Beholde the worke of God : for who can make straight that which he hath made crooked ?

16 In the day of wealth bee of good comfort, and in the day of affliction : consider : God also hath made this contrary to that, to the intent that man should find nothing a ter him.

17 I haue seene all things in the dayes of my vanitie : there is a iust man that perisheth in his iustice, and there is a wicked man that continueth long in his malice.

18 Be not thou iust ouermuch, neither make thy selfe ouer wife : wherefore shouldest thou be delolate ?

19 Be not thou wicked ouermuch, neither bee thou foolish : wherefore shouldest thou perish not in thy time ?

20 It is good that thou lay hold on this : but yet withdraw not thine hand from that : for he that feareth God, shall come forth of them all.

21 Wisdom shall strengthen the wife man more then ten mighty princes that are in the city.

22 Surely there is no man iust in the earth, that doeth good and sinneth not.

23 Giue not thine heart also to all the words that men speake, least thou doe heare thy seruant cursing thee.

24 For oftentimes also thine heart knoweth that thou likewise hast cursed others.

25 All this haue I proued by wisdome : I thought, I will be wife, but it went farre from me.

26 It is far off, what may it be ? and it is a profound deepnesse, who can find it ?

27 I haue compassed about both I & mine heart to know and to enquire, and to search wisdome and reason, and to know the wickednesse of folly, and the foolishnesse of madnesse.

28 And I find more bitter then death the woman whose heart is as nets and snares, as her hands as bands : he that is good before God, shall be deliuered from her, but the sinner shall be taken by her.

29 Behold, saith the Preacher, this haue I found seeking one by one to find the court.

30 And yet my soule seeketh, but I find it not, I haue found one man of a thousand : but one woman among them all haue I found.

31 Only loe, this haue I found, that God hath made man righteous : but they haue sought many inventions.

Reade Chap. 7. 22

He will take no great thought for the paines that hee hath indured in time past.

He sheweth that it is the plague of God when the rich man hath not a liberal heart to the poore.

He saith he can neuer haue enough.

As we see often times that the covetous man either falleth into crimes that deserve death or is murdered, or drowned, or hangeth himselfe for such like, & so lacketh the honour of buriall, which is the last office of humanity.

Meaning, the vntimely fruit whose life did neither profit nor hurt any.

His desire and affliction.

That knoweth how to use his goods well in the iudgement of men.

To be content with that which God hath giuen, is better then to follow the desires that neuer can be satisfied.

Meaning, God who will make him to feele that he is mortal.

There is no state wherein man can liue to haue perfect quietnes in his life.

Job. 14. 4. Ps. 144. 4.

He speaketh thus after the iudgement of the flesh, which thinketh death to be the end of all sorrow.

Else because that this corporal death is the entering into life everlasting.

Else where we may see the hand of God and leaue to examine our liues.

Which crackle for a while and profit nothing.

A man that is esteemed wife, when he falleth to oppression, becometh like a beast.

He noteth their lightnes which contempne a thing & suddenly leaue it off againe.

Murmure not against God when he sendeth adversities for mans finnes.

He answereth them that esteeme not wisdome except riches be ioyed therewith.

Shewing that both are the gifts of God, but that wisdome is far more excellent, and may be without riches.

Chap. 15. Consider wherefore God doeth lead it, and what may comfort thee.

That man should be able to controul nothing in his workes.

Meaning, that cruel tyrants put the godly to death and let the wicked go free.

Be not too much of thine owne iustice and wisdome.

Nary not long when thou art admonished to come out of the way of wickednesse.

To witte these admonitions that goe before.

King 8. 46. 2. Chron. 6. 36. 1. John 1. 8.

Credite them not, neither care for them.

For spoken evil of others.

Meaning, wisdome.

That is, to come to a conclusion.

And for cause of their owne destruction.

C H A P. VII.

a To obey princes and magistrates, by the works of God passe many needeth.

WHo is as the wife man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? the wisdom of a man doeth make his face a shine: and the strength of his face shall be changed.

1 I advertise thee to take heed to the mouth of the king, and to the word of the oath of God.

2 Hasten not to go forth of his sight: stand not in an euill thing: for he will doe whatioeuer please him.

4 Where the word of the King is, there is power, and who shall say vnto him, What doest thou?

5 Hee that keepeth the commandement, shall know none euill thing, and the heart of the wife shall know the time and iudgement.

6 For to euery purpose there is a time and iudgement, becau^e the misery of man is great vpon him.

7 For he knoweth not that which shalbe: for who can tell him when it shalbe?

8 Man is not lord ^g ouer the spirit to retaine the spirit: neither hath hee power in the day of death, nor deliuerance in the battell, neither shall wickednesse deliuer the possessors thereof.

9 All this haue I seene, and haue giuen mine heart to euery worke which is wrought vnder the sunne, and I saw a time that man ruleth ouer man to his owne hurt.

10 And likewise I saw the wicked buried, and they returned, and they that came from the holy place, were yet forgotten in the citie where they had done right: this also is vanity.

11 Because sentence against an euill worke is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the children of men is fully set in them to do euill.

12 Though a sinner doe euill an hundred times, and God prolongeth his dayes, yet I know that it shalbe well with them that feare the Lord, and do reuerence before him.

13 But it shall not be well to the wicked, neither shall hee prolong his dayes: hee shall bee like a shadow, becau^e he feareth not before God,

14 There is a vanity, which is done vpon the earth, that there bee righteous men to whom it cometh accord^g to the worke of the wicked: and there bee wicked men to whom it cometh according to the worke of the iust: I thought also that this is vanity.

15 And I praied ioy: for there is no goodnes to man vnder the sunne, saue ^g to eat and to drink and to reioyce: for this is adioyned to his labour the dayes of his life that God hath giuen him vnder the iunne.

16 When I applied mine heart to know wisdom, and to behold the businesse that is done on earth, that neither day nor night the eyes of man take sleepe,

17 Then I beheld the whole worke of God, that man cannot finde out the worke that is wrought vnder the sunne: for the which man laboureth to seeke it, and cannot finde it: yea, and though the wise man think to know it, he cannot finde it.

C H A P. IX.

1 By no outward thing can man knowe whom God toucheth or ha-reth, 25 Mo men knoweth his ende, 26 Wisdom exceedeth through.

IHaue surely giuen mine heart to all this, and to declare all this, that the iust, and the wise, and their workes are in the band of God: and no man knoweth either loue or hatred of all that is before them.

2 All things come alike to all: and the same condition is to the iust and to the wicked, to the good and to the pure, and to the polluted, and to him that sacrificeth, & to him that sacrificeth not: as the good so is the finner, he that sweareth, as he that teacheth an oath.

3 This is euill among all that is done vnder the sunne, that there is one condition to all, and also the heart of the sonnes of men is full of euill, and madnes is in their hearts whiles they liue, and after that, they goe to the dead.

4 Surely whosoever is ioyned to all the liuing, there is hope: for it is better to a liuing dog, then to a dead lion.

5 For the liuing know that they shall die, but the dead know nothing at all: neither haue they any more a reward: for their remembrance is forgotten.

6 Alllo their loue and their hatred, and their enuy is now perished, and they haue no more portion for euer, in all that is done vnder the sunne.

7 Goe, eat thy bread with ioy, and drink thy wine with a cheerefull heart: for God now accepteth thy workes.

8 At all times let thy garments bee white, and let not oyle be lacking vpon thine head.

9 Reioyce with the wife whom thou hast loued all the dayes of the life of thy vanity, which God hath giuen thee vnder the sunne all the dayes of thy vanitie: for this is thy portion in the life, and in thy traualle wherein thou labourst vnder the sunne.

10 All that thine hand shall find to doe, doe it with all thy power: for there is neither worke nor inuention, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the graue whither thou goest.

11 I returned, and I saw vnder the sunne that the race is not to the swift, nor the battell to the strong, nor yet bread to the wise, nor also riches to men of vnderstanding, neither yet fauour to men of knowledge: but time and chance cometh to them all.

12 For neither doeth man know his time, as the Fishes which are taken in an euill net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare: so are the children of men snared in the euill time when it falleth vpon them suddenly.

13 I haue also seene this wisdom done vnder the sunne, and it is great vnto me.

14 A little citie and few men in it, and a great king came against it, and compassed it about, and builded forts against it,

15 And there was found therein a poore and wise man, and he deliuered the citie by his wisdom but none remembered this poore man.

16 Then said I, Better is wisdom then strength: yet the wisdom of the poore is despised, and his words are not heard.

17 The wordes of the wise are more heard in quietnesse, then the cry of him that ruleth among fooles.

18 Better is wisdom then weapons of warre: but one sinner destroyeth much good.

C H A P. X.

1 The difference of foolishnesse and wisdom, 11 A slanderer is like a serpent that can bite charmed, 16 Of foolish kings and drunken priests, 17 And of good kings and priests.

a Meaning, what things he sought to chuse or refuse: or man knoweth not by these outward things, that is by prosperity or aduerity whom God doth fauour or hate: for he seeth things as riches, and poeuetie, sickness, and health, there is no difference betweene the godly and the wicked: but the difference is, that the godly are assured by faith of Gods fauour and assistance.

b Heeareth the Epistles & carnall men which made their belly their god, and had pleasure but in this life, withing rather to be an abject and vile person in this life: then a man of authority, and so to die, which is meant by the dog & lion.

Dead flies cause to stinke, and putrifie the oymment of the apothecary: so doeth a little folly him that is in estimation for wisdom, and for glory.

2 The heart of a wise man is at his right hand: but the heart of a foole is at his left hand.

3 And also when the foole goeth by the way, his heart faileth, and he telleth vnto all that he is a foole.

4 If the spirit of him that ruleth, rise vp against thee, leane not thy place: for gentleness pacifieth great finnes.

5 There is an euill that I haue seene vnder the sunne, as an error that proceedeth from the face of him that ruleth.

6 Follie is set in great excellencie, and the rich let in the low place.

7 I haue seene seruants on horses, and princes walking as seruants on the ground.

8 He that diggeth a pit, shall fall into it, and he that breaketh y hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

9 Hee that remoueth stones, shall hurt himselfe thereby, and he that cutteth wood, shall be in danger thereby.

10 If the yron be blunt, & one hath not whet the edge, he must then put to more strength: but the excellencie to direct a thing is wisdom.

11 If the serpent bite, when he is not charmed: no better is a babbler.

12 The words of them out of a wife man haue grace: but the lips of a foole deuoure himselfe.

13 The beginning of wisdom is of his mouth: foolishnesse, and the latter end of his mouth is wickednesse.

14 For the foole multiplieth wordes, saying, Man knoweth not what shalbe: and who can tell him what shalbe after him?

15 The labour of the foolish doth weary him: for he knoweth not to goe into the citie.

16 Wee to thee, O land, when thy King is a childe, and thy princes eate in the morning.

17 Blessed art thou, O land, when thy King is the sonne of nobles, and thy princes eat in time, for strength, and not for drunkenesse.

18 By slothfulness the rooffe of the house goeth to decay, and by the idleness of the hands the house droppeth thorow.

19 They prepare bread for laughter, and wine comforteth the liuing, but siluer answereth to all.

Cast thy bread vpon the waters: for after many dayes thou shalt find it.

2 Give a portion to seuen, and also to eight: for thou knowest not what euill shall bee vpon thee earth.

3 If the clouds be full, they will poure forth raine vpon the earth: and if the tree doe fall toward the South, or toward the North, in the place that the tree falleth, there it shall be.

4 He that obserueth the wind, shal not sowe, and he that regardeth the clouds, shal not reape.

5 As thou knowest not which is the way of the spirit, nor how the bones doe grow in the wombe of her that is with child: so thou knowest not the worke of God that worketh all.

6 In the morning sowe thy seede, and in the evening let not thine hand rest: for thou knowest not whether shal prosper, this or that, or whether both shall be alike good.

7 Surely the light is a pleasant thing: and it is a good thing to the eyes to see the Sunne.

8 Though a man liue many yeres, and in them all he reioyce, yet he shall remember the dayes of his darkenesse, because they are many, all that cometh is vanity.

9 Reioyce, O yong man, in thy youth, and let thine heart cheere thee in the dayes of thy youth: and walkein the wayes of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but know that for all these things, God will bring thee to iudgement.

10 Therefore take away griefe out of thine heart, and cause euill to depart from thy flesh: for childhood and youth are vanitie.

CHAP. XII.

1 To thinke on Gods youth, and not to reuerie till age. 2 The soule returneth to God. 3 If you see the gift of God, and conspire in fearing him and keeping his commandments.

Remember now thy Creator in the dayes of thy youth, whiles the euill dayes come not, nor the yeres approach, wherein thou shalt say, I haue no pleasure in them:

2 Whiles the sunne is not darke, nor the light, nor the moone, nor the starres, nor the cloudes returne after the raine.

3 When the keepers of the house shal tremble, and the strong men shal bow themselves, and the grinders shal cease, because they are few, and they waxe darke that looke out by the windowes:

4 And the doores shall be shut without by the bale sound of the grinding, and he shall rise vp at the voyce of the bird, and all the daughters of singing shal be abased.

5 Also they shall be afraid of the biethings, and feare shalbe in the way, and the almond tree shal flourish, and the grasshopper shal bee a burden, and concupiscence shal be driuen away: for man goeth to the house of his age, and the mourners goe about in the streete.

6 Whiles the siluer cord is not lengthened, nor the golden p ew broken, nor the pitcher broken at the well, nor the wheele broken at the cisterne.

7 And dust returne to the as earth it was, and the spirit returne to God that gaue it.

8 Vanitie of vanities, saith the Preacher, all is vanitie.

9 And the more wise the Preacher was, the more he taught the people knowledge, and caued them to heare, and searched forth, and prepared many parables.

10 The Preacher sought to finde out pleasant words, and an vpright writing, even the words of truth.

11 The words of the wise are like goades and like nailes: fastened by the masters of the assemblies, which are given by ones pastour.

AN EXCELLENT SONG which was Salomons.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this Song, Salomon by most sweete and comfortable allegories and paraboles describeth the perfect loue of Iesus Christ, the true Salomon and King of peace, and the faithful soule or his Church, which hee hath sanctified and appointed to be his spouse, holy, chaste and without reprobation. So that here is declared the singular loue of the bridegome toward the bride, and his great and excellent benefites wherewith hee dooth enrich her of his pure beauty and grace without any of her deservings. Also the earnest affection of the Church which is inflamed with the loue of Christ, desiring to be more and more ioyned to him in loue, and not to be forsaken for any spot or blemish that is in her.

CHAP. I.

1 The familiar salte and mysticall communication of the spirituaill loue betwene Iesus Christ and his Church. 5 The domesticall enemies that perseute the Church.

Let him kisse mee with the kisses of his mouth: for thy loue is better then wine.

2 Because of thy good oynments, thy name is as an oynment powred out: therefore the virgins loue thee.

3 Draw me: we will run after thee: the King hath brought mee into his chambers: wee will reioyce and be glad in thee: we will remember thy loue more then wine: the righteous doe loue thee.

4 I am i blacke, O daughters of Ierusalem, but comely, as the tents of Cedar, and as the curtains of Salomon.

5 Regard yee mee not because I am i blacke: for the Kingne hath looked vpon me. The Virgines of my mother were angry against me: they made me the keeper of the vines: but I kept not mine owne vine.

6 Show me, O thou whom my soule loueth, wherethou feedest, where thou liest at noone: for why should I be as the thar turneth aside to the flockes of thy companions?

7 If thou know not, O thou the fairest among women, get thee forth by the steps of the flocke, and feede thy kids by the tents of the shepherds.

8 I haue compared thee, O my loue, to the troupe of horses in the charrets of Pharaoh.

9 Thy cheekes are comely with rowes of bones, and thy necke with chaines.

10 We will make thee borders of gold with studs of silver.

11 While the King was at his repast, my spikenard gaue the smell thereof.

12 My welbeloued is as a bundle of myrrhe vnto me: he shall lie betweene my breasts.

13 My welbeloued is as a cluster of camphire vnto me in the vines of Engedi.

14 My loue, behold, thou art faire: behold, thou art faire: thine eyes are like the doves.

15 My welbeloued behold thou art faire, and pleasant: also our bed is Greene.

o Whom thou hast called to the dignity of pastor, and they forsooth their owne dreames in stead of thy doctrine. p Christ speaketh to his Church, bidding them that are ignorant to go to the pastors to learne. q For thy spiritual beauty and excellencie there was no world. i I reatire to be compared vnto thee. r The Church is loued by the Father: is admitted to the company of Christ. c Hee shall be most deuoted to me. e Christ accepteth his Church, and commendeth her beauty. d That is, the heart of the faithful, wherein Christ dwelleth by his Spirit.

16 The beames of our house are cedars, our rafters are of firre.

CHAP. II.

3 The Church desireth to rest vnder the shadow of Christ. 8 She beareth his voyce. 14 She is compared to the dove, 15 And the enemies to the foxes.

I am the rose of the fieldes, and the lillie of the valleys.

2 Like a lillie among the thornes, so is my loue among the daughters.

3 Like the apple tree among the trees of the forest so is my welbeloued among the sonnes of men: vnder his shadow had I delite, and satte downe: and his fruit was sweete vnto my mouth.

4 Hee brought mee into the wine cellar, and loue was his banner ouer me.

5 Stay me with flagons, and comfort me with apples: for I am sick of loue.

6 His left hand is vnder mine head, and his right hand doeth embrace me.

7 I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, by the roes & by the hinds of the field, that ye stirre not vp, nor waken my loue, vnill he please.

8 As it is the voyce of my welbeloued: behold, he commeth leaping by the mountaines, and kipping by the hills.

9 My welbeloued is like a roe, or a yong hart: loe, he standeth behind our wall, looking forth of the windowes, shewing himselfe through the grates.

10 My welbeloued spake and sayd vnto mee, Arise, my loue, my faire one, and come thy way.

11 For behold, winter is past: the raine is changed, and is gone away.

12 The flowers appeare in the earth: the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voyce of the turtle is heard in our Land.

13 The figtree hath brought forth her yong figs: and the vines with their small grapes haue cast a fauour: arise my loue, my faire one, and come away.

14 My doue, that art in the holes of the rocke, in the secret places of the staires, shew mee thy sight, let me heare thy voyce: for thy voyce is sweete, and thy sight comely.

15 Take vs the foxes, the little foxes, which destroy the vines: for our vines haue small grapes.

16 My welbeloued is mine, and I am his: hee feedeth among the lillies.

17 Vntill the day break, and the shadowes flee away: returne, my welbeloued, and be like a roe, or a yong hart vpon the mountaines of Bethel.

The Church desireth Christ to be most ready to helpe her in all dangers.

CHAP.

12 Br. a song of songs, is called the choicest of their songs, which Salomon made, as is mentioned, 1 King 4.32.

a That Christ perfecteth his Church aboue all other things.

b The spouse testifies her great desire to be united to her husband, but hee strength faileth her and therefore she desireth to be comforted, and felt it.

c Christ chargeth them which haue to doe in the Church, as it were by a solemn oath that they trouble not the quietnes thereof.

d This is spoken of Christ, who cometh vpon him our nature to come to helpe his Church.

e Forasmuch as his diuinity was hid vnder the cloke of our flesh, f So that we cannot haue full knowledge of him in this life.

g That is, sinne and error is driven backe by the coming of Christ which is here described by the springtime, when all things flourish. h Thou that are ashamed of thy finnes come and shew thy selfe vnto me.

i Suppress the heretikes whiles they are yong, that is, while they begin to show their malice & destroy the vine of the Lord.

a This is spoken in the person of the Church, or of the faithful soule inflamed with the desire of Christ, whom the louth, b The feeling of thy great benefites, c They that are pure in heart and conseruation, d The faithful confesse that they cannot come to Christ except they be drawn, e Meaning, the secretary that is not knowne to the world, f The Church confesse her spots and sinne, but haue confidence in the fauour of Christ, g Cedar was the most precious of whom came the Arabians that dwelt in tents, h Which within were all precious bones and iewels, i Consider not the Church by the outward appearance.

k The corruption of nature through sinne and afflictions.

l Mine owne breath, which should haue moist fauour, red me.

m She confesse her owne negligence.

n The spouse feeling her fault, flee, eth to her husband only for succour.

o Whom thou hast called to the dignity of pastor, and they forsooth their owne dreames in stead of thy doctrine. p Christ speaketh to his Church, bidding them that are ignorant to go to the pastors to learne. q For thy spiritual beauty and excellencie there was no world. i I reatire to be compared vnto thee. r The Church is loued by the Father: is admitted to the company of Christ. c Hee shall be most deuoted to me. e Christ accepteth his Church, and commendeth her beauty. d That is, the heart of the faithful, wherein Christ dwelleth by his Spirit.

CHAP. III.

1 The Church desireth to be ioyned inseparably to Christ her husband: & her deliuerance from the wildernesse.

a The Church by night, that is in troubles looketh to Christ, but not incontinently heard.
b Showing that although we be not heard at the first yet we must still continue in prayer, till wee feele comfort.
c Which declarer that wee must seeke vnto all of whom we hope to haue any succour.

e This is referred to the Church of Israel, which was led by the wildernesse forre yeeres.
f By the bed is meant the Temple which Salomon made.
g Healludeth to the way in which kept the Temple.
h Allys, that is of the number of the faithful.
i Christ become man was crowned by the loue of God with the glorious crowne of his diuinitie.

a Because Christ delighteth in his Church he commendede all that is in her.
b Chap. 6. 4.
c He hath respect to the multitude of the faithful, which are many in number.

c Wherein are knowledge and zeale too precious jewels.

d Christ promitteth his Church to call his faithful from all the corners of the world.

1 My bed by night I sought him that my soule loued: I sought him, but I found him not.

2 I will rise therefore now, and goe about in the cite, by the streetes, and by the open places, & will seeke him that my soule loueth: I sought him, but I found him not.

3 The watchmen that went about the cite, found mee: to whom I said, Haue you seene him whom my soule loueth?

4 When I had past a litle from them, then I found him whom my soule loued: I tooke holde on him, and left him not, till I had brought him vnto my mothers house into the chamber of her that conceiued me.

5 I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, by the roes and by the bindes of the field, that yee stirre not vp, nor waken my loue vntill the please.

6 Who is shee that cometh vp out of the wildernesse like pillars of smoke perfumed with myrre and incense, and with all the spices of the merchant?

7 Behold his bed, which is Salomons: three-score strong men are round about it, of the valiant men of Israel.

8 They all handle the sword, and are expert in warre, every one hath his sword vpon his thigh for the feare of by night.

9 King Salomon made himselfe a palace of the trees of Lebanon.

10 He made the pillars thereof of siluer, and the pavement thereof of gold, the hangings thereof of purple, whose middes was paved with the loue of the daughters of Ierusalem.

11 Come forth, ye daughters of Zion, and behold the King Salomon when he crowne, wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his marriage, and in the day of the gladnesse of his heart.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The prizes of the Church. 2 She without blame in his sight 3 The loue of Christ towards her.

Behold, thou art faire, my loue: behold, thou art faire thine eyes are like the doves: among thy lockes thine haire is like the flocke of goates, which looke downe from the mountaines of Gilead.

2 Thy teeth are like a flocke of sheepe in good order, which goe vp from the washing: which euery one bring out twinnes, and none is barren among them.

3 Thy lippes are like a threede of scarlet, and thy talke is comely. thy temples are within thy lockes as a peece of a pomegranate.

4 Thy necke is as the tower of Dauid built for defence: a thousand shields hang therein, and all the targets of the strong men.

5 Thy two breasts are as two young roes that are twinnes feeding among the lilies.

6 Vntill the day brake, and the shadowes fle away, I will goe into the mountaine of myrre and to the mountaine of incense.

7 Thou art all faire, my loue, and there is no spot in thee.

8 Come with mee from Lebanon, my spouse, euen with mee from Lebanon, and looke from the toppe of Amanah, from the toppe of Shener, and Hermon, from the denues of the Lyons, and from the mountaines of the leopards, 9 My sister, my spouse, thou hast wounded mine heart: thou hast wounded mine heart with one of thine eyes, and with a chaine of thy necke.

10 My sister, my spouse, how faire is thy loue? how much better is thy loue then wine? and the fauour of thine oynments then all spices?

11 Thy lippes, my spouse, droppe as hony combs: hony and milke are vnder thy tongue, and the fauour of thy garments as the fauour of Lebanon.

12 My sister my spouse is as a garden inclosed, as a spring shut vp, and a fountaine sealed vp.

13 Thy plants are as an orchard of pomegranates with sweet fruits, as camphire, spikenard, 14 Euen spikenard, and latiron: calamus, and cynamon with all the trees of incense, myrrhe and aloes, with all the chiefe spices.

15 O fountaine of the gardens, O well of liuing waters, and the springs of Lebanon.

16 Arise, O North, and come, O South, and blowe on my garden, that the spices thereof may flow out: let my welbeloued come to his garden, and eate his pleasant fruit.

CHAP. V.

1 Christ calleth his Church to the participation of all his treasures. 2 She heareth his voice. 3 She confesseth her nakednesse, to Shee praies Christ her husband.

I Am come into my garden my sister, my spouse: I gathered my myrre with my spice: I ate mine honycombe with mine hony, I dranke my wine with my milke: eate, O friends, drinke, and make you merry, O welbeloued.

2 I sleepe but mine heart waketh, it is the voyce of my welbeloued that knocketh, saying, Open vnto me, my sister, my loue, my dowe, my vnfiled: for mine head is full of dewe, and my lockes with the drops of the night.

3 I haue put off my coate, how shall I put it on? I haue washed my feete, how shall I defile them?

4 My welbeloued put in his hand by the hole of the doore, and mine heart was affectioned toward him.

5 I rose vp to open to my welbeloued, and mine hands did drop downe myrre, and my fingers pure myrre vpon the handles of the barre.

6 I opened to my welbeloued but my welbeloued was gone & past: mine heart was gone who he did speake: I sought him, but I could not finde him: I called him, but he answered me not.

7 The watchmen that went about the cite, found me: they smote me and wounded mee: the watchmen of the wals tooke away my vail from mee.

8 I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, if you finde my welbeloued, that you tel him that I am sicke of loue.

9 O the fairest among women, what is thy welbeloued more then other welbeloued? what is thy welbeloued more then another loue, that thou doest to charge vs?

10 My welbeloued is white and ruddie, the chiefe of ten thousand.

11 His head is as fine gold, his locks curled, and blacke as a rauen.

12 His eyes are like dones vpon the riuers of waters, which are washt with milke, and remaine by the full vessels.

13 His cheekes are as a bed of spices, and as sweete

1 The Church searcheth her selfe of the loue of Christ. 3 The praises of the Church. 8 She is lone and enuieless.

My welbeloued is gone downe into my garden, to the beds of spices, to feed in the garden-es, and to gather lilies.

2 I am my welbeloued, and my welbeloued is mine, who feedeth among the lilies.

3 Thou art beautiful, my loue, as b Tirzah;
comely as Ierusalem, terrible as an army w baners.

4 Turne away thine eyes from me: for they ouercome me: * thine haire is like a flocke of goates, which looke downefrom Gilead.

5 Thy teethe are like a flocke of sheepe, which go vp from the washing, which euery one bring out twinned, and none is barren among them.

6 Thy temples are within thy lockes as a peece of a pomegranate.

7 There are d threescore Queenes, and fourscore concubins, &c. of the damself without number.

8 But my dower is alone and my vndeiled the is the onely daughter of her mother, and she is deare to her that bare her, the daughters haue sene her, and counted her blessed: euen the Queenes and the concubines, and they haue praised her.

9 Who is she that looketh forth as the morn-ning, faire as the moone pure as the sunne, terrible as an armie with banners?

10 I went downe to the garden of nuttes, to see the fruits of the valley, to see if the vine budded, and if the pomegranates flourished.

11 I knew nothing, my soule set me b as the charets of my noble people.

12 Returne, returne, O Shulamite, returne: returne that we may behold thee: What shal you see in the Shulam te, but as the company of an army?

CHAP. VII.

1 The beauty of the Church in all her members. 10 She is assured of Christ's fidelity towards her.

How beautiful are thy goings with shooes,
O princes daughter! the ioints of thy thighs are like iewels: the worke of the hand of a cunning workeman.

2 Thy nauill is as a round cup that wanteth not liquor, thy belly is as an heape of wheat compelled about with lilies.

3 Thy two breasts are as two yong roes that are twinnes.

4 Thy necke is like a towre of yuorie: thine eyes are like the fish pooles in Heshbon by the gate of Bath-rabbim: thy nose is as the towre of Lebanon, that looketh toward Damascus.

5 Thine head vpon thee is as skarlet, and the bush of thine head like purple: the king is tied in the raffers.

6 How faire are thou, and how pleasant art thou, O my loue, in pleasures!

7 Thy stature is like a palme tree, and thy breasts like clusters.

8 I said, I will goe vp into the palme tree, I will take hold of her boughes: thy breasts shall now be like the clusters of the vine: and the famour of thy nose like apples,

9 And the rooffe of thy mouth like good wine, which goeth streight to my welbeloued, and causeth the lips of the ancient to speake.

10 I am my welbeloued, and his desire is toward me.

11 Come my welbeloued, let vs go forth into the field: let vs remaine in the villages.

12 Let vs get vp early to the vines, let vs see if the vine flourish, whether it hath budded the smal grape: or whether the pomegranates flourish:
there will I giue thee my loue.

13 The mandrakes haue giuen a smell, and in our gates are all sweet things, new and olde: my welbeloued, I haue kept them for thee.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The Church will be taught by Christ. 3 Shee is upholden by him. 6 The uppermost loue where with Christ loueth her. 11
She is the vine that bringeth forth fruit, so the spirituall Salomon, which is Iesus Christ.

Oh that thou werest as my brother that sucked the breasts of my mother: I would finde thee without, I would kisse thee, then they should not despise thee.

2 I will lead thee and bring thee into my mothers house: there thou shalt teach me: and I will cause thee to drinke spiced wine, and new wine of the pomegranate.

3 His left hand shal be vnder mine head, and his right hand shall embrace me.

4 I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, that you stir not vp, nor waken my loue, vntill he please.

5 Who is this that cometh vp out of the wildernesse, leaning vpon her welbeloued? I raised thee vp vnder an apple tree: there thy mother conceiued thee: there she coeined that bare thee.

6 Set mee as a seale on thine heart, and as a signet vpon thine arme: for loue is strong as death:
iellousie is cruel as the grave: the coles thereof are ferie coles, and a vehement flame.

7 Much water cannot quench loue, neither can the floods drowne it: if a man should giue all the substance of his house for loue, they would greatly contemne it.

8 Wee haue a little sifter, and hee hath no breasts: what shall we doe for our sister, when she shall be spoken for?

9 If she be a wall, wee will build vpon her a silver Palace: and if she be a doore, we will keepe her in with boards of cedar.

10 I am a wall, and my breasts are as towres:
then was I in his eyes as one that findeth peace.

11 Salomon had a vine in Baal-hamon: hee gaue the vineyard vnto keepers: euery one bringeth of the fruit thereof, a thousand pieces of silver.

12 Bet my vineyard which is mine, is before me: to thee, O Salomon appertaineth a thousand pieces of silver, and two hundred to them that keepe the fruit thereof.

13 O thou that dwellest in the gardens, the companions hearken vnto thy voyce: cause me to heare it.

14 O my welbeloued, flee away, and be like vnto the roe or to the yong hart vpon the moun-taines of spices.

ISAIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

GOD, according to his promise, Deuteron. 18. 15. that he would never leave his Church destitute of a Prophet, hath from time to time accomplished the same: whose office was not onely to declare unto the people the things to come, whereof they had a speciall revelation, but also to interpret and declare the Lawe, and to apply particularly the doctrine contained briefly therein, to the vilitie and profite of the people, to whom they thought chiefly to appertain, and as the time and state of things required. And principally in the declaration of the Lawe, they had respect to three things, which were the ground of their doctrine: First, to the doctrine contained briefly in the two Tables: secondly, to the promises and threatnings of the Lawe: and thirdly, to the Covenant of grace and reconciliation, grounded upon our Saviour Iesus Christ, who is the end of the Lawe. Wherunto they neither added nor diminished, but faithfully expounded the sense and meaning thereof. And according as God gave them understanding of things, they applied the promises particularly for the comfort of the Church and the members thereof, and also denounced the menaces against the enemies of the same: not for any care or regard to the enemies, but to assure the Church of their safeguard by the destruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation, they have more cleavely intreated it then Moses, and set forth more lively Iesus Christ, in whom this Covenant of reconciliation was made. In all these things Isaiah did excell all the Prophets, and was most diligent to set out the same, with most vehement admonitions, reprehensions, and consolations: ever applying the doctrine, as hee sawe that the disease of the people required. Hee declareth also many notable propheties which he had received of God, as touching the promise of the Messiah, his office and his kingdom. Also of the favour of God toward his Church, the vocation of the Gentiles, and their union with the Jewes. Which are as most principall points contained in this booke, and a gathering of his sermons that hee preached. Which after certaine daies that they had stood upon the Temple doore (for the manner of the Prophets was to set up the summe of their doctrine for certaine daies, that the people might the better marke it, as Isa. 8. 1. and Habak. 2. 2.) the Priests tooke it down, and reserved it among their Registers: and so by Gods providence these booke were preserved as a monument to the Church for ever. As touching his person and time, hee was of the Kings Roke (for Amos, his father was brother to Azariah King of Iudah, as the best Writers doe agree) and prophesied more then 64. yeeres, from the time of Uziah, unto the reigne of Manasseh whose father in law hee was (as the Hebrews write) and of whom hee was put to death. And in reading of the Prophets, this an thing among others is to be observed, that they speake of things to come as though they were now past, because of the certaintie thereof: and that they could not but come to passe, because God had ordered them in his secret counsell, and so revealed them to his Prophets.

CHAP. I.

1 Isaiah representeth the Tenor of his ingratitude and stubbornness, that wither for long time his punishment would not come. 2 Hee sheweth why their sacrifices are rejected, and wherein God is true to mee standeth. 3 He prophesiech of the destruction of Ierusalem. 4 And of the restitution thereof.

A Vision of Isaiah, the sonne of Amoz, which he saw concerning Iudah and Ierusalem, in the daies of Uziah, Iotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah kings of Iudah.

2 Heare O heavens, and hearken, O earth: for the Lord hath sayd, I have nourished and brought vp children, but they have rebelled against mee.

3 The Foxe knoweth his owner, and the asse his masters crib: but Israel hath not known: my people hath not understood.

4 Ah, sinfull nation, a people laden with iniquitie: as seede of the wicked, corrupt children: they have forsaken the Lord: they have provoked the Holy one of Ierusalem to anger: they are gone backward.

5 Wherefore should ye be smitten any more?

for ye fall away more and more: the whole head is sicke, and the whole heart is heauie.

6 From the sole of the foote vnto the head, there is nothing whole therein: but wounds and swelling, and sores full of corruption: they have not bene wrapped, nor bound vp nor mollified with oyle.

7 Your land is waste: your cities are burne with fire: strangers denoure your land in your presence, and it is desolate like the ouerthrow of strangers.

8 And the daughter of Zion shall remaine like a cottage in a vineyard, like a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, and like a besieged citie.

9 Except the Lord of hostes had reserved vnto vs even a small remnant, wee should haue bene as Sodom, and should haue bene like vnto Gomorah.

10 Heare the word of the Lord, O princes of Sodom: hearken vnto the Lawe of our God, O people of Gomorah.

11 What haue I to doe with the multitude of your sacrifices, saith the Lord? I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, & of the fat of fed beastes: and I desire not the blood of bullocks, nor of lambes, nor of goats.

h This oft repetition signifieth that the holy Angels cannot satisfie themselves in praising God, to teach us that in all our lues we should giue our hearts to the continual praise of God. i His glory doth not onely appeare in the heavens, but through all the world, and therefore all creatures are bound to praise him. k Which things were to confirme the Prophet, that it was not the voice of man and by the smoke was signified the blindness that the Idols came vpon the Iewes. l He speaketh this for two causes: the one, because hee that was a mortall creature, & therefore had more need to glorifie God then the Angels, did it not; and the other, because the more need that man as a prochein to God, the more doth he know his owne sinne and corruption. m Of the burnt offerings, where the fire neuer went out.

n This declareth, that man cannot render true obedience to God, till hee hath purged vs. o Whereby is declared, that for the malice of man God will not immediately take away his word, but he will cause it to be preached to their condemnation, when as they will not learne thereby to obey his will, and bee fued: hereby, hee comforteth the Ministers to doe their duty, and answere to the wicked murmurers, that through their owne malice their heart is hardened. The destruction of the towres for their pride and contempt of God.

Yet the darknesse shall not be according to the affliction, but that it had when at the first hee touched lightly the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphthali, nor afterward when hee was more grievous by the way of the sea beyond Ior-den in Galilee of the Gentiles.

2 The people that walked in darkness, haue seene a great light: they that dwelled in the land of the shadow of death, vpon them hath the light shined.

3 Thou hast multiplied the nation, and not increased their ioy: they haue reioyced before thee according to the ioy in harvest, and as men re-ioyce when they diuide a spoile.

4 For the yoke of their burthen, and the staffe of their shoulder, and the rod of their oppressor hast thou broken, as in the day of Midian.

9 And all the people shall know, euem Ephraim,
& the inhabitant of Samaria, that lay in the pride and presumption of the heart,

10 The ^a bricks are fallen, but we will build it with heuen stones: the wild figges trees are cut downe, but we will change them into cedars.

12 Aram before, and the Philistims behinde, and they shall deuoure Israell with open mouth:
yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand ^a stretched out still.

13 For the people turneth not vnto him that smitheth them, neither doe they seeke the Lord of 14 Therefore will the Lord cut off from Israell head and taile, branch and rush in one day.

15 The ancient and the honourable man, he is the head: and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the taile.

16 For the leaders of the people cause them to erre: and they that are led by them, are deuoured.

17 Therefore shall the Lord haue no pleasure in their young men, neither will he haue compassion of their fatherlesse and of their widowes: for euery one is an hypocrite and wicked, and euery mouth speakech lolly: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand ^a stretched out still.

18 For wickednes ^a burneth as fire: it deuou-reth the briars and the thornes, and will kindle in the thick places of the forest: and they shall mount vp like the lifting vp of smoke.

19 By the wrath of the Lord of hostes, shall the land be darkened, & the people shalbe as the meat of the fire: no man shall spare his brother.

20 And he shall snatch at the right hand, and be hungry: and he shall eat on the left hand, and shall not be satisfied: euery one shall eat the flesh of his owne arme.

may be safe, and that ye may receive them againe.

4 Without me euery one shall fall among them that are bound, and they shall fall downe among the flame: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand ^a stretched out still.

5 ¶ O Assur, the rod of my wrath: and the staffe in their hands is mine indignation.

6 I will send him to a dissembling nation, and I will giue him a charge against the people of my wrath to take the spoile and to take the pray, and to tread them vnder fete like the mire in the street.

7 But he thinketh not so, neither doth his heart esteem it so: but he imagineth to destroy and to cut off not a few nations.

8 For he sayth, Are not my princes altogether
Kings?

9 Is not Calno as ^a Carchemish? Is not Ham-math like Arpad? Is not Samaria as Damascus?

10 Like as mine hand hath found the kingdoms of the idoles, seeing their idoles were aboute Ierusalem, and aboute Samaria:

11 Shall not I, as I haue done to Samaria, and to the idols thereof, so do to Ierusalem and to the idols thereof?

12 ¶ But when the Lord hath accomplished all his work vpon mount Zion and Ierusalem, I will visit the fruit of the proud heart: of the king of Assur, and his glorious and proud lookes,

13 Because hee layde, By the power of mine owne hand haue I done it, and by my wisdome because I am wise: therefore I haue remoued the borders of the people, & haue spoiled their treasures, and haue pulled downe the inhabitants like a valiant man.

14 And mine hand hath found as a nest the riches of the people, and as one gathereth egges that are left, so haue I gathered all the earth: and there was none to moue the wing, or to open the mouth, or to whiper.

15 Shall the axe boast it selfe against him that heweth therewith? or shall the saw exalt it selfe against him that moueth it? as if the rod should lift vp it selfe against him that taketh it vp, or the staffe should exalt it selfe as if it were no wood.

16 Therefore shall the Lord God of hostes find among his fat men leanness, and vnder his glory he shall kindle a burning, like the burning of fire.

17 And the light of Israell shalbe as a fire, and the Holy one thereof as a flame, and it shall burne and deuoure his thornes & his briars in one day.

18 And shall consume the glory of his forest, and of his fruitfull fields both soule and flesh: and he shalbe as the ^a fanning of a handbarb beaster.

19 And the rest of the trees of his forest shalbe few, that a child may tell them.

20 ¶ And at that day shall the remnant of Israel, and such as are escaped of the house of Iaa-kob stay no more vpon him that smote them, but shall ^a stay vpon the Lord, the hely one of Israell in strength.

21 The remnant shall returne, euem the remnant of Iakob vnto the mighty God.

22 For though thy people, O Israell, bee as the sand of the sea, yet shall the remnant of them returne. The consumption decreed shall overflow with righteousness.

23 For the Lord God of hostes shall make the consumption, euem determined, in the mids of all the land.

to fill all the world with righteousness. 7 God will destroy this land as hee hath determined, and after save a small portion.

21 But z iim shall lodge there and their houses shall be full of Ohim: Ostriches shall dwell there, and the Satyrs shall daunce there.

22 And im shall crie in their palaces, and dragons in their pleasant palaces: and the time thereof is ready to come, and the dayes thereof shall not be prolonged.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The returne of the people from captivity. 4 The derision of the King of Babylon. 11 The death of the King. 29 The destruction of the Palatines.

For the Lord wil haue compassion of Iacob, and wil yett chuse Israel, and cause them to rest in their owne land, and the stranger shall ioyn himselfe vnto them, and they shall cleaue to the house of Iacob.

2 And the people shall receaue them & bring them to their owne place, and the house of Israel shall possesse them in the land of Israel, for seruants and handmaidens: and they shall take them prisoners whose captiues they were, and haue rule ouer their oppressors.

3 And in that day when the Lord shall giue thee rest from thy sorrows, and from thy grieue, and from the sore bondage, wherein thou diddest serue,

4 Then shalt thou take vp this prouer against the King of Babel, and say, How hath the oppressour ceased? and the gold thimble Babel rested?

5 The Lord hath broken the rod of the wicked, and the scepter of the rulers:

6 Which smote the people in anger with a continuall plague, and ruled the nations in wrath: if any were persecuted he did it not let.

7 The whole worlde is at rest and is quiet: they sing for ioy.

9 Hell beneath is moued for thee to meete thee at thy coming, rayfing vp the dead for thee, even all the princes of the earth, and hath raised from their thrones all the kings of the nations.

10 All they shall crie and say vnto thee, Art thou become weake also as we? art thou become like vnto vs?

11 Thy pompe is brought downe to the graue, and the found of thy violes: the worme is spread vnder thee, and the wormes couer thee.

12 How art thou fallen from heauen, O h Lucifer, sonne of the morning? and cut downe to the ground, which diddest cast lots vpon the nations.

13 Yet thou saydest in thine heart, I will ascend into heauen and exalt my throne above beside the starres of God: I will sit also vpon the mount of the Congregation in the sides of the North.

14 I will ascend above the height of the clouds, and I will be like the most High.

15 But thou shalt bee brought downe to the graue, to the sides of the pit.

16 They that see thee, shall looke vpon thee and consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, and that did shake the kingdoms.

17 Hee made the worlde as a wilderness, and destroyed the cities thereof, and opened not the house of his prisoners.

18 And the Kings of the nations, even they all sleepe in glory, euery one in his owne house.

19 But thou art cast out of thy graue like an abominable branch: like the raiment of thole that are flaine, and thrust thorow with a sword, which go downe to the staves of the pit, as a carkeise troden vnder feet.

night: surely Kir of Moab was destroyed, and brought to silence in a night.

2 He shall goe vp to the Temple, & to Dibon to the high places to weepe: for y Nebo and for Medeba shall Moab howle: vpon all their heads shall he baldnesse, and euery beard shauen.

3 In their streetes shall they be girded with sackcloth: on the toppes of their houles, and in their streetes euer one shall howle, and come downe with weeping.

4 And Heshbon shall cry, and Elealeh: their voyce shall be heard vnto Iahaz. therefore the warriours of Moab shall shoute: the soule of euery one shall lament in himselfe.

5 Mine heart shall cry for Moab: this fugitious shall flee vnto Zoar, as an heifer of three yere olde: for they shall goe vp with weeping by the mounting vp of Luhith: and by the way of Ho-ronaim they shall raise vp a crie of destruction.

6 For the waters of Nimrim shall be dried vp:
therefore the grassie is withered, the herbes conumed, and there was no greene herbe.

7 Therefore what euery man hath left, and their substance shall they beare to the brooke of the willows.

8 For the crie went round about the borders of Moab and the howling thereof vnto Eglaim, and the (kriking thereof vnto Beer-Elim.

9 Because the waters of Dimon shall bee full of blood: for I will bring more vpon Dimon,

CHAP. XVI.

The causes wherefore the Moabites are destroyed.

SEND ye a lambe to the ruler of the world from the rocke of the wilderness, vnto the mountaine of the daughter Zion.

2 For it shall be as a bird that b flieth, and a nest forsaken: the daughters of Moab shall bee at the foordes of Arnon.

3 Gather a counsell, execute iudgement, make thy shadow as the night in y mid day: hide him, that are chased out, bewray not him that is fled.

4 Let my banished dwell with thee: Moab be thou their couer from the face of the destroyer: for the extortioner shall end: the destroyer shall be consumed, and the oppressor shall cease out of the land.

5 And in mercy shall the throne be prepared, and he shall sit vpon it in stedfastnesse in the tabernacle of Dauid, iudging, and seeking iudgement and having iustice.

6 Wee haue heard of the pride of Moab (hee is very proud) euē his pride, and his arrogancie, and his indignation, but his lies shall not be so.

7 Therefore shall Moab howle vnto Moab, euery one shall howle: for the foundations of Kirhareth shall yee mourne, yet they shall be g stricken.

8 For the vineyards of Heshbon are cut down, and the vine of Sibmah: the Lords of the heathen haue broken the principall vines thereof:
they are come vnto Iazer: they wandered in the wildernesse, her goodly branches stretched out themselves, and went ouer the sea.

9 Therefore wil I weepe with the weeping of Iazer, and of the vine of Sibmah, O Heshbon: and Elealeh, I will make thee drunke with my teares, because vpon thy summer fruits, and vpon thy harvest I a shouting is fallen.

10 And gladnes is taken away, and ioy out of the plentiful field: and in the vineyards shall bee no singing nor shouting for ioy: the reeder shall not tread wine in the wine presses: I haue caused the reioycing to cease.

11 Wherefore, my bowels shall sound like an harp for Moab, and mine inward parts for Kir-hareth.

12 And when it shall appeare that Moab shall be weary of his high places, then shall he come to his temple to pray, but he shall not preuaile.

13 This is the word that the Lord hath spoken against Moab since that time.

nities from thee, as Ierem. 48. 37.

9 The Lord of hoſts hath decreed this: to ſtain the pride of all glory, and to bring to contempt all them that be glorious in the earth.

10 Paſſe through thy land like a flood to the daughter of Tarſhiſh: there ſ no more ſtrength.

11 He ſtreched out his hand vpon the ſea: he ſhooke the kingdomes: the Lord hath giuen a commaundement concerning the place of merchandise, to deſtroy the power thereof.

12 And he ſaide, Thou ſhalt no more reioyce when thou art oppreſſed: o virgin daughter of Zidon, ſit vp go ouer vnto Chittim: yet there thou ſhalt haue no reſt.

13 Behold the land of the Caldeans: this was no people: a ſhur founded it by the inhabtants of the wildeſſe: they ſet vp the towers thereof: they rayed the palaces thereof, and he brought it to ruine.

14 Howle yee ſhippes of Tarſhiſh, for your ſtrength is deſtroyed.

15 And in that day ſhall Tyrus be forgotten ſeenty yeeres (according to the yeeres of one king) at the ende of ſeenty yeeres ſhall Tyrus be as an harlot.

16 Take an harpe and go about the city: (thou harlot that haſt been forgotten) make ſweete melody, ſing mo ſongs that thou mayeſt be remembered.

17 And at the ende of ſeenty yeeres ſhall the Lord viſit Tyrus, & the Lord ſhall returne to her wages, and ſhall commit fornication with all the kingdoms of the earth, that are in the world.

18 Yet her occupying and her wages ſhall be 2 holy vnto the Lord: it ſhall not be layd vp nor kept in ſtore, but her merchandise ſhall be for them that dwell before the Lord, to eate ſufficiently, and to haue durable clothing.

19 Though hee be long forgotten, ſerkeſh by all meanes to entertaine her louers. 20 Though hee haue been chaſtiſed of the Lord, yet hee ſhall returne to her olde wicked practices, and for gaue ſhall giue her telle to all mens lile like an harlot. 21 He ſweareth that God yet by the preaching of the Goſpel will call Tyrus to repentance, and turne her heart from avarice and ſilly gaue, vnto the true worſhipping of God, and liberality toward his Saints.

CHAP. XXIIII.

Apophetic ſermons of God for the ſinnes of the people. 13 A remnant reſerued ſhall praife the Lord.

1 Behold the Lord maketh the earth empy, and he maketh it waſte. he turneth it vpiſe downe, and ſcattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.

2 And there ſhall be like people, like a Priſt, and like ſervant, like maide, like miſtreſſe, like buyer, like ſeller, like lender, like borrower, like giuer, like taker to viſury.

3 Becauſe it was a name of dignity, it was alſo applied to them, which were net of Aarons ſeed, and ſo ſignifieth alſo a man of dignity. a. 24. Sam. 8. 18. and 20. 25. a. Chron. 18. 17. and by theſe words the Prophet ſignifieth an horrible conſuſion, where there ſhall be neither religion, order, nor policie, Heſe. 4. 6.

3 The earth ſhall bee cleane emptied, and vterly ſpoiled: for the Lord hath ſpoken this word

4 The earth lamenteth and ſadeth away, the world is feeble and decayed: the proud people of the earth are weakened.

5 The earth ſ alſo deceiueh, becauſe of the inhabitantes thereof: for they tranſgreſſed the lawes: they changed the ordinances, and brake the euerglaſting Couenent.

6 Therefore hath the earth deuoured the earth, and the inhabitantes thereof are deſolate. Wherefore the inhabitantes of the land are burned vp, and few men are left.

7 The wine ſulleth, the vine hath no might: all that were of merry heart, doe mourne.

8 The mirth of tabrets ceaſeth: the noiſe of them that reioyce, endeth: the ioy of the harpe ceaſeth.

9 They ſhall not drinke wine with mirth: ſtrong drinke ſhall be bitter to them that drinke it.

10 The citie of vanitie is broken downe: euery houſe is ſhut vp, that no man may come in.

11 There is a crying for wine in the ſtreetes: all ioy is darkened: the mirth of the worlde is gone away.

12 In the citie lieth deſolation, and the gate is ſhutten with deſtruction.

13 Surely this ſhall it be in the mids of the earth, among the people, as the ſhaking of an oliue tree, and as the grapes when the vintage is ended.

14 They ſhall liſt vp their voyce: they ſhall ſhout for the magnificence of the Lord: they ſhall reioyce from iſt to the ſea.

15 Wherefore praife yee the Lord in the valleys, with the Name of the Lord God of Iſrael, in the yles of the ſea.

16 From the vttermoſt part of the earth wee haue heard prayes, we glorie to the kiſt, and I ſaid, My leanneſſe, my leanneſſe, woe is mee: the tranſgreſſors haue offended yea, the tranſgreſſors haue grievouſly offended.

17 Feare, and the pit, and the ſnare are vpon thee. O inhabitant of the earth.

18 And hee that fleeth from the noiſe of the feare, ſhall fall into the pit: and he that cometh vp out of the pit, ſhall be taken in the ſnare: for the windows from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth doe ſhake.

19 The earth is vterly broken downe: the earth is cleane diſſolved: the earth is mouued exceedingly.

20 The earth ſhall reele to, and fro like a drunken man, and ſhall be remoued like a tent, and the iniquity thereof ſhall be heavy vpon it: ſo that it ſhall fall, and riſe no more.

21 And in that day ſhall the Lord viſit the hoſt about that is on high, euen the kings of the world that are vpon the earth.

22 And they ſhall be gathered together as the priſoners in the pit: and they ſhall be put vp in the priſon, and after many dayes ſhall they be viſited.

23 Then the moone ſhall be aſhamed and the ſun aſhamed, when the Lord of hoſts ſhall reigne in mount Zion and in Ieruſalem: and glorie ſhall be before his ancient men.

no more then they did at Noahs flood. 24 There is no power ſo high or mighty, but God will viſit him with his rods. 25 Now with his rods alſo he will comfort. p. When God ſhall reſtore his Church, the glory thereof ſhall ſhine, and his miniſters (which are called his ancient men) ſhall be the ſunne and the moone ſhall be dark in a compariſon thereof.

c. Tharſiſh, ſendeth not her fruit for the ſinne of the people, whom the earth deceiued of their nouerities, becauſe they deuorced God of his honour.

d. Written in the Law as Levitic. 26. 1. Iſaiah. 28. 16. thus the Prophets viſed to apply particularly the menaces and promiſes which are general in the Law.

e. With heate and drought, or elſe they that were conſumed with the fire of Gods wrath.

f. Which as it was without order, ſo now ſhall it be brought to deſolation and conſuſion: and this was not only meant of Ieruſalem, but of all the other wicked citieſ.

g. Becauſe they did not worſhip Gods beneuolence aright, theſe ſureſures ſhall fail, and they ſhall to mourning. h. He comforteth the iariſh ſhall, declaring that in this great deſolation the Lord will aſſemble his Church, which ſhall praife his Name, as chap. 32.

i. From the vttermoſt coaſts of the world, where the Goſpel ſhall be preached, as vic. 16. k. man ought to God who will publiſh his Goſpel throw all the world.

l. I am conſumed with care, conſidering the aſſiduation of the church, both by ſorren enemies, and domeſtickall. Some reade my ſecret, my ſecret that it is written to the Prophet, that the good ſhall be preferred, and the wicked deſtroyed. m. Meaning, that Gods wrath and vengeance ſhould be ouer and vnder them ſo that they ſhould not eſcape.

CHAP. XXV.

A thanksgiving to God in that that he sheweth himselfe iudge of the world by punishing the wicked and punishing the godly.

O Lord, thou art my God, I will exalt thee, I will praise thy Name: for thou hast done wonderful things, according to the counsels of old, with a stable truth.

2 For thou hast made of a ^b citie an heape, of a strong citie, a ruine: ^c even the palace of strangers of a citie, it shall never be built.

3 Therefore shall the ^d mighty people giue glory vnto thee: the citie of the strong nations shall feare thee.

4 For thou hast bene a strength vnto the poore, ^e even a strength to the needy in his trouble, a refuge against the tempest, a shadow against the heat: for the blast of the mighty is like a storme against the wall.

5 Thou shalt bring downe the noyse of the strangers, as the heate in a dry place: hee will bring downe the song of the mighty, as the heat in the shadow of a cloud.

6 And in this mountaine shall the Lord of hostes make vnto all people a feast of fat things, ^f even a feast of fined wines, and of fat things full of marrow, of wines fined and purified.

7 And he will destroy in this mountaine the cowering that cowereth all people, and the vaile that is spread vpon all nations.

8 Hee will destroy death for euer: and the Lord God will ^g wipe away the teares, from all faces, and the rebuke of his people will hee take away out of all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 And in that day shall men say, Loe this is our God: we haue waited for him, & he will saue vs. This is the Lord, we haue waited for him, we will reioyce and be ioyfull in his saluation.

10 For in this mountaine shall the hand of the Lord rest, and ^h Moab shalbe threshed vnder him, even as straw is threshed in ⁱ Madmenah.

11 And hee shall stretch out his hand in the midst of them (as hee that swimmeth stretcheth them out to swimme) and with the strength of his hands shall he bring downe their pride.

12 The offence also of the height of thy wals shall he bring downe and lay low, and cast them to the ground, ^j even vnto the dust.

CHAP. XXVI.

A song of the faithfull, wherein is declared, in what consisteth the saluation of the Church, and wherein they ought to trust.

IN that day shall this being in the land of Iudah, Wee haue a strong citie: ^a saluation shall God see for walles and bulwarks.

2 Open ye the gates that the righteous nation, which keepeth the truth, may enter in.

3 By an assured purpose wilthou preferue perfect peace, because they trusted in thee.

4 Trust in the Lord for euer: for in the Lord God is strength for euermore.

5 For he will bring downe them that dwell on high: ^b the high citie hee will abate: ^c even vnto the ground will he cast it downe, & bring it vnto dust.

6 The foot shall tread it downe, ^d even the feet of the poore, and the steps of the needy.

^e There is no power to him that can let God, when hee God will let the poore afflicted ouer the power of the wicked.

7 The way of the iust is righteousness: thou wilt make equal the righteous path of the iust.

8 Alloe we, O Lord, haue waited for thee in the way of thy ^f g iudgements: the desire of our soule is to thy Name, and to the remembrance of thee.

9 With my soule haue I desired thee in the night, and with my spirit within me will I seek thee in the morning: for seeing thy iudgements are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world shall learne ^g righteousness.

10 Let mercy be shewed to the wicked, yet he will not learne righteousness: in the land of vprightnesse will hee do wickedly, and will not behold the maiesty of the Lord.

11 O Lord, they will not behold thine high hand: ^h but they shall see it, and bee confounded with the zeale of the people, & the fire of thine enemies shall deuour them.

12 Lord vnto vs thou wilt ordaine peace: for thou also hast wrought all our workes for vs.

13 O Lord our God, ⁱ other lords beside thee, haue ruled vs, ^j but wee will remember thee only, and thy Name.

14 The ^k dead shall not liue, neither shall the dead arise, because thou hast visited and scattered them, and destroyed all their memory.

15 Thou hast increased ^l the nation, O Lord: thou hast increased the nation: thou art made glorious, thou hast enlarged all the coasts of the earth.

16 Lord, in trouble haue they ^m visited thee: they pouered out a prayer when thy chastening was vpon them.

17 Like as a woman with child, that draweth neere to the traualle, is in sorrow, and cryeth in her paines, so haue we bene in thy sight O Lord.

18 Wee haue conceived, wee haue borne in paine, as though we should haue brought forth ⁿ wind: there was no helpe in the earth, neither did the inhabitants off the world fall.

19 ^o Thy dead men shall liue: ^p even with my body shall they rise. Awake & sing yee that dwell in dust: for thy ^q dew is as the dew of herbs, and the earth shall cast out the dead.

20 Come, my people: ^r x enter thou into thy chambers and shut thy doores after thee: hide thy selfe for a very little while, vntill the indignation passe ouer.

21 For lo, the Lord cometh out of his place, to visite the iniquity of the inhabitants of the earth vpon them: and the earth shall disclose her blood, and shall no more hide her flaine.

again by the raine in the spring time: so that they that lie in the dust, shall rise vp: when they see the dew of Gods grace. ^s Hee openeth the faithfull to their afflictions, and to waite vpon Gods woeke. ^t The earth shall vomite and call out the innocent blood, which it hath drunke, that it may cry for vengeance against the wicked.

CHAP. XXVII.

A prophesie against the kingdom of Satan, 2 And of the ioy of the Church for their deliuerance.

IN that day the Lord with his sore and great and mighty sword shall visite Liuiathan, that piercing serpent, ^a even Liuiathan that crooked serpent, & he shall lay the dragon that is in the sea.

2 In that day sing of the vineyard of ^b redde wine.

3 I the Lord doe keepe it: I will water it euery moment: lest any assaile it, I will keep it night and day.

^c Meaning, of the best wine, that the vineyard, that is, the Church, should bring forth, as most agreeable to the Lord.

^a We haue constantly abid in the sufferings that haue afflicted vs.

^b Meaning, that by afflictions men shall learne to feare God.

^c The wicked though God shew them euident signes of his grace, shall be neuer the better.

^d Through enuie and indignation against thy people.

^e The fire and vengeance, whereunto thou dost destroy thine enemies.

^f The Babylonians, which haue not gouerned according to thy word.

^g Meaning, that the reprobate, even in this life shall haue the beginning of euertlasting death.

^h To wit, the company of the faithfull by the calling of the Gentiles.

ⁱ That is, the faithfull by thy rods were moued to pray vnto thee for deliuerance.

^j To wit, in extreme sorrow.

^k Our sorrows had none end, neither did we ioy in the comfort that we looked for.

^l The wicked and men without religion were not destroyed.

^m Hee enforceth the faithfull in their afflictions, shewing them that even in death they shall haue life: and they shall most certainly rise to glory, the contrary should come to the wicked, as ver. 14.

ⁿ As herbes dead in winter flourish againe, so shall they that lie in the dust, shall rise vp.

^o Hee openeth the faithfull to their afflictions, shewing them that even in death they shall haue life: and they shall most certainly rise to glory, the contrary should come to the wicked, as ver. 14.

^p As herbes dead in winter flourish againe, so shall they that lie in the dust, shall rise vp.

^q Hee openeth the faithfull to their afflictions, shewing them that even in death they shall haue life: and they shall most certainly rise to glory, the contrary should come to the wicked, as ver. 14.

^r As herbes dead in winter flourish againe, so shall they that lie in the dust, shall rise vp.

^s Hee openeth the faithfull to their afflictions, shewing them that even in death they shall haue life: and they shall most certainly rise to glory, the contrary should come to the wicked, as ver. 14.

^t As herbes dead in winter flourish againe, so shall they that lie in the dust, shall rise vp.

^u Hee openeth the faithfull to their afflictions, shewing them that even in death they shall haue life: and they shall most certainly rise to glory, the contrary should come to the wicked, as ver. 14.

^v As herbes dead in winter flourish againe, so shall they that lie in the dust, shall rise vp.

^w Hee openeth the faithfull to their afflictions, shewing them that even in death they shall haue life: and they shall most certainly rise to glory, the contrary should come to the wicked, as ver. 14.

d Therefore he will deluſe the bragden of Satan, becauſe he lo-ueth his Church for his owne mer-cyſake, and can not be angry with it, but will helpe that he may poſſeſſe his ancient vpon the wicked infidels, whom he meaneth
by byres and thornes.
e He ſaith that Iſrael will not come by gentle-nelle, except God make them to forſake their idols, and ſubmitting them-
ſelues to him.
f Though I ſhall diminiſh my people for a time, yet ſhall the roote ſtand againe, and bring forth in great abundance.
g He ſaith that God paſſeth their inimities, and his enemies in iuſtice.
h That is, they will not deſtroy the roote of thy church though the branches thereof
ſeeme to periſh of the ſiege winde of idolatrie.

4 Anger is not in mee: who would ſee the briers & the thorns againſt mee in battell? I would goe through them, I would burne them together, 5 Or will hee ſeele my ſtrength, that he may make peace with mee, and bee for one with mee?
6 Hereafter Iacob ſhall take root: Iſrael ſhall flouriſh and grow, and the world ſhall be filled with fruit.
7 Hath hee ſmitten g him, as hee ſmote thoſe that ſmote him? or is he ſlaue according to the ſlaughter of them that were ſlaine by him?
8 In h meaſure in the branches thereof wilt thou contend with it, when he bloweth with his rough winde in the day of the Eaſt winde.
9 By this therefore ſhall the iniquitie of Iacob be purged, and this is all i fruit, the taking away of his ſin: when he ſhall make all the ſtones of the altars, as chalke ſtones broken in pieces, that the groues and images may not ſtand vp.
10 Yet the d defended citie ſhall be deſolate, and the habitation ſhall be forſaken and left like a wilderneſſe. There ſhall the calf feed, and there ſhall he lie and conſume the branches thereof.
11 When the boughes of it are dry, they ſhall bee broken: the l women come and ſee them on fire: for it is a people of none vnderſtanding:
therefore he that made them, ſhall not haue com-paſſion of them, and hee that formed them, ſhall haue no mercy on them.
12 And in that day ſhall the Lord theſh from the chanel of the Riuier vnto the riuier of Egypt, and ye ſhall be gathered, one by one, O children of Iſrael.
13 In that day alſo ſhall the great trumpe bee blownen, and they ſhall come, which periſhed in the land of Aſhur, and they that were chaſed into the land of Egypt, and they ſhall worſhip the Lord in the holy Mount at Ieruſalem.

CHAP. XXVIII.
Against the pride and vnknowleſſe of Iſrael. 9 The outward uſſe of them that ſhall looſe the word of God. 24 God doeth all things in true and place.

W O to the crowne of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim: for his glorious beauty ſhall be a fading glory, which is vpon the head of the b valley of them that bee fat, and are overcome with wine.
2 Beholde, the Lord hath a mighty and a ſtrong huſſe like a tempeſt of haile, and a whirle-winde that overthroweth, like a tempeſt of mightie waters that overflow, which throwe to the ground mightily.
3 They ſhall bee troden vnder foot, c ſown the crownes & the pride of the drunkards of Ephraim.
4 For his glorious beauty ſhall bee a fading glorie, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that bee fat, and as d the halfe ſuite afore Summer, which when hee he looketh vpon it, ſeech it, while it is in his hand, he eateth it.
5 In that day ſhall the Lord diſhoſtes ſee for a crowne of glory, and for a diademe of beautie vnto the erſidue of this people.
6 And for a ſpirit of iudgement to him that ſeeth in iudgement, and for f ſtrength vnto them that turne away the battell to the gate.

7 But g they haue erred becauſe of wine, and are out of the way by ſtrong drinke: the Prieſt & the Prophet haue erred by ſtrong drinke: they are ſwallowed vp with wine: they haue gone aſtray through ſtrong drinke: they faile in viſion:
they ſumble in iudgement.
8 For all their tables are full of filthie vomiting: no place is cleane.
9 h Whom ſhall hee teach knowledge? and whome ſhall hee make to vnderſtand the things that he heareth them that are weaned from the milke, and drawn from the breſts.
10 For i precept muſt be vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a little, and there a little.
11 For with a flammering k tongue, and with a ſtrange language ſhall hee ſpeake vnto this people.
12 Vnto whom l hee ſaid, m This is the reſt:
n giue reſt to him that is weary, and this is the re-ſtifying, but they would not heare.
13 Therefore ſhall the worde of the o Lorde bee vnto them precept vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a little and there a little: that they may go, and fall backward, and be broken, and be ſnared, and be taken.
14 Wherefore heare the worde of the Lorde ye ſcornfull men, that rule this people, which is at Ieruſalem.
15 Becauſe ye haue ſaid, We haue made a p couenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement: though a ſcourge runne ouer, and paſſe through it, ſhall not come at vs: for we haue made 9 fullwood our refuge, and vnder vanities are wee hid.
16 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold,
I will lay in Zion a ſtone, r a tried ſtone, a precious corner ſtone, a ſure foundation. Hee that beleueth, ſhall not make haſte.
17 Iudgement alſo will I lay to the rule, and righteouſnes to the balance, and the s haile ſhall ſweep away the vaine confidence, and the waters ſhall overflow t the ſecret place.
18 And your covenant with death ſhall be diſ-annulled, and your agreement with hell ſhall not ſtand: when a ſcourge ſhall runne ouer and paſſe through, then ſhall ye be troden downe by it.
19 When it paſſeth ouer, it ſhall take you away: for it ſhall paſſe through euery morning in the day, and in the night, and there ſhall be only y feare, to make you to vnderſtand the hearing.
20 For the bed is z Arait, that it cannot ſuffice, and the couering narrowe, that one cannot wrap himſelfe.
21 For the Lord ſhall ſtand as in mount p Parazim: he ſhall be wroth as in the valley b of Gibe-on, that he may do his worke, his ſtrange worke, and bring to paſſe his aſte, his ſtrange aſte.
22 Now therefore bee no mockers, left your bonds increaſe: for I haue heard of the Lord of hoſtes a conſumption, euen determined vpon the whole earth.
23 Hearken ye, and heare my voyce: hearken ye, and heare my ſpeech.

f He will giue
counſell to the gou-ernour ſtrength to the eſpialtie to drive the enemies in at their owne
gates.
h Meaning the by-pocties which were among them,
and were altogether corrupt in liſe & doctrine, which is here meant by dumkenneſſe and vomiting.
i For there was none that was able to vnderſtand any good doctrine, but were fooliſh and vniuerſally yong
babes.
j They muſt haue

k Let one teach while he can, yet they ſhall no more vnderſtand him,
when he ſhall ſpeake
in a ſtrange language.
l That is, the Prophet, whom God ſhould ſend.
m Thus the doctrine, whereupon ye ought to ſtand and reſt.
n Shew to them that are weary and haue need of reſt,
what is the true
reſt.

not receiue the word of God when it is offered, it commeth of their own

hardened, that they cannot for it, as before, Chap. 9. p.
q They thought they had ſifted aſide Gods iudgements, and that they could eſcape though all

phets condemned

24 Doeth the plowman plow all the day, to fow? doeth he open, and breaks the clots of his ground?

25 When he hath made it plaine, will he not then sow the fitches, and fow cummin, and cast in wheate by measure, and the appointed barley and rye in their place?

26 For his God doth instruct him to haue discretion, and doth teach him.

27 For fitches shal not be threshed with a threshing instrument, neither shall a cart wheele be turned about vpon the cummin: but the fitches are beaten out with a staffe, & cummin with a rod.

28 Bread cometh when it is threshed, hee doeth not alway thresh it, neither doth the wheele of his cart shal make a noyse, neither will hee break it with the teeth thereof.

29 This also cometh from the Lord of hosts, which is wonderfull in counsell, and excellent in workes.

CHAP. XXIX.

As prophesie against Ierusalem. 13 The vengeance of God con-cerneth that follow the traditions of man.

Alter, altar of the citie that David dwelt in: adde yeere vnto yeere: let them kill lambs.

2 But I will bring the altar into distresse and there shall be heauinesse and sorrow, and it shall be vnto me like an altar.

3 And I will besiege thee as a citie, and fight against thee on a mount, and will cast vp ramparts against thee.

4 So shalt thou be humbled, and shalt speake out of the dust: thy voyce also shall bee out of the ground like him that hath a spirit of diuination, and thy talking shall whisper out of the dust.

5 Moreover, the multitude of thy strangers shall be like small dust, and the multitude of strong men shall bee as chaffe that passeth away: and it shall be in a moment, even suddenly.

6 Thou shalt be visited of the Lord of hostes with thunder, and shaking, and a great noyse, a whirlwinde, and a tempest, and a flame of a devouring fire.

7 And the multitude of all the nations that fight against the altar, shall bee as a dreame or vision by night: even all they that make the warre against it, and strong holdes against it, and lay siege vnto it.

8 And it shall be like as an hungry man dreameth, and behold, hee eateth: and when he awaketh his soule is empty: or like as a thirly man dreameth, and loe, he is drinking, and when he awaketh, behold, he is faint, and his soule lodgeth:
so shall the multitude of all nations be that fight against mount Zion.

9 Stay your selues, and wonder: they are blinde, and make yow blinde: they are drunken, but not with wine: they stagger, but not by strong drinke.

10 For the Lord hath couered you with a spirit of slumber, and hath shut vp your eyes: the Prophets, and your chiefe Sees hath he couered.

11 And the vision of them all is become vnto you, as the words of a booke that is sealed vp, which they deliuer to one that can reade, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. Then shall he say, I can not: for it is sealed.

*Meaning, that it is all like, either to reade, or not to reade, encept God open the heart to vnderstand.*

12 And the booke is giuen vnto him that can not reade, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. And hee shall say, I cannot reade.

13 Therefore the Lord said, Because this people come heere vnto mee with their mouth, and honour me with their lips, but haue removed their heart farre from me, and their feare toward mee was taught by the precept of men,

14 Therefore behold, I will againe doe a mar-ueilous worke in this people, even a marueilous worke, and a wonder: for the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the vnderstanding of their prudent men shall be hid.

15 Woe vnto them that seeke deepe to hide their counsell from the Lord, for their works are in darknesse, and they say, Who seeth vs? and who knoweth vs?

16 Your turning of doctors shall it not be esteemed as the potters clay? for shall the workefay of him that made it, Hee made mee not? or the thing formed, say of him that fashioned it, Hee had none vnderstanding?

17 Is it not yet but a little while, and I ebanon shall be turned into Carmel? and Carmel shall be counted as a forest?

18 And in that day shall the deafe heare the words of the booke, and the eyes of the blind shall see out of obscuritie, and out of darknesse.

19 The meeke of the Lord shall receiue ioy again, and the poore men shall reioyce in the Holy one of Israel.

20 For the cruell man shall cease, and the scornfull shall be confounded: and all that hasted to inquire, shall be cut off:

21 Which made a man to sinne in the word, and tooke him in a snare: which reprooued them in the gate, and made the iust to fall without cause.

22 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord vnto the house of Iacob, even he that redeemed Abraham: Iacob shall not now be confounded, neither now shall his face be pale.

23 But when hee feedeth his children, the worke of mine hands, in the mids of him they shall fan-cise my Name, and sanctifie the Holy one of Iaa-kob, and shall feare the God of Israel.

24 Then they that erred in spirit, shall haue vnderstanding, and they that murmured, shall learne doctrine.

CHAP. XXX.

He reprooueth the Jews, which in their aduersitie fed their own counsell, and sought help of the Egyptians, to deliuer themselves from the Chaldees. 16 Therefore hee sheweth what retribution shall come vpon them, 18 his offeringe money to their enemies.

Woe to the rebellious children, saith the Lord, that take counsell, but not of mee, and couer with a coeuering, but not by my spirit, that they may lay sinne vpon sinne:

2 Which walke forth to goe downe into Egypt: (and haue not asked at my mouth) to strengthen themselves with the strength of Pharaoh, and trust in the shadow of Egypt.

3 But the strength of Pharaoh shall bee your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confusion.

4 For his princes were at Zoan, and his ambassadors came vnto Hanes.

5 They shall be a shamed of the people that cannot profit them, nor help nor doe them good, but shall be a shame and a reproch.

6 ¶ The burden of the beaſts of the South, in a land of trouble and anguiſh, from whence ſhall come the yong and old lyon, the viper and ſierie flying ſerpent againſt them that ſhall beare their riches vpon the ſhoulders of the colts, and their treasures vpon the bunches of the camels, to a people that cannot profit.
7 For the Egyptians are vanity, and they ſhall helpe in vaine. Therefore haue I cryed vnto e her, Thy ſtrength ſhall not ſerue thee.
8 Now goe, and write it before them in a table, and note it in a booke, that it may be for the laſt day and for euer and euer.
9 That it is a rebellious people, lying children, and children that would not heare the Law of the Lord.
10 Which ſay vnto the Seers, See not, and to the prophets, prophesie not vnto vs right things:
but ſpeak flattering things vnto vs: propheticall vnto vs.
11 Depart out of the way: goe aſide out of the path: cauſe the Holy one of Iſrael to ceaſe from vs.
12 Therefore thou ſaiſt the Holy one of Iſrael, Becaue you haue caſt off this word, and truſt in violence, and wickednes, and ſtay thereupon.
13 Therefore this iniquity ſhall be vnto you as a breach that ſhall ſplit, or a ſwell in a high wall, whoſe breaking cometh ſuddenly in a moment.
14 And the breaking thereof is like the breaking of a potters pot, which is broken without paine, and in the breaking thereof is not found a heard to take fire out of the hearth, or to take water out of the pit.
15 For thus ſaith the Lord God, the Holy one of Iſrael, In reſt and quietneſſe ſhall ye be ſaued:
in quietneſſe and in confidence ſhall bee your ſtrength, but ye would not.
16 For ye haue ſaid, No, but we will flee away vpon horſes. Therefore ſhall ye ſee, we will ride vpon the ſwiſteſt. Therefore ſhall your perſecutors be ſwifter.
17 A thouſand ſhall flee at the rebuke of one: at the rebuke of five ſhall ye flee, till ye be left as a ſhip maſt vpon the top of a mountaine, and as a beaken vpon a hill.
18 Yet therefore wil the Lord waite, that he may haue mercie vpon you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may haue compaſſion vpon you: for the Lord is the God of iudgement. Bleſſed are all they that waite for him.
19 Surely a people ſhall dwell in Zion, and in Jeruſalem: thou ſhalt weepe no more: he wil certainly haue mercie vpon thee at the voice of thy crie: when he heareth thee, he will anſwere thee.
20 And when the Lord hath giuen you the bread of aduerſitie, and the water of affliction, thy raine ſhall be no more kept backe, but thine eyes ſhall ſee thy raine.
21 And thine eares ſhall heare a word behind thee, ſaying, This is the way, walke ye in it, when thou turneſt to the right hand, and when thou turneſt to the left.
22 And ye ſhall pollute the covering of the images of ſilver, and the rich ornament of thine images of gold, and caſt them away as a men-truous cloth, and thou ſhalt ſay vnto it, Get thee hence.

23 Then ſhall hee giue raine vnto thy feede, when thou ſhalt ſowe the ground, and bread of the increaſe of the earth, and it ſhall be fat and as oyle: in that day ſhall thy cattell be fed in large paſtures.
24 The oxen alſo and the yong aſſes, that till the ground, ſhall eate cleane prouender, which is winowed with the ſhouell and with the fanne.
25 And vpon euery hie mountaine, and vpon euery his hill ſhall there be riuers and ſtreames of waters in the day of the great laughter, when the towres ſhall fall.
26 Moreover, the light of the Moone ſhall be as the light of the y Sunne, and the light of the Sunne ſhall be ſeven fold, and like the light of ſeven dayes in the day that the Lord ſhall bind vp the breach of his people, and heale the ſtroke of their wound.
27 Behold, the Name of the Lord cometh from farre, his face is burning, and the burden thereof is heauy: his lips are full of indignation and his tongue is a devouring fire.
28 And his ſpirit is as a riuier that ouerfloweth vp to the necke: it diuideth aſunder, to fanne the nations with the fanne of a vanitie, and there ſhall be a bridle to cauſe them to erre in the iawes of the people.
29 But there ſhall be a ſong vnto you as in the b night, when a ſolemne feaſt is kept: and gladneſſe of heart, as he that cometh with a pipe to goe vnto the mount of the Lord, to the Mightie one of Iſrael.
30 And the Lord ſhall cauſe his glorious voice to be heard, and ſhall declare the lighting downe of his arme with the anger of his countenance, and flame of a devouring fire, with ſcattering and tempeſt, and hailſtones.
31 For with the voice of the Lord ſhall Aſhur be deſtroyed, which ſmore with the rod.
32 And in euery place that the ſtaff ſhall paſſe, it ſhall cleaue aſunder, which the Lord ſhall lay vpon him with tabrets and harpes, and with battels, and lifting vp of hands ſhall he fight againſt it.
33 For the Tophet is prepared of old: it is euen prepared for the King: he hath made it deepe and large: the burning thereof is fire and much wood: the breath of the Lord, like a riuier of brimſtone, doeth kindle it.
g Mere it is taken for hell, where the wicked are tormented.
h So that their eſtate or degree cannot exempt the wicked.
i Speeches he declareth the condition of the wicked after this liſe.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Hee curſeth them that forſake God, and ſeeke for the helpe of man.

¶ Woe vnto them that goe downe into Egypt for helpe, and ſtay vpon horſes, and truſt in charers, becauſe they are many, and in horſemen, becauſe they be very ſtrong: but they looke not vnto the Holy one of Iſrael, nor ſeeke vnto the Lord.
2 But he yet is wiſeſt: therefore he wil bring euill, and not turne backe his word, but he wil a-riſe againſt the houſe of the wicked, and againſt the helpe of them that worke vanitie.
3 Now the Egyptians are men and not God, and their horſes fleſh, and not ſpirit: and when the Lord ſhall ſtretch out his hand, the helper of the ſuperſtition & idollery of the Egyptians, and to forſake God, that they forſake the Lord, that put their truſt in worldly things, for they can not truſt in both. c And knoweth their craftie enterpriſes, and will bring all to nought. d Meaning both the Egyptians and the Iſraelites.

CHAP. XXXII.

The condition of good rulers and officers described by the government of Hezekiah, who was the figure of Christ.

BEhold, a King shall reigne in iustice, and the Princes shall rule in iudgement.
2. And that man shall bee as a hiding place from the winde, and as a refuge for the tempest:
as riuers of water in a drie place, and as the shadow of a great rocke in a weary land.
3. The eyes of the seeing shall not bee shut, and the eares of them that heare, shall hearken.
4. And the heart of the foolish shall vnder-stand knowledge, and the tongue of the stutterer shall be ready to speake ditiuities.
5. A niggard shall no more be called liberal, nor the churlerich.
6. But the niggard will speake of niggardnes, and his heart will worke iniquity, and do wickedly, and speake falsely against the Lord, to make emptie the hungry soule, and to cause the drinke of the thirstie to faile.
7. For the weapons of the churle are wicked:
hee deuifeth wicked counsels to vndoe the poore with lying words: and to speake against the poore in iudgment.
8. But the liberal man will deuife of liberal things, and he will continue his liberalitie.
9. Rise vp ye women that are at ease: heare my

11. Yee women, that are at ease, bee astonied:
feare, O yee carelesse women: put off the clothes:
make bare, and gird sackes to vpon the loynes.
12. Men shall lament for their teares: euen for the pleasant fields and for the fruitful vine.
13. Vpon the land of my people shall growe thornes and briars: yea, vpon all the houses of new plagues.
h God will take from you the meanes and occasions, which made you to condemne him: to wit, abundance of worldly goods. i By the teares he meanteth the pleasant fields, whereby men are nourished, as children with the teare: or, the mothers for sorrow, and leaues shall lacke milke.

CHAP. XXXIII.

The destruction of them by whom God hath punished his Church.

WO to thee that spoylest, and wast not spoiled: and doest wickedly, and did not wickedly against thee: when thou shalt cease to spoile, thou shalt be spoiled: when thou shalt make an end of doing wickedly, they shall do wickedly against thee.
2. O Lord haue mercie vpon vs, wee haue waited for thee: be thou, which wast^c their arme in the morning, our helpe also in time of trouble.
3. At the noile of the tumult, the people Redi-at thine: exalting the nations were scattered.
4. And your spoyle shall be gathered like the gathering of caterpillers: and hee shall goe against him like the leaping of grasshoppers.
5. The Lord is exalted: for he dwelleth on hie: he hath filled Zion with iudgment & iustice.
6. And there shall be stability of thy times, strength, aluation, wisdom, and knowledge: for the feare of the Lord shall be thy treasure.
7. Behold, their messengers shall crie without,
& the ambassadors of peace shall weep bitterly.
8. The paths are waste: the wayfaring man cealeth: he hath broken the couenant: hee hath contemned the cities: he regarded no man.
9. The earth mourneth and faineth: Lebanon is aflamed and hewen downe: Sharon is like a wildernes, and Babylon is shaken and Carmel.
10. Now will I arise, saith the Lord: now will
I be exalted, now will I lift vp my selfe.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Saneherib against Ra Rabek to besiege Ierusalem. 15 His blasphemie against God.

NOW^a in the ^bfourteenth yeere of king Hezekiah, Saneherib king of Ashur came vp against all the strong cities of Iudah, & took them.

2 And the King of Ashur sent Rabshakeh from Lachish toward Ierusalem vnto king Hezekiah, with a great host, & he flood by the conduit of the vpper poole in the path of the fullers field.

3 Then came fourth vnto him Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah the steward of the house, and Shebna^d the chancellor, and Ioah the sonne of Alaph the Recorder.

4 And Rabshakeh sayd vnto them, Telyou Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus saith the great King, the king of Ashur, What confidence is this, wherein thou trustest?

5 I say, Surely I haue eloquence, but counsel & strength are for the warren: on whom thou doest thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Lo, thou trustest in this broken staffe of reede, on Egypt, whereupon if a man leane, it will goe into his hand and pierce it, so as Pharaoh king of Egypt, vnto all that trust in him.

7 But if thou say to me, Wee trust in the Lord our God, is not that he, whose his places, & whose altars Hezekiah took down, & said to Iudah and to Ierusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar?

8 Now therefore giue hostages to my lord the king of Ashur, and I will giue thee two thousand horses if thou bee able on thy part to set riders vpon them.

9 For how canst thou despise any captaine of the least of my lords seruants? and put thy trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen?

10 And am I now come vp without the Lord to this land to destroy it? The Lord said vnto me, I goe vp against this land and destroy it.

11 ¶ Then said Eliakim, and Shebna, and Ioah vnto Rabshakeh, k Speake I pray thee, to thy seruants in ^a Aramites language (for we understand it) and talke not with vs in the Tewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

12 Then said Rabshakeh, Hath my master sent mee to thy master, and to thee to speake these wordes, and not to the men that sit on the wall?

and would deceiue thee, to yeeld himselfe to the Assyrians, and so not hope for any helpe of God, 10. ^a Aramite. b Hee reprocheth to Hezekiah his small power, which is no able to resist one of Saneheribs least captaines. i Thus the wicked to deceiue vs, will pretend the Name of the Lord: but we mult trie the spirits, whether they be of God or no. k They were afraid, left by his wordes hee should haue flattered the people against the king, and also pretended to grow to some appointment with him.

that they may eate their owne dooing, and drinke their owne pissle with you?

13 So Rabshakeh flood, and cried with a loud voyce in the Iewes language, and said, Heare the wordes of the great King, of the King of Ashur.

14 Thus saith the King, I et not Hezekiah deceiue you: for he shall not be able to deliuer you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord will surely deliuer vs: this cite shal not bee giuen out into the hand of the king of Ashur.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus sayth the king of Ashur, Make appointment with mee, and come out to mee, that euery man may eate of his owne vine, and euery man of his owne figtree, and drinke euery man the water of his owne well.

17 Till I come and bring you to a land like your owne land, euen a land of wheate and wine, a land of bread and vineyards, 18 Left Hezekiah deceiue you, saying, The Lord will deliuer vs. Hath any of the gods of the nations deliuered his land out of the hand of the king of Ashur?

19 Where is the god of Hamath, or of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharuam? or how haue they deliuered Samaria out of my hand?

20 Who is hee among all the goddes of these lands, that hath deliuered their countrey out of mine hand, that the Lord should deliuer Ierusalem out of mine hand?

21 Then they kept silence, and answered him not a word: for the Kings commandement was, saying, Answer him not.

22 Then came Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah the steward of the house, and Shebna the Chancellor, and Ioah the sonne of Alaph the recorder, vnto Hezekiah with rent clothes, and tolde him the wordes of Rabshakeh.

CHAP. XXXVII.

1 Hezekiah heareth counsel of Isaiah, who prayeth for him. 16 Hezekiah prayes. 35 The arme of Saneherib is lame of the Angel. 38 And his himselfe is slaine by the sword.

ANd^a when the king Hezekiah heard it, hee rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth and came into the House of the Lord.

2 And hee sent Eliakim the steward of the house, and Shebna the Chancellor, with the Elders of the Priests, clothed in sackcloth vnto Isaiah the Prophet, the sonne of Amoz.

3 And they said vnto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulation and of rebuke and blasphemie: for the children are come to the birth, and there is no strength to bring forth.

4 If so be the Lord thy God hath heard the wordes of Rabshakeh, whome the king of Ashur his master hath sent to raile on the liuing God, and to reproch him with wordes, which the Lord thy God hath heard, then e lift thou vp thy prayer for the remnant that are left.

5 So the seruants of the king Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

the residue of my yeeres.

11 I said, I shall not see the Lord, when the Lord among the inhabitants of the world.

12 Mine habitation is departed, and is remooued from me, like a shepherds tent: I haue cut off like a weauer my life: he will cut me off from the height: from day to night, thou wilt make an end of mee.

13 I reckoned to the morning: but he brake all my bones, like a lion: from day to night wilt thou make an end of me.

14 Like a crane, or a swallow, so did I chatter:
I did moune as a dove: mine eyes were lift vp on hie: O Lord, thou hast oppressed me, comfort me.

15 What shal I say? for he hath said it to me, and he hath done it: I shall walke weakly all my yeeres in the bitterness of my soule.

16 O Lord, to them that ouerline them, and to all that are in them, the life of my spirit, shall bee known, that thou causest me to sleepe, and hast giuen life to me.

17 Behold, for thy felicity I had bitter griefe, but it was thy pleasure to deliuer my soule from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast all my finnes behind thy backe.

18 For in the graue cannot confesse thee: death cannot praise thee: they that goe downe into the pit, cannot hope for thy truth.

19 But the liuing, the liuing, hee shall confesse thee, as I doe this day: the father to the children shall declare thy truth.

20 The Lord was ready to saue mee: therefore that I shall goe vp into the house of the Lord?

CHAP. XXXIX.

Hezekiah is reproached because hee sheweth his treasures vnto the ambassadors of Babilon.

A T the same time, as Merodach Baladan the sonne of Baladan, king of Babel sent letters and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had bene sicke, and was recouered.

2 And Hezekiah was glad of them, and shewed them the house of the treasures, the siluer, and the gold, and the pices, and the precious oymment, and all the house of his armour, and al that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his kingdome, that Hezekiah shewed them not.

3 Then came Iſaiah the Prophet vnto King Hezekiah, and sayd vnto him, What haide these men? and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiah sayd, They are come from a farre country vnto me, from Babel.

4 Then said he, What haue they seen in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house haue they seene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.

5 And Iſaiah said to Hezekiah, Heare the word of the Lord of hostes,

6 Behold, the dayes come, that all that is in thine house, and which thy fathers haue laid vp in store vntill this day, shalbe caried to Babel: nothing shall be left, saith the Lord.

7 And of thy sonnes that shal proceed out of thee, and which thou shalt beget, shall they take away, and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babel.

8 ¶ Then said Hezekiah to Iſaiah, The word of the Lord is good, which thou hast spoken: and hee sayde, Yet let there be peace, and truth in my dayes.

29 over them that are weak and tender.

30 Declaring that as God only hath

31 all power, so death he victorie (name for the defence and maintenance of his Church,

32 6 A voice said, cry. And he said, What shall I cry? all flesh is grass, and all the grace thereof was the flower of the field.

33 7 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth, because the spirit of the Lord bloweth upon it: surely the people are grass.

34 8 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but the word of our God shall stand for ever.

35 9 O Zion, that bringest good tidings, get thee up into the high mountain: O Jerusalem, that bringest good tidings, lift up thy voice with strength: lift up, be not afraid: say unto the cities of Judah, Behold, a your God.

36 10 Behold, the Lord God will come with power, and his arm shall rule for him: behold, his reward is with him, and his worke before him.

37 11 Hee shall feed his flock like a shepherd: he shall gather the lambs with his arme, and carry them in his bosome, and shall guide them with a young.

38 12 Who hath measured the waters in his fist? and counted heaven with the spanne, and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure? and weighed the mountaines in a weight, and the hills in a balance?

39 13 Who hath instructed the spirit of the Lord? or was his counsellor, or taught him?

40 14 Of whom tooke he counsel, and who instructed him and taught him in the way of judgement? or taught him knowledge, and shewed unto him the way of vnderstanding?

41 15 Behold, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the dust of the balance: behold, he taketh away the yles as a little dust.

42 16 And Lebanon is not sufficient for fire, nor the beasts thereof sufficient for a burnt offering.

43 17 All nations before him are as nothing, and they are counted to him, lesse then nothing, and vanity.

44 18 To whom then will ye liken God? or what similitude will ye set up vnto him?

45 19 The worke man melteth an image, or the goldsmith beatech it out in golde, or the goldsmith maketh silver plates.

46 20 Doeth not the poore chuse out a tree that will not rot, for an oblation? he seeketh also vnto him a cunning workman, to prepare an image, that shall not be moued.

47 21 know ye nothing? haue ye not heard? it hath it not bene tolde you from the beginning? haue ye not vnderstood it by the foundation of the earth?

48 22 He sitteth upon the circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers, hee stretcheth out the heauens as a curtaine, & spreadeth them out as a tent to dwell in.

49 23 He bringeth the princes to nothing, and maketh the iudges of the earth as vanity.

50 24 As though they were not planted, as though they were not sown, as though their stock tooke no roote in the earth: for he did when blow upon them, and they withered, and the weirewind will take them away as stubble.

51 25 To whom now will ye liken mee, that I should be like him, sayth the Holy one?

52 26 Like vnto your eyes on high, and behold who hath created these things, and bringeth about their armies by number, and calleth them all by names: by the greatnes of his power and mighty strength nothing faileth.

53 27 Why sayest thou, O Iakob, and speakest, O Israel, My way is hid from the Lord, and my judgement is passed out of my God?

54 28 Knowest thou not? or hast thou not heard, that the euilasting God, the Lord hath created the ends of the earth? he neither fainteth, nor is weary: there is no searching of his vnderstanding.

55 29 But he giveth strength vnto him that fainteth, and vnto him that hath no strength, hee encreaseth power.

56 30 Euen the young men shall faint, and bee weary, and the young men shall stumble and fall.

57 31 But they that wait vpon the Lord, shall renew their strength: they shall lift vp the wings, as the eagles: they shall run, and not bee weary, and they shall walke and not faint.

CHAP. XLII.

1 Gods mercy in showing his people, & their idolatry. 27. Delirance from Israel to Zion.

2 1 Bepe silence before me, O ylands, and let the people renew their strength: let them come neere, and let them speake: let vs come together into iudgement.

3 2 Who raised vp iustice from the East, and called him to his foot? and gaue the nations before him, and subdued the kings? hee gaue them as dust to his sword, and as scattered stubble vnto his bowe.

4 3 Hee pursued them, and passed safely by the way that he had not gone with his foot.

5 4 Who hath wrought & done it? he that callest the generations from the beginning. I the Lord am the first, & with the last I am the same.

6 5 The yles saw it, and did feare, and the ends of the earth were abashed, drew neere, and came.

7 6 Euery man helped his neighbour, and sayd to his brother, be strong.

8 7 So the workman comforted the founder, and hee that smote with hammer, him that smote by course, saying, It is ready for the lodger, and hee fastened it with nayles that it should not bee moued.

9 8 But thou, Israel art my seruant, and thou Iakob, whom I haue chosen, the seed of Abraham my friend.

10 9 For I haue taken thee from the ends of the earth, and called thee before the chiefe thereof, and sayd vnto thee, Thou art my seruant: I haue chosen thee, and not cast thee away.

11 10 Feare thou not, for I am with thee: be not afraid, for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee, and helpe thee, and will susteine thee with the right hand of my iustice.

12 11 Behold, all they that prouoke thee, shall be ashamed and confounded they shall be as nothing, and they that strue with thee shall perish.

13 12 Thou shalt seeke them and shalt not finde them, to wit, the men of thy strife, for they shall be as nothing, and the men that warre against thee, as a thing of nought.

14 13 For I the Lord thy God will hold thy right hand, saying vnto thee, Feare not, I will helpe thee.

15 14 Feare not, thou worme Iakob, and yet

16 He rebuketh the leues, because they did not trust on the preudence of God, but thought that he had forsaken them in their troubles

17 and therefore all power is in his hand to deliver when his time cometh

18 showing men much patiently able, and not caring to seek out the cause of Gods delay in our afflictions

19 They that trust in their owne wile, and do not acknowledge that al cometh of God,

20 a God, as though he pleased him, because with all nations, require silence that he may be heard in his right

21 b That is gather all their power and supports, c Who called Abraham (who was the pattern of Gods iustice in dealing his church) from the idolatry of the Caldeans to goe to and fro at his commandment, and placed him in the land of Canaan?

22 d Who hath created the world, and maintained his succession

23 e Though the world set up neuer so many gods, yet they diminish nothing of my glory: for I am all one, vnderchangeable, which haue euene bene and shal be for ever

24 f Considering mine excellent workes among my people, g They assembled themselves, and conspired against me to maintain their idolatry, h He noteth the obduracy of these idolaters to maintain their impieties

25 i And therefore oughtest not to pollute thy selfe with the superstition of Gentiles, k That is, by the 26 iust. I Because they shall be destroyed. m Thus he calleth them because they were condemned of all the world, and that they considering their owne poore estate, should seeke vnto him for helpe.

n. I will make thee able to destroy all thine enemies, be they never so mighty, & this chiefly is referred to the kingdom of Christ.

o That is, they that shall be afflicted in the captivity of Babylon.

p God will rather change the order of nature than they should want any thing that crieth for help by the faith in their miseries: declaring to them hereby that they shall lack nothing by the way, when they returne from Babylon.

q That is, hath appointed and determined that it shall come to pass.

r He hideth the idols from the eyes of the people, and to bring forth their idols: they may be tried where they know all things, and can do all things: which if they cannot do, he concluded that they are no gods, but vile idols.

s So that a man can not make an idol, but he must do it by which God detecteth & abhorreth for he chuseth his own deities, and forsaketh γ Lords.

t Meaning, the Chaldeans.

u That is, Cyrus, who shall do all things in my name & by my direction: whereby both their captivité, and deliverance shall be ordered by Gods providence and appointment.

x Both of γ Chaldeans and others.

y Meaning, that none of the Gentiles gods can work any of the things.

men of Israel: I will helpe thee, saith the Lord and thy Redeemer the holy One of Israel.

15 Behold, I will make thee a roller, and a new threshing instrument having teeth: thou shalt thresh the mountains, and bring them to powder, and shalt make the hills as chaffe.

16 Thou shalt manne them, and the wind shall carry them away, and the whirlwind shall scatter them: and thou shalt reioyce in the Lord, & shalt glory in the holy One of Israel.

17 When the poore and the needy seeke water, and there is none, (their tongue faileth for thirst: I the Lord will heare them: I the God of Israel will not forsake them:)

18 I will open rivers in the tops of the hills, and fountains in the mids of the valleys: I will make the wilderness as a pool of water, and the waste γ land as springs of water.

19 I will let in the wilderness the cedar, the Shittah tree, and the myrrh tree, and the pine tree: and I will let in the wilderness the firre tree, the elme and the boxe tree together.

20 Therefore let them see and know, and let them confider and vnderstand together that the hand of the Lord hath done this, & the holy One of Israel γ hath created it.

21 Stand to your cause saith the Lord: bring forth your strong reasons, saith γ king of Iakob.

22 Let them bring them forth, and let them tell vs what shall come: let them shew the former things what they be, that we may confider them, and know the latter end of them: either declare vs things for to come.

23 Shewe the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that you are gods: yea, do good or doe euill, that we may declare it, and behold it together.

24 Behold, ye are of no value, and your making is of nought: man hath chosen an abomination by them.

25 I have raised vp γ from the North, & hee shall come from the East: sunne shall be vp on my name, & shall come vpo γ princes as vpo clay, and as the potter treadeth myre vnder the foote.

26 Who hath declared from the beginning, that we may know? or before time, that we may say, He is righteous? Surely there is none that sheweth: surely there is none that declareth: surely there is none that heareth γ your wordes.

27 I am the first that sayeth to Zion, Beholde, beholde γ them, and I will give to Ierusalem γ one that shall bring good tidings.

28 But when I beheld, there was none, and when I enquired of them, there was no counsellor: & when I demanded of them, they answered not a word.

29 Behold, they are all vanitie, their worke is of nothing, their images are wind and confusion, as of nothing: continuall succession of Prophets and miracles.

b When I looked whether the idolers could doe these things, I found that they had neither wisdom nor power to doe any thing: therefore hee concluded that all are wicked, that trust in such vanitie.

CHAP. XLII.

The obedience and family of Christ. b Why be ye so farre in to the world? c The correction of the Gentiles.

Behold, a my seruant, b I will say vpon him: mine elect, in whom my soule γ delighteth: I have declared any great promise, because he is the foundation whereupon all the promises are raised and ratified. b For I have committed all my power to him, to do all that I will. I will establish him to win in his office, by giuing him the fulness of my Spirit. c He is not acceptable unto me, and they that come thence by him: for there is no other meane of reconciliation, Mat 11. 28. ephes 2.

put my Spirit vpon him: hee shall bring forth γ judgement to the Gentiles.

2 He shall not γ cry, nor lift vp, nor cause his voyce to be heard in the street.

3 A bruised reed shall hee not breake, and the smoking γ flaxe shall hee not quench: he shall bring forth judgement in γ truth.

4 He shall not faile nor be discouraged til he haue γ iudgement in the earth: and the γ kyles shall waite for his law.

5 Thus saith God the Lord (he that created the heauens and spread them abroad: he that stretched forth the earth, and the buds thereof: hee that giueth breath vnto the people vpon it, and γ spirit to them that walke therein.)

6 I the Lord haue called thee in γ righteousness, and will hold γ mine hand, and I will keepe thee, and giue thee for a γ covenant of the people, γ for a light of the Gentiles,

7 That thou mayest open the eyes of the blind, and bring out the prisoners from the prison: and them that sit in darkenesse, out of the prison house.

8 I am the Lord, this is my Name, and my glory will I not giue to another, neither my praise to grauen images.

9 Beholde, the former things are come to passe, and new things doe I declare: before they come forth, I tell you of them.

10 Sing vnto the Lord, a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth: yee that goe downe to the sea, and all that is in thee: the yles and the inhabitants thereof.

11 Let the wilderness and the cities thereof lift vp their voyces, the towne that γ Kedar inhabit: let the inhabitants of the rocks sing: let them shoute from the top of the mountaines.

12 Let them giue glory vnto the Lord, and declare his praise in the Islands.

13 The Lord shall geue forth as a γ gyant: hee shall stirre vp his courage like a man of warre: hee shall shoute and cry, and shall pursue against his enemies.

14 I haue a long time holden my peace: I haue bene still and refrained my selfe: now will I cry like a trauelling woman: I will destroy and deuoure at once.

15 I will make waste mountaines, and hills, and drie vp all their herbes, and I will make the floods Islands, and I will drie vp the pooles.

16 I will bring the γ blinde by a way, that they knew not, and lead them by γ paths that they haue not known: I will make darkenesse light before them, and crooked things straight. These things will I doe vnto them, and not forsake them.

17 They shall bee turned backe: they shall bee greatly ashamed, that trust in grauen images, and say to the molten images, Ye are our gods.

18 Heare, ye deafe: and yee blinde, regard, that ye may see.

19 Who is blinde but my γ seruant? or deafe as my γ messenger, that I sent? who is blinde as the yephistite, and blinde as the Iouds γ seruant?

20 Seeing many things, but thou keepst them not? opening the eares, but he heareth not?

Hee that is deafe when he is in council. t That is, my poore people γ which are in perplexitie and care. u To wit, Israel which should haue most light because of my lawes. v The Priest to whom my word is committed, with which should not only beare it himselfe, but also others to beate it. y As the Priesthood and Prophets that should be light to others.

d He shall declare himselfe γ governor ouer the Gentiles, and call them by his ord, and rule them by his Spirit.

e His coming shall not be with pompe and noyse, as earthly princes.

f He will not need the wake and feeble, but support & comfort them.

g Meaning, the weeke of a lamp, or candle which is almost out, but he will cherish it, and looke it againe into may it be brighter.

h To wit, the fauour of the weeke, y. I will be not spare the wicked, but will iudge them according to truth and equity.

i I will haue felt all things in good order.

k The Gentiles shall be deuoted to receive his doctrine: which I Meant, vnto a lawfull and iust vocation.

m To stiffe and guide thee.

n As him, by whom the promise made to all nations in Abraham shall be fulfilled.

o I will not suffer my glory to be diminished: which I should doe if I were not faithful in performing the same, and the idolaters thereby would extol their idols above me.

p At what time I shall haue bene true in my promises, I will be in time to come.

q Meaning the Arabians, vnder whom he comprehended all the people of the East.

r Hee sheweth the state of the Iouds, and his people in the corruption of his Church.

s I will haue to execute my vengeance, which I haue for long deferred, as I was on that day.

^a Because they will not acknowledge the benefit of the Lord, who is ready to deliver them, he punisheth them to be spoiled of their enemies through their unbelief and inconsideration. ^b A cherubim of none to make our them, or to will the enemies resist it, which he hath spoiled. ^c Meaning, Gods wrath.

21 The Lord is willing for his righteousnes sake, that he may magnifie the law, and exalt it.
 22 But this people is a robbed & spoiled, and shall be al inured in dungeons; and they shall be hid in prison houses: they shall have a pray, and none shall deliver a spoile, and none shall say, Refore.
 23 Who among you shall hearken to this, and take heed, and heare for afterwards?
 24 Who shall give Laakob for a spoile, and Israel to the robbers? Did not the Lord, because wee have sinned against him? for they would not walk in his wayes, neither be obedient unto his Law.
 25 Therefore hee hath powred vpon him his fierce wrath, and the strength of battell. and it set him on fire round about, and hee knew not, and it burned him vp, yet he considered not.

CHAP. XLIII.

^a The Lord comforteth his people. Hee promises deliverance to the Israelites. ^b Turned to Gods law and alway.

1 BOve now thus saith the Lord, that created thee O Laakob: and he that formed thee, O Israel.
 2 Fearing not: for I have redeemed thee: I have called thee by thy Name, thou art mine.

3 When thou wast through the waters, I will be with thee, & through the floods, that they doe not overflowe thee. When thou walkest through the very fire, thou shalt not bee burnt, neither shall the flame kinde vpon thee.

4 For I am the Lord thy God, the holy One of Israel, thy Saviour: I gave Egypt for thy ransome, Ethiopia, and Seba for thee.

5 Because thou wast precious in my sight, and thou wast honorable, & I loved thee, therefore will I give a man for thee, and people for thy sake.
 6 Fearing not, for I am with thee: I will bring thy seed from the East, and gather thee from the West.

7 I will say to the North, Give: and to the South, Keepe not backe: bring my sonnes from far, and my daughters from the ends of the earth.
 8 Every one shall be called by my Name: for I created him for my glory, formed him and made him.

9 I will bring forth the blind people, and they shall have eyes, and the deafe, and they shall haue eares.

10 Let all the nations be gathered together, and let the people bee assembled: who among them can declare this, and shew vs former things? let them bring forth their witnesses, that they may be iustified: but let them heare, and say, It is truth.

11 You are my witnesses: saith the Lord, and my seruants, whom I haue chosen: there ore ye shall know and beleue me; and ye shall vnderstand that I am: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me.

12 I, even I am the Lord, and beside me there is no Saviour.

13 I haue declared, and I haue sated, and I haue shewed, when there was no strange god among you: therefore you are my witnesses, saith the Lord, that I am God.

14 Yea, before the day was, I am; and there is none that can deliver out of mine hand: I will doe it, and who shall let it?

14 Thus saith the Lord your redeemer, the holy one of Israel, For your sake I haue sent to Babylon, and brought it downe: they are all fugitiues, and the Caldians are in the ships.

15 I am the Lord your holy One, the creator of Israel your King.

16 Thus saith the Lord which maketh a way in the Sea, and a path in the mighty waters.

17 When hee bringeth out the charer and horie, the armie and the power let together, and shall not rise, they are extinct, and quenched as towes.

18 Remember yee not the former things, neither regard the things of old.

19 Behold I do a new thing: now shall it come forth: that you not know it? I will euen make a way in the desert, and floods in the wilderness.

20 The wilde beasts shall honour mee, the dragons and the ostriches, because I gaue water in the desert, and floods in the wilderness to giue drinke to my people, euen to mine elect.

21 This people haue I formed for my selfe: they shall grow forth my praife.

22 And thou hast not called vpon me, O Laakob, but thou hast wearied me, O Israel.

23 Thou hast not brought mee the sheepe of thy burnt offerings, neither hath thou honoured me with thy sacrifices. I haue not caused thee to serue an offering, nor wearied thee with incense.

24 Thou boughtest mee no sweete sauaour with money, neither hast thou made me drunke with the fat of thy sacrifices, but thou hast made mee to serue with thy finnes, and wearied mee with thine iniquities.

25 I, even I am he that putteth away thine iniquities for mine owne sake, and will not remember thy finnes.

26 Put me in remembrance: let vs be iudged together: count thou; thou mayest be iustified.

27 Thy first father hath sinned, and thy teachers haue transgressed against me.

28 Therefore I haue prophesied the rulers of the Sanctuary, and haue made Laakob a curse, and Israel a reproch.

by he sheweth that his mercies were the onely cause of their deliuerance, forasmuch as they had defenced the contrary.
 2 Meaning in true faith and obedience,
 3 Either for the composition of the sweet systeme. Exod. 33. 24. or for the sweet incense, Exod. 30. 7.
 4 Theu shalt make mee burne in braue burn by thy finnes.
 5 If I forg: anything that may be for thy iustification, on put in remembrance and speake for thy selfe.
 6 Thine ancelters the Thy Priests and thy Prophets.
 7 That is, rejected, abhorred and destroyed them in the wilderness and at other times.

^a The Lord promises comfort, and that hee will asswage the search of sinners.
 ^b The vanitie of idols.
 ^c The foolishness of idolaters.

1 YET now heare, O Laakob, my seruant, and Israel, whom I haue chosen.

2 Thus saith the Lord, that made thee, and formed thee: thee from the wombe, he will helpe thee, Fearing not, O Laakob, my seruant, and thou righteous whom I haue chosen.

3 For I will powre water vpon thee chirstie, and floods vpon the drie ground: I will powre my Spirit vpon thy seede, and my blessing vpon thy budde.

4 And they shall grow as among the grasse, and as the willowes by the riuers of waters.

e shall be called by the name of Iakob : and another shall subscribe with his hand vnto the Lord, and name himselfe by the name of Israel. 6 Thus saith the Lord the king of Israel and his redeemer, the Lord of hosts, I am the first, & I am the last, and without me there no God. 7 And who is like mee, that shall call and shall declare it, and see it in order before me, since I appointed the ancient people? and what is at hand, and what things are to come? let them shew vnto them. 8 Feare ye not, neither be afraid: haue not I told thee of old, and haue declared it? you are euen my wives, whether there be a God beside me, and that there is no God that I know not. 9 All they that make an image, are vanities, and their detestable things shall nothing profit: and they are their owne witnesses, so that they see not, nor know: therefore they shall be confounded. 10 Who hath made a god, or molten an image, that is profitable for nothing? 11 Behold, all that are of the fellowship thereof, shall be confounded: for the workemen themselves are men: let them all be gathered together and stand vp, yet they shall feare, and be confounded together. 12 The smith taketh an instrument, and worketh in the coales, & fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with the strength of his armes: yea, he is an hungred, and his strength faileth, he drinketh no water, and is faint. 13 The carpenter stretcheth out a line: he fashioneth it with a red drele, he plaineth it, & hee praueth it with the compass, and maketh it after the figure of a man, according to the beauty of a man, that it may remaine in an house. 14 He wil hew him down cedars, and take the pine tree and the oke, and taketh courage among the trees of the forest: the planeth a firre tree, and the raine doeth nourish it. 15 And man burneth thereof: for he will take thereof, and warme himselfe: hee also kindleth it, and baketh bread, yet he maketh a god, and worshippeth it: he maketh it an idole, and boweth vnto it. 16 Hee burneth the halfe thereof euen in the fire, and vpon the halfe thereof hee eateth flesh: he roseth the roste, and is satisfied: also he warmeth himselfe, and saith, Ah, I am warme, I haue bene at the fire. 17 And the residue thereof hee maketh a god, euen his idole: he boweth vnto it, & worshippeth and prayeth vnto it, and sayeth, Deliver mee: for thou art my god. 18 They haue not knownen, nor vnderstood: y for God hath shut their eyes that they cannot see, and their hearts, that they cannot vnderstand. 19 And none considereth in his heart, neither a there knowledge nor vnderstanding to say I haue burnt halfe of it, euen in the fire, and haue baked bread also vpon the coales thereof: I haue roasted flesh, and eaten it, and shall I make the residue thereof an abomination? shall I bow to the stocke of a tree? 20 He feedeth of ashes: a seduced heart hath deceived him that he cannot deliuer his soule, nor say, Is there not a lie in my right hand? 21 Remember these O Iakob and Israel, for thou art my seruant: I haue formed thee: thou art my seruant: O Israel forget me not. 22 I haue put away thy transgressions like a cloud, and thy finnes as a mist, turne vnto me, for I haue redeemed thee. 23 Reioyce yee heavens: for the Lord hath done it: shout, ye lower parts of the earth: braist forth into prailes, ye mountains, O forest, and euery tree therein: for the Lord hath redeemed Iakob, and he will be glorified in Israel. 24 Thus saith the Lord thy redeemer, and hee that formed thee from the wombe, I am the Lord that made all things, that spread out the heauens alone, and stretched out the earth by my selfe. 25 I destroy the tokens of the soothsayers, and make them that coniecture, fooles, and turne the wise men backward, and make their knowledge foolishnesse. 26 I confirmeth the word of his seruant, and permeth the counsel of his messengers, saying to Ierusalem, Thou shalt be inhabited, and to the cities of Iudah, Ye shall be built vp, and I will repaire the decayed places thereof. 27 Hee sayth to the deepe, Be dry, and I will dry vp thy floods. 28 Hee saith to Cyrus, Thou art my shepherd: and hee shall performe all my desire, saying also to Ierusalem, Thou shalt be built: and to the Temple Thy foundation shall be surely layd, and deliuerance. e Hee sheweth that Gods word should be no lesse notable in this their deliuerance, then what he brought them out of Egypt: though the sea. I To assure them of their deliuerance, he nameth the person by whom it should be more then an hundred years before he was borne.

CHAP. XLV.

The deliuerance of the people by Cyrus. Gods promise in all his wordes. 20 The ending of the bookes.

Thus saith the Lord vnto Cyrus his anointed, whose right hand I haue holden to subdue nations before him: therefore will I weaken the loynes of kings, and open the doores before him, and the gates shall not be shut. 2 I will go before thee, & make the crooked straight: I will breake the brazen doores, and burst the yron barres. 3 And I will giue thee the treasures of darkness, and the things hid in secret places, that thou mayest know that I am the Lord which call thee by thy name, euen the God of Israel. 4 For Iakob my seruants sake, & Israel mine elect, I will euen call thee by thy name, and name thee, though thou hast not knowne me. 5 I am the Lord, and there is none other: there is no God besides me: I girded thee though thou hast not knowne me. 6 That they may know from the rising of the sun, and from the West, that there is none besides me, I am the Lord, and there is none other. 7 I forme the light, and create darkenes: I knowledge as prophane men may haue of his power, & so was compelled to deliuer Gods people. f Not for anything that is in thee, or for thy working, f. g I haue giuen thee strength power and authority. h I send peace and warre, prosperie and aduersitie, Amos. 3. 6.

16 All they shall bee ashamed and also confounded: they shall go to confusion together, that are the makers of images.

17 But Israel shall be saued in the Lord, with an euermaking saluation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded without end.

18 For thus saith the Lord (that created heauen, God himselfe that formed the earth, & made it: he that prepared it, hee created it not in vaine: he formed it to be inhabited) I am the Lord, and there is none other.

19 I haue not spoken in secret, neither in a place of darkness in the earth: I said not in vaine vnto the seed of Iaakob, Seeke you me: I the Lord doe speake righteousness, and declare righteous things.

20 Assemble your selues, and come drawe neere together, yee abiet of the Gentiles: they haue no knowledge that bet vp the wood of their idole, and pray vnto a god, that cannot saue them.

The destruction of Babylon and of their waies. 3 He calleth the leues to the consideration of foue waies.

B El is bowed downe: Nebo is fallen: their Idols were vpon thee beafts, and vpon the cattell: they which did beare you, were laden with a weary burden.

2 They are bowed down, and fallen together: for they could not rid them of the burden, and their ^{of} leue is gone into captivity.

6 They draw gold out of the bag, and weigh silver in the balance, and hire agoldsmith to make a god of it, and they bow downe and worship it.

7 They beare it vpon the shoulers, they cary him and let him in his place: fo doth he stand, and cannot remoue from his place. Though one cry vnto him, yet can he not answere, nor deliuer him out of his tribulation.

daughter of the Caldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, The Lady of kingdoms.

6 I was wroth with my people, I haue polluted mine inheritance, & given them into thine hand:
thou didst shew them no mercy, but thou didst lay thy very heavy yoke vpon the ancient, denly on one day, the losse of children & widowhood: they shall come vpon thee in their perfection for the multitude of thy diuinations, and for the great abundance of thine incanters.

CHAP. XLVIII.

The hypocrite of the Iewes is reproved. The Lord alone will be worshipped. 20 A false delirament of Babylon.

Heare ye this, O house of Iakob, which are called by the name of Israel, and are come out of the waters of Iudah which sweare by the Name of the Lord, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth nor in righteousness.

2 For they are called of the holy cite, and say themselves vpon the God of Israel, whose Name is the Lord of hostes.

3 I haue declared the former things of old, & they went out of my mouth, & I shewed them:
I did them suddenly, and they came to passe.

4 Because I knew that thou art obstinate, and thy necke is as an yron sinew, and thy brow braile,

5 Therefore I haue declared it to thee of old:
before it came to passe, I shewed it thee, lest thou shouldest say, Mine idol hath done them, and my carued image, and my molten image hath commanded them.

6 Thou hast heard, behold all this, and will not yet declare it? I haue shewed thee newe things euen now, and hidde things, which thou knewest not.

7 They are created now, and not of olde, and euen before this thou heardest them not, lest thou shouldest say, Behold, I knew them.

8 Yet thou heardest them not, neither diddest know them, neither yet was thine ear opened of olde: for I knew that thou wouldest giueously transgresse: therefore haue I called thee a transgressor from the wombe.

9 For my Names sake will I defer my wrath, and for my praise will I refrain it from thee, that I cut thee not off.

10 Behold I haue fined thee, but not as silver,
I haue chosen thee in the furnace of affliction.

11 For mine owne sake, for mine owne sake will I doe it: for how should my Name be polluted?
surely I will not give my glory vnto another.

12 Heare me, O Iakob and Israel, my called,
I am I, I am the first, and I am the last.

13 Surely mine hand hath laid the foundation of the earth, & my right hand hath spanned the hea-uens: when I call them, they stand vp together.

14 All your assemblie you felus, and heare:
which among them hath declared these things?

The Lord hath loued him: he will do his will in Babel, and his arme shall be against the Caldeans.

15 I haue spoken it, and I haue called him, I haue brought him, & his way shall prosper.

16 Come neere vnto me: heare ye this: I haue not spoken it in secret from the beginning: from the time that the thing was, I was there, and now the Lord God and his Spirit hath sent me.

17 Thus saith the Lord thy redeemer, the Holy one of Israel, I am the Lord thy God, which teach thee to prosper, and lead thee by the way that thou shouldest goe.

18 Oh, that thou hadst hearkened to my com-mandements! then had thy prosperity bin as the flood, & thy righteousness as the waves of the sea.

19 Thy seed also had bene as the land, and the fruite of thy body like the grauell thereof: his name should not haue bene cut off nor destroyed before me.

20 Go ye out of Babel: flee ye from the Cal-deans, with a voyce of ioy: tell and declare this:
shew it forth to the end of the earth: say ye, The Lord hath redeemed his seruant Iakob.

21 And they were not thirfie: hee led them thorow the wilderness: hee caused the waters to flowe out of the rocke for them: for hee claued the rocke, and the water gushed out.

22 There is no peace, saith the Lord, vnto the wicked.

a What things shall doe thee good. b That is, the prosperous estate of Israel.
y After that he had forewarned them of their captivity, and of the rauish thereof, he brought them the great joy that shall come of their deliuerance. z Hee sheweth that it shall be as easie to deliuer them, as he did their fathers out of Egypt. z Thus he speaketh that the wicked hypocrites should not abuse Gods promise, in wiome was neuer faith nor repentance, as Chap 37. 31.

6 Christ is the salvation of all that believe, and will deliver them from the tyranny of their enemies.

a This is spoken in the person of Christ to comfort the faint hearted people, and to shew that they are all alike in him, and that all should be perfect in him.
b This is meant of the time that Christ should be manifested to the world as Isa. 41. 7. c By the word of God, and his signification, the virtue and efficacy of Christs doctrine.
d God hath taken me to his protection and defence: the chiefly is meant of Christ, and may also be applied to the ministers of his word.
e By Israel is meant Christ, and all the body of the faithful, as the members, and their head.
f Thus Christ in his members plainly, that his labour and preaching take none effect, yet he is contented that his duties are approved of God.
g Though the lowest testimony doctrine, yet God will approve my ministry.

Hear ye me, O yles, and hearken, ye people from farre. The Lord hath called ^a me from the wombe, & made mention of my name from my mothers belly.
² And he hath made my mouth like a sharpe sword: vnder the shadow of his hand hath hee hid me, and made me a choise shaft, and hid me in his quiver,
³ And sayd vnto mee, Thou art my seruant, ^c Israel, for I will be glorious in thee.
⁴ And I sayd, I haue laboured in vaine: I haue spent my strength in vaine, and for nothing: but my iudgement ^d with the Lord, and my worke with my God.
⁵ And now faith the Lord, that formed mee from the wombe to bee his seruant, that I may bring Iakob againe to him (though Israel bee not gathered, ^e yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord: and my God shall bee my strength).
⁶ And he sayd, It is a small thing that thou shouldst be my seruant to raise vp the tribes of Iakob, and to restore the desolations of Israel: I will also giue thee for a light of the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my saluation vnto the end of the world.
⁷ Thus faith the Lord the redeemer of Israel, and his Holy one, to him that is desiered in soule, to a nation that is abhorred, to a seruant of rulers, Kings shall see, and ^h arise, and princes shall worship, because of the Lord, that is faithful: and the Holy one of Israel, which hath choise thee.
⁸ Thus faith the Lord, ⁱ In an acceptable time haue I heard thee, and in a day of saluation haue I helped thee: and I will prefer thee, and will giue thee for a covenant of the people, that thou mayest raise vp the ^j earth, and obtaine the inheritance of the desolate heritages:
⁹ That thou mayest say to the ^k prisoners, Goe forth: and to them that are in darkenesse, Shew your felues: they shall feede in the wayes, and their ^l pastures shall bee in all the toppes of the hilles.
¹⁰ They shall not be hungry, neither shall they be thirsty, neither shall the heate smite them: nor the sunne for he that hath compassion ^m on them, shall lead them: euen to the springs of water shall hee drive them.
¹¹ And I will make all my mountaines, as a way, and my paths shall be exalted.
¹² Beholde, these shall come from farre: and loe, these from the North and from the West, and these from the land of ⁿ Sinim.
¹³ Reioyce, O heauens: and bee ioyfull, O earth: brast forth into praise, O mountaines: for God hath comforted his people, and will haue mercy vpon his afflicted.
¹⁴ But Zion sayd, The Lord hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.
¹⁵ Can a woman forget her child, and not haue compassion on the sonne of her wombe? though they should forget, yet will I not forget thee.
¹⁶ Behold, I haue grauen thee vpon the palme of mine ^a handes: thy ^b walles are euer in my sight.

¹⁷ Thy builders make ^c haste: thy destroyers and they that made thee waste, are departed from thee.
¹⁸ Lift vp thine eyes round about and behold: all these gather themselves together and come to thee: as I lue, sayth the Lord, thou shalt surely ^d put them all vpon thee as a garment, and gird thy selfe with them like a bride:
¹⁹ For thy desolations, and thy waste places, and thy land destroyed, shall surely be now narrow for them that shall dwell in it, and they that did deuoure thee shall be farre away.
²⁰ The children of thy barrennesse shall say againe in thine eares, The place is strait for mee: giue place to me that I may dwell.
²¹ Then shalt thou say in thine heart, Who hath begotten me these, seeing I am barren and desolate, a captiue and a wanderer to and fro? and who hath nourished me? behold, I was left alone: whence are these?
²² Thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, I will lift vp mine hand to the ^e Gentiles, and set vp my standard to the people, and they shall bring thy sonnes in their armes: and thy daughters shall be carried vpon their shoulders.
²³ And Kings ^f shall bee thy nursing fathers, and Queenes shall bee thy nurses: they shall worship thee with their faces toward the earth, and like vp the dust of thy feete: and thou shalt knowe that I am the Lord: for they shall not be ashamed that waite for me.
²⁴ Shall the pray be ^g taken from the mighty? or the iust captiue deliuered?
²⁵ But thus faith the Lord, ^h Euen the captiue-ty of the mighty shall be taken away: and the pray of the tyrant shall be deliuered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will saue thy children,
²⁶ And will feede them that spoyle thee, with their owne flesh, and they shall be drunken with their owne blood, as with sweet wine: & all flesh shall knowe that I the Lord am thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the mighty One of Iakob.

Thus faith the Lord, Where is that ^a bill of your mothers diuorcement, ^b whom I haue cast off? or who is the creditor to whom I sold you? Behold, for your iniquities are ye sold, and because of your transgressions is your mother forsaken.
² Wherefore ^c came I, and there was no man? I called, and none answered: is mine hand ^d shortened, that it cannot helpe? or haue I no power to deliuer? Behold, at my rebuke I drie vp the sea: I make the floods desert: their fish rotteth for want of water, and dieth for thirst.

c Being ioynd with the Church, that humble themselves to Christ their head, & giue him all honour.
d He maketh this as an obediens, as the Caldeans were strong, and had them in iust possession.

7 For the Lord God will helpe me, therefore shall I not be confounded: therefore haue I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed.

8 Ho is neere that iustificeth me: who wil contend with me? Let vs stand together: who is mine adueryary? let him come neere to me.

9 Behold, the Lord God will helpe me: who is he that can condemne me? loe, they shall waxe old as a garment: the mothe shall eate them vp.

10 Who is among you that feareth the Lord? let him heare the voyce of his seruant: hee that walketh in darknesse and hath no light, let him trauell in the Name of the Lord, and stay vpon his God.

11 Beholde, all you kindle^a a fire, and are compassed about with sparkes: walk in the light of your fire: and in the sparkes that ye haue kindled. This shall ye haue of mine hand: ye shall lie downe in sorrow.

1 To trust in God alone by Abrahams example. 7 Right to feare men. 17 The great affliction of Ierusalem. 22 And her deliuerance.

HEARE me^a ye that follow after righteousness, and ye that seeke the Lord: looke vnto the rocke whence ye are hewen, and to the hole of the pit whence ye are digged.

2 Consider Abraham your father, and Sarah that bare you: for I called him alone: and blessed him and increased him.

3 Surely the Lord shall comfort Zion: he shall comfort all her desolations, and he shall make her desert like Eden, and her wilderness like the garden of the Lord: ioy and gladnesse shall be found therein: praise, and the voyce of singing.

4 Harken ye vnto me my people, and giue eare vnto me, O my people: for a Law shall proceed from me, and I will bring forth my iudgement for the light of the people.

5 My^c righteousness is neere: my saluation goeth forth, and mine^f armes shall iudge the people: the yles shall waite for me, and shall trust vnto mine arme.

6 Lift vp your eyes to the heauens, and looke vpon the earth beneath: for the g heauens shall vanish away like smoake, and the earth shall waxe old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall perish in like manner: but my saluation shall be for euer, and my righteousness shall not be abolished.

7 Harken vnto me ye that know righteousness: the people in whose heart is my Law. Feare ye not the reproch of men, neither be ye afraid of their rebukes.

8 For the mothe shall eate them vp like a garment, and the worme shall eate them like wooll: but my righteousness shall be for euer, and my saluation from generation to generation.

9 Rise vp, Rise vp, and put on strength, O arme of the Lord: rise vp as in the old time in the generations of the world. Art not thou the same, that hath cutⁱ Rahab, and wounded the dragon?

10 Art not thou the same, which hath dried the Sea, when the waters of the great deepe, making the depth of the Sea a way for the redeemed to passe ouer?

11 Therefore the redeemed of the Lord shall I returne, and come with ioy vnto Zion, and euermore lasting ioy shall be vpon their head: they shall obtaine ioy and gladnesse: and sorrow and mourning shall flee away.

12 I, when I am he, that comfort you, Who art thou, that thou shouldest feare a mortal man, and the sonne of man, which shall be made as grass?

13 And forgettest the Lord thy maker, that hath spread out the heauens, and laid the foundations of the earth, and hath feared continually all the day, because of the rage of the oppressour, which is ready to destroy? Where is now the rage of the oppressour?

14 The captiue^m hasteneth to be loosed, and that he should not dye in the pit, nor that his bread should faile.

15 And I am the Lord thy God that diuided the sea when his waues roared: the Lord of hosts is his Name.

16 And I haue put my words in thyⁿ mouth, and haue defended thee in the shadow of mine hand, that I may plant the^o heauens, and lay the foundation of the earth, and say vnto Zion, Thou art my people.

17 Awake, awake, and stand vp, O Ierusalem, which hast drunken at the hand of the Lord the^p cup of his wrath: thou hast drunken the dregges of the cup of trembling, and wrung them out.

18 There is none to guide her among all the sonnes, whom shee hath brought forth: there is none that taketh her by the hand of all the sonnes that the hath brought vp.

19 These two things are come vnto thee: who wilt lament thee? desolation and destruction in famine, and the sword: by whom shall I comfort thee?

20 Thy sonnes haue fainted, & lie at the head of all the streetes as a wilde bull in a net, and are full of the wrath of the Lord, and rebuke of thy God.

21 Therefore heare now this, thou miserable and drunken, but not with wine.

22 Thus saith thy Lord God, euen God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Behold, I haue taken out of thine hand the cup of trembling, euen the dregs of the cup of my wrath: thou shalt drinke it no more.

23 But I will put it into their hand that spoile thee: which haue laid to my foule, Bow downe, that we may go ouer, and thou shalt lay thy body as the ground, and as the streete to them that went ouer.

6 For the Lord hath called thee, being as a woman forsaken, and afflicted in spirit, and as a young wife when thou wast refused, saith thy God.

7 For a little while haue I forsaken thee, but with great compassion will I gather thee.

8 For a moment, in mine anger, I hid my face from thee for a little season, but with euermorelasting mercy haue I had compassion on thee, sayeth the Lord thy Redeemer.

9 For this is vnto me as the waters of Noah: for as I haue sworne that the waters of Noah should no more goe ouer the earth, so haue I sworne that I would not be angry with thee, nor rebuke thee.

10 For the mountaines shall remooue, and the hills shall fall downe: but my mercy shall not depart from thee, neither shall the covenant of my peace fall away, saith the Lord, that hath compassion on thee.

11 O thou afflicted and tossed with tempest, that hast no comfort, behold, I will lay thy stones with the carbuncle, and lay thy foundation with sapphires.

12 And I will make thy windowes of emeralds, and thy gates shining stones, and all thy borders of pleasant stones.

13 And all thy children shall be taught of the Lord, and much peace shall be to thy children.

14 In my righteousness shall thou be established, and beare from oppression: for thou shalt not feare it: and from feare, for it shall not come neere thee.

15 Behold, the enemy shall gather himselfe, but without me: whosoever shall gather himselfe in thee, I against thee, shall fall.

16 Beholde, I haue created the smith that bloweth the coales in the fire, and him that bringeth forth an instrument for his worke, and I haue created the destroyer to destroy.

17 But all the weapons that are made against thee, shall not prosper: and euery tongue that shall rise against thee in iudgement, thou shalt condemne. This is the heritage of the Lords seruants, and their righteousness is of mee, saith the Lord.

1 An exhortation to come to Christ. 8 Gods counsels are not as mans. 12 The ioy of the Genuis.

a. Christ by proposing his graces and gifts to his Church, excepteth which are full with their imagined works, and the Epicures, which are full with their worldly lusts, and for Christ not after these waters. b. Signifying, that Gods benefits can not be bought for money. c. By waters, wine, milke, and bread, he meaneth all things necessary to the spiritual life, as these are necessary to this corporal life. d. He reprooeth their ingratitude which refuse these things that God offereth willingly, and in the meane season spare neither cost nor labour to obtaine those which are needful profitable. e. Thou shalt beed abundantly. f. The same covenant which through my mercie I ratified and confirmed to Dauid, that it should last eternall. 2. Sam. 7, 13. ad. 13. 34. g. Meaning Christ, of whom Dauid was a figure.

HO, euery one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and yee that haue no siluer, come, buy and eate: come, I say, buy wine and milke without siluer and without money.

2 Wherefore doe ye lay out siluer, and not for bread? and your labour without being satisfied? hearken diligently vnto me, and eate that which is good, and let your soule delight in it fatnesse.

3 Encline your eares, and come vnto mee: heare, and your soule shall liue, and I will make an euermorelasting covenant with you, when the fire merces of Dauid.

4 Behold, I gaue him for a witness to the people, for a prince and a master vnto the people.

5 Behold, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, and a nation that knew not thee shall runne vnto thee because of the Lord thy God, and the Holy one of Israel: for hee hath glorified thee.

6 Seeke ye the Lord while he may be found: call ye vpon him while he is neere.

7 Let the wicked forsake his wayes, and the vnrighteous his owne imaginations, and returne vnto the Lord, and he will haue mercy vpon him: and to our God, for he is very ready to forgive.

8 For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your wayes my wayes, sayeth the Lord.

9 For as the heauens are higher then the earth, so are my wayes higher then your wayes, and my thoughts above your thoughts.

10 Surely as the raine commeth downe, and the snow from heauen, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it to bring forth and bud, that it may giue feed to the sower, and bread vnto him that eateth.

11 So shall my word bee, that goeth out of my mouth: it shall not returne vnto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I will, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.

12 Therefore ye shall goe out with ioy, and be led forth with peace: the mountaines and the hills shall brake forth before you into ioy, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.

13 For thornes there shall grow fire trees: for nettles shall grow the myrrhe tree, and it shall be to the Lord for a name, and for an euermorelasting rigne that shall not be taken away.

THUS saith the Lord, 2 Keepe iudgement and doe iustice, for my saluation is at hand to come, and my righteousness shall be reuealed.

3 Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the sonne of man which layeth hold on it: hee that keepeth the Sabbath, and polluteth it not, and keepeth his hand from doing any euill.

4 And let not the sonne of the stranger, which is ioyned to the Lord, speake and say, The Lord hath surely separated me from his people: neither let the Eunuch say, Behold, I am a dry tree.

5 For thus saith the Lord vnto the Eunuchs, that keepe my Sabbaths, and chuse the thing that pleaseth me, and take hold of my covenant,

6 Euen vnto them will I giue in mine House, and within my wals, a place, and a name better then of the sonnes, and of the daughters: I will giue them an euermorelasting name, that shall not be put out.

7 Also the strangers that cleaue vnto the Lord, to serue him, and to loue the Name of the Lord, and to be his seruants: euery one that keepeth the Sabbath, and polluteth it not, and embraceth my covenant, r I will not vse my power against fraile man, whose life is but a blast. s That is, for the vices and faults of the people, which is meant here by couetousnesse.

v As well to him that is in captiuitie as to him that remaineth at home.

w And therefore they can neuer haue rest, seade Chap. 48. 22.

x The Lord thus speaketh to the Prophet, willing him to shew all diligence and severity to rebuke the hypocrites.

y They will seeme to worship mee, and haue outward holinesse.

z He seetheth forth the malice and dissidence of the hypocrites, which giudge against God, if all their works be not accepted.

a Thus hee condemneth the hypocrites by the second table, and by their duty toward their neighbours, that they haue down his head, as a bul-rush, and to lie down in sackcloth and ashes? wilt thou call this a fasting, or an acceptable day to the Lord?

6 Is not this the fasting, that I haue chosen, to loose the bands of wickednesse, to take off the heauie burdens, and to let the oppressed goe free, and that ye breake euery yoke?

7 Is it not to deale thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poore that wander, vnto thine house? when thou seest the naked, that thou couer him, and hide not thy selfe from thine owne flesh?

8 Then shall thy light breake forth as the morning, and thine health shall grow speedily: thy righteoussnesse shall goe before thee, and the glory of the Lord shall embrace thee.

9 Then shalt thou call, and the Lord shall answer: thou shalt cry, and he shall say, Here I am: if thou take away from the mids of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and wicked speaking:

10 If thou powre out thy soule to the hungry, and refresh the troubled soule: then shall thy light spring out in the darkenes, and thy darknesse shall be as the noone day.

11 And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfie thy soule in drouth, and make fast thy bones: and thou shalt bee like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters faile not.

12 And they shall be of thee, that shall build the olde waste places: thou shalt raise vp the foundations for many generations, & thou shalt be called the repairer of the breach, and the restorer of the pathes to dwell in.

13 If thou turne away thy foote from the Sabbath, from doing thy will on mine Holy day, and call the Sabbath a delite, to consecrate it, as glorious to the Lord, and shalt honour him, not doing thine owne wayes, nor seeking thine owne will, nor speaking a vaine word, 14 Then shalt thou delite in the Lord, and I will caue thee to mount vpon the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Iacob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

CHAP. LIX.

The wicked perissh through their owne iniquities. 25 The confession of sinners. 26 God a our wilfull perissh the Church though all sinne faile.

BEhold, the Lords hand is not shortened, that it cannot saue: neither is his eare heauie, that it cannot heare.

2 But your iniquities haue separated betweene you and your God, and your sinnes haue hidde his face from you, that he will not heare.

3 For your handes are defiled with a blood, and your fingers with iniquitie: your lippes haue spoken lies, and your tongue hath murmured iniquitie.

4 No man calleth for iustice: no man contendeth for truth: they trust in vanitie & speake vaine things: they conceiue mischief, and bring forth iniquitie.

5 They hatch cockatrice egges, and weaue the spiders web: hee that eateth of their egges, dieth, and that which is trode vpon, breaketh out into a serpent.

6 Their eyes shall be no garment, neither shall they couer themselves with their labours: for their workes are workes of iniquitie, and the worke of crueltie is in their hands,

7 Their feete runne to euill, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are wicked thoughts: desolation and destruction is in their pathes.

8 The way of peace they know not, and there is none equitie in their goings: they haue made them crooked pathes: who ouer goeth therein, shall not know peace.

9 Therefore is iudgement farre from vs, neither doeth iustice come neere vnto vs: we waite for light, but loe it is darknesse: for brightnesse, but we walkein darknesse.

10 We grope for the wall like the blind, and we grope as one without eyes: we stumble at the noone day as in the twilight: we are in solitarie places, as dead men.

11 We roare all like i beares, and mourne like doones, we looke for equitie, but there is none: for health, but it is farre from vs.

12 For our trespasses are many before thee, and our kninnes testifie against vs: for our trespasses are with vs, and we know our iniquities.

13 In trespassing and lying against the Lorde, and we haue departed away from our God, and haue spoken of crueltie and rebellion conceiuing and vttering out of the heart false matters.

14 Therefore iudgement is turned backward, and iustice standeth farre off, for truth is fallen in the street, and equitie cannot enter.

15 Yea, truth is fullen, and hee that refraineth from euill maketh himselfe a pray: and when the Lord saw it, it displeased him, that there was no iudgement.

16 And when hee saw that there was no man, hee wondered that none would offer himselfe. Therefore his arme did p'uaue it, and his righteoussnesse selfe did sustaine it.

17 For he put on righteousness, as an habergeon, and an helmet of saluation vpon his head, and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeale as a cloke.

18 As to make recompense, as to requite the fury of the aduersaries with a recompence to his enemies: he will fully repay the ylands.

19 So shall they feare the Name of the Lorde from the West, and his glorie from the rising of the Sunne: for the enemies shall come like a flood: but the Spirit of the Lord shall chafe him away.

20 And the Redeemer shall come vnto Zion, and vnto them that turne from iniquitie in Iacob, saith the Lord.

21 And I will make this my Couenant with them, saith the Lord, My Spirit that is vpon thee, and my words, which I haue put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of the seed of thy seed, saith the Lord, from henceforth euen for euer.

u. Because the doctrine is made profitable by the vertue of the Spirit, he ioyneth the one with the other, & promitteth to giue them both to his Church for euer.

CHAP. LX.

3 The Gentiles shall come to the knowledge of the Gospel. 8 They shall come to the Church in abundance. 16 They shall haue abundance though they suffer for a time.

3 And the Gentiles shall walke in e thy light, and Kings at the brightness of thy rising vp.

4 Lift vp thine eyes round about, and behold:
all e these are gathered, and come to thee: thy daughters shall come from farre, and thy daughters shall be nourished at thy side.

5 Then thou shalt see and shine: thy heart shall be enlarged, and enlarged, because the multitude of the Sea shall be converted vnto thee, and the riches of the Gentiles shall come vnto thee.

6 The multitude of camels shall cover thee:
and the dromedaries of Midian and of Ephah shall they of Sheba shall come: they shall bring golde and incense, and shew forth the prayes of the Lord.

7 All the sheepe of e Kedar shall be gathered vnto thee: the rams of Nebaioth shall ieiue thee:
they shall come vp to be accepted vpon mine e altar:
and I will b. auishe the house of my glory.

8 Who are these? that flie like a cloude, and as the doves to their windowes?

9 Surely the yles shall waite for mee, and the ships of Tarshish, as at the beginning that they may bring thy tonnes from farre, and thy siluer and thine golde with them vnto the Name of the Lord thy God, and to the Holy one of Israel, because he hath glorified thee.

10 And the sonne of strangers shall build vp thy walles, and their Kings shall minister vnto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my mercy I had compassion on thee.

11 Therefore thy gates shall be open continually:
neither day nor night shall they be shut, that men may bring vnto thee the riches of the Gentiles, and that their Kings may be brought.

12 For the nation and the kingdoms, that will not serue thee, shall perish: and the nations shall be utterly destroyed.

13 The glorie of Lebanon shall come vnto thee, the firre tree, the elme and the boxe tree together, to beautifie the place of my Sanctuary: for
I will glorie in the place of my feet.

14 The tonnes also of them that afflicted thee, shall come and bowe vnto thee: and all they that despised thee, shall fall downe at the soles of thy feet: and they shall call thee, The citie of the Lord, Zion of the Holy one of Israel.

15 Whereas thou hast bene forsaken and hatred, so that no man went by thee, I will make thee an eternall glorie, and a ioy from generation to generation.

16 Thou shalt also sucke the milke of the Gentiles, and shalt sucke the breasts of Kings and thou shalt know, that I the Lord am thy Saviour, and thy Redeemer, the Mightie one of Isaak.

17 For brass will I bring golde, and for yron will I bring siluer, and for wood brass, and for stones yon. I will also make thy government peace, and thine exactours righteousnesse.

18 Violence shall no more be heard of in thy land, neither defolation, nor destruction within thy borders: but thou shalt call thee, O saluator, thy walles, and praise thy gates.

19 Thou shalt haue no more Sunneto shine by day, neither shall the brightness of the Moone shine vnto thee: for the Lord shall be thine euerlasting light, and thy God, thy glory.

20 Thy Sunne shall neuer goe downe, neither shall thy Moone bee hid: for the Lord shall be thine euerlasting light, and the dayes of thy for-row shall be ended.

21 Thy people also shall be all righteous: they shall possesse the land for euer, the egrate of my planting shall be the worke of mine hands, that I may be glorified.

22 A little one shall become as a thousand, and a small one as a strong nation: I the Lord will hasten it in due time.

CHAP. LXI.

1 The prophesie, that Christ shall be anointed, and sent to preach.
2 The glory of the faithful.

The Spirit of the Lord God is upon mee, therefore hath the Lord anointed mee: hee hath lent mee to preach good tydings vnto the poore, to binde vp the broken hearted, to preach liberty to the captiues, and to them that are bound, the opening of the prison.

2 To preach the acceptable yeere of the Lord, and the day of vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourne,

3 To appoint vnto them that mourne in Zion, and to giue vnto them becaue for ashes, the oyle of ioy for mourning, the garment of glad-nesse for the spirit of heauinesse, that they might be called e trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified.

4 And they shall build the olde waste places, and raise vp the former defolations, and they shall repaire the cities that were desolate and waste through many generations.

5 And the strangers shall stand and feede your sheepe, and the sonnes of the strangers shall be your plowmen, and dressers of your vines.

6 But ye shall bee named the Priests of the Lord, and men shall say vnto you, The ministers of our God: Ye shall eate the riches of the Gentiles, and shall be exalted with their glory.

7 For your shame you shall receiue m double, and for confusion, they shall reioyce in their portion: for in their land they shall possesse the double: euerlasting ioy shall be vnto them.

8 For I the Lord loue iudgement, and hate grobberie for burnt offering, and I will direct their worke in truth, and will make an euerlast-ing couenant with them.

9 And their feed shall be known among the Gentiles, and their budde among the people. All that see them, shall know them, that they are the seed which the Lord hath blessed.

10 I will greatly reioyce in the Lord, and my soule shall be ioyfull in my God: for he hath clothed me with the garments of saluation, and covered me with the robe of righteousness: hee hath decked me like a bridegrome, and as a brideyeth herself with her iewels.

11 For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth to grow that which is sown in it: so the Lord God will cause righteous-nesse to grow, and praise before all the heathen,

12 In times past, now they shall haue double authoritie ouer them, and possesse twice as much. q. I will not let their offering which are unrighteous, hypocrites, or that priuie me of my glorie. r. That of the Church, f. Hee sheweth what shall be the affliction, when they see this deli-uerance.

1 The great desire that the Prophet haue had for Christes coming. 2 The diligence of the Emperours to Peace.

I Or Zions sake I will not holde my tongue, and for Ierusalem sake I will not rest, vntill the righteoulnesse thereof breake forth as the light, and saluation thereof as a burning lampe :

2 And the Gentiles shall see thy righteoulnesse and all Kings thy glory : and thou shalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of the Lord shall name.

3 Thou shalt also bee a crowne of glory in the hand of the Lord, and a royall diademe in the hand of thy God.

4 It shall no more be said vnto thee, c Forsaken : neither shall it be said any more to thy land, Desolate, but thou shalt be called ij Hephzi-bah, and thy land ij Beulah : for the Lord delighteth in thee, and thy land shall haue an husband.

5 For as a yong man marrieth a virgin, so shall thy founnes a marrie thee : and as a bridegrome is glad of the bride, so shall thy God reioyce ouer thee.

6 I haue set b watchmen vpon thy walles, O Ierusalem, which all the day and all the night continually shall not cease : *y*e that are mindful of the Lord keepe not silence,

7 And giue him no rest, till he repaire and vntill he set vp Ierusalem h the praise of the world.

8 The Lord hath worne by his right hand and by his strong arme, Surely I will no more giue thy come to be meat for thine enemies, and surely the founnes of the strangers shall not drinke thy wine, for the which thou hast laboured.

9 But they that haue gathered it, shall eate it, and praise the Lord, and the gatherers thereof shall drinke it in the courts of my Sanctuary.

10 Go through, goe through the gates : prepare you the way for the people : cast vp, cast vp the way, and gather out the stones, and let vp a stande : for the people.

11 Behold, the Lord hath proclaimed vnto the endes of the world, m tell the daughter Zion, Behold, thy Saviour cometh : Behold, his wages u with him, and n his worke u before him.

12 And they shall call them, The holy people, the redeemed of the Lord, and thou shalt be named, A c ities fought out and not forsaken.

CHAP. LXIII.

1 God shall destroy his enemies for his Churches sake. 7 Gods benefitts towards his Church.

W Ho is this that commeth a from Edom, with red garments from Bozrah ? hee is glorious in his apparel, and walketh in his great strength b I speake in righteoulnesse, and am mighty to faue.

2 Wherefore is thine apparel red, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the wine presse ?

3 I haue troden the wine presse alone, and of all people there was none with mee : for I will tread them in mine anger, and tread them vnder foote in my wrath, and their blood shall be sprinkled vpon my garments, and I will staine all my raiment.

4 For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the daye of my redeemed is come.

5 And I looked, and there was none to helpe, and I wondered that there was none to vpholde : therefore mine owne c arme helped mee, and my wrath it selfe sustained me.

6 Therefore I will tread downe the people in my wrath, and make them d drunken in mine indignation, and wil bring downe their strength to the earth.

7 I will e remember the mercies of the Lord, and the prayes of the Lord according vnto all that the Lord hath giue vs, and for the great goodnesse toward the house of Israel, which hee hath giuen them according to his tender loue, and according to his great mercies.

8 For hee said, Surely they are my f people, children that will not lie : so hee was their Saviour.

9 In all thy troubles hee was g troubled, and the Angel h of his presence saued them : in his loue and in his mercie he redeemed them, and he bare them and carryed them alwayes continually.

10 But they rebelled and vexed his holy Spirit : therefore was he turned to be their enemy, and hee fought against them.

11 Then hee remembered the olde time of Moses & his people, saying, Where is he that brought them vp out of the Sea with the i shepherds of his sheepe ? where is hee that put his holy Spirit within k him ?

12 Heeled l them by the right hand of Moses with his owne glorious arme, deuinding the water before them, to make himselfe an everlasting Name.

13 Hee ledde them through the deepe, as an m horse in the wilderness, that they should not stumble.

14 As the beast goeth downe into the valley, the Spirit of the Lord gaue them rest : so diddest thou leade thy people, to make thy selfe a glorious Name.

15 p Looke downe from heauen, and behold from the dwelling place of thine holiness, and of thy glory. Where is thy q zeale and thy strength, the multitude of thy mercies, and of thy compassions ? they are refrained from r me.

16 Doubtlesse thou art our Father : though s Abraham be ignorant of vs, and Israel know vs not, yet thou, O Lord, art our Father, and our redeemer : thy Name is t our euer.

17 O Lord, why hast u thou made vs to erre from thy wayes ? and hardened our heart from thy feare ? Returne for thy v seruants sake, and for the tribes of thine inheritance.

18 The people of thine holiness haue pos-

d Shewing that when God punisheth his enemies, it is for the profit and deliverance of his Church. e God himselfe that hee hath neede of mans helpe : for the deliverance of his, and though men refuse to doe their duty through negligence and ingratitude, yet he himselfe will deliver his Church, and punish the enemies thereof. f Chap. 15. I will swallow them, and make them foode, that they shall not know which way they goe. g The Prophet speaketh this to moue the people to remember Gods benefitts : that they may be comforted in their troubles. h For as hee saith, that they should be holy, and not deuide mine expectation. i He bare their afflictions and griefes as though they had beene his owne. k Which was a witness of Gods presence, and this was testified to Christ, to whom hee cometh to the office of Salvation. l That is, the people of Israel, being afflicted, called to remembrance Gods benefitts, which hee had bestowed vpon their Fathers in times past. m Meaning, Moses. n That is, in Moses that he might well gouerne the people : Ioue reuerence this giuing of the Spirit to the people. o Peaceably and gently, as an horse is to his foalefearer, ward them. p They great affliction, though hee be taken from the whole body of the Church. q Though Abraham would refuse to be his children, yet thou wilt not refuse to be our Father. r By taking away thy holy Spirit from vs, by whom we were gouerned, and so for our ingratitude didst deliue vs from our owne concupiscence, and didst punish our by sinne according to thy indignement. s Meaning, for the Couenants sake made to Abraham, Ishak, and Iaakob his seruants.

a The Prophet faith that he will occurse to declare vnto the people the good liking of their deliuerance. b Till they haue full deliuerance : and this the Prophet speaketh to encourage all other multitudes to the seeking forth of Gods me. c Toward his Church. d Thou shalt haue a more excellent fame then thou hast had hitherto. e He hath eate thee as drare and precious as a King doeth his crowne. f Thou shalt no more be commended as a woman forsaken of her husband. g For my delight in her. h Or, married. i That may be replenished with children. j Forasmuch as they confesse onethat in Religion with thee, they are in the same bond of marriage with thee, and they are called the children of the Church, inasmuch as Christ maketh them plentifull to bring forth children vnto him. k Prophet, Pastours, and Ministers. l Hee exhorteth the ministers neuer to cease to call vpon God by prayer for the deliuerance of his Church, and to teach others to doe the same. m For the restoration whereof all the world shall praise him. n Signifying the great number that should come to the Church, and what meanes hee would prepare for the restitution of the same, as Chap. 57. 14. o Yee Prophets and Ministers, hee the people of thine deliuerance : which was chiefly meant of our saluation by Christ, Zach. 9. 9. p That is, hee shall haue all power to bring his purpose to passe, as Chap. 40. 10. q That is, one our whom God hath had a singular care to recouer her when she was lost.

a This prophesie is against the Idumians, and enemies which persecuted the Church, on whom God, will take vengeance, and is here for the comfort of all blessed soules, that hee destroyed them in Bozrah, the chief cities of the Idumians, for there were their great enemies, and vnder the title of circumcision, and the kindred of Abraham claimed to themselves as the chief religion, & hated hee true worshippers Ps 137. 7. b God answered them that asked this question, Who is this &c. and faith, Yee now performe in deed the vengeance which my Prophets threatened. c Another question to them which the Lord answered.

x That is, in respect of the promise, which is perpetual, albeit they had now possessed the land of Canaan, a thousand and fourscore hundred years: and thus they lament, to moone God that to remember his Covenant, then to punish their finnes.

a Meaning, the Gentiles which knew not God should seeke after him when he had moued their hearts with his holy Spirit. Rom. 10. 12.

b Here sheweth the cause of the reuersion of the Iewes, because they would not obey him for any saluation of his Prophets, by whom hee called them continually and stretched out his hand to aduenthem.

1 Haue bene fought of them that asked not: I was found of them that sought me not: I sayd, Behold mee, behold rue, vnto a nation that called not vpon my Name.

2 I haue b spread out mine hands all the day vnto a rebellious people, which walked in a way that was not good, Meaning after their owne

3 A people that prouoked mee euer vnto my face: that sacrificeth in gardens, and burneth incense vpon brickes.

4 Which remaine among the i graues, and lodge in the deserts, which eate g iuines flesh, and the broth of things polluted are in their vessels.

5 Which say, b Stand apart come not neere to me: for I am holier then thou: these are a smoke in my wrath and a fire that i burneth all the day.

6 Behold, it is k written before me: I will not keepe silence, but will render it and recompense it into their bofome.

7 Your iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers, shalbe i together (saith the Lord) which haue burnt incense vpon the mountaines, & blasphemed me vpon the hills: therefore will I measure their old worke into their bofome.

8 Thus sayth the Lord, As the wine is found in the cluster, and one faith, Destroy it not, for a blessing is in it, so will I doe for my seruants sakes, that I may not destroy them whole.

9 But I will bring a feede out of Iakob, and out of Iudah, that shall inherit my mountaine: and mine elck shall inherit it, and my seruants shall dwell there.

10 And Sharon shalbe a sheepefold, and the valley of Achor shall be a resting place for the cattell of my people, that haue fought me.

11 But ye are they that haue forsaken the Lord, and forgotten my holy Mountaine, and haue prepared a table for the multitude, and furnish the drinke offerings vnto the number.

12 Therefore will I p number you to the sword, and all you shall bow downe to the slaughter because I called, and yee did not answere. I q spake, and ye heard not, but did euil in my sight, and did chuse that thing which I would not.

13 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, my seruants shall eate and ye shall be hungry: behold, my seruants shall drinke, and yee shall be thirstie: behold, my seruants shall reioyce, and ye shalbe aghamed.

14 Beholde, my seruants shall sing for ioy of heart, and ye shall cry for sorow of heart and shall howle for vexation of minde.

15 And yee shall leaue your name as a curse vnto my chosen: for the Lord God shall slay you, and call his seruants by another name.

16 He that shall blesse in the earth shall blesse himselfe in the true God, and he that sweareth in the earth, shall sweare by the true God: for the former k troubles are forgotten, and shall surely hide themselves from mine eyes.

17 For loe, I will create y new heauens and a new earth: & the former shall not be remembered nor come into minde.

18 Buttbe you glad and reioyce for euer in the things that I shall create: for behold, I will create Ierusalem, as a reioycing, and her people as a ioy.

21 And they shall build houses, and inhabit them, and they shall plant vineyards, and eate the fruit of them.
22 They shall not build, and another inhabit: they shall not plant, and another eate: for as the dayes of the tree are the dayes of my people, and mine elect shal enioy in old age the work of their hands.
23 They shall not labour in vaine, nor bring forth in feare: for they are the seed of the blessed of the Lord, and their buds with them.

CHAP. LXVI.

1 God dwelleth not in Temples made with hands. 2 He despoiseth sacrificers daunt with his iurisdiction. 3 He comforteth them that are troubled for his sake. 19 The vocation of the Gentiles. 23 The persecuted shall be saved. 24 The punishment of the wicked in everlasting.

1 Ad. 7. 48. 49. 2 My mercy is to the poor, that is to the lowly, both heaven and earth, and therefore cannot be included in a temple like an idol, condemning hereby their vain confidence, which trusted in the Temple and sacrifices. b Seeing that both the Temple and the things therein, with the sacrifices, were made and done by his appointment, he sheweth that he hath no need thereof, and that he can be without them, Psal. 50. 10. c To him that is humble and pure in heart, which he createth my doctrine with reverence and feare. d Because the Iewes thought themselves holy by offering of their sacrifices, and in the measure of their faith, not repentance, God sheweth that he doth no lesse deprecate these ceremonies, then he doth the sacrifices of the heathen, who offered men dogs and swine to their idols, which things were expressly forbidden in the Law. e I will discover their iniquities and hypocrisies, wherewith they think to build mine eyes to fill the world. f He incourage the faithful by promising to destroy their enemies, which he pretended to be as brethren, but were hypocrites and hated them that feared God. g The enemies shall shortly be a more terrible voyce, even fire and laughter, seeing they would not heare the gentle voyce of the Prophets, which called them to repentance. h Meaning, that the restoration of the Church, should be so sudden and contrary to all mens opinions, as when a woman is deliuered before shee look for it, and that without paine in travail.

Thus sayeth the Lord, * The 3 heauen is my throne, and the earth is my footstool: where is that house that I will build vnto me? & where is that place of my rest?
2 For all these things hath mine hand made, b and all these things have bene, saith the Lord: and to him will I looke, even to him that is poore and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my words.
3 He that killeth a bullocke, as if he slew a man: he that sacrificeth a sheepe as if he cut off a dogs neck: he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered iuines blood: he that remembereth inence, as if he blessed an idol: yea, they have chosen their owne wayes, and their soule delighteth in their abominations.
4 Therefore will I 4 chuse out their delusions, and I will bring their feare vpon them, because I called, and none would answer: I spake, and they would not heare: but they did euill in my sight, and chose the things which I would not.
5 Heare the word of the Lord, al yee that tremble at his f word, Your brethren that hated you, and cast you out for my Names sake, said, let the Lord be glorified: but he shal appeare to your ioy, and they shal be ashamed.
6 A voyce foundeth from the cite, when a voice from the Temple, the voice of the Lord, that recompenseth his enemies fully.
7 Before 5 he trauelled, he brought forth:

and before her paine came, she was deliuered of a man child.
8 Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seene such things? that the earth be brought forth in one day? or shall a nation be borne at once? for as soon as Zion traualled, he brought forth her children.
9 Shall I 6 cause to trauel, & not bring forth? shall I cause to bring forth, and shalbe barren, saith the God?
10 Reioyce ye with Ierusalem, & be glad with her, al yee that loue her: reioyce for ioy with her, al yee that mourne for her.
11 That ye may I 7 keepe, and be satisfied with the breads of her consolation: that ye may milke out, and be delighted with the brightnesse of her glory.
12 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will extend 8 peace over her like a flood, and the glory of the 9 Gentiles like a flowing stream: then shall ye sucke, ye shall be 10 borne vpon her sides, and be ioyfull vpon her knees.
13 As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you, and ye shall be comforted in Ierusalem.
14 And when yee see this, your heart shall reioyce, and your y bones shall flourish like an hearbe: and the hand of the Lord shalbe known among his seruants, and his indignation against his enemies.
15 For he beheld, the Lord will come with fire, and his charres like a whirlwind, that he may recompence his anger with wrath, and his indignation with the flame of fire.
16 For the Lord will iudge with fire, and with his sword al flesh, and the flame of the Lord shal be many.
17 They that sanctifie themselves, and purifie themselves in the gardens behinde one 11 ree: in the midst being 12 swines fesh and such abomination, even the moue 13, shalbe consumed together, saith the Lord.
18 For I will visit their workes and their imaginations, for it shall come that I wil gather al myn 14, and tongues, and they shall come and see my t glory.
19 And I will set a 15 signe among them, and will send those that scape out of them vnto the nations of y Tarshish, 2 Pul, and 3 Lud, and to them that draw the bow, to Tubal, and 4 Iauan, yles afarre off, that haue not heard my fame, neither haue seen my glory, and they shal declare my glory among the Gentiles.
20 And they shall bring al your 5 brethren for an offering vnto the Lord out of all nations, vpon 6 horses, and in charets, and in horsefitters, and vpon mules, and swift beastes, to Ierusalem mine holy Mountaine, saith the Lord, as the children of Israel offer in a cleane vessell in the house of the Lord.
21 And I will take of them for 7 Priests, and for Leuites, saith the Lord.

1 This shall passe the capacitee of man to see such a multitude that shall come vp at once, meaning vnder the preaching of the Gospel, wherof they are become vnto of Babylon, were a figure. 2 Declaring hereby, that as by his power and providence woman travaileth and is deliuered: so hath he power to bring forth his Church at this time appointed. 3 That ye may reioyce for all the benedictions the God bestoweth vpon his Church. 4 I will giue her felicitie and prosperitie and great abundance. 5 Reade Chap. 60. 6. 7 Ye shall be cherished as hee cherisheth beloued children. 8 Ye shall haue new strength and new beauty. 9 This vengeance God began to execute at the destruction of Babylon, and hath ever continued it against the enemies of his church, and will do till the last day, which shall be the accomplishment thereof. 10 Meaning the hypocrites. 11 Whereby are meant them that did maliciously transgreffe the Law, by eating beasts forbidden; 12 Meaning the moule which manure abhorreth. 13 The Gentiles that shall be partakers of that glory which before I shewed to the Iewes. 14 I will marke reholet that I cause, that they perish not with the rest of the infidels who by al lutherat the marking of the polle of his people, whom he persecuted, Exodus 13. 2. IEREMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe Prophet Jeremiah borne in the citie of Anathoth in the countrey of Benjamin, was the sonne of Hilkiah, whom some thinke to be hee that found out the booke of the Law, and gave it to Iosiah. This Prophet had excellent gifts of God, and most euident revelations of prophesie, so that by his commandement of the Lord, he began very young to prophesie, that is, in the thirteenth yere of Iosiah, and continued eightene yere vnder the said King, and three moneths vnder Iehoiakim, and vnder Iehoiachin eleuen yeres, & three moneths vnder Iehoiachin, and vnder Zedekiah eleuen yeres: vnto the time that they were carryed away into Babylon. So that this time amounteth to aboute fiftie yeres, besides the time that hee prophesied after the captiuitie. In this Booke hee declareth with teares and lamentation, the destruction of Ierusalem, and the captiuitie of the people, for their idolatry, contumeliousness, subtilties, cruelties, excesses, rebellion, and contempt of Gods word, and for the consolation of the Church, reuolunt the iust time of their deliuerance. And here chiefly are to be considered three things. First, the rebellion of the wicked, which waxe more subborne and obstinate when the Prophets doe admonish them most plainly of their destruction. Next, how the Prophets and Ministers of God ought not to be discouraged in their vocation, though they be persecuted and rigorously handled of the wicked for Gods cause. And thirdly, though God shew his iust iudgement against the wicked, yet will hee euer shew himselfe a preseruer of his Church, and when all measures seeme to be full, yet will hee declare himselfe victorious in preserving his.

CHAP. I.

2 In what time Jeremiah prophesied, 6 Hee acknowledgeth his imperfection, and strength of the Law. 11 The Lord sheweth him the destruction of Ierusalem. 17 Hee commandeth him to preache his word, without feare.

8 Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee, to deliue thee, saith the Lord.

9 Then the Lord stretched out his hand, and touched my mouth, and the Lord said vnto me, Behold, I haue put my words in thy mouth.

10 Behold, this day haue I set thee ouer the nations, and ouer the kingdoms, to plucke vp, and to root out, & to destroy, and to throw downe, to build, and to plant.

11 After this, the word of the Lord, came vnto me, saying, Jeremiah, what seest thou? And I said, I see a rod of an almond tree.

12 Then said the Lord vnto mee, Thou hast seene aright: for I will hasten my worde to performe it.

13 Againe the word of the Lord came vnto me the second time, saying, What seest thou? And I sayd, I see a seething pott looking out of the North.

14 Then said the Lord vnto mee, Out of the North shall a plague be spread vpon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 For loe, I will call all the families of the kingdomes of the North, saith the Lord, and they shall come, and euery one shall set his throne in the entering of the gates of Ierusalem, and on all the wals thereof round about, and in all the cities of Iudah.

16 And I will declare vnto them my p iudgements touching all the wickednesse of them that haue forsaken me, and haue burnt incense vnto other gods, and worshipped the workes of their owne hands.

17 Thou therefore trusse vp thy loynes, and arise and speake vnto them all that I command in the time of thy trouble: for according to the number of thy cities, are thy gods, O Iudah.

 29 Wherefore wilt thou plead with me? ye all have rebelled against me, saith the Lord.
 30 I have imbrued your children in vaine, they received no correction: your owne sword hath deuoured your Prophets like a destroying lyon.
 31 O generation, take heede to the word of the Lord: haue I bene as a wilderness vnto Israel, or a land of darknesse? Wherefore sayth my people then, We are lords, & we will come no more vnto thee?
 32 Can a may forget her ornament, or a bride her attire? yet my people haue forgotten mee, dayes without number.
 33 Why dost thou prepare thy way, to seeke amitie? euen therefore will I teach thee, that thy wayes are wickednesse.
 34 Alas in thy wings is found the blood of the ioules of the poore innocents: I haue not found it in holes, but vpon all the places.
 35 Yet thou sayest, Because I am guiltlesse, surely his wrath shall turne from mee: behold, I will enter with thee into iudgement, because thou sayest, I haue not sinned.
 36 Why runnest thou about so much to change thy wayes? for thou shalt bee confounded of Egypt, as thou art confounded of Asfur.
 37 For thou shalt goe forth from thence, and thine hands vpon thine head, because the Lord hath reiected thy confidence, and thou shalt not prosper thereby.
 38 I saw I saw, and vexed the Iewes in sundry sorts. In the time of lamentation, as a Sam. 1. 19.

C H A P. III.

Cod. callisth. people vnto repentance. 11. He promisseth the restitution of Ierusalem. 12. He reprooueth Iuda and Israels comparing them to a woman adulterous to her husband.

They say, If a man put away his wife, and the goe from him, and become another mans shall he returne againe vnto her? shall not this land be polluted? but thou hast played the harlot with many lovers: yet turne againe to me saith the Lord.
 2 Lift vp thine eyes vnto the high places, and behold, where thou hast not played the harlot: thou hast sit waiting for them in the wayes, as the Arabian in the wilderness: and thou hast polluted the land with thy whoredomes, and with thy malice.
 3 Therefore the showres haue beene restrained, and the later raine came not, and thou haddest a whores forehead: thou wouldest not be ashamed.
 4 Diddest thou not still crie vnto me, Thou art my father, and the guide of my youth?
 5 Will he keepe his anger for euer? will he reuerie it to the end? thus hath thou spoken, but thou dost euill euen more and more.
 6 The Lord said also vnto me, in the dayes of Iosiah the King, Haft thou seene what this rebellious Iuda hath done? for the hath gone vp vnto euery high mountaine, and vnder euery greene tree, and there played the harlot.
 7 And I sayd, when shee had done all this, shall thou vnto me: but the returned not, as her rebellious sister Iudah saith.

8 When I saw, how that by all occasions rebellious Israel had played the harlot, I call her away, and gaue her a bill of diuorcement: yet her rebellious sister Iudah was not affraide, but shee went also and played the harlot.
 9 So that for the lightnes of her whoredome she hath ened the land: for the hath committed fornication with stones and stockes.
 10 Neuertheless for all this, her rebellious sister Iudah hath not returned vnto mee with her whole heart, but fainedly, saith the Lord.
 11 And the Lord said vnto me, The rebellious Israel hath justified her selfe more then the rebellious Iudah.
 12 Goe & cry these words toward the North, and say, Thou disobedient Israel, returne, saith the Lord, and I will not let my wrath fall vpon you: for I am merciful, saith the Lord, and I will not alway keepe mine anger.
 13 But know thine iniquitie: for thou hast rebelled against the Lord thy God, and hast scattered thy wayes to the strange gods vnder euery greene tree, but yee would not obey my voice, saith the Lord.
 14 O yee disobedient children, turne againe, saith the Lord, for I am your Lord, and I will take you one of a cite, and two of a tribe, and will bring you to Zion.
 15 And I wil giue you pastours according to mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and vnderstanding.
 16 Moreover, when yee be increased and multiplied in the land, in those daies, saith the Lord, they shall say no more, The Arke of the covenant of the Lord: for it shall come no more to minde, neither shall they remember it, neither shall they visite it, for that shall bee no more done.
 17 At that time they shall call Ierusalem, The throne of the Lord, and all the nations shall bee gathered vnto it, euen to the Name of the Lord in Ierusalem: and thenceforth they shall follow no more the hardnesse of their wicked heart.
 18 In those daies the house of Iudah shall walk with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the North, into the land that I haue giuen for an inheritance vnto your fathers.
 19 But I sayd, How did I take thee for children, and giue thee a pleasant land, euen the glorious heritage of the armies of the heathen, and said, Thou shalt call me, saying, My father, and shalt not turne from me?
 20 But as a woman rebellet against her husband: so haue yee rebelled against me, O house of Israel, saith the Lord.
 21 A voice was heard vpon the high places, weeping, and supplications of the children of Israel: for they haue peruered their way, and forgotten the Lord their God.
 22 O yee disobedient children, returne, and I will heale your rebellions. Behold, wee come vnto thee, for thou art the Lord our God.
 23 Truly the shape of some hills is but vaine, nor the multitude of mountaines: but in the Lord our God is the health of Israel.
 24 For confusion hath deuoured our fathers labour, from our youth, their sheepe and their bullockes, their fannes and their daughters,
 25 Wee lie downe in our confusion, and our shame

30. The destruction of Iudah is prophesied, for the malice of their hearts.

16 Make ye mention of the heathen, and publish in Ierusalem, Beholde, the scoutes com from a farre country, and cry out against the cities of Iudah.

17 They haue compassed her about as the watchmen of the field, because it hath provoked me to wrath saith the Lord.

18 Thy wayes and thine inuentions haue procured thee these things, such is thy wickednesse: therefore it shall be bitter, therefore it shall pierce vnto thine heart.

19 My belly, my belly, I am pained euen at the very heart: mine heart is troubled within mee: I cannot be still: for my soule hath heard the found of the trumpet, and the alarum of the battell.

20 Destruction vpon destruction is cryed, for the whole land is wasted: suddenly are my tents destroyed, and my certaines in a moment.

21 How long shall I see the standart, and heare the found of the trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish, they haue not known mee: they are foolish children, and haue none vnderstanding: they are wise to doe euill, but to doe well they haue no knowledge.

23 I haue looked vpon the earth, and lo, it was without forme and void, and to the heauens, and they had no light.

24 I behelde the mountains: and loe, they trembled, and all the hills shooke.

25 I beheld, and loe, there was no man, and all the birds of the heauen were departed.

26 I beheld, and loe, the fruitfull place was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken downe at the presence of the Lord, and by his fierce wrath.

27 For thus hath the Lord sayde, The whole land shall be desolate: yet will I not make it all end.

28 Therefore shall the earth mourne, and the heauens above shall be darkened, because I haue pronounced it: I haue thought it, and will not repent, neither will I turne backe from it.

29 The whole cite shall flee, for the noyse of the horsemen and bowmen they shall goe into thicket, and climbe vp vpon the rockes: euery cite shall be forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 And when thou shalt bee destroyed, what wilt thou doe? Though thou clodest thy selfe with scarlet, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold, though thou paint it thy face with colours, yet shalt thou trimme thy selfe in vaine: for thy louers will abhorre thee, and seeke thy life.

31 For I haue heard a noyse as of a woman traouling, or as one labouring of her first child, euen the voice of the daughter Zion that fighteth and stretcheth out her hands: y who is me now: for my soule fainteth because of the murderers.

CHAP. V.

1. In Iudah no righter man was found, neither among the people nor shepherds. 15. Wherefore Iudah was destroyed of the Chaldeans.

1. Vnto and to by the strettes of Ierusalem, and behold now, and know & enquire in the open places thereof, if yee can finde a man, or if there be any that executeth iudgment, and seeketh the truth, and I will spare it.

2. For though they say, The Lord lieth, yet do they sweare falsely.

2. Which keep the iurats so strictly, that nothing can come in or out: so should the Babylonians compass Iudah.

3. He sheweth that the true ministers are truly touched with the calamities of the Church, so that all the parts of their body feele the griefe of their heart, albeit with feale to Gods glory they pronounce his iudgements against the people.

4. Meaning the cities, which were as easily cast downe as a tent.

5. Their wisdom and policy tend to their owne destruction & pulled them from God.

6. By these manner of speeches he sheweth the horrible destruction that should come vpon the land, and also condemneth the obliuiousness of the people who to repent not at the least of these terrible things, seeing that the infernall creatures are moved therewith, as if the order of nature should be changed.

7. Ezr. 3. 7. Joel 2. 31. & 3. 15.

8. As for his mercies sake he will serue himselfe a sacrifice to be his Church, and to praise him in earth, Isa. 2. 9.

9. Neither thy ceremonies nor rich gifts shall deliue thee.

10. As the prophets were moved to pity the destruction of their people, so they declared it to the people to moue them to repentance, Isa. 22. 4. chap. 9. 1.

p Who ſhall kill him with their arrows.

q Here the Lord declareth his vnſpeakable iourne toward his Church as Chap. 4. 27. r Chap. 16. 10. s Meaning, the prophet Ieremiah.

3 O Lord, are not thine eyes vpon the earth? thou haſt ſtricken them, but they haue not forrowed: thou haſt conſumed them, but they haue reſuſed to receiue correction: they haue made their faces harder then a ſtone, and haue reſuſed to returne.

4 Therefore I ſaid, Surely they are poore, they are fooliſh, for they knowe not the way of the Lord, nor the iudgement of their God.

5 I will get me vnto the great men, and will ſpeake vnto them: for they haue knowne the way of the Lord, and the iudgement of their God: but theſe haue altogether broken the yoke, and buſt the bonds.

6 Wherefore a lion out of the wildeſneſſe ſhall ſlay them, and a wolfe of the wildeſneſſe ſhall deſtroy them: a leopard ſhall watch ouer their cities: euery one that goeth out thence, ſhall be come in pieces: becauſe their treſpaſſes are many, and their rebellions are increaſed.

7 How ſhould I lpare thee for this? thy children haue forſaken me, and ſworne by them that are no gods: though I fedde them to the full, yet they committed adultery, & aſſembled themſelues by companies in the harlots houſes.

8 They roſe vp in the morning like fedd horſes: for euery man neyed after his neighbours wife.

9 Shall I not viſite for theſe things, ſaith the Lord? ſhall not my ſoule be aueged on ſuch a nation as this?

10 I climb vp vpon their walles, and deſtroy them, but make not a full ende: I take away their battlements, for they are not the Lords.

11 For the houſe of Iſrael and the houſe of Iudah haue grievouſly treſpaſſed againſt mee, ſaith the Lord.

12 They haue denied the Lord, and ſayd, It is not he, neither ſhall the plague come vpon vs, neither ſhall we ſee ſword nor famine.

13 And the Prophets ſhalbe as wind, and the word is not in them: thus ſhall it come vnto them.

14 Wherefore thus ſaith the Lord God of hoſts, Becauſe ye ſpeake ſuch wordes, behold, I will put my wordes into a thy mouth, like a fire, and this people ſhall be as wood, and it ſhall deuoure them.

15 Lo, I will bring a nation vpon you from ſarre, O houſe of Iſrael, ſaith the Lord, which is a mighty nation, and an ancient nation, a nation whoſe language thou knoweſt not, neither vaderſtandeſt what they ſay.

16 Whoſe quieter is as an open ſepulchre: they are all very ſtrong.

17 And they ſhall eate thine harueſt and thy bread: they ſhall deuoure thy finnes & thy daughters: they ſhall eat vp thy cheep and thy bullocks: they ſhall eate thy vines and thy figge trees: they ſhall deſtroy with the ſword thy fenced cities, wherein thou diſt truſt.

18 Neuertheleſſe, at thoſe daies, ſaith the Lord, I will not make a full end of you.

19 And when ſee ſhall ſay, Wherefore doeth the Lord our God doe theſe things vnto vs? then ſhalt thou anſwere them, Like as yee haue forſaken mee, and ſerued ſtrange gods in your land, ſo ſhall yee ſerue ſtrangers in a land that is not yours.

20 Declare this in the houſe of Iſaakob, and publiſh it in Iudah, ſaying, 21 Heare now this, O fooliſh people, & without vnderſtanding, which haue eyes and ſee not, which haue eares and heare not.

22 Feare ye not me, ſaith the Lord? or will ye not be afraid at my preſence, which haue placed the ſand for the bounds of the ſea by the perpetual decree that it cannot paſſe it, & though the waues thereof rage, yet can they not preuaile, though they roare, yet can they not paſſe ouer it.

23 But this people hath an vnfaithfull and rebellious heart: they are departed and gone.

24 For they ſay not in their heart, Let vs now feare the Lord our God, that giueth raine both early and late in due ſeaſon: he receiuerh vnto vs the appointed weeks of the harueſt.

25 Yet your iniquities haue turned away theſe things, and your finnes haue hindered good things from you.

26 For among my people are found wicked perſons, that lay wait as hee that ſetteth ſnares: they haue made a pit to catch men.

27 As a cage is full of birds, ſo are their houſes full of deceit: thereby they are become great, and waxen rich.

28 They are waxen fat and ſhining: they doe ouerpaſſe the deedes of the wicked: they execute no iudgement, no not the iudgement of the fatherleſſe: yet they prosper, though they execute no iudgement for the poore.

29 Shall I not viſite for theſe things, ſaith the Lord? ſhall not my ſoule be aueged on ſuch a nation as this?

30 An horrible and filthy thing is committed in the Land.

31 The prophets prophetic lie, and the priets receive giftes in their hands, and my people delight therein. What will ye then doe in the end thereof?

CHAP. VI.

1 The coming of the Affyrians and Caldeans. 26 He exhorteſt the Iewes to repentance.

O YE children of Benjamin, prepare to flee out of the mids of Ieruſalem, and blowe the trumpet in Bethkoa: ſet vp a ſtandart vpon Bethhaccerem: for a plague appeareth out of the North and great deſtruction.

2 I haue compared the daughter of Zion to a beautiful and dainty woman.

3 The Paſtors with their flockes ſhall come vnto her: they ſhall pitch their tents round about by her, and euery one ſhall feede in his place.

4 Prepare warre againſt her: ariſe and let vs go vp toward the South: we vnto vs: for the day declineth, and the ſhadowes of the evening are ſtretched out.

5 Ariſe, and let vs go vp by night and deſtroy her palaces.

6 For thus hath the Lord of hoſtes ſayd, Hew down wood, and caſt a mount againſt Ieruſalem: this cite muſt bee viſited: all oppreſſion is in the mids of it.

7 As the ſountaine caſteth out her waters, ſo ſhee caſteth out her malice: ſo cruelty and ſpoyle is continually heard in her before me with ſorrow and ſtrokes.

8 Thee thou inſtrued, O Ieruſalem, left my ſoule depart from thee, left I make thee deſolate as a land, that none inhabiteth.

9 Thulath the Lord of hostes, They shall gather as a vine, the residue of Israel. turne backe thine hand as the grape gatherer into the baskets.

10 Vnto whom shall I speake and admonish that they may heare? behold, their eares are vncircumcised, and they cannot hearken, behold, the word of the Lord is vnto them as a reproch: they haue no delight in it.

11 Therefore I am full of the wrath of the Lord: I am weary with holding it: I will powre it out vpon the children in the freete, and likewise vpon the assembly of the yong men: for the husband shall euen be taken with the wife, and the aged with him that is full of dayes.

12 And their houses with their lands, and wines also shall bee turned vnto strangers: nor I will stretch out mine hand vpon the inhabitants of the land, saith the Lord.

13 For from the least of them, euen vnto the greatest of them, euery one is giuen vnto conuulsiuene, and from the Prophet euen vnto the Priest, they all deale falsly.

14 They haue healed also the hurt of the daughter of my people with sweet words, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

15 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not ashamed, no neither could they haue any shame: therefore they shall fall among the flaine: when I shall visite them, they shall be cast downe, sayth the Lord.

16 Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the wayes and behold, and aske for the olde way, which is the good way, and walke therein, and ye shall find rest for your soules: but they sayd, Wee will not walke therein.

17 Also I set watchmen ouer you, which sayd, Take heed to the found of the trumpet: but they sayd, We will not take heed.

18 Heare therefore, ye Gentiles: and thou Congregation know what is among them.

19 Heare, O earth, behold, I will cause a plague to come vpon this people, euen the fruit of their owne imaginations: because they haue not taken heed vnto my wordes, nor to my Law, but cast it off.

20 To what purpose bringest thou me incense from Sheba, and sweete calamus from a farr country? Your burnt offerings are not pleasant, nor your sacrifices sweete vnto me.

21 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will lay stumbling blockes before this people, and the fathers and the sonnes together shall fall vpon them: the neighbour and his friend shall perish.

22 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, a people cometh from the North country, and a great nation shall arise from the sides of the earth.

23 With bow and shield shall they be weaponed: they are cruell and wil haue no compassion: their voyce roareth like the sea, and they ride vpon horses well appointed, like men of warre against thee, O daughter Zion.

24 We haue heard their fame, and our hands waxe feeble: sorrow is come vpon vs, as the sorrow of a woman in trauaile.

25 Goe not forth into the field, nor walke by the way: for the sword of the enemy, and feare is on euery side,

26 O daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, and allow thy selfe in the after: make lamentation, and bitter mourning, as for thine only sonne: for the destroyer shall suddenly come vpon vs.

27 I haue set thee for a defence and fortresse among my people, that thou mayest know and trie their wayes.

28 They are all rebellious traitours, walking craftily: they are brasie and yron, they all are destroyers.

29 The bellowes are burnt: the lead is consumed in the fire: the founder melteth in vaine: for the wicked are not taken away.

30 They shall call them reprobate siluer, because the Lord hath reiected them,

CHAP. VII.

2 Jeremiah is commanded to shew vnto the people the word of God, which smiteth in the outwarde sense of the Temple. 13 The earth shall fall vnto the Iewes, for the defiling of their Priests. 21 Sacrifices doth vs the Lord chiefly require of the Iewes, but that they should vnto word.

THE wordes that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Stand in the gate of the Lords Houe, and cry this word there, and say, Heare the word of the Lord, all ye of Iudah that enter in at their gates to worship the Lord.

3 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Amend your wayes and your workes, and I will let you dwell in this place.

4 Trust not in lying words, saying, The Temple of the Lord, the Temple of the Lord: this is the Temple of the Lord.

5 For if you amend and redresse your wayes and your workes: if you execute iudgement betweene a man and his neighbour,

6 And oppresse not the stranger, the fatherles and the widow, and shedde no innocent blood in this place, neither walke after other gods to your destruction,

7 Then will I let you dwell in this place in the lande that I gaue vnto your fathers for euer and euer.

8 Behold, you trust in lying wordes, that cannot profit.

9 Will you steale: murder, and commit adultery, and sweare falsly, and burne incense vnto Baal, and walke after other gods whom ye know not?

10 And come and stand before mee in this House, whereupon my Name is called and say, We are deliuered, though we haue done all these abominations?

11 Is this House become a denne of theues, whereupon my Name is called before your eyes? Behold, euen I see it, saith the Lord.

12 But go ye now vnto my place which was in Shiloh, where I set my Name at the beginning, and behold what I did to it for the wickednes of my people Israel.

13 Therefore now because ye haue done all these workes, sayth the Lord, (and I spoke vnto you early and spake vnto you: but when I spake, ye would not heare me: neither when I called, would ye answer)

t For feare of the enemy: hee speaketh thir in the person of the Iewes.

14 Therefore wil I do vnto this house, whereupon my Name is called, wherein also yee trust, euen vnto the place that I gaue to you, and to your fathers, as I haue done vnto Shilo.

15 And I wil cast you out of my sight, as I haue cast out all your brethren, even the whole kinde of Ephraim.

16 Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, neither lift vp cry or prayer for them, neither increase me, for I will not heare thee.

17 Seest thou not what they doe in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem?

18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kinde the fire, and the women knead the dough to make cakes to the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings vnto other Gods, that they may prouoke me vnto anger.

19 Doe they prouoke mee to anger, sayth the Lord, and not themselves to the confusion of their owne faces?

20 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde God, Behold, mine anger and my wrath shall be powred vpon this place, vpon man and vpon beast, and vpon the tree of the feld, and vpon the fruit of the ground, and it shall burne and not bee quenched.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Put your burnt offerings vnto your sacrifices, and eate the flesh.

22 For I spake not vnto your fathers, nor commanded them, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings and sacrifices:

23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voyce, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: and walke ye in all the wayes which I haue commanded you, that it may be well vnto you.

24 But they would not obey, nor incline their eare but went after the counsels & the stubbornnesse of their wicked heart, and went backward and not forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came vp out of the land of Egypt, euen vnto this day, I haue sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, smyling vp early every day and sending them.

26 Yet would they not heare me nor incline their eare, but hardened their necke & did worse then their fathers.

27 Therefore shalt thou speake all these words vnto them, but they will not heare thee: thou shalt also cry vnto them, but they will not answer thee.

28 But thou shalt say vnto them, This is a nation that heareth not the voyce of the Lord their God, nor receiueth discipline: truth is perished, and is cleane gone out of their mouth.

29 Cut off thine haire, O Ierusalem, and cast it away, and take vp a complaint on the hie places: for the Lord hath reiected and forsaken the generation of this people.

30 For the children of Iudah haue done euill in my sight, sayth the Lord: they haue set their abominations in the House, whereupon my Name is called to pollute it.

31 And they haue built the hie place of a Topheth, which is in the valley of Ben-Hinnom to burne their sonnes and their daughters in the fire, which I commanded them not, neither came it in mine heart.

32 Therefore behold, the dayes come, sayth

the Lord, that it shal no more be called Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-Hinnom, but the valley of slaughter: for they shall bury in Topheth all there be no place.

33 And the carkeises of this people shall bee meate for the foules of the heauen, and for the beasts of the earth, and none shall fray them away.

34 *Then I will cause to cease from the cities of Iudah, and from the streetes of Ierusalem the voyce of mirth, and the voyce of gladnesse, the voyce of the bridegrome, and the voice of the bride: for the land shall be desolate.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The destruction of the Iewes. 4 The Lord moneth the people to amendment. 10 He reprehendeth the lying doctrine and the customes of the Priests.

AT that time, sayeth the Lord, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Iudah, and the bones of their Princes, and the bones of the Priests, and the bones of the Prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Ierusalem out of their graues.

2 And they shall spread them before the sunne and the moone, and all the host of heauen, whom they haue loved, and whom they haue serued, and whom they haue followed, and whom they haue sought, and whom they haue worshipped: they shall not be gathered nor be buried, but shalbe as dung vpon the earth.

3 And death shall be desired rather then life of all the residue that remaineth of this wicked familie, which remaine in all the places where I haue scattered them, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

4 Thou shalt say vnto them also, Thus sayth the Lord, Shall they fall, and not arise? shall he turne away and not turne againe?

5 Wherefore is this people of Ierusalem turned backe by a perpetuall rebellion? they gaue themselves to decit, and would not returne.

6 I hearkened and heard, but none spake a right: no man repented him of his wickednesse, saying, What haue I done? euerie day one turned to their race, as the horse rusheth into the battell.

7 Euen the stork in the ayre knoweth her appointed times, and the turtle, and the crane and the swallow obserue the time of their coming, but my people knoweth not the iudgement of the Lord.

9 The wise men are ashamed: they are afraid and taken: loe they haue reiected the word of the Lord, and what wisdom is in them?

10 Therefore will I giue their wives vnto others, and their fields to them that shall possesse them: for euery one from the least euen vnto the greatest is giuen to couetousnesse, and from the Prophet euen vnto the Priest, euery one dealeth filly.

11 For they haue healed the hurt of the daughter of my people with sweete wordes, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

12 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not ashamed, neither could they haue any shame: therefore shall they fall among the flaine: when I shall visite them, they shall bee cast downe, sayth the Lord.

24 The complaint of the Prophet for the malice of the people. 25 In the knowledge of God ought we onely to reioyce. 26 The vncircumcision of the heart.

O H, that mine head were full of a water, and mine eyes a fountaine of teares, that I might weepe day and night for the flaine of the daughter of my people.

2 Oh, that I had in the wilderness a b cottage of waywaring men, that I might leaue my people, and goe from them: for they be all c adulterers, and an assemblie of rebels,

3 And they bend their tongues like their bowes for lies: but they haue no courage for the truth vpon the earth: for they proceed from euill to worse, and they haue not knowen mee, saith the Lord.

4 Let euery one take heed of his neighbour, and trust you not in any b brother: for euery brother will vie deceit, and euery friend will deale deceitfully.

5 And euery one will deceiue his friend, and will not speake the truth for they f haue taught their tongues to speake lies, and take great paines to doe wickedly.

6 Thine habitation is in the middes of deceiuers: g because of their deceit they refuse to know me, saith the Lord.

e Meaning, that all were corrupt, and none could find an honest man. f They haue practised deceit that they cannot forsake it. g They had rather forsake God, then leaue their wicked trade.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Be-hold, I will h melt them, and trie them: for what should I els doe for the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongue e as an arrow flieth out, and speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in his heart hee layeth wait for him.

9 Shall I not visit them for these things, saith the Lord? or shall not my soule bee auenged on such a nation as this?

10 Vpon the i mountaines will I take vp a weeping and a lamentation, and vpon the faire places of the wilderness a mourning, becau e they are burnt vp, so that none can passe thorow them neither can men heare the voyce of the flocke: both the fowle of the aire, and the beast are fled away and gone.

11 And I will make Ierusalem an heape, and a den of dragons, and I will make the cities of Iudah waste without an inhabitant.

12 Who is k wife to vnderstand this? and to whom the mouth of the Lord hath spoken, even he shall declare it. Why doth the land perish, and is burnt vp like a wilderness, that none passe thorow?

13 And the Lord saith, Because they haue forsaken my Law, which I set before them, and haue not obeyed my voyce, neither walked there-after,

14 But haue walked after the stubbornnes of their owne heart, and after Baalims, which l their fathers taught them,

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will feed this people with wormewood, and giue them waters of gall m to drinke:

16 I will scatter them also among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers haue known, and I will send a sword after them, till I haue consumed them.

17 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Take heede, and call for n the mourning women, that they may come, and send for skilfull women, that they may come.

18 And let them make haste, and let them take vp a lamentation for vs, that our eyes may call out teares, and our eye liddes gush out of water.

19 For a lamentable noise is heard out of Zion, How are wee destroyed, and vtterly confounded, for we haue forsaken the land, and our dwellings o haue cast vs out.

20 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, O ye women, and let your eares regard the words of his mouth, & p teach your daughters to mourne, and euery one her neighbour to lament.

21 For death is come vp into our q windowes, and is entered into our palaces, to destroy the children without, and the young men in the streets.

22 Speake, Thus saith the Lord, The carkeises often shall lie, euen as the doun vpon the field, and as the handiull after the mower, and none shall gather them.

5 That I may confirme the othe, that I haue sworn vnto your fathers to giue them a lande, which flourish with milke and honie, as appereth this day. Then answered ^b I, and said, So be it, O Lord.

6 Then the Lord said vnto mee, Cry all these wordes in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, saying, Heare ye the wordes of this couenant, and doe them.

7 For I haue protested vnto your fathers, when I brought them vp out of the land of Egypt vnto this day, ^c rising early and protesting, saying, Obey my voyce.

8 Neuerthelesse they would not obey, nor endine their care: but euery one walked in the stubburnesse of his ^d wicked heart: therefore I will bring vpon them all the ^e wordes of this couenant which I commaunded them to doe, but they did it not.

9 And the Lord said vnto me, A ^f conspiracy is found among the men of Iudah, and among the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

10 They are turned backe to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to heare my wordes: and they went after other gods to serue them: ^g thus the house of Israel and the house of Iudah haue broken my couenant, which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring a plague vpon them, which they shal not be able to escape, and though they cry vnto me, I will not heare them.

12 Then shall the cities of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem go, and cry vnto the gods vnto whom they offer incense, but they shal not bee able to helpe them in time of their trouble.

13 ^h For according to the number of thy cities werethy gods, O Iudah, and according to the number of the streetes of Ierusalem haue ye set vp altars of confusion, ⁱ even altars to burne incense vnto Baal.

14 Therefore thou shalt not ^j pray for this people, neither lift vp a cry, or praiſe for them: for when they cry vnto me in their trouble, I will not heare them.

15 What should my ^k beloued sarie in mine house, seeing they haue committed abomination with many? and the holy ^l ghost goeth away from thee: yet when thou dost ^m cull, thou reioycst.

16 The Lord called thy name, A greene oliue tree, ⁿ sa re, and of goodly fruit: but with ^o noy e and great tumult he hath set fire vpon it, and the branches of it are broken.

17 For the Lord of hostes that planted thee, hath pronounced a plague against thee, for the wickednesse of the house of Israel, and of the house of Iudah, which they haue done against themselves to prouoke me to anger in offering incense vnto Baal.

18 And the Lord hath taught mee, and I know it, ^p even then thou shewest mee ^q their practices.

19 But I was like a lambe, or a bullocke, that is brought to the slaughter, and I knew not that they had deuised thus against me, ^r saying, Let vs ^s destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and cut him out of the land of the liuing, that his name may be no more in memorie,

20 But O Lord of hostes, that iudgeth righteously, and triest the rmes and the heart, let mee see thy ^t vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

21 The Lord therefore speaketh thus of the men of ^u Anathoth, (that tecke thy life, and say, ^v Prophesie not in the name of the Lord, that thou die not by our hands,)

22 Thus therefore saith the Lord of hostes, Behold I will visit them: the yong men shall die by the sword: their sonnes and their daughters shall die by famine,

O Lord, if I dispute with thee, thou art a righteous: yet let me talke with thee of thy iudgements: wherefore doest thou the way of the wicked ^b prophet? why are all they in wealth that rebelliously ran greſſe?

2 Thou hast planted them, and they haue taken root: they grow, and bring forth fruit, thou art neere in their mouth, and farre from their ^c crines.

3 But thou, Lord, knowest me, thou hast sene me, and tried mine heart toward thee: pull them out like sheepe from the slaughter, and ^d prepare them for the day of slaughter.

4 How long shall the land mourne, and the herbes of euery held wither, for the wickednesse of them that dwell therein? the beasts are consumed, and the birds, because they said, ^e He will not see our last end.

5 If thou hast runne with the ^f footmen, and they haue wearied thee, then how canst thou match thy selfe with horses? and if thou thoughtest thy selfe in a peaceable land, what wilt thou doe in the swelling of Iorden?

 10 Many pastors haue destroyed my vineyard, and troden my portion vnder foote: of my pleasant portion they haue made a desolate wilderness.
 11 They haue layde it waste, and it, being waste, mourneth vnto mee, and the whole land lieth waste, because no man setteth his minde on it.
 12 The destroyers are come vpon all the high places in the wilderness: for the sword of the Lord shall deuoure from the one end of the land euen to the other end of the land: no flesh shall haue peace.

 CHAP. XIII.
 The destruction of the leuiti is prophesied. 1. Why shall man be come to be the people of God, and why they were forsaken, 15 He exhorteth them to repentance.
 T Thus saith the Lord vnto mee, Goe, and buy thee a linnen girdle, and put it vpon thy loynes, and put it not in water.
 2 So I brought the girdle according to the commandement of the Lord, and put it vpon my loynes.
 3 And the word of the Lord came vnto mee the second time, saying,
 4 Take the girdle that thou hast bought, which is vpon thy loynes, and arise, goe toward Perath, and hide it there in the cleft of the rocke.
 5 So I went, and hid it by Perath, as the Lord had commanded me.
 6 And after many dayes the Lord saide vnto me, Arise, goe toward Perath, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.
 7 Then went I to Perath, and digged, and tooke the girdle from the place where I had hid it, and behold, the girdle was corrupt, and was profitable for nothing.
 8 Then the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,
 9 Thus saith the Lord, After this manner will I destroy the pride of Iudah, and the great pride of Ierusalem.

 10 This wicked people haue refused to heare my word, and walke after the stubbornesse of their owne heart, and walke after other gods to serue them, and to worship them: therefore they shall bee as this girdle, which is profitable to nothing.
 11 For as the girdle cleaueth to the loynes of a man, so haue I tied to mee the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Iudah, saith the Lord, that they might be as my people: that they might haue a name and praise, and glory, but they would not heare.
 12 Therefore thou shalt say vnto them this word, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Euery bottell shall bee filled with wine, and they shall say vnto thee, Do we not know that euery bottell shall bee filled with wine?
 13 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, Behold I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, euen the kings that sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and the Priests and the Prophets and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem with drunkenesse.
 14 And I will dash them one against another, euen the fathers and the sonnes together, saith the Lord: I will not spare, I will not pite, nor haue compassion, but destroy them.
 15 Heare and giue eare, be not proud: for the Lord hath spoken it.
 16 Giue glory to the Lord your God before he bring darkness, and or euer your feet stumble in the dark mountains, & whiles you looke for light, hee turne it into the shadow of death and make it as darknesse.
 17 But if ye will not heare this, my soule shall weepe in secret for your pride, and mine eye shall weepe and drop downe teares, because the Lords flocke is carried away captiue.
 18 Say vnto the King and to the Queene, Humble your selues, sit downe, for the crowne of your glory shall come downe from your heads.
 19 The cities of the South shall bee shut vp, and no man shall open them: all Iudah shall bee carried away captiue: it shall bee wholly carried away captiue.
 20 Lift vp your eyes, and beholde them that come from the North: where is the flocke that was giuen thee, euen thy beautifull flocke?
 21 What wilt thou say when he shall visit thee? (for thou hast taught them to bee captiues, and as chiefe ouer thee) shall not sorrow take thee as a woman in trauaile?

 23 Can the blacke Moore change his skin? or the leopard his spots? then may ye also do good, that are accustomed to doe euill.
 24 Therefore will I scatter them, as the stubble that is taken away with the South wind.
 25 This is thy portion, & the part of thy measures from me, saith the Lord, because thou hast forgotten me, and trusted in lies.
 26 Therefore I haue also discovered thy skirts vpon thy face, that thy shame may appeare.

CHAP. XIII.

8 Of the deaith that should come. 9 The prayer of the people asking mercie of the Lord. 10 The vnfaithfull people are not heard. 12 Of prayer, fasting, and false prophesies that seduce the people.

THe word of the Lord that came vnto Ieremiah, concerning the 2 || deaith.

1 Iudah hath mourned, and the gates thereof are desolate, they haue bene brought to heauinesse vnto the ground, and the crye of Ierusalem goeth vp.

2 And their nobles haue sent their inferiours to the water, who came to the welles, and found no water: they returned with their vessels empty: they were ashamed and confounded, and couered their heads.

3 For the ground was destroyed, because there was no raie in the earth: the plowmen were ashamed, and couered their heads.

4 Yea, the hinde also calued in the field, and forsooke it, because there was no grasse.

5 And the wilde asses did stand in the high places, & drew in their wind like dragons, their eyes did faile, because there was no grasse.

6 O Lord, though our iniquities testifie against vs, deale with vs according to thy name: for our rebellions are many, we sinned against thee.

7 O the hope of Israel, the fauourer thereof in the time of trouble, why art thou as a stranger in the land, as one that passeth by, to tarry for a night?

8 Why art thou as a man astonied, and as a strong man that cannot helpe? yet thou, O Lord, art in the midst of vs, and thy Name is called vpon vs: for sake vs not.

9 Thus saith the Lord vnto this people, Thus haue they delighted to wander: they haue not restrained their feete, therefore the Lord hath no delight in them: but hee will now remember their iniquities, and visite their finnes.

10 Then said the Lord vnto mee, i Thou shalt not pray to doe this people good.

11 When they fast, I will not heare their crye, and when they offer burnt offering, and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence.

12 Then answered I, Ah Lord God, behold, the prophets say vnto them, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall famine come vpon you: but I will giue you assured peace in this place.

13 Then the Lord said vnto mee, The prophets prophesie lies in my Name. I haue not sent them, neither did I command them, neither spake I vnto them, but they prophesie vnto you a false vision, and diuination, and vanitie, and deceitfullnesse of their owne heart.

14 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Concerning the prophets that prophesie in my Name, whom I haue not sent, yet they say, Sword & famine shall not bee in this land, by sword and famine shall those prophets be consumed.

15 And the people to whose these prophets do prophesie, shall be cast out in the streets of Ierusalem, because of the famine, & the sword, and there shall bee none to bury them: both they and their wines, and their sonnes, and their daughters: for I will powre their wickednes vpon them.

17 Therefore thou shalt say this word vnto them, Let mine eyes droppe downe teares night and day without ceasing: for the virgin daughter of my people is destroyed with a great destruction, and with a sore grievous plague.

18 For if I go into the field, behold the slaine with the sword: and if I enter into the city, behold them that are sick for hunger also: moreover, the Prophet also and the Priest go a wandring into a land that they know not.

19 Hast thou utterly reiecte Iudah, or hath thy soule abhorred Zion? why hast thou smitten vs, that wee cannot bee healed? Wee looked for peace, and there is no good, and for the time of health, and behold trouble.

20 Wee acknowledge, O Lord, our wickednesse, and the iniquitie of our fathers: for we haue sinned against thee.

21 Do not abhorre vs for thy Names sake cast not downe the throne of thy glory: remember and breake not thy couenant with vs.

22 Are there any among the vanities of the Gentiles, that can giue raie? or can the heauens giue shoue? Is it not thou, O Lord our God? therefore wee will wait vpon thee: for thou hast made all these things.

which is the only meane to auoid this famine, which was the plague. p Meaning, their idoles, read Chap. 15.

CHAP. XV.

1 The Lord would heare no prayer for the Iewes, 3 but threatned to destroy them with foure plagues.

Then said the Lord vnto mee, A Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet mine affection could not be toward this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them depart.

2 And if they say vnto thee, Whither shall we depart? then tell them, Thus saith the Lord, As such as are appointed to death, vnto death: and such as are for the sword, to the sword: and such as are for the famine to the famine: and such as are for the captiuitie, to the captiuitie.

3 And I will appoint out them foure kinds, saith the Lord, the sword to slay, and the dogs to teare in pieces, and the fowles of the heauen, and the beasts of the earth to deuoure, and to destroy.

4 I will scatter them also in all kindomes of the earth, because of Manasse the sonne of Hezekiah king of Iudah, for that which hee did in Ierusalem.

5 Who shall then haue pitie vpon thee, O Ierusalem? or who shall bee loe for thee? or who shall goe to pray for thy peace?

6 Thou hast forsaken mee, saith the Lord, and gone backward: therefore will I stretch out mine hand againe thee, and destroy thee: for I am wearie with repenting.

7 And I will scatter them with the fanne in the gates of the earth: I haue wasted, and destroyed my people, yet they would not returne from their wayes.

8 Their widowes are increased by me about the land of the sea: I haue brought vpon them, and against the assembly of the yong men a destroyer at noone day: I haue caused him to fall vpon them, and the city suddenly, and speedily.

9 Shee that hath borne many children, hath bene made weak: her heart hath failed: the sunne hath failed in her, whiles it was day, the hath bene confounded, and ashamed, and the residue of them a These are the Prophets words, complaining of the obliquity of the people, and that he was referred to so wicked a time, wherein also hee sheweth what is the condition of Gods ministers: to wit, to have all the world against them though they giue none occasion.

b Which is an occasion of contention and hatred. m In this perplexitie the Lord comforted me, and said that my last dayes should be quiet: and by the enemy was meant here Nebuzardan the captaine of Nebuchadnezzar, who gaue Ierusalem the choicelike to remaine in his country, or to go whither he would: or by the enemy he meant the Iewes which thenceforth should know Ierusalem a feilitie, and therefore forsake him.

n As for these people, though they seemed strong as yron, yet should they be able to resist the hard yron of Babylon, but should be led captiues.

will I deliuer vnto the sword before their enemies, saith the Lord.

10 ¶ Woe is mee, my mother, that thou hast borne me, a contentious man, and a man that striveth with the whole earth: I have neither lene on viſry, nor men have lene vnto me on viſry, yet every one doth curse me.

11 The Lord said, Surely thy remnant shall have wealth: surely I will cause thine enemy to intreat thee in the time of trouble, and in the time of affliction.

12 Shall the yron breake the yron, and the braile that cometh from the North?

13 Thy substance and thy treasures will I giue to be spoiled without gaine, and that for all thy finnes, euen in all thy borders.

14 And I will make thee to go with thine enemies into a land that thou knowest not: for a fire is kindled in mine anger, which shall burne you.

15 O Lord, thou knowest, remember mee, and visit me, and reuenge me of my persecuters. take me not away in the continuance of thine anger: know that for thy sake I have suffered rebuke.

16 Thy wordes were found by me, and I did reate them, and thy word was vnto me the joy and reioysing of mine heart: for thy Name is called vpon me, O Lord God of hostes.

17 I fate not in the assembly of the mockers, neither did I reioyce, but fate alone: because of thy plague: for thou hast filled me with indignation.

18 Why is mine heaviness continually? and my plague desperate and cannot be healed? why at thou vnto me as a liar, and as waters that faile?

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord, If thou returne, then will I bring thee againe, and thou shalt stand before me: and if thou take away the precious from the vile, thou shalt be according to my word: let them returne vnto thee, but returne not thou vnto them.

20 And I will make thee vnto this people a strong brazen wall, and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not preuaile against thee: for I am with thee to saue thee, and to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

21 And I will deliuer thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeeme thee out of the hand of the tyrants.

22 ¶ I had nothing to do with the wicked contemners of thy word, but I lamented bitterly for thy plagues: shewing what the faithful should do when they see tokens of Gods anger. r And halt not assailed me according to thy promise: wherein appeareth, that in the Saints of God is impetion of faith, which through impatience is oftentimes daffled, as Chap. 20. 7. s I thought I should forget these carnall considerations, and faithfully execute thy charge. t That is, I seek to winne the good of the bad. u To wit, as my mouth hath pronounced, Chap. 1. 18. and as here I followeth verse 20. x As Conforte my selfe to their wickednes, but let them follow thy goodly example. y I will arme thee with an invincible strength and constancy, so that all the powers of the world shall not overcome thee.

23 The Lord forbidding Ieremiah to marry, & shewing him what should be the affliction upon Babel. 13 The captivity of Babylon. 15 Their deliuerance. 19 The calling of the Gentiles.

The word of the Lord came also vnto me, saying,

24 Thou shalt not take a thee a wife, nor haue sonnes nor daughters in this place.

25 For thus saith the Lord concerning the sonnes, and concerning the daughters, that are borne in this place, & concerning their mothers that beare them, & concerning their fathers that beget them in this land:

26 They shall die of deaths and diseases: they shall not be lamented, neither shall they be buried, but they shall be as dung vpon the earth, and they shall be consumed by the sword, and by famine, and their carkeies shall be meate for the foules of the heauen, and for the beasts of the earth.

27 For thus saith the Lord, Enter not into the house of mourning, neither goe to lament, nor be moued for them: for I have taken my peace from this people, saith the Lord, euen mercy and compassion.

28 Both the great and the small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, nor cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them.

29 They shall not stretch out the hands for them in the morning to comfort them for the dead, neither shall they giue them the cup of consolation to drink for their father or for their mother.

30 Thou shalt not also goe into the house of feasting, to sit with them to eat and to drinke.

31 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, euen in your daies, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladnesse, the voice of the bridegrome, and the voice of the bride.

32 And when thou shalt shew this people all these words, and they shall say vnto thee, Wherefore hath the Lord pronounced all this great plague against vs? or what is our iniquity? and what is our sinne that we haue committed against the Lord our God?

33 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Because your fathers haue forsaken me, saith the Lord, and haue walked after other gods, and haue serued them, and worshipped them, and haue forsaken me, and haue not kept my law,

34 (And ye haue done worse than your fathers: for behold, you walke euery one after the stubburnes of his wicked heart, & will not heare me)

35 Therefore will I driue you out of this land into a land that ye know not, neither you nor your fathers, and there shall ye serue other gods day and night: for I will shew you no grace.

36 Behold therefore, saith the Lord, the dayes come that it shall no more be said, The Lord Iudith which brought vp the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt,

37 But, the Lord Iudith, that brought vp the children of Israel: from the land of the North, and from all the landes where hee had scattered them, and I will bring them againe into their land that I gaue vnto their fathers.

38 Behold, saith the Lord, I will send out many sifers, and they shall fish them, and after will I send out many hunters, and they shall hunt them from euery mountaine, and from euery hill, and from out of the caues of the rocks:

39 For mine eyes are vpon all their waies: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquity hid from mine eyes.

40 And first I will recompence their iniquity, and their sinne double, because they haue defiled my land, and haue filled mine inheritance with their filthy carions, and their abominations.

41 O Lord, thou art my strength, and my strength, and my refuge in the day of affliction: the Gentiles shall come vnto thee from the endes of the world, and shall say, Surely our fathers haue inherited lies, and vanities, wherein there was no profit.

42 Shall a man make gods vnto himselfe, and they are no gods.

b Signifying, that the affliction should be so great, that one should not haue leaue to comfort another.

c That is, should not rent their clothes in signe of mourning.

d For in these great extremities all consolation and comfort shall be in vaine.

¶ Chap. 15.

e Because the wicked are alwayes rebellious, and disobedient to their own finnes, and maruilles against Gods iudgements, as though he had no iust cause to punish them, he sheweth him what to answer.

f Signifying, that the deneth of their deliuerance out of Babylon should be so great, that it should abolish the remembrance of their deliuerance from Egypt: but hath heretofore respected to the spiritual deliuerance vnder Christ.

g By the sifers & hunters are meant the Babylonians and Caldeans, who should destroy them in such sort, that if they escaped the one, the other should take them.

h That is, their sonnes and daughters which they offer to Molech.

i He wondereth at the great mercy of God in this deliuerance which shall not only extend to the Iewes, but also to the Gentiles.

k Our fathers were most vile idolaters: therefore it cometh only of Gods mercy that he performeth his promise, and hath not utterly cast vs off.

a They shall again feel my power, and mercy
for their deliverance, that they may learn to

6 For he shall be like the heath in the wilderness, and shall not see when any good cometh, but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, in a salt land, and not inhabited.

7 Blessed be the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whole hope the Lord is.

8 ^b And he shall be as a tree that is planted by the water, which spreadeth out her rootes by the ruer, and shall not feele when the heat cometh, but her leafe shall be greene, and shall not care for the yere of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit.

9 ⁱ The heart is deceitfull and wicked about all things, who can know it?

10 I the Lord search the heart, and trie the reins, euen to giue euery man according to his wayes, and according to the fruite of his workes.

11 ^k As the Partrich gathereth the young, which she hath not brought forth: so hee that getteth riches, and not by right, shall leaue them in the middes of his dayes, and at his end shall be a foole.

12 ^l As a glorious throne exalted from the beginning, so is the place of our Sanctuary.

13 O Lord, the hope of Israel, all that forsake thee, shall be confounded: they that depart from thee, shall be written ^m in the earth, because they haue forsaken the Lord, the fountaine of liuing waters.

14 Heale me, O Lord, and I shall see whole: ⁿ saue mee, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise.

a Their own lewd imaginations deceive them, and bring them to these inconveniences: but God will examine their deedes by the malice of their hearts. 1 Sam. 16. 7. 1 Chron. 9. 9. Psa. 7. 10. Chap. 17. 20. and 20. 12. Jer. 2. 23. b As the Partrich by calling gathereth others, which foake her, when they see that shee is not their damme: so the covetous man is forsaken of his riches, because he cometh by them falsely. 1 Shewing that the godly ought to play nothing but in God, who doth exalt him, and hath left a signe of his favour in his Temple. 10 Their aimes shall not be reserued in the booke of life. n Hee desireth God to preserve him that he fall not into temptation, considering the great contempt of Gods word, and the multitude that fall from God.

15 Behold, O they say vnto mee, Where is the word of the Lord? let it come now.

16 But I haue not thrust in my selfe for a pail after thee, neither haue I defiled the day of misery, thou knowest that which came out of my lips, was right before thee.

17 Be not so terrible vnto me: thou art mine hope in the day of aduersitie.

18 Let them be confounded that persecute me, but let not me be confounded: let them be afraid, but let not me be afraid: bring vpon them the day of aduersitie, and destroy them with double destruction.

19 Thus hath the Lord said vnto me, Goe and stand in the gate of the children of the people, whereby the Kings of Iudah come in, and by the which they goe out, and in all the gates of Ierusalem:

20 And say vnto them, Heare the word of the Lord ye Kings of Iudah, & all Iudah & all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, that enter in by their gates.

21 Thus saith the Lord, Take heede to your soules and beare no burden in the Sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Ierusalem:

22 Neither carrie forth burdens out of your houses in the Sabbath day: neither doe yee any worke, but sanctifie the Sabbath, as I commanded your fathers.

23 But they obeyed not, neither inclined their eares, but made their neckes stiffe and would not heare, nor receiue correction.

24 Neuertheless, if ye will heare me, saith the Lord, and beare no burden through the gates of the city in the Sabbath day, but sanctifie the Sabbath day, so that yee doe no worke therein,

25 Then shall the Kings and the Princes enter in at the gates of the cite, and shall sit ^o vpon the throne of David, and shall ride vpon chaires, and vpon horses, with they and their princes, the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and this cite shall remaine for euer.

26 And they shall come from the cities of Iudah, and from about Ierusalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the plaine, and from the mountaine, & from the South, which shall bring burnt offerings, and sacrifices, and meate offerings, and incense, and shall bring sacrifice of praise into the house of the Lord.

27 But if ye will not heare me to sanctifie the Sabbath day, and not to beare a burden, nor to go through the gates of Ierusalem in the Sabbath day, then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Ierusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

a God sheweth by the example of a potter that it is in his power to destroy the destroyers of his word. 18 The conspiracy of the Jews against Ieremiah. 19 His prayer against his adversaries.

The word which came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 ^a Ari'e, & goe downe into the potters house, and there shall I shew thee my words.

3 Then I went downe to the potters house, & behold he wrought a worke on the wheelers.

4 And the vessell that he made of clay, was broken in the hand of the potter, so he returned, and made it another vessell, as seemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

o The wicked say that my prophesie shall not come to passe because thou deferrest the time of thy vengeance. p I am assured of my vocation, and therefore know that the thing which thou speakest by me, shall come to passe, and that I speake not of any wordly affliction.

q How often the wicked dealer rigorously with me, yet let me finde comfort in thee. r Reade Chap. 71. 20.

s Wheresthy doctrine may be selfe vnderstood both of high and low.

t By naming the Sabbath day, he comprehends the thing that is thereby signified: for they transgressed in the ceremony they must needs be culpable of the reit. Reade Exod. 20. 8 and by the breaking of this one commandment, he maketh them transgressors of the whole Law, for as much as the first and second table are contained herein.

b When the Scripture attibuteth repentance vnto God, it is not that he doeth contrary to that which he hath ordained in his secret counaill: but when he threateth, it is a calling to repentance, and when he giueth man grace to repent, the threatening which euer containeth a condition in it, taketh no place: and this the Scripture calleth repentance in God, because it is appointed to mans iudgement.

c As men that had no remorse, but were altogether bent to rebellion and to their owne felicity.

d As no man that hath thirsted for sinne, can conduite waters which he hath at home, in to gas and teele waters abroad to quench his thirst: so they ought not to seeke to helpe and succour at strangers, when they seeke euill.

e These, the wayes of truth, which God hath taught by his law, see Chap. 6. 16.

f I will shew mine anger and not my fauour toward them.

g This argument his wickednesse merited against the seruants of God, The Church cannot erre: wee are the Church, and therefore whosoever speaketh against vs, he thought to die, 2. King. 22. 24. Chap. 7. 4. and so. 5. make 2. 4. and thus the false Church persecuteth the true Church, which standeth not in outward pompe, and in multitude, but is known by the graces of the holy Ghost.

h Let vs slander him, and accuse him: for we shall be beleued.

i Seeing the oblique malice of the aduersaries which grew thilly more and more, the Prophet bring moored with Gods Spirit, without any carnall affection prayeth for their destruction, because he knew that it should tend to Gods glory, and profit of his Church.

6 O house of Israel, cannot I doe with you as this pottor, saith the Lord? behold, as the clay in the potters hand, so are you in mine hand, O house of Israel.

7 I will speake suddenly against a nation, or against a kingdome to plucke it vp and to roote it out, and to destroy it.

8 But if this nation, against whom I haue pronounced, turne from their wickednesse, I will repent of the plague that I thought to bring vpon them.

9 And I will speake suddenly concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdome to build it and to plant it.

10 But if it doe euill in my sight, and heare not my voice, I will repent of the good that I thought to doe for them.

11 Speake thou now therefore vnto the men of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I prepare a plague for you, and purpose a thing against you: returne you therefore euery one from his euill way, and make your wayes and your workes good.

12 But they said e deperately, Surely we will walke after our owne imaginations, and doe euery man after the stubburnesse of his wicked heart.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Aske now among the heathen, who hath heard such things? the virgin of Iirael hath done very filthily.

14 Will a man forsake the snow of Lebanon, which cometh from the rocke of the field? or shall the colde flowing waters, that come from another place, be forsaken?

15 Because my people hath forgotten me, and haue burnt incense to vanitie, and their prophets haue caused them to stumble in their wayes from the ancient wayes, to walke in the pathes and way that is not troden,

16 To make their land desolate, and a perpetual derision, so that euery one that passeth thereby shall be astonishd and wagge his head,

17 I will scatter them with an East wind before the enemy: I will shew them the backe, and I not the face in the day of their destruction.

18 Then sayd they, Come, and let vs imagine some deuise against Ieremiah: for the Lawe shall not perish from the Priest, nor counsell from the wise, nor the word from the Prophet: come, and let vs smite him with the tongue, and let vs not giue heed to any of his words.

19 Hearken vnto me, O Lord, and heare the voice of them that contend with me.

20 Shall euill be recompensed for good? for they haue digged a pit for my soule: remember that I stood before thee, to speake good for them and to turne away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore, I deliuer vp their children to famine, and let them drop away by the force of the sword, and let their wiues be robbed of their children, and be widowes: and let their husbands be put to death, and let their young men be slaine by the sword in the battell.

22 Let the cry be heard from their houses when thou shalt bring an hoste suddenly vpon them: for they haue digged a pit to take me, and hid inares for my feet.

23 Yet Lord thou knowest all their counsell against me tendeth to death: forgieue not their iniquitie, neither put out their sinne from thy sight, but let them be ouerthrowen before thee: deale thus with them in the time of thine anger.

CHAP. XIX.

The propheteth the destruction of Ierusalem for the contempt and despising of the word of God.

Thus said the Lord, Goe and buy an earthen bottell of a pottor, and take of the ancients of the people, and of the ancients of the Priests,

2 And goe forth vnto the valley of Ben-hinnom, which is by the entrie of the East gate: and thou shalt preach there the words that I shall tell thee,

3 And shalt say, Heare yee the word of the Lord, O Kings of Iudah, and inhabitants of Ierusalem, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Iirael, Behold, I will bring a plague vpon this place, the which who soeuer heareth, his eares shall bingle.

4 Because they haue forsaken me, and profaned this place, and haue burnt incense in it vnto other gods, whom neither they, nor their fathers haue knownen, nor the kings of Iudah (they haue filled this place also with the blood of innocents,

5 And they haue built the hie places of Baal, to burne their sonnes with fire for burnt offerings vnto Baal, which I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my mind)

6 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that this place shall no more be called Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-hinnom, but the valley of slaughter.

7 And I will bring the counsell of Iudah and Ierusalem to nought in this place, and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hand of them that seeke their liues: and their carkeises will I giue to be meate for the foules of the heauen, and to the besties of the field.

8 *And I will make this citie desolate and an hissing, so that euery one that passeth thereby, shall be astonishd and hissfe because of all the plagues thereof.

9 *And I will feed them with the flesh of their sonnes, and with the flesh of their daughters, and euery one shall eate the flesh of his friend in the siege and straitnesse, wherwith their enemies that seeke their liues, shall hold them strait.

10 Then shalt thou breake the bottell in the sight of the men that goe with thee,

11 And shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Euen so will I breake this people and this citie, as one breaketh a potters vessell, that cannot be made whole againe, and they shall burie them in Topheth till there bee no place to burie.

12 Thus will I doe vnto this place, sayth the Lord, and to the inhabitants thereof, and I will make this citie like Topheth.

13 For the houses of Ierusalem, & the houses of the kings of Iudah shall be defiled as the place of Topheth, because of all the houses vpon whose roofes they haue burnt incense vnto all the host of heauen, and haue poured out drinke offerings vnto other gods.

14 Then came Ieremiah from Topheth, where the Lord had sent him to prophesie, and he stood in the court of the Lords house, and said to all the people,

Or, gate of the Sunne.

h He noteth the great rage of the idolaters, which left no place free from their abominations, inasmuch as they polluted their owne houses therewith, as wee see yet among the Papists.

15 Thus faith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring vpon this city, and vpon all her townes, all the plagues that I haue pronounced against it, because they haue hardened their necks, and would not heare my words.

a Jeremias is smitten and cast into prison for preaching of the word of God. 3 He prophesies the captivity of Babelyn. 7 He complaines that he is a mocking stocke for the word of God. 9 He is compelled by the spirit to preach the word.

When Pashur, sonne of Immer, the priest, which was appointed gouernour in the house of the Lord, heard that Jeremias prophesied these things,

2 Then Pashur imorde Jeremias the Prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the high gate of Benjamin, which was by the house of the Lord.

3 And on the morning Pashur brought Jeremias out of the stocks. Then said Jeremias vnto him, The Lord hath not called thy name Pashur, but | Magor-misabbib.

4 For thus faith the Lord, Behold, I will make thee to be a terror to thy selfe, & to althy friends, and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall beholde it, and I will giue all Iudah into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall cary them captiue into Babel, and shall slay them with the sword.

5 Moreover I will deliuer all the substance of this city, and all the labours thereof, and all the precious things thereof, & all the treasures of the kings of Iudah will I giue into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoile them, and take them away, and cary them to Babel.

6 And thou Pashur, and all that dwell in thine house, shall goe into captiuitie, and thou shalt come to Babel, & there thou shalt die, and shalt be buried there, thou and all thy friends, to whom thou hast prophesied lies.

7 O Lord, thou hast deceived me, and I am deceived: thou art stronger then I, and hast prevailed: I am in derision dayly: euery one mocketh me.

8 For since I spake, I cryed out of wrong, and proclaimed desolation: therefore the word of the Lord was made a reproch vnto me, and in derision dayly.

9 Then I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut vp in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and I could not stay.

10 For I had heard the rayling of many, and feare one euerie side. I Declare, said they, and wee will declare it: all my familiars watched for mine halting, saying, It may be that he is deceived: so we shall preuaile against him, and we shall execute our vengeance vpon him.

11 But the Lord is with me like a mighty gyant: therefore my persecuters shall be ouerthrowen, and shall not preuaile, and shall be greatly confounded, for they haue done vnwisely, and their euellasting shame shall neuer be forgotten.

12 But O Lord of hosts, that triest the righteous, and seest the reins and the heart, let mee see thy vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

13 Sing vnto the Lord, praise ye the Lord: for he hath deliuered the soule of the poore from the hand of the wicked.

14 ¶ Curled be the day wherein I was borne: and let not the day wherein my mother bare mee, be blessed.

15 Curled be the man, that shewed my father saying, A man child is borne vnto thee, and comforted him.

16 And let that man bee as the i cities, which the Lord hath ouerturned and repented not: and let him heare the crie in the morning, and the shouting at noone tide,

17 Because hee hath not slaine mee, euery from the wombe, or that my mother might haue bene my graue, or her wombe a perpetuall conception.

18 How is it, that I came forth of the wombe, to see labour and sorow, that my dayes should be consumed with shame?

CHAP. XXI.

He prophesies that Zedekiah shall be taken, and the city burned.

The word which came vnto Jeremias from the Lord, when king Zedekiah sent vnto him Pashur the sonne of Malchiah, and Zephaniah, the sonnes of Maaleiah the Priest, saying,

2 Inquire, I pray thee, of the Lord for vs, (for Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel maketh warre against vs) if so be that the Lord will deale with vs according to all his wonderous works, that hee may returne vs from vs.

3 Then sayd Jeremias, Thus shall you say to Zedekiah,

4 Thus faith the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I will turne backe the weapons of warre that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Babel, and against the Caldeans, which besiege you without the walles, and I will assemble them into the mids of this cite.

5 And I my selfe will fight against you with an outstretched hand, and with a mighty arme even in anger and in wrath, and in great indignation.

6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence.

7 And after this, faith the Lord, I will deliuer Zedekiah the king of Iudah, and his seruants, and the people, and such as are left in this cite, from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seeke their liues, and hee shall smite them with the edge of the sword. hee shall not spare them, neither haue pittie nor compassion.

8 ¶ And vnto this people thou shalt say, Thus faith the Lord, Behold, I set before you the way of life, and the way of death.

9 He that abideth in this cite, shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but hee that goeth out, and falleth to the Caldeans that besiege you, hee shall liue, and his life shall be vnto him for a pray.

10 For I haue let my face against this cite, for euill and not for good, sayth the Lord: it shall be giuen into the hand of the king of Babel, and hee shall burne it with fire.

11 ¶ And say vnto the house of the king of Iudah, Heare ye the word of the Lord.

12 O house of David, Thus sayth the Lord, Execute iudgement in the morning, & deliuer the oppressed out of the hand of the oppressour, left my wrath go out like fire, and burne that none can quench it, because of the wickednesse of your workes.

13 Behold, I come against thee, O inhabitant of the valley, and rocke of the plaine, sayth the Lord, which say, Who shall come downe against vs? or who shall enter into our habitations?

14 But I will visit you according to the fruit of your workes, sayth the Lord, and I will kindle a fire in the forest thereof, and it shall deuoure round about it.

CHAP. XXII.

Rehearseth the King to iudgement and righteousnesse. 9 77 by Jerusalem is brought into captivity. 12 The deasse of Sodom the sonne of Iesus is prophesied.

Thus said the Lord, Goe downe to the house of the King of Iudah, and speake there this thing.

2 And say, Heare the word of the Lord, O King of Iudah, that sitteth vpon the throne of Dauid, thou and thy seruants, and thy people that enter in by these gates.

3 Thus sayth the Lord, * Execute yee iudgement and * righteousnesse, and deliuer the oppressed from the hand of the oppressour, and vexe not the stranger, the fatherlesse and the widow: doe no violence, nor shedde innocent blood in this place.

4 For if yee doe this thing, then shal the kings sitting vpon the throne of Dauid enter in by the gates of this House, * and ride vpon chares and vpon horses, both hee and his seruants, and his people.

5 But if yee will not heare these wordes, I will sweare by my selfe, sayth the Lord, that this House shall be waste.

6 For thus hath the Lord spoken vpon the kings house of Iudah, Thou art * Gilead vnto me, and the head of Lebanon, * surely I will make thee a wilderness, and a cities not inhabited,

7 And I will * prepare destroyers against thee, every one with his weapons, and they shall cut downe thy chiefe cedars trees, and cast them in the fire.

8 * And many nations shal passe by this city, and they shall say every man to his neighbour, Wherefore hath the Lord done thus vnto this great citie?

9 Then shall they answere, Because they haue forsaken the couenant of the Lord their God, and worshipped other gods, and serued them.

10 * Weepe not for the dead, and be not moued for them, * weepe for him that goeth out: for he shall returne no more, nor see his native country.

11 For thus saith the Lord, As touching * Shalum the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, which reigned for Iosiah his father, which went out of this place, he shall not returne thither, 12 But he shall die in the place, whither they haue led him captiue, and shall see this land no more.

13 * Wee vnto him that buildeth his house by * ynrighteousnesse and his chambers without equitie: hee with his neighbour without wages, and giueth him not for his worke.

14 He saith, I will build me a wide house and large chambers: so hee will make himselfe large windows, and sieling with cedar, and paint them with vermillion.

15 Shalt thou reign, because thou clo'st thy selfe in cedar? Did not thy * father eate and drinke and prosper when hee executed iudgement and iustice?

16 When hee iudged the cause of the afflicted and the poore, he prospered: was not this because he knew me, sayth the Lord?

17 But thine eyes and thine heart are but only for thy comelousnesse, and for to shed innocent blood, and for oppression, and for destruction, * euen to doe this.

18 Therefore thus sayth the Lord against Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, They shal not lament him, saying, Ah, my brother, or ah, sister: neither shall they mourne for him, saying, Ah, lord, or ah, his glory.

19 Hee shall be buried as an asse * is buried, euen drawn and cast forth without the gates of Ierusalem.

20 * Goe vnto * Lebanon and cry: shoute in * Bashan, and crie by the passages: for all thy louers are destroyed.

21 I spake vnto thee when thou wast in prosperity: * but thou saidst, I will not heare, this hath bene thy manner from thy youth, that thou wouldest not obey my voyce.

22 The wind shall feed all thy pastours, * and thy louers shall goe into captivity: and then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded of all thy wickednesse.

23 Thou that dwellest in Lebanon, and makest thy nest in the cedars, how beautifull shalt thou be when sorrowes come vpon thee, as the sorrow of a woman in trauaile?

24 As I liue, sayth the Lord, though * Coniah the sonne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, were the signet of my right hand, yet would I plucke thee thence.

25 And I will giue thee into the hand of them that seeke thy life, and into the hand of them, whose face thou fearest, euen into the hand of Nebuchad-rezzar king of Babel, and into the hand of the Chaldeans.

26 And I will cause them to carrie thee away, and thy mother that bare thee into another country, where yee were not borne, and there shall yee die.

27 But to the land wherunto they desire to returne, they shall not returne thither.

28 Is not this man Coniah as a despised and broken idole? or as a vessell, wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they carryed away, hee and his seed, and cast out into a land that they know not?

29 O earth, earth, earth, heare the word of the Lord.

30 Thus saith the lord, Write this: man destitute of children, a man that shall not prosper in his dayes: for there shall be no man of his seed that shall prosper and sit vpon the throne of Dauid, or beare rule any more in Iudah.

but hee abused Gods promise, and therefore was iustly deprived of the kingdom. f He sheweth, that all posteritie shall be witnesses of this iust plague, as though it were registered for perpetuall memory. t Not that hee had no children, (for after he begat Salathiel in the captivity, Matthew 1, 12.) But that none should reigne after him as King.

Woe be vnto the pastors that destroy and scatter be the sheepe of my pasture, saith the Lord.

2 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of Israel vnto the pastors that feede my people, Yee haue scattered my flock, and thrust them out, and haue not visited them: Beholde, I will visite you for the wickednesse of your workes, saith the Lord.

3 And I will gather the remnant of my sheep out of all countreys, whither I had driuen them, and will bring them againe to their foldes, and they shall grow and increafe.

4 And I will let vp shepheards ouer them, which shall feede them, and they shall dreid no more, nor be afraid, neither shall any of them bee lacking, saith the Lord.

5 Behold, the daies come, saith the Lord, that I will raise vnto David a righteous branch, and a King shall reigne and prosper, and shall execute iudgement and iustice in the earth.

6 In his daies Iudah shall bee saved, and * Israel shall dwell safely, and this is the Name whereby they shall call him, * The Lord our righteousnesse.

7 Therefore beholde, the daies come, saith the Lord, that they shall no more say, The Lord lieth which brought vp the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt,

8 But, the Lord lieth, which brought vp and ledde the seede of the house of Israel out of the North countrey, and from all countreies where I had scattered them, and they shall dwell in their owne land.

9 Mine heart breaketh within me, because of these prophets, all my bones shake: I am like a drunken man, (and like a man whom wine hath overcome) for the pretence of the Lord, and for his holy wordes.

10 For the land is full of adulterers, and because of oathes the land mourneth, the pleasant places of the wilderness are dried vp, and their comf is euill, and their force is not right.

11 For both the Prophet and the Priest doe wickedly: and their wickednesse haue I found in mine house, saith the Lord.

12 Wherefore their way shall be vnto them as slippery wayes in the darknesse: they shall be driuen forth, and fall therein: for I will bring a plague vpon them, even the yere of their visitation, saith the Lord.

13 And I haue sene foolishnes in the prophets of Samaria, that prophesied in Baal, and caused my people Israel to erre.

14 I haue sene also in the prophets of Ierusalem such filchinesse: they commit adultery and walke in lies: they strengthen also the hands of the wicked, that none can returne from his wickednesse: they are all vnto me as Sodome, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorah.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes concerning the prophets, Behold, I will feede them with wormewood: and make them drinke the water of gall: for from the prophets of Ierusalem is wickednesse gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Heare not the words of the prophets that prophesie vnto you, and teach you vanitie: they speake the vision of their owne heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They say fill vnto them that despise me, The Lord hath said, Yee shall haue peace: and they say vnto euery one that walketh after the stubbornnesse of his owne heart, No euill shall come vpon you.

18 For who hath stood in the counsell of the Lord, that hee hath perceived and heard his word? Who hath marked his word and heard it?

19 Behold, the tempest of the Lord goeth forth in his wrath, and a violent whirlwinde shall fall downe vpon the head of the wicked.

20 The anger of the Lord shall not returne vntill hee haue executed, and till hee haue performed the thoughts of his heart: in the latter daies yee shall vnderstand it plainly.

21 * I have not sent these prophets sayth the Lord, yet they ran: I haue not spoken to them, and yet they prophesied.

22 But if they had stood in my counsell, and I had declared my words to my people, then they should haue turned them from their euil way, and from the wickednesse of their inventions.

23 Am I a God at hand, sayeth the Lord, and not a God farre off?

24 Can any hide himselfe in secret places, that I shall not see him, saith the Lord? Doe not I fill heauen and earth, saith the Lord?

25 Thau heard what the prophets sayd, that prophesie lies in my Name, saying, I haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.

26 How long? Doe these prophets delight to prophesie lies, enen prophesying the deceit of their owne heart?

27 Thinke they to cause my people to forget my Name by their dreames, which they tell euery man to his neighbour, as their forefathers haue forgotten my Name for Baal?

28 The prophet that hath a dreame, let him tell a dreame, and hee that hath my word, let him speake my word faithfully: y what is the chaffe to the wheat, saith the Lord?

29 Is not my word euen like a fire? saith the Lord? and like an hammer, that breaketh the stone?

30 Therefore beholde, I will come against the prophets, saith the Lord, that steale my word euery one from his his neighbour.

31 Beholde, I will come against the prophets saith the Lord, which haue sweet tongues, and say, He saith.

32 Beholde, I will come against them that prophesie false dreames, sayeth the Lord, and doe tell them, and cause my people to erre by their lies, and by their flatteries, and I sent them not, nor commaunded them: therefore they bring no profite vnto this people, saith the Lord.

33 And when this people, or the Prophet, or a Priest shall aske thee, saying, What is the burden of the Lord? thou shalt then say vnto them, What burden? I will cuen forsake you, saith the Lord.

34 And the Prophet, or the Priest, or the people that shall say, The burden of the Lord, I charge Gods burden, which the sinners were not able to sustaine, in deciding the word, would aske of the Prophets, what woe they would say You seeke nothing else, but to lay burdens on thus they recited the word of God as a grievous burden, c Because this word was brought to contempt and derision, he will reach them speech and will cause this word Burden to cease, and teach them to say, What saith the Lord.

C H A P. XXIIII.

a The vision of the baskets of figs, 5. signifieth that part of the people should be brought againe from captivity. 8. And that Zedekiah and the rest of the people should be carried away.

THe Lord shewed mee, and beholde, two baskets of figges were set before the Temple of the Lord, after that Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel had carried away captiue Ieconiah the sonne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, and the princes of Iudah with the workemen, and cunning men of Ierusalem, and had brought them to Babel.

2 One basket had very good figges, euen like the figges that are first ripe: and the other basket had very naughtie figs, which could not be eaten, they were so euill.

3 Then said the Lord vnto mee, What seeest thou, Ieremiah? And I said, Figs: the good figs very good, and the naughty very naughty, which cannot be eaten they are so euill.

4 Again the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

5 Thus saith the Lord the God of Irael, Like the good figs, so will I know them that are carried away captiue of Iudah to be good, whom I haue sent out of this place, into the land of the Caldeans.

6 For I will set mine eyes vpon them for good, and I will bring them againe to this land, and I will build them, and not destroy them, and I will plant them, and not root them out,

7 And I will giue them an heart to know me, that I am the Lord, and they shall be * my people, and I will be their God: for they shall returne vnto me with their whole heart.

8 * And as the naughtie figs which cannot be eaten, they are so euill (surely thus saith the Lord) so will I giue Zedekiah the king of Iudah, and his princes, and the residue of Ierusalem that remaine in this land, and them that dwell in the land of Egypt:

9 I will euen giue them for a terrible plague to all the kingdomes of the earth, and for a reproch, and for a prouerbe, for a common talke, and for a curse in all places where I shall cast them.

10 And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence among them, till they be consumed out of the land, that I gaue vnto them and to their fathers.

a He prophesied that they shall be in captivity fouentie yeeres, 18. And that after the fouentie yeeres the Babylonians should be destroyed. 19. The destruction of all nations is prophesied.

THe word that came to Ieremiah concerning all the people of Iudah, in the fourth yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah that was in the first yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel:

2 The which Ieremiah the Prophet spake vnto all the people of Iudah, and to all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying,

3 From the thirteenth yeere of Iosiah the son of Amon king of Iudah, euen vnto this day (that is the three and twentieth yeere) the word of the Lord hath come vnto me, and I haue spoken vnto you rising early and speaking, but ye would not heare.

4 And the Lord hath sent vnto you all his seruants the Prophets, rising early and sending them, but ye would not heare, nor incline your eares to obey.

5 They d said, Turne againe now euery one from his euill way, and from the wickednesse of your inuentions, and yee shall dwell in the land that the Lord hath giuen vnto you, and to your fathers for euer and euer.

6 And goe not after other gods to serue them and to worship them, and prouoke me not to anger with the workes of your hands, and I will not punish you.

7 Neuerthelesse, ye would not heare mee, sayeth the Lord, but haue prouoked mee to anger with the workes of your hands to your owne hurt.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Because ye haue not heard my words,

9 Behold, I will send and take to mee all the families of the North, saith the Lord, and Nebuchad-nezzar the king of Babel my seruant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all the nations round about, and will destroy them, and make them an astonishment and an hissing, and a continual desolation.

10 * Moreover, I will take from them the voyce of mirth, and the voyce of gladnesse, the voyce of the bridegrome, and the voyce of the bride, the noise of the mistones, and the light of the candle.

11 And this whole land shall bee desolate, and and an astonishment, and these nations shall serue the king of Babel fouentie yeeres.

12 And when the fouentie yeeres are accomplished, I will visit the king of Babel and that nation, saith the Lord, for their iniquities, euen the land of the Caldeans, and will make it a perpetual desolation.

16 And they ſhall drinke, and bee moued, and be madde, becauſe of the ſword that I will ſend among them.

17 Then took I the cup of the Lords hand, and made all people to drinke, vnto whom the Lord had ſent me:

18 Euen Ieruſalem and the cities of Iudah, and the kings thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them deſolate, an aſtoniſhment, and laughing, and a curſe, as appeareth this day:

19 Pharaoh alſo, king of Egypt, & his ſeruants, and his princes, and all his people:

20 And all forts of people, and all the kings of the land of Vz: and all the kings of the land of the Philiftims, and of Aſkelon, and Azzah, and Ekron, and the remnant of Aſhdoth:

26 And all the kings of the North, farre and neere one to another, & all the kingdoms of the world, which are vpon the earth, and the king of Sheſhach ſhall drinke after them.

27 Therefore ſay thou vnto them, Thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael, Drinke and bee drunken, and ſpue and fall, and riſe no more, becauſe of the ſword, which I will ſend among you.

28 ¶ But if they reſuſe to take the cup at thine hand to drinke, then tel them, Thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, Ye ſhall certainly drinke.

29 For loe, I begin to plague the city, where my Name is called vpon, and ſhould you be free? Yee ſhall not goe quit: for I will call for a ſword vpon all the inhabitants of the earth, ſayeth the Lord of hoſtes.

30 Therefore prophesie thou againſt them all theſe wordes, and ſay vnto them, The Lord ſhall roare from aboue, and thruſt out his voyce from his holy habitation: hee ſhall roare vpon his habitation, and cry aloud, as they that preſſe the grapes, againſt all the habitations of the earth.

31 The ſound ſhall come to the endes of the earth: for the Lord hath a controuerſie with the nations, and will enter into iudgement with all fleſh, and hee will giue them that are wicked, to the ſword, ſayth the Lord.

CHAP. XXVI.

2 Jeremiah moneth the people to repentance. 3 He is taken of the falſe prophets and prieſtes, and brought to iugment. 13 Vnto the Prophet is ſhewed Ieruſalims, contrary to the will of God.

IN the beginning of the reigne of Iehoiakim the ſonne of Joſiah king of Iudah, came this word from the Lord, ſaying,

2 Thus ſayth the Lord, Stand in the court of the Lords houſe, and ſpeake vnto all the cities of Iudah, which cometo worſhip in the Lords Houſe, all the words that I command thee to ſpeake vnto them: keepe not a word backe.

3 If fo be they will hearken, and turne every man from his euill way, that I may repent me of the plague, which I haue determined to bring vpon them, becauſe of the wickedneſſe of their workes.

4 And thou ſhalt ſay vnto them, Thus ſayeth the Lord, If yee will not heare me to walke in my lawes, which I haue ſet before you,

5 And to heare the wordes of my ſeruants the Prophets, whom I ſent vnto you, both riſing vp early, and ſending them, and wll not obey them,

6 Then will I make this Houſe like a Shiloh, and will make this city a curſe to all the nations of the earth.

7 So the Prieſtes, and the Prophets, and all the people heard Ieremiah ſpeaking theſe wordes in the Houſe of the Lord.

8 Now when Ieremiah had made an ende of ſpeaking all that the Lord had commanded him to ſpeake vnto all the people, then the Prieſtes, and the Prophets, and all the people tooke him, and ſaid, Thou ſhalt die the death.

9 Why haſt thou prophesied in the Name of the Lord, ſaying, This Houſe ſhal be like Shiloh, and this citie ſhall be deſolate without an inhabitant? and all the people were gathered againſt Ieremiah in the houſe of the Lord.

10 And when the Princes of Iudah heard of theſe things, they came vp from the Kings houſe into the Houſe of the Lord, and ſate downe in the entry of the new gate of the Lords Houſe.

11 Then ſpake the Prieſtes and the Prophets vnto the Princes, and to all the people, ſaying, This man is worthy to die: for he hath prophesied againſt this citie, as yee haue heard with your eares.

12 Then ſpake Ieremiah vnto all the Princes, and to all the people, ſaying, The Lord hath ſent mee to prophesie againſt this houſe, and againſt this citie all the things that ye haue heard.

17 ¶ Then rose vp certaine of the Elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying,

20 And there was also a man that prophesied in the Name of the Lord, one Vrijah the sonne of Shemajah, of Kirjath-jearum, who prophesied against this city, and against this land, according to all the words of Jeremiah.

21 Now when Iehoiakim the King with all his men of power, and all the princes heard his words, the king sought to slay him: But when Vrijah heard it, he was afraid and fled, and went into Egypt.

22 Then Iehoiakim the King sent men into Egypt, even Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and certaine with him into Egypt.

23 And they fet Vrijah out of Egypt, & brought him vnto Iehoiakim the king, who slew him with the sword, & cast his dead body into the graues of the children of the people.

24 But the hand of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan was with Jeremiah that they should not giue him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

C H A P. XXVII.

1 Jeremiah at the commandment of the Lord sent letters vnto the kings that were neere, whereby they are reminded to be subiects vnto Nebuchad-nezzar. 2 Hee warneth the people, and the Kings and rulers that they beleene not false Prophets.

IN the beginning of the reigne of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, came this word vnto Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord to me, Make thee bonds and yokes, and put them vpon thy necke,

3 And send them to the king of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the Ammonites, & to the king of Tyrus, and to the king of Zidon, by the hand of the messengers which come to Ierusalem vnto Zedekiah the king of Iudah.

4 And command them to say vnto their masters, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Thus shall ye say vnto your masters,

5 I haue made the earth, the man and the beast that are vpon the ground, by my great power, and by my outstretched arme, and haue giuen it vnto whom it pleased me.

6 But now I haue giuen all these landes into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar the king of Babel my seruant, and the beasts of the field haue I also giuen him to serue him.

7 And all nations shall serue him, and his sonnes, and his sonnes sonnes, vntill the very time of his land come afo: then many nations and great kings shall serue themselves of him.

8 And the nation and kingdome which will not serue the same Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and that will not put their necke vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, the same nation will I visit, saith the Lord, with the sword, and with the famine and with the pestilence, vntill I haue wholly giue them into his hands.

9 Therefore heare not your prophets, nor your soothsayers, nor your dreamers, nor your enchanters, nor your forerers, which say vnto you thus, Ye shall not serue the king of Babel:

10 For they prophesie a lie vnto you to cause you to go farre from your land, and that I should cast you out, and you should perish.

11 But the nation that put their neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, and serue him, tho' euil I let remaine (till) in their owne land, saith the Lord, and they shall occupy it, and dwell therein.

12 ¶ I spake also to Zedekiah King of Iudah according to all these wordes, saying, Put your neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, and serue him and his people, that ye may liue.

13 Why will ye die, thou, and thy people by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lord hath spoken against the nation, that will not serue the king of Babel?

14 Therefore heare not the wordes of the prophets that peake vnto you, saying, Yee shall not serue the king of Babel: for they prophesie a lie vnto you.

15 For I haue not sent them, saith the Lord, yet they prophesie a lie in my Name, that I might cast you out, and that yee might perish, both you, and the prophets that prophesie vnto you.

16 ¶ Also I spake to the Priests, and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Heare not the wordes of your prophets that prophesie vnto you, saying, Beholde, the vessels of the house of the Lord shall now shortly be brought againe from Babel: for they prophesie a lie vnto you.

17 Heare ye may not, but serue the king of Babel, that ye may liue: wherefore should this cite be desolate?

18 But if they be Prophets, and if the word of the Lord be with them, let them sit vnder the yoke of hostes, that the vessels, which are left in the house of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Iudah, and at Ierusalem, goe not to Babel.

19 For thus sayth the Lord of hostes, concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bales, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remaine in this cite,

22 They shall be brought to Babel, and there they shall abide until the day that I visite them, saith the Lord: then will I bring them vp, and restore them vnto this place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

The false prophesie of Hananiah, 12 Ieremiahs reproues Hananiah and prophesieth.

ANd that same yeere in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Iudah, in the fourth yeere, and in the fifth moneth, Hananiah the sonne of Azur the prophet, which was of Gibeon, spake to mee in the House of the Lord in the presence of the Priests, and of all the people, and said,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, I have broken the yoke of the king of Babel.

3 Within two yeeres space I will bring into this place all the vessels of the Lords House, that Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel took away from this place, and carried them into Babel.

4 And I will bring againe to this place Iecooniah the sonne of Ichoiakim King of Iudah, with all them that were carried away captiue of Iudah, and went into Babel, saith the Lord: for I will breake the yoke of the king of Babel.

5 Then the Prophet Ieremiah sayd vnto the Prophet Hananiah in the presence of the Priests and in the presence of all the people that stood in the House of the Lord,

6 Euen the Prophet Ieremiah sayd, So bee it: the Lord doo, the Lord confirme thy wordes which thou hast prophesied to restore the vessels of the Lords House, and all that is carried captiue from Babel, into this place.

7 But heare thou now this word that I will speake in thine eares, and in the eares of all the people.

8 The Prophets that haue bene before mee and before thee in time past, I prophesied against many countreys, and against great kingdomes, of warre, and of plagues, and of pestilence.

9 And the Prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the word of the Prophet shall come to passe, then shall the Prophet bee known that the Lord hath truly sent him.

10 Then Hananiah the Prophet tooke the yoke from the Prophet Ieremiahs necke, and brake it.

11 And Hananiah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Euen so will I breake the yoke of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, from the necke of all nations within the space of two yeeres: and the Prophet Ieremiah went his way.

12 ¶ Then the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah the Prophet, (after that Hananiah the Prophet had broken the yoke from the necke of the Prophet Ieremiah) saying,

13 Goe and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Thou hast broken the yokes of wood, but thou shalt make for them yokes of yron,

14 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, I haue put a yoke of yron vpon the necke of all these nations, that they may serue Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel: for they shall serue him, and I haue giuen him the beasts of the field also.

15 Then sayd the Prophet Ieremiah vnto the prophet Hananiah, Heare now Hananiah, the Lord hath not sent thee, but thou makest this people to trust in a lie.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will call thee from off the earth: this yeere thou shalt die, because thou hast spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

17 So Hananiah the Prophet died the same yeere in the fiftenth moneth.

CHAP. XXIX.

Ieremiah writeth vnto them that were in captiuitie in Babylon, 10 He prophesieth their returne after seventy yeeres, 18 Hee prophesieth the destruction of the king, and of the people that remaine in Ierusalem, 21 hee threatneth the Troians that seduce the people, 32 The death of Sennachib is prophesied.

NOW these are the wordes of the Lord which Ieremiah the Prophet sent from Ierusalem vnto a theredife of the Elders, which were carried away captiues, and to the Priests, and to the Prophets, and to all the people, whom Nebuchad-nezzar had carried away captiue from Ierusalem to Babel:

2 (After that Iecooniah the King, and the Queene, and the eunuchs, the princes of Iudah, and of Ierusalem, and the workemen, and cunning men were departed from Ierusalem)

3 By the hand of Elakiah the sonne of Shaphan and Gemariah the sonne of Hilkiiah, (whom Zedekiah king of Iudah sent vnto Babel to Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel) saying,

4 Thus hath the Lord of hostes the God of Israel spoken vnto all that are carried away captiues, whom I haue caused to be carried away captiues from Ierusalem vnto Babel:

5 Build you houses to dwell in, and plant you gardens, and eat the fruits of them.

6 Take you wiues, and beget sonnes and daughters, and take wiues for your sonnes, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may beare sonnes and daughters, that yee may be increased there, and not diminished.

7 And seeke the prosperity of the city, whither I haue caused you to be carried away captiues, and pray vnto the Lord for it: for in the peace thereof shall you haue peace.

8 ¶ For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Let not your prophets and your soothsayers that bee among you, deceive you, neither giue eare to your dreames, which you dreame.

9 For they prophesie you a lie in my Name: I haue not sent them, saith the Lord.

10 But thus saith the Lord, that after seuentie yeeres bee accomplished at Babel, I will visite you and performe my good promise toward you, and cause you to returne to this place.

11 For I know the thoughts that I haue thought toward you, saith the Lord, I know the thoughts of peace, and not of trouble, to give you an end, and your hope.

12 Then shall you cry vnto mee, and yee shall go and pray vnto me, and I will heare you.

13 And yee shall like mee, and finde mee, because

15 ¶ Because ye haue said, This Lord hath raised vs vp a Prophet in Babel,

16 Therefore thus faith the Lord o the King, that sitteth vpon the throne of Dauid, and of all the people that dwell in this city, your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captiuitie:

17 Enen thus faith the Lord of hostes, Behold, I will send vpon them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like vile figges that cannot bee eaten, they are lo nauticke.

18 And I will persecute them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence: and I will make them a terror to all kingdomes of the earth, and a curse, and astonishment, and an hissing, and a reproch among all the nations whither I haue cast them,

19 Because they haue not heard my wordes, faith the Lord, which I sent vnto them by my seruants the Prophets, rising vp early, and sending them, but yee would not heare, faith the Lord.

20 ¶ Heare ye therefore the word of the Lord all ye of the captiuitie, whom I haue sent from Ierusalem to Babel.

21 Thus faith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, of Ahab the sonne of Kolaiah, and of Zedekiah the sonne of Maaseiah, which prophesie hes vnto you in my Name, Beholde, I will deliuer them into the hande of Nebuchad-merzaz king of Babel, and he shall slay them before your eyes.

22 And all they of the captiuitie of Iudah, that are in Babel, shall take vp this curse against them, and say, The Lord make thee like Zedekiah, and like Ahab, whom the King of Babel burnt in the fire, 23 Because they haue committed villeny in Israel, and haue committed adultery with their neighbours wiues, and haue spoken lying wordes in my Name, which I haue not commaunded them, euen I know it, and testifie it, faith the Lord.

24 ¶ Thou shalt also speake to Shemaiah the Nehelamite, saying,

25 Thus ipeaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thy name vnto all the people, that are at Ierusalem, and to Zephaniah the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest, and to all the Priests, saying,

26 The Lord hath made thee Priest, for Teihoiada the Priest, that ye should be officers in the House of the Lord, for euery man that raueth and maketh himselfe a Prophet, to put him in prison and in the stocks.

27 Now therefore, why hast not thou reprooued Ieremiah of Anathoth, which prophesieth vnto you?

28 For, for this cause he sent vnto vs in Babel, saying, This captiuitie is long: build houses to dwell in, and plant gardens, and eate the fruits of them.

29 And Zephaniah the Priest read this Ietter in the eares of Ieremiah the Prophet.

30 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, saying,

31 Send to all them of the captiuitie, saying, Thus faith the Lorde of Shemaiah the Nehelamite, Because that Shemaiah hath prophesied vnto you, and I sent him not, and he caused you to truit in a lie, 32 Therefore thus faith the Lord, Beholde, I will visit Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his seed: hee shall not haue a man to dwell among this people, neither shall he behold the good, that I will doe for my people, faith the Lord, because he hath spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The returne of the people from Babilon. 16 He menaceth his enemies, 18 and comforteth the Church.

THE word that came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus ipeaketh the Lord God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the words that I haue spoken vnto thee in a booke.

3 For loe, the dayes come, faith the Lord, that I will bring againe the captiuitie of my people Israel and Iudah, sayth the Lord: for I will restore them vnto the land, that I gaue to their fathers, and they shall possesse it.

4 Againe, these are the wordes that the Lord spake concerning Israel, and concerning Iudah.

5 For thus sayth the Lord, Wee haue heard a terrible voyce, of feare and not of peace.

6 Demaund now, and behold, if man trawell with childe: wherefore doe I behold euery man with his handes on his loynes as a woman in trauell, and all faces are turned into a palenesse?

7 Alas, for this day is great: none hath bene like it: it is euen the time of Iakobs trouble, yet shall hee be deliuered from it.

8 For in that day, sayth the Lord of hostes, I will breake his yoke from off thy necke, and breake thy bonds, and strangers shall no more serue them selues of him.

9 But they shall serue the Lord their God, and I Dauid their King, whom I will raise vp vnto them.

10 Therefore feare not O my seruant Iakob, faith the Lord, neither be afraid, O Israel: for loe, I will deliuer thee from a farre country, and thy seed from the land of their captiuitie, and Iakob shall turne againe, and shall be in rest and prosperitie, and none shall make him afraid.

11 For I am with thee, faith the Lord, to saue thee: though I utterly destroy all the nations where I haue scattered thee, yet will I not utterly destroy thee, but I will correct thee by Iudgment, and not utterly cut thee off.

12 Forthus sayth the Lord, Thy bruising is incurable, and thy wound is dolorous.

13 There is none to Iudge thy cause, or to lay a plaster: there are no medicines, nor helpe for thee.

14 All thy louers haue forgotten thee: they seeke thee not: for I haue stricken thee with the wound of an enemy, and with a sharpe chastisement for the multitude of thine iniquities, because thy finnes were increased.

15 Why cryest thou for thine affliction? thy sorrow is incurable, for the multitude of thine iniquities: because thy finnes were increased, I haue done these things vnto thee.

p He and his seed shall be destroyed, so that none of them should see the benefite of this deliuerance.

a Because they should be assured and their posterity confirmed in the hope of this deliuerance promised.

1 Hereafter ſhall Gods benefits after their returne from Babylon,
2 And the ſpiritual way of the faithfull in the Church.

A T the ſame time, ſaith the Lord, will I bee the God of all the families of Iſrael, and they ſhall be my people.

2 Thus ſaith the Lord, the people which beſcaped the ſword, found grace in the wilderneſſe:
he walked before Iſrael to cauſe him to reſt.

3 The Lord hath appeared vnto me of old, ſay they: Yea, I haue loued thee with an euerslaſ-ting loue, therefore with mercy I haue drawen thee.

4 Again, I will build thee, and thou ſhalt be builded, O virgin Iſrael: thou ſhalt fill: be adorned

5 Thou ſhalt yet plant vines vpon the moun-them, ſhall make them common.

6 For the dayes ſhall come, that the watchmen vpon the mount of Ephraim ſhall cry, Arise, and let vs goe vp vnto Zion to the Lord our God.

7 For thus ſaith the Lord, Reioyce with gladneſſe for Iakob, and ſhout for ioy among the chiefe of the Gentiles: publiſh praife and ſay, O
Lord ſaue thy people the remnant of Iſrael:

8 Behold, I will bring them from the North country, and gather them from the coaſts of the world, with the blind and the lame among them, with the woman with childe, and her that is deli-uered alſo: a great company ſhall returne hither.

9 They ſhall come in weeping, and with mercy will I bring them againe: I will lead them by the rivers of water in a ſtraight way, wherein they ſhall not ſtumble: for I am a father to Iſrael, and Ephraim is my firſt borne.

10 Hear the word of the Lord, O ye Gentiles, and declare in the yles a farre off, and ſay, He that ſcattered Iſrael, will gather him, and will keepe him, as a ſhepherd keepeth his ſheepe.

11 For the Lord hath redeemed Iakob, and ranſomed him from the hand of him that was ſtronger then he.

12 Therefore they ſhall come, and reioyce in the height of Zion, and ſhall runne to the boun-tifulneſſe of the Lord, euen for the wheate and for the wine, and for the oyle, and for the increaſe of ſheepe and bullocks: and their ſoule ſhall be as a watered garden, and they ſhall haue no more forrow.

13 Then ſhall the virgin reioyce in the dance, and the yong men and the old men together: for I will turne their mourning into ioy, & wil comfort them, and giue them ioy for their ſorrowes.

14 And I wil replenish the ſoule of the Priests with fatneſſe, and my people ſhall bee ſatiſfied with my goodneſſe, ſaith the Lord.

15 Thus ſaith the Lord, A voyce was heard on hie, a mourning, and bitter weeping: Rahel weeping for her children, reſuſed to be comforted for her children, becauſe they were not.

16 Thus ſaith the Lord, Refraine thy voyce from weeping, and thine eyes from teares: for thy worke ſhall be rewarded, ſaith the Lord, and they ſhall come againe from the land of the enemy:

17 And there is hope in thine end, ſaith the Lord, that thy children ſhall come againe to their owne borders.

18 I haue heard Ephraim lamenting thus,
Thou haſt corrected me, and I was chaſtiſed as a vntamed caſt: y conuert thou me, and I ſhall be conuerted: for thou art the Lord my God.

19 Surely after that I conuerted, I repented, and after that I was inſtructed, I ſmote vpon my thigh: I was aſhamed, yea, euen confounded, becauſe I did beare the reproach of my youth.

20 Iſe Ephraim my deare ſonne or pleaſant

Judah, and in the cities thereof, when I shal bring againe their captivity, the Lord blesse thee, O habitation of iustice and holy mountaine.

24 And Iudah shall dwell in it, and all the cities thereof together, the husbandmen and they that goe forth with the flocke.

25 For I haue satiate the weary soule, and I haue replenished euery sorrowfull soule.

26 Therefore I awaked and beheld, and my sleepe was sweet vnto me.

27 Behold, the daies come saith the Lord, that I will sow the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah, with the seed of man, and with the seede of beast.

28 And like as I haue watched vpon them, to plucke vp, and to root out, and to throw downe, and to destroy, & to plague them, so will I watch ouer them, to build and to plant them, sayeth the Lord.

29 In those daies shall they say no more, The fathers haue eaten a fowre grape, and the children teeth are set on edge.

30 But euery one shall dye for his owne iniquitie: euery man that eateth the fowre grape, his teeth shall be set on edge:

31 Behold, the daies come, saith the Lord, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Iudah.

32 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers, when I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, the which my covenant they brake, although I was as an husband vnto them, saith the Lord.

33 But this shall bee the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel, After those daies, saith the Lord, I will put my Law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts, and will be their God, and they shall be my people.

34 And they shall teach no more euery man his neighbour, and euery man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they shall all know me from the least of them vnto the greatest of them, saith the Lord: for I will forgive their iniquity, and will remember their finnes no more.

35 Thus saith the Lord, which giueth the sunne for a light to the day, and the courses of the moone and of the starres for a light to the night, which breaketh the sea, when the waues thereof roare: his Name is the Lord of hosts.

36 If these ordinances depart out of my sight, saith the Lord, then shall the seed of Israel cease from being a nation before me, for euer.

37 Thus saith the Lord, If the heauens can be measured, nor foundations of the earth be searched out beneath, then will I cast off all the seed of Israel, for all that they haue done saith the Lord.

38 Behold, the daies come, saith the Lord, that the city shall be built to the Lord from the tower of Hananeel, vnto the gate of the corner.

39 And the line of the measure shall goe forth in his presence, vpon the hill Gareb, & shall compass about to Goath.

40 And the whole valley of the dead bodies, & of the ashes, & all the fields vnto the brook of Kidron, & vnto the corner of the horkgate toward the EaR shall be holy vnto the Lord, neither shal it be plucked vp, nor destroyed any more for euer.

C H A P. XXXII.

Jeremiah is cast into prison, because he prophesied that the citie should be taken of the king of Babel. 7 Hee sheweth that the people should come againe to their owne possession. 38 The people of God are his seruants, and he is their Lord.

The word that came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, in the tenth yeere of Zedekiah king of Iudah, which was the eighteenth yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar.

2 For then the king of Babels hoste besieged Ierusalem: and Ieremiah the Prophet was shut vp in the court of the prison, which was in the king of Iudahs house.

3 For Zedekiah king of Iudah had shut him vp, saying, Wherefore dost thou prophesie, and say, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will giue this citie into the hands of the king of Babel, and hee shall take it?

4 And Zedekiah the king of Iudah shall not escape out of the hand of the Caldeans, but shall surely be deliuered into the hands of the king of Babel, & shall speake with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall behold his face,

5 And he shall lead Zedekiah to Babel, and there shall he bee, vntill I visite him, saith the Lord, though ye fight with the Caldeans, ye shall not prosper.

6 And Ieremiah said, The word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

7 Behold, Hananeel, the sonne of Shallum thine vnckle, shall come vnto thee and say, Buy vnto thee my field, that is in Anathoth: for the title by kinred apertameth vnto thee to buy it.

8 So Hananeel mine vnckles sonne, came to me in the court of the prison, according to the word of the Lord, & said vnto me, Buy my field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the countrey of Benjamin: for the right of the possession is thine, and the purchase bringeth vnto thee: buy it for thee. Then I knew that this was the word of the Lord.

9 And I bought the field of Hananeel, mine vnckles sonne, that was in Anathoth, and weighed him the siluer, even eleuen shekels, and ten pieces of siluer.

10 And I writ it in the book, and signed it, and took minefters, and weighed him the siluer in the balances.

11 So I tooke the booke of the possession being sealed according to the Law, and custome, with the booke that was open,

12 And I gave the booke of the possession vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, the sonne of Maaseiah, in the sight of Hananeel mine vnckles sonne, and in the presence of the witnesses, written in the booke of the possession, before all the Iewes that sate in the court of the prison.

13 And I charged Baruch before them, saying,

14 Thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Take the writings, even this booke of the possession both that is sealed, and this booke that is open, and put them in an earthen vessel, that they may continue a long time.

15 For the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel saith thus, Houses, and fields and vineyards shall be possessed againe in this land.

16 Now when I had deliuered the booke of the possession vnto Baruch, the sonne of Neriah, I prayed vnto the Lord, saying,

So that Ieremiah had now prophesied from the thirteenth yeere of Iosiah vnto the last yeere laue one of Zedekiahs reigne which was almost forty yeeres.

Chap 29 16, 17, and 32.

1 Till I take Zedekiah away by death: for he shall mourne by the sword, as cha 34 4 e. Whereby was meant, y^e people should returne againe out of captivity, and enjoy their possessions and vineyards, as verse 15, and 44. Or, righte sorowme it.

2 Because he was next of the kinred, as with 42.

3 Of the possession of the Levites, see Leuit. 25, 32. Which moventh to our money aboute ten shillings six pence, if this hekel were the common hekel, read Gen. 33 15. for the hekel of the Temple was of double value, and ten pieces of siluer were halfe a shekel: so twenty made the shekel.

4 According to the custome the instrument or evidence was sealed vpon with the common seale, and a copie thereof retained, which remained the same inained the same in effect, but was not so materiall as the other, but was left open to be seen if any thing should doubt.

5 And so to hide them in y^e ground, that they might be preserved as tokens of their deliuerance.

17 Ah Lord God, behold, thou hast made the heauen and the earth by thy great power, and by thy stretched out arme, & there is nothing || hard vnto thee.

18 * Thou shewest mercy vnto thoufands, and recompenst the iniquities of the fathers into the bosome of their children after them: O Ood the great & mighty, whose name is the Lord of hosts,

19 Great in counsell, and mighty in worke, (for thine eyes are open vpon all the waies of the sons of men, to giue to euery one according to his wayes, and according to the fruit of his works)

20 Which hast set signes and wonders in the land of Egypt vnto this day, and in Israel and among all men, and hast made thee a Name, as appeareth this day,

21 And hast brought thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signes, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, with a stretched out arme, and with great terror,

22 And hast giuen them this land, which thou didst sweare to their fathers to giue them, even a land that floweth with milke and hony,

23 And they came in and possessed it, but they obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy Law: all that thou commaundedst them to do, they haue not done: therefore thou hast caused this whole plague to come vpon them.

24 Behold, the l mounts, they are come into the citie to take it, and the citie is giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, that fight against it by meanes of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence, and what thou hast spoken, is come to passe, and behold, thou seest it.

25 And thou hast said vnto me, O Lord God, Buy vnto thee the field for siluer, and take witness: for the citie shall be giuen into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, saying,

27 Behold, I am the LORD GOD of all flesh: is there any thing too hard for mee?

28 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will giue this citie into the hand of the Caldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchad-rezzar, king of Babel, and he shall take it.

29 And the Caldeans shall come and fight against this citie, and set fire on this citie, and burne it with the hou'es, vpon whose roofes they haue offered incense vnto Baal, and powred drinke offerings vnto other gods, to prouoke mee vnto anger.

30 For the children of Israel and the children of Iudah haue surely done euill before mee from their youth: for the children of Israel haue surely prouoked mee to anger with the workes of their hands, saith the Lord.

31 Therefore this citie hath bene vnto mee as a pronocation of mine anger, and of my wrath, from the day that they built it, euē vnto this day, that I should remoue it out of my sight,

32 Because of all the euill of the children of Israel, and of the children of Iudah, which they haue done to prouoke mee to anger, even they, their Kings, their Princes, their Priests, and their Prophets, and the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

33 And they haue turned vnto mee the backe and not the face: though I taught them, o rising vp early, and instructing them, yet they were not obedient to receive doctrine, 34 But they fet their abomination in the house (whereupon my Name was called) to defile it.

35 And they built the high p places of Baal, which are in the valley of p Ben-hinnom, to cause their lonnes and their daughters to passe thorow the fire vnto Molech, which I commanded them not, neither came it into my minde, that they should doe such abomination, to cause Iudah to sinne.

36 And now f therefore, thus hath the Lord God of Israel spoken, concerning this citie, whereof I say, It shall be deliuered into the hand of the king of Babel by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence, 37 * Behold, I will gather them out of all countreys, wherein I haue scattered them in mine anger, and in my wrath, and in great indignation, and I will bring them againe vnto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely.

38 And they shall be o my people, and I will be their God.

39 And I will giue them o one heart and one way, that they may feare mee for euer for the wealth of them, and of their children after them.

40 And I will make an o euerlasting covenant with them, that I will neuer turne away from them to doe them good, but I will put my feare in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me.

41 Yea, I will delight in them to doe them good, and I will plant them in this land assuredly with my whole heart, and with all my soule.

42 For thus saith the Lord, Like as I haue brought all this great plague vpon this people, so will I bring vpon them all the good that I haue promised them.

43 And the fields l shall be possessed in this land, whereof I say, it is desolate without man or beast and shall be giuen into the hand of the Caldeans.

44 Men shall buy o fields for siluer, and make writings, and seale them, and take witness in the land of Beniamin, & round about Ierusalem, and in the cities of Iudah, & in the cities of the mountains, and in the cities of the plaine, and in the cities of the South: for I will cause their captiuitie to returne, saith the Lord.

CHAP. XXXIII.

MOREouer, the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah the second time (while he was yet shut vp in the a court of the prison) saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, the b maker thereof, the Lord that formed it, and established it, the Lord is his Name.

3 Call vnto mee, and I will answere thee, and shew thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not.

4 For thus saith the Lord God of Israel, concerning the houses of this citie, and concerning the houses of the kings of Iudah, which are destroyed by the c mounts, and by the sword:

5 They came to d fight with the Caldeans, but it is to fill themselves with the dead bodies of men, whom I haue slaine in mine anger, and in my wrath: for I haue hid my e face from this citie, because of all their wickednesse.

6 ¶ Behold, I will giue it health and amendment: for I will cure them, and will reucale vnto them the abundance of peace and truth.

Or, bid.

Exod. 34. 9.

Because the wicked are subiect to the curse of God, he sheweth that their punitiō which by nature are vnder this malediction, shall be punished both for their owne wickednesse, and that the iniquities of their fathers, which is likewise in them shall be also reuenged on their head. k Meaning, that his miracles in deliuering his people should neuer be forgotten.

The word signifies any thing that is cast vp, as a mount, or rampart, and is alioed for engines of warre, which were layd on an high place to shoot into a citie before that gates were in use.

That is, of every creature: who as they are his worke, so doth he gouerne and giude them as please him, whereby he sheweth that he is the author of this their captiuitie for their sinnes, so will hee for his mercies be their redeemer to restore them againe to libertie. n From the time that I brought them out of Egypt and made them my people, and called them my first borne,

8 And I wil cleanse them from all their iniquitie, whereby they haue sinned against mee: yea, I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they haue sinned against mee, and whereby they haue rebelled against mee.

9 And it shall bee to mee a name, a boy, a praise, and an honour before all the nations of the earth, which shall heare all the good that I doe vnto them: and they shall feare, and tremble for all the goodnesse, and for all the wealth, that I shew vnto this cite.

10 Thus saith the Lord, Againe there shall be heard in this place (which ye say shall be desolate without man, and without beast, even in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, that are desolate without man, and without inhabitant, and without beast)

12 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Againe in this place, which is desolate, without man, and without beast, and in all the cities thereof there shall be dwelling for shepherds to rest their flocks.

13 In the cities of the mountaines, in the cities in the plaine, and in the cities of the South, and in the land of Benjamin, and about Ierusalem, and in the cities of Iudah shall the sheepe passe againe, vnder the hand of him that telleth them, saith the Lord.

14 Beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will performe that good thing which I haue promised vnto the house of Israel, and to the house of Iudah.

15 In those dayes and at that time, wil I cause the branch of righteousness to growe vp vnto David, and he shall execute iudgement and righteousness in the land.

16 In those dayes shall Iudah be saved, and Ierusalem shall dwell safely, and hee that shall call her, is the Lord our righteousness.

17 For thus saith the Lord, David shall neuer want a man to sit vpon the throne of the house of Irael.

18 Neither shall the Priests and Levites want a man before me to offer burnt offerings, and to offer sweet offerings, and to doe sacrifice continually.

16 And the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah, saying,

20 Thus saith the Lord, If you can breake my covenant of the 7 day, and my covenant of the night, that there should not bee day, and night in their season,

21 Then may my covenant bee broken with David my servant, that hee should not haue a sonne to reigne vpon his throne, and with the Levites, and Priests my ministers.

22 As the army of heauen cannot be numbred, neither the sand of the sea measured: so wil I multiply the seed of David my servant, and the Levites that minister vnto me.

23 Moreover, the word of the Lord came to Ieremiah, saying,

24 Considerest thou not what 9 this people haue spoken, saying, The two families, which the Lord hath chosen, hee hath euen cast them off: thus they haue despised my people, that they should be no more a nation before them.

25 Thus saith the Lord, If my covenant bee not with day and night, and if I haue not appointed the order of heauen and earth,

26 Then will I cast away the seed of Iakob, and David my servant, and not take of his seed to bee rulers over the seed of Abraham, Izhak, and Iakob: for I wil cause their captiuitie to returne, and haue compassion on them.

CHAP. XXXIII.

2 He threatneth that the cite, and the king Zedekiah shall be given into the hands of the king of Babel. 11 Ieremiaheth their cruelty toward their seruants.

The word which came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord (when a Nebuchad-rezzar king of Babel, and all his hoste, and all the kingdomes of the earth, that were vnder the power of his hand, and all people fought against Ierusalem, and against all the cities thereof) saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Goe, and speake to Zedekiah king of Iudah, and tell him, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will give this cite into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall burne it with fire,

3 And thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely bee taken, and deliuered into his hand, and thine eyes shall behold the face of the king of Babel, and he shall speake with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt goe to Babel.

4 Yet heare the word of the Lord, O Zedekiah, king of Iudah: thus saith the Lord of thee, Thou shalt not die by the sword,

5 But thou shalt die in peace: and according to the burning for thy fathers the former kings which were before thee: so shall they burne offenders for thee, and they shall lament thee, saying, Oh sorrow for I haue pronounced the word, saith the Lord.

6 Then Ieremiah the Prophet spake all these wordes vnto Zedekiah king of Iudah in Ierusalem,

7 (When the king of Babels hoste fought against Ierusalem, and against all the cities of Iudah that were left, even against Lachish, and against Azekah: for these strong cities remained of the cities of Iudah)

8 Thus is the word that came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, after that the king Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people, which were at Ierusalem, to proclaime libertie vnto them,

9 That euery man should let his seruant goe free, and euery man his handmaid, which was an Ebrew or an Ebrewesse, & that none should serue himselfe of them, to wit, of a few his brother.

10 Now when all the princes, and all the people which had agreed to the covenant, heard that euery one should let his seruant goe free, and euery one his handmaid, and that none should serue themselves of them any more, they obeyed and let them goe.

11 But afterward they repented, and caused the seruants and the handmaids, whom they had let goe free, to returne, and held them in subiection as seruants and handmaids.

12 Therefore the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I made a covenant covenant with your fathers, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of || servants, saying,

14 * At the terme of seven yeeres let yee goe, every man his brother an Hebrew which hath bene sold vnto thee: and when hee hath serued thee fixe yeeres, thou shalt let him goe free from thee: but your fathers obeyed me not, neither inclined their eares.

15 And yee were now turned, and had done right in my fight in proclaiming libertie, every man to his neighbour, and ye had made a covenant before mee in ^f the house whereupon my Name is called.

16 But ye repented, and polluted my Name: for ye haue caused every man his seruant, and every man his hand-maid, whom yee had set at libertie at their pleasure, to returne and hold them in subiection, to bee vnto you as seruants and as hand-maids.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord, ye haue not obeyed me, in proclaiming freedome every man to his brother, and every man to his neighbour: behold, I proclaime a libertie for you saith the Lord, to the sword, to the pestilence, & to the famine, and I will make you a terrour to all the kingdoms of the earth.

18 And I wil giue those men that haue broken my Covenant, and haue not kept the wordes of the Covenant which they had made before mee, when they cut the calf in twaine, and passed betweene the parts thereof.

19 The Princes of Iudah, and the Princes of Ierusalem, the Eunuches, & the Priests, and al the people of the land, which passed betweene the parts of the calf,

20 I will euen giue them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hands of them that seeke their life: and their dead bodies shal be for meate vnto the foules of the heauen, and to the beasts of the earth.

21 And Zedekiah king of Iudah, and his princes wil I giue into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seeke their life, and into the hand of the king of Babels host, which are gone vp from you.

22 Behold, I wil command, saith the Lord, and cause them to returne to this citie, and they shal fight against it, and take it, and burne it with fire: and I will make the cities of Iudah desolate without an inhabitant.

CHAP. XXXV.

He prophecieth the obedience of the Rechabites, and thereby comforteth the priuie of the Iewes.

THe word which came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, in the daies ^a of Iehoiakim the son of Iosiah King of Iudah, saying,

2 Goe into the house of the ^b Rechabites, and speake vnto them, and bring them into the house of the Lord into one of the chambers, and giue them wine to drinke.

3 Then tooke I Ianaaziah, the sonne of Ieremiah the sonne of Habazziniah, & his brethren, and all his sonnes, and the whole house of the Rechabites,

4 And I brought them into the house of the Lord, into the chamber of the fons of Hanan the sonne of Igddaliah a man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was about the chamber of Maaseiah the sonne of Shallum, the keeper of the || treasure.

5 And I set before the sonnes of the house of the Rechabites, pots full of wine, and cuppes, and ^d said vnto them, Drinke wine.

6 But they said, We will drinke no wine: for ^e Ionaab the sonne of Rechab our father commanded vs, saying, I ye shall drinke no wine: ^e neither you nor your ionnes for euer.

7 Neither shall you build house, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor haue any, but all your dayes ye shall dwell in tents, that yee may liue a long time in the land where ye be strangers.

8 Thus haue wee obeyed the voyce of Ionaab the sonne of Rechab our father, in all that he hath charged vs, and wee drinke no wine all our daies, neither wee, our wiues, our sonnes, nor our daughters.

9 Neither build we houses for vs to dwell in, neither haue we vineyard, nor field nor feed,

10 But we haue remained in tents, and haue obeyed, and done according to ^g all that Ionaab our father commanded vs.

11 But when Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel came vp into the land, we said, Come, and let vs goe to Ierusalem, from the hosts of the Caldeans, and from the hosts of Aram: so we ^h dwelt at Ierusalem.

12 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Goe, and tell the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, Will i ye not receiue doctrine, to obey my words saith the Lord?

14 The commandement of Ionaab the sonne of Rechab that hee commanded his ionnes, that they should drinke no wine, is surely kept: for vnto this day they drinke none, but obey their fathers commandement: notwithstanding I haue spoken vnto you, ⁱ rising early, and speaking, but ye would not obey me.

15 I haue sent also vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, rising vp early, and sending them, saying, * Returne now every man from his euill way, and amend your workes, and goe not after other gods to serue them, and yee shall dwell in the land which I haue giuen vnto you, and to your fathers, but ye would not incline your eare, nor obey me.

16 Surely the sonnes of Ionaab the sonne of Rechab, haue kept the commandement of their father, which he gaue them, but this people hath not obeyed me.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring vpon Iudah, and vpon all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, all the euill that I haue pronounced against them, because I haue ^j spoken vnto them, but they would not heare, and I haue called vnto them, but they would not answere.

18 And Ieremiah saide to the house of the Rechabites, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Because ye haue obeyed the commandement of Ionaab your father, & kept all his precepts, and done according vnto all that hee hath commanded you, 19 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Ionaab the sonne of Rechab shal ^k not want a man, to stand before me for euer.

waters, and readeth before them also. 27 The King casteth is in the fire. 28 There was another written as the commandments of the Lord.

And in the fourth yere of Iehoiakim the son of Iosiah king of Iudah, came this word vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Take thee a roule or booke, and write therein all the words that I haue spoken to thee against Israel, and against Iudah, and against all the nations, from the day that I spake vnto thee, euen from the dates of Iosiah vnto this day.

3 It may be that the house of Iudah will heare of all the euill, which I determined to doe vnto them, that they may returne euery man from his euill way, that I may forgive their iniquitie and their finnes.

4 Then Ieremiah called Baruch the sonne of Neria, and Baruch wrote at the mouth of Ieremiah all the words of the Lord, which hee had spoken vnto him, vpon a roule or booke.

5 And Ieremiah commanded Baruch, saying,
I am d thus vp, and cannot goe into the house of the Lord.

6 Therefore goe thou, and reade the roule wherin thou hast written at my mouth the words of the Lord, in the audience of the people in the Lords house vpon the fasting day: & thou shalt read them in the hearing of all Iudah, that come out of their cities.

7 It may be that they will pray before the Lord, and euery one returne from his euill way, for great is the anger & the wrath, that the Lord hath declared against this people.

8 So Baruch the sonne of Neria did according vnto all, that Ieremiah the Prophet commanded him, reading in the booke the words of the Lord in the Lords house.

9 ¶ And in the sixt yere of Iehoiakim the son of Iosiah King of Iudah, in the ninth month, they proclaimed a fast before the Lord to all the people in Ierusalem, & to all the people that came from the cities of Iudah vnto Ierusalem.

10 Then read Baruch in the booke the words of Ieremiah in the house of the Lord, in the chamber of Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan the Secretary, in the hier court at the entry of the new gate of the Lords house, in the hearing of all the people.

11 When Michaiah the sonne of Gemariah, the sonne of Shaphan had heard out of the book
all the words of the Lord,

12 Then he went downe to the Kings house into the Chancellours chamber, and loe, all the princes were there, euen Elishama the Chancellor, and Delaiah the son of Shemaiah, and Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan, and Zedeiah the sonne of Hananiah, and all the Princes.

13 Then Michaiah declared vnto them all the words that hee had heard when Baruch read in the booke in the audience of the people.

14 Therefore all the Princes sent Iehudi the sonne of Nethaniah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the son of Chufsi, vnto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roule, wherein thou hast read, in the audience of the people, and come. So Baruch the sonne of Neria took the roule in his hand, and came vnto them.

15 And they said vnto him, Sit downe now, and read it, that we may heare, So Baruch read it in their audience,

16 Now when they had heard all the words, they were afraid both one and other, and laid vnto Baruch, We will certifie the king of all these words.

17 And they examined Baruch, saying, Tel vs now, how didst thou write all these words, at his mouth?

18 Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these words vnto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with inke in the Booke.

19 Then said the Princes vnto Baruch, Goe, kide thee, & thou and Ieremiah, and let no man know where ye be.

20 ¶ And they went in to the king to the court, but they laid vp the roule in the chamber of El-shama the Chancellour, and told the king all the words that he might heare.

21 So the King sent Iehudi to fet the roule, and hee tooke it out of Elshama the Chancellours chamber, & Iehudi read it in the audience of the king, and in the audience of all the princes, which stood beside the King.

22 Now the king late in the winter house, in the ninth month, and there was a fire burning before him.

23 And when Iehudi had read three or foure sides, he cut it with the pen-knife and cast it into the fire that was on the hearth, vntill all the roule was consumed in the fire, that was on the hearth.

24 Yet they were not afraid, nor rent their garments, neither the king nor any of his seruants that heard all these words.

25 Neuertheless, Elnathan, and Delaiah, and Gemariah had besought the King, that he would not burn the roule: but he would not heare them.

26 But the King commanded Ierameel the sonne of Hammelech, and Seraiah the sonne of Azriel, and Shelemiah the sonne of Abd el, to take Baruch the Scribe, and Ieremiah the Prophet, but the Lord hid them.

27 ¶ Then the word of the Lord came to Ieremiah, that the King had burnt the roule, and the words which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Ieremiah saying,

28 Take thee againe another roule & write in it all the former words that were in the first roule which Iehoiakim the King of Iudah hath burnt,

29 And thou shalt say to Iehoiakim King of Iudah, Thus saith the Lord, thou hast burnt this roule, saying, Why hast thou written therein, saying, That the King of Babel shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall take thence both man and beast?

30 Therefore thus saith the Lord of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, He shall haue none to sit vpon the throne of Dauid, & his dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heate, and in the night to the frost.

31 And I will visite him and his seed, and his seruants for their iniquity, and I will bring vpon them, and vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and vpon the men of Iudah, all the euill that I haue pronounced against them: but they would not heare.

32 Then tooke Ieremiah another roule, and gave it Baruch the Scribe the sonne of Neria, which wrote therein at the mouth of Ieremiah all the words of the booke which Iehoiakim king of Iudah had burnt in the fire, and there were added besides them many like words,

i The godly were

C H A P. XXXVII.

1 Zedekiah succeeded Iehoiachin. 2 Iehoiachin was taken to Babel. 3 Iehoiachin was taken to Babel. 4 Iehoiachin was taken to Babel. 5 Iehoiachin was taken to Babel.

ANd King Zedekiah the sonne of Iosiah reigned for . Coniah the sonne of Iehoiachin, whom Nebuchad-rezzar king of Babel made king in the land of Iudah.

2 But neither he nor his servants, nor the people o the land would obey the wordes o the Lord which he spake by the ministry of the Prophet Ieremiah.

3 And Zedekiah the king sent Iehucal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest to the Prophet Ieremiah, saying, Pray now vnto the Lord our God for vs.

4 (Now Ieremiah went in and out among the people : for they had not put him into the prison.

5 Then Pharaohs host was come out of Egypt: and when the Caldeans that besieged Ierusalem, heard tidings of them, they departed from Ierusalem.)

6 Then came the word of the Lord vnto the Prophet Ieremiah, saying,

7 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Thus shalt ye say to the king of Iudah, that sent ye vnto me to enquire o me, Beholde, Pharaohs hoste, which is come forth to help ye, shall returne to Egypt into their owne land.

8 And the Caldeans shall come againe, and fight against this cite, and take it and burne it with fire.

9 Thus saith the Lord, || Deceiue not your selues, saying, The Caldeans shall surely depart from vs : for they shall not depart.

10 For though ye had smitten the whole host of the Caldeans that fight against you, and there remained not wounded men among them, yet should eury man rise vp in his tent, and burne this cite with fire.

11 ¶ When the hoste of the Caldeans was broken vp from Ierusalem, because of Pharaohs armie, 12 Then Ieremiah went out of Ierusalem to goe into the land of Ben amin, separating himselfe thence from among the people.

13 And when hee was in the gate of Beniamin, there was a chiefe officer, whose name was Irijah the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Hananiah, and hee tooke Ieremiah the Prophet, saying, Thou hast fled to the Caldeans.

14 Then said Ieremiah, That is false, I flee not to the Caldeans but he would not heare him so Irijah took Ieremiah, & brought him to the princes.

15 Wherefore the princes were angry with Ieremiah, and more he, and layed him in prison in the house of Iehonathan the Scribe : for they had made that the prison.

16 When Ieremiah was entred into the dungeon, and into the prison, & had remained there a long time,

17 Then Zedekiah the king sent, and tooke him out : and the king asked him secretly in his house, & said, Is there any word from the Lord ? And Ieremiah said, Yea : for, said he, thou shalt be deliuered into the hand of the king of Babel.

18 Moreover, Ieremiah said vnto king Zedekiah, What haue I offended against thee, or against thy seruants, or against this people, that ye haue put me in prison ?

19 ¶ Where are now your prophets, which prophesied vnto you, saying, The king of Babel shall not come againe if ye younger againe this land ?

20 Therefore heare now, I pray thee, O my lord the king : let my prayer be accepted before thee, that thou couldest not to returne to the house of Iehonathan the Seer, & lest I die there.

21 Then Zedekiah the king commanded, that they should put Ieremiah in the court of the prison, and that they should giue him daily a peece of bread out of the bakers strete, vntill all the bread in the cite were eaten vp. Thus Ieremiah remained in the court o the prison.

C H A P. XXXVIII.

1 By the motion of the waters Ieremiah was put into a dungeon, to the house of the king of Babel. 2 Ieremiah was put into a dungeon, to the house of the king of Babel. 3 Ieremiah was put into a dungeon, to the house of the king of Babel.

Then Shephatiah the sonne of Mattan, and Gedaliah the sonne of Pashhur, and Iucal the sonne o Shelemiah, and Pashhur the sonne of Malchiah, heard the wordes that Ieremiah had spoken vnto all the people, saying,

2 Thus sayeth the Lord, He that remaineth in this cite, shall die by the sword, by the famine and by the pestilence : but he that goeth forth to the Caldeans, shall liue : or hee shall haue his life for a pray, and shall liue.

3 Thus saith the Lord, This cite shall surely be giuen into the hand of the king of Babels army, which shall take it.

4 Therefore the Princes sayd vnto the king, We beseech you, let this man be put to death : for thus hee will weakeneth the hands of the men of warre : that remaine in this cite, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words vnto them : for this man seeketh not the wealth o this people but the hurt.

5 Then Zedekiah the king sayd, Beholde, hee is in your hands, for the king can doise a you nothing.

6 Then tooke they Ieremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Malchiah the sonne of Hammelech, that was in the court of the prison : and they let downe Ieremiah with coards : and in the dungeon there was no water but mire : so Ieremiah stucke fast in the mire.

7 Nowe when Ebed-melech the blacke Moore, one of the Eunuchs which was in the kings house, heard that they had put Ieremiah in the dungeon, (then the king fate in the gate of Beniamin.)

8 And Ebed-melech went out of the kings house, and spake to the king, saying,

9 My lord the king, these men haue done euill in all that they haue done to Ieremiah the Prophet, whom they haue cast into the dungeon and he dieth for hunger in the place where hee is : for there is no more bread in the cite.

10 Then the king commanded Ebed-melech the blacke Moore, saying, Take thou hence thirty men to with thee, and take Ieremiah the Prophet out of the dungeon before he die.

11 So Ebed-melech tooke the men with him, and went to the house of the king, vnder the treasure, and tooke there olde rotten ragges, and olde worne clothes, and let them downe by coards into the dungeon to Ieremiah.

12 And Ebed-melech the blacke Moore sayde vnto Ieremiah, Put now these olde rotten ragges and worne, vnder thine armeholes, betwene

13 So they drew vp Ieremiah with cordes, and tooke him vp out of the dungeon, and Ieremiah remained in the court of the prifon.

14 ¶ Then Zedekiah the king fent, and tooke Ieremiah the Prophet vnto him, into the third entrie that is in the houfe of the Lord, and the king faid vnto Ieremiah, I will afke thee a thing: hide nothing from me.

15 Then Ieremiah fayd to Zedekiah, If I declare it vnto thee, wilt not thou flay me? and if I giue thee counfell, thou wilt not heare me.

16 So the king fware secretly vnto Ieremiah, faying, As the Lord liueh, that made vs thefe foules, I will not flay thee, nor giue thee into the hands of thofe men that feeke thy life.

17 Then fayd Ieremiah vnto Zedekiah, Thus faith the Lord God of hofes, the God of Ifrael, If thou wilt go forth vnto the king of Babels princes then thy foule fhall liue, and this citie fhall not bee burnt vp with fire, and thou fhalt liue, and thine houfe.

18 But if thou wilt not goe forth to the king of Babels princes, then fhall this citie bee giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, and they fhall burne it with fire, and thou fhalt not efcape out of their hands.

19 And Zedekiah the king fayd vnto Ieremiah, I am carefull for the Iewes that are fled vnto the Caldeans, left they deliuer mee into their hands, and they mocke me.

20 But Ieremiah faid, They fhall not deliuer thee: hearken vnto the voice of the Lord, I befeech thee, which I ipeake vnto thee: fo fhall it be wel vnto thee, and thy foule fhall liue.

21 But if thou wilt refufe to goe forth, this is the word that the Lord hath fhewed me.

22 And beholde all the women that are left in the king of Iudahs houfe, fhall be brought forth to the king of Babels princes, and thofe women fhall fay, Thy friends haue perfwaded thee, and haue preailed againft thee, thy feet are faftened in the mire, and they are turned backe.

23 So they fhall bring out all thy wiues, and thy children to the Caldeans, and thou fhalt not efcape out of their hands, but fhalt bee taken by the hand of the king of Babel: and this citie fhalt thou caufe to be burnt with fire.

24 Then faid Zedekiah vnto Ieremiah, Let no man know of thefe words, and thou fhalt not die.

25 But if the princes vnderftand that I haue talked with thee, and they come vnto thee, & fay vnto thee, Declare vnto ys now, what thou haft faid vnto the king, hide it not from ys, & we will not flay thee: alio what the king faid vnto thee,

26 Then fhalt thou fay vnto them, I humbly befeought the king that hee would not caufe mee to returne to Iehonathans houfe, to die there.

1 Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, 2 Zedekiah fleeing, taken of the Caldeans 6 His iowes are flaine 7 His eyes are thruft out 11 Ieremiah is prouided for 15 Ebed-nechuz delivered from captiuitie.

IN the ninth yeere of Zedekiah king of Iudah in the tenth moneth, came Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel and all his hoſte againſt Ierufalem, and they beſieged it.

2 And in the eleuenth yeere of the king of Iudah in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, the citie was broken aſup.

3 And all the princes of the king of Babel came in, and fate in the middle gate, even Neregal, Sharezer, Shamar-nebo, Sarſechim, Rabſaris, Neregal, Sharezer, Rab-mag, with all the reſidue of the princes of the king of Babel.

4 And when Zedekiah the king of Iudah ſaw them, and all the men of warre, then they fled, and went out of the citie by night, through the kings garden, and by the gate betwene the two walls, and he went toward the wilderneſſe.

5 But the Caldeans hoſte purified after them, and tooke Zedekiah in the deſert of Iericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him to Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel vnto Riblah in the land of Hamath, where hee gaue iudgment vpon him.

6 Then the king of Babel ſaw the fonnes of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: alſo the king of Babel ſlew all the nobles of Iudah.

7 Moreouer, he put out Zedekiahs eyes, and bound him in chaines to cary him to Babel.

8 And the Caldeans burnt the kings houſe, and the houſes of the people with fire, and brake downe the wallies of Ierufalem.

9 Then Nebuzar-adan the chiefe ſteward caried away captiue into Babel the remnant of the people that remained in the citie, and thoſe that were fled and fallen vnto him, with the reſt of the people that remained.

10 But Nebuzar-adan the chiefe ſteward left the poore that had nothing in the land of Iudah, and gaue them vineyards and fieldes at the ſame time.

11 Now Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel gaue charge concerning Ieremiah to Nebuzar-adan the chiefe ſteward, ſaying, 12 Take him up, & looke well to him, and doe him no harme, but doe vnto him as he ſhall ſay vnto thee.

13 So Nebuzar-adan the chiefe ſteward ſent, and Nebuzar-adan, Rabſaris, and Neregal, Sharezer, Rab-mag, and all the king of Babels princes:

14 Euen they ſent, and tooke Ieremiah out of the court of the prifon, and committed him vnto Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam, the ſonne of Shaphan, that hee ſhould cary him home: ſo hee dwelt among the people.

15 Now the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah, while hee was ſhut vp in the court of the prifon, ſaying, 16 Go and ſpeake to Ebed-nelech the blacke-Moore, ſaying, Thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes the God of Iſrael, Beholde, I will bring my words vpon this citie for euill, and not for good, and they ſhall bee accompliſhed in that day before thee.

17 But I will deliuer thee in that day, ſaith the Lord, and thou ſhalt not bee giuen into the hand of the men whom thou feareſt.

18 For I will ſurely deliuer thee and thou ſhalt not fall by the ſword, but thy life ſhall bee for a pray vnto thee, becauſe thou haſt put thy truſt in me, ſaith the Lord.

13 Now when all the people whom Ishmael carried away captiue, sawe Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoste that were with him, they were glad.

14 So all the people that Ishmael had carried away captiue from Mizpah, returned, and came againe, and went vnto Iohanan the sonne of Kareah.

15 But Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, escaped from Iohanan with eight men, and went to the Ammonites.

16 Then tooke Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoste that were with him, all the remnant of the people, whom Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah had carried away captiue from Mizpah, (after that hee had slaine Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam) men the strong men of wane, and the women, and the children, and the Eunuches, whom hee had brought againe from Gibeon.

17 And they departed and dwelt in Geruth i Chimham, which is by Beth-lehem, to goe on to enter into Egypt.

18 Because of the Caldeans: for they feared them, because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had slaine Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, whom the king of Babel made gouernour in the land.

CHAP. XLII.

a The captiues take counsell of Jeremiah what they ought to doe. b Hee admonisheth the remnant of the people not to goe into Egypt.

Then all the captiues of the hoste, and Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and Tezaniah the sonne of Hoshaiah, and all the people from the least vnto the most came,

2 And sayde vnto Jeremiah the Prophet, 3 Heare our prayer wee beleeue thee, and pray for vs vnto the Lord thy God, euen for all this remnant (for wee are left out a fewe of many, as thine eyes doe behold)

3 That the Lord thy God may fawne vs the way wherein we may walke, and the thing that we may doe.

4 Then Jeremiah the Prophet said vnto them, I haue heard you behold, I wil pray vnto the Lord your God according to your words, & whatsoever thing the Lord shall answer you, I wil declare it vnto you: I wil keep nothing back from you.

5 Then they said to Jeremiah, The Lord be a witnes of truth, and saith between vs, if we do not euen according to all things for the which the Lord thy God shall send thee to vs.

6 Whether it be good or euill, we will obey the voice of the Lord God, to whom wee send thee, that it may be well with vs, when we obey the voice of the Lord our God.

7 ¶ And so after ten dayes came the word of the Lord vnto Jeremiah.

8 Then called he Iohanan the son of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoste, which were with him, and all the people from the least to the most,

9 And ayd vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, vnto whom yee sent mee to present your prayers before him,

10 If ye will dwell in this land, then I wil build you, and not destroy you, and I will plant you, and not root you out: for I repent mee of the euill that I haue done vnto you.

11 Feare not for the king of Babel, of whome ye are afraid: be not afraid of him saith the Lord: for I am with you, to saue you, and to deliuer you from his hand, 12 And I will grant you mercy that hee may haue compassion vpon you, and he shall cause you to dwell in your owne land.

13 But if ye say, We wil not dwell in this land, neither heare the voyce of the Lord your God,

14 Saying, Nay, but we will goe into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no war, nor heare the found of the trumpet, nor haue hunger of bread, and there will we dwell,

15 (And now therefore heare the word of the Lord, ye remnant of Iudah: thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, If ye set your faces to enter into Egypt, and goe to dwell there,)

16 Then the sword that ye feared, I shall take you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, for the which ye care, shall there hang vpon you in Egypt, and there shall ye die.

17 And all the men that set their faces to enter into Egypt to dwell there, shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, and none of them shall remaine nor escape from the plague, that I will bring vpon them.

18 For thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, As mine anger and my wrath hath bene powred forth vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalem: so shall my wrath be powred forth vpon you, when ye shall enter into Egypt, and yee shall be a desolation, and an afflictment, and a scurfe, and a reproch, and yee shall see this place no more.

19 O ye remnant of Iudah, the Lord hath said concerning you, Goe not into Egypt know certainly that I haue admonished you this day.

20 Surely ye dissembled in your hearts when ye sent me vnto the Lord your God, saying, Pray for vs vnto the Lord our God, and declare vnto vs euen according vnto all that the Lord our God shall say, and wee will do it.

21 Therefore I haue this day declared it you, but you haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord your God, nor any thing for the which hee hath sent me vnto you.

22 Now therefore, know certainly that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence: in the place whither yee desire to goe and dwell.

CHAP. XLIII.

Iohanan carrieth the remnant of the people into Egypt, contrary to the command of the Lord. 8 Jeremiah prophesies the destruction of Egypt.

Now when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking vnto the whole people all the words of the Lord their God for the which the Lord their God had sent him to them, all these words,

2 Then spake Azariah the son of Hoshaiah, and Iohanan the son of Kareah, and all the proud men, laying vnto Jeremiah, Thou speakest falsly: the Lord our God hath not sent thee to say, Goe not into Egypt to dwell there,

4 So Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaynes of the hoste, and all the people obeyed not the voyce o^r the Lord to dwell in the land of Iudah.

5 But Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaynes of the hoste tooke all the remnant of Iudah, that were returned from all nations, whither they had bene diuen, to dwell in the land of Iudah.

7 So they came into the land of Egypt: for they obeyed not the voyce of the Lord: thus came they to h^e Tahpanhes.

8 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah in Tahpanhes, saying,

9 Take great stones in thine hand, and ihide them in the chaye in the bricke kiln, which is at the entry of Pharaohs house in Tahpanhes in the sight of the men of Iudah,

10 And lay vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God o^r Israel: Behold, I will send and bring Nebuchadrezzar the King of Babel my seruant, and will set his throne vpon these stones that I haue hid, and he shall spread his pavillion ouer them.

11 And when he shall come, he shall smite the land of Egypt: he shall as be appointed for death, to death, and such as are for captiuitie, to captiuitie, and such as are for the sword to the sword,

12 And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt, and he shall burne them and cary them away captiues, & he shall aray himselfe with the land of Egypt, as a shepherd putteth on his garment, and shall depart from thence in peace.

13 He shall break also the images of ^h Bethshemesh, that is in the land of Egypt, & the houses of the gods of the Egyptians shall he burne with fire.

C A H P. XLIIII.

Here prophetheth the people for their idolatry. 15 They that set light by the threatening of the Lord, are chastened. 26 Thee. Beuill on of egypt, and of the Iewes therein, is prophesied.

THe word that came to Ieremiah concerning all the Iewes, which dwell in the land of Egypt, and remained at M gdol and at Tahpanhes, and at Noph, and in the countrey of Pathros, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Yee haue seene all the euill that I haue brought vpon Ierusalem, and vpon all the cities of Iudah: and behold, this day they are desolate and no man dwelleth therein,

3 Because of their wickednesse which they haue committed, to prouoke me to anger in that they went to burne incense, and to Ierue other gods whom they knew not, neither they nor you nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit I sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophets rising early and sending them, saying, Oh doe not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they would not heare, nor incline their eare to turne from their wickednes, and to burne no more incense vnto other gods.

6 Wherefore my wrath and mine anger was powred forth & was kindled in the cities of Iudah, and in the streets of Ierusalem, and they are desolate and wasted as appeareth this day.

7 Therefore now thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Wherefore commit ye this euill against your oules, to cut off from you great and woman, child and suckling out of Iudah, and leaue you none to remaine?

8 In that ye prouoke me vnto wrath with the works of your hands, burning incense vnto other gods in the land of Egypt whither ye be gone to dwell: that ye might bring destruction vnto your selues, and that ye might be a curse and a reproch among all nations of the earth.

9 Haue ye forgotten the wickednes of your fathers, and the wickednes of the kings of Iudah and the wickednes of their wiues, and your owne wickednes & the wickednes of your wiues, which they haue committed in the land of Iudah and in the streets of Ierusalem.

10 They are not humbled vnto this day neither haue they feared nor walked in my law nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will set my face against you to euill, and to destroy all Iudah,

12 And I will take the remnant of Iudah that haue set their faces to go into the land of Egypt there to dwell, and they shall all bee consumed and fall in the land of Egypt: they shall euen bee consumed by the sword, and by the famine: they shall die from the least vnto the most, by the sword, and by the famine, and they shall be a desolation and an astonishment, and a curse and a reproch.

13 For I wil visite them that dwell in the land of Egypt as I haue visited Ierusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

14 So that none of the remnant of Iudah, which are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there, shall escape or remaine, that they should returne into the land of Iudah, to the which they haue a desire to returne to dwell therefore none shall returne, but such as shall escape.

15 Then all the men which knewe that their wiues had burne incense vnto other gods, and all the women that stood by, a great multitude, euen all the people that dwell in the land of Egypt in Pathros, answered Ieremiah, saying,

16 The worde that thou hast spoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lord, we will not heare it of thee,

17 But wee will doe whateuer thing goeth out of our owne mouth, as to burne incense vnto the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings vnto her, as we haue done, both we and our fathers, our kings and our princes in the cities of Iudah, and in the streets of Ierusalem: for then had wee plenty of vitayles, and were well and felt none euill.

18 But since we left off to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings vnto her, we haue had scarcenesse of all things, and haue bin consumed by the sword, and by the famine.

19 And when we burnt incense to the Queene of heauen, and powred out drinke offerings vnto her, we were satiate with bread. ¶ This is still the argument of idolaters, which disceim religion by the belly and in stead of acknowledging Gods works, who lesse both plenty and dearth health and sicknesse, they attribute to their idololaters and to dishonour Gods. ¶ Or. Iam. ¶ Or. mania.

d Hee sheweth that we ought to keepe in memory Gods plagues from the beginning, that considering them, we might live in his care. & know it he haue not spared our fathers, yea kings, priores and rulers, and also whole countries & nations for their finnes, that we vile wormes, cannot looke to escape punishment for ours. ¶ Or. health in some. ¶ Amos. 9. 9. 4.

5. Which sheweth that they might be at some thing for purpose. Whereby he excepteth the innocents as Ieremiah & Baruch that were forced: therefore the Lord sheweth how he will let his face against them: that is, putrefy destroy them.

i. Reade Chap. 7. 18. It seemeth that the papists gathered of this place their Salve Regina & Rosary: calling the virgin Mary Queene of heauen, and of the blessed virgin, and mother of our Saviour Christ, made an idol for here the Prophet condemneth their idolatry.

Or, to appeale her.

her, did we make her cakes || to make her glad,
and powre out drinke offerings vnto her without our husbands?

20 Then said Ieremiah vnto all the people, to the men, and to the women, and to all the people which had giuen him that answere, saying,

21 Did not the Lord remember the incense, that ye burnt in the cities of Iudah, and in the Streets of Ierusalem, both you and your fathers, your Kings, and your Princes, and the people of the land, and f hath he not considered it?

22 So that the Lord could no longer forbear, because of the wickednes of your inventions, and because of the abominations, which yee haue committed: therefore is your land desolate, and an astonishment, and a curse, and without inhabitant, as appeareth this day.

23 Because yee haue burnt incense, and because ye haue sinned against the Lord, and haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord, nor walked in his Law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies, therefore this plague is come vpon you, as appeareth this day.

24 Moreover, Ieremiah said vnto all the people, and to all the women, Heare the word of the Lord, all Iudah, that are in the land of Egypt.

25 ¶ Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Yee and your wives haue both spoken with your mouths, and fulfilled with your hand, saying, We will performe our vowe that wee haue vowed to burne incense to the Queene of heauen; and to powre out drinke offerings to her: yee will performe your vowe, and doe the things that ye haue vowed.

26 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, all Iudah that dwell in the land of Egypt, Behold, I haue sworne by my great Name, saith the Lord, that my Name shall no more be called vpon by the mouth of any man of Iudah, in all the land of Egypt, saying: The Lord God hath.

27 Behold, I will watch over them for euil and not for good, and all men of Iudah that are in the land of Egypt, shall be consumed by the sword, and by the famine, vntill they be vtterly destroyed.

28 Yet a small number that escape the sword, shall returne out of the land of Egypt into the land of Iudah: and all the remnant of Iudah that are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there, shall know whose words shall stand, mine or theirs.

29 And this shall be a signe vnto you, saith the Lord, when I visite you in this place, that ye may know that my wordes shall surely stand against you for euil.

30 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will p giue Pharaoh Hophra King of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seeke his life: as I gaue Zedekiah king of Iudah into the hand of Nabuchadrezzar king of Babel his enemie, who also sought his life.

saith thus, Behold, that which I haue built, will I destroy, and that which I haue planted, will I plucke vp, euen this whole land.

5 And Ieckest thou great things for thy selfe?
seeke them not: for behold, I will bring a plague vpon all flesh, saith the Lord: but thy life will I giue thee for that I pray in all places, whither thou goest.

25 The horn of Moab is cut off, and his arme is broken, saith the Lord.

26 Make yee him drunk: for he magnified himselfe against the Lord: Moab shall wallow in his vomite, and he also shall be in derision.

27 For didst not thou deride Israel, as though he had bin found among theeues? for when thou speakest of him, thou art p moued.

28 O yet that dwell in Moab, leaue the cities, and dwell in the rockes, and be like the doue that maketh her nest in the sides of the holes mounth.

29 We haue heard the pride of Moab: (eu excedding proud) his stoutnesse, and his arrogancie, and his pride, and the hautesse of his heart.

34 From the cry of Heshbon vnto Elalch, and vnto Iahaz haue they made their noise: from Zoar vnto Horonaim, the cheifer of three yere old shall geelawing: for the waters also of Nimrim shall be wasted.

35 Moreover I will cause to cease in Moab, saith the Lord, him that offereth in the high places, and him that burneth incense to his gods.

36 Therefore mine heart shall sound for Moab like a shawme, and mine heart shall sound like a shawme for the men of Kir-heres, because the riches that he hath gotten is perished.

37 For euery head shall be bald, and euery beard plucked: vpon all the hands shall be cuttings, and vpon the loynes sackcloth.

38 And mourning shall be vpon all the house tops of Moab, and in all the streets thereof: for I haue broken Moab like a vessel wherein is no pleasure, saith the Lord.

39 They shall howle, saying, How is hee destroyed? how hath Moab turned the backe with shame? so shall Moab be a derision, and a feare to all them about him.

40 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, yhe shall flee as an eagle, and shall spread his wings ouer Moab.

41 The cities are taken, and the strong holdes are wonne, & the mighty mens hearts in Moab at y day shall be as the heart of a woman in trauaile.

42 And Moab shall be destroyed from being a people, because he hath let vp himselfe against the Lord.

43 Ye feare, and pit, and snare shall be vpon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith the Lord.

44 Heth shall escapeth from the feare, shall fall in the pit, & he shall getteth vp out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for I will bring vpon it, vpon Moab, the yere of their visitation, saith the Lord.

45 They that fled, stood vnder the shadow of Heshbon, because of the force: for the fire came out of Heshbon, and a flame from Sihon, and deuoured the corner of Moab, and the top of the sedicious children.

46 Woe be vnto thee, O Moab: the people of Chemosh perisheth: for thy sonnes are taken captiues, and thy daughters led into captiuitie.

47 Yet will I bring againe the captiuitie of Moab in the latter dayes, saith the Lord, Thus saith the iudgement of Moab.

CHAP. XLIX.

The word of the Lord against the Ammonites, 7 Idumea. 23 Demetrius. 18 Kedar. 34 and Elam.

Vnto the children of Ammon, thus saith the Lord, Hath Israel no sonnes? or hath he none heire? Why then hath their king possessed Gad, and his people dwell in his cities?

2 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will cause a noise of war to be heard in Rabba of the Ammonites, and it shall be a desolate heape, and her daughters shall be burnt with fire: then shall Israel possess those that possessed him, saith the Lord.

3 Howls, O Heshbon, for Ai is wasted cry yee daughters of Rabba: gird you with sackcloth: mourne and runne to and fro by the hedges: for their king shall go into captiuitie, and his Princes likewise.

4 Wherefore gloriest thou in the valleys? thy valley floweth away, O rebellious daughter: thy trust is in her treasures, saying, Who shall come vnto me?

5 Behold, I will bring a feare vpon thee saith the Lord God of hostes, of all those that be about thee, and yee shall be scattered euery man right forth, and none shall gather him that fleeth.

6 And afterward I will bring againe the captiuitie of the children of Ammon.

7 ¶ To Edom thus saith the Lord of hostes, Is wisdom no more in Teman? is counsel perished from their children? is their wisdom vanished?

8 Flee, ye inhabitants of Dedan (they are turned backe, and haue consulted to dwell) for I haue brought the destruction of Esau vpon him, and the time of his visitation.

9 If the grape gatherers come to thee, would they not leaue some grapes? If theeuces come by night, they will destroy till they haue enough.

10 For I haue discovered Esau: I haue vncouered his secrets, and he shall not be able to hide himselfe: his seed is wasted, and his brethren, and his neighbours, and there shall be none to say,

11 Leauethy fathers children, and I will preserve them aliu, and let thy widows trust in mee.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, they whose iudgement was not to drinke of the cup, haue assuredly drunken, and are thow he that shall escape fee? thou shalt not go free, but thou shalt surely drinke of it.

13 For I haue swoine by my selfe, sayeth the Lord, that Bozrah shall be waste, & for a reproch, and a desolation, and a curse, and all the cities thereof shall be perpetual desolations.

38 And I will set my throne in Elam, & I will destroy both the king & the princes from thence, saith the Lord: but in the latter daies I will bring againe the captiuitie of Elam, saith the Lord.

CHAP. I.

Her prophetes the destruction of Babylon, and the deliuerance of Israel, which was in captiuitie.

THE word that the Lord spake concerning Babel, and concerning the land of the Chaldeans, by the ministry of Ieremiah the Prophet.

2 Declare among the nations, and publish it, and let vp a standart, proclaim it and conceale it not: say, Babel is taken, Babel is confounded, Merodach is broken downe: her idoles are confounded, and their images are burst in pieces.

3 For out of the North there cometh vp a nation against her, which shall make her lande waste, and none shall dwell therein: they shall flee, and depart, both man and beast.

4 In those dayes, and at that time, saith the Lord, the children of Israel shall come, they, and the children of Iudah together, going, and weeping they shall go, and seeke the Lord their God.

5 They shall aske the way to Zion, with their faces thitherward, saying, Come, and let vs cleaue to the Lord in a perpetuall couenant that shall not be forgotten.

6 My people hath bene as lost sheepe: their shepherds haue caused them to goe astray, and haue turned them away to the mountaines: they haue gone from mountaine to hill, and forgotten their resting place.

7 All that found them haue deuoured them, & their enemies sayde, Wee offend not because they haue sinned against the Lord, the habitation of holice, euen the Lord the hope of their fathers.

8 I flee from the mids of Babel, and depart out of the land of the Chaldeans, and be ye as the hee goats before the flocke.

9 For loe, I will raise, and cause to come vp against Babel a multitude of mighty nations from the North countrey, and they shall set themselves in aray against her, whereby shee shall be taken: their arrowes shall be as of a strong man, which is expect, for none shall returne in vaine.

11 Because ye were glad and reioyced in destroying mine heritage, and because ye are grown fat, as the calves in the grass, and neyed like strong horses,
12 Therefore your mother shall be sore confounded, and she that bare you, shall be ashamed: behold, the veremost of the nations shall be a desert, a dry land, and a wilderness.
13 Because of the wrath of the Lord it shall not be inhabited, but shall be wholly desolate: every one that goeth by Babel, shall be astonished, and hisse at all her plagues.
14 Put your selves in aray against Babel round about: all ye that bend the bow, shoot at her, spare no arrows: for she hath sinned against the Lord.
15 Crie against her round about: shee hath given her hand: her foundations are fallen, and her walles are destroyed: for it is the vengeance of the Lord: take vengeance vpon her: as shee hath done, doe vnto her.
16 Destroy the tower from Babel, and him that guardeth the feth in the time of harvest: because of the sword of the oppressour they shall turne every one to his people, and they shall flee every one to his owne land.

19 And I will bring Israel againe to his habitation: he shall feed on Carmel and Bashan, and his soule shall be satisfied vpon the mount Ephraim and Gilead.
20 In those daies, and at that time, saith the Lord, the iniquitie of Israel shall be fought for, and there shall be none: and the finnes of Iudah, and they shall not be found: for I will be mercifull vnto them, whom I resemie.
21 Goe vp against the land of the rebels, even against it, and against the inhabitants of // Pekod: destroy, and lay it waste after them, saith the Lord, and doe according to all that I haue commanded thee.
22 A crie of battell is in the land, and of great destruction.
23 How is the hammer of the whole world destroyed, and broken: how is Babel become desolate among the nations!
24 I haue inured thee, and thou art taken, O Babel, and thou wast not aware: thou art found, and also caught, because thou hast striven against the Lord.
25 The Lord hath opened his treasure, and hath brought forth the weapons of his wrath: for this is the worke of the Lord God of hostes in the land of the Caldeans.
26 Come against her from the veremost border: open her store houses, tread on her as on theepes, and destroy her vnto the veremost of her be left.

30 Therefore shall her yong men fall in the streets, and all her men of warre shall be destroyed in that day, saith the Lord.
31 Beholde, I come vnto thee, O proude man, saith the Lord God of hosts: for thy day is come, when the time that I will visite thee.
32 And the proude shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him vp: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, & it shall deuoure all round about him.
33 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, The children of Israel, and the children of Iudah were oppressed together: and all that tooke them captiues, held them, and would not let them goe.
34 But their strong redeemer, whose Name is the Lord of hosts, he shall maintain their cause, that he may giue rest to the land, and disquiet the inhabitants of Babel.
35 A sword is vpon the Caldeans, sayeth the Lord, and vpon the inhabitants of Babel, and vpon her princes, and vpon her wife men.
36 A sword is vpon the footslayers, & they shall doe: a sword is vpon her strong men, and they shall be afraid.
37 A sword is vpon their horses, and vpon their charers, and vpon all the multitude that are in the mids of her, and they shall be like women: a sword is vpon her treasures, and they shall be spoyled.

of Caldea, shall Ierusalem say.

36 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord, Behold,
I will maintain thy cause, and take vengeance for thee, and I will dry vp the sea, and drie vp her springs.

37 And Babel shall be as heapes, a dwelling place for dragons, an astonishment, and an hil-ing, without an inhabitant.

38 They shall roare together like lions, and yell as the lions whelpes.

39 In their hate I will make them feasts, and I will make them drunken that they may reioyce, and sleepe a perpetuall sleepe, and not wake, saith
the Lord.

40 I will bring them downe like lambs to the slaughter, and like rams and goats.

41 How is y Sheshach taken! how is the glory of the whole earth taken! how is Babel become an astonishment among the nations!

42 The sea is come vp vpon Babel: she is co-uered with the multitude of the waues thereof.

43 Her cities are desolate: the land is dry and a wilderness, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doeth the sonne of man passe thereby.

44 I will also visit Babel, and I will bring out of his mouth that which he hath swallowed up, and the nations shall runne no more vnto him, and the wall of Babel shall fall.

45 My people goe out of the mids of her, and deliuer yee euery man his foule from the fierce wrath of the Lord,

46 Least your hearts euen faint, and yee feare the rumour, that shalbe heard in the land: the rumour shall come this yeere, and after that in the other byere shall come a rumour, and cruelty in the land, and ruler against ruler.

47 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, that I will visit the images of Babel, and the whole land shall be confounded, and all her saine shall fall in the middes of her.

48 Then the heauen and the earth, and all that is therein, shall reioyce for Babel: for the destroyers shall come vnto her from the North, saith
the Lord.

49 As Babel caused the shame of Israel to fall, so by Babel the shame of all the earth did fall.

50 Ye that haue escaped the sword go away, stand not still: remember the Lord afaire off, and let Ierusalem come into your miade.

51 We are confounded becaue we haue heard reproch: shame hath covered our faces, for strangers are come into the Sanctuaries of the Lords House.

52 Wherefore beholde, the dayes come, sayth the Lord, that I will visit her grauen images, and through all her land the wounded shall grone.

53 Though Babel should mount vp to heauen, and though she should defend her strength on high, yet from mee shall her destroyers come, sayth the Lord.

54 A found of a cry cometh from Babel, and great destruction from the land of the Calde-ans.

55 Because the Lord hath layde Babel waste, and destroyed from her the great voyce, and her waues shall roare like great waters, and a found was made by their noise:

56 Because the destroyer is come vpon her,
amen vpon Babel, and her strong men are taken, their bowes are broken: for the Lord God that recompenseth, shall surely recompence.

57 And I will make drunke her Princes, and her wise men, her dukes, and her nobles, and her strong men: and they shall sleepe a perpetuall sleepe, and not wake, sayth the King, whose Name is the Lord of hostes.

58 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, The thicke wall of Babel shall be broken, and her hie gates shall be burnt with fire, and the people shall labour in vaine, and the folke in the fire, for they shall be wearie.

59 The word which Ieremiah the Prophet commanded Sheraiah the sonne of Neriah, the sonne of Maaseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the King of Iudah into Babel, in the fourth yeere of his reigne: and this Sheraiah was a peaceable Prince.

60 So Ieremiah wrote in a booke all the euill that should come vpon Babel, and all these things, that are written against Babel.

61 And Ieremiah said to Sheraiah, When thou comest vnto Babel, and shalt see, and shalt reade
all these words,

62 Then shalt thou say, O Lord, thou hast spoken against this place, to destroy it, that none should remaine in it, neither man nor beast, but that it should be desolate for euer.

63 And when thou hast made an end of reading this booke, thou shalt binde a stone to it and cast it in the middes of Euphrates,

64 And shalt say, Thus shall Babel be drowned and shall not rise from the euill, that I will bring vpon her: and they shall be wearie. Thus saith the words of Ieremiah.

CHAP. LII.

4 Ierusalem is taken. 10 Zedekiahs sonnes are killed before his face and his eyes put out. 13 The citie burned. 21 Ieremiah brought forth of prison and fed like a King.

Zedekiah was one and twentie yeeres olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned euen yeeres in Ierusalem, & his mothers name was Hamutal, the daughter of Ieremiah of Libnah.

2 And he did euill in the eyes of the Lord,
according to all that Iehoiakim had done.

3 Doubtlesse becaule the wrath of the Lord was against Ierusalem and Iudah, till he had cast them out from his presence, therefore Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babel.

4 But in the ninth yeere of his reigne, in the tenth moneth, the tenth day of the moneth came Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, hee and all his host against Ierusalem, and pitched against it, and built forts against it round about.

5 So the citie was besieged vnto the eleuenth yeere of the King Zedekiah.

6 Now in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, the famine was sore in y citie, so that there was no more bread for y people of the land.

7 Then the citie was broken vp, and all the men of warre fled, and went out of the citie by night, by the way of the gate betweene the two walkes, which was by the Kings garden: (now the Caldeans were by the citie round about) and they went by the way of the wilderness.

8 But the armie of the Caldeans pursued after the king, and took Zedekiah in the desert of Tericho, and all his hostes was scattered from him.

9 Then they took the King and caied him vp vnto the King of Babel to Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he gaue iudgment vpon him.

10 And the king of Babel slew the sonnes of Zedekiah before his eyes: he slew also all y princes of Iudah in Riblah.

11 Then he put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and the king of Babel bound him in chaines, and carried him to Babel, and put him in prison till the day of his death.

12 Now in the fifth month in the tenth day of the month (which was the nineteenth yeere of the king Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel) came Nebuzar-adan chiefe steward which stood before the king of Babel in Ierusalem, 13 And burnt the house of the Lord, and the Kings boules, and all the houses of Ierusalem, and all the great houses burnt he with fire.

14 And all the armie of the Caldeans that were with the chiefe steward, brake downe all the walles of Ierusalem round about.

15 Then Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward carried away captiue certain of the poore of the people, and the residue of the people that remained in the citie, and those that were fledde, and fallen to the king of Babel, with the rest of the multitude.

16 But Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward left certaine of the poore of the Land, to dresse the vines, and to till the Land.

17 Also the pillars of brasie that were in the House of the Lord, and the basins, and the brazen Sea, that was in the house of the Lord the Caldeans brake, and carried all the brasie of them to Babel.

18 The pots also and the s befoms, and the instruments of musike, and the basins, and the incense dishes, and all the vessels of brasie where with they ministred, tooke they away.

19 And the bolles, and the aspsans, and the basins, and the pots, and the candlesticks, and the incense dishes, and the cups, and all that was of golde, and that was of siluer, tooke the chiefe steward away.

20 With the two pillars, one Sea, and twelue brazen bulles, that were vnder the bases, which King Salomon had made in the House of the Lord: the brasie of all these vessels was without hweight.

21 And concerning the pillars, the height of one pillar was eigheteene cubites, and a threede of twelue cubits did compasse it, and the thicknesse thereof was foure fingers: it was hollow.

22 And a chapter of brasie was vpon it, and the height of one chapter was fve cubites with networke, and pomegranates vpon the chapters round about, all of brasie: the second pillar also, and the pomegranates were like vnto these.

23 And there were ninetie and sixe pomegranates on a side: and all the pomegranates vpon the networke were an hundred round about.

24 And the chiefe steward tooke Sheraiah the chiefe Priest, and Zephaniah the second Priest, and the three keepers of the doore.

25 Hee tooke also out of the citie an Eunuch, which had the oversight of the men of waire, and seven men that were in the kings presence, which were found in the citie, and Sopher captain of the hoste, who mustred the people of the land, and threecore men of the people of the land, that were found in the middles of the citie.

26 Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward tooke them, and brought them to the king of Babel to Riblah.

27 And the King of Babel smote them, and slewe them in Riblah, in the land of Hamath: thus Iudah was carried away captiue out of his owne land.

28 ¶ This is the people, whome Nebuchad-nezzar carried away captiue, in the sixteenth yeere, euen three thousand Iewes, and three and twentie.

29 In the eighteenth yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar, he carried away captiue from Ierusalem eight hundred thirtie and two persons.

30 In the three and twentieth yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar, Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward carried away captiue of the Iewes seven hundred fourtie and sixe persons: all the persons were foure thousand and fve hundred.

31 And in the thirtieth yeere of the captiuitie of Iehoiachin king of Iudah, in the twelfth month, in the fve and twentieth day of the month, Evil-merodach king of Babel, in the first yeere of his reigne, o liited vp the head of Iehoiachin king of Iudah, and brought him out of prison,

32 And spake kindly vnto him, & set his throne about the throne of the kings, that were with him in Babel,

33 And changed his prison garments, and he did continually eate bread before him all the dayes of his life.

34 His portion was a continuall portion giuen him of the king of Babel, euery day a certain, all the dayes of his life vntill he died.

i But because of the roundnesse no more could be fence but ninetie and sixe.

k Which feared if he had any necessary impediment.

l In the 2. King. 25. 19 is read but of fve: thole were the most excellent, and the other two, which were not so noble: are not there mentioned with them.

LAMENTATIONS.

CHAP. I.

2 The Prophet bewaileth the miserable estate of Ierusalem. 3 And sheweth that they are plagued because of their sinnes. The first and second Chapter begin euery verse according to the letters of the Hebrew Alphabet, The third dooth three verses for euery letter, and the fourth in the first.

Wow doeth a city remaine solitary that was full of people? shee is as a widow: she that was great among the nations, and a princeesse among the prouinces, is made tributarie.

2 She weepeth continually in the night, and her teares runne downe by her cheekes: among all her louers, she hath none to comfort her: all her friends haue dealt vnfaithfully with her, and are her enemies.

3 Iudah is carried away captiue, because of affliction, and because of great erudite: she dwelleth among the heathen, and findeth no rest: all her persecutors tooke her in the traits.

4 The wayes of Zion lament, because no man commeth to the solenne feasts, all her gates are desolate, her Priests sigh: her virgins are discomfited, and she is in heavinesse.

5 Her aduersaries are the chiefe, and her enemies proper, for the Lord hath afflicted her, for the multitude of her transgressions, and her children are gone into captiuitie before the enemy.

6 And from the daughter of Zion all her beautie is departed: her princes are become h It was so much in quantitie.

a The Prophet wondereth at the great indgement of God, seeing Ierusalem, which was so strong and so full of people, to be now destroyed and desolate.

b Which had chiefe rule ouer many prouinces and countreys. c So that she taketh no rest. d Meaning, the Egyptians and Assyrians, which promised helpe.

h As men pined away with sorrow, and that have no courage.

i To her miserie she considered the great benefits and commodities that she had lost.

k As her religion and service was gone, which was the greatest griefe to the godly.

l For, when she saw, that she was not altered of her sinne, although it be manifest.

m Thus hath magnified himselfe in Gods holibedith that the Ammonites and Moabites should enter into the Congregation of the Lord, and vnder them he comprehendeth all enemies Deut. 23.

n Thus Ierusalem lamenteth mourning others to pity her, and to be warned by her example.

o This declareth that we should acknowledge God to be the author of all our afflictions, to the intent that we might seek vnto him for remedie.

p Mine heauie finnes are continually before his eyes, as he that thyeth a thing to his hand for a remembrance.

like Harts that finde no pasture, and they are gone without strength before the pursuer.

7 Ierusalem remembered the dayes of her affliction, and of her rebellion, and all her pleasant things that shee had in times past, when her people fell into the hand of the enemy, and none did helpe her: the adulteraries sawe her, and did mocke at her Sabbaths.

8 Ierusalem hath grievously sinned, therefore she is in derision: all that honoured her, despite her because they haue seene her filthinesse: yea, she hath and turneth backward.

9 Her filthinesse is in her skirts: she remembered not her last end, therefore she came downe wonderfully: she had no comforter: O Lord, behold mine affliction, for the enemy is proud.

10 The enemy hath stretched out his hand vpon all her pleasant things: for she hath seene the heathen enter into her Sanctuary, whom she thought she should not enter into thy Church.

11 All her people sigh and seeke their bread: they haue giuen their pleasant things for meat to refresh the soule: see, O Lord, and consider: for I am become vile.

12 Haue ye no regard, all ye that passe by this way? behold and see if there be any sorrow like vnto ray sorrow, which is done vnto me, where-with the Lord hath afflicted me in the day of his fierce wrath.

13 From aboute hath hee sent fire into my bones, which preuaileth against me: he hath spread a net for my feet, and turned me backe: he hath made me deolate, and daily in heauinesse.

14 The yoke of my transgressions is bound vpon his hand: they are wrapped, and come vpon my necke: hee hath made my strength to fail: the Lord hath deliuered me into their hands, neither am I able to rise vp.

15 The Lord hath troden vnder foote all my valiant men in the middes of me: he hath called an assembly against me to destroy my young men: the Lord hath troden the winepresse vpon the virgine the daughter of Iudah.

16 For these things I weepe: mine eye, when mine eye casteth out water, because the comforter that should refresh my soule, is farre from me: my children are desolate, because the enemy preuaileth.

17 Zion stretcheth out her hands, and there is none to comfort her: the Lord hath appointed the enemies of Iakob round about him: Ierusalem is as a menstruous woman in the middes of them.

18 The Lord is righteous: for I haue rebelled against his just commandement: heare I pray you, all people, and behold my sorrow: my virgins and my young men are gone into captiuitie.

19 I called for my louers, but they deceived me: my Priests and mine Elders perished in the cite while they sought their meate to refresh their soules.

20 Behold, O Lord, how I am troubled: my bowels swell: mine heart is turned within me, for I am full of heauinesse: the sword spoileth abroad as death doeth at home.

21 They haue heard that I mourne, haue there none to comfort me: all mine enemies haue heard of my trouble, and are glad, that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring the day, that thou hast pronounced, and they shall be like vnto me.

22 Let all their wickednes come before thee: doe vnto them, as thou hast done vnto me, for all my transgressions: for my sighes are many, and mine heart is heauie.

CHAP. II.

How hath the Lord darkened the daughter of Zion in his wrath: and hath cast downe from heauen vnto the earth the beautie of Ierusalem, and remembered not his footstool in the day of his wrath!

2 The Lord hath destroyed all the habitations of Iakob, and not spared: he hath thrown down in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Iudah: hee hath cast them downe to the ground: he hath polluted the kingdome and the princes thereof.

3 Hee hath cut off in his fierce wrath all the hornes of Irael: hee hath drawn backe his right hand from before the enemy, and there was kindled in Iakob like a flame of fire, which deuoured round about.

4 Hee hath bent his bow like an enemy: his right hand was stretched vp as an adueryary, and slewed all that was pleasant to the eye in the tabernacle of the daughter of Zion, he poured out his wrath like fire.

5 The Lord was as an enemy: hee hath deuoured Irael, and continued all his palaces: hee hath destroyed his strong holds, and hath increased in the daughter of Iudah lamentation and mourning.

6 For hee hath destroyed his Tabernacle, as a garden hee hath destroyed his Congregation: the Lord hath coued the Feasts and Sabbaths to bee forgotten in Zion, and hath despised in the indignation of his wrath the King and the Priest.

7 The Lord hath forsaken his Altar: he hath abhorred his Sanctuary: he hath giuen into the hand of the enemy the wals of her palaces: they haue made a noise in the house of the Lord, as in the day of Ioflammite.

8 The Lord hath determined to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion: he stretched out a line: he hath not withdrawn his hand from destroying: therefore hee made the rampart and the wall to lament: they were destroyed together.

9 Her gates are sunke to the ground: he hath destroyed and broken her barres: her king and her princes are among the Gentiles: the Lawe is no more, neither can her Prophets receiue any vision from the Lord.

10 The Elders of the daughter of Zion sit vpon the ground and keepe silence: they haue cast vp dust vpon their heads: they haue girded themselves with sackcloth: the virgines of Ierusalem hang done their heads to the ground.

11 Mine eyes doe faile with teares: my bowels swell: my liuer is powdered vpon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people, because the children and sucklings liue in the streets of the cite.

12 They haue said to their mothers, Where is bread and drinke? when they swooned as the wounded in the streets of the cite, and when they gaue vp the ghost in their mothers bosome.

13 What thing shall I take to witness for thee? What thing shall I compare to thee, O daughter daughter Ierusalem? what shall I liken to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter Zion? for thy breach ^a great like the sea: who can heale thee?

14 Thy prophets haue ^k looked out vaine and foolish things for thee, and they haue not discovered thine iniquitie, to turne away thy captiuitie, but haue looked out for thee false ^l prophesies, and causes of banishment.

15 All that passe by the way, clap their hands at thee: they hisse and wag their head vpon the daughter Ierusalem, ^l saying, Is this the city that men call, The perfection of beauty, and the ioy of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies haue opened their mouth against thee: they hisse and gnash the teeth, saying, Let vs deuoure it: certainly this is the day that we looked for: we haue found and seene it.

17 * The Lord hath done that which hee had purposed: he hath fulfilled his word that hee had determined of old time: he hath thrown downe, and not spared: he hath caused thine enemy to reioyce ouer thee, and let vp the horne of thine aduersaries.

18 Their heart ^k cryed vnto the Lord, O wall of the daughter of Zion, let teares runne downe like a riuer, day and night: take thee no rest, neither let the apple of thine eye cease.

19 Arise, cry in the night: in the beginning of the Watches poure out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift vp thine hands toward him for the life of thy young children, that faint for hunger in the corners of all the streets.

20 Beholde, O Lord, and confide to whom thou hast done thus: shall the women eate their fruit, and children of a ^l spanne long? shall the Priest and the Prophet be slaine in the Sanctuary of the Lord?

21 The young and the olde lie on the ground in the streets: my virgins and my young men are fillen by the sword: thou hast slaine ^l them in the day of thy wrath: thou hast killed, & not spared.

22 Thou hast called as in a solenne day my ^l terrors round about, so that in the day of the Lordes wrath none escaped nor remained: those that I haue nourished and brought vp, hath mine enemy continued.

CHAP. III.

I Am the man that hath seene ^a affliction in the rod of his indignation.

2 He hath led me, and brought me into darkness, but not to light.

3 Surely he is turned against me: hee turneth his hand ^a against me all the day.

4 My flesh and my skinne hath hee caused to waxe old, as he hath broken my bones.

5 He hath ^a builded against me and compassed me with gall and labour.

6 He hath set me in ^a dark places, as they that be dead for euer.

7 Hee hath hedged about me, that I cannot get out: he hath made my ch. ineshauie.

8 Al^o when I cry and thou, he thrusteth out my ^a prayer.

9 He hath ^a stopped vp my wayes with hewen stone, and turned away my pathes.

10 He was vnto me ^a as a beare lying in waite, and as a lion in secret places.

11 He hath stopped my wayes, and pulled mee in pices: he hath made me desolate.

12 He hath bent his bow, & made me a marke for the arrow.

13 He caused^l the arrowes of his quier to enter into my reins.

14 I was a desition to all my people, and their song all the day.

15 He hath filled me with bitterness, & made me drunken with ^l wormewood.

16 He hath all broken my teeth with stones, and hath covered me with ashes.

17 Thus my soule was farre off from peace: I forgot prosperitie.

18 And I said, My strength and my ^l hope is perished from the Lord.

19 Remembering mine ^l Afflition, and my mourning, the wormewood and the gall.

20 My soule hath them in remembrance, and is humbled ^l in me.

21 I consider this in mine heart: therefore haue I hope.

22 It is the Lords: mercies that wee are not consumed, because his compassions faile not.

23 They are renewed ^k euery morning: great is thy faithfulness.

24 The Lord ^a my ^l portion, faith my soule: therefore will I hope in him.

25 The Lord is good vnto them that trust in him, and to the soule that seeketh him.

26 It is good both to trust, and to waite for the saluation of the Lord.

27 It is good for a man that he beare the yoke in his ^m youth.

31 For the Lord will not forsake for euer.

32 But though he ^l end affliction, yet will hee haue compass. on according to the multitude of his mercies.

33 For he doth not ^p punish ^l willingly, nor afflict the children of men,

34 In stamping vnder his feete all the prisoners of the earth,

35 In ouerthrowing the right of a man before the face of the most high,

36 In subverting a man in his cause: the Lord ^l seeth it not.

37 Who is he then that saith, and it cometh to passe, and the Lord ^l commandeth it not?

38 Out of the mouth of the most high proceeded not scull and good?

39 Wherefore then is the siuing ^l man sorrowfull? man ^l afflicteth for his sinne.

40 Let vs search and trie our wayes, and turne againe to the Lord.

41 Let vs lift vp ^a our hearts with our hands vnto God in the heauens.

42 We haue sinned, and haue rebelled, ^l we ^l forsake thou hast not feared.

43 Thou hast covered vs with wrath, and persecuted vs: thou hast slaine, and not ^l spared.

44 Thou hast covered thy selfe with a cloude, that ^a our prayer should not passe thorow.

He hath no pite on me.

Ebr. Iohann. I With great anguish and sorrow he hath made me to be like me.

I Thus with paine I was driven to and to become hope and desire, as the godly times are yet indle and the Spirit getteth the victorie.

He He we he hat God thus vnto ro exercise his, to the intent that hereby they may know themselves, and see his mercies.

I Considering the wickednes of man it is marvel if any remaineth alive: but only that God for his owne mercies sake, & for his promise, will euer haue his Church to remaine, though they be neuer so few in number, Isa. 1. 9.

k We seee thy benefits daily.

l The godly put their whole confidence in God, and therefore, looke for none other inheritance, as Paul. 1. 5.

Hee He we then that we can neuer begin too timely to be exercised vnder the crosse, that when the afflictions grow greater, our patience also by experience may be stronger.

n He that murmurh not against God, but is patient, o He humbleth himselfe as they that fall downe with their faces to the ground, and so with patience waiteth for succour.

p He taketh no pleasure in it, but doth it of necessity for our edification, when he suffereth the wicked to oppress the pious.

q He doth not delight therein.

r He we then that nothing is done without Gods prouidence.

s That is aduersity and prosperitie, Amos 3. 6.

t When God afflicteth him.

u That is, both hearts and hands: for he to let vp the hands is out hypocritie.

k Because the false prophesies called themselves seers, as the other were called, therefore he sheweth that they saw a mife because they did not reprove the peoples faults, but flattered them in their finnes, which was the cause of their destruction. 30r, bndiend.

a The Prophet complaineth of the promissness and afflictions that he endured by the false prophets and hypocrites when he declared the destruction of Ierusalem, as Ierem. 20. 3.

b He speaketh thus as one that felt Gods heavy iudgements which he greatly feared and therefore seeth them out with this distrust of words.

c This is a great cecation to the godly, when they see in the finise of their prayers, and see whether they think that they are not heard, which thing God vseth to do, that they might pray more earnestly and the other. d And keepeth me in hold as a prisoner.

2 Cor 4:13.

45 Thou hast made vs as the * offering and refuge in the midst of the people.

46 All our enemies haue opened their mouth against vs.

47 Feare and a snare is come vpon vs with desolation and destruction.

48 Mine eye casteth out riuers of water, for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

49 Mine eye droppeth without stay, and ceaseth not.

50 Till the Lord looke downe, and beholde from heauen.

51 Mine eyes breaketh mine heart becau^e of all the daughters of my citie.

52 Mine enemies chased mee ore, like a bird, without cause.

53 They haue shut vp my life in the dungeon, and cast a stone vpon me.

54 Waters flowed ouer mine head, then thought I, I am destroyed.

55 I called vpon thy Name, O Lord, out of the low dungeon.

56 Thou hast heard my voice: stay not thine eare from my fight and from my cry.

57 Thou dwellest nere in the day that I called vpon thee thou saidst, Feare not.

58 O Lord thou hast maintained the cause of my soule, and hast redeemed my life.

59 O Lord, thou hast seene my wrong, iudge thou my cause.

60 Thou hast seene all their vengeance, and all their deuises against me.

61 Thou hast heard their reproch, O Lord, and all their imaginations against me.

62 The lips also of those that rose against mee, and their whispering against me continually.

63 Behold, their sitting downe, and their rising vp, now I am their song.

64 * Giue them a recompense, O Lord, according to the worke of their hands.

65 Giue them || sorrow of heart, ^{as} thy curse to them.

66 Persecute with wrath and destroy them from vnder the heauen, O Lord.

11 The Lord hath accomplished his indignation: he hath powred out his fierie wrath, he hath kindled a fire in Zion, which hath deuoured the foundations thereof.

12 The kings of the earth, and all the inhabitants of the world would not haue beleened that the aduersarie and the enemy should haue entred into the gates of Ierusalem:

13 For the sinnes of her Prophets, and the iniquities of her priests, that haue shed the blood of the iust in the midst of her.

14 They haue wandered as blindemen ⁱⁿ the streets, and they were polluted with blood, so that they would not touch their garments.

15 But they cryed vnto them, Depart, yee polluted, depart, depart, but touch not: therefore they fled away, and wandered: they haue made among the heathen. They shall no more dwell there.

16 The || anger of the Lorde hath scattered them, hee will no more regard them: ^{as} they reuerenced not the face of the Priests, nor had compassion of the Elders.

17 Whiles we waited for our vaine hope, our eyes failed: for in our waiting wee looked for a nation that could not saue vs.

18 They hunt our steps, that we cannot goe in our streets: our end is neere, our dayes are fulfilled, for our end is come.

19 Our persecuters are swifter then the eagles of the heauen: they purued vs vpon the mountaines, and laid waite for vs in the wilderness.

20 The * breath of our nostrils, the Anointed of the Lord was taken in their nets, of whom wee said, Vnder his shadow we shalbe preferred aliuie among the heathen.

THE ARGVMENT.

After that Ichoiachim by the counsell of Ieremiah and Ezekiel had yielded himselfe to Nibuchad-nezzar, and so went into captiuitie with his mother and sisters of his princes, and of the people, certaine began to repent and murmure that they had obeyed the Prophets counsell, as though the thing which they had prophesied, should not come to passe, and therefore their estate should bee still miserable vnder the Caldeans. By reason whereof hee confirmeth his former prophecies, declaring by new visions and reuelations shewed vnto him, that the city should most certainly bee destroyed, and the people grievously tormented by Gods plagues, inasmuch that they that remained, should bee brought into cruel bondage. And lest the goale should cease in these great troubles, hee assureth them that God will deliuer his Church at his time appointed, and also destroy their enemies, which either afflicted them, or reioyced in their miseries. The effect of the one and the other should be clearly performed vnder Christ, of whose in this booke are many notable promissis, and in whose the glory of the new Temple should perfectly bee restored. Hee prophesied these things in Caldea, at the same time that Ieremiah prophesied in Iudah, and there began in the fifth yeere of Ichoiachins captiuitie.

CHAP. I.

1 The time wherein Ezekiel prophesied, and in what place. 3 His knowledge. 5 The vision of the foure faces. 26 The vision of the wheeles.

a After that the booke of the Law was found, which was the eighth hundred and thirtieth year of the reign of Iosiah, for that space and twentieth yeeres after this booke was found, Iechonias was led away captiue with Ezekiel, and many of the people who the first yeere after saw the visions. b Which was a part of Euphrates so called. c That is, notable and excellent visions, for that it might be knowne that it was no natural light, but came of God. d That is, the spirit of prophesie, as Chap. 3. 1. 2. 3. 7. e By this diuinitie of words hee signifies the fearful iudgment of God, and the great afflictions, which should come vpon Ierusalem. f Or, pale yellow. g Which were the foure Cherubims that represented the glory of God, as Chap. 3. 1.

I came to passe in the thirtieth yeere and the fourth moneth, and in the fifth day of the moneth (as I was among the captiues by the river Chebar, that the heavens were opened, and I sawe visions of God.

2 In the first day of the moneth (which was the first yeere of King Ichoiachins captiuitie)

3 The word of the Lord came vnto Ezekiel the Priest the sonne of Buzi, in the land of the Caldeans, by the river Chebar, where the hand of the Lord was vpon him.

4 And I looked, and behold, a whitewind came out of the North, a great cloud and a fire wrapped about it, and a brightnesse was about it, and in the mids thereof, to wit, in the middes of the fire came out as the likenesse of // amber.

5 Also out of the middes thereof came the likenesse of foure beasts, and thus was their forme: they had the appearance of a man.

6 And euery one had foure faces, and euery one had foure wings.

7 And their feet were straight feete, and the sole of their feete was like the sole of a calves foote, and they sparkled like the appearance of bright brasse.

8 And the hands of man came out from vnder their wings in the foure parts of them, and they foure had their faces, and their wings.

9 They were ioyned by their Wings one to another, and when they went forth, they returned not, but euery one went straight forward.

10 And the similitude of their faces was as the face of man: and they foure had the face of a Lyon on the right side, and they foure had the face of a bullocke on the left side: they foure also had the face of an Eagle.

11 Thus were their faces: but their wings were spread out about: two wings of euery one were ioyned one to another, and two couered their bodies.

12 And euery one went straight forward: they went whither their spirit led them, and they returned not when they went forth.

13 The similitude also of the beasts, and their appearance was like burning coales of fire, and like the appearance of lampes: for the fire ran among the beasts, and the fire gaue a glister, and out of the fire there went lightning.

14 And the beasts ranne, and returned like vnto lightning.

15 Now as I beheld the beasts, beholde, a wheele appeared vpon the earth by the beast, having foure faces.

16 The fashion of the wheeles and their worke was like vnto a charyolite: and they foure had one like, and their fashion, and their worke was as one wheele in another wheele.

17 When they went, they went vpon their foure sides, and they returned not when they went.

18 They had also rings, and height, and were full of eyes, round about them foure.

The wing of the one touched the wing of the other.

Every Cherubim had foure faces, the face of a man, and of a lion on the right side, and the face of a bullocke and of an Eagle on the left side.

For, whither their spirit led them, so went.

That is, when they had executed Gods will: for afore they returned not till God had changed the state of things. The Hebrew word is chariot: meaning, that the colour was like the Chariot, or a precious stone so called. Or, the charr.

19 And when the beasts went, the wheels went with them: and when the beasts were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up.

20 Whither their spirit led them, they went, and thither did the spirit of the wheels lead them, and the wheels were lifted up besides them: for the spirit of the beasts was in the wheels.

21 When the beasts went, they went, and when they stood, they stood, and when they were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up besides them: for the spirit of the beasts was in the wheels.

22 And the similitude of the firmament upon the head of the beasts was wonderful, like unto chrysolite, spread over their heads above.

23 And under the firmament were their wings straight, the one toward the other: every one had two which covered them, and every one had two, which covered their bodies.

24 And when they went forth, I heard the noise of their wings, like the noise of great waters, and as the voice of the Almighty, even the voice of speech, as the noise of an host: and when they stood, they let down their wings.

25 And there was a voice from the firmament that was over their heads, when they stood, and had let down their wings.

26 And about the firmament that was over their heads, was the fashion of a throne like unto a sapphire stone, and upon the similitude of the throne was by appearance, as the similitude of a man about upon it.

27 And I saw as the appearance of amber, and as the similitude of fire round about within it to look to, even from his loynes upward: and to look to, even from his loynes downward, I saw as a likeness of fire, and brightness round about it.

26 And I wil make thy tongue cleaue to the roote of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumbe and shalt not be to them as a man that rebuketh: for they are a rebellious house.

27 But when I shall have spoken vnto thee, I wil open thy mouth, & thou shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, He that heareth, let him heare, and he that leaueh off, let him leaue: for they are a rebellious house.

CHAP. IIIII.

1 The besieging of ierusalem is signified. 2 The long continuance of the captivity of Israel. 3 A hunger approphecied to come.

4 Thou also sonne of man, take thee a brick, and lay it before thee, and poutray vpon it the citie, as Ierusalem.

5 And lay siege against it, and build a fort against it, and cast a mount against it, let the camp also against it, and lay engines of warre against it round about.

6 Moreover, take an yron pan, and set it for a wall of iron betweene thee and the citie, and direct thy face toward it, and it shall be besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it: this shall be a signe vnto the house of Israel.

7 Sleepe thou also vpon thy left side, and lay the iniquitie of the house of Israel vpon it: according to the number of the dayes, that thou shalt sleepe vpon it, thou shalt beare their iniquitie.

8 For I haue laide vpon thee the yeeres of their iniquitie according to the number of the dayes, even three hundred and ninety dayes: so shalt thou beare the iniquitie of the house of Israel.

9 And when thou hast accomplished them, sleepe againe vpon thy right side, and thou shalt beare the iniquitie of the house of Iudah fourtie dayes: I haue appointed thee a day for a yeere, even a day for a yeere.

10 Therefore thou shalt direct thy face toward the siege of Ierusalem, and thine arme shall be vncovered, and thou shalt prophesie against it.

11 And behold, I will lay bands vpon thee, and thou shalt not turne thee from one side to another, till thou hast ended the dayes of thy siege.

12 Thou shalt take also vnto thee wheate, and barley and beanes, and lentiles, and miller, and fitches, and put them in one vessell, and make thee bread thereof according to the number of the dayes that thou shalt sleepe vpon thy side: even three hundred and ninety dayes shalt thou eate thereof.

13 And the meate, whereof thou shalt eate shall be by weight, even twenty shekels a day: and from time to time shalt thou eat thereof.

14 Thou shalt drinke also water by measure, even the fixt part of an Hin: from time to time shalt thou drinke.

15 And thou shalt eate it as barley cakes, and thou shalt bake it in the dongue that cometh out of man, in their fighe.

16 And the Lord sayd, So shall the children of Israel eat their defiled bread among the Gentiles, whither I will cast them.

17 Then said I, Ah Lord God, behold, my soule hath not bene polluted: for from my youth vp, even vnto this houre, I haue not eaten of a thing dead, or torne in pieces, neither came there any vncleane flesh in my mouth.

18 Then he said vnto me, Lo, I haue giuen thee bullocks, & thou shalt prepare thy bread therewith.

19 Moreover, he said vnto me, Some of man, behold, I will breake the staffe of bread in Ierusalem, & they shall eat bread by weight, and with care, and they shall drinke water by measure, and with astonishment.

20 Because that bread and water shall faile, they shall be astonied one with another, and shall consume away for their iniquitie.

CHAP. V.

1 The fene of the haire, whereby is signified the destruction of the people.

2 And thou sonne of man, take thee a sharpe knife, or take thee a barbour's razor, & cause it to passe vpon thine head, and vpon thy beard: then take thee ballances to weigh, and diuide the haire.

3 Thou shalt burne with fire the third part, in the midst of the city, when the dayes of the siege are fulfilled, and thou shalt take the other third part, and smite about it with a knife, and the last third part thou shalt scatter in the winde, and I will draw out a sword after them.

4 Thou shalt also take thereof a few in number, and binde them in thy clasp.

5 Then take of them againe & cast them into the midst of the fire, and burne them in the fire: for thereof shall a fire come forth into all the house of Israel.

6 Thus saith the Lord God, This is Ierusalem: I haue set it in the midst of the nations, and countries that are round about her.

7 And she hath changed my iudgements into wickednesse more then the nations, and my statutes more then the countreyes that are round about her: for they haue refused my iudgements, and my statutes, and they haue not walked in them.

8 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord God, Because your multitude is greater then the nations that are round about you, and yee haue not walked in my statutes, neither haue yee kept my iudgements: no, yee haue not done according to the iudgements of the nations, that are round about you.

9 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I even I come against thee, and will execute iudgement in the midst of thee, even in the sight of the nations.

10 And I wil do in thee that I neuer did before, neither will doe any more the like, because of all thine abominations.

11 For in the midst of thee, the fathers shall eat their sonnes, and the sonnes shall eat their fathers, and I will execute iudgement in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter into all the winde.

12 Wherefore as I live, saith the Lord God, Surely, because thou hast defiled my Sanctuary with all thy filthinesse, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also destroy thee, neither neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I have any pity.

12 The third part o' thee shall die with the pestilence, and with famine shall they bee consumed in the mids of thee: and another third part shall fall by the sword round about thee: and I will scatter the last third part into all windes, and I will draw out a sword after them.

13 Thus shall mine anger bee accomplished, and I will cause my wrath to cease in them, and I will be comforted: and they shall know, that I the Lord haue spoken it in my zeale, when I haue accomplished my wrath in them.

14 Moreover, I will make thee waste, and abhorred among the nations that are round about thee, and in the sight of all that passe by.

15 So thou shalt bee a reproch and shame, a chastisement and an astonishment vnto the nations that are round about thee, when I shall execute iudgments in thee, in anger and in wrath, and in sharpe rebukes: I the Lord haue spoken it.

16 When I shall send vpon them the euill barrowes of famine, which shall bee for their destruction, and which I will send to destroy you: and I will increase the famine vpon you, and will make your staffe of bread.

17 So will I send vpon you famine, and euill beasts, and they shall spoile thee, and pestilence and blood shall passe through thee, and I will bring the sword vpon thee: I the Lord haue spoken it.

CHAP. VI.

Here is shewed that Israel shall be destroyed for their idolatrie.
8 Here prophesie the punishment of the sinners of the people, and their assistance.

A Gaine the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

2 Sonne of man, set thy face towards the * mountaines of Israel, and prophesie against them,

3 And say, Ye mountaines of Israel, heare the word of the Lord God: thus saith the Lord God to the mountaines and to the hills, to the riuers and to the valleys, Behold, I, men I will bring a sword vpon you, and I will destroy your high places:

4 And your altars shall be defoliate, and your images of the Sunne shall be broken, and I will cast downe your flaine men before your idoles.

5 And I will lay the dead carkeises of the children of Israel before their idoles, and I will scatter your bones round about your altars.

6 In all your dwelling places the cities shall be defoliate, and the high places shall be laid waste, so that your altars shall bee made waste and defoliate, and your idoles shall be broken and cease, and your images of the Sunne shall be cut in pieces, and your works shall be abolished.

7 And the flaine shall fall in the mids of you, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

8 Yet will I leaue a remnant, a that you may haue some that shall escape the word among the nations, when you shall be scattered through the countreys.

9 And they that escape of you, shall remember me among the nations, where they shall be in captiuitie, because I am grieved for their whorish hearts, which haue departed from mee, and for their eyes which haue gone a whoring after their idoles, and they shall be displeased in themselves for the euils, which they haue committed in all their abominations.

10 And they shall know that I am the Lord, and that I haue not said in vaine, that I would doe this euill vnto them.

11 Thus saith the Lord God, Smite with thine hand, and stretch forth with thy foot, and say, A-las, for all the wicked abominations of the house of Israel: for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

12 Hee that is farre off, shall die of the pestilence, and hee that is neere shall fall by the sword, and hee that remembereth and is besieged, shall die by the famine: thus will I accomplish my wrath vpon them.

13 Then shall ye know, that I am the Lord, when their flaine men shall be among their idoles round about their altars, vpon euery high hill in all the tops of the mountaines, and vnder euery greene tree, and vnder euery thicke oake, which is the place where they did offer sweet saour to all their idoles.

14 So will I stretch mine hand vpon them, and make the land waste, and deoile it from the wilderness vnto Diolath in all their habitations, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. VII.

The end of all the land of Israel, shall suddenly come.

Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto mee saying,

2 Also the sonne of man, thus saith the Lord God, An end shall come vnto the land of Israel: the end is come vpon the sure corners of the land.

3 Now is the euill come vpon thee, and I will send my wrath vpon thee, and will iudge thee according to thy wayes, and will lay vpon thee all things that are nations.

4 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I have pity: but I will lay thy wayes vpon thee: and thine abominations shall lye in the middes of thee, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

5 Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, one euill, euereuill is come,

6 An end is come, the end is come, it is watched for thee behold, it is come.

7 The morning is come vnto thee, that dwellest in the land: the time is come, the day of trouble is neere, and not the founding againe of the mountaines.

8 Now I will shortly powre cut my wrath vpon thee, and fulfill mine anger vpon thee: I will iudge thee according to thy wayes, and will lay vpon thee all thine abominations.

9 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I have pity, but I will lay vpon thee according to thy wayes, and thine abominations shall be in the middes of thee, and ye shall know that I am the Lord that smiteth.

10 Behold the day, behold, it is come: the morning is gone forth, the rodd of pride hath budded.

11 Cruelty is risen vp into a rod of wickednesse: none of them shall remane, nor of their riches, nor of any of theirs, neither shall there bee lamentation for them.

12 The time is come, the day draweth neere: let not the buyer reioyce, nor let him that selleth a moune,

They shall be ashamed to see that their hope in idoles was but vaine, and so shall repent.

By these signes he would say that the Prophet should figure the great destruction to come.

That is, all nations when you shall see my signements,

Some read, more euill shall then the wildest of Diolath, which was in Syria, and bordered vpon Israel, out from the wilderness, which was South vnto Diolath, which was North: meaning the whole country

I will punish thee as thou hast deueiled for thine idolatrie.

Us, behold euill commeth vpon thee. He signeth that the iudgements of God shall watch to destroy the sinners, which none withstanding hee shall not hope of repentance.

The beginning of his punishment is already come. Which was a voyce of ioy and mirth.

The George is in a rod, which is, That is, the proud tyrant Nebuchadnezzar, hath gathered his force and is ready.

The rod shall be a snare to george for their wickednesse.

Then euill shall be to great, so that they shall haue no regard to lament for others.

14 They haue blowne the trumpet, and prepared all, but none goeth to the battell: for my wrath is vpon all the multitude thereof.

15 The sword without, and the pestilence, and the famine within: he that is in the field, shall die with the sword, and he that is in the cite, famine and pestilence shall deuoure him.

16 But they that flee away from them, shall escape and shall bee in the mountains, like the doues of the valleys: all they shall mourne, eueri one for his iniquitie.

17 All handes shall be weake, and all knees shall fall away as water.

18 They shall also gird themselves with sackcloth, and feare that couer them, and shame shall be vpon all faces, and baldnes vpon their heads.

19 They shall cast their siluer in the freetees, and their gold shall be cast farre off: their siluer and their gold cannot deliuer them in the day of the wrath of the Lord: they shall not satisfie their soules, neither fill their bowels: for the ruine is for their iniquitie.

20 He had also fet the beautie of his ornament in maketie: but they made images of their abominations, and of their idoles therein: therefore haue I set it farre from them.

21 And I will gree it into the handes of the strangers to be poyled, and to the wicked of the earth to be robbed, and they shall pollute it.

22 My face will I turne also from them, and they shall pollute my secret place: for the deftroysers shall enter into it, and defile it.

23 Make a chaine: for the land is full of the judgement of blood, and the cite is full of crueltie.

24 Wherefore I wil bring the most wicked of the heathen and they shall possesse their houses: I will also make the pompe of the mighty to cease, and their holy places shall be defiled.

25 When destruction cometh, they shall seeke peace, and shall not find it.

26 Calamitie shall come vpon calamitie, and rumour shall bee vpon rumour: then shall they seeke a vision of the Prophet: but the Law shall perish from the Priest, and counsell from the Ancient.

27 The king shall mourne, and the prince shall be clothed with desolation, and the hands of the people in the land shall be troubled: I wil doe vnto them according to their wayes, and according to their iudgements will I iudge them, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. III.

2 An appearance of the Countrey of Gath. 3 Ezekiel bringeth his Ierusalem in the spirit. 4 The Lord sheweth the Prophecie the idolatry of the house of Israel.

And in the sixt yeere, in the sixt month, and in the fift day of the month, as I sate in mine house, and the Elders of Iudah sate before me, the hand of the Lord God fell there vpon mee.

2 Then I beheld, and loe, there was a likenesse, as the appearance of fire, to looke to, from his loynes downward, and from his loynes vpward, as the appearance of brightnesse, and like vnto amber.

3 And hee stretched out the likenesse of an hand, and tooke me by an haire locke of mine head, and the spirit lift me vp betwene the earth, and the heauen, and brought mee by a Diuine vision to Ierusalem, into the entry of the inner gate that lieth toward the North, where remained the idole of indignation, which prouoked indignation.

4 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there according to the vision, that I saw in the field.

5 Then said he vnto mee, Sonne of man, lift vp thine eyes now toward the North. So I lift vp mine eyes toward the North, and behold, Northward, at the gate of the altar, this idole of indignation, was in the entry.

6 Hee said furthermore vnto mee, Sonne of man, seest thou not what they doe? when the great abominations that the house of Israel commiteth here to cause me to depa from my Sanctuary? but yet tume thee and thou shalt see greater abominations.

7 And he caused me to enter at the gate of the court: and when I looked, behold, an hole was in the wall.

8 Then said he vnto me, Sonne of man, digge now in the wall. And when I had digged in the wall, behold, there was a doore.

9 And hee said vnto me, Go in, and behold the wicked abominations that they doe here.

10 So I went in, and saw, and behold, there was euery similitude of creeping things, and k abominable beasts, and all the idoles of the house of Israel painted vpon the wall round about.

11 And there stood before them seuentie men of the Ancients of the house of Israel, and in the middes of them stood Iazaniah, the sonne of Shaphan, with euery man his censor in his hand, and the vapour of the incense went vp like a cloude.

12 Then said he vnto me, Sonne of man, hast thou seen what the Ancients of the house of Israel doe in the darke, eueri one in the chamber of his imagerie? for they say, The Lord seeth vs not, the Lord hath forsaken the earth.

13 Again he said also vnto me, Turne thee againe, and thou shalt see greater abominations that they doe.

14 And hee caused me to enter into the entry of the gate of the Lords house, which was toward the North: and behold, there sate women mourning for O Tammuz.

15 Then said he vnto me, Hast thou seene this O son of man? Is it a small thing to the house of Iudah to commit these abominations which they doe here? for they haue filled the land with crueltie, and haue returned to prouoke me: and loe, they haue cast out their stinke before their noses.

16 And hee caused mee to enter into the inner court of the Lords house, and beholde, at the doore of the Temple of the Lord, betwene the porch and the altar were about fise and twentie men with their backs toward the Temple of the Lord, and their faces toward the East, and they worshipped the sunne, toward the East.

17 Then he said vnto me, Hast thou seene this O son of man? Is it a small thing to the house of Iudah to commit these abominations which they doe here? for they haue filled the land with crueltie, and haue returned to prouoke me: and loe, they haue cast out their stinke before their noses.

1 The destruction of iherusalem. 2 They that had been saved, are marked: 3 A complaint of the Prophet for the destruction of the people.

I E cried also with a loud voyce in mine eares, saying, The visitations of a the cite drawe neere, and euery man hath a weapon in his hand to destroy it.

2 And behold fixe men came by the way of the hig gate, which lieth toward the North, and euery man a weapon in his hand to destroy it: and one man among them was clothed with linnen, with a writers ynkehorne by his side, and they went in, and stood beside the brazen altar.

3 And the glory of the God of Israel was gone vp from the Cherub, whereupon he was, and stood on the // doore of the house, and he called to the man clothed with linnen, which had the writers ynkehorne by his side.

4 And the Lord layd vnto him, Goe through the mids of the city, even through the mids of Ieru-salem, and // set a marke vpon the foreheads of them that I mourne, and cry for all the abominations that be done in the mids thereof.

5 And to the other he said, that I might heare, Goe ye after him through the city, and limite: let your eye spare none, neither haue pitie.

6 Destroy vnto the old, and the yong, and the maids, and the children, and the women, but touch no man, vpon whom is the marke, and begin at my Sanctuary. Then they began at the han-ciant men, which were before the house.

7 And he said vnto them, Desile the house, and fill the courts with the slaine, then goe forth: and they went out and flew them in the cite.

8 Now when they had slaine them, and I had escaped, I fell downe vpon my face, and erued, saying, Ah Lord God, with thou destroy all the residue of Israel, in powring out thy wrath vpon Ierusalem?

9 Then said he vnto me, The iniquitie of the house of Israel & Iudah is exceeding great, so that the land is full of blood, and the city full of corrupt iudgement: for they say, The Lord hath forsaken the earth, and the Lord seeth us not.

10 As touching mee also, mine eye shall not spare them, neither will I haue pitie, but will recompence their wayes vpon their heads.

11 And behold the man clothed with linnen, which had the ynkehorne by his side, made report, and said, Lord, I haue done as thou hast commanded me.

CHAP. X.

1 Of the man that tooketh out burning coales out of the middle of the wheeles of the Cherubims. 2 A cherub saith of the vision of the wheeles of the beasts, and of the Cherubims.

AND as I looked, behold, in the firmament that was above the head of the Cherubims, there appeared vpon them like vnto the similitude of a throne, as it were a saphir stone.

2 And hee spake vnto the man clothed with linnen, and sayde, Goe in betweene the wheeles, even vnder the Cherub, and fill thine hands with coales of fire from betweene the Cherubims, and scatter them ouer the city. And he went in in my sight.

3 Now the Cherubims stood vpon the right side of the house, when the man went in, and the cloud filled the inner court.

4 Then the glory of the Lord went vp from the Cherub, and stood ouer the doore of the house, and the house was filled with the cloudes, and the court was filled with the brightnesse of the Lords glory.

5 And the found of the Cherubims wings was heard into the vter court, as the voyce of the Almighty God when he speaketh.

6 And when hee had commaunded the man clothed with linnen, saying, Take fire from betweene the wheeles, and from betweene the Che-rubims, then hee went in and stood beside the wheele.

7 And one Cherub stretched forth his hand from betweene the Cherubims vnto the fire that was betwene the Cherubims, and tooke thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed with linnen: who tooke it and went out.

8 And there appeared in the Cherubims, the likenesse of a mans hand vnder their wings.

9 And when I looked vp, behold foure wheeles were beside the Cherubims, one wheele by one Cherub, and another wheele by another Cherub, and the appearance of the wheeles was as the colour of a Chrysolite stone.

10 And their appearance (for they were all foure of one fashion) was as if one wheeled had bene in another wheele.

11 When they went forth, they went vpon their foure sides, and they returned not as they went: but to the place whither the first went, they went after it, and they turned not as they went.

12 And their whole body, and their // rings, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheeles were full of eyes round about, even in the same foure wheeles.

13 And the Cherub cried to these wheeles in mine hearing, saying, O wheele.

14 And euery beast had foure faces: the first face was the face of a Cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eale.

15 And the Cherubims were lift vp: * this is the beast that I saw at the river Chebar.

16 And when the Cherubims went, the wheeles went by them: and when the Cherubims lift vp their wings to mount vp from the earth, the same wheeles also turned not from beside them.

17 When the Cherubims stood, they stood: and when they were lift vp, they lifted themselves vp also: for the spirit of the beast was in them.

18 b Then the glorie of the Lord departed from above the doore of the house, and stood vp-on the Cherubims.

19 And the Cherubims lift vp their wings and mounted vp from the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheeles also were besides them: and euery one stood at the entrie of the gate of the Lordes House at the East side, and the glory of the God of Israel was vpon them on his right.

20 * This is the beast that I sawe vnder the God of Israel by the river Chebar, and I knewe that they were the Cherubims.

21 Euery one had foure faces, and euery one foure wings, and the likenesse of mans hands was vnder their wings.

22 And the likenesse of their faces was the selfe same faces which I saw by the river Chebar, and the appearance of the Cherubims was the selfe same, and they went euery one straight forward.

Moreouer, the spirit lift mee vp, and brought mee vnto the East gate of the Lordes house, which lyeth Eastward, and behold, at the entrie of the gate were five and twentie men: among whom I saw Tazariah the sonne of Azur, and Pelatiah the sonne of Benaiah, the princes of the people.

² Then said he vnto me, Sonne of man, these are the men that imagine mischief, and deuile wicked counsell in this citie.

³ For thy say, ^a It is not neere, let vs builde houses: ^b this citie is the ^c caldron, and wee be the flesh.

⁴ Therefore prophesie against them, sonne of man, prophesie.

¹² And ye shall know that I am the Lord: for ye haue not walked in my statutes, neither executed my iudgements, but haue done after the manners of the heathen, that are round about you.

¹³ ¶ And when I prophesied, Pelatiah the sonne of ^f Benaiah died: then fell I downe vpon my face, and cried with a loud voice, and said, Ah Lord God, wilt thou then vtterly destroy all the remnant of Israel?

¹⁴ Again the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

¹⁵ Sonne of man, thy ^g brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kinred, and all the house of Israel, wholy are they vnto whom the inhabitants of Ierusalem haue said, Depart yee farre from the Lord: for the land is giuen vs in possession.

¹⁷ Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord God, I will gather you againe from the people, and assemble you out of the countreyes where yee haue bene scattered, and I will giue you the land of Israel.

¹⁸ And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all the idoles thereof, and all the abominations thereof from thence.

⁹ *And I will giue them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within their bowels, and I will take the ⁱ stony heart out of their bodies, and will giue them an heart of flesh,

²⁰ That they may walke in my statutes, and keepe my iudgements, & execute them: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

²¹ But vpon them whose heart is toward their idoles, and whose affection goeth after their abominations, I will lay their way vpon their owne heads, saith the Lord God.

²² ¶ Then did the Cherubims lift vp their wings, and the wheeles besides them, and the glory of the God of Israel was vpon them on his.

²³ And the glory of the Lord went vp from the mids of the cite, and stood vpon the mountaine which is toward the East side of the cite.

²⁴ Afterward the Spirit tooke mee vp, and brought me in a vision by the Spirit of God into Caldea to them that were led away captiues: so the vision that I had seene, went vp from me.

²⁵ Then I declared vnto them that were ^k led away captiues, all the things that the Lord had shewed me.

CHAP. XII.

¹ The parable of the captiuitie. 18 Another parable whereby the affliction of Sion and this is signified.

The word of the Lord also came vnto mee, saying,

² Sonne of man, thou dwellest in the middes of a rebellious house, which haue eyes to see, and see ^l not: they haue eares to heare, and heare not: for they are a rebellious house.

⁴ Then shalt thou bring forth thy selfe by day in their sight, as the stuffe of him that goeth into captiuitie: and thou shalt goe forth at euening in their sight, as they that goe forth into captiuitie.

⁵ Diggeth thou thorow the wall in their sight, and cary out thereby.

⁷ And as I was commanded, so I brought forth my selfe by day, as the stuffe of one that goeth into captiuitie: and by night I digged thorow the wall with mine hand, and brought it forth in the darke, and I bare it vpon my shoulder in their sight.

⁸ And in the morning came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

⁹ Sonne of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house said vnto thee, What ^c doest thou?

¹⁰ But say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, This ^d burden concerneth the chiefe in Ierusalem, and all the house of Israel that are among them.

14 And I will scatter thorow euery winde all that are about him to helpe him, and all his gariſons, and I will draw out the sword after them.

15 And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countreys.

16 But I will leaue a little number of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence, that they may declare all these abominations among the heathen where they come, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

17 ¶ Moreover, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, eate thy bread with trembling, and drink thy water with trouble, and with carefullnesse,

19 And say vnto the people of the land, Thus saith the Lord God of the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and of the land of Israel: They shall eate their bread with carefulnesse, and drinke their water with defolation: for the land shall be desolate from her abundance, because of the crueltie of them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that are inhabited, shall bee left void, and the land shall be desolate, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

21 ¶ And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

22 Sonne of man, what is that prouerbe that you haue in the land of Israel, saying, The dayes are prolonged, and all visions shall faile?

23 Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord God, I will make this prouerbe to cease, and they shall no more vse it as a prouerbe in Israel: but say vnto them, The dayes are at hand, and the effect of euery vision.

24 For no vision shall bee any more in vaine, neither shall there bee any flattering diuination within the house of Israel.

25 For I am the Lord: I will speake, and that thing that I shall speake, shall come to passe: it shall be no more prolonged: for in your dayes, O rebellious house, will I say the thing, and will performe it, saith the Lord God.

26 Again, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

27 Sonne of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that hee seeth, is for many dayes to come, and he prophesieth of the times that are farre off.

28 Therefore say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God: All my wordes shall no longer be delayed, but that thing which I haue spoken, shall be done, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XIII.

¶ The word of the Lord against the prophets, which teach the people the counsels of their owne hearts.

And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

1 Sonne of man, prophetic against the prophets of Israel, that prophesie, and say thou vnto them, that prophesie out of their owne hearts, Heare the word of the Lord.

2 Thus saith the Lord God, Woe vnto the foolish prophets that follow their owne spirit, and haue seene nothing.

3 O Israel, thy Prophets are like the foxes in the waste places.

4 Ye haue not stien vp in the gappes, neither made vp the hedge for the house of Israel, to stand in the battell in the day of the Lord.

5 They haue seene vanitie, and lying diuination, saying, The Lord faith it, and the Lord hath not sent them: and they haue made oaths to hope that they would confirme the word of their prophesie.

6 Haue ye not seene a vaine vision? and haue ye not spoken a lying diuination? yee say, The Lord faith it, albeit I haue not spoken.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because ye haue spoken vanitie and haue seene lies, therefore behold, I am against you, saith the Lord God.

8 And mine hand shall be vpon the prophets that see vanitie, and diuine lies: they shall not be in the assembly of my people, neither shall they be written in the writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel: and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

9 And therefore, because they haue deceived my people, saying, Peace, & there was no peace: and one built vp a wall, and behold, the others daubed it with vntempered morter.

10 Say vnto them which daube it with vntempered morter, that it shall fall: for there shall come a great shoure, and I will send hailestones, which shall caue it to fall, and a stormy wind shall breake it.

11 Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not bee said vnto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye haue daubed it?

12 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I will cause a stormy wind to breake forth in my wrath, and a great shoure shall be in mine anger, and hailestones in mine indignation to consume it.

13 So I will destroy the wall that ye haue daubed with vntempered morter, and bring it downe to the ground, so that the foundation therof shall bee discouered, and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the mids thereof, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

14 Thus will I accomplish my wrath vpon the wall, and vpon them that haue daubed it with vntempered morter, and will say vnto you, The wall is no more, neither the daubers thereof.

15 I will, the Prophets of Israel, which prophesie vpon Ierusalem, and see visions of peace for it, and there is no peace, saith the Lord God.

16 Likewise thou sonne of man, let thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophesie out of their owne heart: and prophesie thou against them, and say,

17 Thus saith the Lord God, Woe vnto the women that owe pillows vnder all arme-holes, and make vailes vpon the head of euery one that standeth vp, to hunt foules: will ye hunt the foules of my people, and will ye giue life to the foules that come vnto you.

18 And will ye pollute mee among my people for handiuls of barley, and for pieces of bread to slay the foules of them that should not die, and to giue life to the foules that should not liue, in lying to my people, that heare your lies?

19 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will haue so doe with your pillows, where-b Watching to destroy the vineyard.

c He speaketh to the quakers, and true ministers that should haue testified them.

d Yee promised peace to this people, and now ye see their destruction, so that it is manifest that ye are false prophets.

e That is, in the booke of life, wherein the true liuelies are written.

f Reader, see, 6. 14.

g Whereas the true Prophets prophesied the destruction of the citie to repentance, the false prophets spoke the contrary and flattered them in their vanities, so that what one false prophet said, (which is here called the building of the wall) an other false prophet would affirme, though he had need: their occasion no good ground to scare him.

h Whereby is meant whatsoeuer mean of himselfe setteth forth vnder the authority of Gods word.

i These importunate women for increase would prophesie and tell euery man his fortune giuing them pillows to leane vpon, & kerchiefs to couer their heads, as the intent they might the more allure them and bewitch them. & Willye make my word to serue your bellies.

k These importunate made the people beleue that they could preſerue life or deliuy it, and that it should come to euery man according to they prophesied.

d When the king shall thinke to escape by fleeing, I will take him in my net as Chap. 17. 20. and 23. 3.

e Which should beare his Name, and should be his Church, read Chap. 11. 15.

f Because they did not immediately see the prophesie accomplished, they concerned them as though they should neuer be fulfilled.
[Or, take none of it]

g That is, shall not come to passe in your dayes, and therefore we care not for it: thus the wicked error abuse Gods patience and benignitie.

CHAP. XIII.

^a The Lord sendeth false prophesies for the ingratitude of the people.
^b He reuereth a small portion for his Church.

Then came certaine of the Elders of Israel vnto me, and ^a saide before me.

2 And the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

3 Sonne of man, these men haue set vp their idoles in their ^m heart, and put the stumbling blocke of their iniquitie before their face: should I being required, answere them?

4 Therefore speake vnto them, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Every man of the house of Israel that stretch vp his idols in his heart and putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquitie before his face, and commeth to the ^c Prophet, I the Lord will answere him that commeth, according to the multitude ^d of his idoles:

5 That ^e I may take the house of Israel in their owne heart, because they are all departed from me through their idoles.

6 Therefore say vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Returne, and withdraw your seules, and turne your faces from your idoles, and turne your faces from all your abominations.

7 For every one of the house of Israel, or of the stranger that sojourneth in Israel, which departeth from mee, and setteth vp his idoles in his heart, and putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquitie before his face, and commeth to a Prophet, for to enquire of him for mee, I the Lord will answere him ^f for my selfe.

8 And I will set my face against that man, and will make him an example and proverbe, and I will cut him off from the mids of my people, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

9 And if the Prophet be deceived, when hee hath spoken a thing, I the Lord haue deceived that Prophet, and I will stretch out mine hand vpon him, and will destroy him from the mids of my people of Israel.

10 And they that beare their punishment: the punishment of the Prophet shalbe euen as the punishment of him that asketh.

11 That the house of Israel may goe no more astray from mee, neither be polluted any more with all their transgressions, but that they may be my people, and I may be their God, saith the Lord God.

12 ¶ The word of the Lord came againe vnto mee, saying,

^a Hee sheweth the hypocrite of the idolaters, who will dissemble to heare the Prophets of God, though in their heart they follow nothing lesse than their admonitions, and also how by one means or other God doth discover them.

^b They are not onely idolaters in heart, but also worship their filthy idoles openly, which lead them in blindness, and cause them to stumble, and cast them out of Gods fauour, so that he will not heare them when they call vpon him.

15 If I bring noisome beasts into the land and they spoile it, so that it bee desolate, that no man may passe through, because of beasts:

16 Though these three men were in the mids thereof, As I liue, saith the Lord God, they shall faue neither sonnes nor daughters: they only shall be deliuered, but the land shall be waste.

17 Or ^f I bring a sword vpon this land, and say, Sword, geeth thee out of the land, so that I destroy man and beast out of it.

18 Though these three men were in the mids thereof, As I liue, saith the Lord God, they shall deliuer neither sonnes nor daughters, but they only shall be deliuered themselves.

19 Or ^f I send a pestilence into this land, and powre out my wrath vpon it in blood, to destroy out of it man and beast.

20 And though Noah, Daniel, and Iob were in the mids of it, As I liue, saith the Lord God, they shall deliuer neither sonne nor daughter: they shall but deliuer their owne soules by their righteousness.

21 For thus saith the Lord God, How much more when I send my ^a foure fore iudgements vpon Ierusalem, ^{even} the sword and famine, and the noisome beast, and pestilence, to destroy man and beast out of it.

22 Yet behold, therein shalbe left a ^b remnant of them that shalbe carried away, both sonnes and daughters: behold, they shal come soorth vnto you, and ye shall see their way, and their enterprises: and ye shalbe comforted, concerning the euill that I haue brought vpon Ierusalem, ^{even} concerning all that I haue brought vpon it.

23 And they shall comfort you, when yee see their way & their enterprises: and ye shall know that I haue not done without cause all that I haue done in it, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XV.

^a As the unprofitable wood of the vine tree was cut into the fire, so Ierusalem shall be burnt.

And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, what commeth of the vine tree aboue all other trees? and of the vine branch, which is among the ^a trees of the forest?

3 Shall wood bee taken thereof to doe any worke? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereon?

4 Behold, it is cast in the fire to be consumed: the fire consumeth both the endes of it, and the mids of it is burnt. Is it meet for any worke.

5 Behold, when it was whole, it was meet for any worke: how much lesse shall it be meete for any worke, when the fire hath consumed it, and it is burnt?

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, As the vine tree, that is, among the trees of the forest, which I haue given to the fire to be consumed, so will I giue the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

7 And I will set my face against them: they shall goe out from ^a the fire, and ^b another fire shall consume them: and ye shall know, that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XVI.

The Prophet declareth the benefits of God toward Ierusalem. 15 Their vntunefull. 46 He iustifieth the wickednesse of other people in comparison of the finnes of Ierusalem. 49 The cause of the abominations, wherewith the Sodom reuel. 61 Miracles promised to be repenent.

A Gaine, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

1 Sonne of man, cause Ierusalem to know her abominations,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God vnto Ierusalem, Thine habitation and thy kindred is of the land^a of Canaan: thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother an Hittite.

4 And in thy natiuitie when thou wast borne, thy nauell was not cut: thou wast not washed in water to soften thee: thou wast not salted with salt, nor fawdled in cloutes.

5 None eye pried thee to do any of these vnto thee, for to haue compassion vpon thee, but thou wast cast out in the open field to the contempt of thy person in the day that thou wast borne.

6 And when I passed by thee, I saw thee polluted in thine owne blood, and I said vnto thee when thou wast in thy blood, Thou shalt liue: euen when thou wast in thy blood, I saide vnto thee, Thou shalt liue.

7 I haue caused thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou hast increased and waxen great, and thou hast gotten excellent ornaments: thy breasts are fashioned, thine haire is grown, whereas thou wast naked and bare.

8 Now when I passed by thee, and looked vpon thee, behold, thy time was as the time of loue, and I spread my skirts ouer thee, and covered thy filthinesse: yea, I sware vnto thee, and entered into a couenant with thee, saith the Lord God, and thou becamest mine.

9 Then washed I thee with water: yea, I washed away thy blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oile.

10 I clothed thee also with brodered worke, and shod thee with badgers skinne: and I girded thee about with fine linnen, and I covered thee with filke.

11 I decked thee also with ornaments, and I put bracelets vpon thine hands, and a chaine on thy necke.

12 And I put a frontlet vpon thy face, and earerings in thine eares, and a beautifull crowne vpon thine head.

13 Thus wast thou deckt with gold and silver, and thy raiment was of fine linnen, and filke, and brodered worke: thou didst eate fine flour, and hony and oyle, and thou wast very beautifull, and thou diddest grow vnto a kingdom.

14 And thy name was spread among the heathen for thy beautie: for it was perfit through my beautie which I had set vpon thee, saith the Lord God.

15 Now thou didst trust in thine owne beautie, and playdest the harlot, because of thy renowne, & hast powred out thy fornications on euery one that passed by, thy desire was to him.

16 And thou didst take thy garments, & deckedst thine high places with diuers colours, and playdest the harlot thereupon: the like things thou didst to thy selfe. ^{v. 16} This declareth how the idolaters put their chief delight in these things, which please the eyes and outward senses.

shall not come, neither hath any done so.

17 Thou hast also taken thy faire iewels made of my gold and of my silver, which I had giuen thee, and maddest to thy selfe images of men, and diddest commit whoredome with them,

18 And thou kvest thy broyded garments, and coueredst them: and thou hast set mine oyle and my perfume before them.

19 My meate also which I gaue thee, as fine flour, oyle and hony, wherewith I fed thee, thou hast euen fed it before them for a sweete savour: thus it was, saith the Lord God.

20 Moreover thou hast taken thy sonnes and thy daughters, whom thou hast borne vnto mee, and these thou hast sacrificed vnto them, to be deuoured: is this thy whoredome a finall matter?

21 That thou hast slain my children, and deuoured them to cause them to passe through fire for them?

22 And in all thine abominations and whoredomes, thou hast not remembered the daies of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, and wast polluted in thy blood.

23 And beside all thy wickednesse (wo, wo vnto thee, saith the Lord God)

24 Thou hast also built vnto thee an high place, and hast made thee an high place in euery street.

25 Thou hast built thine high place at euery corner of the way, and hast made thy beauty to be abhorred: thou hast opened thy iete to euery one that passed by, and multiplied thy whoredome.

26 Thou hast also committed fornication with the Egyptians thy neighbors, which haue great members, and hast increased thy whoredome, to prouoke me.

27 Behold, therefore I did stretch out mine hand ouer thee, and will diminish thine ordinance, and deliuer thee vnto the will of them that hate thee, euen to the daughters of the Philistines, which are ashamed of thy wicked way.

28 Thou hast played the whore also with the Assyrians, because thou wast inatable: yea thou hast played the harlot with them, and yet couldest not be satisfied.

29 Thou hast moreover multiplied thy fornication from the land of Canaan vnto Caldea, and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

30 How weake is thine heart, saith the Lord God, seeing thou doest all these things, euen the worke of a presumptuous whorish woman?

31 In that thou buildest thine high place in the corner of euery way, and makest thine high place in euery streete, and hast not bene as an harlot that despiseth a reward,

32 But as a wife that playeth the harlot, and taketh others for her husband:

33 They give gifts to all other whores, but thou giuest gifts vnto all thy louers, and rewardest them that they may come vnto thee on euery side for thy fornication,

34 And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy fornications, neither the like fornications haue alter thee: for in that thou giuest a reward, and no reward is giuen vnto thee, therefore thou art contrary.

35 Wherefore, O harlot, heare the word of the Lord.

36 Thus sayeth the Lord God, Because thy shame was powred out, and thy filthinesse discovered through thy fornications with thy louers, n Thou hast converted thy vessels and instruments, which I gaue thee to serve me with, to the service of thine idoles, and with al the idoles of thine abominations, and by the blood of thy children, which thou diddest offer vnto them,

37 Behold, therefore I will gather all thy loyters, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and al them that thou hast loued, with all them that thou hast hated: I will euen gather them round about against thee, and will discouer thy filchines vnto them, that they may see all thy filchines.

38 And I will iudge thee after the manner of them that are charlots, and of them that shedde blood, and I will giue thee the blood of wrath, and ielousie.

39 I will also giue thee into their hands, and they shall destroy thine hie place, and shall breake downe thine hie places: they shall strip thee all out of thy clothes, and shall take thy faire jewels, and leaue thee naked and bare.

40 They shall also bring vp a company against thee, and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee thorow with their swords.

41 And they shall burne vp thine houses with fire, and execute iudgements vpon thee in the sight of many women: and I will cause thee to cease from playing the harlot, and thou shalt giue no reward any more.

42 So will I make my wrath toward thee to rest, and my ielousie shall depart from thee, and I will ceale and be no more angry.

43 Because thou hast not remembered the daies of thy youth, but hast prouoked me with all these things, behold, therefore I also haue brought thy way vpon thine head, saith the Lord God: yet hast not thou had consideration of all thine abominations.

44 Behold, all that vse prouers, shall vse this prouerbe against thee, saying, As was the mother, so was her daughter.

45 Thou art thy mothers daughter that hath cast off her husband and her children, and thou art the sister of thy sisters, which forsooke their husbands and their children: your mother is an Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

46 And thy elder sister is Samaria, and her daughters, that dwell at thy left hand, and thy younger sister, that dwelleth at thy right hand, is Sodom, and her daughters.

47 Yet hast thou not walked after their wayes, nor done after their abominations: but as it had bene a very little thing, thou wast corrupted more then they in all thy wayes.

48 As I liue, saith the Lord God, Sodom thy sister hath not done, neither thee nor her daughters, as thou hast done and thy daughters.

49 Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Sodom, pride, fulnes of bread, and abundance of idleness was in her, & in her daughters: neither did she strengthen the hand of the poore and needy.

50 But they were haughty, and committed a bomination before me: therefore I tooke them away, as pleased me.

51 Neither hath Samaria committed halfe of thy finnes, but thou hast exceeded them in thine abominations, and hast iustified thy sisters in all thine abominations, which thou hast done.

52 Therefore thou which hast iustified thy sisters, beare thine owne shame for thy finnes, that thou hast committed more abominable then they which are more righteous then thou art: be thou therefore confounded also, and beare thy shame, seeing that thou hast iustified thy sisters.

53 Therefore I will bring againe their captiuitie, with the captiuitie of Sodom, and her daughters, and with the captiuitie of Samaria, and her daughters, euen the captiuitie of thy captiues in the middes of them,

54 That thou mayest beare thine owne shame and mayest be confounded in all that thou hast done, in that thou hast comforted them.

55 And thy sister Sodom and her daughters shall returne to their former state: Samaria also and her daughters shall returne to their former state, when thou and thy daughters shalt returne to your former state.

56 For thy sister Sodom I was not heard of by thy report in the day of thy pride,

57 Before thy wickednes was discouered, as in that same time of the reproch of the daughters of Aram, and of all the daughters of the Philistims round about her which despise thee on all sides,

58 Thou hast borne therefore thy wickednesse and thine abominations, saith the Lord.

59 For thus saith the Lord God, I might euen deale with thee, as thou hast done: when thou didst despise the oath in breaking the covenant.

60 Neuertheless, I will remember my covenant made with thee in the dayes of thy youth, and I will confirme vnto thee an euermaking covenant.

61 Then thou shalt remember thy wayes, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receiue thy sisters, both thy elder & thy younger, and I will giue them vnto thee for daughters, but not by thy covenant.

62 And I will establish my covenant with thee, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord, 63 That thou mayest remember, and be ashamed, & neuer open thy mouth any more: because of thy shame when I am pacified toward thee, for all that thou hast done, saith the Lord God.

64 And thou shalt remember the contrary. n Whereby he sheweth that among the most wicked he had euer some seede of his Church which he would cause to fructifie in due time: and here he declareth how he will call the Gentiles. o But of my free mercie. p This declareth what fruits Gods mercie worketh in his, to wit, sorrow and repentance for their former life.

The parable of the two Eagles.

And the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

2 Sonne of man, put forth a parable & speake a prouerbe vnto the house of Israel.

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, The great eagle with great wings, and long wings, and full of fethers, which had diuers colours, came vnto Lebanon, & took the highest branch of the cedar

4 And brake off the top of his twig, and carried it into the land of Merchants, and set it in a city of Merchants.

5 He tooke also of the seed of the land, and planted it in a fruitfull ground: hee placed it by great waters, and set it as a willow tree.

6 And it budded vp, and was like a spreading vine of low stature, whose branches turned toward it, and the roots thereof were vnder it: so it became a vine, and it brought forth branches, and shott forth buds.

7 There was also another great eagle with great wings, and many feathers, and behold, this vine did turne her roots toward it, & spread forth her branches toward it, that she might water it by the trenches of her plantation.

8 It was planted in a good soile by great waters, that it should bring forth branches, and beare

10 Behold, it was planted: but shall it prosper? shall it not be dried vp, and wither? when the East wind shall touch it, it shall wither in the trenches, where it grew.

11 Moreover, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

12 Say now to this rebellious house, Know ye not what these things mean? I tell them, Behold, the king of Babel is come to Ierusalem, and hath taken the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and led them with him to Babel.

13 And hath taken one of the kings seede, and made a couenant with him, and hath taken an oath of him: hee hath also taken the princes of the land,

14 That the king dome might be in subiection, and not lift it selfe vp, but keepe their couenant, and stand to it.

15 But he rebelled against him, and sent his ambassadours into Egypt, that they might giue him horses, and much people: shall he prosper? shall he escape that doeth such things? or shall he breake the couenant, and be deliuered?

16 As I liue, saith the Lord God, he shall die in the mids of Babel, in the place of the king that had made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose couenant made with him, he breake.

17 Neither shall Pharaoh with his mighty host, and great multitude of people, maintain him in the warre, when they haue cast vp mounds, and builded ramparts to destroy many perions.

18 For he hath despised the oath, and broken the couenant (yet loe hee had giuen in his hand) because he hath done all these things, he shall not escape.

19 Therefore, thus saith the Lord God, As I liue, I will surely bring mine oath that he hath despised, and my couenant that he hath broken, vpon his owne head.

20 And I will spread my net vpon him, & hee shall be taken in my net, and I will bring him to Babel, & will enter into iudgement with him there for his trespass that he hath committed against me.

21 And all that flee from him with al his host, shall fall by the sword, and they that remaine shall be scattered toward all the winds: and yee shall know that I the Lord haue spoken it.

22 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also take off the top of this high cedar, and will let it, and cut of the top of the tender plant thereof, and I will plant it vpon an high mountaine and great.

23 Euen in the high mountaine of Israel will I plant it: and it shall bring forth boughs, and beare fruit, and be an excellent cedar, and vnder it shall remaine all birds, and euery foule shall dwell in the shadow of the branches thereof.

24 And all the trees of the field shall knowe that I the Lord haue brought down the high tree, and exalted the low tree: that I haue dried vp the greene tree, and made the drie tree to flourish: I the Lord haue spoken it, and haue done it.

a He that wretheth himselfe shall beare his owne sinne. 21 To him that setteth at naught, salvation promised. 24 Death is promised.

And the righteous, which turneth backe from the right way.

The word of the Lord came vnto mee againe, saying,

1 What meane ye that ye speake this prouerb concerning the land of Israel, saying, The fathers haue eaten sowe grapes, and the childrens teeth are set on edge?

3 As I liue, saith the Lord God, yee shall vse this prouerb no more in Israel.

4 Behold, all foules are mine, both the foule of the father, and also the foule of the sonne are mine: the foule that sinneth, it shall die.

5 But if a man bee iust, and doe that which is lawfull, and right,

6 And hath not eaten vpon fountaines, neither hath lift vp his eyes to the idoles of the house of Israel, neither hath defiled his neighbors wife, neither hath lien with a menstruous woman,

7 Neither hath oppressed any, but hath restored the pledge to his debtor: he that hath spoyled none by violence, but hath giuen his bread to the hungry, and hath couered the naked with a garment,

8 And hath not giuen forth vpon a vsurie, neither hath taken any increase, but hath withdrawn his hand from iniquitie, and hath executed true iudgement betwene man and man,

9 And hath walked in my statutes, and hath kept my iudgements to deale truly, hee is iust, he shall surely liue, saith the Lord God.

10 ¶ If he beget a sonne, that is a thiefe, or a shedder of blood, if he do any one of these things,

11 Though hee doe not all these things, but either hath eaten vpon the mountaines, or defiled his neighbours wife,

12 Or hath oppressed the poore and needie, or hath spoyled by violence, or hath not restored the pledge, or hath lift vp his eyes vnto the idoles, or hath committed abomination,

13 Or hath giuen forth vpon vsurie, or hath taken increase, shall hee liue? he shall not liue: seeing he hath done all these abominations, he shall die the death, and his blood shall be vpon him.

14 ¶ But if hee beget a sonne, that seeth all his fathers finnes, which hee hath done, and feareth, neither doeth such like,

15 That hath not eaten vpon the mountaines, neither hath lift vp his eyes to idoles of the house of Israel, nor hath defiled his neighbours wife,

22 All his transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned vnto him, but in his righteousness that he hath done, he shall live.

23 Have I any desire that the wicked should die, saith the Lord God? y or shall hee not live, if he returne from his wayes?

24 But if the righteous turne away from his righteousness, and commit iniquity, and do according to all the abominations that the wicked man doth, shall hee live? all his righteousness that he hath done, shall not be mentioned: but in his transgression that he hath committed, and in his sinne that he hath sinned, in them shall he die.

25 Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not unequal heare now, O house of Israel. Is not my way equal? or are not your wayes vnequal?

26 For when a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquitie, hee shall euen die for the same, hee shall euen die for his iniquitie that he hath done.

27 Again, when the wicked turneth away from his wickednes that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawfull and right, he shall save his soule aliae.

28 Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that hee hath committed, he shall surely live, and shall not die.

29 Yet saith the house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, are not my wayes equal? or are not your wayes vnequal?

30 Therefore I will iudge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his wayes, saith the Lord God: returne therefore, and cause others to turne away from all your transgressions: so iniquitie shall not be your destruction.

31 Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye haue transgressed, & make I you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel?

32 For I desire not the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God: cause therefore one another to returne, and live ye.

1 The captivity of the king of Iudah signified by the lions whelpes and by hellon. 2 The prosperity of Ierusalem that is to come, and the misery thereof that is present.

How all to take vp a lamentation for the princes of Israel,

2 And say, Wherefore lay thy mother as a lionesse among the lions? she nowified her yong ones among the lions whelps.

3 And he brought vp one of her whelps, and it became a lion, and it learned to catch the pray, as it deuoured men.

4 The Nations also heard of him, and hee was taken in their nets, and they brought him in chaires vnto the land of Egypt.

5 Now when shee sawe that shee had waied, and her hope was lost, shee tooke another of her whelps, and made him a lion.

6 Which went among the lions, and became a lion, and learned to catch the pray, and hee deuoured men.

7 And he knew their widowes, & he destroyed their cities, and the land was wasted, and all that was therein by the noyle of his roaring.

8 Then the nations set against him on euery side or the countreys, and layed their nets for him: so he was taken in their pit.

9 And they put him in prison and in chaires, and brought him to the king of Babel, and they put him in holds, that his voyce should no more be heard vpon the mountaines of Israel.

10 Thy mother like a vine in thy blood, planted by the waters: shee brought forth fruit and branches by the abundant waters.

12 But shee was plucked vp in wrath: shee was cast downe to the ground, and the East winde dried vp her fruit: her branches were broken and withered: as for the rod of her strength, the fire consumed it.

13 And now shee is planted in the wilderness in a drie and churrie ground.

14 And fire is gone out of a rod of her branches, which hath deuoured her fruit, so that shee hath no strong rod to be a scepter to rule: this is a lamentation, and shall be for a lamentation.

CHAP. XX.

The Lord denieth that he will auersee them when they pray because of their unkindnes. 33 He promitteth that his people shall returne from captivity. 46 By the forest that is should be burnt, is signified the burning of Ierusalem.

And in the seventh yeare, in the sixth month, the tenth day of the month, came certaine of the Elders of Israel to enquire of the Lord, and saue before me.

2 Then came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

3 Sonne of man, speake vnto the elders of Israel, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Are ye come to enquire of me? as I liue, saith the Lord God, when I am asked, I will not answere you.

4 Wilt thou iudge them, sonne of man? wilt thou iudge them? cause them to vnderstand the abominations of their fathers,

5 And say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, In the day when I choe Israel, and clift vp mine hand vnto the seed of the house of Isaacob, and made my selfe known vnto them in the land of Egypt, when I lift vp mine hand vnto them, and said, I am the Lord your God,

6 In that day that I lift vp mine hand vnto them, to bring them forth of the land of Egypt, into a land that I had provided for them, flowing with milke & honey, which is pleasant among all lands,

7 Then saide I vnto them, Let euery man cast away the abominations of his eyes, and defile not your selues with the idoles of Egypt: for I am the Lord your God.

8 But they rebelled against me and would not heare me: for none cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idoles of Egypt: then I thought to powre out mine indignation vpon them, and to accomplish my wrath against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.

9 But I had respect to my Name, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, and in whose sight I made my selfe known vnto them in bringing them forth of the land of Egypt.

d Which was Iehoiakin. e He flew of the Prophets, and them that feared God, and raised their voices.

10 Now I caried them out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness.

11 And I gaue them my statutes, and declared my iudgements vnto them,* which if a man doe, he shall liue in them.

12 Moreover I gaue them also my * Sabbaths to bee a signe betwene mee and them, that they might know that I am the Lord, that sanctifie them.

13 But the house of Israel rebelled against mee in the wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, and they cast away my iudgements, which if a man doe, he shall liue in them, and my Sabbaths haue they greatly polluted: then I thought to powre out mine indignation vpon them* in the wilderness to confirme them,

14 But I had respect to my Name, that it should not bee polluted before the heathen, in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet neuerthelesse, I lift vp mine hand vnto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I had giuen them, flowing with milke and hony, which was pleasant aboue all lands,

16 Because they cast away my iudgements, and walked not in my statutes, but haue polluted my Sabbaths: for their heart went after their idoles.

17 Neuerthelesse, mine eye spared them, that I would not destroy them, neither would I consume them in the wilderness.

18 But I said vnto their children in the wilderness, Walke ye not in the ordinances of your fathers, neither obserue their manners, nor desire your selues with their idoles.

19 I am the Lord your God: walke in my statutes, and keepe my iudgements and doe them,

20 And sanctifie my Sabbaths, and they shall bee a signe betwene mee and you, that yee may know that I am the Lord your God.

21 Notwithstanding the children rebelled against mee: they walked not in my statutes, nor kept my iudgements to doe them, which if a man doe, hee shall liue in them, but they polluted my Sabbaths: then I thought to powre out mine indignation vpon them, and to accomplish my wrath against them in the wilderness.

22 Neuerthelesse, I withdrew mine hand and had respect vnto my Name, that it should not bee polluted before the Heathen, in whose sight I brought them forth.

23 Yet I lift vp mine hand vnto them in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the heathen, & disperse them through the countries,

24 Because they had not executed my iudgements, but had cast away my statutes, and had polluted my Sabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers idoles.

25 Wherefore I gaue them also statutes that were not good, and iudgements, wherein they should not liue.

26 And I polluted them in their owne gifts in that they caused to passe by the fire all that first openeth the wombe, that I might destroy them, to the end that they might know that I am the Lord.

27 Therefore sonne of man, speake vnto the house of Israel, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, yet in this your fathers haue blasphemed me, though they had before grievously transgressed against me.

28 For when I had brought them into the land, for the which I lifted vp mine hand to giue it to them, then they saw euery high hill, and all the thicke trees, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented their offering of procuration: there also they made their sweet saviour, and powred out there their drinke offerings.

29 Then I said vnto them, What is the high place wherunto yee goe? And the name thereof was called O Bamah vnto this day.

30 Wherefore, say vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Are yee not polluted for the manner of your fathers? and commit ye not whoredome after their abominations?

31 For when you offer your gifts, and make your sonnes to passe through the fire, you pollute your selues with all your idoles vnto this day: shall I answer you when I am asked, O house of Israel? As I liue saith the Lord God, I will not answer you when I am asked.

32 Neither shall I bee done that cometh into your mind: for ye say, we will bee as the heathen, and as the families of the countreyes, and serue wood and stone.

33 As I liue, saith the Lord God, I will surely rule you with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arme, and in my wrath powred out, 34 And will bring you from the people, & will gather you out of the countreyes, wherein ye are scattered, with a mightie hand, and with a stretched out arme, and in my wrath powred out.

35 And I will bring you into the wilderness of the people, and there will I plead with you face to face.

36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I plead with you, saith the Lord God.

37 And I will cause you to passe vnder the rod, and will bring you into; bond of the covenant.

38 And I will chuse out from among you the rebels, and them that transgresse against me: I will bring them out of the land where they dwell, and they shall not enter into the land of Israel, & you shall know that I am the Lord.

39 As for you, O house of Israel, thus saith the Lord God, Goe you, and serue euery one his idole, seeing that yee will not obey mee, and pollute mine holy Name no more with your gifts and with your idoles.

40 For in mine holy mountaine ~~now~~ in the high mountaine of Israel, saith the Lord God, there shall all the house of Israel, & all in the land serue me: there will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings and the first fruits of your oblations, with all your holy things.

41 I will accept your sweet savor, when I bring you from the people, and gather you out of the countreyes, wherein ye haue bene scattered, that I may be sanctified in you before the heathen.

42 And yee shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall bring you into the land of Israel, into the land, for the which I lifted vp mine hand to giue it to your fathers.

43 And there shall yee remember your wayes, & all your workes, wherein ye haue bene defiled, and yee shall iudge your selues worthy to be cut off, for all your euils that ye haue committed.

44 And yee shall know, that I am the Lord, when I haue respect vnto you for my Names sake, and not after your wicked wayes nor according to your corrupt workes, O yee house of 47 And say to the forest of the South, Heare the word of the Lord: thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall deuoure all the greene wood in thee, and all the dry wood: the continuall flame shall not be quenched, and euery face from the South to the North shall be burnt therein.

48 And all flesh shall see, that I the Lord haue kindled it, and it shall not be quenched. Then said I, Ah Lord God, they say of mee, Doest not hee speake? parables?

CHAP. XXI.

1 Hee threatneth the sword and destruction to Ierusalem. 2 He sheweth the fall of King Zedekiah. 3 He is commanded to prophesie the destruction of the children of Ammon. 4 The Lord threatneth to destroy Nebuchadnezzar.

The word of the Lord came to me againe, saying,

2 Sonne of man, set thy face toward Ierusalem, and drop thy word toward the holy places, and prophesie against the land of Israel,

3 And say to the land of Israel, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I come against thee, and will draw my sword out of his sheath, and cut off from thee both the righteous and the wicked.

4 Seeing then that I will cut off from thee both the righteous & wicked, therefore shall my sword goe out of his sheath against all flesh from the South to the North,

5 That all flesh may know that I the Lord haue drawn my sword out of his sheath, and it shall not returne any more.

6 Mourne therefore, thou sonne of man, as in the paine of thy reines, and mourne bitterly before them.

7 And if they say vnto thee, Wherefore mournest thou? then answer, Because of the brute: for it commeth, and euery heart shall melt, and all hands shall be weake, and all minds shall faint, and all knees shall fall away, as water: behold, it commeth, and shall be done, saith the Lord God.

8 ¶ Again, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

9 Sonne of man, prophesie, and say, Thus saith the Lord God, A sword, a sword both sharpe and fourbished.

10 It is shapened to make a fore slaughter, & it is fourbished that it may glitter: how shall we reioyce? for it contemneth the god of my sonne, and all other trees.

11 And he hath giuen it to be fourbished, that he may handle it: this sword is sharpe, and is fourbished, that hee may giue it into the hand of the slayer.

12 Cry, and howle, sonne of man: for this shall come to my people, and it shall come vnto all the princes of Israel: the terrors of the sword shall be vpon my people: I smite therefore vpon thy thigh.

13 For it is a trial, and what shall this bee, if the sword contemne euery the rod? It shall be no more, saith the Lord God.

14 Thou therefore, sonne of man, prophesie and smite hand to hand, and let the sword be doubled: let the word that hath killed, returne the third time: it is the sword of the great slaughter entering into their priuie chambers.

15 I haue brought the feare of the sword into all their gates, to make their heart to faint, and to multiply their ruines. Ah, it is made bright, and it is dreffed for the slaughter.

16 Get thee alone: goe to the right hand, or get thy selfe to the left hand, whither soeuer thy face turneth.

17 I will also smite mine hands together, & will caule my wrath to cease, I the Lord haue said it.

18 ¶ The word of the Lord came vnto mee againe, saying,

19 Also thou sonne of man, appoint thee two wayes, that the sword of the king of Babel may come, both twaine shall come out of one land, and chuse a place, and chuse it in the corner of the way of the citie.

20 Appoint a way, that the sword may come to Rabbah of the Ammonites, and to Iudah in Ierusalem the strong citie.

21 And the King of Babel stood at the parting of the way, at the head of the two wayes, consulting by diuination, and made his arrowes bright: hee consulted with idoles, and looked in the liuer.

22 At his right hand was the diuination for Ierusalem to appoint capitaines to open their mouth in the slaughter, and to lift vp their voice with shouting, to lay engines of war against the gates, to cast a mount, and to build a forresse.

23 And it shall be vnto them as a filie diuination in their fight for the othes made vnto them: but hee will call to remembrance their iniquitie, to the intent they should be taken.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because ye haue made your iniquitie to be remembered in discouraging your rebellion, that in all your works your finnes might appeare: because, I say, that ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand.

25 And thou prince of Israel polluted, and wicked, whose day is come, when iniquitie shall haue an end.

26 Thus saith the Lord God, I will take away the diademe, and take off the crowne: this shall be no more the same: I will exalt the humble, and will abase him that is high.

27 I will ouerturne, ouerturne, ouerturne it, and it shall be no more vntill he come, whose right it is, and I will giue it him.

28 ¶ And thou sonne of man, prophesie, and say, Thus saith the Lord God to the children of Ammon, and to their blasphemie: say thou, I say, The sword, the sword is drawn fourth and fourbished to the slaughter, to consume because of the glittering.

29 Whiles they see vanity vnto thee, and prophesie a lie vnto thee, to bring thee vpon the neckes of the wicked that are slaine, whose day is come, when their iniquitie shall haue an end.

30 Shall I cause it to returne into his sheath? I will iudge thee in the place where thou wast created, euery in the land of thine habitation.

31 And I will powre out mine indignation vpon thee, & will blow against thee in the fire of my wrath, and deliuer thee into the hand of beastly men, and kill them to destroy.

32 Thou shalt be in the fire to be deuoured: thy blood shall be in the middes of the land, and thou shalt be no more remembered: for I the Lord haue spoken it.

n Provide for thy selfe: for thou shalt see God plague on all parts on this country. o This was spoken because that when Nebuchadnezzar came against Iudah, his purpose was alio to go against the Ammonites: but doubting in the way, which enterprise to vndertake first, he consulted with his soothsayers, and sent against Iudah.

p That is, to the tribe of Iudah that kept themselves in Ierusalem.

q To know whether he should goe against the Ammonites, or them of Ierusalem.

s Because there was a league betweene the Iewes and the Babylonians, any thing of Ierusalem that shold thinke nothing less than that this thing should come to passe.

t That is, Nebuchadnezzar will remember the rebellion of Zedekiah, and so come vpon them.

u Meaning, Zedekiah, who practised with the Egyptians to make himselfe able to resist the Babylonians.

x Some referre this to the Priest attire: for Ichoabek the Priest went into captivity with the king.

y That is, vnto the coming of Messiah: for though the Iewes had some signe of gouernment afterward under the Persians, Greeks, and Romans, yet this situation was not till Christe come.

z Although the Iewes and Ammonites would not beleue that thou, I say, the sword should come vpon them, and said, that the Prophets which threatened, spake lies, yet thou shalt assuredly come, as though thou wert already vpon their neckes.

C H A P. XXII.

1 Jerusalem is reproved for cruelty. 25 Of the wicked doctrine of the false prophets and priests, and of their insatiable covetousness. 27 The tyrannie of rulers. 29 The wicked desires of the people.

Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Now thou sonne of man, wilt thou ^a iudge, wilt thou iudge this bloodie citie? wilt thou shew her all her abominations?

3 Then say, Thus sayth the Lord God, The citie sheddeth blood in the middes of it, that her time may come, and maketh idoles ^c against her selfe to pollute her selfe.

4 Thou hast offended in thy blood, that thou hast shedde, and halt polluted thy selfe in thine idoles, which thou hast made, and thou hast caused thy dayes to draw neere, & art come vnto thy terme: therefore haue I made thee a reproch to the heathen, and a mocking to all countreys.

5 Those that be neere, and those that be farre from thee, shall mocke thee, which art vile in name, and sore in affliction.

6 Behold, the princes of Israel euerie one in thee was ready to his power, to shed blood.

7 In thee haue they despised father and mother: in the middes of thee ^e haue they oppressed the stranger: in thee haue they vexed the fatherlesse and the widow.

8 Thou hast despised mine holy things, and hast polluted my Sabbaths.

9 In thee are men that cary tales to shedde blood: in thee are they that eate vpon the mountaines: in the middes of thee they commit abomination.

10 In thee haue they discouered their fathers shame: in thee haue they vexed her that was polluted in her floures.

11 And euery one ^a hath committed abomination with his neighbours wife, and euery one hath wickedly dehed his daughter in law, and in thee hath euery man forced his owne sister, euen his fathers daughter.

12 In thee haue they taken gifts to shed blood: thou hast taken vsurie and the increase, and thou hast defrauded thy neighbours by extortion, and hast forgotten me, saith the Lord God.

13 Behold, therefore I haue ^f smitten mine hands vpon thy countounes, that thou hast vied, and vpon the blood which hath been in the middes of thee.

14 Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands be strong, in the dayes that I shall haue to doe with thee? I the Lord haue spoken it, and will doe it.

15 And I will scatter thee among the heathen, and disperse thee in the countreys, and will cause thy flesh to be consumed to cease from thee.

16 And thou shalt take thine ^g inheritance in thy selfe in the sight of the heathen, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

17 ¶ And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, the house of Israel is vnto me as ^k droffe: all they are brasse, and tinne, and yron, and lead in the middes of the furnace: they are euen the droffe of siluer.

19 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, Because yee are all as droffe, behold, therefore I will gather you in the middes of Ierusalem.

20 As they gather siluer and brasse, and yron, and lead, and tinne into the middes of the furnace, to blowe the fire vpon it to melt it, so will I gather you in mine anger and in my wrath, and will put you there ^l and melt you.

21 I will gather you, I say, and blow the fire of my wrath vpon you, and you shall be melted in the middes thereof.

22 As siluer is melted in the middes of the furnace, so shall yee be melted in the middes thereof, and yee shall know that I the Lord haue powred out my wrath vpon you.

23 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

24 Sonne of man, say vnto her, Thou art the land that is vnclene, ^m and not rained vpon in the day of wrath.

25 There is a conspiracie ⁿ of her prophets in the middes thereof like a roaring lion, rauening the pray: they haue deuoured ioules: they haue taken the riches and precious things: they haue made her many widowes in the middes thereof.

26 Her Priests haue broken my Law, and haue defiled mine holy things: they haue put no difference betweene the holy and prophane, neither discerned betweene the vnclene and the cleane, and haue hid their ^o eyes from my Sabbaths, and I am prophaned among them.

27 Her princes in ^p the middes thereof are like wolues, rauening the pray, to shed blood and to destroy ioules for their owne couetous lucre.

28 And her ^q prophets haue daubed them with vntempered mortar, seeing vanities, and diuining lies vnto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord God, when the Lord had not spoken.

29 The people of the land haue violently oppressed by spoiling and robbing, and haue vexed the poore and the needy: yea they haue oppressed the stranger against right.

30 And I fought for a man among them, that should make vp the hedge, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it, but I found none.

31 Therefore haue I powred out mine indignation vpon them, and consumed them with the fire of my wrath: their owne wayes haue I rendered vpon their heads, saith the Lord God.

The word of this Lord came againe vnto mee, saying,

2 Sonne of man, there were two women, the daughters of one ^a mother.

3 And they committed fornication ^b in Egypt, they committed fornication in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the teats of their virginity.

4 And the names of ^c them were Aholah the elder, & Aholabah her sister: and they were mine, and they bare sonnes and daughters: thus were their names: Samaria ^d Aholah, and Ierusalem Aholabah.

5 And Aholah played the harlot when ^e she was mine, and the was set on fire with her louers, to wit, with the Assyrians her neighbours.

6 Which were clothed with blew silke, both captaines and princes: they were all pleasant young men, and horsemen riding vpon horses.

^d When the Israelites were named the people of God, they became idolaters, and forsooke God, and put their trust in the Assyrians

^l Meaning hereby that the people should be tried, and the wicked destroyed.

^m Thou art like a barren land which the Lord plagues with drought. ⁿ The false prophets haue conspired together to make their doctrine more probable.

^o They haue neglected my seruice.

^p Mic. 3. 11. ^q Jer. 23. 3.

^r They which should haue reprooued them, flattered them in their vices, and couered their doings with lies. Chap. 13. 10.

^s Which would then himselfe zealous in my cause by resisting vice, I sa. 59. 16. & 63. 7. and also pray vnto me to withhold my plagues, Psal. 106. 13.

^a Meaning, Israel and iudah, which came both out of one family

^b They became idolaters after the manner of the Egyptians

^c Aholah signifies a mansion or dwelling in her selfe, meaning, Samaria, which was the royall citie of Israel: and Aholabah signifies, my mansion in her, whereby is meant Ierusalem, which was the temple was.

^d Her sister nor.

7 Thus she committed her whoredome with them, euen with all them that were the chosen men of As^hur, and with all on whom she doted, and defiled her selfe with all their idoles.

8 Neither left her her fornications, learned of the Egyptians: for in her youth they clay with her, and they bruised the breasts of her virginity, and powdered their whoredome vpon her.

9 Wherefore I deliuered her into the hands of her louers, euen into the hands of the Assyrians, vpon whom she doted.

10 These d^scouered her shame: they tooke away her sonnes and her daughters, and slew her with the sword, and she had an evil name among women: for they had executed iudgement vpon her.

11 And when her sister Aholibah saw this, she married her selfe with inordinate loue, more then she, and with her fornications more then her sister with her fornications.

12 Shee doted vpon the Assyrians her neighbours, both captaines and princes clothed with diuers suites, horsemen riding vpon horses: they were all pleasant yong men.

13 Then I saw that she was defiled, and that they were both after one sort.

14 And that she encreased her fornications: for when she saw men painted vpon the wall, the images of the Caldeans painted with vermilion,

15 And girded with girdles vpon their loines, and with diid attire vpon their heads (looking all like princes after the manner of the Babylonians in Caldee, the land of their natiuitie.)

16 As soone, I say, as she saw them, she doted vpon them, and sent messengers vnto them, into Caldee.

17 Now when the Babylonians came to her into the bed of loue, they defiled her with their fornication, and she was polluted with them, and her lust departed from them.

18 So she discouered her fornication, and disclosed her shame: then mine heart forooke her, like as mine heart had forsaken her sister.

19 Yet (see increased her whoredome more, and called to remembrance the daies of her youth wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 For shee doted vpon their seruants whoe members are as the members of asses, and whose issue is like the issue of horses.

21 Thou calledst to remembrance the wickednesse of thy youth, when thy teates were bruised by the Egyptians: therefore the paps of thy youth are thus.

22 Therefore O Aholibah, thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will raise vp thy louers against thee from whom thine heart is departed, and I will bring them against thee on every side.

23 To wit, the Babylonians, and all the Caldeans, Peked, and Shoah, and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them: they were all pleasant yong men, captaines and Princes: all they were valiant and renowned, riding vpon horses.

24 Euen these shall come against thee with charres, wagons, and wheelles, and with a multitude of people, which shall set against thee buckler and shield, and helmer round about: and I will leaue the punishment vnto them, and they shall iudge thee according to their iudgements.

25 And I will lay mine indignation vpon thee, and they shall deale cruelly with thee: they shall cut off thy nose, and thine eares, and thy remnant shall fall by the sword: they shall carry away thy sonnes and thy daughters, and thy residue shall be deuoured by the fire.

26 They shall also strip thee out thy clothes, and take away thy faire Jewels.

27 Thus will I make thy wickednesse to cease from thee, and thy fornication out of the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift vp thine eyes vnto them, nor remember Egypt any more.

28 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will deliuer thee into the hand of them, whom thou hatest: euen into the hands of them from whom thine heart is departed.

29 And they shall handle thee dispirefully, and shall take away all thy labour, and shall leaue thee naked and bare, and the shame of thy fornications shall be discouered, both thy wickednes, and thy whoredome.

30 I will do these things vnto thee, because thou hast gone a whoring after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idoles.

31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister: therefore will I give her cup into thine hand.

32 Thus saith the Lord God, Thou shalt drinke of thy sisters cup, deepe and large: thou shalt be laught to scorn and had in derision, because it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt be filled with drunkennesse and sorow, euen with the cup of destruction, and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria.

34 Thou shalt euen drinke it, and bring it out to the dregges, and thou shalt breake the sheards thereof, and teare thine owne breasts: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord.

35 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord God, Because thou hast forgotten me, and cast me behind thy backe, therefore thou shalt also beare thy wickednes and thy whoredome.

36 ¶ The Lord said moreover vnto me, Sonne of man, wilt thou iudge Aholah and Aholibah? and wilt thou declare to them their abominations?

37 For they haue played the whores, & blood is in their hands, and with their idoles haue they committed adulterie, and haue also caused their sonnes, whom they bare vnto mee, to passe by the fire to be their meat.

38 Moreover, thus haue they done vnto me: they haue defiled my Sanctuary in the same day, and haue prophaned my Sabbaths.

39 For when they had slain their children to their idoles, they came the same day into my Sanctuary to defile it: and loe, thus haue they done in the mids of mine house.

40 And how much more is it that they sent for men to come from farre, vnto whom a messenger was sent, and loe, they came? for whom thou diddest wait thy selfe, and paintedst thine eyes, and deckedst thee with ornaments,

41 And satest vpon a costly bed, and a table prepared before it, whereupon thou hast set mine incense and mine oyle.

42 And a voice of a multitude being at ease, was with her: & with the men to make the company great, were brought men of Saba from the wilderness, which put bracelets vpon their hands, and beautifull crownes vpon their heads.

43 Then I said vnto her that was olde in adulteries, Now shall thee and her fornications come to an end.

i They shall destroy thy princes and priests with the rest of thy people.

k All thy treasures and riches which thou hast gotten by labour. l All the world shall see thy shameful forsaking of God to serve idoles.

m I will execute the same iudgements and vengeance against thee, and that with greater leuencie. n Meaning, that the afflictions should be so great, that they should cause them to lose their senses and reason.

o That is, to be sacrifices to their idoles, reade Chap. 16. 30.

p They sent into other countreys to haue such as should teach the service of their idoles.

q He meaneth the altar that was prepared for the idoles.

r Which should teach the manner of worshipping their gods.

e The holy Ghost with these termes which seeme strange to chaste eares, to cause this wicked vice of idolatry to be abhorred, that vniuersal should abide to hear the name thereof mentioned. f Meaning, the Assyrians.

g This declareth that no words are able sufficiently to expresse the rage of idolaters, and therefore the holy Ghost here compareth them to those which in their raging loue and filthy lusts dote vpon the images and paintings of them after whom they follow.
